

Raid on North Vietnam Have Already Ease

Saigon Alone Dislikes Move

By The Canadian Press

Suspension of the bombing of North Vietnam angered the leaders of South Vietnam but was welcomed by many other governments which saw the move as a first step toward peace.

"This removes a tremendous obstacle to peace," said a North Vietnamese official at the Paris peace talks, "but now the political struggle for our country begins."

Hanoi Radio made no comment on President Johnson's announcement, but the official in charge of the news agency said the move was continuing unimportant negotiations with the United States.

"We want this stopped, too," he said.

President Thieu of South Vietnam indicated tonight that his government, while not in accord with the United States decision to halt the bombing of North Vietnam, at least has become reconciled to it.

"In a statement issued through his office, Thieu said that because of its 'peace-loving tradition' South Vietnam 'does not oppose the cessation of bombing and will continue to see whether North Vietnam has in reality responded to the declaration of the war or continues to be stubborn.'"

In Manila, Jose Legaspi, acting foreign secretary of the Philippines, said the American move was a "calculated step" which there was no corresponding assurance that Hanoi would de-escalate the fighting.

In Thailand, the cabinet went into emergency session to discuss the U.S. move, but there was no official statement. More than 80 per cent of the bombing of North Vietnam has been carried out from six bases in Thailand where some 40,000 U.S. Air Force men are stationed.

U.S. allies in Vietnam—Laos, Thailand, Australia, the Philippines and South Korea—condemned the move, but hoped for a negotiated settlement.

The U.S. action was a calculated risk, said a Chinese official, "but there was no official statement."

Chinese Communist party has not to expect President Lin Biao from the party and "denies him from his posts both inside and outside" it as well as "continue to settle accounts with him and his accomplices."

Israeli Commandos Raid Nile Bridges

TEL AVIV (AP) — Israeli commandos, retreating against recent Egyptian attacks, threatened the Suez Canal and penetrated miles into Egypt.

The raid came five days after 15 Israeli troops were killed and 18 wounded in a battle across the canal which UN observers reported was started by Egypt.

Israel claimed that one pilot was killed and the Egyptian commandos crossed the canal and engaged the Israeli forces in two other points.

The Israeli army claimed that an Israeli plane had carried out the Nile raid and said one civilian was killed and two wounded. Israeli sources said the Egyptian commandos crossed the canal and engaged the Israeli forces in two other points.

"What!"

Air, Naval, Artillery Bombardments Stop

SAIGON (AP) — American air, naval and artillery bombardment of all of North Vietnam ended tonight on President Johnson's orders, the U.S. command announced, but it said there would be no truce in operations in South Vietnam.

The Viet Cong said it showed no sign of de-escalation in the South. In the 12 hours before President Johnson's broadcast announcing the bombing halt, a Viet Cong mine blew holes in a U.S. Navy LST-landing ship and killed 18 American sailors and a South Vietnamese rocket, attacks killed 32 Vietnamese civilians in Saigon and Hue, and 69 North Vietnamese and 15 Americans were killed in fighting north of Saigon near the Cambodian border.

American planes continued raids on North Vietnam's southern provinces today, but were ordered to quit the southern half of the demilitarized zone before 9 p.m. or 8 a.m. EDT, the hour Johnson set for all attacks on North Vietnam to be halted.

For Other Stories On the Bombing Halt

The orders to halt the bombing were issued at 11 p.m. EDT, giving the military chain of command an hour after Johnson broadcast his decision.

A spokesman for the U.S. command said all American planes today had been ordered back into South Vietnam about 11 p.m. EDT.

Announcing his decision Thursday, Johnson said he acted with the full support of his military chiefs and diplomatic officials, and with the agreement of South Vietnam.

Apple with Razor Blade Handed Out Here

By DONALD MACKENZIE
Staff Reporter

A razor blade and chocolate-covered muthalls were dropped into Halloween bags last night as unsuspecting trick-or-treaters hunted Belleville.

Police say this morning are conducting an investigation into the case of a child who was given a razor blade which was turned over to police last night.

Chief Douglas Cramble said that it would be hard to trace, as the child it was given in had covered a very wide area.

He finally had "reason to believe" Hanoi would respect the demilitarized buffer zone and stop shelling South Vietnamese cities.

But the source said Hanoi understood that the president's decision to halt the bombing did not mean that the bombing would be resumed.

Officials cautioned there would be no ceasefire, and they expected heavy ground fighting in the South Vietnam while hard bargaining raged around the expanded ceasefire table in Paris.

But "we cannot have productive talks in an atmosphere where the cities are being shelled and where the demilitarized zone is not respected," the president warned.

Sources said Soviet and other secret contacts indicated that Hanoi was fully aware of the president's decision.

He said that Hanoi was still no specific military "contract" with Hanoi on mutual de-escalation.

"What we now expect... are honest, impartial, serious and intensive negotiations in an atmosphere that is conducive to progress," Johnson said.

The president said he decided to end the bombing to "determine the good faith of those who have assured us that they will not resort to bombing and to try to ascertain if any early peace is possible."

LBJ Makes His Decision

Non-ops Ask 32 Per Cent Wage Increase

MONTREAL (CP) — Eight non-operating railway unions are seeking Canadian railways with demands for a 32 per cent wage increase in a two-year contract plan a guarantee of job protection in the face of technological change.

The demands, submitted in a notice served on the Canadian National Railways, CP Rail and five smaller railways, were handed to company officials here by top union negotiators.

The notice covers about 75,000 railway workers not directly involved in operating trains and would bring their present average wage of about $7.8 an hour to $10.37 by the end of 1970.

Within a week, shopcraft unions, representing 22,000 skilled workers, will notify the railway companies they want a similar substantial increase but spread over only one year, an informant said.

This would raise the average shopcraft wage to $15.66 an hour from $13.01 by the end of 1969.

Getting A Bite of That Evasive Apple

A real winner of a witch, Debbie Kelly, 9, casts a hypnotic spell on an evasive apple tied to a string at one of the many Halloween parties given at Belleville last evening. Debbie, the beautiful witch, had borrowed her mother's wig and eye makeup to go out with the spoons and collect the goodies all the youngsters were handed.

Conservation in County Could Be Expensive

PICTON (Staff)—Complete adherence to recommendations of the Prince Edward Region Conservation report, could almost transform this county into a Garden of Eden for man and beast.

The report was presented last night to the Conservation Authority by the Hon. J. R. Simons, Minister of Energy and Resources Management. The 161 page booklet reports in depth and detail on almost every phase and feature of the report. Recommendations for improvement follow most reports.

The cost of all such improvements would undoubtedly be prohibitive, but in many cases the authorities, under the guidance of the Conservation Authority Branch, have urged simple, inexpensive protective measures. A major recommendation of the report however, calls for the purchase of 25,000 acres of land scattered throughout the county. The land, which would be used for reforestation, wildlife habitat improvement, wildlife in a management, pasture improvement, and woodlot management programs.

Proper management of the purchased lands would result in an upgrading of neighboring farms, would be central areas for studies of soil and drainage problems peculiar to the county, and would rehabilitate the lands in question. Notable by their absence in the list of areas recommended for purchase, are lands owned by the department of national defense. The authors comment that "LND lands to the east of Belleville would be desirable because they are presumed to be unobtainable."

This condition of course, may have changed since the government announcement that the last Battalion Canadian Guards were to be withdrawn. The scarcity of records of rainfall and high exposures, or even, gauges for stream levels create difficulties "with respect to hydrologic analysis and planning."

Five of the recommendations devoted to improving the water situation are concerned with the establishment of such gauges throughout the county. The establishment of a corps of flood wardens is urged as well, although flooding has been a minor problem in the county.

A major portion of the report is devoted to dams, and the need of them in the county. The construction and rehabilitation of dams and water through the county is a major project.

drawn and that the camp may be closed down.

Demonstrations of more productive farming methods, particularly in the field of over-grazing, are urged as well. These demonstrations would be conducted on the purchased grounds.

The resultant improved pastures on portions of the conservation authority property could then be rented to neighboring farmers. The control of red odors in area was judged as a critical problem of the county. Again the purchase of land could serve as an outdoor laboratory to study the problem. The resultant measures could then be urged on to county farmers through a private land assisting program.

Through a similar program, it was urged, the authority could encourage the establishment of graded waterways, stream banks improvement, and small scale reforestation.

On-site education programs for youth groups, and local conservation tours, and if operations of proper techniques, would help Prince Edward to help itself.

A total of 17 recommendations are made with regard to water resources in the area. The combination of lower rainfall and high evaporation, probably the worst in Ontario, is a major problem.

Couldery Paintings Hung In City Council Chamber

For framing, even hangings, there's nothing in best city hall these days.

Not that there's anything grisly about the whole affair. Exactly the opposite, in fact. Suddenly the corridors, halls and council chamber of the old local government centre are blossoming with works of art.

On the way up is a large group of paintings from the city-owned Couldery collection.

In all, 17 portraits, landscapes and still life from the repository of art bequeathed the city in the mid-1850s are coming out into the permanent light.

The collection, believed to total more than 100 paintings has been seen only fitfully by the public which is its owner—for good reason.

Space is always at a premium in Belleville for such displays. The collector's curator, the Hastings County Museum, has part of the Couldery collection on display. The rest, still being catalogued, has been in storage almost continually since the paintings arrived in the city from Britain.

Museum members are enthusiastic about the decision of Mayor J. Russell Scott to have part of the collection put on permanent display around city hall.

"We've been trying to do this for a long time," says Mrs. Mary Plumptre. "Actually, it is only a fraction of what the city owns."

The collection, the work of two British Victorian artists, John and B. Couldery—was part of an estate of a former Belleville woman left to her hometown.

$10 grows to $24.50 with Canada Savings Bonds

The new Bonds have fourteen regular annual interest coupons which can be cashed each year as they come due. The first pays 5.75%; the second, 6.00%; the next three, 6.75% each, and the last nine a big 7.00% each. Total regular annual interest amounts to $95.50 on each $100 Bond.

If you choose you may hold all these regular annual interest coupons uncashed until your Bond matures. If you do, you will then get interest on your interest totalling an additional $54.50 on each $100 Bond.

At maturity, therefore, you can get back total interest of $150 plus your original $100 investment. This way each $100 Canada Savings Bond becomes worth $250. Other denominations can grow at the same exciting rate.

Adults, children, businesses and institutions—all may buy Canada Savings Bonds. They are available in convenient amounts of $50 up to $50,000 for cash or on instalments, wherever you work, bank or invest. And, as always, Canada Savings Bonds are cashable any time at full face value plus earned interest.

Few investments are so profitable. None builds more surely for the future. Buy Canada Savings Bonds and make your savings really grow.

Educational TV

Educational television is enjoying mixed fortunes, judging by reports from both sides of the Atlantic.

From England the word is that 300 London schools started television lessons in September. The Inner London Educational Authority has converted a disused school into a TV studio where teachers will give lessons before the cameras. By 1970 the system will be linked with screens in 1,300 schools. But it is the world's largest closed-circuit television circuit.

Contrast this apparent success of educational television in England with the report that the medium is having little impact in Metro Toronto classrooms. A survey has shown that the average elementary school pupil in Metro watches just more than one educational TV program a month. Secondary school students watch only one program every three months.

Is it any wonder then that some Toronto school trustees are questioning if it is worth the money. We might ask in this regard, who decides how much educational TV should the students be exposed to? Should there be a set number of programs a day set aside for the medium?

M.M. Under Fire

The Prime Minister has taken Prime Minister Trudeau to task for his observation about the "starving" Nazis at Stalingrad. Should we have fired him, like the people of Biafra, he said in effect.

The prime minister, The Star says, is "conducting an increasing inquiry into the speak with civility on subjects which displease or embarrass him."

That is not in our opinion. However, while Mr. Trudeau's reference to the Nazis was perhaps ill-advised, he does exhibit a degree of perspective and a feel for historical fact that shows he is not merely a politician making a point to please student demonstrators — by emotionalism and demagoguery.

Africans, he subtly reminded a Halifax audience recently, have been fighting bitter wars for thousands of years — and if the British Commonwealth of the day meant a protest then "put your money where your mouth is or get into the Red Cross."

It is true that some of those who, one, the Halifax pickets did not have it.

Life Expectancy

Life expectancy nowadays is supposed to be around 70 years. As a study of the obituary columns, however, always makes it clear, it is many die in their fifties, if not earlier, and it is far to assume that in a great many cases the peak of modern life expectancy is reached.

Heart disease, we are told, is on the increase. This can result from such factors as overindulgence and lack of exercise. Those who live longest seem to do so on regular hours of sleep, enough food to satisfy without indulging too much, and plenty of fresh air and exercise.

Athletes by regular training are able to improve the operation of their heart to the point where the best of them can live at an average rate. In other words the heart is so strong that it can perform the body's task of upkeep without any output of energy. People in the category usually die in the first of natural causes after a normal span, and not prematurely from one or other of the various forms of heart attack.

It is always encouraging in this regard to read of the grand old men of our day. Edmund the late James McAvoy of this city who has just celebrated his 93rd birthday. Mr. McAvoy spent many years farming near Belleville and later in the city, and the city, building sidewalks. Like many men of his age, he has always worked hard. He neither smokes nor drinks and he takes walks and pots around his garden.

The other day we read of another remarkable man of advanced age who remains active. He lives in Victoria, 80 years of age, and with a boost from the mild Pacific coast climate still plays golf. Recently he had a round of 90 and this score, any weekend golfer would be proud of.

More power then to the senior citizens who are still fit and young at heart. It is an encouragement to the rest of us who at varying earlier stages of life imagine are we

There Speech Debate was hardly a new thing. There were no complaints. About the only reaction to the Commons was "Why didn't we try it before?"

The Commons is less formal now. Informally can go as far as Government House or MacDonald crossing the floor to that with New Democratic "What's the deal with this?"

It used to be that he would have to scramble back to his own side of the House before getting to the floor and in the galleries of the Commons waiting and waiting as he scrambled over.

But the biggest change has been a basic one in the Question Period. Until it came, every member of the cabinet was supposed to be in the House for questioning.

It did not matter that a minister might be out of the city, or that the deputy or a junior business — if he were in the Capital, common called for him to be in his seat at the opening of the Commons each day.

It did not matter either that he might hold an important portfolio — or even be without one — while the Commons was in session.

It made little sense to the Commons minister to have his "House Day Roster," schedule of appearances, more than half the members of the Commons for the five working days of the parliamentary week.

For while the change is supposed to be only "temporary," it will now become routine.

For this loss of time and opportunity to speak the cabinet with politically potent questions, the opposition might take some of the blame. Most of its questions were of the quality of the "have you stopped beating your wife" type of enquiry.

In making the change, the prime minister has had more than his share of criticism. He has had the galleries.

There are those galleries who have another chance to see the Commons. They applied — have yet to get around to leaving or leaving.

They applied — have yet to get around to leaving or leaving. They applied — have yet to get around to leaving or leaving.

The important thing is that the applause comes not from the galleries, the voters — and not the opposition.

Could be that the public, like the Commons, has had more than enough of the Commons.

Afro-Asian Dominance

United Nations Demotes Bias

Victoria Daily Colonist

It will come as a surprise to many Canadians who have long looked upon the United Nations as the world's largest and greatest institution of maintaining peace and amity among nations.

Most secret summiting of African dictators has been given by Kim Beazley, a leading Australian politician, who openly accused the organization of showing "racial bias" and "democratic selection."

Basically the Australian dictators — who form a large and active interest in and lively by aggression against Rhodesia and South Africa as compared with its almost complete disinterest in the violence and terrorism that stand on any incident which might bring discredit upon any one — while the Communists gain.

Indicative of this attitude, they say, is the inaction of the United Nations in the face of the situation in the Egyptian Sinai and the Yom Kippur War. The Yemalens in bombing and burning Israel, its rejection of countless Israeli complaints of Arab terrorism, and its inaction in the face of the situation in the Egyptian Sinai and the Yom Kippur War.

Unhappy, Australia is not alone in its criticism. It is now being shared by the United Nations, and as such, the effectiveness of the United Nations is being questioned.

CNR to Set Up New Continuous Rail Plant in Belleville

By ROY FEADOCK

Belleville headquarters of the CN's Rideau Area is scheduled to fill an increasingly important maintenance role in Canada's nationally owned railway system.

Some time in 1970 a new welding plant to supply continuous rail for all of Ontario and Quebec will go into operation at CN's Belleville yards.

The plant will include an automated rail saw as well as facilities for rail repairs and the production of other track materials.

Following the welding process the 1,200 foot rail lengths are loaded onto a string of flat cars for movement to the track laying site.

The welding plant will be so oriented to allow for easy movement of the rail train onto the main line with a minimum of track curve.

Also planned for Belleville is an expanded freight classification yard and eventual installation of a bidirectional classification yard and eventual installation of a bidirectional classification yard.

Grading in preparation for construction of the rail welding plant is now under way in the east end of CN's already extensive marshalling yard.

The plant will extend from the present yards eastward to the town of Trenton and will encompass about seven miles of track.

The plant will also mean closing of the old street crossing, where vehicular traffic has been causing frequent lengthy delays when the crossing is closed.

The city has a new railway overpass in the planning stage and this will be constructed as part of the proposed 14 1/2 mile street crossing and will be situated east of the CN's express terminal.

Rail lengths of approximately 1,200 feet will be welded at the new plant.

Rideau Area manager H. J. Fast says expansion plans for the Belleville yard will include relocation of all freight classification tracks south of the double track main line.

Classification tracks will be extended to accommodate the make-up and sidetracking of modern day freight cars of up to 100 cars or more in length.

At the present exceptionally long freight cars could be sidetracked to allow passage of faster moving passenger trains without "breaking" the train.

But the new classification yard will not be a "hump" yard such as was built a few years ago north of Trenton.

Mr. Fast said the volume of freight cars switched and made into trains at Belleville did not justify the high cost of a "hump" yard.

"It will be a flat classification yard with all tracks north of the main line," he said.

Re-location of the tracks may or may not be started this year.

"It won't be required until mid-1969 and we are well on schedule so there is no panic," Mr. Fast said.

But commencement of rail re-laying operations may not wait until completion of the new plant in 1970. Mr. Fast said it was possible a portable welding machine may be brought in next year and set up on a temporary basis. However, this will depend on the work volume.

Mr. Fast said the impact on employment as the result of the new operation would not be significant.

He said technicians would be required for the rail welding plant, but automation in either aspects of the operation would use fewer laborers with the result that in the over all picture there would be little change in employment numbers.

It was in the Belleville area back in the early 1950s that Canadian National pioneered continuous welded rail in this vicinity. Shawanville area.

Continuous rail was already common in southern climates, but there was some doubt such track would be feasible in Canada where temperature extremes might cause buckling due to expansion and contraction.

But the necessary anchoring techniques were worked out and the continuous rail has proven a success. So much so, in fact, that all main lines are being gradually replaced with welded rail.

So far the economics are such that it doesn't pay to lay all continuous rail in a single crash program, but when re-laying is necessary on main lines the continuous rail is being laid.

The lifted track will be put through the new plant at Belleville where worn rails ends will be repaired. The repaired rail will be re-laid on lower volume branch lines.

The Rideau Area manager says that with this technique the life of rail can be extended to 50 years.

One of the main advantages of continuous welded rail, of course, is that it allows for smoother train operation and gives passengers a smoother ride.

The absence of the rail joints does away with the steady and annoying clacking clack so noticeable on the conventional line. And it also reduces the maintenance in that there are no rail joints to wear down.

And with CN's new speeder Turbo Train soon to go into scheduled operation, railway officials want the best ride possible. For the past several months the Turbo Train has been doing test runs and when it goes into regular operation a full hour will be cut off the Toronto to Montreal time.

At the Belleville plant, the Turbo's time will be 3 hours

These Tracks To Be Re-located

Freight classification tracks south of CN's main line at the north station will be re-located under development proposal for the Belleville yards. Included in plan is construction of a rail welding plant.

Hospital Equipment for Chile

TRENTON — With the aid of the Trenton Rotary Club, a hospital in Chile will soon be receiving some much needed equipment to help the hospital get on its feet after being hit by an earthquake.

The equipment would cost over $10,000 but was donated free of charge by the Prince Edward Memorial Hospital, St. George's Hospital, St. Vincent's Hospital, St. Francis and St. Joseph's Hospital.

It is currently being packed at Fox Carriage and Storage Ltd in Trenton and then sent to Montreal at the beginning of November.

From here it will go by boat to the St. Vincent hospital in Talcahuano in Chile.

The whole project began a year ago when the Trenton Rotary Club was informed that the Rotary Club of Talcahuano was trying to get some help to obtain hospital equipment.

The building had earlier under the previous earthquake of '24 earthquake.

A contract was made with Dr. Fernando Sandoval, Belleville representative for the hospital in the area.

"The equipment is in good shape," said Mr. Watts, "it will be a great help to the people of Talcahuano."

Dr. Lafarge said, "... we are proud to be able to help the people of Chile in this way."

Although he said he did not know how much the shipping charges would be he was at least of words concerning the value of the equipment.

"This equipment could not be purchased for less than $10,000," explained Dr. Lafarge.

And as he put it, "There will be a lot of good things at this hospital when this equipment arrives."

Dr. Lafarge said, "... we are proud to be able to help the people of Chile in this way."

Park, Fair Board Representatives Discuss Administration, Operation of Fairground

Members of the Belleville Park Board and representatives of the fairground who were at the Belleville Park Board and Quince Driving Club will get together to discuss administration and operation of the Belleville Fairgrounds property.

The decision to call the joint meeting was made at yesterday's meeting of the city parks board following the reading of a letter from the secretary - treasurer Everett Grogan.

The fair board letter was in reply to an earlier request from the parks board regarding the new down appearance of the existing cattle sheds along Catherine Street.

But repair or rebuilding of the cattle sheds was a bit of a problem in that the fairgrounds are owned by the park and drive club. The fairground is in the category of a

Park Expansion Possible

The Belleville Park Board will ask city council to give early consideration to the purchase of the O'Donnell and Laidlaw properties on Centre Road.

City ownership of the two properties is required to assure the planned expansion of the fairground Park area along the Moore River.

Two weeks ago city council passed a resolution requesting the two properties be purchased by the Moore River Conservation Authority and turned back to the city parks board.

But the Moore Conservation Authority is not prepared to take immediate action on the matter and in the meantime the owner of the O'Donnell property is seeking a building permit to allow construction of a multiple family dwelling.

The city has refused because of a building permit on the grounds that the property has no sewer service and the city is not prepared to administer by a special committee.

In view of the circumstances the Parks Board member Don Templeman urged that the board move quickly on the matter either by purchase or by lease.

street roadway area should be free of all buildings which they are now blocking the view of traffic along Sunday Street.

The fairboard asked the city should be repaired or rebuilt and they would be agreeable to the provision of equivalent space in another area of the fairground.

Rehabilitation of the small fire station building at the fairgrounds is also being suggested to improve visibility of the area.

The fire chief said it would be possible to move the building back a few feet from the street and the traffic would be less blocked by the building.

Final Inspection

Dr. A. M. Lafarge and George Watts check over the $10,000 worth of hospital equipment which will be sent to a hospital in Chile as the final step in a project undertaken by the Trenton Rotary Club. The shipment is currently at Fox Carriage and Storage in Trenton and will begin its journey this month.

Howe's a Big Help

Mahovlich Gets "the Hat" Against Bruins

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Eight years ago a muscular 23-year-old left winger scored 48 goals for Toronto Maple Leafs. His name was Frank Mahovlich, and that season was supposed to be just a precursor of a better time to come.

Mahovlich has yet to reach the lofty heights many predicted he would. But he still is capable of the occasional burst of greatness in the National Hockey League.

Thursday night Mahovlich looked every bit a good as he did during that memorable 1990-91 season.

Mahovlich scored three goals to lead Detroit Red Wings to a victory over Boston Bruins and bring his season total to five goals in six games.

New York Rangers edged Philadelphia Flyers 2-1 in the only other NHL game to move into a second-place tie with Boston and the late Chicago Blackhawks in the Eastern Division.

Black Hawks got a chance tonight to vault over Montreal Canadiens into first place when they meet the Leafs at Oakland in the only scheduled game.

The Maple Leafs traded Mahovlich to Detroit last March 3 along with centres Pete Stenkowski and Gary Unger in return for forwards Norm Ullman, Phyl Smith and Paul Henderson.

Stenkowski scored two goals Thursday night while Alex Delvecchio and rookie Danny Lavoie added one each.

Ken Hodges scored two goals for the Bruins and single goals went to Bobby Orr, Johnny Baskin and Phil Esposito.

The Red Wings led 3-1 at the end of the first period and 4-2 at the end of the second. The victory of Mahovlich and his associates was Bruins' goaltender Gerry Cheevers, pressed into action when Ed Johnston was hit on the side of the head by a shot during the pre-game warm-up.

The crowd of 18,000 at Detroit saw 35-year-old Gordie Howe assist on three Red Wing goals.

The first assist was his 300th in regular season play.

Don Marshall was the player most responsible for the Rangers victory, New York's sixth this season in as many starts against Western Division opposition.

Marshall baited in a rebound at 5:20 of the third period after a 20-shot shot by Bob Neri was blocked by Flyers goaltender Bernie Parent. The rebound went to Marshall who tapped it over Parent's shoulder.

Harry Howell scored the other Ranger goal and Andre Larocque connected for the Flyers before a Philadelphia gathering of 9,000.

The Rangers outshot the Flyers 43-24 and left Philadelphia with a 1-0 lead in the Western Division.

Habs to Open Rebuild Home

MONTREAL (CP) — All the flair and color of a Hollywood premiere will be present Saturday night as the completely renovated Montreal Forum opens its doors for the first time this season to the influx of hockey's hard core fans.

Monstrously, reconstructed to the steel, insulation-like, black-square building that has served as home to Montreal Canadiens of the National Hockey League since Nov. 20, 1924, may have to take a second look before they recognize the result of a $60,000,000 refurbishing of the arena.

Canadians, defending Stanley Cup champions, Montreal Detroit Red Wings in their home opener Saturday, Montreal was forced to play its first eight games on the road this season because the gigantic ice-flooding had not been completed.

Ongoing ceremonies are scheduled for 8 p.m. EST and, along with the game, will be carried on the CBC's national television network.

The stream of pride-wounded criticisms against another Canadian Olympic performance has already begun.

Nobody really expects the Canadian team to win too many medals in competition against the nations of the world, yet, every four years there are few who don't indulge in post-Olympic wailing and gnashing of teeth.

They blame the fact we don't win a smeller's share of gold, silver, and bronze on everything from our northern climate to the incumbent government.

It's surprising some disgruntled soul hasn't suggested the mothers of Nancy Greene and Elaine Tanner be given increased baby bonus grants as an inducement to produce more of the same Olympic-pollinated offspring.

All this grumbling, despite the fact Canadian athletes are faster, stronger, and generally more adept than ever before.

We have managed to pick up the odd medal here and there, sometimes much to the surprise of the world's athletic community as in last week's eleven-hour epic victory in Mexico.

Admittedly, Canada's Olympic prospects are dimmed by a lack of coaches, money, facilities, and even athletes. But there isn't really much sense dwelling about the possibility of immediate change in these areas . . . with the exception of facilities.

We've long shared an opinion voiced this week by Marilyn Savage, coach of the Canadian women's gymnastic team, who says she can't understand why school gymnastics and swimming pools are closed to the public each evening.

"After all, they're paid for by public tax money and there's absolutely no reason why they cannot be opened 24 hours a day," she complains.

Opening the doors of every neighborhood school gym isn't, of course, going to mean an automatic 50 gold-medal performance by Canada in the 1972 Olympics.

But can you think of a community that claims to have adequate recreational facilities? The council-oriented debate over Belleville's proposed community centre - arena - fair exhibit - auditorium building presents just one aspect of the syndrome.

Letting the taxpayers and their children have access to the buildings that cost them about 50 cents of every municipal tax dollar would almost certainly mean an increased number of participants in recreational activities, something badly needed to stem a dwindling interest in all but the most popular national sports like hockey.

More facilities mean more participants, and more participants mean potential of finding Olympic-calibre athletes.

City council recently endorsed Mayor Scott's proposal for a recreation-arena advisory committee to co-ordinate facilities and programs, and the United Community Services organization is also planning a survey of Belleville's recreation potential.

A long look at the possibility of making more use of available school properties for recreational purposes should be on the agenda of both study groups.

Country's don't need Olympic pools by operating their amateur athletic programs on a "daylight-hours only" basis.

None Oppose McLain's Choice

NEW YORK (AP) — Denny McLain, Detroit Tigers' 31-game winner, was unanimously selected today the American League's Cy Young Award winner for 1961.

McLain, 24, was the first American League ever to win it unanimously.

The Tiger was the choice of all 20 ballplayers from each league city in the annual Baseball Writers' Association of America vote.

McLain beat every team in the league at least twice and became the first 30-game winner in the major leagues in 24 years. Dizzy Dean, who won 30 for the St. Louis Cardinals in 1924, was the last man to reach that plateau.

The ballers were sent in by the World Series and he did not consider Series performance in his voting. McLain won the Series start but won the sixth game, tying the classic against the Cardinals at three games apiece.

Mickey Lolich, who won three Series games, beat St. Louis as Detroit took the title in the seventh game.

McLain made 41 starts and pitched 28 complete games. He was 17-2 on the road and 14-1 at home. He struck out 200 batters and pitched six shutouts. He had a 1.96 earned run average, fourth best in the league.

Twin Quinte Grid Sweep for Madoc

A twin sweep of both the Senior and Junior Class "A" Bay of Quinte Football championships yesterday gave Central Intermediate Secondary School of Madoc a final opportunity to capture their first Class "A" C.O.S.S.A. football championships before moving up to Class "AA" competition next year.

The seniors' bump-off Albert College 28-1 and the juniors won a 21-20 squeaker over O.S.D.

The seniors finished their season with a perfect 4-0 season's record, while the juniors won five and lost one on the season. In other action, Madoc won two games from Tweed, the Seniors 21-1 and the Juniors 18-5.

After the opening kickoff, Albert marched deep into Madoc territory, where Chuck Miller rambled 12 yards off tackle for the touchdowns. Bob Trout caught a pass from Dean Ayoub for the two point conversion.

and Albert led 8-0. Madoc came right back on the Albert kickoff and on a broken play, fullback Gord Donaldson threw a one yard Central Taxi had their motors idling in their season opener last night, holding a 32 over with two minutes remaining in their Quinte Hockey League fixture with Brudenells Rovers.

Bill, Calkins sped away on the heels of three quick goals to win their share of the Quinte League's debut by a 6-2 margin.

In the other half of the twin bill, a speedy aluminum Star entry breasted past Blenheim Construction 7-1, paced by Bill Rushlow's four-point effort.

Dwight Rathwell, Paul Fleming, Bob Tennant, Bill Caram, Terry Canadian and Court Briley accounted for the Central markers, with Briley also adding a pair of assists on the night. Other helpers went in Bennett, Lantini, Jean, Sutter and Chaseman.

Bill Laugheiser and Larry Stewart replied for Brudenells, with assists going to Nolan, Burrows and Lopez.

There were only three penalties called in the game by referee Ted and Bill Hurst.

Bill Rushlow's two goals and as many assists paced the Aluminum Stars to their 7-1 win. Ben Urch also got a point, with singles going to Paul Eaton, Al Beldan and Ron Paul.

Four's three assists gave him a four-point night; and other helpers were scored by Harry Russell, Bill McGuire, Bob Painter and Don Moore.

Larry Seale scored the lone Blenheim goal from Rick Desard. The teams split 10 penalties.

O.S.D. FOOTBALL COACH TOM MOORE talks over some pre-game strategy with quarterback Wayne Wilson, fullback Jimmy Snyder and tackle Henry Winiarczyk.

Communication's the Word

(STAFF) The language barrier has been broken in Belleville by children who have mastered athletics, despite their inability to communicate by word of mouth.

At the Ontario School for the Deaf, athletes play a vital part in the education of the deaf child.

Raylie Bryant, Athletic Director at the O.S.D., says: "Athletic ability is not seriously affected by deafness — the deaf child functions the same as the normal child, except for the fact that he cannot hear."

Thus once the deaf child grasps an understanding of the game, he can function as capably as the hearing child.

Watching a football practice, one observes that the disadvantage is greatest when communication between teammates is necessary in a game situation.

The deaf athletes cannot rely on words to each other as the play takes place, thus they have to anticipate what will happen, Bryant said.

And the football team at the O.S.D. showed how well they could anticipate schedule in the Quinte League's Class "A" Junior Division.

It is easier for the deaf child to compete in individual competition, such as badminton, in which no communication is required.

At the School for the Deaf, the children compete in a wide range of sports. Some team sports are: football, basketball, volleyball, soccer, and hockey. Individual sports include: badminton, wrestling, track and field and a swimming program.

OTTAWA (CP) — The opposition opened fire in the Commons Thursday on government fiscal policies with two non-confidence motions criticizing the Oct. 22 budget.

Marcel Lambert (PC-Edmonton West), his party's financial critic, charged in one non-confidence motion that the government has "irresponsibly" deceived the Commons and the Canadian people on the size of the 1984-85 budgetary deficit and has destroyed its own credibility.

Max Saltzman (NDP-Waterloo) moved a motion regarding the two-per-cent social development tax, announced in the budget, as "an outrageous blow" on those in the middle- and lower-income brackets.

The opposition motion came as the Commons returned in the budget after giving third reading to changes in the Farm Credit Act making an additional $400,000,000 available for long-term farm loans.

The bill, which now goes to the Senate, also replaces the fixed five-per-cent interest rate for loans with a floating rate to be set by the government. It also raises the loan ceiling and extends credit to Indians living on reserves.

Thursday was the first opportunity for all opposition parties to debate Finance Minister E. J. Benson's first budget.

Mr. Lambert said that despite repeated government guarantees that it would keep the lid on its own spending and balance the budget it is coming in with another $750,000,000 deficit.

The motion would amend the usual one that the House adopts the budget.

The NDP motion adds to the Conservative motion.

Both motions will be voted on later in the six-day budget debate which resumes next week.

Mr. Saltzman said it was "a budget for the privileged." The $20 social development tax would hardly be missed by a wealthy taxpayer, but would be a real hardship for those in lower tax brackets.

Charles Arthur Gauthier (Conservative-Roberval) called the finance minister a "spokesman for the bourgeoisie."

Today the House debates a measure on financing for Canadian National Railways.

Opposition Opens Fire on Benson's Budget

Hellyer Charges He Is Target of Smear

OTTAWA (CP) — Transport Minister Paul Hellyer said Thursday there is a "smear campaign" against him by "two or three not too wise people." He did not identify them.

He made the statement to reporters after Michael Forrestall (PC-Dartmouth Nova Scotia) said in the Commons that Mr.

Hellyer had imposed his own name.

Mr. Forrestall was referring to Mr. Hellyer's earlier statement that he had "borrowed" a $2,000 videocorder for "some months" from broadcaster Geoffrey Stirling.

Donald Macdonald (PC-Cape Breton East, Richmond) said in the Commons: "What is the difference between this particular scandal and the last future scandal?"

Mr. Macdonald was referring to the 1981 case in which then state secretary Maurice Lamontagne, now a senator, got easy credit terms for purchase of thousands of dollars worth of furniture.

In talking with reporters afterwards, Mr. Hellyer said at one point: "I am not going to answer any more questions."

He said he had "borrowed" the recorder to practice his television performance for the Liberal leadership campaign. After the campaign, he had returned the machine.

Today Letters Require New 6-Cent Stamps

OTTAWA (CP) — An orange, six-cent postage stamp on sale today in Central Canada marks the start of a round of higher postal charges and the beginning of the government's attempt to wipe out a post office deficit.

The new stamp, crumpled with symbols of high-speed communication from road vehicles to microwaves, is for use with the introduction today of the 41-cent letter rate.

It now costs six cents for both local and out-of-town letters instead of four cents locally and three cents elsewhere. Unsealed Christmas cards will be five cents instead of three. Postcards are up six to four.

Those increases and others in various classes and categories of mail received authority in the form of royal assent in Bill C-116, the post office bill, Thursday night.

The bill, debated in the Commons last week, passed the Senate earlier in the day.

Distribution of the new stamps in post offices outside Ottawa and Quebec will be delayed a few days. Meanwhile, postmen will have to use combinations of other stamps.

Also on sale, but everywhere, are five-cent stamps for Christmas cards. A special, six-cent Christmas stamp featuring a picture of an Eskimo carving a mother and child goes on sale Nov. 15.

Increases in second-class mail, covered envelopes and periodicals, will be introduced in three stages starting April 1 and then at six-month intervals. Among other changes, introduced either by regulation or legislation, effective today, is an increase to 10 cents from eight for airmail letters in the United States. Airmail elsewhere is unchanged.

The new rates are part of a program designed to correct what Postmaster General Eric Kiriaha has termed a chronic post-office deficit.

He has said the deficit would be $200,000,000 in the next fiscal year starting April 1 without the changes, an expected $40,000,000 with them.

Also on deck are plans to trim operating costs and elimination of some services. Saturday mail delivery stops Feb. 1 in all but rural areas.

The private world of an Ambassador:

the entrance fee is extremely reasonable.

The inside story on Ambassador this year is simply that it's a private world.

A private world which compares favourably with just about any top-of-the-line luxury car you care to imagine. Ambassador's interior abounds with elegance. There are new carpet fabrics and fine wood-grain trim. You can have plush, velour upholstery. And cushion yourself in the comfort of full-coil spring seats.

Air conditioning is standard equipment. (We innovated it as standard last year and it's still exclusive with Ambassador this year.)

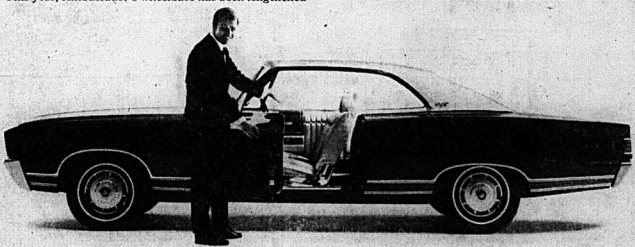

The private world rides exceptionally smoothly, too. This year, Ambassador's wheelbase has been lengthened to 122", its platform made larger than any car in its class. And these are just a few of the features that make the private world of an Ambassador very worthy of your consideration. Your American Motors dealer has the entire story. See him.

He'll let you enter the private world for no more than it would take you to buy a Ford, Chevy or Plymouth.

And with an entrance fee as low as that, you can't get to the top of the line for less.

One NDP Meeting MP Blocks

OTTAWA (CP) — Bids by three Commons standing committees to hold sessions during the week when the House is sitting were squelched Thursday by Arnold Peters (NDP-Timiskaming).

Each committee sought unanimous consent in the Commons for the extended times of sitting. Mr. Peters refused it each time.

Explaining his reason, the NDP member said the Commons itself had twice been called for a quorum during the week. In each case, enough members filtered into the chamber before the head count to reach the required minimum attendance limit of 20 MPs.

If committees are allowed to schedule meetings during the same hours as House sittings, Mr. Peters said, the situation might turn out to be "the impossible."

Delegation to Paris Won't Bargain

U. S. Proposes Foreigners Go With Viet Cong

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States evidently intends to make a major effort in the new phase of the Paris peace talks to get an agreement with Hanoi on withdrawal of all foreign forces from South Vietnam.

Such action is "utterly simple and it is a very quick road to peace," State Secretary Dean Rusk said at a Friday news conference.

A monkey wrench was tossed in the works, however, when South Vietnamese President Nguyen Van Thieu said today that he would not send representatives to Wednesday's Paris talks because his government's objects to the conditions under which the action is to be held.

When President Johnson announced Thursday night that U.S. attacks on North Vietnam would be suspended, he also said that representatives of both the Saigon government and the National Liberation Front were to be represented.

Thieu said the only real road to peace is through direct negotiations between Saigon and Hanoi, and not with the NLF. U.S. officials declined comment on Thieu's statement. Some were taking a wait-and-see attitude, feeling that Saigon

Too Many Educated

TORONTO (CP) — The president of a leading Canadian mining firm said Friday Canada needs more unskilled labor and fewer professionals.

Stephen Roman, president of Denison Mines Ltd., told an immigration conference sponsored by the International Institute of Canada that Canada's immigration policy will leave the country top heavy with the skilled and educated.

Mr. Roman said mining and agricultural industries were starved for unskilled labor which meant increasing labor costs, decreasing productivity, and a loosening of Canada's ability to compete in export markets.

SAIGON (AP) — President Nguyen Van Thieu, who only a day ago reluctantly approved the United States bombing halt over North Vietnam, said today he will not send a South Vietnamese delegation to the Paris peace talks next week.

He told a cheering Congress that his government would never agree to bargain with the national Liberation Front.

The United States had hoped for "four-way talks beginning next Wednesday," with Saigon, Washington, Hanoi and the NLF represented. To accomplish this, President Johnson called a complete cessation of bombing over North Vietnam beginning at 8 a.m. EST Friday.

But Thieu made it clear the Saigon government would send a negotiating team to Paris only when it was assured of direct, serious talks with Hanoi.

"I will never accept to lead the country into a venture that will turn me into a revisionist," he said, adding that to accept the NLF as a separate entity in Paris would establish a precedent for a possible formation of a coalition government in South Vietnam.

It added that because North Vietnam had agreed to sit with South Vietnam in Paris, this "does not mean that the Democratic Republic of Vietnam recognizes the puppet South Vietnamese government."

Despite such obvious signs of discord, U.S. State Secretary Dean Rusk said Friday that the United States will seek at the Paris talks an agreement with Hanoi to withdraw all foreign forces from South Vietnam. In listing his fears and objections to a four-way talks, this said:

Hanoi has yet to show any sign of deescalation in the war. It has continued to use force and instill in having talks with it is tantamount to accepting to separate the war in the North from the war in the South, to accept as victims of the U.S. bombing to camouflage their flagrant aggressive acts in the South."

The demonstration, involving at least 10,000 people, began as a quiet march in downtown Hanoi to protest the 21st anniversary of the Russian declaration, which promised a national home for the Jews in Palestine.

U. S., Russia Join In UN Peace Plea

UNITED NATIONS (CP) — Five toughed off by an Israeli attack report in a Soviet-bloc power station on the River Nile Friday night as members of the UN Security Council appealed to Israel and Egypt to stop violating the ceasefire agreement in the Middle East.

Britain, the United States and the Soviet Union all insisted in an urgent council meeting that the two opposing nations should cooperate with UN peace efforts to end the conflict.

The appeals came after Israeli and Egyptian representatives exchanged bitter accusations over recent fighting in the area, culminating in an Israeli raid deep into Egyptian territory Thursday night.

Community Says Farewell

On Saturday, Oct. 26, a large number of friends and neighbors gathered at Huntington Township Hall to say farewell to the two Shaw families, who have taken up residence in other communities. Milton and Edna are now living at Mount Pleasant while Wayne, Helen and Kelly have purchased the Mitchell property on the Ridge Road.

Rev. D. C. MacPherson, Stirling, acted as chairman for the program. Community singing led by Rex and Molly Haggerty. Musical numbers were given by the Kerby sisters, and by Rex and Molly Haggerty, and a solo was rendered by Ann McInroy and Muriel Hassel. Readings were given by Max Scarpes, Mable MacMillan and Joyce Donnan.

A suitable address was read by Harry Lombard, which mentioned the Shaw families' history in St. Andrews Presbyterian Church and their willing participation in all community affairs.

The presentation of several gifts was made by John Stevens and John Wallace, and also by Christine Stephens. Each member of the Shaw family expressed thanks and appreciation and everyone then enjoyed a pleasant social time.

A capacity congregation attended the 11th km. service in the United Church on Thanksgiving Sunday, with the H.C. members continuing their work of looking after the small children while the parents were attending church.

This church is planning an all family visitation on October 27 and Peter Dickman spoke on its importance and significance, and appealed for the co-operation of the church members. In his sermon, Rev. W. Hendry pointed out the real meaning of Thanksgiving and urged each member of his congregation to examine his own life and count up the many things for which he should be grateful.

The music during the service emphasized the true spirit of Thanksgiving, especially in the two Psalm songs by Miss Edna Martin. David L. Proulx, a H.C. member, read the second scripture lesson.

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Walk into Edna Smith's trigonometry class for freshmen at Michigan State University and you would swear the teacher isn't a day over 17.

She isn't. She's only 17.

Edith is a mathematics phenomenon from Florida who was exposed to 20-hour-a-day classical music shortly after birth; was reading and drawing books from the public library at 24; has an IQ of 184 to 201, depending on the test; and worries about her weight.

She's lost 20 pounds since starting her graduate work at Michigan State, but would like to lose more. "I can find inexpensive dresses that aren't old-looking."

"I always was a fat little thing," she added.

Edith decided to come here after graduation from Florida Atlantic University because she learned the school had an excellent reputation in mathematics and because it offered her a graduate assistantship in help pay costs. A father is unable to work because of illness, and her mother is a sales clerk in a bakery.

The classical music as an infant was the beginning of years of classical music. She was guided by her father, Aaron, who said he wanted to create a genius in his daughter.

Edith agrees—with reservations. "Father's opinion that she is a genius."

"It's better. It is questionable that I was born a genius," she stated. "It must be the experience. In terms of IQ I am a genius. But in terms of creativity, I don't know."

Edith reads science fiction in her spare time. She likes music from classical to pop. She has dated and admits to a crush-or-two.

Mrs. Sabia Candidate for Mayor

GALT (CP) — Mrs. Michael J. Sabia, a 31-year-old mother of four and a St. Catharines alderman since 1962, said Thursday she will be a candidate for mayor in the forthcoming St. Catharines city election.

"I can't be voted in only by men," she told the Industrial Management Club of South Warioon. "I can get the men's vote but women have all sorts of little prejudices."

"A lot of women say they can't enter council or a political field because they don't know enough about it," she said. "I'll let you in on a little secret — the men don't know anything either."

Developing the status of women, particularly their education, Mrs. Sabia said, "many Indian girls are brought into Toronto and Montreal at the age of 15, pushed into a life of prostitution, and left there."

She said that with the exception of one at Peterborough which was reasonably progressive, most Indian reserves across Canada lack the essentials of basic living requirements.

Lowly Seals Make NHL Life Embarrassing for Lofty Hawks

By SCOTT BUTTON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

Oakland Seals had scored only 18 goals in nine games, no coach Paul Glover decided it was time for drastic action.

The rookie coach switched young defencemen. Gary Nieuwenhuis came to left wing and the move paid off Friday night for the National Hockey League.

Valdulis scored two goals to lead Oakland to a 5-2 victory over Chicago Blackhawks and move the Seals into a tie for first place in the Western Division.

The victory, watched by 7,703 Oakland fans, dethroned the Seals with the late St. Louis Blues, who prevented Chicago from moving into first place in the Eastern Division.

Paul D'Aquila's team led by second with New York Rangers and Boston Bruins—two point backs of Minnesota.

Adams' team was best by losing to the Seals in two games with the high-scoring Blackhawks in the west.

They edged Chicago 6-3 at Chicago, Sept. 28.

There were no other NHL games scheduled Friday, but most teams have a busy week.

Detroit Red Wings held Montreal Canadiens over their home at the renovated Montreal Forum.

Fluorescent lights in the arena lit up the game as the Seals and Minnesota North Stars journeyed to St. Louis for their first game tonight.

St. Louis, Montreal is at Philadelphia, Minnesota visits New York.

Yok, Chicago played at Boston, St. Louis journeyed to Detroit and Pittsburgh is at Oakland.

Other scores for Oakland Friday were Billy Biles, Norm Ferguson, and Gary Nieuwenhuis.

Valdulis, 23, was moved to forward earlier this week and was playing his first game at that position. He scored on a 30-foot power-play shot in the first period.

But McDuff's performance was one of the low highs moments as he scored 15 goals in 15 games.

In 41 games with Montreal

Canada-11 during the 1985-86 season and last season—Valdulis scored only one goal. He now has three this year with Oakland, which obtained him from the Canadiens over the summer.

San Jose's performance was one of the low highs moments as he scored 15 goals in 15 games.

will hold a Hollywood-style premiere that will be televised nationally by the CBC.

In other NHL activity Friday, Minnesota announced the recall of defenceman Duane Rupp from Cleveland of the American Hockey League and left winger Joey Johnston from Memphis of the Central League.

Both will play against St. Louis tonight and New York Sunday.

St. Louis will replace Wayne Hillman, who was traded to the Chicago Blackhawks while Johnston was Minnesota's last cut at training camp.

North American Soccer Goes 'Abroad'

CHICAGO (AP)—The North American Soccer League, which operated in 17 cities this year, Friday announced it will operate in only one team will represent the league and participate against name teams throughout the world.

The decision, subject to approval by the U.S. Soccer Football Association and the Canadian Soccer Football Association, will be made by the league's board of directors.

The board, which includes representatives from the U.S. Soccer Football Association, the Canadian Soccer Football Association, and the U.S. Soccer Federation, will meet in Chicago on Friday.

The board will also meet in Los Angeles on Saturday and in Atlanta, Baltimore, Cleveland, Dallas, Kansas City, Oakland, St. Louis, and Washington.

The plan, the right members will support the team, which will compete in North America and abroad.

Each member will contribute a substantial sum over a three-year period to support the team, said Dave Smokey, league spokesman.

Approximately half of each member's contribution will go toward the development of soccer in its local community, said Smokey.

The plan provides that the league team will compete against each of the participating clubs at least three times a year.

The league team will play against the following clubs: Atlanta, Baltimore, Cleveland, Dallas, Kansas City, Oakland, St. Louis, and Washington.

Sport Briefs

WINNIPEG (CP)—Canada's national hockey team and the Russian national team will exchange visits to a series of exhibition games, it was announced Friday. Canada will play four games in Leningrad and Moscow between Nov. 20 and Dec. 8, while the Russians will play four games in Canada from Jan. 15 to 23. The Russians will play a single game in Montreal Jan. 17, in Winnipeg Jan. 19, in Vancouver Jan. 21, and Ottawa Jan. 23. They return home on Jan. 24.

KELOWNA, B.C. (CP)—The Cerebrovascular sports volleyball team which competed in the Mexico City Olympic Games will play Canada's women's volleyball team here Nov. 22. The Canadian team did not compete in the Olympics but participated in the volleyball competition at the 1987 Pan-American Games in Winnipeg.

Niagara Falls Flyers have Toronto's number. The Flyers dethroned the Marlieses 42 Friday night before 3,000 home fans for their seventh straight win over the Toronto club in Ontario Hockey Association Junior A series play. In the only other game played, Ontario defenceman Terry Murray scored on a deflection in the second period to give Ontario a 1-1 tie with London Knights.

MELBOURNE, Australia (AP)—Jack Nicklaus of the United States and Greg Norman of the New Zealand Metropolitan course in 67, seven strokes under par Friday but remained two strokes off the lead in the halfway mark Australian Professional Golfers Association tournament. His second round was 19 strokes better than the 71 turned in by his travelling companion, Arnold Palmer, who was so disgusted with his play that he announced, "I'm going to give up golf for two three months." Palmer said he would play in the Haverline Open next week but would not put his clubs away until after the first of the year.

Humphrey and Nixon Up Pace Of Verbal War as Vote Nears

WASHINGTON (CP) — Hubert Humphrey and Richard Nixon, heading into the final days before their presidential election encounter, are doing up the rhetoric as each fights to ensure that he will emerge the victor from Tuesday's balloting.

The early presidential campaign featured speeches and staff position papers but slipped sharply into a more colorful contest.

In the closing weeks of the campaign, Republican Nixon has stopped referring to Democratic Humphrey as merely "the other fellow" and has taken to judging him at Humphrey.

This direct approach by Nixon has been welcomed by the Democrats as indicating they are succeeding in getting under the political skin of an opponent they regard as pompous and arrogant.

There could be argument over who started it, but Humphrey's designation of Nixon as "Richard the Chicken-Hearted" for his supposed alleged failure to grapple with the issue of nuclear disarmament was a sharp response.

Nixon accused Humphrey of "adult disingenuity" and of "sitting on his hands and watching the United States become a laughing stock to the rest of the world."

He said Humphrey had "lackedadaidada, ducking" approach to the issue of disarmament.

He said Humphrey had "blatantly lied" in the country on the disarmament issue.

Nixon said Vice President Humphrey is "a man who has lost his mind."

Nixon has accused his opponent of confusing the Vietnam peace negotiations in Paris by his campaign behavior. In this connection, he has contended that Humphrey is "a dishonest, loose tongue in American politics."

Humphrey has tried to capitalize on the "Chicken-Hearted" label by attacking Nixon on Nixon's part.

On Friday, Humphrey told a crowd: "For several weeks now, I have been a victim of tricks. Now in the next week we're going to have Humphrey's tricks."

The Democrat called Nixon "the No. 1 double liar" because of his attacks on each other.

Humphrey and Nixon have left personal criticisms of George C. Wallace, the third-party candidate, largely to their vice-presidential running mates.

Machine Running Picton: Labor Head

PICTON (Staff) — Picton, its mayor, and society in general came under fire Friday night in Kingston as a university students' organization and the Kingston Labor Council sponsored a rally in support of Procter-Sizes drivers. It was held at Carpenters' Hall.

George Hutchinson, Canadian IUE president, criticized "the establishment" in the community.

"The town council with one exception has kept strangely quiet throughout the whole issue," he said.

"I am making particular reference to H. J. McFarland, a millionaire, who has not raised a finger to help the strikers," he added.

"There is a machine running the county and Picton and the machine is looking after itself. We call the machine 'the haven,'" he said.

"There is an odor I can smell back in Toronto."

He said that a private investigator was at work in Picton, but did not elaborate.

He said he had been in Ottawa to see George Hees, MP for Prince Edward-Lennox. Mr. Hees was apparently out of town.

"But we are going to get a statement from George. We are his constituents and we are in real trouble," Mr. Hutchinson said.

"There is no point in getting a statement from Norris Whitney, he says he's neutral. I suppose during elections both these people go to Procter-Sizes and shake all the workers' hands."

"But 'the establishment' does not like striking workers."

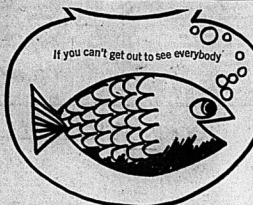

He said he was happy to see the interest generated at Queen's University and added that it would be his generation that would try to keep the students from the changes they sought.

"These kids are worried about hypocrisy. As long as United Electric Loyalists will wrap themselves in the flag and kiss the Queen the situation will go on in Picton. But that is wrong. These young men are standing up and saying they don't want to belong to this society," Mr. Hutchinson said.

Donations were made for the strikers by the Canadian Labor Congress, Kingston Unions and the Students for a New University.

ABC Industries for retarded children on Camdoun Road is the scene this year of a lot of contract work for local industries. Here the children are busy on a packaging contract for Northern Electric Company Ltd. Displays of their work will be exhibited at the open house Tuesday night.

Workshop Open to Public

Once again the workshop for retarded children ABC Industries on Camdoun Road will be holding their open house. This Tuesday night at eight o'clock the doors will open to parents and public.

"Unlike last year's open house supervised by W. G. Cook

Coors-Cola, the Belleville Lions Club among others.

"We're doing mostly packaging work for all of them and some copying work," said Mr. Cook.

"Like any other industry we are performing a service to the community."

Postal Rate Changes Causing Minor Problem

New postal rates requiring six cents for first class letters went into effect last week but there were a few in Belleville who apparently hadn't gotten the message.

A spokesman at the Belleville post office said that "a few — not too many —" letters were being sorted with only five cent postage affixed.

And for some reason or other it is the business mailers who apparently hadn't gotten extra cent postage.

Business mail makes up the bulk of the mail normally handled at the local office, but the spokesman said it was this type of mail which was short of postage.

Almost without exception personnel mail is carrying the correct postage required under the new rate.

Related to Productivity Wage Parity Is Topic

Wage parity in Canada with that of the United States must be directly related to productivity or the ability of Canadian producers to compete on world markets will be hampered.

This was the warning of Allen N. Campbell, board chairman of IEC-Holborn Company, Montreal, and president of Japanese Industries Ltd. as he spoke to the monthly meeting of the Belleville-Kingston Chapter of the Certified General Accountants.

Mr. Campbell stressed that rising taxes at all levels of government and the ever increasing demands for parity with United States rates of pay will require reliable accounting both in industry and in the economy as a whole.

"Spiralling costs of governments must be recognized as being a direct burden on the entire Canadian economy," he said.

Mr. Campbell concluded by stating that unless demands presently being made on Canadian industries were met, soon retrenched those "we will be in grave danger of killing the goose that laid the golden egg."

$100 grows to $250

with

The new Bonds have fourteen regular annual interest coupons which can be cashed each year as they come due. The first pays 5.75%; the second, 6.00%; the next three, 6.75% each; and the last nine a big 7.00% each. Total regular annual interest amounts to $35.50 on each $100 Bond.

If you choose you may hold all these regular annual interest coupons uncashed until your Bond matures. If you do, you will then get interest on your interest totalling an additional $54.50 on each $100 Bond.

At maturity, therefore, you can get back total interest of $150 plus your original $100 investment. This way each $100 Canada Savings Bond becomes worth $250. Other denominations can grow at the same exciting rate.

Adults, children, businesses and institutions — all may buy Canada Savings Bonds. They are available in convenient amounts of $50 up to $50,000 for cash or on instalments, wherever you work, bank or invest. And, as always, Canada Savings Bonds are cashable any time at full face value plus earned interest.

Few investments are so profitable. None builds more sure for the future. Buy Canada Savings Bonds and make your savings really grow.

Sharp Honored On Visit To City

A key to the city and a copy of the Mosaic of Belleville were presented to Lt. Gen. P. R. Sharp, Vice Chief of Defence Staff in Ottawa on Saturday.

Mayor J. Russell Scott invited Gen. Sharp to sign the guest book and then made the presentations as a gesture of goodwill towards the military.

The mayor had invited the general to Belleville along with Defence Minister Leo Caudet who was unable to attend.

From city hall Gen. Sharp went to the armories where he inspected an honor guard of Itany Pews. A reception in the officers' mess was held afterwards.

Mayor Scott had extended the invitation to express good will towards the military in Belleville since the city has always been a military and air force town.

General Sharp expressed appreciation for the invitation to Belleville and was entertained after the official ceremonies privately by the mayor at his home.

The vice chief of defence has had a long and distinguished military career: named as commander of the North Bay base and bases in the west before going to Ottawa.

Trenton High Valedictorian Gets $1,700 in Scholarships

TRENTON—For those who attended the Trenton High School graduation exercises Saturday night the name of Linsey Vandewater became a frequent source of applause as the young student was awarded nearly $1,700 in scholarship grants.

She became the focal point of attention for the evening, but it was when Miss Vandewater gave her valedictory address that she commanded rapt attention from the audience.

"We must become involved," she began. "We must be prepared to put our jobs and salaries on the line for what we believe in."

"It doesn't take any special skills to criticize society but it does take something special to do something about them."

She challenged "the graduating class to live" for as she put it, "concern and action accomplish nothing."

It is not enough to know what you want to do in life," concluded Miss Vandewater, "you must know why you want to do it — you have to have a purpose."

Miss Vandewater was presented with the Trenton University Governor's scholarship representing $1,000 along with the Intelligence English prize for $300 and the George Frost Foundation for general profits.

very valued at $35.

To conclude the program, J. C. Garrett, principal of Trenton High and chairman for the evening's activities, introduced a speaker whom he designated "as a man fitting this special occasion."

Col. H. A. Corwell, Trenton commander, CFB Trenton said "I have spent five years of my education in this school — it's good to come back for an evening."

For Col. Corwell the problem of "youth finding a purpose to their lives" was the essence of his speech.

"You, the graduating class, must have a purpose," he declared.

"It is not enough to say that you want to be a lawyer, but you must ask yourself — why do I want to study law?"

He mentioned that the end result might be an individual wanting to improve the legal system and it would be his to goal that gave him the desire to study law.

"You have to be able to direct your own life, to have a purpose and a purpose," he said.

And as a final comment, Col. Corwell told the students that they must think for themselves.

"You must have strong opinions on what you are being taught by those who follow a crowd — you want to be leaders, not followers," he concluded.

The auditorium was packed with proud parents and student friends as 254 students received their graduation diplomas.

Of these, 77 received honor graduation diplomas for students the rigors of Grade 12. All but one of these students have gone on to various universities for higher learning.

Principal Garrett labelled this "uncommon both parents and teachers can be proud of."

Players from Lakefield yesterday succeeded in becoming finalist for the upcoming Drama Festival.

Drama Festival Starts Nov. 14

Theatrepeople in Belleville announced an exciting time the weekend of Nov. 14 when the first Ontario Drama League Festival will be held once again in Belleville.

Ontario Secondary School will provide the venue for the festival. The theme for this year's festival is "The Playhouse."

The festival will proceed in four sessions with three plays Thursday, Friday and Saturday plus two plays Sunday evening. The awards presentation will also be held on Saturday.

Entrants have been selected this weekend from an original 19 in Eastern Ontario by the preliminary competition adjudicators. In the capital city, other plays were selected to proceed to the Belleville festival. At Trenton, one winner was chosen to go to the final competition and two other entries from the Trenton area.

And the Belleville Theatre Guild Workshop four entries to represent the western section were chosen along with the host group. All adjudicators were in their prime of the standard of performance, and commented on the variety of themes chosen for festival entries.

Both plays dealt with law and justice, with the first being John Mortimer's drama The Book Brief by the Ottawa Technical High School Drama Club, and the second, George Bernard Shaw's comedy about The Shewing of the Blanket.

Festival officials stress that regulations governing the Festival date for "no admission of latecomers until a break in the action" so it is advised to be at the festival before 8 p.m. each evening and 1:30 p.m. for the Saturday matinee in order to enjoy the festival.

Professors of drama, Sir George Williams University, Montreal, two plays will be presented.

VOTERS' LIST

CITY OF BELLEVILLE

Notice is hereby given that I have complied with Section 9 of the Voters' List Act and that I have posted up at the City Clerk's Office, City Hall, Post Office, Pinnacore Street and other public places on the 28th day of October 1968, a list of all persons including persons eligible to vote under the authority of the Municipal Franchise Extension List entitled to vote in the Municipality at Municipal Elections and the said list will remain there for inspection.

Persons who are aware of errors in said list or of changes which have been rendered necessary by reason of death or removal of any person, and applicants who have purchased property or become residents of the City, or who have changed their place or residence in the City since January 1st, 1968, should examine the lists to see that their names appear therein.

The time for making complaints as to errors or omissions should be fourteen days from date of this notice.

DATED AT BELLEVILLE THIS 28th DAY OF OCTOBER, 1968.

Take Notice that persons eligible to vote at the next Municipal Election on December 2nd, 1968 for Divisional Boards of Education are as follows:

a) "PUBLIC SCHOOL ELECTOR" within the school division and who is not a supporter of a Separate School.

b) "SEPARATE SCHOOL SUPPORTER" means a person who is a resident within the school division, and who is a supporter of Separate Schools for Roman Catholics or who, being a Roman Catholic, is the wife or husband of a supporter of such Separate Schools, and is entitled to vote at the election of Trustees of Separate Schools.

Take Notice that persons eligible to vote for the two positions at the Municipal Elections are owners, tenants and persons over the age of 18 years of age who have resided in the City of Belleville for the last twelve months next preceding the last day of January, 1968.

While the City Clerk's Department is responsible for the preparing of the Municipal Voters' List and does everything in its power to ensure that it is as complete and correct as possible, it is not possible to ensure that it is perfect. Therefore, it is requested that all citizens of the City of Belleville who deem themselves eligible to vote at the Municipal Elections to check with the City Clerk's Department to make sure their names are on the Voters' List. Please do not delay in making this check until Monday, December 2nd, 1968.

No Waist Seams!
by Anna Holmes

Isn't it wonderful that a dress smart as this has no seams. No waist seams meant you can wear it with or without a belt. Send now.

British Censor Smiles

Violence in Films, Television Causes Concern

LONDON (AP) — The newly-found concern in the United States over violence in films and television brings an indulgent smile from Britain's movie censor, John Trevelyan. He has been grappling with the issue for many years.

The assassinations of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. and Robert F. Kennedy, plus the disorders in the cities, prompted many Americans to ponder whether popular mediums of entertainment were contributing to a mood of violence. The question was posed by President Johnson when he established a commission to investigate violence in the United States.

Trevelyan, a plucky spoken Englishman who reviews all theatrical films for the British board of film censors, expressed doubt that the president's commission would accomplish much in cutting down depictions of violence. Nor was he impressed with vows by television chiefs and film-makers to make entertainment less violent.

"It will take more than 12 months to achieve any effect," he observed. "But that time, the hue and cry over violence may have subsided."

Trevelyan pointed out the difference in American vs. English film censorship: "The Americans have always been more concerned with questions of morality than reflects the Catholic influence in their country. I am not a moralist. I do not attempt to make moral judgment for the audience. But I do aim to protect film-goers from bad influences. The British public does not like an immoral view on the screen. Nor do I."

His judgments can be stringent. Sometimes he will not merely order that film goers from bad influences. The British public does not like an immoral view on the screen. Nor do I."

presented in an entertainment medium. Interrupted by commercials. After seeing this sort of thing on TV day after day, people are bound to accept this as normalcy."

Trevelyan's decisions sometimes puzzle American film companies. He refused to certify a live cut in the Dirty Dozen, yet passed Bonnie and Clyde with no changes—because "I considered it a fantasy."

"My principal concern nowadays is not so much the Hollywood product, as the Italian-made Westerns," he added. "I am absolutely rattling them with cuts."

Flyers Fool Leafs, Then Habs in Balnear Weekend

Back in the Race After Brace of Wins

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

It took just one productive weekend in put Philadelphia Flyers back into the race in the Western Division of the National Hockey League.

The Flyers, who finished on the last division last season, started the weekend in a tie for last place. A couple of victories later, they were in a dead-end for second and just one point off the pace set by St. Louis Blues.

Philadelphia did it the hard way, beating two Eastern Division teams — Toronto Maple Leafs and Montreal Canadiens.

The Flyers surprised the Maple Leafs 3-2 at Toronto Saturday night and took the Canadiens by the same score at Philadelphia Sunday.

In other action Saturday night, Montreal edged Detroit 3-2. Wings 3-1, Los Angeles Kings edged Pittsburgh Penguins 3-2 and Minnesota North Stars blanked St. Louis Blues 2-1.

Sunday, New York Rangers shamed Minnesota 2-1, Boston Bruins edged Chicago Black Hawks 3-2, St. Louis tied Detroit 4-4 and Pittsburgh upset Oakland 5-1.

Veteran Jean Guy Goudeau scored two goals for Philadelphia Saturday before 16,775 fans and defenseman Ed Van Impe added the other. Scoring for Toronto were Paul Henderson and Bill Scherrod, a former Flyer.

A 15-shot shut by rookie center Jim Johnson midway through the final period protected the winning goal for the Flyers Sunday between 12:41 fans. The shot bounced off goalie Lawrence Van der Grinten and into the net.

Philadelphia scores were Andre Lacroix and Simon Nolin. Henri Richard and Janne Jaakola scored for the Canadiens, who hold a one-point edge in the Eastern Division over New York and Boston.

The Rangers played out on overtime for top spot when first-string goalie Mike Novak and Dave Balon carried them to victory Sunday before 16,616 New York fans.

Stacy Grant scored the only goal for the North Stars, playing their last game under manager-coach Steve Brier. John MacKay will take over as coach next Wednesday when Minnesota plays at home against Toronto.

Cassidy Henry pined St. Louis Sunday, scoring three goals to bring his season total to seven. Noid played his last game for the Flyers.

Frank Mahovlich, Gary Bergman, Gary Ceder and Alex Delvecchio scored for the Red Wings and Quebec Hawks had three goals.

Oakland lost a chance to break its second place with Philadelphia and visit over St. Louis into first place Sunday when it lost to Pittsburgh.

The Penguins scored three times in less than four minutes in the second period before a crowd of only 2,106 at Oakland.

Scoring for Pittsburgh were Lou Amadio, Gene Ubriaco and Val Fontana. Bill Hicke connected for Oakland.

Bobby Hull, Phil Martin and Bob Schmeitzler scored for the Black Hawks, and Hull added two assists.

Saturday, the Canadiens opened the renovated Montreal Forum for a record 11,411 fans. It was the first home game of the season for the Canadiens who had played eight straight contests on the road.

Mo-Hawk Lines Gel To Woodstock's Dismay

By MAURICE SWITZER (Sports Editor)

Everybody got into the act in Sunday's 4-4 Belleville Mo-Hawk tie over the visiting Woodstock Hawks.

Playing-coach Davey Jones' recent loss-shedding experiments paid off, as the Mo-Hawks, in the most well-rounded offensive of their careers, put the Mo-Hawks' Mo-Hawks in the lead late in the game.

The win evinced the Mo-Hawks' record at 4-4, joining them into a four-place tie with Collingwood Kings and Kingston Aces, and leaving them safely within the sixteen playoff race ahead of Oakville and Woodstock.

A smaller-than-anticipated Belleville crowd was treated to a cliff-hanger, ending in a tie, because of plenty of missed scoring opportunities on both sides.

It took a goal into the empty Woodstock net with 21 minutes remaining in the game by Wayne "Wineur" Brown to break up a scoring drought and send 180 fans home happy.

Four of three clicking lines — winners Brown and Murray "Big" Hunter, centering Gary Goddard — got the Mo-Hawks off on the right track at 5:28 of the first period. Hunter took Brown's run-in pass to centre ice, took a couple of strides over the Woodstock blue line.

After Harrison was sent off for hooking him. With two minutes left in the period, Brown surprised Belleville's edge in 2-2, taking a pass from Murray and firing a waist-high slider past Larry Holmes to even the score for the last time in the game.

Playing his first game for the Mo-Hawks, centre Andy Taylor put the Mo-Hawks in the lead at 13:01, sending the puck past Woodstock's goalie and blating one off Pennington's pads into the net.

Playing between longtime Trenton and Brockville junior linemate Al Ferguson and Davey Jones, Teeple had a number of close scoring chances, and more than justified coach Jones' confidence in giving him a starting assignment.

Meanwhile, the Mo-Hawks "third line" of centre Bob Taylor, Ron Riley and Wayne McCormick weren't losing any ice to their under their skates, contributing their fair share of the 4-3 goals scored at Pennington by the Mo-Hawks.

It kills game the fourth 3-1 first-period edge, tipping in Jones' point shot eight seconds after Harrison was sent off for hooking him. With two minutes left in the period, Brown surprised Belleville's edge in 2-2, taking a pass from Murray and firing a waist-high slider past Larry Holmes to even the score for the last time in the game.

Rough Riders Leave Lasting Impression in Toronto

Ottawa Gets Playoff Bye With 31-9 Win

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Ottawa Rough Riders left the impression Sunday that they will represent the Eastern Football Conference in this year's Grey Cup.

The Riders injured Toronto Argonauts 31-9 to clinch first place in the EFC and gain a bye into the conference finals. The Argonauts and Hamilton Tiger-Cats play a sudden-death semifinal in Toronto next Saturday.

In the only game in the first weekend of EFC play, the final-week Tiger-Cats tied the last-place Alouettes 21-21 at Montreal Saturday.

Ottawa's victory Sunday was its third in a row against the Argos this season and the Riders also won three games against Hamilton.

Toronto held an 8-6 mid-week through the second quarter when Ottawa went 48-0.

Linebacker Alvin Ray Alde made the difference with a touchdown on a 39-yard run after receiving a pass from Dave Mann kicked a convert and two singles.

Ottawa received touchdowns with 11 wins, three losses and one tie—the best record in the club's 25-year history.

Calgary visited Edmonton Sunday in a sudden-death game for the right to meet Saskatchewan in the division final.

Crested battle in the two-week game was between fullbacks George Reed and Saskatchewan's Jim Evenden of the Lions for the WFC rushing crown.

Although each hugged the ball almost three-quarters of a mile in 16 games, Reed moved ahead by the tape by two yards—223 to Evenden's 128.

Reed scored in the last of the game, a five-yard carry.

Ted Gerds, another Lion kicked a 32-yard field goal in the first quarter to run his season total to 20, thus breaking the professional record set in 1953 by Pete Goglia of Buffalo in the American Football League and equaled in 1996 by Bruce Gossett of Los Angeles in the NFL.

Reed scored in the second quarter for good measure to 20-0.

His 111 points for the season gave him the WFC scoring championship. He finished 18 points ahead of second-place Larry Robinson of Calgary and 19 on up third-place Reed.

The Roughriders scored their only two touchdowns when Rob Knorr intercepted a Pete O'Brien pass early in the second half and galloped 73 yards to score.

Jack Abubakar, with a convert, two singles and a field goal, completed the Saskatchewan scoring.

At Winnipeg, Kerry Flinn led the Bombers to 49-0 over Calgary during his 11 years as quarterback, receiving gifts that included a shogun from the football club, color television, a power lawnmower, a scroll from fullback Bo Scott, quarterback Russ Jackson and on a 34-yard run and flanker Don Suberlin kicked field goals of 19, 34 and 38 yards and added a stride and three converts.

The EFC scoring tie was by one point over Tommy Joe Coffey of Hamilton.

Edmonton, who finished the season with 112 points, had trailed Coffey, last year's three-point champion, by three points entering the weekend. Coffey was held to nine points at Montreal.

Saskatchewan Finish Best in Team History

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Football took a back seat to statistics during the weekend as the Western Conference closed its regular schedule with a pair of games that could affect the final standings.

Saturday, before 22,665 at Vancouver's Empire Stadium, the Riders defeated the Saskatchewan Roughriders turned a pass interception into the game's lone touchdown as they defeated the Riders 24-10.

Sunday in Winnipeg, with 12,000 watching, the last-place Bombers defeated the Calgary Stampeders 24-10.

Saskatchewan thus finished with 11 wins, three losses and one tie—the best record in the club's 25-year history.

Calgary visited Edmonton Sunday in a sudden-death game for the right to meet Saskatchewan in the division final.

Crested battle in the two-week game was between fullbacks George Reed and Saskatchewan's Jim Evenden of the Lions for the WFC rushing crown.

Although each hugged the ball almost three-quarters of a mile in 16 games, Reed moved ahead by the tape by two yards—223 to Evenden's 128.

Reed scored in the last of the game, a five-yard carry.

Ted Gerds, another Lion kicked a 32-yard field goal in the first quarter to run his season total to 20, thus breaking the professional record set in 1953 by Pete Goglia of Buffalo in the American Football League and equaled in 1996 by Bruce Gossett of Los Angeles in the NFL.

Reed scored in the second quarter for good measure to 20-0.

His 111 points for the season gave him the WFC scoring championship. He finished 18 points ahead of second-place Larry Robinson of Calgary and 19 on up third-place Reed.

The Roughriders scored their only two touchdowns when Rob Knorr intercepted a Pete O'Brien pass early in the second half and galloped 73 yards to score.

Jack Abubakar, with a convert, two singles and a field goal, completed the Saskatchewan scoring.

At Winnipeg, Kerry Flinn led the Bombers to 49-0 over Calgary during his 11 years as quarterback, receiving gifts that included a shogun from the football club, color television, a power lawnmower, a scroll from fullback Bo Scott, quarterback Russ Jackson and on a 34-yard run and flanker Don Suberlin kicked field goals of 19, 34 and 38 yards and added a stride and three converts.

The EFC scoring tie was by one point over Tommy Joe Coffey of Hamilton.

Edmonton, who finished the season with 112 points, had trailed Coffey, last year's three-point champion, by three points entering the weekend.

Finance and Health Ministers Of All Ten Provinces Gather

OTTAWA (CP) — Finance and health ministers of the 10 provinces—including two premiers—gathered here today for two days of conferences that might set a new pattern of federal-provincial relations for the Trudeau years.

Main object of the meetings from the federal government's point of view, is to bring about better control of rapidly rising expenditures on health, welfare, education, and similar social programs.

Premiers Jack-Jacques Bertrand of Quebec and W. A. C. Bennett of British Columbia arrived Sunday, along with most of the other provincial representatives.

These meetings also are closed. Mr. Bennett said he had no statement in advance of the meeting. He and Mr. Munro are planning a news conference at the end of the conferences Tuesday, and federal officials are expected to brief reporters twice a day.

Also, minister of inter-governmental affairs in his government, came here in place of Paul Davis, Quebec finance minister who is in hospital.

It is Mr. Bertrand's first appearance in Ottawa since he succeeded Mr. Jean Talon, who died last fall, and that the equalization grants system be modified.

Mr. Bennett has the tax pie; Ottawa now automatically hands over 10 to 20 per cent of its personal income tax to the federal government in the provinces.

The figure is 50 per cent in the case of Quebec, to cover federal costs of programs operated in Quebec solely on provincial responsibility.

The plan for the province to raise additional money through provincial income taxes. Manitoba and Saskatchewan impose five percentage points of additional tax and they receive 25 per cent of the federal basic tax. Quebec has an additional three points.

Savings Possible In Cost of Houses

OTTAWA (CP) — A two-year study by the National Research Council says that substantial savings can be made in the cost of houses if a few modifications are made in traditional building practices.

All of the modifications are within the minimum standards set for residential buildings in the national building code, the two-year study says.

The study was made on the construction of new houses in a housing development in suburban Ottawa with the co-operation of a private builder, Connel Development Ltd.

The first house built with traditional techniques as part of the Glen Cairn subdivision development at A. T. Hymans, an NRC research officer, was in charge of cost accounting.

On-site construction of the three-bedroom wood frame house was $110,000. Of that, 28 per cent represented labor costs, 14 per cent represented materials, and two per cent equipment.

Mr. Hansen said at one time it was commonly assumed that on-site labor costs amounted to 40 to 50 per cent of total construction costs.

His study of the conventional built house also found that total on-site construction cost represented about 39 per cent of selling price, $180,000. The remaining 41 per cent of the selling price was made up of serviced land costs, profit, overhead, and various financial charges.

"The fact that the total on-site building cost of this house represented less than 40 per cent of the final selling price also leads one to speculate whether the firms responsible for the remainder of the cost might not be a useful area for some future study," Mr. Hansen said.

In building the second house, a number of traditional practices were modified to conform more closely to the minimum standards required under the national building code. A saving of nearly $400 resulted, and the modifications did not significantly affect either the quality or the appearance of the house.

Mr. Hansen said these savings would mean about $30,000 for a builder constructing 120 houses a year.

Some of the modifications were:

- Using polyethylene film under the basement slab instead of crushed rock.
- Pouring the footings without forms.
- Using four nails per sheath instead of six.
- Using three-eighths inch instead of half-inch steel reinforcement.
- Placing joints location and door framing to make more economical use of lumber.

Would Swap Lots to Make Park

The city parks and recreation committee would like to do some lot swapping in what it feels would be more suitable playground locations in the West Park V.I.A. area.

The parks board now owns three adjacent single lot residence building lots at the corner of College Street and Westmount Drive which it would like to trade for a quarter of an acre on Progress Avenue.

The Progress Ave. lot now owned by a local developer, is currently zoned for industrial use.

However, an application is before the planning board for re-zoning to allow construction of apartments. The application is being opposed by local residents who feel additional apartments would increase traffic and cause danger to children.

BELLEVILLE, ONTARIO, TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 5, 1968

Quit Medicare Is Federal Aim--Trudeau

Ottawa Parley Split

OTTAWA (CP) — Federal and provincial health ministers met Monday, primarily to iron out differences over the medical care insurance program, but ended the day with the status of the scheme more uncertain than ever.

They spent the day in closed sessions but reports of sharp differences over federal intentions to withdraw at least partially from a number of shared-cost health programs leaked out.

Then Monday afternoon Prime Minister Trudeau told the Commons but government plans to withdraw from direct participation in the costly medical care insurance scheme within five years.

Provincial health ministers, informed of this announcement by reporters at the break-up of their meeting, expressed surprise.

They met today with federal and provincial finance ministers to discuss the possibility of a "separate" take-over of the program. Later they agreed to their uncompleted agenda and are expected to leave a committee.

Health Minister John Munro declined direct comment on Mr. Trudeau's announcement. He said he wished to read the statement first.

One provincial spokesman said the sharp reaction to proposed federal withdrawal from joint programs came from the poorer provinces. They said, in effect, "you withdrew at all and we got out entirely."

Mr. Munro said all ministers had agreed to submit statements to the news media after the conference ends.

The meeting concluded today with the health ministers in effect, the factors contributing to the slow process to control them.

The health grants program—one known to be the subject of proposed federal withdrawal—was reviewed along with Indian health services.

But apparently the far more the health resources had, air and water pollution and drug costs.

Safe Flights Pledged

OTTAWA (CP) — Nigeria has agreed to guarantee the safety of daylight relief supply flights into beleaguered Biafra, Prime Minister Trudeau said.

He was reporting to the House on developments from a trip to Lagos, the federal Nigerian capital, by Brian Keir, an executive assistant for legislative matters.

A meeting between Mr. Keir and Maj. Gen. Yakubu Gowon, head of the Nigerian government, reached agreement that the Nigerian government would guarantee the safety of day relief flights by plane overland.

Gen. Gowon placed only a single condition on the daylight flights into U.N. Mr. Trudeau said. This was that the Biafrans undertake that no arms ships would be made during the day.

He was sure all Canadians would regard this as "entirely reasonable" and called on the Biafrans to make a "public and urgent appeal" to effect the assurance.

The U.N. aircraft is not being used in daylight at all.

Municipalities To Get Control Of Own Zoning

TORONTO (CP) — Ontario plans to cut red tape for home-builders and developers by giving local governments control over their own zoning and planning.

Darcy McKenough, municipal affairs minister, said Monday.

He said it is possible to strengthen a law for a no-build-outside-urban limits. Among them, Ontario and former Alberta Governor George Wallace and his white-supremacist party.

That would produce a set-down-environmental crisis within the 58-member cabinet, a set-down for whom Americans actually vote, and eventually perhaps with Congress itself as final arbiter.

General all polls done at 7 p.m. EST in the East and 7 p.m. EST in the West. First important results can be expected.

PM Says Act Requires Move

OTTAWA (CP) — A quarrel over the meaning of a clause in the Medical Care Act developed Monday as Prime Minister Trudeau told a surprised Commons that Ottawa will get out of the program in five years, once it is well established.

The government would split the costs with the provinces until 1971, then turn over to them additional taxation powers and the full financial responsibility for the program.

"The five years is not something I invented today," he said at opposition M.P.'s registered dismay. "There is nothing new about that."

Finance Minister Edgar J. Benson was asked at a press briefing during the federal provincial conference of finance ministers about his interpretation of the act.

He said one clause provided for a review of "the amount and manner of payment" of federal contributions and formation of proposals for change at least six months before March 31, 1971.

Stanley Knowles (NDP—West North Central) asked Mr. Benson whether the finance minister was stating government policy when he indicated the government won't get out of medical care unilaterally.

Mr. Trudeau said this was government policy but "the honorable member should realize that the law says in five years we will get out of it."

Mr. Knowles in an interview later said the act does not give Ottawa the right to withdraw without provincial agreement from the scheme. Federal withdrawal might lead to unequal health care plans in the provinces.

Opposition Leader Robert L. Stanfield said Mr. Trudeau was turning things around. The 1966 proposal was that the provinces could "elect to opt" how to pay Ottawa that planned to get out, "compelling" the provinces to pay for the program with whatever extra taxation power Ottawa was turned over to them.

Mr. Stanfield asked whether Ottawa has proposed again to offer an additional 17 points of provincial income tax to provinces prepared to take over the hospital insurance. Canada assistance and health care programs, all share-out plans, Mr. Trudeau said the offer has been renewed with slight modification.

Mr. Stanfield asked whether Ottawa is proposing a formula to control the cost of the program. He said that suggestions to speed spending can be limited are being made.

Climbing Costs Spark Charges

OTTAWA (CP) — Federal and provincial ministers met today to grapple with dollar-and-cent control of social-welfare costs after filing Monday's air with mutual recommitment about climbing governmental expenses.

The finance and welfare ministers, who met separately Monday, were joining forces at a morning conference to discuss the need for medical care, hospital insurance, health grants and pension adjustments.

Host Edgar Benson, federal finance minister, has mentioned modern administrative systems as a way of increasing efficiency and reducing costs.

Hanging over the conference was a federal proposal to withdraw from shared social-service programs while providing a compensating increase in the provincial share of income tax.

As presented by Mr. Benson, the offer is a slightly-revised version of a 1966 plan—agreed upon by the provinces—based then financial and operational responsibility for hospital insurance, general health grants and pension adjustments.

Prime Minister Trudeau said the new medical care program to be handed over to the provinces would be a parliamentary oversight by surprise.

The medical care act, with its provision for 50-50 cost sharing, is in force for five years, Mr. Trudeau said. "... After five years, it is the intention of the federal government to transfer tax points to the provinces so that they can continue with the medical program."

The prime minister said that the law says in five years we will get out of it—a statement challenged by opposition members and greeted as "news" by the Commons Treasury Minister Charles MacLaughlin.

Only Saskatchewan and British Columbia were expected to support the move, but other provinces were expected to support it.

—Ontario reluctantly, contending it would have to pay a heavy share in the new program.

The federal proposal was also taken up in an afternoon finance session after a midday session on the U.S. option letter. That had shown Nixon in force by 41 per cent to 60.

Humphrey Narrows Gap As Voters Go to Polls

WASHINGTON (CP) — The race for a new president and Congress ended Sunday with a narrow victory for Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey.

A driving force for Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey had narrowed the first general election poll since 1952.

The two leading political parties—Democratic and Republican—were expected to win a narrow victory for Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey.

Caboose Plan Dropped

The Canadian National Railway Pensioners' Association has given up — at least temporarily — on its proposal to place a caboose on Totin's Island Continental Park.

Placing of a caboose on the Island as an adjunct to the old steam locomotive attraction was suggested earlier this year and the CN pensioners' association took on the job as a club project.

But the cost of the effort has now been deemed to be beyond the pensioners' capability and city council has been advised the proposal will be abandoned.

If you're driving with worn spark plugs, you might as well pour gasoline down the drain.

Don't make the mistake of thinking that good mileage is just a matter of good gasoline.

Good mileage is many things. Like spark plugs.

Just one misfiring spark plug could cut your mileage by 10%. That means you could waste a gallon in every tankful. For every 500 miles you drive, you could be paying for 50 miles more than you should.

Find a mileage expert

Find a Shell dealer. Mileage is his business. Let him check your spark plugs regularly. If he recommends a change, new Shell/Champion plugs can be installed while you wait. (You'll soon recover the cost of the plugs with the gasoline you save.)

And be sure to ask him for a free copy of 32 Super.

It's a book of tips on how to go as far as possible on every gallon of gasoline. When everything is right with your car and your driving habits, then Super Shell can really show off.

Super Shell for good mileage

Super Shell has five ingredients for good mileage.

- (1) Plasmaform contains extra-energy petroleum molecules.
- (2) TCP works to keep spark plugs from misfiring.

(3) Buane helps you start quickly. And the quicker you start, the less gasoline you waste before you get going.

(4) A detergent fights deposits that can build up inside the carburetor. These deposits hurt your mileage.

(5) Mixed Penanes help your engine warm up quickly to prevent misfiring, bucking, coughing and wasted fuel. In any weather.

You'll get good mileage with Super Shell. You'll get even better mileage with the help of our 32 Super book.

It's for people who want to go farther.

Mileage is our business

Jackson Missing In Action

TORONTO (CP) — George Reed, all-star fullback with Saskatchewan Roughriders, has a chance to be named Player of the Year in the Canadian Football League for the second time in his career.

Reed, who won the Western Conference rushing title this year, was one of nine players nominated as the outstanding player in a poll released today. The poll, conducted by a distillery, also gave the names of the nine players nominated Canadian Player of the Year and Lineman of the Year.

The selection of the 27 players was made by sports writers and broadcasters who voted only for players from their own home team.

Results of the second ballot for the annual Schenley Awards for Canada's top professional players will be released Tuesday, Nov. 19. This ballot will reduce the number of players nominated to six from 27 — three WFC players and three CFC players, one in each category.

The six players will be brought to Toronto and winners announced Thursday, Nov. 23, two days before the Grey Cup game.

None of the nominees as the outstanding Canadian player was the award before. However, Wayne Harris of Calgary Stampeders, nominated Lineman of the Year, won that award in 1965 and 1966. Surprisingly, Saskatchewan's nominee for Lineman of the Year is Ted Uryash, although team name Ed McCrackers today was named winner of the Baskett-DeMarco Trophy awarded annually to the outstanding lineman in the WFC.

Other nominees for the best football player award are members of offensive teams.

Jim Evenson, beaten for the WFC rushing title by Reed by only two yards, is the nominee for British Columbia Lions. Bill Symons, traded to Toronto Argonauts from the Colts and who averaged 100 yards to gain more than 1,000 yards in a season, also has a crack at the award.

Other candidates for the award are Edmondson; Ed Harris, Hamilton Tiger-Cats; Dave Lewis, Montreal Alouettes.

Larry Fairbroth, Alouettes player who won the Jeff Russell Trophy as the CFC player adjudged to be the most useful to his team, will be trying to out-Canadian Player of the Year award to his collection.

With Tucker, Ottawa's outstanding flanker, and Ted Green, a soccer-style placekicker who set a professional football record with 30 field goals this year for the Lions, also were nominated.

Other nominees are: Roy Shalick, Edmonton; Dave Cranmer, Calgary; Alan Ford, Saskatchewan; Ken Nielsen, Winnipeg; Bill Danyshuk; Bobby Taylor, Toronto.

Eastern representatives for Lineman of the Year are Billy Ray Locklin of Hamilton, Ed Harrington of the Argonauts, Ken Lehman of Ottawa and Charlie Parker of Montreal.

Western representatives beside Harris and Uryash are Greg Findlay of the Lions, John LaProne of Edmonton and Phil Minnick of Winnipeg.

HONOLULU (AP) — Billy Carter, on the brink of another money-winning race, heads the field for the $200,000 Hawaiian International golf tournament this week over a course he has always played well.

Coming from the same home town as Tom Weiskopf, he has won $40,000 from the mark set by Jack Nicklaus last year.

Top prize in the Hawaiian is $25,000. It is the next to last stop on the golf tour for this year. Play over the 4,000-yard course runs through Sunday. Par is 71.

Paul Palmer is in the field for the second straight year. He came here from Australia where he and Nicklaus played two tournaments.

A blockbuster has returned to Columbus, Ohio, where his wife expects a child. Career has more than $100,000 in official money this year and six tournament victories, and better than $200,000 overall. Nicklaus set the marks of $100,000 and $101,000 last year.

BALTIMORE (AP) — Earl Morris lost out for TV rights, he says.

But the fact is that Baltimore Colts, with Morris at the helm, already have defeated Colts' quarterbacks' former employers and they meet a fourth, the Colts, this Sunday.

Fighting for air rights John Unitas, Morris has thrown 20 touchdowns passes in leading the Colts to 7-1 in the NFL football season.

Two of Morris' touchdowns passes came last Sunday in the Colts' 24-10 victory over New York Giants, the last game that ended Morris' Baltimore.

Colts' coach Ben Slaton says that Morris, once played.

"It's an old thing in sports, wanting to be the best team that trades you," said Morris in an interview.

Sutherland Wins Race by Foot

TORONTO (CP) — Halkothood Don Sutherland sailed all for the first week in the Eastern Pulp Conference, kicking three overtimes, a single and three field goals to win the EFC scoring race by one point over Tommy Joe Coffey of Hamilton Tiger-Cats.

Canadian Football League statistics issued Monday show the Ottawa Rough Riders set with 112 points on one touchdown, 44 conversions, 17 field goals and 11 singles. Ottawa and Toronto players dominated the top of the EFC statistics this year and only Bob Trypstad of Montreal and quarterback Jack Zagar of Hamilton shared the mop-up.

Trypstad led in fumble recoveries with five and Zagar was the top punter with 10 punts average in 129 punts.

MONTREAL (CP) — The young Montreal Hockey League's annual scoring race has a new contender.

Bobbi Hull picked up seven points in Chicago Blackhawks three games last week to move into a first-place in the Western Division. Hull has 14 points, but Hull leads in the scoring race by five goals.

Hull has led the league in goal scoring for the last three seasons, and four of the last five. Bobi, 19, is a first-year player, ready, ready winger and, in fact, a new point behind the Chicago pair with 10 goals and seven assists.

Jim Pease of Chicago played to fourth place with 15 points, while George Brown of Detroit Red Wings jumped into a fifth-place tie with captain Jean Beliveau of Montreal Canadiens.

Each team has 14 players, each with 14 points.

To Your Good Health

Three Ways to Get Hepatitis

Dear Dr. Mohler: Is it possible to get hepatitis by handling items other than food - clothing etc. - that people use? - Mrs. R. S. G.

Yes, hepatitis (the virus) may be transmitted by contact with someone who has been infected with the virus. One of the most dangerous means of infection is from contact with someone who has been infected with the virus.

There is little likelihood of clothing or such articles, but it might be transmitted by direct contact with the clothing, with most articles or after touching the patient who has hepatitis.

There are also conditions in the throat and nose that can have bad breath and do not respond to mouthwash or any of the common remedies.

wading or swimming pools. Proper chlorination will keep them safe, however.

A third method is by direct personal contact. The virus of the disease is in the blood, in the saliva, in the sweat, in the tears, in the urine, in the feces, in the vomit, in the sputum, in the nasal secretions, in the sweat, in the tears, in the urine, in the feces, in the vomit, in the sputum, in the nasal secretions.

"Everything I eat affects my health. My teeth are not the cause. I asked my dentist. When I brush my teeth, I get a headache. I suggest that you use a mouthwash. Please. My family is suffering." - Mrs. H. J.

When you say that "everything" you eat affects your health, it makes me wonder if you aren't on the wrong track. It doesn't seem reasonable that all foods would have any such effect. Therefore, why not try a wide variety of foods to see if you can find one that doesn't affect you?

Government Warned

Maritimers Begin to Think Joining U.S. Best Bet

OTTAWA (CP)—Opposition MPs urged the federal government Monday to get cracking on marine policy and regional development.

Violent from the Atlantic provinces denigrated the Commons debate.

Robert C. Coates (P.C.—Cumberland-Colchester-North) said the Atlantic provinces are "the afterthought area" to the federal government.

Michael Forrester (P.C.—Dartmouth-Halifax East) said many Maritimers are beginning to think "we'd be one devil of a lot better off" by turning to the United States.

Mr. Coates said that although a government study group has finally been established to look into the feasibility of the project, the people of the area know that the study will only lead to all kinds of arguments.

In the end, the Atlantic area would only get "the crumbs off the table."

The government has "lied" that "a good enough" for you follows down there.

Mr. Forrester told the Commons his department abolished allegations that the government purchasing responsibility in one or two years.

Set up in 1961 during the Korean war, to do the purchasing for the defence department, the defence department has gradually become a pro-consumerism, most government departments.

After Mr. Jamieson's estimates were passed, 100 more went in to the estimates of the public works department.

Public Works Minister Arthur Laing said his department is trying to keep up with the demand for government office space.

"It would be false economy" to curtail construction and refurbishment of new office space.

Louis Comeau (P.C.—St. John's) complained about the lack of vessels in the independent Nova Scotia.

There were many new boats on that section of the Atlantic coast, but they were for the development of docks for them.

And many of the new vessels little things get a new start or breakwater," Mr. Comeau said.

There are 100 miles of deep-water harbor every 50 miles or so.

Housing Needs of North To Five in Borrowed Parkas

YELLOWKNIFE, N.W.T. (CP)—The federal housing inquiry was told Monday the North needs a more equitable housing program.

Five members of the inquiry, headed by Transport Minister, said in a study meeting held in Yellowknife last week that the housing needs of the North are "vastly different" from those of the rest of the country.

National hearings began in Yellowknife and a report is expected soon after the end of the year.

Today's hearings were held in Whitehorse.

Don Orange, Liberal MP for the Northwest Territories, said small communities in the Northwest Territories have "a standard of housing that isn't comparable with the average north country."

He said that as many as 11 children might sleep in a shack of one and a half rooms.

"Because of the small population and the fact that we must develop some sort of equal standard across the North, we must have a central housing authority."

Mr. Orange said his department would concern itself not only with the housing of the North but also with the services to go with it, such as water and sewerage.

A brief presented by the Northwest Territories government said there is no program for health or people, employed by local businesses, and the firms do not provide subsidized housing.

Corp. to provide funds for public housing in areas outside incorporated municipalities.

There are only four incorporated municipalities in the Northwest Territories.

Van Horne Byelution Winner

DALHOUSIE, N.S. (CP)—Conservative J. C. Van Horne capped his second poll victory in the federal election by winning the federal election in the riding of St. John's South.

Mr. Van Horne, 41, defeated the Liberal incumbent, J. C. Van Horne, 41, in the riding of St. John's South.

Alberta Ex-ministers Cleared of Charges

EDMONTON (CP)—A judicial inquiry has cleared A. J. Hoke, minister of land and forests, and E. W. Linn, minister of public works, of charges that they had conspired to use their office to benefit themselves.

The inquiry, headed by Justice Minister, Mr. Justice W. J. C. Kirby, said that the two ministers had conspired to use their office to benefit themselves.

LONDON, Ont. (CP) — Onarto unionists must be prepared to go to jail if they are going to stop implementation of the Rand commission recommendations by the provincial government, a staff member of the Textile Workers International Union said Monday.

Charles Clark, one of 25 persons who went to jail for taking part in demonstrations at the Tilco Plastics Ltd. plant in Peterborough in 1966, told 1,000 delegates attending the Ontario Federation of Labor's 12th annual convention to "get ready for jail."

He said militant action is the only way to "show the government (Ontario) we're not prepared to live" in the kind of society the Rand report would produce.

The report recommends that an all-powerful 11-man tribunal be set up to handle labor disputes. The commission would also restrict mass picketing, outlaw strikes in essential industries and make unions legal entities.

While several delegates reiterated earlier demands for work stoppages to force the government to shelve the report, a middle-of-the-road policy was

Delegates decided to:
—Use the basic philosophy of the report as well as the vast majority of recommendations;
Conduct an active campaign to assure that the report does not become legislation.

—Continue a campaign for needed workable improvements in labor legislation and its administration in Ontario.

TORONTO (CP) — A quarrel over farm marketing boards appeared to be the main obstacle Monday to a possible merger of two rival Ontario farm groups into one organization representing the province's 70,000 commercial farmers.

A six-man committee appointed to develop a merger plan presented two different reports, divided mainly on the market-

Three members of the OFA headed by President Charles Munro of Embro, suggested the 40 or so marketing boards should each have one representative on the provincial council of the proposed new organization.

TORONTO (CP) — Algonquin Park, a big chunk of Ontario's mid-section, Monday became a parcel of the province's plan to attract vacationers.

Rene Brunelle, minister of lands and forests, announced the park would be closed to everyone but the vacationer during July and August.

He said the master plan for the park allowed for 84,000 of the park's 1,862,900 acres to be used as primitive land where man could meet nature face to face.

However, not everyone

The association said loggers cut the timber to preserve the natural beauty.

The 34-page provisional plan has been sent to 3,000 individuals als and organizations. It will be discussed at public meetings Nov. 26 in Pembroke, Nov. 27 in Huntsville and Nov. 28 in Toronto.

THE BETTER HALF

The boards, which now negotiate minimum produce prices with buyers or do actual selling of farmers' products, would retain their present functions but would be encouraged to amalgamate into fewer structures and would be more closely integrated with the farmers' organization.

However, the other three members of the committee, all members of the Ontario Farmers' Union headed by President

Walter Miller of Tara, presented a second report asking that the functions of marketing boards be handed over to the proposed farmers' organization.

About 400 OFA delegates will meet to vote on acceptance or resection of both merger plans during the three-day convention. The plans will then go to the convention of the farmers' union to be held Nov. 25.

Construction Starts on 'Industrial Shopping Centre' in Belleville

How about a shopping centre for industry — a multiple tenancy industrial building fit for shops or warehouses.

"There's exactly what Belleville needs," said industrial commissioner Raymond Brown a short while ago.

Yesterday that's what he got as construction began on the initial stage of an 80,000 sq. ft. industrial complex to be built at the corner of Adam and Centre streets in Belleville's industrial park.

Pan Properties, with Abram Tobe and Sidney Spiegel at the company's helm, are financing the construction of the building.

A Toronto firm, Canada Tilt-Up Company, is putting up the building.

And not only is it a new type of building for Belleville it is also a new type of design being built in a new type of way.

Sections are present on the floor which, once poured, is used as a casting slab. The sections are then erected by crane.

Jim McEwen of Canada Tilt-Up noted some advantages of the new type of construction: a short period of construction, reasonable cost, and versatility.

"The new building will be finished by January 1," he said.

Other advantages are that each section of the building can be adapted "ready" for whatever use the tenant wants and the building can be enlarged without trouble.

There is no masonry involved in this type of construction at all and walls can actually be jacked right out of the building or put back in without needing anything down or up.

On the other side, the building will provide room for any industry regardless of size and multiple tenancy does have the benefit of lowering rental rates.

In a trial, commissioner Brown commended Pan Properties Ltd. "for taking the initiative on a purely speculative basis."

"The building definitely fits a need and will not only help to help local industry expand without capital expansion."

The building will be the second that Pan Properties has in Belleville.

New Addition to Industrial Park

A look into the very near future is provided by this artist's sketch of the new industrial building being put up by Pan Properties Ltd. It is expected to be completed by the beginning of next year.

Industrial Discussion

Abram Tobe, spokesman for Pan Properties Ltd., Jim McEwen, builder and industrial commissioner Ray Brown talk over the new industrial park now being built on Adam Street.

grows to $250
with

The new Bonds have fourteen regular annual interest coupons which can be cashed each year as they come due. The first pays 5.75%; the second, 6.50%; the next three, 6.75% each, and the last nine a big 7.00% each. Total regular annual interest amounts to $36.50 on each $100 Bond.

If you choose you may hold all these regular annual interest coupons unredeemed until your Bond matures. If you do, you will then get interest on your interest totalling an additional $64.50 on each $100 Bond.

At maturity, therefore, you can get back total interest of $150 plus your original $100 investment! This way each $100 Canada Savings Bond becomes worth $250. Other denominations can grow at the same exciting rate.

Adults, children, businesses and institutions—all may buy Canada Savings Bonds. They are available in convenient amounts of $50 up to $50,000 for cash or on instalments, wherever you work, bank or invest. And, as always, Canada Savings Bonds are available any time at full face value plus earned interest.

Few investments are so profitable. None builds more surely for the future. Buy Canada Savings Bonds and make your savings really grow.

Planning County Board

Interim School Committee To Hold Final Meeting

Although the interim committee charged with planning the switch to a county-wide board of education next year completed its work Monday night, one more meeting of the group will be held Nov. 12.

Members will meet at Ontario Secondary School to hold discussions with a team of three officials from school systems outside the area. The teams, sponsored by the department of education, are made available to interim committees to "discuss and bring new light on the subject."

The 10 interim committee members present at Monday night's meeting were John Macdonald Smith, chairman of the Belleville Public School Board refused to second the motion on the grounds that the team should meet with the new board, not the interim committee.

E. T. Morris, superintendent of Trenton public schools explained that the teams were set up specifically to consult with interim committees and would probably be disbanded when the new county boards are elected.

"This could be a straight breakaway," commented Daniel Kelly of Trenton.

Mr. Morris replied that the teams were not composed of private officials. Members are senior academic and business officials from boards going through the same change-over Hastings County is experiencing.

Three committee members abstained from voting on the motion to hold a meeting with the team, three voted for the motion and three abstained.

The breaking vote in favour of the meeting was cast by chairman James Clarke.

Association Suggests Communication Needed

The Belleville and District Council of Home and School Associations has suggested that its organization be the vehicle for "establishing two-way communication between Hastings County Board of Education and the public."

In a brief submitted Monday night to the interim committee, Home and School Council suggested that the new board, which will take over education in the county Jan. 1, appoint a representative to attend meetings of the council.

The council also asked that one of its members be permitted to attend meetings of the new board and its committees on an interested observer.

"A method of communication between the county board and the parents and taxpayers will be vital to the acceptance of board policies and measures," the brief stated.

The interim committee received the brief for inclusion in the handbook on school organization to be turned over to the new board members after their election.

Unique Bicycle Acquired

TWEED — Mr. John T. Watson, of Gravenhurst, Ontario, who collects antique bicycles and photographs, had a visitor in Tweed recently, on his way to his home from a buying trip to Pembroke, where he acquired a unique bicycle made with an entire hardwood frame. The old form of transportation attracted quite an audience of interested on-lookers, when Mr. Watson parked his station wagon on each street. The bicycle was originally purchased at Vancouver Bicycle Shop, in Vancouver.

Mr. Watson states that he has twenty bicycles in his collection. All different, but of this number, he considered twelve to be quite unusual.

He also has about 15 different photographs in his collection as well as several others that he has acquired one at a time.

Speaks to Kiwanians

Ted Schwab Explains Israeli Position

"I feel, based on the fact that we of the Jewish faith who ourselves co-exist closely with organizations and communities of other faiths, that the successful maintenance of Israel as a state, as is a position to receive and to receive information that may not appear in the normal day-to-day news, may well be with which the general public comes into contact."

These were the words of Ted Schwab, a Belleville Kiwanian, who spoke yesterday at the luncheon meeting of the Belleville Kiwanian Club.

Mr. Schwab conducted the luncheon, which was held at the Belleville Kiwanian Club. He spoke on the subject of "The Jewish Position in the Middle East Situation."

Mr. Schwab explained the historical background of the Jewish people, their migration to Palestine, and their current position in the Middle East.

He also discussed the political situation in the Middle East, the role of the United Nations, and the current efforts to establish a Jewish state in Palestine.

Mr. Schwab concluded his speech by expressing his confidence in the future of the Jewish people and their role in the Middle East.

The United Nations have failed to act in the Middle East, and the Jewish people are now in a desperate position.

Mr. Schwab said that the Jewish people are now in a desperate position, and they need the help of the world community.

the obliteration of Israel, cannot morally push Israel back to the frontier which had proved so perilous."

Mr. Schwab outlined the history of what he called "Egyptian preparations for war."

He spoke of Egyptian intransigence in May and early June as they were studying the target and preparing for the kill.

This, then, was the situation on the morning of June 10 when Israel struck her blow for freedom and security, a blow that within six short days brought all of the Arab combatants virtually to their knees.

"The city of Jerusalem was an important factor of the conflict to Mr. Schwab."

"As a result of the aggression launched by the Arab states against Israel in 1948, the section of Jerusalem in which the Holy Places are concentrated has been governed for 18 years by a regime which refused to give due acknowledgment to the universal religious concepts."

"That sector, now taken over by Israel, remains open to the world."

"Israel has been scrupulous in its respect for Christian sanctities where Holy Places are concerned."

"One need only visit Jerusalem to see the difference between Israel's respect for Christian sanctities and Jordan's respect for Jewish sanctities."

Mr. Schwab described the mingling of Arabs and Jews in Jerusalem as a "chaotic" situation.

"If Israel can overcome force and win the confidence of the Arabs in the West Bank and in Gaza, it will spread the word that Jews are in power and in harmony."

Mr. Schwab said that the Bible and the land of that book should not be separated.

"I do not think that one can separate them and say it is enough for a nation to have a spiritual attachment to the Bible, and not have any special relationship with the land itself."

He also discussed the political situation in the Middle East, the role of the United Nations, and the current efforts to establish a Jewish state in Palestine.

Threat of Attack

Hercules Mercy Flights

The crew makes two flights a night and none of the members were uniformed. Each man is identified by a Red Cross arm patch.

The rescue, which is planned, cannot under attack from planes the Saturday before. General Hull made his flight.

"When asked why the Hercules had not delivered this, Gen. Hull said: 'Why they don't deliver it is a mystery, but because it is the only ship to use the crew that are flying in these relief supplies are in constant danger of an attack.'

The Hercules carries no arms and would be defenceless if attacked.

At present the Canadian Hercules is responsible for about 60 per cent of aid going to Biafra and the supplies, more in Biafra, are distributed by the Red Cross.

It was then learned that since the flights have begun the condition of the refugees has improved considerably.

Currently there are three Hercules aircraft involved in the Biafra mission.

Two are at Lagos. One is being repaired and once this is done the other craft will be sent home.

And the third is at Port Harcourt. When it returns it makes its mercy missions to the UN ship.

If any men are stationed at Lagos and there are 24 Hercules in Port Harcourt, the men are living in unimproved accommodation in the villages.

"Many people seem to think the delay in this operation is due to the military dragging its heels," said Gen. Hull. He explained this was not so.

discovered that one of the crews had been on the strip when it had been under attack.

"This delay and the halt of the Hercules was the reason for my visit," explained Gen. Hull.

"The moral of our new life is good," he said, "they seem to be glad to be back to work and the flights will continue as long as the life is there."

He also mentioned that the Hercules stationed at Lagos will ever become operational.

But even though the crews are being under Red Cross markers Gen. Hull says "... we are operating under war-time conditions and as a result the men must be prepared for an attack any time."

And so the Canadian crews continue to search in the darkness for a flying landing strip bordered by the green jungle. But for those waiting on the ground below the strip it is one link with life.

Fire Under Control

TWENTY — A forest fire was brought under control here today after it had burned out 20 acres of timber and brush.

The blaze erupted yesterday near the town of Kildare, southeast of about 20 miles northwest of Toronto.

Firefighters were dispatched to the scene by the Department of Lands and Forests district office.

"Cause of the outbreak was not known," said a spokesman.

The fire was first seen on November 1 — an unusual time for woodland fires.

However, with continuing dry weather and a dry — no more district forests are tinder dry and prone to the slightest combustion.

Saturday firefighters worked 24 hours to contain a blaze in Ontario township near White Lake. A total of three acres was lost.

Picton Group Planning County Liquor Plebiscites

PICTON — The Prince Edward Chamber of Commerce apparently plans to go ahead with plans for an, or several, liquor plebiscites in the county.

Donald King, president, said that a public opinion commission had been contacted and would meet with the Chamber to discuss the proposed plebiscites.

The date and time of the meeting, said Mr. King, would be set by the commission.

His outline decision has been made by the Chamber to promote liquor in the county but no voters of the county have been listed at general membership meetings discussing the issue.

Asked if the Chamber could afford the cost of the commission and other forms of plebiscite-promotion, Mr. King said "the budget will be straitened."

He added the cause would move through the process. He pointed to the growth of Kingston and Belleville in the last 20 years and said "Picton certainly hasn't done them any harm."

He also discussed the political situation in the Middle East, the role of the United Nations, and the current efforts to establish a Jewish state in Palestine.

Mr. Schwab concluded his speech by expressing his confidence in the future of the Jewish people and their role in the Middle East.

The United Nations have failed to act in the Middle East, and the Jewish people are now in a desperate position.

Mayor Misses Deer

Belleville Mayor Dr. J. Russell Scott was unsuccessful in getting his deer during a one day hunting trip yesterday to North Hastings but a member of the five man party got his venison.

He was 77 year old Fred Leslie of Peterborough who got his deer on his birthday.

"Two years ago Mr. Leslie shot his deer on his 75th birthday," said Mayor Scott. "He always seems to get his deer on his birthday."

But Mayor Scott is still hopeful and expects to get his deer before the end of the hunting season.

Jailed Quebec Teachers Levy Heavy Attack on Penal System

MONTREAL (CP) — Six detainees of the Syndicat des professeurs du 1^{er} district de Québec landed in jail after being held for violating an injunction. They were charged with inciting a strike against the provincial government.

Twelve directors of SFE, a teachers' union, were released Saturday and another was set free Monday after serving most of their 30-day term for ignoring a back-to-work injunction.

During a 1966 teachers' strike, the six had been taken into custody Tuesday they did not receive special treatment in the Québec City jail, where terms for 13 of them began Oct. 18 and that of the 120 started Oct. 19. "I am really ashamed of being a citizen of Québec who has such a deplorable penal system," said Claude LaPorte, SFE's president. "Although we were imprisoned under civil law and did not require a criminal record, we believe we were more heavily treated than those imprisoned under the penal code."

Mr. de LaPorte said the teachers were incarcerated "a few feet away" from the solitary confinement section which prisoners call "the hole."

"That's where we lived in three damp and dark rectangular vaults... clothed in the humiliating park of the prisoner."

Only after "strong protest" were they "allowed to go out for one hour." But other prisoners were permitted "three hours out in the open air."

The teachers told reporters the penal system is arbitrary—that visiting time to other prisoners was reduced to 10 minutes from 30 because jail officials said the teachers needed the visiting room.

But the teachers said they had only five minutes on Sundays for visits from relatives and friends.

Claude Sabourin—last of the teachers to be released, 12 good behavior—said he entered jail 15 hours after his 13 colleagues, but was released 30 hours after they were.

The SFEQ officials said another example of arbitrary behavior by jail officials was the teachers' need to mount pressure to obtain newspaper and even shave.

Their food was cold and their cells were "bugged" with microphones so their conversations could be recorded.

They said they were asked to sign a document saying that demonstrations outside the jail in their support were hindering their "well-being" and security. Mr. de LaPorte added: "We hope that our statements, which might take the form of a book, will be added to the other complaints against the prison system and will bring the present commission (into the administration of justice in Québec) to act without delay in changing it to a condition that makes us ashamed to be Québécois."

New PC Head, Alan Eagleson, Says He Plans to Shake Up Party

TORONTO (C2) — Alan Eagleson, 50-year-old president of the Ontario Progressive Conservative Association, said Tuesday he is out to "shake up" the organization, but added he was not planning to publicly criticize party policy.

The 50-year-old Toronto lawyer, well known as a representative of professional athletes in salary negotiations, said while campaigning for the presidency he heard repeated complaints that local ridings were not informed what was going on at headquarters until decisions had been made.

Mr. Eagleson said the party's state of organization has to be improved and he planned to discuss with Premier John Robarts the idea of hiring an executive director for the headquarters and more full-time field organizers.

Mr. Eagleson, who was elected on the first ballot at the party's annual convention Tuesday, told a news conference that it was the party's volunteers "that to perform they would be allowed to stay."

But he will refrain from making public statements about party policy, he said.

"I'll differ from government policy, I'll have two choices—keep quiet or resign."

Mr. Eagleson, who received 400 votes of the 700 ballots cast, defeated Ontario lawyer W. D. Baker, 40, and Robert Booke, 34, a Toronto journalist.

He succeeds Elmer Bells, 58, of Kitchener, president for the last eight years.

Eligible, first vice-president for a two-year term was Dr. Max Spence of Port William, Ont. Also elected for two-year terms were secretary John Trimble of Hamilton and treasurer Del O'Brien of Pembroke.

Ontario vice-presidents are Richard Walker, Windsor; Francis MacDonnell, Brockville; Joyce Brown, a nurse in Oakville; and Gary McNeely, Peterborough;

Dan Davis, Hammer Joe Reid, St. Catharines; and Joyce Boudry, Rose DeLoe, Dave MacFadden, Bill Thompson, and Ann Rowan, all of Toronto.

In the 1967 provincial election Mr. Eagleson lost his Toronto Lakeshore seat in the legislature to Pat Levander of the New Democratic Party.

In sports circles, Mr. Eagleson was instrumental in forming the National Hockey League Players' Association in 1967 and the Central Hockey League Players' Association in 1968.

He is a lawyer for the Ontario branch of the Amateur Athletic Union of Canada and was president of the now defunct Toronto Blades of the Continental Hockey League.

Opposition Leader Robert Stanfield told the convention there will be "financial warfare" between the federal government and the provinces because the Trudeau administration planned to drop out of estimating federal-provincial cost-sharing program.

Mr. Stanfield said it is "academical" that the federal government now is "blackmailing the provinces into joining a cost-sharing plan" because it planned to give up participation in the scheme in 1973.

He said the federal government would give provinces an increased percentage of income tax revenue, but this would not be enough to pay for programs which now are jointly financed.

Canadian Forces Rescuers Rescued After Two Weeks in B.C.

COMOX, B.C. (CP) — The 11 Canadian Forces rescuers who had to be rescued, returned home Thursday, none the worse for being stranded for two weeks at a remote lake in northern British Columbia.

"The biggest problem was running out of cigarettes," said Capt. J. D. McNeil, a native of Halifax. "We had adequate food—combat rations—and adequate clothing. But it got cold at night."

He was one of the 11 flown Monday by choppered helicopter from Cold Fish Lake, 620 miles north of Vancouver, to Watson Lake, Y.T., and returned Thursday to the Canadian Forces base here by military aircraft. At one stage, after accidents involving two military aircraft, 20 men were stranded at the lake.

The men stayed in three cabins and a cookhouse at a wilderness camp (tourist season runs —EIS a day) and prepared a landing strip near a downed Canadian Forces Labrador helicopter.

The saga started Oct. 13 as a routine mission to pick up the bodies of Merrill Bone and Ralph Hobson, two flyers from Westchester, Wash., whose light plane crashed at the lake, Oct. 12.

The amphibious Albatross

lost there smashed a propeller on takeoff. Nobody was hurt. Then a Labrador helicopter was sent in to rescue the crew and bring out the bodies. It crashed. Nobody was injured.

That left 20 men at the lake with the bodies. The bodies were taken out by light aircraft and nine military personnel flew to Watson Lake in the Albatross, after temporary repairs. The remaining 11, with Capt. McNeil the only officer, remained at Cold Fish Lake, awaiting rescue. But a second Labrador helicopter developed trouble here so the men stayed at the lake.

"... We did keep busy, at though we didn't kill ourselves," said Capt. McNeil. "We tried to prepare the area for the people who will go in after the chopper. We cleared a landing strip and made an Albatross there can use for block-and-tackle work."

The next group will fly to the lake Thursday or Friday to work on the helicopter.

Nixon Maintains 'Cheerful Confidence' In Wake of Tight Election Battle

NEW YORK (AP) — Richard Nixon, described as maintaining "cheerful confidence" was acknowledged by aides early today as finding the presidential race closer than expected — perhaps because of the Vietnam bombing halt.

Herbert Klein, director of communications for the Republican presidential candidate, said the content, with Democrat Hubert H. Humphrey in Tuesday's presidential voting was tighter than anticipated and added: "The bombing halt, I think, played a role."

Klein said Nixon, spending the long election night in a suite at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel, was standing behind his public pledge to support the popular vote winner should he be chosen into the House of Representatives.

"I don't know if the election would emerge as the popular vote favorite or not," Klein said.

Still reflecting returns at about 8 a.m. EST, Nixon passed word to reporters that there would be no further word from his camp until 10 a.m.

Klein said Nixon felt it would not be proper to comment until he had gotten returns from his former home state of California.

"California we look at as the key to winning," Klein said, and forecast Nixon would be the winner there by at least 300,000 votes.

The Republican nominee, before the balloting started, had said he would lose Humphrey a vote by 1,000,000 to 5,000,000.

At the count rolled about 10 a.m., Nixon's margin might be "a little less" than 1,000,000.

But he forecast that Nixon would gain ground as the tabulation continued.

Recalling the 1960 election that Nixon narrowly lost to John F. Kennedy, Klein had this to say about the election night 1968:

"Dick Nixon feels a lot better (than eight years ago) and his family is very excited about it."

Nixon was getting his election returns from delays of aides who fled in a rush of the living room of his suite, passing along word gleaned from phone calls to Republican leaders in the states and the latest television news reports.

Mrs. Nixon and their daughters, Patricia and Julie, were watching the ball with Julie's fiancé, David Eisenhower, Nixon's son-in-law, who had come to chat with them, but otherwise remained closeted with his aides.

Daughter Can't Understand

I've Got Good Popular Vote: Wallace

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — As he was a one man adventure and at the end George C. Wallace seemed terribly alone. He sat in his quarters, alone, almost oblivious to the few around him as he waited for election results on television.

"I've got a good popular vote," he said.

His youngest daughter, seven-year-old Lee, climbed in and of his lap and finally napped on the floor between the folds of a thick quilt, he was awoken when it was time to go to the huge coliseum where a crowd of followers awaited him.

"Daddy," she called out the fall asleep, "you try to get a lot of votes, now, I want to live in that White House."

"All right, darling," he said sured her.

"I've got a good vote," he said later. "Except my little girl understood..."

On the couch with a boy friend and a college classmate.

Where was everybody? — the crowd faded into the close of the night.

"I guess I'm like most folks," he said.

"I just like to watch the election results at home."

His staff was at a motel across from the arena, waiting for him. His running mate, Curtis L. LeMay, was waiting there.

At one point, a television commentator remarked that Wallace had "gone down to election night."

He made the remark when it per cent of the vote was in and Wallace's total was 2,400,000.

"A Deep Southerner" that many voters. Wallace said, "I'm not 'nigger-baiting'."

He said it looked as though he could get 10,000,000 votes in all.

"I think 10,000,000 would be a mighty good vote," he said. "A third party movement from the Deep South why that would be fantastic."

A Long, Long Day

Humphrey Tops Polls In New York State

NEW YORK (AP)—Hubert H. Humphrey, once rated a sure loss in New York, walked off with the state's 40 electoral votes today in a triumph over Richard Nixon that was surprising for its ease.

The Democratic presidential candidate scored his victory in a climate that produced such Republican successes at Senator Jacob K. Javits' emphatic re-election and Republican capture of majority control of the state Assembly.

Republicans also added two seats to their majority bloc in the state Senate, while Democrats managed to retain their wide numerical superiority in the state's 46-member delegation to the House of Representatives.

Among those elected to Congress was the first Negro woman to achieve such a high post—Shirley Chisholm, a state assemblywoman who ran in a new district in Brooklyn, the defeated civil rights leader James Farmer.

At the outset of the campaign, Nixon had been pegged as a heavy favorite to carry New York, but Humphrey came from behind in the closing days of the campaign. The contest was regarded as a tossup on election eve.

Instead, Humphrey ran away with it and gave promise of matching or exceeding in the glamorous John F. Kennedy's 32,000-vote margin of Nixon in this state eight years ago.

In a complete return game, Humphrey a 500,000-vote lead over Nixon, but it appeared this margin would be reduced as late reports from predominantly Republican counties drifted in.

The latest tabulation, from 12,000 of the state's 13,581 election districts, gave Humphrey 1,194,384 votes, Nixon 823,803 and third-party candidate George C. Wallace 307,497.

Wallace's showing was disappointing to his adherents. He had been expected to snare about 10 per cent of the total vote but won only about 3 per cent.

In the three-way Senate contest, Javits carried his nearest competitor, Democrat Paul O'Dwyer, a Vietnam peace advocate.

But Conservative William F. Buckley, a brother of columnist William F. Buckley Jr., was a happy third-place finisher.

He was striking distance of his goal of 1,000,000 votes, twice the number of any previous Conservative candidate.

vacancies in the previous Congress.

Senate term, lost to Republican Representative Richard Schweiker despite Hubert H.

Humphrey's capture of Pennsylvania's presidential electoral votes.

Vietnam senators from Oklahoma and Pennsylvania were topped as Republicans whittled down—but failed to overcome—the Democrats substantial majority.

Republican Barry Goldwater of Arizona, whose crushing 1964 presidential defeat helped maintain the Democrats' power in Congress, returned to the state easily to the state.

Goldwater's victory and the defeat of Democratic Senators George S. Clark in Pennsylvania and A. J. (Alto) Munro of Oklahoma highlighted a Republican net gain of at least three.

Clark, an outcast from the Vietnam war, seeking his third more than enough to push him over the top. Final results in the state were delayed by 48 hours, giving precinct results in Cook County—the preserve of Mayor Richard Daley of Chicago—as well as another 814 "downstate" in what is territory more Republican inclined than the city of Chicago.

At the day were on, John Mitchell, Nixon's campaign manager, was quoted by the Columbia Broadcasting System as being more than "very concerned" about the situation in Illinois Cook County.

He was quoted as saying they're playing games in Cook County.

The prolonged battle over a successor to President Johnson hung on, Humphrey trailed with 172 electoral votes, George Wallace in a spoiler third-party thrust, had nailed down five states representing 65 electoral votes.

Vice President Captures Michigan Despite Heavy Support for Nixon

DETROIT (CP) — Hubert Humphrey won Michigan's 21 electoral votes early today, capturing the industrial Detroit area by a substantial margin and holding his lead despite strong Republican support for Richard Nixon in the rest of the state.

The Democratic presidential candidate retained the backing of the labor vote despite third-party candidate George Wallace's bid. Wallace, who claimed before the election that he would pick up "blue collar" support, was well behind even in the areas expected to show his greatest strength.

Humphrey received 57 per cent of the vote in Detroit and his suburbs. Besides the presidential contest, Michigan's 19 seats in the United States House of Representatives and the 110 seats in the state House were at stake, along with many judicial and local posts.

Republican Governor George Romney, re-elected in 1966, has another two years in his term, and the two U.S. senate seats were not in contention this year.

With 76 per cent of the state's 5,578 precincts reporting, the unofficial tally was Humphrey 1,310,001, Nixon, 1,192,840, and Wallace, 278,222.

It marked the second time that Michigan voters have turned down a Republican bid for the White House. President John F. Kennedy carried Michigan in 1960 by 56,841 votes. Humphrey took an early lead on the metropolitan Detroit area and shortly after midnight, Democratic party officials predicted his margin would stand up despite the "outstate" support for Nixon.

The Republican, however, retained their margin in the federal House, where they held a 10-7 majority in the last Congress. All the incumbents were assured of re-election early today, including the House majority leader, Republican Gerald Ford, but Humphrey's victory carried many Democrats into lesser statewide offices.

In the state House, where the Republicans held a 55-54 edge at dissolution with one seat vacant, results were not expected to be complete until late today.

Michigan voters favored a proposal on the ballot to authorize bond issues totalling $435,000,000 for water pollution control and recreation facilities. Detroit was proposals for graduated instead of flat-rate income taxes at the state and local levels, and permission for state legislators to seek other state offices during their terms.

Judge Clark today was a proposal to keep Michigan on daylight time during the summer months. The state, which for years had remained on standard time all year, switched to daylight time the last two summers.

Republicans Show Strength

Six Democratic Governors Defeated

WASHINGTON (AP)—Republicans ousted Democratic governors in six states Tuesday and increased to a minimum of 29 their majority of the state houses in the United States.

Democrat Edward Brooke lost in Rhode Island and Montana from the Democrats, but lost control in New Hampshire, Delaware, Indiana, Iowa, Vermont and West of Kansas. Warren E. Hearnes of Missouri, William L. Goy of North Dakota and Calvin L.

Repton of Utah.

In Rhode Island, Democrat bid for a former state legislator and judge and legislator, defeated Republican Governor John H. Chafee, who was trying for a second four-year term as governor. First time in six years with the second bid of Democrat Attorney General Forrest H. Anderson. Re-elected the second bid of Democrat Attorney General Charles L. Liberal Calls for Rent Controls and Curbs on Bureaucracy OTTAWA (CP) — A Liberal backbencher triggered repeated cheers and applause Tuesday when he called for rent controls and curbs on government bureaucracy.

"What many are you with?" asked New Democratic MP called out by Jeanne Brown (C-30) said that during rent control "there have been no evictions."

"Come on over here," another opponent MP called out. Mr. Brown, speaking during the budget debate, criticized the government's action to shut down a number of Unemployment Insurance Commission offices across the country.

"Look it to them," a Conservative MP shouted in encouragement.

The closing down of some unemployment offices was supposed to save money but a motion appeared to be a desire by federal government employees to preserve "salary la-cesses for themselves" in the face of a government economy move, Mr. Brown said.

The UIC office in Hamilton, Ont., mainly city in his riding, had been closed. People had to go to Hamilton to deal with the commission or conduct dealings by long-distance telephone.

Many dissatisfied residents had taken the matter with him, Mr. Brown said — so many of them that "I'm convinced a set of over-cautious mindbenders for the people of "This brought a half minute of deafening applause from opposition benches."

Mr. Brown said he is willing to compromise on such matters but he would be doing a better job as an MP if he could spend more time in the Commons debating over government spending relative to the interests of all his constituents.

The worried Labor Minister Brian Mackay had had "only started" a fight on this matter and the minister would be heard more from him.

Mr. Brown said that the government set up its student loan program he expected that university students who needed $1,000 to continue their studies would need $1,000. But students were asking him that if they asked for $1,000 they might get $500.

This was not the intent of Parliament as he saw it.

The bureaucracy grinds out its work in contemptuous dis-gard of Parliament and the members thereof."

(Very loud opposition applause.)

Mr. Brown said there has been a "monstrous increase" in rent prices in Canada, particularly in a national emergency.

The federal government should enact rent controls and the provinces should pass legislation slowing the federal law to take effect within their jurisdiction.

The government should consider a capitol-gain tax applied to all real estate sales except those involving sales by an individual owner of his personal residence.

This would curb the activities of "unscrupulous persons" trading on the fundamental need of Canadians to have a roof over their heads.

Rent controls and this kind of capitol-gain tax had become a moral necessity at this time.

Orchestra Performance Successful

TYWED — The Eastern Ontario Council Orchestra's appearance at Tywed recently under the auspices of St. James' Anglican Church, and held in the Tywed High School auditorium, drew a capacity crowd, for a full two-hour program, with Eugene Lang as master of ceremonies.

The concert master was a Master Strakos.

Members of the orchestra are residents of Belleville and the Quinte district. In tracing history of the orchestra, over extending its 10th season, Mr. Lang extended an invitation to musicians in the Tywed district to arrange an interview with the conductor, should they be interested in joining the group.

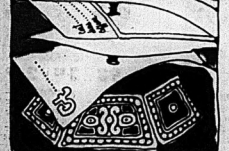

The program at Tywed included both classical and modern music, with highlights from "Oklahoma" bringing rounds of applause from the well-filled auditorium.

Guest artists included the Grade 8 Choir from the St. H. Catholic School, Tywed, under the direction of Mr. Dave Klugman and Mrs. David Farnham, the Rev. Canon Alan Connor of Tywed, accompanied by Lena Baker at the piano.

Pensions Won't Be Affected

OTTAWA (CP) — Ottawa's pullback from shared-cost pensions will not extend to old age pension and family allowance, Prime Minister Trudeau told the Commons Tuesday.

Creditable Leader Reid Canale said there was an apparent contradiction between Mr. Trudeau's statement of plans to withdraw from many social security programs and the recent two-cent tax on personal income imposed in the recent budget as a "social development" tax.

Mr. Trudeau said there is no contradiction. This tax revenue would be applied in other areas where federal jurisdiction applied.

NDP Budget Censure Motion Defeated

OTTAWA (CP) — The government took another step toward fiscal policies Tuesday but it seemed to be any victory in its first official budget test on the tax-raising budget of Finance Minister Edgar Snider.

"A New Democratic motion stating that the special two-per-cent income tax imposed by the government constituted an 'extra-gross burden' on taxpayers in the middle and lower income brackets was rejected by Conservatives and Liberals."

The motion was easily defeated by the Liberal majority in a vote of 127 to 82.

The NDP motion noted that a ceiling had been placed on the special tax. No taxpayer would pay more under it than $120 a year.

The motion said the net effect of such a limited tax was to make the taxation system more inequitable than it is.

Eleven Creditable MPs and 50 Conservatives joined the 18 New Democrats present in voting for the motion.

The government faces another test during the six-day budget debate on a Conservative motion that claims the government has "repeatedly deceived" the Commons and the public about the extent and gravity of its 1980 deficit and has "destroyed its own credibility" with forecasts that budgets would be balanced but collapsed budgetary deficits.

Before Tuesday's vote, Gerald W. Baldwin (PC-Peace River) said the Liberals had thought an "aggregate deficit" of $1,000,000,000, some $1.0 billion in 1980 and it was time this was stopped.

The Liberal government that had imposed federal cut-backs on the provinces, making an "implicit moral commitment" a guarantee that it would shoulder 90 per cent of medical care costs, now had served notice that it would get out of this shared-cost program in five years.

Mr. Baldwin said this was equivalent to getting the provinces "hooked on the habit" of medical care and then withdrawing the drug supply.

The union shows was reason enough for MPs to register their opposition to the budget.

Zoning Law Forces Eviction of Fourteen From Nursing Home

BRIDGEVIEW, Ont. (CP).—Fourteen elderly patients have been out of a nursing home in this small community 20 miles north of Peterborough because the home is in violation of local zoning laws. The Ontario Municipal Board ordered the Armstrong Nursing Home shut down because it is a residential area. Smith Township council had originally allowed the home to be opened. The first two patients left Monday to go to private homes in the area. "How can people be so cruel?" asked Eleanor Engelourne on the home's 23-member staff. "What have some people done to be treated like that?" Mrs. Roger Armstrong, who bought the home in 1959 to establish a place for the township's aged to stay, said she was told by a real estate salesman that the house could be used for a nursing home. She paid $18,000 for the home and spent $4,000 renovating it. "I have had no idea what will happen now," she 45-year-old mother of six said. "I hope there will be people around to look after me when I get old like I have tried to do for others."

HILDA'S COLUMN

A customer named Smith.

From her letter, Mrs. Smith (who didn't include her address) sounds like a good customer. She's certainly an observant shopper. Her questions are straight to the point. "Why does butter go from 60¢ to 65¢ and back to 60¢ again?"—in many instances, as is the case of because of changes in government food levels. However, as often as possible Loblaws puts butter and other important staples, on "special" to give shoppers an opportunity to get extra savings.

Her next question was about the sudden appearance of some economy-style brands on the shelves. Actually, the president himself explained the reason to the "Money shoppers." He said "I've budgeted minded and have a right to choose from a range of prices. Of course, we shall always carry the top quality products in which Loblaws has built its reputation, but now we have a wider variety of products to suit every taste."

Mrs. Smith's parting shot sent me out on another store survey. "The store has a wonderful staff—polite, fast, etc." she wrote, "but they sure need light to work in—there are so many posters on the windows you can't see in or out."

Know something? Mrs. Smith could be right.

Masked Men Steal Mail From Train in Station at Montreal

MONTREAL (CP) — Three armed and masked men robbed a Canadian National Railway train of five mailbags Tuesday night only minutes after British Express Co. guards delivered them to the train.

It was not known how much the mailbag contents were worth.

The train was standing in Central Station when the robbery occurred.

The robbers, dressed as railway employees and carrying revolvers, approached postal employees at 8:20 p.m. A CN spokesman said the train, bound for Halifax, was due to depart at 8:30 p.m.

Six postal employees were forced to lie on the floor of their railway car while the thieves made off with the mailbags.

A railway spokesman said witnesses reported that the robbers approached the station by climbing an embankment and crawling under pillars adjoining the railway tracks. They escaped by the same route.

The spokesman said it will take time to determine the amount stolen because "it was handled like a straight postal shipment."

"The only way we can figure there was any money at all is because of the fact that British guards had just left several sacks for shipment."

He said no shots were fired and there were no injuries to the train crew.

The regularly scheduled passenger train left for Halifax 20 minutes late at 8:30 p.m.

Council Briefs

CAMPBELLFORD — Campbellford Fire Department represented by Fireman Fred Brooks asked for and received permission to hold tag days November 13 and 14 in aid of the Muscular Dystrophy fund.

The Campbellford Chamber of Commerce asked if any study had been made in connection with a new traffic pattern which will be required after the completion of the holding of the new bridge. The preliminary planning of the bridge some thought had been given to a new traffic pattern. This will be investigated by Council as the bridge nears completion and the Chamber of Commerce and police representatives will be moved to participate.

Chamber of Commerce also expressed concern over lack of parking facilities at the site of the proposed new post office building.

At usual this late in the year some complaints are received from citizens who had hoped for street repairs during the year. Councillor N. W. S. Carr, representative of the Public Works department for the work done this year and recommended that some streets not yet repaired receive top priority in the 1969 season.

C. A. M. postulated Memorial Hospital administrator, Mr. St. Carr, requested that temporary hospital signs be replaced by the building bridge during the former sign was incorrect.

An expense account of $2-85 was handed to Council for additional work done at the Campbellford Arena. A motion was made to authorize payment of the expense on the rider that this was a final payment and no further accounts would be accepted on the initial cost of the arena.

Douglas Mayhew of the Campbellford Chamber of Commerce addressed Council. A grant of $125 was made to the parade expense. The parade will be held on Saturday, November 23.

At the meeting of the town council, Councillor Carter requested the Road Commission to look into the safety of children and all pedestrians as the C.N.R. overpass at the end of the small centre bridge near the arena should be made immediately to insure the safety of small school children and others a condition which will become more dangerous as winter weather approaches.

The matter was turned over to the road board committee in cooperation with Canadian National Railways with power to look into the matter. The committee was requested to report back at 8 p.m. following this a public meeting will be held.

Travel Questions, Answers

BY THE

ONTARIO MOTOR LEAGUE

QUESTION: We are driving to Chicago at the end of November and would like maps and any information you can give us for this motor trip, also any accommodation books you have for this area.

ANSWER: If you would like to visit or telephone our Ontario Motor League office, we would be pleased to give you any information you require. Accommodation books and personal routings are for OML members only, but if you write to the Chamber of Commerce of Chicago, they would be happy to send you brochures and maps.

QUESTION: I will be living in the USA for a number of months and am wondering about my car licence plates. Is it all right to continue to drive my car in the USA with my Canadian licence plates, or do I have to get the licence plates of the state in which I will be residing? Also, would I have to obtain a new driver's licence?

ANSWER:—Motorists from over 50 countries, who are nationals of those nations and who are bona fide tourists visiting the United States may drive in the USA for a period of up to one year with their own national licence plates (registration tags) on their own cars, and with their own personal driver's licences.

QUESTION: We are driving to the New Toronto airport to fly to Florida. As we will be away for a month, we would like to store the car there if possible. What are the rates, also do you know of any other places where the car can be stored?

ANSWER:—The rates at the Toronto Airport are $2.50 per day for parking your car. Storage of your car at the airport being a convenience, rather than a service, it is advisable to store your car in a Toronto parking garage, where the rates are much lower (approx. $80 per month). You could always take the airport bus from the Royal York Hotel, or taxi if you wish, to get to the airport.

QUESTION: Could you tell us something about the Chinook winds, reversing Falls, and the Magnetic Hills?

Chinook Winds, British Columbia and Alberta: Term ap-ed to a warm southwest in southern British Col-mbia and Alberta. There are any reports and stories of ow melting with astonishing plicity under the influence of is wind. The name was first ven to it at Fort Astoria.

en it was blowing over the rt from the neighboring inook camp.

Revering Saint John, New Brunswick: At Saint John, the mighty 450 mile-long St. John river empties into the Bay of Fundy's tides. These combine to create the unique phenomenon of the world-famous reversing falls rapids. At low tide the river thunders onto the sea in a spectacular rush to create white whirlpools and rapids that are totally unsafe for navigation. Then as the tide begins to rise, the run out of the river gradually subsides until the tide rises to meet river level. This is the time that the river reverses its direction and flows.

For a period of time, all is stillpond" still. Then, as the tide rises above river level, the visitor witnesses the river reverse its direction and start to run slowly upstream.

Magnetic Hills in Canada: A magnetic hill is an optical illusion where a hill, actually sloping downward, appears to be an uphill grade. By traveling to a designated spot, one turns off the motor, releases the brakes and experiences the thrill of coasting uphill from a dead stop. This phenomenon can be experienced at Magnet Hill Moncton, New Brunswick, close to Hamilton, Ontario, close to Burlington, Two are located in the Annapolis Valley, region of Nova Scotia and one in Newfoundland. There are also two on Prince Edward Island, at Pownal and near Burlington.

Textile Factory Dancers

Workers at a textile factory in Bendery, Moldavia, have formed their own folk song and dance group, rehearsing on their own time but being paid normal salaries when on tour. They are dressed in the traditional costumes of Moldavia, smallest of the Soviet republics, located in the southwestern corner of the union between the Ukraine and Romania. Industrialization in agricultural Moldavia, which became part of the U.S.S.R. in 1940, got under way only in recent years. The country is still primarily farmland. (CP Photo)

CBC in New Battle

Union Dispute Blocks Flow Of News From Quebec Reporter

OTTAWA (CP) — The CBC is in the middle of another union battle.

This time, CBC members of the Canadian Wire Service Guild (CLC) are refusing to handle the reports out of Ottawa by Rod Laplante, a CBC member and one of the Quebec-based Confederation of National Trade Unions.

A guild spokesman said Mr. Laplante's reports have been declared "hot copy," not because they should be expedited as in the normal sense, but because they are too hot to handle, unwise.

Earlier this year, CBC editorial employees in Quebec voted to drop their affiliation with the union and became members of the CNRU affiliate in the rest of Canada are guild members.

Mr. Laplante, a CBC national

Mr. Laplante's assertion.

"Ottawa is within the jurisdiction of the Canadian Wire Service Guild and members of our union are refusing to handle any of his copy. We've declared it 'hot copy.'"

The spokesman added: "The CNTU now may close the Quebec border to us. Up to now, our members have been going to the CRTC."

Treat Indians Like Others -- PM

OTTAWA (CP)—The government's long-term intention is that Indians should be treated the same way as other Canadians, Prime Minister Trudeau said today.

He laid the statement in reply to Robert Simpson (PC-Churchill) who asked whether it is government policy that responsibility for Indian health and medical services will be turned over to the provinces by the federal government.

Trudeau said it is the intention of the government that Indians should be treated the same as other Canadians and be "citizens of the province" they live in.

Erik Nielsen (PC-Victoria) asked whether Indians have been consulted about the plan.

Mr. Trudeau said he was stating a "general orientation" and that Indian policy had not yet been decided.

Witnesses to Enter Classes After National Anthem Sung

CALGARY (CP)—A suit against the Boy Scouts district was adjourned indefinitely in Alberta Supreme Court Tuesday after an agreement was reached by which the children of the John's Witnesses faith would return to classes with participating in morning homages.

Under the agreement, made before Mr. Justice H. W. Riley, the children will enter classes after the national anthem is sung in the morning and leave before morning homages in the afternoon.

The dispute started more than a month ago when the parents claimed the religious rights of their children were being violated when they were required to stand during the morning homages to the flag and singing of the national anthem.

The school board and the Alberta department of education said standing was a patriotic exercise, not a religious one.

The parents took their children from the Brooks elementary school and said they would not return if they had to participate in the exercises.

Several attempts were made to return the children to school but both sides refused to alter their positions enough to meet the other's demands, and the case came before the court.

The 1000 children, 711 on behalf of Robert Preston, father of two of the six children, continued their religious education in the exclusive domain of the father and mother and the certain chapters of the Alberta Independent Act beyond the jurisdiction of the province.

Participation by the church in affairs "secular" and even "politic" without assistance—every Catholic church with its heavy emphasis on confirmation and obedience, little wonder that the same thing has happened in the more fluid world of a school. If priests can form unions, and monks can march in picket lines, it is not to be wondered at that the modern wave of unrest, of questioning and repudiating of old forms and traditions, is much more of a collage of rebellion or confrontation between the races.

Change is in the air, and change is always painful while it is taking place—like surgery without anesthesia—even though the end result of the change may be beautiful, and may even have saved the patient's life.

Of course, not all change is progress; but in the long run, it is astonishing (and heartening) that most social change has turned out to be, historically, an advantage even to those who at first opposed it.

The change from absolute to limited monarchy was a blessing that paved the way for the improvement of the change from feudalism to capitalism was no improvement at all even Marx himself admitted. And the church itself has lately confessed that the Reformation which it so implacably fought, was perhaps a good and necessary thing for Christendom at the time.

But change while it is going on has an awful smell and a bitter taste. And the smoke clears, it is not so easy to see the real reason or to accept the fact that the only way older institutions can survive is by mutating into a form more relevant to new conditions—just as animals adapt to a changing environment.

Then, too, psychologically, most of us find it hard to stand the ambiguity in a period of ferment, and the lack-and-wholeness we have become used to; and so with your routines. Later think back, and ask ways to make tomorrow more successful.

SCOTTISH (Feb. 19—Mar. 31): The concern of your home life will force you to reconcile yourself to the problem and make an adjustment. In a rather full day in compensate for the circumstances.

Jeane Dixon's Horoscope

For November 7

Your birthday today: Ahead is another year of worthwhile endeavor. This period marks a rise in your prestige within your chosen field, but be prepared for lasting improvement in financial position. The new industries are hardly typical of Scorpio and tend to pursue special interests regardless of income.

ARIES (Mar. 21—Apr. 19): Pursue personal enterprises diligently. Romantic interests, however, remain under a cloud. Shopping and routines thrive according to the spirit you supply.

TAURUS (Apr. 20—May 21): Play it right down the middle; a no-nonsense approach. Leave adventures schemes to people with less to lose. Your day calls for honest talk.

GEMINI (May 22—June 21): Everybody you meet is in a different humor; so settle on a bright cheerful note. Confer with old friends. Run the conference into an impromptu party if the mood comes on.

CANCER (June 21—July 21): Something which has been neglected needs doing. Attend to your most important affairs. Your associates find fault with almost everything, particularly where you lead.

LEO (July 22—Aug. 21): Formalities and legal responsibilities (are well met, personal relationships suffer and require additional forbearance and round adjustment.

VIRGO (Aug. 22—Sept. 21): At times your gift for spotting nuances gets in the way of fun. Play it cool must find the missing link. It is inconvenient at the moment.

LIBRA (Sept. 22—Oct. 21): Inner mood and your line of responsibility to them serves as a stabilizing anchor. Now is the propitious time to make arrangements.

SCORPIO (Oct. 22—Nov. 21): It seems the less you do beyond minimum routines the better.

Public Housing Is No Cure-all, Hellyer Says in Far North

WHITEHORSE, Y.T. (CP) — The federal housing inquiry has found public housing is no cure-all, the head of the inquiry said Tuesday.

Commerce Minister

"Everywhere we have gone we have found a great disaffection on the part of people in public housing."

He said the desirability of massive public housing is one of the "myths exploded" in the first two-thirds of the cross-Canada hearings.

"We have learned that there are certain things in common all across the country," Mr. Hellyer said. "These are the obvious things: There isn't enough money; coats are too light; the hearings have had shown a tremendous communication gap between professionals . . . who think they have all the answers . . . and the people on the other side."

"We had one expert say we should have a nation of renters because this would give more mobility."

Other professional commentators had said people want to live in high-rise developments. But the hearings had shown people want "a place of their own."

A myth exploded in Toronto was the usefulness of bulldozers plans for clearing urban land. "Many people would prefer to have their present houses rehabilitated," he said.

"For $8,000 they could rehabilitate an old house that would be good for another 25 years whereas buying a new one would cost $40,000."

Heart Recipient Dies

TORONTO (CP) — Henry Taylor, 45, who received a new heart a week ago from a 35-year-old accident victim, died Tuesday night in Toronto Western Hospital.

The condition of Mr. Taylor, a Guyana-born laundry mechanic who became Canada's ninth heart transplant recipient and Ontario's second, had been deteriorating for about 24 hours, a hospital spokesman said.

Ten Year Dream

New $40,000 Organ Installed in Church

A 10-year dream on the part of congregational members at St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church is about to be realized. Early in December the new church organ which they have talked about for the past decade will be dedicated.

For the past two weeks the new 1984 pipe Casavant organ, custom built by the 130-year-old firm of St. Hyacinthe, Quebec, has been under installation.

Installation will be complete in another week and then will come the three to four weeks of tuning and voicing of 130 hundreds of pipes before it will be officially turned over to the church.

The new $40,000 Casavant organ — the 300th manufactured by the St. Hyacinthe firm — replaces the original Franklin Leager organ placed in St. Andrew's when the church was built in 1865.

The original organ was rebuilt and electrified in 1920 at a cost of about $5,000.

Raymond Barnes, a 45-year-old in the business and owner of his own manufacturing firm in Ottawa, has been doing organ installations for Casavant. In addition he has contracts for the maintenance of about 100 organs in this part of Canada.

Started back in 1853 by two French brothers, Casavant is now the second largest organ manufacturer in North America. Employing about 200 men, the plant turns out an average of one custom made organ per week. Sixty per cent of the production is exported.

The 1984 pipes of the new St. Andrew's organ have a frequency range of from a low of 32 to a high of 8,000. Thirty-two of the pipes are wood and the balance metal, an alloy of lead and tin.

Only the couplers of pipe organs have 100 per cent tin pipes. According to Mr. Barnes, the location of the new organ is being changed to a central position directly in front of the choir loft, while the choir loft itself is being completely rearranged to allow choir members to face the congregation.

Previously the choir loft seats were in two sections, with members "singing to each other."

What do you do with a church organ that has been in use for more than 70 years?

The old St. Andrew's organ was dismantled and taken to Picton by Cleland Blakely, manager of Picton Public Utilities.

A long-time organ enthusiast, Mr. Blakely expects soon to retire and will rebuild the organ in his home as a retirement project.

New Church Organ

Veteran pipe organ installer, Raymond Barnes of Ottawa, checks the keyboard of the new $40,000 22 stop Casavant pipe organ being installed at St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church. New organ has close to 1600 pipes.

Fires Claim 1,198 Acres

It's been one of the worst years on record for forest fires in the Quinte district.

Up to yesterday the department of lands and forests at Tweed had recorded 140 fires and a total loss of 1,198 acres.

The burnings with 113 out-breaks and 680 acres lost in 1958.

Major factor in the cause of forest fires during 1958 was human carelessness at camp-fires, hunting and picnic sites.

Zwick's Caboose Could Cost $1,000

With the Canadian National Pensioners' Association having abandoned the project because of lack of funds, placing of the CN cabooses on Zwick's Island as a railway attraction, will take either a lot of volunteer work or about $1,000 in cash.

This was the cash requirement suggested yesterday by Mayor R. J. Scott when at the afternoon council session he referred to the decision of the pensioners to abandon the caboose project.

Mayor Scott said he had been advised by Alderman Area manager H. J. P. that the caboose was already in the city.

However, the mayor said it would take a lot of volunteer work or an estimated $1,000 in cash to repair the caboose and transport it to Zwick's Island.

BUILT FOR SANITARY

The caboose's sinking feet prevent him from climbing into soft sand.

William Adams draws a bead in his backyard — but the gun is empty. For more than 60 years he and his wife Mable have returned to the north country for each deer-hunting season. This year, he won't hunt — but the north still lures the couple.

Couple Love Deer Hunting -- Now in 61st Season

Trouble with deer-hunting is you sometimes are more people than deer.

William and Mable Adams have been plenty of deer in their time. They've also seen plenty of people.

Now, come deer season and the people are more important than the deer.

And for good reason: The Belleville couple have watched and waited out more than 60 deer seasons in the same spot in North Hastings Mable Township.

Last week they marked 61 years of marriage.

At 80, Mr. Adams has now hung up his rifle. Now he and his wife prefer looking after the rest of the hunters in the family.

However, pointing blood doesn't count daily.

"I've a 20-bill around the camp," says Mr. Adams. "And if anything comes along I'd take a poke at it."

His first went back to Mays Bay in 1901 — and has never missed a year since.

"It wasn't only the hunting that drew him, Mr. Adams, like many another southern-born son of the Quinte district, full under the spell of the region's contrasting north landscape — its country and its people."

It was back then as a young railroad he met and married his wife, Mable Coleman. The wedding took place on the lawn of the Coleman farm at Horvath in 1901.

Just two years later he quit the railroad and tried his hand at farming the northern countryside, caring his property from the wilderness, pioneer-style.

After some bad luck he returned to Belleville and the railroad in 1908.

But deer-hunting gave the couple their excuse for an annual return to the country they love.

"We get income as the deer for it," continues Mr. Adams. "The country back there — I love it, it's really different."

He finally gave up hunting at 82, but there was much to be done each season nonetheless. Their marriage has given six grandchildren and 23 great-grandchildren and their life is mostly a family affair.

"It's more of a family reunion," says Mr. Adams. "There's pleasure of people and sociability."

The north he loves is being turned toward change. Development sees new roads being pushed through the wilderness, even the water levels in many a lake are artificially controlled.

"I think they've spoiled the country for someone like me," says the veteran hunter. "I used to think I knew every tree that was in it."

"But at least, they can't spoil the center of the hills."

country for someone like me," says the veteran hunter. "I used to think I knew every tree that was in it."

"But at least, they can't spoil the center of the hills."

CITY OF BELLEVILLE

Notice is hereby given that I have compiled with Section 9 of the Voters' List Act and that I have posted up at the City Clerk's Office, City Hall, Post Office, Pinnacle Street, and other Public places on the 28th day of October 1958, a list of all persons including persons eligible to vote under the authorization of the Municipal Franchise Extension List entitled to vote in the Municipality at Municipal Elections and the said list will remain there for inspection.

Persons who are aware of errors in said list or of changes which have been rendered necessary by reason of death or removal of any person, and all citizens who have purchased property or become residents of the City, or who have changed their place or residence in the City since January 1st, 1958, should examine the lists to see that their names appear therein.

The time for making complaints as to errors or omissions should be fourteen days from date of this notice.

DATED AT BELLEVILLE THIS 28th DAY OF OCTOBER, 1958.

Take Notice that persons eligible to vote at the next Municipal Election on December 2nd, 1960 for Divisional Board of Education are as follows:

a) "PUBLIC SCHOOL ELECTORS" within the school division and who is not a supporter of a Separate School.

b) "SEPARATE SCHOOL SUPPORTERS" means a person who is resident within the school division, and who is a supporter of Separate Schools for Roman Catholics or who, being a Roman Catholic, is the wife or husband of a supporter of such Separate Schools, and is entitled to vote at the election of trustees of Separate Schools.

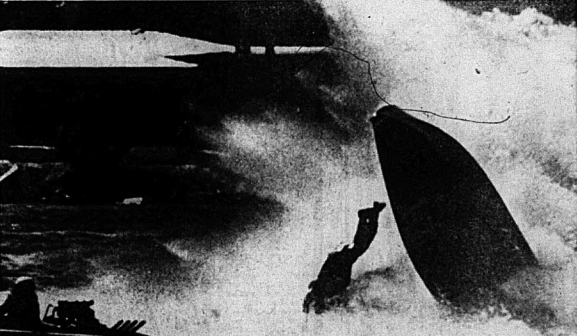

Take Notice that persons eligible to vote for the two Questionnaires for the last twelve months next preceding the 1st day of January, 1959.

While the City Clerk's Department is responsible for the preparing of the Municipal Voters' List and does not exercise in its power to see that everyone eligible is on this list to its voters to see that all citizens of the City of Belleville, who are entitled to vote, are on the list, and we respectfully request that all citizens of the City of Belleville, who are entitled to vote, should examine the City Clerk's Department to make sure their names are on the Voters' List. Please do not delay in making this check until Monday, December 2nd, 1958.

RETURNING OFFICER.

There is a kind of man who tries.

You have seen him. He limps a little when it's damp. Everything he does, he gives it the full shot. 100 per cent. My friend, there is a whisky like that. The full shot. Gold Stripe.

It will put 100 per cent full, laughing taste in your mouth with every sip. And quietly leave. Without bating. If you're not afraid of a little honest taste, maybe you should try Gold Stripe. And get the full shot.

Layered Coffee Cake with Crusty Topping

By MARY MOORE

For those of you who are past bakers I think I have a coffee cake to top all the coffee cakes you have ever made. The crusty, crusty topping is superior.

It is most unusual but I will carefully outline each step to make it a simple procedure.

LAYERED COFFEE CAKE
(Recipe makes two 9" loaves)

1 cup melted (but not hot) butter
About 4 1/2 cups sifted all-purpose flour (second amount - divided) Topping:
4 large eggs
2 cups melted (but not hot) butter
2 cups 10 per cent cream about 1 1/2 cups finely chopped or ground almonds or walnuts or pecans
Custard Cream Filling:
3 large egg yolks
1 cup sugar
1/2 cup cornstarch
2 cups warm milk
2 cups warm water
yolk in lukewarm water. In medium saucepan beat milk to just under boiling point, remove from heat and stir in the 1/2 cup flour. Do not worry - it does not lump. At once stir in eggs, one at a time, then stir in the melted but not hot butter. Stir this lukewarm mixture into the risen yeast liquid, cover and let this sponge rise for about 2 1/2 hrs. at room temperature. Beat down and add 3 1/2 cups of the sifted flour and beat, as well as you can - about 5 min. (reserving remaining flour for kneading board.) Cover and let rise until doubled - about 2 1/2 hrs. Punch down again. Dough is very soft. Sprinkle kneading board, turn dough out on it and knead some of the flour into it until you have a soft dough, but one that you can handle. Out in halves, shape into rounds and pat each into 9" heaped round cake pans that are 1 1/4" deep. Flatten with your palm.

Using peasty bread spread with Topping made by mixing together the 4 large eggs, each egg and melted butter and 1/2 cups cream. If you have too much simply remove it to brush on before baking. Let it rise until it comes to top edge of pan, brushing gently with remaining topping and sprinkling sparingly with chopped nuts. Bake at 350 deg. F. for 40 min., or until golden, watching cakes in oven at half time. Cool in pans on cake racks for 10 minutes, then lift out and cool on racks. Combine top 1/2 cup of flour. Split each into two layers. Spread each with cooled filling; combine first three filling ingredients in top of double boiler and stir this in warm milk over boiling water until thick. Cool.

Result: two layered coffee cakes worthy of Klocfiter or the Queen.

WEDDING

BYRON - HENRI

Trinity Anglican Church, Frankford, was the scene of a fall wedding when Rev. Michael Carroll united in marriage Cheryl, Dianne, and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carmen Mikal of Frankford and Brian Peter Byron, son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Byron Jr. of Deep Brook, Nova Scotia in a double-ring ceremony. The wedding music was played by the Francis Ford. A quart was sung by Mrs. Clayton Harvey and Charles Hill.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore an A-line floor-length gown of white satin brocade with matching flowing train caught at the shoulders. Her four-decade shoulder-length illusion veil was held in place with a halterneck of ruffled and satin leaves. She carried a bouquet of yellow sweetheart roses on a white prayer book with yellow ruffled and white satin ribbons.

Head of honor, Miss Margaret, Conroy of Frankford and bridesmaids Miss Karen Ethel of the bride, and Miss Jean Burdett of Belleville, cousin of the bride, wore all-attired in identical matching floor-length ivory gown veils with matching bows. They all carried cascades of gold and brown lilies with gold velvet streamers.

Attending the bridegroom were Marvin Hume of Trenton. The brides were Brian Mikal of Frankford, brother of the bride and Gregory Burdett of Belleville, cousin of the bride.

The wedding reception was held in Trinity Church Parlor where the bride's mother, Mrs. Cheryl Mikal, served a two-course dinner with a two-piece dress coat gold and white jeweled collar with gold and brown feathers and brown orchid corsage. Due to illness, the bridegroom's parents were unable to attend.

For the wedding trip to Frederick, New Brunswick, the bride chose a purple A-line dress with wedding band collar, black accessories and a beaded skin jacket.

On their return, they will reside in Frankford.

Points for Parents

By MARY BRYSON

Mother: "You're a bad, wicked child. I never thought a child of mine would start money from my purse. These children you bought, easily for me must mean more to you than your own mother."

Father: "Tommy is going to earn money carrying papers to repay the money he took. We must try to find out why he felt he needed to take money to buy treats for all the children."

Child: "I should return or replace stolen goods, and his parents should try to understand why he would steal. If he divides his 'spoil' among companions, he is very likely lonely and is trying to 'buy' friends."

Indians' Problems Debated

By LINDA GELDART
Staff Reporter

It is an untold rumor that is circulating about young people today — about them, not facing. Completely untrue. Witness: Linda Shriver, a grade 12 student at Central Secondary School, and Shirley Marsden, grade 11, of Miles Secondary School. Both were participants in a recent seminar concerning the problems of the Canadian Indians.

The seminar, which took place on October 25, 26, 27 was held at Glendon College, an affiliate of York University. Forty-nine high school students from across Canada participated, as well as many of the college and university students.

The three days of the seminar were divided into different topics. "The cultural genocide of the Indians," "the government as the agent of assimilation" and finally, "the education of the Indians" totaled up to stimulating and thought-provoking discussions. The discussions took the form of questions and answers and later "in-depth" communication of ideas. The questions were answered by the four speakers who spoke on the various topics. According to Miss Shriver, the participation and enthusiasm of the students was excellent.

mentarily. "I think the Indian Affairs Department should be abolished. The Indian Act, written by white men can hardly be beneficial to an Indian."

Miss Shriver expressed a step in the right direction would be to form some type of organization to assist the Indian Affairs Department, because the maintenance, they aren't doing their part and after all, the Indians were here first."

Miss Shriver expressed several angles of the problem as she talked. The points she did mention, were both practical and well-founded.

One of the most important solutions to the whole dilemma lies in teaching the Indians into the government. She explained, "they pay taxes... they pay so we can rate their lives, which just isn't right."

The discussion got around to reserves. Should the Indians be left there?

Yes, agreed Miss Shriver, who qualified it by saying, "If they are happy there... they should be able to stay..."

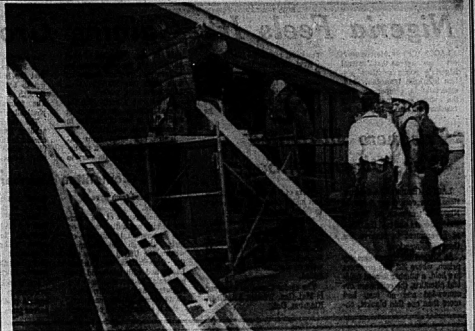

She maintained the Canadian population is ready to accept the Indians into its society. "Although the Indian seems to be giving himself, I think if we gave them a chance, things would be better."

After all that talk, what about some action? The students who were at the seminar had the idea of forming a club at Glendon College, to try to help, interesting people in other parts of the country could join by correspondence.

You get the distinct impression there really are some people who care, and that they are going to do something about it.

What she is doing in the near future, will consist of forming her fellow students of how it really is for the Indian in Canada today. This is the plan to do assembly, some time in the near future, she asserted: "If they were more aware of the situation, they would be more apt to want to do something about it. Maybe by telling them about it, I can get a rise out of them."

Learning on the Job

Students in Quinte Secondary School's occupations class have been engaged this fall in building an apartment storehouse at the school.

Materials were supplied by the school board and construction was part of the school course.

York Boosts Bilingualism

By JUDY SCHREIBER

Last weekend, four grade 12 students attended a French seminar at York University. About 150 representatives from various high schools throughout Ontario assembled in the lecture hall, where they were addressed by the registrar, as well as various professors concerned with the French department.

The first item on the agenda was a demonstration of the preliminary oral French course which is available at York. The instructor played a tape of a dialogue for his class, which was made up of first and second year students who had volunteered to take part. He then drilled them, making the students repeat various phrases, until they became familiar with the dialogue and could act out the conversation which had been played to them.

The professor stressed the importance of total involvement in the French language, so that the student is able to speak.

After lunch, a demonstration of the second-year French literature course was given.

French part. The challenge of the second year lies in the fact that the class is conducted entirely in French, as are the examinations. York University is currently striving to produce bilingual students.

Student Council Elected

By BETH PRICE

The school year at Centre Hastings Secondary School began on the right foot. The first big event occurred last month when Student Council elections were held. There was a close battle between Jung Mah and Jim Trumble for the coveted position of president. Jung emerged the victor, with Jim a close runner-up.

To help Jung in his organization of school activities are Jim Trumble as vice-president, Brenda Jeffrey as secretary and Debbie Wenzel as treasurer. Also elected were the class representatives who aimed the meetings of the Students' Council and voice their own opinions on the specific details discussed at each meeting.

One of the first promises carried out by the council was to have dances every second week. The first dance on October 6 was a roaring success. A profit of over $200 was made.

If the school year at Centre Hastings Secondary School began on the right foot, the rest is returned. You pay only a return cartage charge of $5.00. You can't rent color TV for that. If you decide to buy that set, your deposit is applied to the purchase price.

We're not going to tell you anything else about RCA color TV. Find out for yourself. Have one delivered to your home.

Warning: Once your family sees RCA color TV, you'll have a heck of a time not buying it. Don't say we didn't tell you.

Offer expires Dec. 10, 1968

Miss Lyndy Shriver

ence, color TV has to be lousy. Why is RCA and Circle TV Sales telling you this? Because we sell very good color TV. And we're rich and tired of having you see it at its worst. You should see RCA color TV in your home.

That's why we're making this offer: Call Circle TV Sales — your largest RCA dealer — and he'll put an RCA color TV set (18", 19", 22" or 25") in your home for a week's trial. No obligation. A deposit on delivery, is refunded if the set is returned. You pay only a return cartage charge of $5.00. You can't rent color TV for that. If you decide to buy that set, your deposit is applied to the purchase price.

We're not going to tell you anything else about RCA color TV. Find out for yourself. Have one delivered to your home.

Warning: Once your family sees RCA color TV, you'll have a heck of a time not buying it. Don't say we didn't tell you.

What's the use of kidding? In most stores, color television looks like a dog's breakfast.

If we can get you good color reception surrounded by electrical appliances, motors, electric signs and cars passing by?

With all that interference,

Nigeria Feels It's Gaining Ground in "Public Relations" War

LAGOS (CP) — Most observers here agree that federal Nigeria's public relations system has been lamentably bad, especially in comparison with the smooth-working publicity machine operating for the secessionist regime in Biafra. Now, however, the picture is changing, says Anthony Enahoro, the Lagos government's commissioner of information.

Prisoners Ill-treated War Observers Say

LAGOS (Reuters) — International observers today criticized Nigeria's treatment of Biafran war prisoners and told the federal government to observe the Geneva convention. At Kiriaki maximum security prison, where 202 war prisoners are held, a number needed medical attention, the critics were overheard, and the mass had more than one thin blanket, observers of Britain, Canada, Sweden and Poland said in a report to their governments. The prisoners' clothes were thin and ragged and "in several cases lousy" and all of them complained of poor food, said the report released here. There were no signs of malnutrition, it added.

said in an interview. "From studying the overseas press we believe that we have caught up with them (the Biafrans) . . . their news has been good."

Biafra's position in the federal military government is equivalent to that of minister in a country such as Canada.

Biafra has spent from $1,000,000 to $5,000,000 in a publicity campaign to tell its story to the world. A key part of that story is that the federal government is not to annihilate the B. race through a policy of genocide. The federal government, non-ethnically declares this.

The federal government is sending some top-level people abroad to talk to high-level people of other countries—the ones who count—and impact the Nigerian side of the civil war story. When I talked to him, Enahoro had just returned from a trip to France and Ireland. External Affairs Commissioner Olu Akpoko was presenting his government's side of the case at the United Nations, and Communications Commissioner Aminu Kano had just left for West Germany, the United States and possibly other countries. Internally, the federal government is trying to foster a greater sense of unity and common interest among the diverse tribes and the 12 states that make up the Nigerian federation.

This program has had to start virtually from scratch since unofficially the federal military of information had little impact among the people. Except in the field of broadcasting, information services were chiefly the responsibility of the different states.

Committee Members Differ in Conclusions

ed, he said.

The main report of the external affairs committee called on the Biafrans to intensify efforts "through the Commonwealth, the United Nations and the Organization for African Unity, and with interested governments" to persuade both the Nigerians and the Biafrans before to accept further mediation. But it stopped short of recommending any formal action in the UN or the Commonwealth. The NDP statement proposed that the Red Cross umbrella be extended to church-sponsored relief flights to the Portuguese island of Sao Tom, permitting Canada to contribute several more Hercules.

And it took a double-edged sword to the committee from reports of the international observer team in Nigeria.

While not questioning the honesty of the observations, it suggested that they had been severely limited and said their operators should be extended into Biafra.

Day Flight Permission Not Requested: Grant

TORONTO (CP) — Jack Grant, a founder of the African-Student Foundation of Canada, said Wednesday night he learned "that Biafra has not given Canada clearance for day-time relief flights because it has not received any request to begin such flights."

Mr. Grant, detained New

Democratic Party candidate for York North in his last federal election, said his information came in as interview with Ignatie Kogher, special representative to the Biafrans minister in London.

Mr. Grant said he was told Biafra's reply to be immediate and effective.

Negotiations Break Down

Quebec Teachers Refuse to End Their Work-to-rule Policy

MONTREAL (CP) — Talks broke down with an indication of resumption Wednesday when negotiators for Quebec's 70,000 teachers refused to accept terms of their employers that included a ban on work-to-rule tactics.

The talks lasted half an hour before Jean Cournoyer, chief negotiator for the school boards and the government, said a climate conducive to agreement could not be maintained if the teachers' ban on work-to-rule tactics.

The bargaining broke off immediately. Joseph Leblanc, chief negotiator for the three teachers' unions, said the teachers are planning to intensify their local pressure tactics.

The teachers, represented by the French-language Quebec Teachers' Corporation and by the English-language Provincial Association of Protestant Teachers and Provincial Association of Catholic Teachers, have been boycotting extracurricular activities, supervisory jobs, supply teaching and meetings after school hours.

Talks began 15 months ago and teachers have been entitled to strike since Oct. 31, when a 60-day contractual period expired.

Still a issue in the talks, the union is affiliated, said the union had agreed in principle with a new government offer on job security, but had not yet accepted the proposal.

First ever held between teachers and school boards on a province-wide basis, are salaries, working conditions and teachers' consultation in the curriculum and selection of textbooks.

An act of the Quebec legislature instituted the province-wide bargaining after a 34-day teachers' strike in 1956. Under the act the teachers were forced to return to work and accept a freeze on salary levels until the end of the 1957-58 school year.

Kickback Justified Produce Seller Says

TORONTO (CP) — A produce company executive told a public inquiry Wednesday he paid Max Gifford, an assistant buyer of Steinberg's Ltd., about $500 in 1956 but felt that Mr. Gifford had earned the money.

Mr. Gifford was dismissed by the Montreal-based food store chain earlier this year after an investigation into suspected kickbacks and under-the-table payments from produce suppliers.

Anthony Arrien, vice-president of F. G. Limer and Co. Ltd. of Toronto told the inquiry into sales and distribution practices in the fruit and vegetable industry that he had entered into an arrangement with Mr. Gifford for buying produce. Mr. Arrien said the market price for the produce was $1.50 per bushel, and in the instance when he had paid the assistant buyer $500, Mr. Gifford had come to the farmers' market at five or six in the morning to make certain the produce was up to Steinberg's standards.

After questioning from Mr. Arrien, counsel for the inquiry, Mr. Arrien said because Mr. Gifford had got up early he was justified in accepting the $500. The inquiry continues.

ETHRILING — Several friends and relatives attended an "alumni" Sunday at the home of Arthur Keegan on Mill Street to celebrate his 73rd birthday.

Miss Marion Camm, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Camm, is taking a third year French language course at the University of Montreal, France.

The neighbors toasted Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Lewis a surprise party on the occasion of their 40th wedding anniversary.

Mr. Keegan's daughter, Mrs. Stanley Lewis, a nurse, part on the occasion of their 40th wedding anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Thompson and family of Frodo were weekend visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Walker.

Mr. K. C. Gilling of Marmon was guest speaker at the United Church here on Sunday, while Rev. Sedgewick preached anniversary services in Marmon.

Mr. Frank Barry, Mr. Fredrick Ferry and Miss Rita Perry attended the Duke Pien wedding on Saturday.

End Likely in Quebec Liquor Board Strike

QUEBEC (CP) — Negotiations between the Quebec Liquor Board and the liquor board workers' union are continuing today after coming to a major issue Wednesday night.

Raymond Ranc, secretary-general of the Confederation of National Trade Unions with which the liquor board workers' union is affiliated, said the union had agreed in principle with a new government offer on job security, but had not yet accepted the proposal.

negotiations were to resume today. The strike is involving about 5,000 workers has been in progress since June 26.

Claude Wagner, justice minister in a former Liberal government, said Wednesday in an interview that reliable police sources have informed him that " illicit trucking" between Ontario, Quebec and New Brunswick and "from liquor board warehouses themselves" has maintained a steady supply of liquor for bars in Quebec.

Arterial Grafts Still Rank As Best Bet in Heart Surgery

VANCOUVER (CP) — Arterial grafts continue to be the most successful and greatest life saver in Canadian heart surgery, a leading surgeon said Wednesday.

W. G. Bigelow of Toronto was interviewed at the Canadian cardiovascular annual meeting where he is to deliver a keynote address today in honor of Dr. John Keith of Toronto, another distinguished heart surgeon.

He said the mortality rate after heart surgery at Toronto General Hospital, where upwards of 100 internal artery operations were performed, was 2.1 per cent.

The operation is a procedure which involves moving a section of artery from the chest wall into the heart.

He referred to the first "live-beat" operation, patient who couldn't live on his own heart without suffering heart pains. He lived 14 years after the operation and died at age 72.

While heart transplants have provided new hope, Bigelow said there are many limitations to the field.

The number of acceptable donors is restricted; mechanical hearts that would have to pump five quarts of blood a minute would require a motor which would create noise; use of animal organs is only a possibility; and long-term heart failure, though a probability, is a long way off.

He said the artery operation, called Wedensky's, is the most promising, but he gave no indication as to whether other transplants were planned.

Swedes Win 2-1

Nats Outclassed in Stockholm

STOCKHOLM (CP) — Sweden skated faster and passed more accurately Wednesday night to defeat the Canadian national team 2-1 in an exhibition hockey game before a crowd of 9,000.

The loss gave Canada three wins and three losses in its European tour which continues Friday in Norway.

Canada's only goal came in the second period when Fran Bled of Regina took advantage of a Swedish defensive mistake and tied the score 1-1.

But midway through the period Haslan Nygren scored the winner on a hard shot that goalie Wayne Stephenson of Montreal had little chance to stop. V. Lohngren scored at 7:25 of the first.

The Canadians lifted Stephenson in the final 10 seconds of the game in favor of an extra forward but could not reduce the Swedish lead.

Sweden outshot Canada 25-18 and the Canadians were assessed four penalties in the game. Sweden had one in the game.

Both sides were without two of their star players. Morris Mott of Creighton, Sask., and Ted Hargreaves of Penticton, B.C., were suspended for fighting last Sunday along with U.S. players and Lars-Göran Nilsson of Sweden. Both Canadian players are to return Friday.

Police were still investigating the outbreak of violence that caused the suspensions in Sunday's game. The force for all was described by Swedish hockey experts as the worst ever seen on a Stockholm rink.

Canadian Equestrians Lack Olympic Incentive

NEW YORK (CP) — The Canadian equestrian team including Olympic gold medalist Jim Day of King City, Ont., is still working to get its first point at the National Horse Show where the event has moved in front of the international jumping. The U.S. has won the team championship at the show the last four years.

With the show in Madison Square Garden in the third session of its eight-day stand today, the U.S. has piled up 22 points and holds a six-point margin over Australia and Brazil, which are tied for second. The U.S. won its first international jumping event, Welles day night when Kathy Komer rode to victory. Miss Komer and Pru, who is owned by Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Butler of St. Paul, Minn., piled up 70 points. Alwyn Westwood of Britain was second with 69 points, followed by Brazil, up on Central, finished third with 60 points.

Typist Swims to Gold Medal

TEL AVIV (CP) — Hilda Rinn, a 22-year-old typist from Hamilton, Ont., Wednesday captured Canada's first gold medal of the international paralympic games by winning the 25-meter freestyle swimming event in 27.8 seconds.

Miss Rinn, who has been in a wheelchair since 1955 when she had polio, also will compete in the 50-meter wheelchair race and is a member of the Canadian basketball team.

The versatile athlete, who is wheelchair to a paralympic, says wheelchair sports are "fabulous."

"I feel so much better, but I'm more tired. It keeps you in such good shape and your joints are so good. It's amazing what you can do."

About 200 wheelchair athletes from 23 countries, including 21 from Canada, are competing in the two weekend games which opened Sunday.

British swimmers gave their country the gold Wednesday with six gold medals. France and Germany were close behind with four medals each and Australia and the United States had three each. Lorraine Dodd, a 24-year-old civil servant, was responsible for all three of Australia's gold medals Wednesday.

Miss Dodd who lost the use of her legs in a spinal disorder, won the 25-meter crawl in 29.5, the backstroke in 32.8, and the breaststroke in 32.8.

Britain's Dave Ellis, 24, a computer design engineer, won three gold medals in basketball 25.0 basketball 24.4 and freestyle 26.0.

The schedule of Solmar periods, as printed below, is based on that of Mrs. Richard Alden Knight's Solmar Tables. Plan your days so that you will be fishing in good territory or hunting in good cover during these times. If you wish to find the best sport that each day has to offer.

The Major Periods are shown in boldface type. These begin at the times shown and last for an hour and a half or two hours thereafter. The Minor Periods, shown in regular type, are of somewhat shorter duration. Use Eastern Standard Time.

Sooners' Hopes for Junior Title Ride on French Teacher's Passing Arm

OTTAWA (CP) — The captain's hopes of winning his first Canadian junior football championship ride on the Ottawa Sooners' field offensive backfield and the accuracy of a 21-year-old passing veteran.

That combination has already carried the team to 12 straight victories by an average margin of 40 points a game and the Eastern Canada Junior championship.

The Sooners now fly to Edmonton to meet the western champion Saskatchewan Hilltops in the national championship.

"But don't forget that while our offence has no flies on it, our defence allowed an average of less than one touchdown against us in each game," coach Don Holby said in an interview with the eastern championship Saturday by blanking Brentford Blues 33-0. The team's major scores in that game came off a balanced combination of counter plays and backfield reverses coupled with passing of quarterback Ed Morrisette, a French teacher at St. Patrick's high school here.

Holby said there'll be few, if any, "added fills" in the team's regular offensive and defensive patterns for Monday's game to be nationally televised on the CBC.

The counter has worked fairly well for us all year and it will certainly be a feature of our game Monday," he said.

The counter sends the backfield in motion in one direction then shifts the ball carrier the other way, to unbalance the defence.

But a good defence will often adopt a zone pattern with defenders covering a specific area rather than a particular player to avoid being drawn out of position on a counter, Holby said.

"So we've got a few new wrinkles I don't think they'll be expecting but I'm not talking about those. We're really not depending heavily on anything we haven't used before."

"Sooners' offensive backfield strength shows around half-backs John Kroll and Terry Black, brother of former Ottawa Rough Rider fullback Rick Black."

"Our main offensive strength is the fact that there's no single player that the other team can concentrate on to stop it," Holby said.

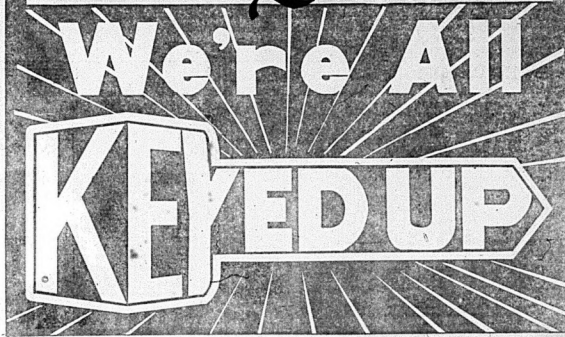

offensive manoeuvres to avoid too much dependence on specific players or plays. Definitely, the team will likely start the game in a zone pattern allowing to a man-to-man formation. If the Saskatchewan offence follows a fairly regular system of plays.

Ottawa used a four-man line frequently Saturday to put massive pressure on the Brentford passers. The front four formed a wedge to drive through the offensive line allowing the line-backers to shoot into the backfield while the line-men ruled the quarterback.

PM Congratulates Nixon

Canadians React to Election

OTTAWA (CP) — Opinion on Parliament Hill about the election of Richard Nixon as United States president varies from apprehension to a feeling that it could be good for peace in Vietnam.

New Democrat David Lewis, his party's parliamentary leader, said he was disturbed by the election result because "Mr. Nixon has shown himself to be at least a hawkish—if not a full-grown hawk-on Vietnam."

Liberal David Anderson, freshman MP for Esquimaux,

Sanath and former officer in the external affairs department, took a contrary view. "Candidly, I think Mr. Nixon's election could improve the chances of success in Paris," he said.

U.S. and North Vietnam representatives have been negotiating peace talks in Paris. "Mr. Anderson, who has travelled in the Far East and speaks Chinese, reasoned that the North Vietnamese regarded Robert Humphrey as a somewhat weak leader, his election might have led them to stall and keep up the pressure in the hope of total victory. Reaction in a more formal way was forthcoming from the leaders of Canada's two largest parties.

Prime Minister Trudeau sent a message to the president-elect offering "warmest congratulations."

He expressed the hope that the traditional close co-operation between the two countries "will flourish and be strengthened."

Canada's Liberal government looked forward to working with the new U.S. administration. Conservative Leader Stasfeld, in a news statement, noted Mr. Nixon's extensive congressional and government experience.

He added all friends of the U.S. would be happy the close presidential race was "resolved by the election and that there will not be a period of doubt and uncertainty as to the outcome."

Paris Talks

Saigon May Listen to Nixon

WASHINGTON (AP) — Richard Nixon's first priority in the days until Jan. 20 inauguration likely will be to work out an agreement with President Johnson on his role in the current Vietnam peace drive.

There are no immediate signs that Nixon wants to make a personal visit to either Saigon or Paris to get the stalled peace talks back on track.

The possibility a president-elect would decide to visit the beleaguered South Vietnamese President Nixon's first priority in the days until Jan. 20 inauguration likely will be to work out an agreement with President Johnson on his role in the current Vietnam peace drive.

There are no immediate signs that Nixon wants to make a personal visit to either Saigon or Paris to get the stalled peace talks back on track.

There has been speculation that Saigon may be more willing to listen to Nixon or his representatives at this point than to President Johnson.

Beefed with a Democratic Congress there is some doubt about how any "new ideas" will get.

Nixon has promised to maintain close relations with Johnson, who has pledged full cooperation. But it remained to be seen how cordial these would be.

Considering that only 41 per cent of the Americans who voted in Tuesday's recent turn-out picked him for president,

Moscow Has Comment

Paris Enthusiastic About Nixon

LONDON (Reuters) — Reaction to the election of Richard Nixon flared in from around the world today and ranged from enthusiasm in Paris to French comments in Moscow that U.S. voters cast ballots against the Democrats rather than for the Republicans.

In Saigon, cautious optimism was apparent among government officials who believed the new United States president will take a tougher line on the war.

The Russian government newspaper Izvestia said American voters were "aware of the blood-alley that has engulfed us and were aware that the culprit is the Democrats."

Pravda, the official communist party organ, said the chief reason for the defeat of Hubert H. Humphrey was "public disaffection with the prolonged war in Vietnam" and "negative U.S. domestic policies."

Gallup Closest To Picking Winner

NEW YORK (AP) — The Gallup poll of the two most widely published national opinion polls came closest to calling the 1968 presidential election on the basis of Wednesday's unofficial returns.

Both Gallup and Harris poll correctly forecast that the outcome would be close.

In their final pre-election figures were clouded by the three- to four-per-cent built in statistical margin of error they cite. The final figures from Gallup and Harris were within this spread.

Gallup, after allocating undecided votes, gave Richard M. Nixon 49 per cent of the vote. Harris, U.S. Humphrey 47 and George C. Wallace 12.

Harris gave Humphrey 43 per cent, Nixon 46, Wallace 12 and left four per cent undecided. With 10 per cent of the vote heaped, both Nixon and Humphrey were close to 50 per cent. Wallace had 14 per cent.

In a message to Nixon, Prime Minister Trudeau congratulated him on his victory and said the Canadian government is looking forward to continued close cooperation with the United States, and that relations between the two countries "should flourish and be strengthened."

Argentine Foreign Minister Nicolas Costa Mendez invited Nixon to visit Argentina and said he hopes Nixon will try to understand Latin America.

In Paris, sources close to the French government hailed the election as a good omen for a continued improvement in Franco-American relations.

The sources pointed out that Nixon in recent interviews expressed friendly views toward France and showed understanding of President de Gaulle's foreign policy.

British officials as usual with held comment on an American domestic matter, but privately some noted that Nixon, like Britain, supports NATO, West European integration and stability in the international monetary system.

Swedish Prime Minister Tage Erlander declined comment on Nixon's election but said it was fortunate for the U.S. that the Swedish press was generally hostile to Nixon.

An Egyptian government spokesman in Cairo attacked all new presidential candidates as supporters of the Israeli "aggression" against the Arab.

Chinese Communist newspapers in Hong Kong called Nixon a hawk who has not met up with the threat of new weapons and new military action in Vietnam.

Soldiers peace Nixon sentiment was evident on Formosa, Nationalist China's island.

Australian Prime Minister John Gorton congratulated Nixon. Authorities in Canberra said they did not expect any great adjustments on Vietnam policy as a result of Nixon's election.

The South African government had no official reaction but was believed to privately welcome Nixon's election as a shift in America toward conservatism.

New German Chancellor Kurt Gero Koenig said he was convinced that under a Nixon administration the United States would continue to use all its strength for the maintenance of freedom and peace.

In Venezuela, where Nixon was treated roughly on a visit as vice-president 13 years ago, his election aroused some disappointment. Orinda in Caracas on election night cheered returns which Vice President Hubert Humphrey led.

BC Is Probing Investment Firms

VANCOUVER (CP) — Assets of four financial companies were frozen by securities commission order Wednesday and police seized truckloads of documents in an investigation started by the British Columbia government.

Firms involved were identified by a lawyer as Commonwealth Acceptance Corp. Ltd., Commonwealth Investors Syndicate Ltd., Commonwealth Savings Plan Ltd. and Diversified Income Fund Share A and B. Attorney-General Leslie Peterson, head of the government department to which reports were referred, said from Regina he would make a statement on his expected return to the province today.

Mr. Justice J. G. Rutan of British Columbia Supreme Court appointed a chartered accountant, as receiver-manager to administer the affairs of Commonwealth Acceptance and the three other firms.

Lawyer G. Sidney Cross, acting for the provincial government, identified the firms and said he had been advised Mr. Peterson's department had begun an investigation into the firms' affairs.

There was no immediate indication of what the investigation involved. William Irvine, B.C. superintendent of brokers, referred reporters to the attorney-general's department.

Domtar Workers Threaten To Occupy Mill Once Again

WINOSOR, Que. (CP) — A staged march on the Quebec union leader representing about 1,200 Domtar Pulp and Paper Ltd. striking workers said Wednesday the company's mill here could again be occupied unless the Quebec government gives the strikers a hearing.

The Windsor mill was damaged during a 24-hour armed takeover by strikers last Sunday and Monday. A company official said damages amounted to about $100,000.

The workers, affiliated with the 23,000-member Confederation of National Trade Unions, walked out from two Domtar mills—one in Windsor and the other in nearby East Angus—back over their demands for higher pay.

The occupation of the Windsor mill ended when workers at the East Angus mill voted not to occupy their mill and proposed instead a march on the Quebec legislature.

Union leaders seeking a meeting with Premier Jean-Jacques Bertrand said Wednesday they were told they could make an appointment for January.

Two Held in Navarro's Death

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Two young brothers, described by police as transients from the Chicago area, were booked on suspicion of murder Wednesday night in the Hudson death of silent screen figure, Ramon Navarro. Paul Ferguson, 22, and his W. Laurence said.

17-year-old brother, Thomas, was arrested in Bell Gardens, just southeast of downtown Los Angeles.

"After checking out the physical evidence, we decided we had enough of a case to ask for indictments," police Lieut. G. North Hollywood.

No further hint of "the physical evidence" or what led officers to the brothers was disclosed.

The 31-year-old Navarro died in a fierce, blood-spattered brawl that raged through four rooms of his luxurious home in North Hollywood.

Bertrand Appeals For Vote

MONTREAL (CP) — Premier Jean-Jacques Bertrand Wednesday night personally ended the governing Union Nationale party's crucial campaign to win political support of English-speaking Montrealers.

Mr. Bertrand appealed for support at the Union Nationale candidate in the Dec. 4 by-election in Notre-Dame-de-Grâce riding by telling about 100 enthusiastic supporters that he considers the by-election "my election."

He urged the predominantly English-speaking electorate "to answer my humble call" by electing John Lynch-Staunton, a 39-year-old city councillor and member of Mayor Jean Drapeau's Civic party.

Mr. Bertrand, who personally picked Mr. Lynch-Staunton as Union Nationale candidate in the Liberal fortress vacated by Eric Kierans, said a standing-room audience in a meeting hall:

"I have come here to ask you to give your support to help him win his election and I would also say my election."

He is described as anxious to correct what one speaker Wednesday night described as the "abnormal" situation of the Union Nationale whose political support is based almost exclusively among French-speaking Quebecers.

ABOUT REAL ESTATE

"What's Your Problem?" by Don G. Campbell

Dear Mr. Campbell: We're new in town and have just become interested in a very nice house close to my husband's plant. An acquaintance who has lived here for some time, though, tells us many of the houses in the area we like have had serious drainage problems in the past. Is there any way we can make sure our house doesn't have this kind of trouble? — Mrs. T. H. Answer: The soil — road way, of course, is to wait for the next free-ranging rain and then pay a surprise visit to the property. The owner can always stick a petted rubber plant in front of a crack in the plaster, but in the middle of a heavy rain, he'll have a lot of trouble troubleshooting a drainage problem under the rug — figuratively.

If you can't wait for nature's co-operation, though, take a long, cold look at the property. Is the house, proper, actually higher than the extremities of the lot? Are there evidences of moldiness in the ground around the foundation even though it hasn't rained recently? Do depressions in the ground around the house indicate puddling? Does the surrounding concrete foundation show water discoloration? It pays to be cynical at times.

Mr. Campbell welcomes your letters and comments. Unfortunately, he is unable to enter into personal correspondence with readers, but will attempt to answer as many letters as possible through his column.

Employee in Hospital

Mail Train Robbery Loot $300,000

MONTREAL (CP) — A railway mail car employee was being treated for shock Wednesday night, more than 24 hours after three armed and masked bandits snatched two mailbags containing about $300,000 in cash and bonds from a CN train in downtown Central Station.

A post office spokesman said investigators were working on the possibility that the robbery involved about $100,000 in cash and $100,000 in negotiable bonds and $100,000 in "inside job."

The robbers, dressed as railway firemen, armed, and wearing flesh-colored masks, seized the two mailbags only one minute after Brian Dupres, CN guards had delivered them to the train, and one minute before the train was scheduled to depart.

They approached six postal employees inside a mail car and forced them to lie on the floor.

After scooping up the bags, the bandits ran across the tracks to a waiting railway car.

One of them came into the busier and sent one employee. "He had a railway lantern and was masked and stuck a gun into my stomach."

"He asked me where the money was and boy, I sure told him."

The mail car employee in hospital "badly needed a rest after the robbery."

"He has been involved in four holdups during his career, and having a revolver pressed in your stomach four times is enough to make you jittery."

Inquiry Doubts Contention Best Building Material Is Dollar

VICTORIA (CP) The federal government's touring task on housing was told recently Wednesday that the best building material to meet Canada's housing crisis is the dollar.

But the commission, under Transport Minister Paul Hellyer, indicated last to stress its sincerely wished the problem were that simple.

Mr. Hellyer said the answer lay not in increased taxes, but in increased productivity, lower construction and land costs, and better utilization of the available capital.

A mission member W. Peter Carter of Montreal, mortgage controller of the Royal Bank of Canada, suggested that providently-administered pension funds could be used as mortgage money.

He said pension funds invested across Canada will amount to $140,000,000 during the next five years.

Mr. Carter made the comment after Dan Campbell, British Columbia's minister of municipal affairs and social welfare, said the provincial government felt "the federal role should be to continue to be primarily related to financial support."

In the provincial government brief, Mr. Campbell repeatedly called for a reduction in "red tape" in dealings with the federal Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation.

Unnecessary delays were also criticized in a submission made by the city of Victoria, which claimed it will remain difficult to interest private capital investment in public housing projects "unless an effective decision-making process is evolved by government."

F. W. Nicholls, a consulting architect who between 1935 and 1940 served as director of housing for the federal department of finance in Ottawa, said public investment in housing is restricted by governments has not been a success anywhere in North America.

Several times during the hearing any formality gave way to frankness.

At one point commissioner Dr. Doris Boyle, of Sydney, N.S., asked J. A. Webb, director of campus planning for the University of Victoria, "if we are making life a little too easy for students today."

Ray Clarkson, a Victoria's social worker, told the commission: "After listening to you I'm afraid the poor are not going to get much help."

Dr. Boyle retorted that his comments were "unjust and based on very limited observation."

Outside the hearing, Mr. Hellyer denied any suggestions the hearings were merely formality.

Asked about comments that the commission knew 100 per cent of the problems and 90 per cent of the answers prior to starting the four-day work that he said, "I don't think that's fair."

During the travels, he said, "every member of the task force's views have changed."

He said any reports written after the trip "will be a different kind of flash" than any that might have been written before leaving Ottawa.

Trainmen's Demands Carry $37,000,000 Price Tag

MONTREAL (CP) — Canadian's two major railways, the CNR and CP Rail, estimate that it would cost them more than $37,000,000 for one year alone to meet the demands of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen for higher wages and reduced working hours.

A spokesman for both railways said Wednesday the cost of the complete package sought by the trainmen "will be much higher when the cost of all the other demands are calculated."

The Brotherhood's largest of the running trains union, which represents 20,000 conductors, brakemen, yardmasters and yardmen—presented contract demands Monday calling for a 20-per-cent pay increase for real service employees and a $1-an-hour increase for yard service employees.

Jeanne Dixon's Horoscope

For November 8

Your birthday today. The coming year is good for projects in privacy but not for steady cooperation with partners. Extra time slow for meditation is essential. Today's natives use toward physical extremes, tall or short, somewhat more other factors in the individual horoscope.

ARIES (Mar. 21 — Apr. 19): Without listening to others, you go blindly ahead as if all were certain. The more you know about others' views, the less likely you are to come to a mistaken decision. Listen.

Taurus (Apr. 20 — May 21): Shopping, purchases in general, are not fortunate. Leave in details of the working hand against the impatient weekend. Listen to music today.

GEMINI (May 22 — June 21): Everything has its own history about what ought to be done next. Ignore the emotional discussions. Review your situation tonight, in long range terms. Select the most practical course, follow it.

CANCER (June 22 — July 21): Correspondence is many-sided and of critical importance. Large organizations now seem difficult to deal with. Focus your attention on details and basic purposes.

LEO (July 22 — Aug. 22): You must be sure you stay with in the bounds of acceptable demands, as friends are concerned today. Carping comments can only backbite (all day).

Young Canadians Get Costly Advice

OTTAWA (CP) — The Company of Young Canadians paid $78 persons as consultants, including Americans and Britons, in the year ended March 31, 1968. The Company was informed Thursday.

In Toronto, the Globe and Mail identified some of the persons mentioned in the Company's report.

It said Gerald Hunslett of London, Ont., was hired as a consultant for the company's international program which never materialized.

Hunslett was paid $11,000 as a consultant plus $1,000 in expenses.

No Intervention Nixon Leaves Role to LBJ

KEY BISCAYNE, Fla. (CP) — Richard M. Nixon has given himself at least a month to choose his top administration officials and has ruled out any personal intervention in the shaky Vietnam peace negotiations unless President Johnson expressly wishes it.

The Republican president-elect has deferred to Johnson a decision on visits by him (Nixon) to Saigon and other foreign capitals before the inauguration Jan. 20.

The Vietnam trip proposed Thursday by South Vietnam President Nguyen Van Thieu, likely will come up in an early meeting between Nixon and Johnson.

Nixon, who came to this small luxury island off the Florida coast for a few days rest immediately after his election to the White House, has returned to his "vacation White House."

He and his wife, Pat, are staying at the home of Florida Democratic Sen. George Smathers, who is retiring at the end of the year. Their daughter, Tricia, Friday, July 8, has taken rooms at a nearby hotel.

Nixon sources said the president-elect enjoys visiting in the relaxed holiday atmosphere of Key Biscayne and probably will make it his "vacation White House."

Nixon's first stand against early involvement in the Vietnam negotiations was limited as a consultant, was paid $120,000 as a consultant, plus $20,000 in expenses.

Two Toronto persons were also identified by the newspaper: Marjolein Rep-Davis, a social worker, and Arthur Papp, former member of the CVC advisory council, who resigned to become what the company described as a research and program consultant.

Papp received $11,000 as a consultant, plus $1,000 in expenses and Rep-Davis was paid $12,000 as a consultant.

The White House declined comment on Nixon's reply to the South Vietnamese cable but diplomats and government officials in Washington found the idea of a Saigon trip by the president-elect intriguing.

U.S. in Back Seat?

Thieu Is Ready to Talk If He Gets Top Billing

SAIGON (AP) — President Nguyen Van Thieu proposed today that his South Vietnamese government replace the United States as the leader of the anti-Communist negotiating team at the Paris peace talks.

Thieu proposed a new formula for organization of the Paris conference under which the Communist side would be led by the North Vietnamese. He said it would also include the National Liberation Front, the political arm of the Viet Cong.

Even if the United States agrees to take a back seat at the Paris talks, Nixon sources said, the United States would not be the only authentic representative of the South Vietnamese.

Thieu's proposal was made in an attempt to counter the adverse reaction in the United States and elsewhere to his refusal to join the Paris peace talks.

President Johnson, in talking the bombing of North Vietnam, proposed that the Saigon regime and the NLF send representatives to the talks with-

Many Are Injured In Six-hour Riot

PRAGUE (AP) — Thousands of anti-Soviet demonstrators marched through Prague Thursday night, shouting "Russians go home!" and burning Soviet flags in the biggest demonstrations since the Russian invasion in August.

Large numbers of Czechoslovak troops and police, under orders to crack down hard on the demonstrators, used tear gas, live ammunition, and batons to break up the rioting.

Many persons were wounded down by police clubs, and many appeared to have been arrested. Ambulances carried away unknown numbers of wounded.

The six hours of rioting cleared a street, leaving otherwise clear of the 31st anniversary of the Bolshevik Revolution, normally a day dedicated to Czechoslovak-Soviet friendship.

The tough police reaction contrasted sharply with the lenient manner in which anti-Soviet demonstrations were handled on Oct. 28, the 30th birthday of the Czechoslovak republic. Local leaders appearing were afraid that uncontrolled demonstrations would bring Soviet tanks rolling back into Prague.

The first signs of anti-Soviet trouble in Prague occurred before dawn Thursday when Soviet flags raised on public buildings during the night, were torn down.

Police moved in during the morning to disperse several hundred persons who massed in front of the foreign trade administration building and chanted, "Tear it down! Tear it down!" until riotous removing two large hammer and sickle flags hung from the building.

After one Soviet flag was burned on the end of a stick, police swinging clubs cleared the Viol Cong Massed For 'Total Attack'?

SAIGON (AP) — Waves of B-52 bombers raided Viet Cong base camps along the Cambodian border today, hitting an area northwest of Saigon where the South Vietnamese commander said the insurgents have massed some 50,000 troops for a "total attack."

Fifty of the eight-hundred bombers paid 1,200 tons of explosives on troop concentrations, camps, infiltration corridors and supply deposits in the U.S. command area.

LT-Gen. Do Cao Tri, commander of the 3rd Corps area that stretches from Saigon to the Cambodian border, said the Communist command was preparing to launch an all-out attack in his area.

News Briefs

HALIFAX (CP) — Aircraft and shipboarders threatened the ocean off Cape Wray, Greenland, but failed to find any trace of 21 seamen missing from the disabled Newfoundland bulk carrier Edna.

HAMILTON (CP) — The possibility of the first nurses strike in Ontario increased Thursday when negotiations failed between 14 teachers and the Hamilton and district school boards broke down.

OTTAWA (CP) — The RCMP feels that marijuana is a dangerous drug and that it would be a waste of time to try to control its possession, Deputy Commissioner W. H. Kelly said Thursday.

NASSAU, Bahamas (CP) — The attorney-general of Jamaica, Victor Bragan, Thursday disavowed Canada's immigration policy, as "a wicked and disgraceful thing."

QUEBEC (CP) — Premier Jean-Jacques Bertrand said Thursday he has asked the Quebec justice department for reports on the detention of 13 executive members of a teachers union.

Naked Truth

PARIS (Reuters) — The Paris press magazine today reported the story of an alleged affair between a French politician and a woman.

Police were called to arrest a man wandering naked down a Paris street, the magazine said. When he was picked up the "suspect" told police he understood his doctor's surgery — and was naked.

The doctor feared he was there — and went home.

Three Ottawa Hunters Drown at Summit Lake

By HARRY MULLALL, Staff Reporter

A triple drowning tragedy has pulled the opening of deer-hunting season in the Quinte district. The drowning of three Ottawa men on a small lake 40 miles north of Sharbot Lake darkens an already grim start to the quinte night.

Earlier, some marksmen were killed and another wounded in separate shooting incidents as they stalked big game in the bush.

Drowned when their 14-foot aluminum boat swamped were Homer, Bartlett, 72, Alfred

Ontario Won't Alter Constitution Until It Gets Better Tax Deal

TORONTO (CP) — Provincial Treasurer Charles MacNaughton said Ontario will not negotiate constitutional changes at next month's conference in Ottawa until the province gets a better tax deal from the federal government.

Mr. MacNaughton said in an interview Thursday, Canada now can't treat the federal-provincial shared-cost programs because of constitutional problems can be solved.

Mr. MacNaughton added that Ontario is more interested in fundamental questions of taxation than in constitutional changes. The constitutional conference is scheduled for Dec. 17-18, following a conference Dec. 10 in federal-provincial relations.

Queen's Park officials, who returned this week from session in Ottawa said it would be impossible for the province to agree to the federal system of federal and provincial taxes to get the full constitutional power.

He gave Ontario's taxation priority over any federal proposals as putting the Bill of Rights in the constitution — something the federal government cannot do without provincial agreement.

Mr. MacNaughton said both the Premier John Robarts are determined not to leave the taxation question in its present state.

He added that Ontario wants a full constitutional power to set the system of federal and provincial taxes to get the full constitutional power.

He said that Ontario wants a full constitutional power to set the system of federal and provincial taxes to get the full constitutional power.

Mayor's Secret Weapon!

Mayor Russell Scott takes lessons in how to manipulate a magic wand at city hall today. However, the mayor isn't resorting to extreme tactics. The city prince was there in the flesh, although that allegation is a recalcitrant-councillor who has roused the mayoral ire. It's all part of a Christmas promotion. Ameliaburg Poet Al Purdy Edits Controversial Book 'The New Romans'

A. W. (Al) Purdy's new book is something to "rag" about.

"The New Romans," published in Edmonton by McHarg, has been the stimulant for a large amount of controversy, both in the United States and in Canada.

This book is something of a change to Mr. Purdy, a native of Trenton, who is known as one of Canada's top modern poets. He is editor of the book and contributes two of his own poems to the collection of articles that form "The New Romans."

Contributors include several well-known personalities as Marcelle Richler, Peter Morav and Irving Layton.

The controversy is a result of the very nature of the book — a collection of opinions on the United States.

Both sides of the story are taken. Both pro and anti-American writers have all contributed.

According to Mr. Purdy the book began in the office of Mr. Hurlig as he and Mr. Purdy discussed the Vietnam situation and American involvement in Canada.

Mr. Hurlig suggested that he write a book about his feelings and "half of it was worth of it in 30 seconds."

It was decided that about 100 Canadian writers be invited to write articles and literature of the nature of opinions about the United States.

"It took a year and a half and I wrote hundreds of letters," says Mr. Purdy.

The title, "The New Romans," comes from Mr. Purdy. "The title popped out of my head and that was it."

By coincidence a number of authors who contributed to the book referred to Americans in the light of Romans.

Of the 106 or so articles submitted only eight or 10 were rejected for being badly written. "It's embarrassing to ask for an article and then reject it."

Many other writers were too occupied to contribute, but some replied to complete the book.

Although the Trenton poet's opinion for the book seems to be anti-American, both sides of the story are within the book's covers.

"I could not dictate my thoughts to the writer," says Mr. Purdy. "The principle of the book is to formulate a collection of opinions on all sides of the United States."

"The New Romans" is different from the general run of book about Canadian-American relations in that it is far from dull economics.

"There's never been a book like this."

But why the strength of Mr. Purdy's feelings and hence the book? It only takes a short chat with him to realize how strongly he feels about the United States at present and some of its effects on Canada.

"Americans in Vietnam is important to the world. American investments in Canada is important to Canada."

Mr. Purdy feels that the United States is a violent country and that the violence could possibly blot over Canada. "We're all North American."

"Vietnam is just the culmination," he refers to such countries as Cuba and the Dominican Republic where American military influence has been strong.

"President John Kennedy backed an expedition to take Cuba against Castro."

"I think we've always got of our own revolution but as you look at them, their murders — their manifestations went (against) Canada you think again."

Counselling Program Helps Adopting Parents in City

By HARRY MUMFALL
(Staff Reporter)

For Family and Children's Service counsellors in Belleville, problems don't exist. At least, not as a word.

It's no cliché attitude. Life is a series of situations that, if handled as problems, could bring the end of the nearest contract.

But there are situations — even the most benign — that may justify added attention.

That's where the presence of the PCS is at its most critically beneficial.

Like its newest venture, its PCS official terms the project is identified as post-adoption counselling for adoptive parents.

For official language does not permeate the program, and, in fact, is at a minimum. The venture for helping adults with adopted children assigns a major role to the parent's perspective.

The reason? This is the age when children begin knowing to expand beyond the family environment to the surrounding community.

The community is not the city at large but a much more vital universal one in the child's eyes — the neighborhood surrounding his home.

"This is probably the most important community in which we all live," believes Bruce Kerr, PCS director.

For the child, the neighborhood is where he draws his playmates and associates.

The environment also involves his school. A core problem at this new program is projected in group sessions with the parents exchanging views and clues to child behavior.

PCS workers act in on the sessions and share the experience gained.

Participation is voluntary, but the parents are not to be charged with any fee. They are assisted by the process of law. After that, the fee is covered.

But no universal parts that easily a fact is apparently applicable to an organization as it is to an individual.

Issues the current program. "We feel there's a need for it," explains Janette Thompson, who supervises the agency's adoption services.

"Beyond the normal situations that crop up with natural parents there is an added dimension with adoption."

The service involves parents of children in the first year age group.

When this is the age when children begin knowing to expand beyond the family environment to the surrounding community.

The community is not the city at large but a much more vital universal one in the child's eyes — the neighborhood surrounding his home.

"This is probably the most important community in which we all live," believes Bruce Kerr, PCS director.

For the child, the neighborhood is where he draws his playmates and associates.

The environment also involves his school. A core problem at this new ages of awareness is the adoption of child's background.

Now the questions begin to take shape and adoptive parents must make a decision on how they will reply.

Professionals are agreed that the truth must be told. The child, says Mrs. Thompson, They must know their parents are adoptive.

Most people begin the process when their adopted offspring reach the age of about three years and slightly older.

"If the parents don't tell them, somebody else will sooner or later," says the social worker.

"Some adoptive parents are afraid that by telling the child too much about his natural parents they somehow may create a division between themselves and the child. By meeting him and his family, they feel they actually draw the child closer."

"I think the barrier is created when you don't help the child and you don't answer his questions."

"It's the ease with which adopting parents answer these questions that determines the strength and nature of their relationships with the children."

The current program is a breeding post for many queries and situations that fan out from that big central question mark.

The present phase has attracted about a half-dozen couples to share their experiences and suggestions.

"If necessary," says Mr. Kerr, the idea may be carried over to other adoptive groups in future.

Auto Dealers Endorse New Safety Check Law

TORONTO (CP) — A new provincial law requiring safety checks on all used cars before sale was endorsed on inspection of both private and dealer sales.

In a statement, R. T. Hime, general manager of the Ontario Association representing 172 new car franchise dealers in the Toronto area, said the association reaffirms its "wholehearted support" of the law which went into effect last Friday.

At a meeting in Toronto, Wednesday night of about 50 used car dealers, called by the department of highways to explain the new law, several dealers said the checks would be time-consuming and drive inland dealers out of business.

The law provides fines up to $200 for increased mechanics or dealers making false statements

Housing Inquiry Warned

Canada Can Expect City Riots If Poverty Is Not Eradicated

VANCOUVER (CP) — Canada can expect violence and burning cities if poverty is not eradicated, the federal inquiry on housing was told Thursday.

The British Columbia Federation of Labor said in a brief that it was only necessary to look to the situation in the United States where "the frustrations of the poor and disaffection have exploded in a tragic loss of human life."

If Canada did not act quickly, this country could look forward to a similar situation, the brief said.

It called for stringent control of interest rates, which a federation spokesman said, often amounted to 24 per cent in the second mortgage field.

"Nobody should be able to finance that much," he said. "It shouldn't be allowed."

The brief struck a series of key deductions on the interest portion of mortgage payments demanded to insure banks, encouragement of co-operatives, condominiums, row and town housing; elimination of the 11 per cent sales tax on building materials and costly affordable home improvement loans.

The brief, one of six presented during the four-day session, said the federal government must in value itself more directly in the housing field.

U.S. Denies Photograph Taken of Orbital Bomb

WASHINGTON (CP AP) — The United States defense department Thursday said it denied an Ottawa report that a Canadian air defence camera had photographed a new Soviet space bomb in orbit.

Information sources in Ottawa were quoted as saying that a Canadian camera had photographed the Soviet space bomb.

Ottawa officials are quoted as saying the Baker-Nunn camera operated by Air Defence Command at Cold Lake, Alta., can photograph an object the size of a basketball 30,000 miles from the earth.

But a Pentagon official said in a one-sentence statement Thursday night:

"The facility of the North American Air Defence Command has ever photographed a Soviet fractional orbital bomb."

"This would require stopping an orbital bomb, no doubt, and this might be another area of investigation for the northern hemisphere."

Formation of a federal department of urban affairs was proposed by the R.C. division of the Community Planning Association. In its brief, it was the department creating a program to assist urban development through some form of regional authority.

It urged "total comprehensive development" rather than a program of remedial action, and suggested formation of a urban research centre and a library of urban development data.

A highly personal brief was presented by a man who said that he and his wife and five small children had been "abused and on the street" for missing one payment on their house. They lost their equity and some of their belongings.

The man said he had lost his small business, now on welfare and had been able to get into a public housing project or get legal aid because of a past criminal conviction.

"That my children have done nothing wrong."

Toronto Minister Heller, who heads the inquiry, said he was shocked to hear that such things could happen.

"You have left an indelible impression on our minds," he said.

Kidnapped Girl Found At Home

LIMA, Ohio (AP) — A 15-year-old kidnapped the 11-year-old daughter of a bank president by locking her in her room Thursday and threatened her harm before he collected a $50,000 ransom, police said.

He was hunted today by police and the FBI. Police Chief William K. MacDonnell said Mrs. A. D. MacDonnell, 45, wife of the president of the Metropolitan Bank of Lima, told the ransom and found her daughter alive and unharmed at home, police said.

Mrs. MacDonnell told police the man told her he had locked her daughter in an upstairs bedroom and threatened to harm the child if Mrs. MacDonnell did not give him $50,000.

MPs Have Whole Host of Ideas About How to Raise Revenues

OTTAWA (CP) — Finance Minister J. E. Bennett's first budget took a step towards final approval in the Commons Thursday when the majority Liberal government debated a Conservative motion for a new income tax.

The Conservative motion, in the form of an amendment to the budget resolution, charged the government had misled the Commons and the Canadian people on the state of the nation's finances and estimated its own contribution by failing to begin its predicted spending limit.

The 28 Conservatives were joined by 11 New Democrats and 14 Liberals against the 129 Liberals.

On Tuesday the government had defeated 123 a New Democratic Party on confidence motion raising the two per cent social development tax on personal income.

Although the budget brought down Oct. 22 is said to have received a steady barrage of criticism from opposition members, it was not until the government's suggestions from both opposition and government members are laid out for review and voting.

Greenside Leader Basil Constantine read a letter from a young man in Dunsmuir, Ontario, suggesting that rather than increasing the tax on a 500 monthly pay cheque the government should take a 10 per cent tax on Imperial Oil's 100,000 profit.

Mr. Constantine said the writer is a young man who has been disillusioned by the Trudeau government.

Barnett Dunsmuir, 24, York North suggested a guaranteed annual income, reduced a welfare program would have $200 million.

Richard Durand (L-Conservative) said that the two per cent tax with a $75 limit, a smaller tax applicable on all personal income might have been better.

Frank Moore (PC-Bowdoin) to Trinity-Centennial criticized the government for raising taxes while "squandering money" on cabinet members' salaries, a cruise for Prime Minister Trudeau and an "expensive jaunt" to South Africa.

Pat Mahoney (L-California) said, noting his motion passed, praised the budget for changing its concentration to resource industries such as the oil industry.

J. Jack Chapman (L-London West) said the government could save $200,000 a year by dropping the allowance for the first child in a family. The money could be used to guarantee retired persons an income of $10 a month.

John Gillett (NDP-Toronto) said Canadians are demanding action on housing now, and there was plenty of money in the government's coffers to do so.

He called for a full report on the "real estate" industry under Transport Minister Paul Hollier was "a travelling circus" that should be "valued here at once."

He said Mr. Hollier "who became a millionaire" by dealing in real estate before entering politics, knew the government steps necessary to resolve the housing bid.

Mr. Gillett called for a capital gain tax on land speculation profits, a massive infusion of funds into low-rent units, interest rates at six per cent and remove the tax on building materials.

Husband Deplores Smoking Habit

34-48

By DORIS CLARK

Dear Doris: Please send me your article "Why Smoking?" I began this habit when I was 12 years old; an sorry I ever started it, have tried to stop but just cannot do so.

My husband stopped in minutes and deplores the habit. That is one point of contention, as he just cannot stand tobacco odor. We have two lovely children, but I find myself cross and short-tempered with them if I cannot have my smoke in peace.

I also find that I am short of breath, my throat is always sore and I have terrible headaches, also catch cold easily and cough a great deal. Now I am positive this is all caused by this obnoxious habit. How can I cure it? — M. Wink, Zed.

Dear Doris: It's easier for a smoker to quit than others, but believe me, it is worth the effort.

Some quit dead gradually; some must quit all at once. — Our young mother taught sight of herself in the mirror just as she was taking a puff, and that did it! Said she never realized how unattractive she looked with a cigarette in her mouth.

Actor William Garson does not act any more, since he had his lungs removed. He does campaign for the Canadian Cancer Society on TV. His harsh gagging — which has to do him for a voice — could convince any smoker that the smoke never's worth the price you may pay.

Once stopped food tastes better, smells and perfumes get better, too; senses sharpen. I'm sending the article. What it says is all your life depends on it, in which you may be.

Dear Doris: I never pick up paper without reading your columns. Yesterday I was reading "Devoted Mother." It struck me very hard because we have the very same case in our home. When our boy was 12 he asked me to let him go to the dance, and his father said he was too young and I agreed with his father.

But sometimes now when I am alone with him he comes out with funny ideas, like he told my neighbor that as soon as he reached 17 he is going to run away from home.

What do you say would be the best bedtime for a boy 15? Do you think he is too young to bring a young girl home to visit in records? I say he is not and his father says he is.

Tryng My Best.

Dear Tryng: Times have changed. In 1968 we have Canadian boys and girls have a right to enjoy one another's company while they are still boys and girls. Nothing could be more desirable than to have him being in the neighborhood for fun and music under your own noses. Make them all welcome.

When a boy dreams about running away, wouldn't it be a good idea to have him in the neighborhood stadium, or a scarf when he is going around the block, but how about safeguarding that exposed complexion when the weather decides to cool it down out of every 10 find skin becoming changed, flaky or rough.

CHEEKMAKING WINTER SKIN — Young model Nancy Simm illustrates winter care of skin, beginning with thorough cleansing and concluding with a facial sauna.

Extra Skin Care in Cool Weather

By Roba and Bonnie Churchill

It's the wind-snapping season when hair goes on, sleeves go down, and girls face up to those first chill winds. It's easy to remember a heavy sweater when headed for the football stadium, or a scarf when heading around the block, but how about safeguarding that exposed complexion when the weather decides to cool it down out of every 10 find skin becoming changed, flaky or rough.

That's why young models, like Nancy Simm, often wear a baby cream, to protect the face. They use it as an under-base for make-up, as well as part of a cream and clean regimen.

The treatment begins by washing face thoroughly, so surface and skin under a small amount of cream. Using the padded tips of the index and third fingers, gently massage lubricant upward and outward. Place an extra dab on those first-chill sections — between eyes, along mouth, down sides of nose, and across eyebrows. Use bows rest to weather changes too! Skin finger across hairs; if they're becoming brittle, it's a sign they're also chapped. No soap victims.

Hold face over a steamy mist, so vapor opens pores and skin absorbs cream. A facial sauna, warm clothes, or a basin of hot water can supply the moisturizing mist. A word of caution: never hold face directly over a pan of boiling water. Such blistering steam may break the tiny capillaries under the skin. Instead, pour water into a bowl, and let the warm (not hot) pools of steam touch skin. Or, apply cream and sit under a hair dryer for a similar effect. Check with your dermatologist about such a complexion Rx. He may suggest such follow-throughs as rinsing face with warm water, then closing the pores with a splash of cool water or astringent. Result is a clean, glowing look which helps cheeks make winter skin.

Eggplant with Bread Crumb Coating

By MARY MOORE

QUESTION: A few weeks ago you gave us a recipe in your column (which I love) for breaded eggplant. It was parceled a little before I crumbled and good. But my mother never processed her. She crumbled it raw and fried it. It was just a little bit less healthy. Could you tell me how to do it her way or are you positive? — Olive T.

ANSWER: As a matter of fact I am. You have to be in this job — but not for your recipe.

CRUMBED EGGPLANT
No. 2 (Serves 4)
1 med. eggplant
1 beaten egg
1 cup flour
1 cup salt
1 cup soft fine bread crumbs

Wash eggplant and cut it in 1/2" slices and pare them.

Dinner Menu

Poached Haddock; Egg Sauce; Walnuts Potatoes; Stuffed Parsnips; Cornish Roast; Radishes; Oysters; Buttercrunch Rispes; Creamed Cabbage; Truss.

Add the salt to the flour and immediately coat each slice in it. Dip in egg, coating both sides, then in the crumbs which should be spread out on large plate. Turn over to coat both sides and eggs. Let dry (if time permits) for 10 or 15 min. In large shallow frying pan heat butter or oil until bubbly. Add eggplant slices in one layer. Reduce over medium low heat until tender enough for your like.

ing and golden on bottom.

QUESTION: I have a frozen cooked chick carcass with some meat left in it. Will you please tell me how to make duck soup.

ANSWER: I'd love to and in HOMEMADE DUCK SOUP.

In soup kettle cover duck carcass with cold water — 8 cups — and simmer covered until meat will fall from bones. Strain through large sieve or colander, catching liquid in large pan. Pick all meat from bones. Discard bones. Chop meat and return to broth. Add 3 chicken On cubes, 2 large tomatoes, peeled or chopped, 3 cups raw white or frozen peas, 1 large potato peeled and parred and chopped into cubes, 1 cup chopped onion for boiled flakes, 1 tsp. salt, 2 tps. sugar. Simmer until rice is tender. It's a tip.

Forecast of Chilly Sunday Playoff Foreboding for Stamp Passing Attack

Gordie Howe's HOCKEY

When the World Series was on between the Detroit Tigers and St. Louis Cardinals, I read how the two baseball teams warmed up. How the warm-ups, especially by the pitchers, could be a tip-off on which team would win.

In hockey, warm-ups can tell me a great deal. I have heard spectators say, though, they don't think they have a good idea of play on a given night by the way the players warm up.

Let's argue it this way. In a warm-up you are not trying to prove anything. A warm-up is exactly what it says — a warming-up of the muscles. We are out there for 15 minutes. We skate in circles to loosen up the muscles and we take shots at both goals.

For myself during the warm-up I try to do two things. Break a few eggs and hit the goal post with my shot.

Sometimes you can't get a sweet stick in the ice circles. So, to speed it up, I sometimes skate rapidly from one end of boards to the other. I don't want every dropping of the end of my nose, but I do like a fine sweat and this will do it.

As for shooting, I always try to hit the post. Bruce Grier in our news knows this and very seldom tries for the shot. He usually just aims at it. Why not I try for the post? I don't think so. If I'm always going to hit the post, a normal target like that, I don't think I can do it.

I can pick a spot when it counts, or at least get it during the warm-up. A very seldom gets on for a few shots. But, as each team warms up, there are always a few wild shooters and it's for this type that a goalie gets set. The goalie is looking for a shot. Nothing gets a goalie annoyed faster than someone dropping a high one at him, either in practice or in a game.

Of course, there are players who just naturally shoot high. They are not trying to take a goalie's eye off it, it's just the way they are.

On our club, Frank Mahovlich has a tendency to shoot high. And Bobby Hull is notorious for high ones.

So the next time you watch a warm-up please don't try to read something into it that isn't there. The players are just warming up in exactly the way you're getting the feel of their opposition. They are not trying to prove anything.

Fewer "Name" Entries For Next Year's Open?

TORONTO (CP) — Next year's Canadian open golf championship probably will have fewer name players in the field.

This was the significance of an announcement Thursday by the Royal Canadian Golf Association that it will sign no contracts with what the American Professional Golfers' Association and the PGA.

The PGA, making a joint announcement here and in Montreal, said that the Canadian Open will be played at Plazencia Country Club at Montreal July 21-22. This date conflicts with one set by the PGA for a Philadelphia tournament.

The decision by the PGA apparently was prompted by a decision not to let the sides in the battle between the PGA and the PGA of the United States.

The PGA's decision to break away from the PGA to set up its own PGA and golf greater control of the lucrative pro tour. The PGA has been signed to 19 tournaments worth $2,000,000 and has almost all of the big-name players in its ranks.

Bruce Forster, head of the PGA, said that the PGA, said at a news conference last Thursday that the $125,000 Canadian Open will be included on the PGA of America's tour.

"We made our own decision on dates and everything else," he said. "The PGA will include on the PGA tour." "They said yes."

On a rainy morning evening they had to hold the first round in an alert defence. When the cold stiffens their fingers, their problems increase.

What may happen then is the significance that his haunted Calgary team faces a chilly November day last night. The team was unable to slick through the ice against Saskatchewan.

With a net loss of 17 yards in the first half, the Stampeders were beaten 17-13 and failed to make the Grey Cup bid for the 1989 season.

While the Edmonton, at least on paper, shape up as less formidable opponents than the Riders, their modest passing attack and greater running efficiency make them less susceptible than Calgary to the Ravens of winter.

With net passing yards of 199 yards compared with Calgary's 489, their chances would obviously improve if both sides were forced to stay on the ground.

Edmonton fullback Pat Perkins, who had kept him out of action for the last half of the season, would be an effective performer in those conditions if he is fit to play. In the Calgary half of them, applied by rookie Dave Cranmer.

A second crowd will be on hand at McMahon Stadium for the 5 p.m. MST kickoff, accompanied by CTV cameramen who will air the game on the national network.

estimated a total of 14,000 yards making this season. The entire Calgary club has managed only 1,200 yards in 1988, applied by rookie Dave Cranmer.

Restic Wants Rain For Argonaut Encounter

TORONTO (CP) — Coach Joe Restic of Hamilton Tiger-Cats, stated his injury list Thursday and prayed for rain in Saturday's Eastern Football Conference semi-final against Toronto Argonauts.

With all-star defensive half Garney Henley out of the sudden-death contest and quarterback Joe Zuger recovering from an injured knee, Restic just his charges through a wet weekend Thursday and thought of the muddy Argos.

"I was so happy," Restic said of the weather. "We couldn't have had it any better. The football in this rain and wet conditions got into the action. It rained the entire workout. It was really good."

Restic believes that rain could rally his defending Grey Cup champions and get them past the Argos and into the two-game, best-of-three final against Ottawa Rough Riders.

Restic feels Zuger's punting will be a big qualifier if the weather turns foul for the 1 p.m. EST contest. But Zuger, who worked out Wednesday, isn't right in the knee.

Going by the books, Argos should have little trouble with Hamilton. They beat the Ticats twice this season 18-13 and 13-10 and last only on a day when two first-stringers were eliminated from the defence.

The Ticats, on the other hand, have been really satisfactory only twice all season—the conquest of the Argos and during a 21-17 victory in Edmonton against the Eskimos.

A sellout crowd of 32,132 is expected for Saturday's clash which will be televised nationally by the CBC with Toronto's radio broadcast on 1020 AM. Toronto bookmakers have made the Argos four-point favorites in the first game of the 1988-89 Grey Cup, also scheduled for CNE Stadium here.

Clothes, Rent, Hockey Costs Go Up as Winter Draws Near

OTTAWA (CP) — Government statisticians have detected a chill wind blowing through the consumer price index just as winter descends.

Prices for warm clothes, shelter and hockey games have gone up.

The index advanced to 108.1 in October from September's 107.4. The Dominion Bureau of Statistics reported Thursday. The index is based on 1967 prices equaling 100.

Higher prices for fall and winter clothing, health and personal care, housing, and admission prices for hockey games all contributed to the general increase. The price of men's suits and dress pants, women's coats and woollens helped raise the clothing index by 1.7 points to 138.1, a percentage increase of 1.2 in a month.

Fees charged by doctors and dentists and for eye care were the main pressure behind an increase in health and personal care that pushed it above the 200 mark—the first time any component of the index has reached that point.

The October index of 196.2, up from 196.1 a month earlier, raised the cost of health and personal care by more than double since 1960.

Rents and house-holding expenses continued to rise in October.

housed the housing index—included both shelter and household operation—in 196.3 from 158.8 in September—a rise of 4.7 per cent from a year earlier.

Rents and house-holding expenses continued to rise in October.

In general, prices of major-city goods during October.

On the cheerful side for consumers, prices of food and transportation in general declined slightly during October—to 125.4 from 126.0 in September and alcohol held steady at 141.1.

Power Makes Victim Smart

By SYDNEY J. HARRIS

To have power over others is, in some way, to become stupid about them. Power may be exercised as power, but even more, it makes its possessor dumb—and its victim correspondingly smart.

I formulated this axiom while thinking about the male-female relationship, but it applies to others as well. Why is it that men, who know so much about many things, know so little about women, understand them so poorly, and handle them so ineptly? While women, conversely are exceedingly shrewd about men, comprehend their motivations, and exploit their weaknesses. It is because, throughout the long history of the race, men have been the dominant group and women have been in a minority position—not numerically, of course, but socially, economically, and sexually.

And when a minority group of any kind comes to itself by force it learns to do so by cunning, not by increased awareness of the complexities and ambiguities in a situation, by the same sort of skill against strength that the smaller Asiatic dynasty in Japan against their stronger and larger opponents.

At the same time, the dominant group gradually becomes more and more self-congratulatory and overconfident of its powers—that the success of so many revolutions by ragged colonial forces against imperial powers. The British, for instance, failed utterly to understand the needs and demands of the American colonists, and their complacency.

What is, loosely called Jewish "smarts" or "shrewdness," I am convinced comes from the same social matrix. Oppressed for so many centuries, deprived of political power, and banished from military or judicial posts, the Jews turned their brains to obtaining economic and financial power, which was the only avenue open to them. This is not a "congenital" trait, since the Hebrews of the Old Testament were farmers and shepherders, craftsmen, and laborers, not nearly as "smart" as the Greeks of their time.

Likewise, the minority of early Christians was able to overthrow the mighty Roman empire, which had grown overconfident and dull with power. And in our own century, a small minority of Bolsheviks toppled the Czarist regime in Russia, which had completely lost touch with the people. Revolutions result more from the stupidity of the ruling group than from the strength of the revolting group.

Jeane Dixon's Horoscope

For November 9

Your birthday today. You will find the coming year steady, uphill, without very satisfying rewards including earnings. The challenge of both competition and critics brings through the constructive forces in you as an individual. Today's natives have an eye for color and form; many are artists, others electronics specialists.

ARIES (Mar. 21 — Apr. 19): Tranquility returns today, you should make the most of it. There are many things you need to do for yourself. Get busy! Taurus (Apr. 20 — May 20): You can carry on with the enterprises started yesterday. Exert yourself a bit and concentrate on what you're doing. A full day.

GEMINI (May 21 — June 20): Today's pervasive cautions does not permit any drastic changes. Take stock, how comfortable your position is. Tying up, all the loose ends will take up most of your time.

CANCER (June 21 — July 21): Power is promised you to work on health and personal problems. Take advantage; focus on the fundamentals first. The evening will be time enough for a social hour.

LEO (July 22 — Aug. 21): Conserve your vitality. Set to the low-pressure chores you've had in skip behind of more urgent matters. Extra rest is indicated for the entire weekend.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 — Sept. 21): You can get a lot of beloved routines cleared away now. Social activities are rewarding if you will settle for something less than excitement from your friends.

LIBRA (Sept. 22 — Oct. 21): Get right down to serious thought while the going's good. The things you do best now include planning and examination. Action later on.

SCORPIO (Oct. 22 — Nov. 21): Investigation is the keyword for today. Solids do things stand so solid while you look. You calm mood makes all the difference, stay with it.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 — Dec. 21): Gather up whatever is owed to you, if and where you can. Review your network. Keep financial details secret.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 — Jan. 19): Spend the day getting over insurance coverage, property values, and estimated tax liability, savings, investments and the like. Make an estimate of what you may expect in the (near) future.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20 — Feb. 18): Relaxation and light recreation are favored for today. Affairs can be concluded. (Not ready).

PISCES (Feb. 19 — Mar. 20): Since an easier day is your reward for recent efforts, you should be able to finish this. This is not the time, however, to begin new or strange activities.

Sunday School Lesson

We Are Short-sighted

By CLARENCE W. CRANFORD

In 1932, William Caryl Beardsley, a member of a group of Christians from Nottingham, England, and delivered a message that electrified his hearers. There were two major points in his message: "Expect great things of God" and "Attempt great things for God."

A lot of history has passed since William Caryl uttered those historic words that launched a new missionary movement. A lot of changes have taken place. Most people do not expect great things of God. Now they expect great things of science. They expect great things of government. But not of God. If they expect of him at all, his has been relegated to a supporting role for what men can accomplish.

The Uniform Sunday School lesson for November 18: "Christians, Live Expectantly!" II Peter.

In view of this, Peter would call this a "short-sighted" generation. (II Peter 1:15) Short-sighted people, he reminds us, are apt to stumble. Indeed, he says that people who are short-sighted they cannot see the importance of old-fashioned virtues, are apt to stumble at the very gates of heaven. (II Peter 1:11)

At a certain place in Maine, there is a cottage from which the owners enjoy a wonderful view of mountains and lakes. This view can be seen from the roadway. One must go a hind a little to see it. One day, some neighbors were invited to the cottage. One woman looked at the view and said, "I've lived within 20 miles of this view all my life, and never knew it was there." Millions of people live within a distance of the joys and rewards of the Christian life, and have not known they are there, because they refuse to go around behind whatever is blocking them from God.

In his second letter, Peter tells his readers to where they can see a view of what Christians can lead them to expect. First of all, he suggests, men can expect great things of God. In fact, God has already provided men all they need to live a satisfying and godly life. He has granted great promises of faith and glory. The future is not in the will of men, but in the will of God. (II Peter 1:3-4)

In the second place, Peter says

National Heart Bank Urged

VANCOUVER (CP) — Dr. Peter Gordon, medical director of the institution, said four persons have died in recent months because donors were not available in the Montreal team. Both Dr. Gordon and Dr. Davidson are attending scientific sessions of the Canadian Cardiovascular Society annual meeting.

Dr. Gordon said the public and the medical profession must be informed about the need for donors.

"The making of a national donor system is already basically available, but they must be put together," said Dr. Gordon. "No potential donor must be considered to be located in too remote an area."

He gave an example of how a donor could be located in a short time from Edmonton, Alberta, in 10 days in the morning.

A short time later, a volunteer of a D.C. and a medical team was dispatched.

A LONG SHOT OR A SURE THING?

A tiny fraction of the wines imported into this country are "classic" wines; the vast majority are standard "wines of the country" — no better for having made the long ocean voyage. Your chances of getting a "classic" wine? About 1%.

Every single one of Brighis fine Canadian wines are demonstrably as good as or better than the great majority of the wines imported from any country in the world. Your chances of getting an outstanding wine when you buy any of these Brighis brands? 100%.

Why gamble when a sure thing is available? And at half the cost and less.

The President wine "cellar".

President Champagne — Canada's prime Champagne. President Burgundy — A great dry red wine. President Chateau — A delicate light white wine. President Sherry — Ideal for before lunch or dinner. President Extra Dry — A dry white wine of quality. President Port — A distinguished dessert wine.

Students at Prague Plan Demonstration

PRAGUE (AP) — Despite the threats of reprisals, Prague students said today they plan another anti-Soviet demonstration Nov. 17 which could lead to "a general student strike."

Student leaders at Prague University issued an appeal for mass participation, and called a meeting of student strike committees next Tuesday to map strategy.

An announcement came as Czechoslovakia's Communist party leadership said it would use "all legal means to ensure that peace and order are preserved" and discarded possible new press officials to take the Kremlin. Officials have been concerned that recent anti-Soviet demonstrations in Prague and Bratislava would bring Russian tanks rolling back into the streets.

Prague radio and television broadcast an interior ministry statement Friday which acknowledged for the first time that such demonstrations occurred. It said 161 persons were arrested in Prague, Bratislava, Brno and Czechoslovakia.

The ministry noted that Soviet flags were burned and anti-Soviet slogans were chanted. It said the demonstrations Thursday were actions of "irresponsible groups" and "brought serious provocations."

Prague city council condemned the demonstrations as "politically extremely inappropriate."

Ray Will Face Accusers Tuesday

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (Reuters) — For James Earl Ray, held for it weeks behind steel screens and guarded by scores of police, the waiting is nearly over.

The 40-year-old man charged in the assassination of Dr. Martin Luther King, James Earl Ray, was scheduled to face his accusers Tuesday.

Ray, extradited from Britain in July after his arrest at London airport in early June, has been one of the most closely guarded men in the United States.

He and Sirhan Sirhan, accused of assassinating Senator Robert F. Kennedy who is in Los Angeles, are surrounded by the toughest, tightest and most extensive security ever contrived to insure the protection of men charged with capital crimes.

Tradeau Sees Real Danger of Large Rebellions in U.S.

KINGSTON (CP) — Prime Minister Trudeau said Friday night in a more serious mood the possibility of large rebellions in North America than he has in any previous problem.

"In my scale of values, I am less worried about what will happen over the Berlin wall than what might happen in Chicago or in our own Great West," he told students at Queen's University.

He had been asked by one of the 1,500 students at a question-and-answer session whether Canada would decrease its commitments to the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

Mr. Trudeau replied that civilization and culture in North America is more menaced by internal disorders than by external pressure.

He said he feels very strongly that disorder and racial strife in the U.S. "may seriously lead to large rebellions."

Mr. Trudeau said that the U.S. is not known whether the assault was aware of B.P.O. connections with civil rights causes in Chicago and Alabama.

Solution Said 'Matter of Days'

PARIS (AP) — Hanoi's rejection of a new peace talks formula proposed by South Vietnam posed more problems for the United States, but one neutral Western diplomatic source today predicted a breakthrough in "a matter of days."

The tactical centres around how President Nguyen Van Thieu's Saigon government and the guerrilla enemy, the Viet Cong, will be represented.

Third insists he will not join talks where the National Liberation Front, the Viet Cong's political arm, has an independent seat.

He proposed Friday that there be four seats for the talks and Communist officials side, led by Saigon, and a Communist delegation, headed by Hanoi with the Viet Cong playing a subsidiary role.

In Saigon, U.S. Ambassador Ellsworth Barker met with Hanoi for the first time since Oct. 31 when President Nixon announced the bombing halt. The U.S. embassy announced.

Informal sources said the meeting was a continuation of Washington's efforts to get Thieu to join the talks with the U.S. and Hanoi.

New Effort To End War Expected

LAGOS (AP) — A third round of negotiations to try and end the 16-month long war in Nigeria is expected to begin within a few weeks, informed government sources said Friday.

The meeting, it is attended by representatives of the heads of state consultative committee on Nigeria of the Organization of African Unity, probably will be in Morocco, Liberia, the sources said.

As diplomats and politicians exchanged African to "new" support for the meeting, the Nigerian peace negotiator, Chief of the British embassy in London with Prime Minister Wilson and other British leaders.

A Nigerian government spokesman said the meeting probably would invite the Nigerian head of state, Gen. Yakubu Gowon, and the Biafran leader, Lt. Col. Chukwuemeka Ojukwu, to separate conferences.

He was also asked whether the government was trying to orient foreign policy into areas where Canada had got some leverage.

At another point, the prime minister said that the government hopes to instill new vigor and better financial control into the day after retooling with several others honorary doctrine of law degrees from the university.

Trustees Told to Beef Up Policy Role To Make County School Boards Work

By LENNY WILLIAMSON
Staff Reporter

Trustees from eight counties, gathered at the Sun Valley Motor Inn for a conference on wider units of administration, settled down Friday to almost 12 hours of intensive study.

After being entertained by a rock school board meeting and inspired by an address from Lloyd Dennis, co-chairman of the Hall-Dennis committee on education, the trustees divided into small working groups.

Under the guidance of officials from the department of education and the Ontario Trustees Council, they tackled a major responsibility: learning how to serve effectively on a county school board.

The topics covered ranged from definition of the purpose of a school board, through policy making to defining the day-to-day operation of schools to hired officials.

Officials conducting the workshops made known modern discovery methods of teaching in guided "toggles."

The workshop groups operated like school boards, with one person assigned to act as chairman of each group. Following orientation lectures, the trustees went into imaginative board sessions.

The "learning through doing" approach impressed the trustees in consideration of actual situations they will face when the new boards go into effect Jan. 1.

"We have these conferences and people who will return to their boards and in turn guide their fellow trustees in future training efficiently and effectively," explained Peter Petersen, assistant regional superintendent from Kingston.

"The problem facing trustees of the future is to adapt to a policy-making role and learning to defend their authority in small matters so that they can maintain greater control of the school system."

"Your primary task is to have the authority to exercise your jurisdiction," Mr. Singleton said. "You also have a responsibility to the taxpayer."

"If you have been in the habit of doing the purchasing or the business of your local board you are going to be unhappy on a county board," J. W. Singleton, director of education for the Burlington Board of Education told the group he guided.

"When you were elected, you were given the right to protect society's interests within the school system."

"Through an evening brainstorming session the trustees learned the answers to questions by reviewing old typical issues in their simulated board meetings," Mr. Singleton said.

It's possible for a board to help the children and not the taxpayer, shout, or help the taxpayer and hurt the child."

How do you tell your director of education and his staff and your business officials that you're not going to do and how you give them the freedom to carry out your objectives? he asked the trustees.

their experience with the "boarder" to ease them over stumbling blocks.

From the discussions at brainstorming sessions of a board's core decisions which are formulated into policies," Mr. Singleton told the trustees.

Workshops continue today in business administration, followed by an informal review and evaluation of the conference on the afternoon.

City Adds New Bus

A new city bus is shortly to go into service on city streets and when it does all routes will be served by at least one.

Belleville Transit Commission chairman Jack Ireland told council this week that the new bus was now in the city and was being checked and serviced before being put into operation.

Mr. Ireland referred briefly to the Hillcrest route which he said had been changed slightly at the request of a local business and service in that area.

He said, however, that the extended route — to 131 miles — had meant that routes had been delayed by from 18 to 15 minutes.

This meant that the starting times of the buses were often late during the busy periods. He said the Hillcrest route had been reduced slightly in another area and now seemed satisfactory.

In his report Mr. Ireland asked for council to approve a change in the Wright Ave. route which would allow buses to make a circle on two streets and then eliminate doubling back over the same route.

WE DON'T ASK FOR CREDIT RATINGS, EITHER ...

The public has sometimes felt that, in its times of grief, it is left no time to think about Funeral Service, that it must call the nearest Home, and that it has no time in which to get a "Credit Rating". Often, this cannot be avoided.

But it is fair to criticize the Funeral Profession for this unhappy circumstance? We THOMPSONS are always willing to explain modern Funeral Service, pricing, and our facilities if you need time to shop around "we had no time to shop around" need not be true — Call us! We will be happy to answer any questions you may have — and we'll never ask for a credit rating!

Costs Force TB Groups To Move Under Toronto Wing

During the next three to five years the Ontario department of health will take over the administration and financing of chest clinics from the Ontario Tuberculosis and Respiratory Disease Association. There are 47 affiliated TB associations, all of which will eventually come under the wing of the OHA.

Under the new government volunteer play emphasis will be placed on education, tuberculosis training, training programs, student clinics, mass surveys, basic research and patient rehabilitation. All of this will be financed through Ontario Health and the government will gradually undertake the financing and operation of tuberculosis clinics.

Reason for the move has been very heavy TB and RD Association. Expansion into research and education with asthma, chronic bronchitis and emphysema has pushed up costs.

In teaching medical universities across Canada laboratories are being set up to expand research into TB and other respiratory diseases. In addition to their research staff these units will replace the present tuberculosis clinics which are gradually being phased out.

Physicians will refer cases of chronic respiratory diseases to these units for specialized treatment instead. Even with major changes over the local TB and RD associations will maintain all of its responsibilities, but will eventually be superseding to the Ontario department.

Deseronto Council Discusses New Building

DESERONTO — Deseronto council this week went one step further towards providing a building for its police department. At the previous meeting, it was agreed that such a building was necessary, and council had decided to investigate the cost.

Councillor Edward Gordon, chair of the fire and police committee, submitted a rough plan of building. Council instructed the property committee to collaborate with the police committee and bring in further information to the next meeting. The project would be used for next year's council to carry its completion.

Council is asking the Ontario Municipal Board to ratify the issuing of a 20-year decision for 1988 for a new police storage tower. All the preliminary steps have been taken to erect the new one. It was hoped to have it in use by now, but the engineers did not submit their recommendations in time.

A second letter was received from the County Council, regarding the road needs of Deseronto and its vicinity. A reply to the first letter, which had asked for improvement of the road which is a continuation of Main St. in the Quaker Skway Bridge, Fourth St. and the boundaries ready are also the responsibility of the County.

A bylaw is being prepared which will prevent the use of trailers as dwellings within the town limits.

Other business of the meeting was routine, with all members present. Deseronto had invited five councillors for the balance of the year, as Councillor Robert Hoffman resigned because of moving to the Cornwall area.

The Alaskan trip from which she has just returned provided a fresh challenge. She has captured the magnificence of the Rocky Mountains as well as a record of wildlife including the northern for seals of the Pribilof Islands.

Tickets are available at Quaker Book Shop, 48 Bridge St. East and at the door of the auditorium.

Two Successful

In Exams

A Belleville real estate man and a former member of the County of Hastings assessment department have been successful in passing their second stage exams toward membership in the Appraisal Institute of Canada.

The two successful members of the extension course from the County of Hastings are Douglas Grant of Douglas Grant Real Estate, and David Harris formerly with the county of Hastings.

Both candidates have new memberships. Mr. Harris recently resigned his position with the Hastings assessment department to accept a similar position with the Elgin County Assessment Office. He took up his new duties on Nov. 1.

Trustees Mr. Barbara Truax of the Lindsay Public School Board and Mrs. C. Stoddart of the Victoria County District High School Board, discussed a problem presented at the workshop sessions of the trustees' convention.

Research Continues to Prove More and More Biblical Facts

NEW YORK (AP)—A swelling tide of discoveries from archaeology and historical research has confirmed more and more of that ancient book—the Bible.

"A great deal of it has been thoroughly substantiated," Dr. Baruch Ben-Yehuda, an Israeli mathematician and Bible scholar, said on a visit here.

"I say we've found new things," he said. "The accumulated evidence, a team of scholars and Israeli officials have joined in a desire to decide the details of the Bible's recreation of the immemorial past."

Situated on a 30-acre tract in Jerusalem just outside Tel Aviv, it's to be called "Bibleland."

"It will be based on archaeological and historical findings," said Dr. Ben-Yehuda, a white-haired, bespectacled man of 74. "None of it will be imaginary."

The open-air reconstruction of biblical sites, events, buildings, equipment and statues of people of which remains have been found, and also some involving the ancient characters of Abraham, Isaac and Jacob, none regarded by some as yet legendary, but who are now confirmed by recent historical evidence.

The mass of scientific evidence gathered in recent years, Dr. Ben-Yehuda said, has made possible the depiction of most of the immemorial past of the Jewish Bible.

Fanatical Cuban Sect

Is Blamed for Deaths

HAVANA (Reuters)—The death of a young mother has turned the spotlight on one of the fanatical religious sects which still exist in revolutionary Cuba.

She was called the Aquilinas, a sect which has been in the beautiful Viñales Valley in Cuba's eastern Pinar del Rio province.

Members believe that water from the healing ponds of the Cuban sect has claimed many deaths since its founding as a result of their practice of this form of religious-magical "healing."

The cult, which also holds the belief that all work other than farming is controlled by the devil, was founded by Antonio "Lupatillo" known to his followers as the Miracle Worker of the Keys.

LITTLE WOMAN

"Look on the bright side—you own a half acre of good land, you own a half acre of good water!"

Friendly United Allows Hubbies

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Colette Landale, 23, fired from her stewardess job because her husband was legal, said today she expects to head back to the job with United Air Lines.

"Maybe it's that they've denied wedding bands and wings are compatible," Mrs. Landale said.

United announced Friday it has changed a policy prohibiting marriage for its stewardesses and will require those who have valid passports.

Mrs. Landale had filed with a state board when she was fired after seven years of flying and four years of secret marriage.

She said the airline did not object to a stewardess living with a man as long as they didn't marry.

Deseronto and Area Social Activities

DESERONTO — About 40 members of Craig Lodge A.F. and A.M. No. 41 attended the church parade Sunday morning to St. Mark's Anglican Church, where they were welcomed by Rev. Rector, Rev. A. F. Dowdell and members of the congregation. A larger congregation this year had a noticeable increase in its service, he added.

The addition to the public school is making good progress. The current block work is nearly completed, and Monday the contractor began putting on the roof.

At the beginning of the year, Principal Ronald Ueno was authorized by the board to hire teachers in the school taking out in each home are now he

Stanfield Alarmed

Threat to Wheat Markets Endangers Economy

SASKATON (CP) — Progressive Conservative leader Robert Stanfield said Friday the threat to Canada's international wheat market is also a serious threat to the country's entire economy.

In an address to the annual convention of the Saskatchewan Progressive Conservative party, Mr. Stanfield said Canada's economy already faces serious problems and that the loss of wheat markets in this context would be grave.

"Now we are in a position where the wheat agreement with China is about to expire," Mr. Stanfield said. "The loss of the Canadian wheat market in China, but it is possible to obtain from the government any indication of a new agreement."

"Russia has an option to buy 120,000,000 bushels of wheat, but again there is no evidence that the government thinks any extraordinary effort is necessary," Mr. Stanfield said.

though Trade Minister Jean Laporte is visiting Latin America, efforts should have been made long ago to have him visit China and Russia to try and stimulate more wheat sales.

He said he had recently

Complaints About Economic Policies Piling Up From Both Sides of House

OTTAWA (CP) — Complaints about economic policies are piling up from representatives of East, West and Central Canada—and from both sides of the House of Commons as debate on Oct. 22 budget nears completion.

A Newfoundland MP complained about human capital and public debt in Friday's round of the debate, scheduled to wind up Tuesday after adjournment for Remembrance Day Monday.

An Alberta member said trade policy, a Quebecer sought protection for his steel industry, a British Columbia member complained about the federal and Newfoundland Liberal governments, the Conservative House of Commons member said a federal trade policy was a threat to the province's economy.

Newfoundlanders Jack MacGeorge and George St. Barthelemy attacked alleged failures at the government, most of them saying that the government is trying with long-term inquiries instead of tackling old union human problems.

Government members "are not going to overcome neglect, regional disparity, unemployment or the lack of housing by attacking these problems with task forces or by over-staffing their offices with research experts, psychologists or sociologists, by computers or by looking at maps or reading statistics."

Piling a double-barrelled blast aimed simultaneously at both the federal and Newfoundland Liberal governments, the Conservative House of Commons member said a federal trade policy was a threat to the province's economy.

The government is wasting time and money on research and only local communities which they know when they started that there is a problem—and nine times out of 10 they disregard the report anyway."

Mr. Marshall, in his maiden Commons speech, said the economic council concluded after five annual reviews, 32 staff studies, seven papers and nine other reports that "poverty is real—that a stroke of genius," he said, "has been found on the status of women as a waste of thousands of dollars."

"When everyone in the country knows that any woman can become anything a man can aspire to become."

The current Canadian ministerial mission to Latin America is a month-long "battered voyage of discovery."

"They are making a mess of their own country and here they go looking for trouble in other countries."

If we say to them in all sincerity, let us clean out our own backyard before we go trying to solve someone else's problem."

Mr. Marshall said he would take the cabinet on a trip to Newfoundland which would make them hang their heads in shame with families of up to a dozen living in two pre-fabricated speculation law on the resale of undeveloped prime land.

Eldon Williams (P.C., Calgary) suggested the government could have solved many money problems without adding new taxes by encouraging tax-free production, thus increasing revenue.

In particular, Mr. Williams said, oil production in Western Canada and petroleum sales throughout the country could be raised by revising national oil policy, whereby Canada has export rights into the northwest United States and Japan.

American-owned oil from Venezuela.

Mr. Roberts, former economic assistant to Maurice Sauvé, treasury minister in the last government, suggested welfare policies had largely failed to solve the poverty problem.

Junior Final on TV Hilltopps Seek 4th Title

SASKATON (CP) — Coach Al Ledingham will be after a rare feat when Saskatoon Hilltopps take on the Toronto Patriots today in the Junior Football championship game. The game, and championship, will start at 1 p.m. MST (3 p.m. EST) and is televised nationally by the CBC. Ledingham directed the Hilltopps to the Western championship with a 40-0 win over Van City last Sunday. The Hilltopps had a 10-0 record in the regular season. Beyond that it was hard to tell how strong their strength. We'll have to keep after them right from the start and hope to wear them down.

In 1959, Ledingham was fourth the outstanding player with Saskatoon and the Hilltopps won another national title over the Toronto Patriots. He became head coach in 1962. The Hilltopps coach took the team to Ottawa last Sunday when the Western champion defeated the Hilltopps 10-0 in the Eastern championship game.

Director of CYC Defends Payment of $489,019

OTTAWA (CP) — The Comptroller of Young Canadians, adding executive director defended his organization's $489,019 salary by fiscal 1967-68 professional fees but said the money did not all go for that purpose and the portion that did was "well spent."

Stewart Gooding spoke at a news conference called to introduce Claude Vial, 38, who he counts the company's executive director on Dec. 1.

Reporters peppered Mr. Gooding on the break-down of company expenditures tabled in Parliament Wednesday.

Mr. Gooding said most of the money had been used for training people who later became volunteers or left the company. The sums appeared as consulting fees because "that's the way the books were put to bed."

Individual consulting fees, which amounted to $17,622 plus $331 expenses for 20-year-old Arthur Page, of Toronto, were justified by the calibre of people employed. Mr. Gooding said.

The $489,019 sum was needed because the company, beginning in new and difficult fields of social activity, required a foundation of expertise and competence.

The figure for consulting and professional fees had declined to $100,000 in the current year's estimates.

for Peace, a consultant for the CYC on social issues, and background in social development work in North Bay and Kingston.

Douglas Ward of Toronto, chairman of the company's provision council, said the federal government's reduction of the company's estimates from $2,000,000 to $1,000,000 and the CYC's decision to limit its 1969 emergency without independence had been a "slap in the wrist."

Mr. Bink Monk is in Toronto with her daughter, Miss Bernadette, who has undergone surgery.

Wayne Van Volkenburg of Ontario Conservation has been appointed to Deer River Park, Manitoba.

Mr. and Mrs. George Fox, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Fox and Mrs. Jean Fox, of Toronto, went to a series of crimes last May when he was under the influence of the hallucinatory drug LSD.

The judge remanded Alexander MacIsaac, 22, to Nov. 29, for sentencing after the man's conviction.

If the program was not allowed to expand in 1970 "I don't think many of us will still be around."

The company was "an uncertainty" of Liberal members. "The Parliament was a reflection of the people, we are going to have trouble with Parliament."

He said there could be no leniency of that kind in 1969 emergency without independence and the directors had asserted.

State Secretary Gerard Pelletier said that if it didn't have independence "they would blow the thing up."

Mr. Vial was asked whether he was satisfied that the company would be allowed to set free of government intervention, he said that "according to the law" it would. Trial judge in criminal and public reaction to CYC had been "very favorable."

Andrew of Sudbury described court said:

"In my view, the conduct was not inhuman within the meaning of section 16 of the Criminal Code, in that whatever the results may have been, it did not arise from a state of natural imbecility or disease of the mind."

Canadian Catholics Pleased With Bishops' Stand on Pill

OTTAWA (CP) — Roman Catholics in Canada have responded enthusiastically to a statement by their bishops on Pope Paul's recent encyclical opposing birth control.

Catholics Are Opposed To Abortion Law Change

OTTAWA (CP) — Most Rev. Alexander Carter, Bishop of St. John's, Nfld., and head of the Canadian Catholic Conference, Friday reiterated his church's opposition to proposed changes in the Criminal Code on abortion.

He said in an interview the proposed change "is a dangerous one," and one he hoped would be defeated in the Commons.

Bishop Carter said a number of MPs have consulted him and other Roman Catholic bishops on the proposed change. He said as the spiritual adviser to those MPs, he had spoken against the change.

Bishop Carter said the church had no quarrel with other changes proposed in the Code dealing with divorce, contraception and birth control.

Most Rev. Alexander Carter, president of the Canadian Catholic Conference, told a news conference Friday that four of every five letters on the statement "expressed enthusiasm, relief and satisfaction."

Bishop Carter of St. John's, Nfld., also announced an inter-church study on provincial laws dealing with adoption, changes to the Marriage Act, mass and steps being taken to meet current needs.

He said clauses in some provincial laws prohibiting Protestants from adopting Roman Catholic children and vice versa were causing complications.

"At this moment of greater understanding among religious sects, the Roman Catholic church was joining others in a review in - see what changes might be made."

VICTORIA (CP) — Opposition Leader Robert Stanbury, provincial leader of the New Democratic Party since 1956, Friday announced his resignation of office in April.

Mr. Stanbury, 55, made the announcement at a news conference following a caucus meeting.

OTTAWA (CP) — Roman Catholics in Canada have responded enthusiastically to a statement by their bishops on Pope Paul's recent encyclical opposing birth control.

Most Rev. Alexander Carter, president of the Canadian Catholic Conference, told a news conference Friday that four of every five letters on the statement "expressed enthusiasm, relief and satisfaction."

Bishop Carter of St. John's, Nfld., also announced an inter-church study on provincial laws dealing with adoption, changes to the Marriage Act, mass and steps being taken to meet current needs.

He said clauses in some provincial laws prohibiting Protestants from adopting Roman Catholic children and vice versa were causing complications.

"At this moment of greater understanding among religious sects, the Roman Catholic church was joining others in a review in - see what changes might be made."

VICTORIA (CP) — Opposition Leader Robert Stanbury, provincial leader of the New Democratic Party since 1956, Friday announced his resignation of office in April.

Mr. Stanbury, 55, made the announcement at a news conference following a caucus meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. George Fox, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Fox and Mrs. Jean Fox, of Toronto, went to a series of crimes last May when he was under the influence of the hallucinatory drug LSD.

The judge remanded Alexander MacIsaac, 22, to Nov. 29, for sentencing after the man's conviction.

State Secretary Gerard Pelletier said that if it didn't have independence "they would blow the thing up."

Mr. Vial was asked whether he was satisfied that the company would be allowed to set free of government intervention, he said that "according to the law" it would. Trial judge in criminal and public reaction to CYC had been "very favorable."

Andrew of Sudbury described court said:

In Remembrance

Once again it is Remembrance Day and still the principles for which men died in two world wars hold true.

The younger generation look at Vietnam and take to the streets in protest. They want to see war outlawed — and who can blame them? On the other hand men have principles. So too have nations. In the Orient's world it is no different — there they call it "face."

Men go to war for their principles, they go to war because their national prestige is at stake, they go to war to "leave face." It is at stake because in the last resort it may be the only honorable course left to them.

But the way things are today, men somehow will have to find a better way, because principles, prestige, face or honor will count for nothing if all men die — as virtually all men, in a nuclear conflict.

Yet, do not forget that the freedom we enjoy today is because thousands gave their lives in the two great conflicts between 1914 and 1918 and 1939 and 1945.

"At the going down of the sun, and in the morning, we shall remember them." The words of those poet Laurence Binyon. They still ring true.

Car Checks

Ontario's tough new safety check for all used cars on the market in the province is reported to be giving auto dealers and mechanics a headache.

It seems that few mechanics are willing to take responsibility for a safety check that remains valid for only 30 days. One Toronto dealer is quoted as saying it means if he does an inspection on Nov. 10 and does not sell the car by Dec. 20, he has to do another inspection.

The new law provides for a maximum fine of $300 for licensed mechanics or dealers who make false statements on the inspection on both private and dealer sales.

Whenever the problem arises in keeping up with the new regulations, there is no doubt their introduction will go far toward making our highways safer. Where auto maintenance is concerned there is room for improvement, both in part of owners and of service stations. The government has laid it on the line. It may have to come to some sort of arrangement with service stations with regard to the testing of vehicles; nevertheless safety and lives are at stake and that should be the paramount consideration.

Pioneer Legislation

New Zealand has been a pioneer in the field of social welfare. Now this country "down under" has spawned yet another piece of pioneer legislation.

A bill before Parliament aims to abolish the status of illegitimacy. Its effect would be to virtually remove all legal discrimination against illegitimate children and their parents equally before the law.

Attorney-General J. R. Hannan believes the bill, taken in conjunction with other legislation, will place greater emphasis on the fathers of children born out of wedlock and perhaps even reduce the number of births in this category.

With a population under 2,000,000, New Zealand last year reported 7,783 children born out of wedlock, or 12.7 per cent of live births.

Compare these statistics with a recent television survey which shows that out of every 1000 American high school girls, 17 have illegitimate babies. A study of a group of teenage mothers in California revealed that half the brides were pregnant at the altar. In a similar study in Iowa, more than half were "shotgun marriages."

Perhaps the cycle is changing though. Vance Packard, author of The Hidden Persuaders, a study of how the public is influenced by advertising, has just published The Sexual Wilderness, believing that "literacy in sexual matters including the knowing of contraceptive on the way out."

"The cycle is swinging in a pendulum arc and in a recent interval, society will be the better for such a trend."

Nixon More Protectionist?

By DAVE MCINTOSH

Canadian Press Staff Writer

Richard M. Nixon told British journalist David Frost last night that he is more protectionist.

"There are some Americans who think our system is so good everybody else ought to have it," he said. "I don't share that view."

Obama hopes that the new trade agreement will not cut Canada too closely politically. Culturally and economically. Especially economically—

There is a feeling in the capital, justified or not, that Mr. Nixon may be more protectionist than those U.S. administrators.

"However, Congress could be in a similar mood. And to get certain measures through a Democratic Congress, the Republican president may have to give in to the whims of new quotas on imports from Canada, for instance."

Mr. Nixon has said he wants to widen the American leadership over Russia in nuclear agreements. This could mean a vastly expanded, costly nuclear system—and consequent pressure on Canada for a new nuclear Canadian grid and oil space.

However, as one Ottawa official says, "Canadian governments have dealt with both protectionist and liberalizing administrations in the U.S. with reasonable success."

Former prime minister Dielenbach, in fact, got along better with Republican Presdent Eisenhower than with Democratic President Kennedy. Prime Minister Trudeau has never met Mr. Nixon and likely will want to arrange a meeting within a few months.

Mr. Nixon has been in Canada more than once and knows a great deal about this country.

It is a cliché that Ottawa prefers a Democratic administration in Washington, though Canada-dian cabinet minister has ever come out and said as much. But the governments were scrapping commitments and Kennedy and Johnson administrations, mostly on economic issues.

Thus a Nixon administration holds out no special terrors for the Trudeau government. In any case, as one official put it, "You must always have you to get along with the person you live with."

"Diri" A Sacred Cow Of Modern Advertising

Let's talk about the most loaded four-letter word in our vocabulary. It's not the one you think it is. It is, in fact, a very simple everyday word: Diri.

This is the word that launched a thousand campaigns. For years now, Madison Avenue has been looking for a Final Solution to the dirty problem. Censorship (after all, isn't it down like extermination, Huxley said) is not the answer. It is, in fact, a very simple everyday word: Diri.

Gaels Best Blues for Berth in Western College Bowl

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Queen's University Golden Gaels won their 12th straight game as Ontario-Quebec Athletic Union football champions Saturday.

The Gaels Saturday posted aside University of Toronto 44-0 and earned the right to challenge for the Canadian college football title.

In other end-of-school games Saturday, Western Ontario lost to the Mustangs outscored McMaster Marauders of Hamilton 24-14 at London as the Redmen crushed Waterloo Warriors 48-8 at Kingston.

On a muddy field at Kingston, Queen's surrendered a 6-0 first half lead to the Blues, but the Gaels made a dramatic comeback Saturday at Windsor, ending an elimination game leading to the No. 22 Canadian college bowl at Toronto's Varsity Stadium.

Ron Clark and Heino Liles took over the Gaels' offense while Doug Coxe kicked both field goals of 48 and 12 yards to give the Blues their lead.

Liles accounted for most of the Gaels' offense as he collected 114 yards rushing from 25 carries. Jim Turnbull, previously stopped Toronto scoring threats with three interceptions.

At Montreal, Dave Pleiser was a one-man wrecking crew, leading fourth-quarter McGill to an easy win over Waterloo Warriors before 2,000 fans.

Pleiser scored three touchdowns for the Redmen and gained 298 yards rushing from 30 carries, raising his seven-game rushing total to 825 yards and a 6.2 yard average.

Howie Mednick, Chris Remball and quarterback George Wall also scored touchdowns for the winners. George Spraggs kicked two field goals and converted Matt McGill's first try in the sixteen league.

Tough Attitude on Marijuana Is Urged by Manitoba Judge

WINNIPEG (CP) — A 17-page document attached to a decision by the Manitoba Court of Appeal may signal the start of a tougher attitude toward marijuana offenders in provincial courts.

Mr. Justice A. M. Moonin, in his Reasons for Judgment, called on the courts to deal "adequately" with marijuana cases. He said Ontario and British Columbia found too late for their satisfaction—that inactivity is not the answer.

His reasons were attached to a decision on a Crown appeal against the sentence imposed on Francis Gerard McNeil, 25, who was fined $400 and sentenced to a month in jail by Magistrate John Knox. The appeal Court increased the sentence to a year in jail.

McNeil had been charged with possession of marijuana for trafficking.

Your Car

Thermostat Performs Vital Function

By RAY STAPLEY

Many readers have asked me to explain the function and purpose of the engine's thermostat.

The thermostat is a little device which is buried away in the front upper section of every engine. The old adage "out of sight, out of mind" certainly applies to this important unit. When it fails or is left out altogether the engine, particularly in cold weather, is doomed in a short life. The purpose of the thermostat is to raise the temperature of the coolant inside the engine block just as quickly as possible to about 180-195 degrees F and maintain that temperature at all times when the car is in operation.

In our homes we manually put the thermostat in the desired room temperature and the heating unit automatically turns off and on to maintain this level. With our cars the temperature of the coolant inside the block automatically actuates the engine's thermostat. When below normal operating temperature, the thermostat remains closed and circulation of the coolant is restricted to within the block. At a predetermined temperature the thermostat automatically opens, restoring normal circulation through the radiator. A variation of only a few degrees actuates the thermostat on and on short runs in cold weather it may be constantly opening and closing in order to control engine temperature. This points up the stress under which this unit operates and like any other moving part it can eventually cease to function accurately, or fail completely.

Why is it essential that the engine reach normal operating temperature as quickly as possible? Each time a cold engine is started, especially in freezing weather, moisture collects inside the engine which turns into tiny water bubbles and mixes with the lubricant. This is more readily understood when we compare it with the condensation or frost that settles on the windshield. While it is simple to clean the glass in order to get it (the moisture) out of the engine it is necessary to reach the oil temperature at the point where the water vaporizers and is expelled through the engine's breaching system. When the thermostat is defective or the engine operates without one, the oil may never be sufficiently dry to form this sludge. This sludge then forms. This sludge can restrict or completely block the various oil passages supplying vital lubricant to every moving part of the engine. Also, engine performance and fuel economy are considerably reduced by a cooling running power plant.

The thermostat is also responsible for assuring an ample supply of hot water to the car's heater. A clog in a defective thermostat is when the heater produces only a cool or lukewarm draft. But remember, as well as providing passenger comfort, the thermostat plays an essential role in minimizing engine wear and to neglect this unit can prove disastrous.

NOTE: Letters from readers with car problems are most welcome, but please include: Year and model, number of cylinders, mileage, make of car, make of engine, make of transmission, make of radiator, make of water pump, make of oil, and a self-addressed envelope.

Mississippi Silt Seen

Possible Earthquake Cause

CHICAGO (AP) — An expert on earthquakes says the cause of Saturday's quake that jolted residents of 22 states and southern Ontario may be linked to millions of tons of silt deposited annually by the Mississippi River in the Gulf of Mexico.

The great river systems at the mouth of the Mississippi triggered a seismic event on the vast continental shelves beneath the earth's crust.

"The weight of the silt depressed one end of the block and tipped up the other,"

However, he said, he doubts that there will be any follow-up tremors.

"That was a kind of safety valve. The pressure which had been built up has been released."

School Board Candidates

Belleville

Elizabeth McFarlane

Mrs. A. H. (Betty) McFarlane has announced she will seek nomination as a candidate in the school board elections.

Mrs. McFarlane has been a prominent in community activities since arriving in Belleville from Montreal over a year ago. She was chairman of the successful United Community Fund campaign which ended last night.

A graduate of McGill University in psychology, she is a former high school teacher and past chairman of the McGill Alumni Association's committee on continuing education. She was instrumental in instituting a night school teacher training program at McGill for secondary school teachers.

Mrs. McFarlane held executive positions in the Montreal United Appeal for nine years and was an organizer of students' conference at McGill.

"As both a teacher and a community worker I feel I can bring to the new board a broad knowledge of the two institutions involved in education," she said today.

"My extensive experience has taught me how to squeeze every cent of value from the dollar," she added.

Mrs. McFarlane's husband is director of students' services at Loyola College, a daughter now attending McGill University and a son taking post-graduate studies at the University of Toronto. She is employed as a real estate broker for the firm of Bowes and Gosses Ltd.

MRS. A. MCFARLANE

Trenton

Jean Hutchinson

TRENTON—The vice-chairman of the Trenton Board of Education today announced that she will be running for a position on the new Hastings County Regional School Board.

A regional post of a lot of hard work, "the looks into area" as a challenge for those interested in the school system," she said today.

The three-year tenure of the Trenton board sees the main benefit of the regional unit as one allowing all areas to gain from special education courses that would be otherwise unavailable under the present system.

"We might not get as much attention in the smaller local matters but the advantages obtained from special education courses should well outweigh this," she said.

Mrs. Hutchinson believes that a regional post is not a political job as a result should not be based on such.

"The campaign as well as the job itself have no political overtones and I believe that those running do not have the money nor the inclination to make a political campaign where he or she can afford."

Mrs. Hutchinson is married with three children and she says that her post on the board is her first.

MRS. J. HUTCHINSON

Bancroft

F. John Follis

F. John Follis, a veteran of many years of service on Bancroft area school boards, will be a candidate for the county school board election in ward 2.

Ward 2 is made up of Bancroft village and the townships of Farway, Walsdale, Lanesburg, and Tucker and Cashel.

While serving as a member of the North Hastings District High School Board, Mr. Follis acted as vice-chairman and presided on the building committee which was played a prominent part in most recent expansion programs.

Mr. Follis, a resident of Bancroft since 1923, he is a past president of the North Hastings

Delegation Raps Council for Change of Heart

Both councillors and members of the delegation refused their stands.

Council was once again asked to not "regress" and to vote for the majority and being "unable to stick to its decision."

A verbal attack was launched by various members of the delegation. "The council had changed their mind in a secret meeting."

The vote went into the meeting on Wednesday was not planned to vote on the post office issue, the mayor replied.

The vote went to explain that the wording of the ballot became such a problem that council decided to make the decision later.

But that the vote was changed last night when the mayor saw the size of the delegation which he believed was "over 100."

A letter was read to council on behalf of the Trenton branch of the Canadian League of Women Voters.

"I must have been in the people."

"I would be satisfied until I know what the people think," the mayor declared. "In fact I must know" vote against rescinding it.

on a resolution to give the people a vote on the post office issue.

It was decided to vote on Wednesday, did this once again last night as he voted that the issue be put to a plebiscite.

Councillor Paul Tripp, J. King, and Mayor MacDonald voted to rescind the present bylaw to demolish the building, while councillor Ed Todd, Gerald Weaver and Ted Mayor MacDonald, who had cast his deciding vote on Wednesday, did this once again last night as he voted that the issue be put to a plebiscite.

Finally, the council members considered the delegation at its tonight meeting did not perform any useful function.

Councillor Parker labelled it a "recess" vote.

Councillor Todd said the delegation was not needed in the first place because council should be strong enough to carry on the town business.

Five Men Wave in Vain As Cars Whiz by Accident

By HARRY MULLHALP

Staff Reporter

Who needs an accident?

No one — and the doctor for no involvement these days even extends to coldly regarding the victims of a misadventure.

At least that's the charge made by a gey group known as the "Five Men" who were stranded in a highway 2-1/2 mile stretch of Shanownville.

The cars blocked out the way to St. John's Hospital in the area when the automobile struck a telephone pole.

The quintet all experienced what provincial police call a "bad break" — minor injuries when their car rolled over the side of a telephone side.

The five men — all workers on a transit Canada pipeline project — crawled from the wreckage and tried to flag down a passing car.

Finally, claimed, Harry Parker, 71-year-old driver of the wrecked car, one of his companions helped by waving automobile by stopping into its path.

He was then driven to Shanownville to get police and an ambulance.

Meanwhile, the rest of the passengers waited for motorists drawn by the scene of the crash.

"At least 10 cars must have gone by," said Parker. "They could see us and the car — it was overturned on its side" — and not one stopped.

"Because of the discomfort by motorists, Parker claimed, it was about a half hour from the time of the mishap until the ambulance arrived.

The five later returned to the wreck to retrieve personal possessions after treatment for cuts and bruises at Shanownville General Hospital.

Provincial police said the ambulance covered off of control on a curve, took out a small bus and left the pole burning to rest on its side.

The passengers were William Walters, 21, William Dwyer, 22, Michael Anderson, 18, and Robert S. Inker, 28. All are temporarily residents of Belleville during the pipeline installation in the area.

MacIntyre, a Bell Telephone spokesman said phone service in the area would be restored by noon today.

Northern Search

Trenton Planes in Rescue Bid

TRENTON — The search and rescue unit of the Canadian Forces Base here today was organizing a massive search for the four occupants of a single-engine plane missing since Monday in Northern Ontario.

The Comanche aircraft left the Lakehead at 3 p.m. yesterday headed for Sault Ste. Marie.

Authorities at CFB Trenton, were informed of the missing plane last night and since then a total of four planes from here have been sent on the search.

Even Judge Gets Security Checks as Ray's Trial Scheduled

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (CP) — James Earl Ray's new lawyer, Jerry Foreman, said yesterday that Ray's trial in the District of Columbia would be held in the city.

Foreman, a criminal lawyer from Birmingham, Ala., said Ray's trial would be held in the city.

Ray, who was on the go to trial in Shelby County criminal court on charges that he killed Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., was held to the city's striking garage collector.

In the current issue of Look magazine, Ray is said to have been the only one to be killed in "some sort of plot to kill King" eight months after the assassination.

Meanwhile, authorities threw up what they hope will be a solid security screen around the court area.

Finally, security checks by hundreds of police began before dawn today.

An entire city block was cordoned off around the court and security areas within the 45-year-old steel and concrete building will be patrolled by armed men.

UN Talked World Out of War: Graham

Despite its critics, the United Nations has literally talked the world out of a third universal war, a distinguished Canadian soldier claimed last night.

Since its inception the UN has been under fire but has outlasted its critics, Lt. Gen. Howard Graham, former chief of the general staff involved in a Remembrance Day banquet that drew more than 200 veterans to the Belleville army.

Charges are made that the UN general assembly "talks too much," said Gen. Graham.

"But I must say you would think the trend of events in the last 30 years, you would think that talking about it, the United Nations has kept the world from another great conflagration."

The UN and other political organizations following the UN's lead.

The UN's goal of a desire to prevent a repeat holocaust, he said.

The Bank of Nova Scotia introduces the Cheque Guarantee Card.

What's it good for?

Paying by cheque, your own personal cheque, even in places where you're a complete stranger. Cashing cheques without question, delay or embarrassment.

What's so different about this card?

1. It carries your photograph. In living colour. This is proof positive that you are who you say you are. 2. It is proof positive that The Bank of Nova Scotia guarantees payment of your cheques. Anytime. Anywhere.

It's the photograph that does it. Your Scotiabank Cheque Guarantee Card introduces you with instant face-to-face identification. So there's absolutely no risk to the person who's accepting your cheque.

Another advantage. If you should happen to write a cheque for more than you have in your account, there's an automatic line of credit built right in.

What does the card cost you?

Two dollars. And that's it. There's no cost at all to the person who's accepting your cheque.

Come into The Bank of Nova Scotia. We'll photograph you with our special colour camera.

When you get your Cheque Guarantee Card, carry it at all times. Present it whenever you write a cheque. In a store. In a restaurant. Anywhere.

No delay, no embarrassment, no questions asked.

Scotiabank guarantees your cheques. Anywhere.

The Bitter End

Wrapping their bare legs in a blanket, Trenton High School cheerleaders Sandra Belford and Jeanne Collin endured three hours of yesterday's bitter wind preview, while watching their senior Tiggers with a COSSA football tie in Oshawa. (For story, see first page, second section.)

Snow Haviest at Picton

By HARRY MURHAU.
Winter buffeted across Eastern Canada yesterday, striking the Belleville area only a passing blow. Hardest hit Quebec community was Picton where snow to 24 inches fell along the Lake Ontario shoreline during the day.
The storm pelted out as it moved further north, in Belleville, 15 inches and falling to 8 a.m. today. At Bancroft only an inch was recorded.
The storm precipitated a plunge in temperatures. The mercury dipped to 20 degrees in the Belleville area and tonight's low is forecast at 20 degrees.
A few flurries are forecast for the Bay of Quinte during the day, but "won't amount to anything," says the weatherman at Canadian Forces Base, Trenton.

Trenton Industry Bonuses Bad and Illegal -- Expert

Administration Is Called Weak

By BOB AVERY, Staff Reporter.
TRENTON — Trenton's means of attracting industry have been labelled both bad and illegal in an economic survey made public today.
The report, which was begun four months ago by the Eric Hardy Consulting Ltd., also lashed out at the town's administrative problems and declared that the property under Trenton's jurisdiction is in need of total re-assessment.
The report says that granting bonuses in aid of industrial development is "a breach of law" but that it is carried on throughout the province.
"While Trenton's bonusing of industry has been illegal it has so far brought no penalty, despite the full knowledge of the town council and, we presume, a number of Trenton citizens," provincial government, the report reads.
Although this bonusing operation is prevalent throughout Ontario the report says Trenton has reached extreme proportions with this practice and its own name can be haled as an interested party because an interested industry may take court action.
The consultant would like to see money spent so all property holders and people would benefit, as well as to take the emphasis off aiding industry in an attempt to obtain maximum tax savings.
The money gained from industry is still not enough to cover the service costs, low cost of land sales, and low industrial assessments, the report said.
Trenton's administration also came under strong attack.
"The Trenton administration has been inept," the report said.

It's Easy to Smile

It's sometimes easier to smile when you're young. One of those times came yesterday for five-year-old Janna Varinsky as she sat on a pile of suitcases at Belleville CN station. For her parents, it was a different story. They had just arrived — after putting out a way of oppression in Czechoslovakia. (For details, see Page 3.)

It will be cold tonight but mostly sunny tomorrow. The storm blew into Belleville in the early afternoon, peaking during the evening rush-hour.
Provincial police and municipal police reported a rash of accidents during the blow before automobile travel was recommended for the cold, winter weather.
The Village Police was on the fringe of the storm, that landed navigation along the St. Lawrence Seaway, and cancelled flights from Montreal's International Airport.
Up to six inches of snow was dumped in an area from the Quebec border to west of Kingston.
Thomas Shaker, a rural mail carrier, was killed when his Jeep collided with a truck four miles north of Kingston in blinding snow.

THE WEATHER

Synopsis: Light snow or snow flurries can be expected today throughout Ontario with some likelihood of heavier snow and sleet south of Lake Huron and over the Niagara peninsula. Winds will strengthen by evening and tonight will be mainly clear and quite cool. Milder air and some cloudiness will spread across the Lake Huron.

Negro Gunmen Mow Down Five In Raid on Civil Rights Office

BOSTON (AP) — Five men were killed in the headquarters of a civil rights organization today and shot to death the group's founder and two other men, police said.
Two men were wounded and identified as Cornell Eaton and Ronald King.

Fred Ross, 41, the organization's public relations director, and Ronald Hicks, 21, were wounded.

Rose told police five Negro men rang the doorbell, and when he answered the invaders pushed their way in, yelled, "Where's the money, where's the money?" and started firing. Rose said he crawled under the desk after he was shot, but one of the men stuck a gun under the desk and fired again.
The office is on the second floor of a building in the Roxbury section, a predominantly Negro neighbourhood.
New England Grass Roots Organization patrols the area, in cooperation with Boston police.

Hospital Commission Seeks Cripple's Award

TORONTO (CP) — A Toronto man is suing the Ontario Hospital Services Commission in an effort to retain the bulk of a $120,000 settlement awarded him in connection with a 1964 car accident that left him a cripple.
Manuel Diaz, 21, who is confined to a wheelchair, testified Tuesday at an Ontario Superior Court hearing that the commission demanded all but $50,000 of the award.
Diaz, a Portuguese immigrant who was employed as a 17½-watt machine operator when he was accident, said he is willing to pay the commission $15,711 plus costs.
The commission claims that it paid $27,538 for treatment to Diaz so far last June 27 and that he will need future services. The commission claims that Diaz agreed to a $50,000 settlement.

Quebec Board Was Involved In Liquor Shipment -- Lesage

QUEBEC (CP) — Opposition leader Jean Lesage says he has reliable information that Quebec liquor board employees are being used to distribute liquor through back channels, over the Niagara peninsula. Lesage will attack by evening and tonight will be mainly clear and quite cool. Milder air and some cloudiness will spread across the Lake Huron.
The question arose in the legislature as a result of police seizure of almost $100,000 worth of liquor during the weekend in suburban Yvelin.
The name of Audebert D'Ajou, a supporter of the Union Nationale government, in the legislature, has been linked to the seized liquor. The member for Komarova was absent from the legislature Tuesday but Mr. Bertrand said he would make a statement "required in circumstances."
More than 9,000 bottles of liquor were taken from a van belonging to Transport D'Ajou Ltee. Mr. Lesage pressed the commission Tuesday to confirm or deny that the D'Ajou is a majority shareholder in the company.

The liquor seizure Friday night was the biggest since 3,000 employees of the Quebec Liquor Board went on strike June 26.
Mr. Lesage asked Tuesday that the liquor board's group of managers be questioned before the committee on government boards.
Premier Bertrand objected. He said the committee was called into session to study any policy and the committee meeting was not the place to begin such a discussion which could lead to "disorderly" debate.
Furthermore, Mr. Bertrand argued, both sides in the dispute had requested that adjourned until 2:30 p.m. EST today to enable negotiations to continue. He proposed adjournment. I m e d i e t e l y .
Mr. Lesage insisted that the commission be wanted to ask would determine whether the liquor board had kept "the balance of forces" during negotiation by permitting deliveries that in effect were breaking the strike.

Mr. Bertrand said he had asked these questions of liquor board officials and "the answers were in the negative." The premier claimed that the common good required that no negotiations continue immediately.
The Liberals introduced an amendment to the premier's adjournment motion, asking that the liquor board's general manager appear today, but the government defeated the motion by a vote of 59 to 5.
Mr. Bertrand, also justice minister, elaborated Tuesday on events leading to the seizure.
He said: "Vanderpool liquor board a trailer truck belonging to Transport D'Ajou Ltee, and another truck belonging to D'Ajou Ltee."

Czech Leaders Work Desperately to Avoid Riots

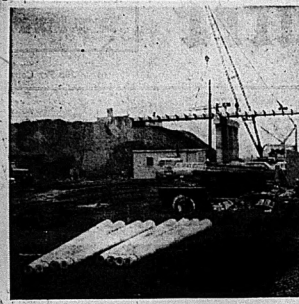

PRAGUE (AP) — Czechoslovakia's Communist leaders would desperately like to keep young demonstrators off the streets while they wage a power struggle behind closed doors.
Party chief Alexander Dubcek told students leaders today would be used to stop them if they demonstrate Sunday.

Dubcek's reform leadership faces a crucial power struggle with old guard Communists at a meeting beginning Thursday of the 110-member party central committee. The Dubcek group fears that more demonstrations will result in Soviet intervention to return the old guard to power.

The 11-member party presidium issued a statement condemning those who "organized" demonstrations Oct. 28 and Nov. 7 when tens of thousands of Russians gathered in front of the Soviet flag.

Student groups appealed to Dubcek to authorize a demonstration Sunday in commemoration of the 1968 invasion and express opposition to doing anything that would "organize" foreign armies. The student group stressed the demonstrators were not organized by the party.

tion would not be anti-Soviet, but resentment against the occupation made this unlikely.
Informants said Dubcek refused authorization and that the demonstrators were not organized by the party.

Bridging the Bay Bridge Gap

Pre-stressed concrete deck slabs for the new CPR-Bay Bridge Road overpass are expected to be all in place this afternoon. Still remaining to be done is pouring of the finish concrete deck, sidewalks, and approach slabs and installation of sidewalk railings. Plans call for completion of the overpass structure in time for winter use, but paving of the approach ramps may have to wait until spring.

Town Tax Road Unfair Trenton Council Told

is obviously lacking in numerical strength and in the power qualifications of some of its officials in comparison with other municipalities," said the complaint.

As a result the report recommends the town have a study made of its administration with the object of obtaining recommendations for "improved staffing and organization of its administrative possibilities."

The report also studied assessment levels in Trenton and the results show that once again the benefits less than industry.

In 1935 the report says industrial assessment was 2 per cent below what it should have been, compared to its residential counterparts.

This resulted in a loss of $44,000 in untaxed commercial and industrial land. Mr. Hardy stated in the report that he believed Trenton had not conducted a complete assessment for 20 years, the last substantial work being done in 1915.

As a result he believes "it is not a situation which is worse as each year that goes by following a multiplicity assessment involves fresh inquiries that more often set inquiries that are rectified."

In Trenton's case, with major work on reassessment being done, Mr. Hardy suggested the whole situation be checked immediately.

And because of the new report school boards and the provincial board of assessment, Mr. Hardy believes Trenton can "escape the reassessment chaos."

As a result the report recommends that the town either transfer the reassessment responsibility to a larger unit of administration, the county of Hastings, or commission a reassessment to a larger unit of adequate consulting service.

And in the case of expansion, the same is once again focused on the industrial assessment as the commission seat an immediate need to lead reassessment of the town's industrial or commercial purposes.

The report suggests that the present need to attract investment in the town is a factor which it would be wise to destroy residential development.

Currently there is enough room in the town for the industrial park to have been expanded.

At local and outside towns boundaries, the report suggests no annexation for two years, as this would cause too much of a strain on the fiscal and administrative resources.

In the field of urban renewal Mr. Hardy feels that the town is forced to move forward because of lack of funds and personnel. The program of work is to be determined without more study.

And that is the problem of long discussions and tedious reports, the report says. The report of the old post office, which caused delay.

The report strongly opposes the establishment of an urban renewal staff which is not an integral part of the town administration and fully responsible to the chief administrator.

To strengthen the town's community and urban renewal program, the report recommends that a committee be organized to suggest ways to improve the planning of work assignments and utilize the town's consultants more effectively.

Cunningham to Run

"AMALIASBURG—Amaliasburg news. Cunningham has changed his mind and is giving serious consideration to running for a third term in office.

Earlier it was public on two separate occasions since his resignation from the post in 1934, Cunningham announced his intention to run for a third term in office.

The reason he gave for dropping out of the race was to devote more time and effort to new endeavors in the town.

Heve Cunningham said the council meeting last night had reconsidered his decision to retire from township office and he had decided to run for a third term in office.

School Board Candidates

Belleville

Everett Fairman

Retired elementary school principal Everett S. Fairman will run for election to the county school board Dec. 2.

A native of Campbellville, Mr. Fairman has lived in Belleville since 1922. He served as a principal or vice-principal in Belleville schools for 28 years before his retirement last June. He was appointed a member of the Belleville Public Board in September. Mr. Fairman spent five years on active service with the Canadian army and commanded the 88th Light Anti-Aircraft Battery from the Ontario front until the end of the war. He retired from the militia in 1948 with the rank of lieutenant-colonel and was awarded the efficiency decoration for 20 years of service.

"I feel that all the administrative experience I gained in community organizations will stand me in good stead as a trustee," Mr. Fairman said. He was a member of the Hastings County Advisory Board for the blind for over 20 years and is a past-chairman of the board.

Mr. Fairman is also a past president of the Belleville Kiwanis Club and the Bay of Quinte Golf and Country Club. He is an elder of Bridg St. United Church and a life member of the Belleville Home and School Association.

He has served as a director of the Belleville United Appeal, the Community Council Association and the Children's Aid Society.

Raymond Rowe

Raymond Rowe of Frankford has announced he will stand for election to the new Hastings County Board of Education.

Mr. Rowe has been a member of the Bay of Quinte District High School Board since 1959. He is a past chairman of the board and also has served as chairman of several standing committees.

He has served on the Frankford Public School Board and Frankford Council.

Owner and operator of Rowe's Furniture and Floral Service, Frankford, Mr. Rowe is a past president of the Bay of Quinte District Directors' Association.

He is married and has three daughters.

James Clarke

James Clarke, chairman of Bay of Quinte District High School Board, announced today he would be a candidate in the county school board election Dec. 2.

Mr. Clarke is married and has a son and daughter, enrolled at Sir John A. Macdonald School. His wife is a former public school teacher and an executive member of the Home and School Association.

Mr. Clarke is an assistant warden of St. Thomas Church and Canadian representative to the American Prefecture Council Institute at its recent convention.

Mr. Clarke is also chairman of the interim school boards charged with piloting the 12 county school boards through the change-over to one county unit of administration.

Mr. Clarke was born in England in 1935 and holds an honors engineering degree from the University of Bristol. He came to Belleville in 1958 and is now a vice-president of Wilson Concrete Products.

He was appointed to the Bay of Quinte District High School Board in 1965, and served as chairman of both the budget and education committees in 1965 and 1967. Early in 1968 he was elected chairman of the newly-created interim school board.

Mr. Clarke said, "A large student enrolment and the joining of the elementary and secondary schools under one system will ensure us in providing the best service and new programs needed today."

"I believe my experience as chairman of the largest board in the county and as chairman of the county organization committee will be of use in achieving that for our children at a cost acceptable to the taxpayer."

Choice of Director Most Important Decision

The new Hastings County Board of Education, slated for election this fall, will make a more important decision than its choice of a director of education.

Members of the interim committee, formed to pilot the change-over from small local boards to one, county-wide, educational administration, heard this advice from Archibald Turner, director of education for Mississauga.

Mr. Turner, a brother of former BCI principal William Turner, together with Samuel Chapman, superintendent of Secondary schools for York Central and Harley Hastings, spent a business administrator for Oakville schools, spoke to trustees and school officials last night at Central Secondary School.

The appearance of the three-man team of officials, from large boards of education, which have already experienced the throes of amalgamation, was sponsored by the department of education.

The task is to outline the problems facing the new boards and advise on the best administrative procedures to follow.

"Trustees are afraid the director of education, designated by the chief administrator or by legislation, will run the show," Mr. Turner said. "Well, that's what you hire him for."

The director will be responsible for all the personnel in the system," he warned the trustees. "Keep out of administration, because as soon as you dabble in it you can no longer hold your director responsible."

His words were echoed by Mr. Chapman.

"Because trustees are afraid of domination by the director, they have a tendency to search out a man weak enough for them to manage. Such a director could be easily led by others and would set up a weak and colorless system," he said.

Mr. Turner told the trustees they would have to pay a $25,000 to $30,000 annual salary for a director. His board has set Dec. 18 as the deadline for appointment of a director, and three other interim committees in the province have recommended that their directors be appointed before the end of December.

Mr. Turner demolished the idea that service on a county-wide board would be as at most full time job for trustees.

"Members of our board spend an average of eight hours a month on school business," he said. "We hold two trustees meetings a month, but when we first set up the large unit we met once a week to get through the business of hiring personnel," he explained.

"Policy by precedent" will be the rule for boards during their first six months of operation, Mr. Latham said. After the boards have cleared up the administrative details of the change-over they can concentrate on making policy decisions to influence the course of education in their area in the future.

Communication with parents will be essential for the smooth operation of larger units, Mr. Turner said.

"Your board must have some air into the community," he said. "We hold two trustees meetings a month, but when we first set up the large unit we met once a week

Christmas Pudding! Mine is really nicely, double wrapped in wax paper and foil in the refrigerator. We had a previous incident. The first comment from his critics was its sweetness — green and red and white bits and pieces of pearl cherries and white almonds could be seen through the dark red batter.

Of course flavor is of major importance with it, and it is that — the richness you always hope for. But the ease of preparation will appeal to busy cooks. After you've crumbed the bread every ingredient simply is measured and dumped into a large bowl in order listed and given a final vigorous stirring. Eat recipe in half for small families.

during storage). If you have a large bowl of pudding not turning out neatly, line mould with I bread strip of doubled heavy duty paper. Ann Landers

Improper Signature Results in Confusion

DEAR ANN LANDERS: This may seem like a trivial problem but it is a very serious one. Please tell your readers that when they admit themselves to the hospital or sign an insurance form or a legal document to please use their legal names and not a nickname or a shortened version of their first name.

I work in a hospital and the confusion and the number of hours wasted because people sign themselves in under nicknames and shortened names is fantastic. Example: Two weeks ago we had an Ann Larson although her real name was Anna Maria Larson. Added to that confusion, we had an Ann Larson whose name was Anna Larson. The relative of these women went into trying to find them. Anna Maria Larson's baby was tagged as the son of Ann Larson. This misinformation became part of his birth certificate and it was a mess. Once wrong information appears on a legal document, hours of extra work are required to make a change. The investment with medical insurance is another mess. If the name of the patient is not exactly the same as the name on the health policy, it can mean miles of red tape and months of waiting for the money.

So please, Ann Larson, I mean Ann Landers, tell them, will you? — SLAP HAPPY.

DEAR HAPPY: You did it and I hope they listen.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I am a widower who has been going with a widow for over a year. I am 52. My wife is 43. My children are married. Hers are in high school. I want to marry Nina and have told her so. She says she is not ready to give me a definite answer but has promised to do so before the year is out. I am almost certain she will say yes and I am not pressuring her.

The problem: Nina is affectionate when we are alone but in the presence of her family, particularly her mother, she is very formal and acts as if we are nothing more than casual acquaintances. She does not even allow me to hold her hand. Isn't this ridiculous for a woman her age? — RESCUTTER.

DEAR R: No, I think Nina is demonstrating good judgment. Apparently she is not ready to make any announcements, and until she is ready, she wants you to keep your hands to yourself in the presence of her family.

DEAR ANN: I am 41. My husband is 44. We have three wonderful children — industries and respectful. Jim went into business and is doing well. We have good health, a pretty house, two cars and all the comforts an upper-middle class family could ask for. But I am not genuinely happy. I feel restless and unhappy. Something is missing from my life. What is it? — MISS JOYLESS.

DEAR MISS: Trouble. Real trouble. That's what's missing. Stop giving and appreciate what you have while you still have it.

Chapman - Burshaw

Rev. D. Hawkins officiated at the double-ring ceremony at Christ Anglican Church, Belleville on November 7, when Patricia Jean Burshaw, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James A. Burshaw of Belleville, became the bride of Gerry Wayne Chapman, son of Mr. Lionel Chapman of Ottawa, and the late Mrs. Chapman. John Withers, church organist, rendered the traditional wedding music while the choir boys sang two selections.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a floor-length gown of white tulle and lace. The groom featured light-colored trousers and a round neckline with a bow-tied vest.

Young Designer Takes Course in Painting

VANCOUVER (CP) - If the fashion industry has anything to say about it, pretty Jacqueline Halburton of Vancouver won't have too much time to pursue a career in painting.

Miss Halburton, in her early 20s, is taking courses at California's select Chouinard Institute of the Arts in Los Angeles and says she wants to be a painter.

United States fashion firms that want to hire her permanently when she completes her four-year course at Chouinard last this fall.

Miss Halburton said she has built a made up her mind on whether to stick with painting or try her hand in the busy competitive and culturally uncertain commercial design field.

Students Plan Fashion Show

For the past few weeks students of the Communications Arts Centre at Loyola College have been preparing one of the major projects for this term - a fashion show to be held at the College, Wednesday, next, Wednesday evening November 20 at 8 p.m.

Most planning and arranging has been done with the students fully responsible for stage setting, lighting, poster making, publicity and the many other preparations involved in this type of endeavor. The female students assisted by others model various apparel through the courtesy of Stanley's Ladies' Wear of Trenton, with hairpieces from Jewell Bremrose and shoes from Bonita Shoe Store, in Belleville.

This being a important project for the Communications Arts students it is anticipated that a large number of students from Trenton, Belleville and area will attend. There will be a minimal charge and tickets will be available at the door.

Won Slaves

LONDON (AP) - Essex grandmother Nan Taylor, 79, won the service of two slaves as a prize in a bingo draw. Dance hall manager Paul Robinson and his assistant Mike Sargitt were then to command for a day. Nan's wish was an expensive lunch at London's Savoy Hotel and "somebody to put me up while I take it all in."

Successful Living

Some Fancy Themselves as Romeos

By DORIS CLARK

Dear Doris: I do baby sit for my former landlady, and landlady. They treat me very decently and I enjoy taking care of their two sons. This gentleman has stated several times that he would propose to me if his wife passed on. I entertain no feelings for him beyond distant respect. Even if his wife passed on I could not accept his proposal.

Otherwise he has made no advances towards me. Could his statement be just a con game you feel he is serious? - Not a Candidate.

Dear Doris: As I may think he is. Some men fancy themselves as Romeos and love to receive favors they haven't earned. Better find another place to baby sit.

Dear Doris: Thank you for the list of books on helping older learners.

I've been observing my boy closely and have caught him reading with his hand over his eyes. I have asked him several occasions if his eyes bother him; he said no. Also, two years ago I took him to the eye specialist and he said the boy was O.K. I took him to a new young doctor in our town yesterday. He said he definitely has a cross eye, although separately his eyes have good vision.

They just don't focus together so he is making me a new appointment with a different eye doctor.

This is a bit of information that may help someone. When I doubt get a second opinion.

Grateful. Dear Grateful: It just seems impossible for some dating parents to see it when a beloved little one has a spirit. Even a specialist can miss it when the focus is only slightly off.

Eye trouble of this kind is a very common one, and often elusive - cause of reading difficulties. We appreciate your report.

U.S. Bishops Won't Intercede on Behalf of Punished Priests

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Roman Catholic bishops of the United States Tuesday turned aside a plea by punished Washington area priests for intervention in their dispute with their cardinal over the church ban on birth control.

The rebuff by the National Conference of Catholic Bishops came at a time when the church leaders were moving tentatively toward easing interpretation of Pope Paul's birth control ban so as to permit a choice of conscience for married couples.

But the bishops declined to take any step toward an effort to arbitrate the local controversy over the punishment of 46 priests by Patrick Cardinal O'Boyle for speaking out in favor of individual conscience.

Rev. John E. Corrigan, leader of the protesting priests, said Cardinal O'Boyle "has given no sign of good faith" in trying to reach a compromise.

Father Corrigan told a reporter: "Given Cardinal O'Boyle's intransigence up to this moment, the situation is hopeless unless the bishops act."

The bishops' spokesman, Most Rev. James P. Shannon of St. Paul, Minn., told reporters: "The conference is going to stay out of this."

The bishops maintained their tight secrecy on the proposed version of a pastoral letter on birth control, to be adopted at their five-day conference.

The draft is expected to consider by rule of personal conscience in birth control and therefore within the long-time ban controlled by the Pope in his controversial encyclical last summer.

VATICAN CITY (AP) — A leading Vatican cardinal declared Tuesday Roman Catholics questioning authority of their church hierarchy are playing with heresy.

The warning, issued by Patriarch Cardinal Felici in a signed editorial in the Vatican newspaper L'Osservatore Romano, was clearly an effort to help halt the tide of objection to Pope Paul's stand on birth control, priestly celibacy and church reform.

It also was aimed at priests and nuns clamoring for a greater voice in running the church.

The cardinal said the church is not a democracy.

Over 80 Per Cent of Canadians Now Enrolled in Health Plans

TORONTO (CP) — The chairman of the Canadian Conference on Health Care criticized the federal government Tuesday for what he called its lack of flexibility in its medical care program.

J. K. Macdonald pointed out figures at the conference's annual meeting to support his contention that "rigid conditions for enrollment" are imposed by the federal government in connection with its medical care plan.

He said figures from the conference's annual survey of voluntary health insurance in Canada showed that 12,211,000 people—82.4 per cent of the population—were voluntarily enrolled in health insurance and prepayment plans.

He said the remaining 2,664,000—or 14 per cent—came under federal plans as those for Indians and Eskimos and the armed forces, the compulsory medical care plan in Saskatchewan and social assistance programs operated both by the federal and provincial governments.

"On the basis of these figures we do not believe that there is justification for a federal medical care program that imposes rigid conditions for enrollment and administration," Mr. Macdonald said.

He said the survey shows that in four provinces—Ontario, British Columbia, Alberta and New Brunswick—the number of persons covered by medical plans alone reached more than 80 per cent. This did not include Saskatchewan, which has had a compulsory plan covering all residents since 1962.

"The federal government's insistence that these provincial plans must be changed, despite their success in order to qualify for federal financial contributions, is a tragedy," he said.

The Canadian Conference on Health Care is an association of major organizations active in the provision of health services and protection against health care costs.

Questions and Answers On Highway Travel

Ontario Motor League Eastern Ontario Club

QUESTION: We are spending a month on the West coast of Florida this winter and would like to visit a number of the popular resorts. Also, we would like a good fast route down, by passing cities. Could you please give us this information?

ANSWER: Florida's Gulf Coast has superb beaches and sunny days are cooled by the breezes of the water. The three principal resorts are: St. Petersburg, Sarasota and Clearwater. But there are many smaller resorts that are popular also.

In Tampa, the Beach Gardens are an outstanding tourist attraction. They are among the most modern recreational areas in the world. The animals roam free without the barrier of a fence. You can travel in a memorial train. In St. Petersburg, there are big new housing developments attracting many younger people making it a more relaxed town without losing its old charm. It used to be a popular spot mostly for retired people. Another worthwhile attraction there is the replica of HMS Boscawen, built by Nova Scotia craftsmen for the film "The Boat on the Bounty". The "Boscon Garden" at St. Petersburg have more than 5000 varieties of Florida plants and many colorful tropical birds.

Clearwater Beach is connected with the mainland by the landscaped, 2.5 mile drive of Garden Memorial Causeway. The beautiful white sand beach on the Gulf of Mexico is the main attraction, making it a very popular resort. The Clearwater Marina has a large sport fishing fleet. Boat for deep-sea fishing may be chartered daily.

Weeki-Wakee is a natural spring. 127 feet deep, located on U.S. No. 19 near Homosassa. It features a complete underwater observatory, with live murelids, 36 feet below the surface observed from an underwater observatory. Glass-bottom boats take you on a leisurely trip down a jungle river, passing many native wild animals and Indian trading posts.

Sarasota's chief attraction is the complex of buildings on a 45-acre estate, built by millionaire circus owner John and Mable Ringling and now owned by the Ringling Art Gallery is housed in a reproduction of an Italian Renaissance palace. It is surrounded by formal gardens and the art collection includes works by Rubens, El Greco, Degas, Picasso, and others.

Sarasota Jungle Gardens have more than 1000 tropical plants and birds, making this a real garden lover's paradise. If you drive further south

Nigeria Halts Reporting Team

OTTAWA (CP) — The CBC has received a cable from reporter Norman Dalbey saying he and seven other reporters and cameramen were ordered out of Nigeria this week now by an officer of the federal forces.

The CBC reporter said the reporters and camera crews had complied with all procedures set out by Nigerian military police of defence and information but were ordered out of the area by Mr. Dalbey.

Mr. Dalbey said the editor told them he had not received their authorization to visit areas where federal forces are fighting against secessionists from the Biafra region.

Last month the 30-year-old Col. Adedokun, known as the Black Scorpion, threatened to ship Maj. Gen. Arthur Rashed, a Swedish government observer, and accused Col. E. B. L. Pinnigton, a member of the Canadian observer team of being in Nigeria to improve his chances of promotion.

Col. Adedokun has been the target of the observers when the team refused to follow a pre-arranged Nigerian tour schedule.

Future Is Troublesome Singapore PM Claims

OTTAWA (CP) — Prime Minister Lee Kuan Yew of Singapore said Tuesday that Singapore is a great tourist attraction. Here, you may also take rides on glass-bottom boats, which will give you a superb underwater view of fish and beautiful plants.

Fast Route Down: Take 81 from Icy Lea Bridge to Scrampton, Pa. N. E. Turnpike to Allentown, Pa. No. 22 to Harrisburg, Pa. No. 82 to Baltimore, No. 66 to passing Baltimore to 201, take 34 to 86 to Onondaga, Florida and No. 75 to Tampa and St. Petersburg.

made for Southeast Asia. Britain is withdrawing from the Far East by that time and Mr. Lee said many U.S. troops may have left Vietnam.

Southeast Asia is "in for a very troublesome time," the 45-year-old prime minister said. Its destiny will be determined not by nations in the area but by those outside.

He named in this outside group the United States, Communist China, Russia, Japan, Australia, New Zealand, India and Pakistan.

Collection Agencies' Methods Reviewed

KITCHENER (CP) — Harassing telephone calls from collection agencies will be outlined under proposed amendments to the Criminal Code, a provincial consumer protection conference was told Tuesday.

V. J. Simme, registrar for collection agencies with the provincial department of financial and commercial affairs, told the conference that collection agencies in placing such calls often deny the debtor "his legal, civil and human rights."

Mr. Simme said the Ontario government's consumer protection branch is determined to protect debtors' rights.

"And I see that the federal government is trying to do this too by its current proposals to amend the Criminal Code, one of which would make it a criminal offence to place harassing telephone calls."

New Brunswick Outspoken

Hellyer Told Housing Job Demands Full Time Minister

SAINT JOHN, N.B. (CP) — Strident-talking New Brunswickers are telling Transport Minister Hellyer that his political responsibilities for housing should be given to a minister who could spend all his time on the problem.

Submissions prepared for presentation today to the Hellyer housing inquiry also suggest that the national housing problem requires a constitutional amendment—both to make new poor regions get a fairer deal and to let growing cities keep their provincial masters and bargain directly with Ottawa.

"Housing and urban development should be the responsibility of a separate minister to ensure that housing, social and welfare legislation operate in complement," says the Saint John Urban Renewal Committee.

The commission was taking to a theme stressed in Fredericton. Tuesday, the inquiry's first stop in New Brunswick—that housing programs should pay attention to human problems of social and economic growth as well as providing buildings.

The Saint John Town Planning Commission, echoing colleagues in the renewal group, calls for a new federal department within a full-time minister to "analyze, develop, coordinate, co-ordinate and implement a multi-faceted attack on municipal problems of housing and urban development."

The new minister should co-operate with other agencies in development of programs to provide transportation and light air and water pollution, among other urban needs, the planners say.

A review of the constitution should... permit close federal-provincial-municipal cooperation in housing and urban development.

"There a province might not be interested although its municipalities are. There should be provision for direct federal-municipal arrangements," the planning commission adds.

The city housing commission takes up the appeal for revised constitutional systems which would allow for regional differences in applying federal policies.

Federal policy has been geared to the needs of big cities to the detriment of small communities, the brief says. It cites an example of a few years ago when the Maritime, which needed housing, found federal funds reduced because there was a housing surplus in Toronto.

"The large centres are at times completely incoordinated with those of smaller centres and may even retard their growth," say the housing commission.

The Saint John Property Owners and Ratepayers Association urges reduced tax on property, even if higher income taxes were needed to replace them.

Later today, the team was scheduled to fly north to Campbellton for a three-hour stop before returning to Ottawa.

Mid-Canada Corridor Seminar Scheduled

TORONTO (CP) — The first of two major conferences to explore a long-range program for the economic development of a mid-Canada corridor will be held next Aug. 20 to 22 at Lakehead University.

Mid-Canada Development Corridor Foundation Inc. also announced Tuesday that the second conference will be held early in 1970, possibly in Quebec. No date or site has yet been selected.

The foundation is a non-profit corporation established to organize the conferences and raise funds.

Among the guest speakers at the first conference will be Dufré Robin, executive vice-president of Canadian Pacific Investments Ltd. and former premier of Manitoba, and Dr. O. M. South, chairman of the National Science Council. Delegates will study the economic development and potential land resources in Canada's habitable mid-north areas.

Under the concept, the corridor would run from Labrador through Quebec, Ontario and the western provinces to the Northeast Territories and the Yukon, following a northern route not yet developed.

Richard Robner of Toronto, who will be chairman of the two conferences, said that conference members will take part next fall in the field trip through the corridor.

A third of the participants in the conferences will visit Siberia and Sweden to see "all that has the Russian and Swedish achievements of creating new cities and industries in their northern regions."

Gibson Duplicates Denny

NEW YORK (AP) — Bob Gibson, St. Louis Cardinals' brilliant right-hander, was named the National League's Most Valuable Player today, capping an unprecedented pitchers' sweep of baseball's most coveted prize.

Gibson, a 22-game winner whose 1.1 earned run average was the lowest in league history, lost out on his MVP honors. Earlier, he captured the NL Cy Young Award as the unanimous choice of the voting members of the Baseball Writers Association of America. The double conquest by the 32-year-old fireballer, after Detroit ace Denny McLain took the American League MVP and Cy Young Award, marks the first time two hurlers have divided all four trophies. The writers picked one Cy Young winner from 1956 to 1965, then switched to one award for each league in 1967.

Gibson, who pitched 13 shut outs in leading the Cardinals to their second consecutive pen-sant, succeeds team-mate Orlando Cepeda as the NL MVP. He is the third St. Louis player in five years to earn the award. Ken Boyer having been selected in 1964.

Cepeda, the only unanimous selection for MVP in National League history, drafted to become a single vote this year.

Gibson, a veteran of nine seasons with the Cardinals, is the ninth pitcher MVP since the inception of the award in 1955.

Only Don Newcombe in 1956 and Sandy Kousser, in 1962, had won both the Cy Young for pitchers' and MVP awards.

In the Cy Young voting, Gibson received all 38 first places from the BBWA panel—two writers from each city. He got 14 firsts in the MVP balloting—then picking up the other 24—and outscored the leading Cincinnati outfielder 240-50.

The writers voted in 106 places, with a first worth 10 points, a second nine points, a third eight, and on down to one point for 30th.

Trenton Runner Meets Oshawa Trio

Not Again!

COLLINGWOOD, Ont. (CP) — Barrie Flyers defeated Collingwood Kings 6-3 Thursday in a tough Ontario Hockey Association Senior series game.

The winners stretched their undefeated record to nine wins and a tie for 10 points, six ahead of second-place Oshawa Flyers.

Bob Farham and Ron Vermette both scored twice for Barrie and Odo Adams and Wayne Weir added single goals. Chris Alexander, Joe Hume and Hec Brannan scored one each for Collingwood.

The win also ended a long drought for the Flyers in Collingwood Area. The last time Barrie won there was March 1, 1965.

Before 1:30 p.m. referee Jack Clancy called 22 penalties, including eight five-minute majors for fighting. At the start of the second period, Clancy assessed a rare call against both teams for failing to use the players listed on the official lineup.

Stamp Conversions Could Mean Difference

REGINA (CP) — The convert is considered one of the easiest plays in football. For Calgary Stampede, however, the extra point could deny them a berth in the Grey Cup final.

When they face Saskatchewan Roughriders here Saturday the opener of their best of three series for the Western Conference title, the Stampede will be up against a team that makes its opponents work for the point after touchdown.

The teams have met six times in the last year. Every game was decided by a margin of four points or less and Calgary missed conversions in five of them.

The Riders won four games in the Stampede's loss.

Here is a way the converts affected the season:

Nov. 1967 — The teams kicked two conversions apiece. Stampede 15-11 in the first game of the WFC final at Calgary.

N.A.S. — 22-Saskatchewan squared the series, winning 19-9 at Regina. A missed convert by Bill Goods prevented Calgary from forcing overtime by kicking a single in "the closing stages."

Nov. 22 — Saskatchewan 17-11 at Calgary. The game ended with the Stampede with a field goal range, but, forced into desperation, passed twice for a missed convert left them needing a touchdown to stay alive.

Jan. 26 — A missed convert by Larry Robinson made the difference as the Stampede lost 25-21 at Calgary. Goods, now a Rider, was successful on all three attempts.

Sept. 28 — Stampede won 38-33 in Calgary despite one miss in five tries by Brad McRae. Goods kicked four for four.

Oct. 18 — Saskatchewan virtually rolled down first place by winning 19-15 at Regina, scoring the go-ahead touchdown with less than two minutes to go. Over again, a missed convert prevented Calgary from tying it up with a field goal.

Robinson has kicked 216 conversions.

vice, more than any other WFC player in a 10-year career. His completion average this season was 80%. Against the Riders it was 70%.

Goods is considered so deadly as a short range pass-kicker that the Stampede picked him to replace Robinson last year. He averaged 80% during the regular schedule. In the playoffs the Riders knocked the figure down to 50%.

Trenton Seniors Turn Third Trick

OSHAWA (Staff) — Their third consecutive down-die effort yesterday produced a COSSA championship trophy for Trenton's Senior Tigers.

A seven, 20-0 overtime win over Oshawa College brought the Central Ontario "AA" football title to the Tigers, who two weeks ago were involved in a three-way battle for Bay of Quinte District honors.

A sixth 2-0 victory over Stata Secondary in the season's final game forced a playoff with R.C.I.'s Seniors. Trenton's grinding 1-1 victory over the Collingwood last Thursday set the stage for yesterday's dramatic COSSA win.

The Tigers had to cope with a 30-degree snow-blast afternoon, as well as an undefeated O'Neill Redmen team, to bring home Trenton's first senior football win in five years.

Ken Danlysh's 19 yard, off-side tackle, converted by a kick, just before the halfway point of a 15-minute, anytime period, provided the Trenton margin of victory.

An electrifying 67-yard pass and run by O'Neill finished off the game. Trenton's win, which would have given them a 21-0 lead, but Tiger defender John Garrett blocked the ball away to preserve Trenton's victory, except margin.

Garrett's 25-yard run earlier in the overtime period set up Danlysh's 20-yard

Trenton touchdown.

The two teams had battled a frigid wind and each other for three hours, only to exercise in a 23-13 deadlock, forcing the 15-minute overtime period.

Oshawa drove 103 yards in a series of ground plays that culminated with Shawn Dawson's end zone entry in the third quarter, to tie the score 12-12.

O'Neill's Brian Healy had opened the scoring with a one-yard plunge on the second Oshawa series of the game. A ruck gave the Redmen a 7-0 edge before a pair of second-quarter majors by halfback, Ian Neilson, and a conversion by Aftab Fessar yielded Trenton into a 13-7 lead.

Trenton defenders made the most of freezing temperatures, pouncing on three O'Neill fumbles and intercepting four passes. Defensive back Grant Patterson pulled down two interceptions for Trenton.

Huddling in blankets along the sidelines, the Trenton players roused one to the field at the completion of the overtime period, raised defensive captain Tim Howard onto their shoulders, and carried him and the COSSA trophy to the inviting warmth of the dressing room.

Meanwhile their coach, Tim Nipze, refused to single any of his charges out for praise, adding that Oshawa boys never gave up — they kept coming back.

THE PICK OF Punch

"We have the ideal marriage — I love me and he loves him."

OTTAWA (CP) — A federal labor department spokesman took a swipe Tuesday at the "national sentiment" of Canadians on the question of human rights.

The president of the Canadian Labor Congress matched this with the admission that organized labor in Canada has too long been guilty of taking human rights for granted.

And so it went at the opening of a three-day CLO-sponsored conference on human rights legislation in Ottawa. About 40 delegates, representing major Canadian unions, hoped the speakers lift a number of rocks to reveal discrimination in all its ugly forms.

George C. Blackburn, director of the labor department's fair employment practices branch, put it this way:

"We have lived with a national sentiment for so long, believing we had such an advanced enlightenment towards equality for all people that we are only beginning to recognize with a shock that perhaps we are just people after all—people capable of all the racial conceits, fears and anxieties of people everywhere."

CLO President Donald MacDonald said that many labor conventions had smacked of "amalgams and self satisfaction" on the human rights ques-

D. R. Coupland, CLO assistant director of legislation, gave delegates a capsule rundown on existing human rights legislation in Canada. Except for Ontario, there was no government—federal or provincial—with comprehensive, effective legislation.

Mr. Coupland noted that "in Quebec a married woman may not belong to a union under the Professional Brokers Act and her husband objects, and in Alberta, British Columbia, New Brunswick, Ontario and Prince Edward Island agricultural workers are denied the benefits of their respective industrial relations acts."

School for Spies May Yield Million Dollars

OSHAWA (CP) — Camp X, the school that turned students into spies, silent killers and demitise experts, could bring the government more than $1,000,000 when it is sold next year.

The 25-acre estate on the shore of Lake Ontario is worth "at least $4,000 an acre if it's used industrial or residential," says Lloyd Cowan, president of the Oshawa and District Real Estate Board.

The British government bought the land for $25,000 in 1941, says neighboring farmer W. H. Down. It, after using it as a spy school during the Second World War, Britain gave it to the Canadian government.

Since 1947 it has been a military communications relay station for far northern and overseas links to Ottawa, but this function will end early next year and the land will be sold, the defence department announced last month.

Squatting in the shadow of huge, red-and-white radio towers is a drab barn, where student spies slept on the floor and their instructors passed as G-2 agents.

The administration building with its one long corridor suitable for practicing hotel-style as assassinations, is deserted.

Everywhere, red and orange signs call the Official Secrets Act and the penalties for confessing.

Camp X was created by "the silent Canadians," Sir William Stephenson, who headed British intelligence on this side of the Atlantic.

One of its students from many allied countries was Ian Fleming, Royal Navy intelligence, creator of the fictional Agent 007, James Bond.

Only one student will stay behind when the camp is finally deserted next February. His grave, in Union Cemetery, north of the estate reads:

"In proud memory of our beloved son, Capt. Howard B. Burgess, Intelligence Corps. Died June 3rd, 1962, in his 27th year. Let us forget."

The cause of Capt. Burgess' death, the only one to occur at the camp, is buried in wartime secrecy, the number of students who passed through is also unknown.

Mrs. W. H. Down says the camp, part of her uncle's estate where she played as a girl, has "too many secrets."

Need Is Urgent

Doctors Ask Research Speedup

OTTAWA (CP) — Canada's medical research efforts are less than a roaring success, says a study by the men who are doing the work. They propose a well-planned and well-financed national program to improve the picture by 1972.

The study by 57 top men in every major area of medical science bristles with suggestions for low governments, universities and health groups can help.

It warns that the rate is urgent for more research personnel, money.

Their main argument is that success in Canada "depends in large part on the nation's health."

The study was submitted to the Medical Research Council, the chief federal agency for financial support of medical research, and was made public today by Dr. G. Malcolm Brown, council chairman.

Dr. Brown says in a foreword to the report that the importance of manpower, space and money and it is "highly reasonably" achieved in the next five years.

The study says Canada's capacity to train health professionals is too small and will be so even when the projected expansion is completed. While the objectives were short of ideal, they would help close the gap between the research being done and what must be done to provide quality medical care.

The 600-page analysis seemed to be medical science's bid for a major place in national science policy objectives now being shaped by the federal cabinet following the recommendations last month of the Science Council of Canada.

It makes these projections to 1972 on personnel, space and money.

—Investigations in medical schools and hospitals will number 2,306, a 50-per-cent increase over 1950-57.

—Laboratory and related research space will almost double to 3,000,000 square feet.

—Cost of research in medical school complexes will climb steeply from $25,000 in 1950-57 to $132,272,000 in 1972-73.

The key requirement at this stage of our development is an increase in the number of investigators," says the study.

This will mean attracting many trained people from other countries as well as turning out more research specialists at home.

With this view, the study states scores of recommendations at the Medical Research Council and the federal health department, starting with re-establishment of the council by act of Parliament through to increase in the size and scope of current grants, scholarships and awards.

—Establishment of one more department grants to the Institute of Microbiology and Hygiene, University of Montreal, and Connaught Medical Research Laboratories, University of Toronto, to help them develop new medical products.

—Provision of research support to medical units which provide patient treatment and research on specific research units.

—Financial support for establishment of more centres for education studies.

—Expansion by Medical Research Council of its activities in support of medical research to include major responsibility for supporting research in pharmacy and dentistry.

—Payment of children's allowances to research trainees as part of an expansion of the size and scope of Medical Research Council's low-laboratory grants and awards.

—Special federal health department grants to the Institute of Microbiology and Hygiene, University of Montreal, and Connaught Medical Research Laboratories, University of Toronto, to help them develop new medical products.

—Building of a "primate center" for the breeding of and research on apes and monkeys.

—Establishment of one more department grants to the Institute of Microbiology and Hygiene, University of Montreal, and Connaught Medical Research Laboratories, University of Toronto, to help them develop new medical products.

—Provision of research support to medical units which provide patient treatment and research on specific research units.

—Financial support for establishment of more centres for education studies.

Too Tough to Go Alone

U.S. Expects Saigon Soon to End Boycott of Peace Talks

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. defense officials say they believe that Saigon, faced with the prospect of having to settle its political differences with the Viet Cong alone, will drop its boycott of the broadened Paris peace talks.

This prospect appeared implicit in Tuesday's declaration by Defense Secretary Clark M. Clifford that the United States intends to go ahead with negotiations with Hanoi whether Saigon joins in or not.

Clifford said the United States and Hanoi could make big strides on the most immediate issues—military de-escalation, including steps toward withdrawal of troops. Other defense department officials said such an arrangement would leave Saigon to face the Viet Cong alone in the political struggle.

The view that South Vietnamese President Nguyen Van Thieu would end his boycott was disputed in Paris and Saigon.

In Saigon, South Vietnam's information minister, Tan That Thien, said if there are to be peace talks, then all parties must agree to Thieu's formula calling for his government to head the anti-Communist negotiations while the Viet Cong's National Liberation Front is subordinate to the North Vietnamese on the other side of the table.

Thien also said unless his government participates in the negotiations, it won't recognize a ceasefire or anything else agreed on that affects its vital interests.

Pham Dang Lam, head of Saigon's observers in Paris, said he does not think his government will change his mind and join the talks under the four-party formula that would bring the Viet Cong to the bargaining table on Hanoi's side.

Clifford's words were calculated to impress on the Saigon government that the United States does not intend to let its objectives stand in the way.

He also charged, in effect, that South Vietnam ran out at virtually the last minute on a four-party arrangement to which it had previously agreed.

SAIGON (AP) — North Vietnamese prisoners have shifted South Vietnamese territory from inside the demilitarized zone for the second time in three days, the U.S. command announced today.

A spokesman said the North Vietnamese fired 10 mortar rounds Tuesday into an military base of the South Vietnamese 1st Infantry Division four miles east of Con Thien. Light casualties were reported.

The DMZ since President Johnson's bombing halt Nov. 1 were reported Sunday when North Vietnamese shelled U.S. marine positions south of the zone, killing four marines.

UK Policy Move

Churchill's Daughter Welcomed by France

LONDON (CP) — The British policy of involving a Churchill in Britain's diplomatic relations with France may be paying off, say newspaper reports published here today.

"Officially there is the perpetual 'no,'" says The Sun, referring to President de Gaulle's veto of British entry into the European Common Market.

"But in the streets of Paris there are hands outstretched for Churchill's daughter."

Focus of all the attention in Mrs. Christopher Soames, wife of Britain's new ambassador in the French capital and youngest daughter of the late Sir Winston Churchill.

"People come up to me at parties all the time, practically with tears in their eyes, just to say how much they thought of him," the former Mary Churchill told The Daily Mail. "I find it very moving."

Although she has often met de Gaulle in the past and was a friend of his daughter in London during the Second World War, Mrs. Soames has not met him since coming to Paris with her husband two months ago. Sun reporter Amy Landwehr writes from the French capital.

"She has, however, been received by Mme. de Gaulle with, she says, 'great warmth and friendliness.' This friendliness is everywhere."

An elder daughter of the British couple now is studying for university entry examinations at the Sorbonne in Paris.

A younger girl, Charlotte Soames, has been sent to a new type of bilingual school in Paris.

Mrs. Soames, 45, always has been close to her mother, Baroness Spencer-Churchill, now 82. In hoping to travel to France from Britain for a family reunion at Christmas.

Heart Recipient Quickly on Feet

MONTREAL (CP) — Aldo Marlin, 42, victim recipient of a transplanted heart in Montreal, stood by his bed at the Montreal Heart Institute Tuesday and waved to his wife, about 12 hours after receiving the heart of a 15-year-old student. Later in the day, the hospital announced it would issue bulletins on Mr. Marlin's condition only if there were any "unusual developments." At that point, he was "improving very well," Mr. Marlin, father of three and a mill worker in Port Colborne, Ont., was the eighth recipient of a new heart at the Montreal Heart Institute.

Toronto Clergymen Promoting Discussion of Church Union

TORONTO (CP) — Two Toronto clergymen are working on plans to bring church congregations into discussion on the proposed union between the United and Anglican churches of Canada.

Canon Ralph Latimer and Rev. Robert Craig, recently appointed executive commissioners for church union, hope that discussions in various congregations of both churches will decide that the day of denunciations is finished.

First step in their plan to bring the laity directly into the discussions is a Dec. 4 meeting at Ottawa of the 48-member General Commission on Church Union. One session will be open in the public for questions and answers.

"Quite a few of our ministers have been saying there is impatience and apathy towards union among church members," said Mr. Craig, commissioner for the United Church.

This is partly because of the official silence that has been going on for 18 months during a period of study and organization.

Canon Latimer, an Anglican minister, said in an interview that public meetings are planned "so we can find out what people think of union. It's moving too slowly or too fast for them or even if they want it."

The commission may decide in its closed sessions to make public some of five separate commission reports being prepared to suggest possible ways of unifying the structure and beliefs of the two churches.

"We hope to get sections of the commission's final report out piecemeal so we can get membership reaction and revise parts if necessary," Canon Latimer said.

The complete report on a proposal for union is due in 1971 with the possibility of union in 1974 if both churches accept the plan.

Appointed executive commissioners in July, Canon Latimer and Mr. Craig have set up a joint office from which they organize the progress of negotiations. They consider themselves "brokers" between the general commission and the congregations that will be affected by unity.

Under their direction, 97 joint study committees made up of ministers and lay men and women, have been set up across the country.

In December the first joint study committees made up of ministers and lay men and women, have been set up across the country.

'Some Prejudice' Found Among Foes To Church Union

TORONTO (CP) — "Some prejudice and a great deal of the opposition" affect the views of church members opposing the proposed union between the United and Anglican churches

In Canada, Rev. Robert Craig, United Church executive commissioner for church union, said Tuesday.

"They don't know what the plan is or what it being done."

He said in an interview, Mr. Craig was commenting on statements earlier in the day by Rev. Carmichael of the Diocese of Peterborough, co-chairman of an Anglican group formed to oppose union.

Mr. of Canada, a member of one of the special committees of the general council claiming union, called for a membership vote on the issue and claimed that regular church members are anti-union.

Mr. Craig said that during visits to central Ontario and Montreal he found only a minority opposed to union and added that most congregations regularly when plans for union are explained.

Since the plans were still being prepared for final presentation in 1972, Mr. Craig said he could not understand how anyone could be opposed to "something that does not yet exist."

Under their direction, 97 joint study committees made up of ministers and lay men and women, have been set up across the country.

"Herringbone is very becoming on a person with a thin waist like yours."

Suspect in Assassination Plot Once Aden Secret Policeman

AL MATAWIE, Yemen (AP) — A husband, Raqan Namer, charged with his two sons of plotting to kill United States President-elect Richard M. Nixon, was reported by a cousin here Thursday as once having been a member of the secret police in Aden.

Hizam Namer Namer, 43, the cousin, told a reporter at a remote mountainous village that Ahmed had been a secret policeman before he went to the U.S. and took up residence in Brooklyn, N.Y.

Ahmed, 43, and his sons, Hussein, 28, and Adbo Ahmed, 18, were arrested Saturday in their apartment in Brooklyn and a rifle and a carabine were seized. Relatives here of the three Yemenis held in New York said certain letters should clear them.

"Please ask the state if America to ask about my letters to Ahmed in which I asked for guns," said Namer.

Letters found in the Namer apartment were being translated.

She produced two letters written from the United States. One from her husband said that a gun would be sent to her care of the boy Muhammad Bin Muhammad (Bismillah) in Ta'iz.

The other was from Adbo ad ressed to their local agent saying: "A gun will be sent to you by Muhammad Bin Muhammad Bismillah. I will send you the gun you go to Ta'iz where maybe you will receive it. What is important is that you are certain we are all yours." Ali Namer Ahmed Namer, 48, a cousin of Namer, who returned to Yemen a year ago after living 15 years in Brooklyn, related that he is identical to the Yemeni.

Strictly Personal Use Slang If It Fits

By SYDNEY J. HARRIS

Hardly a month passes that I don't receive a letter from some English teacher somewhere, wanting to know what I think about using slang. In most cases, these teachers would like me to buttress their resistance to the use of slang corrections by their pupils.

But I'm afraid I can't oblige them. My attitude toward slang is the same as my attitude toward any other kind of speech: One should use the most fitting word for the subject and the occasion, and if a slang phrase happens to fit best, it should be used.

Actually, there are three principal reasons for using slang, and only one of them is legitimate. The first reason is mental laziness. It is often easier to use a slang word, as a kind of verbal shorthand, than to use another and more precisely descriptive word.

The second reason is snobishness: the desire to seem as conversant, to be with in terms of the latest phrases, to show that you are not rusty and dusty and dated. (But, ironically, nothing dates faster than most slang, and by the time a phrase receives wide currency, it is already passe with the rest in group.)

The third reason, which I mentioned above, is the only good one that justifies slang: If the word or expression has a need that is not met by any other word in standard English.

And, of course, this is precisely the test by which words either die or pass into the permanent body of language. Hundreds, and even thousands of words that began as slang found their way into the dictionaries because they filled a real verbal need.

"Mosh," for instance, was adopted by lexicographers as the last-minute addition of the Latin phrase, "mobile vulgum." But the English language needed a word like "mosh," and quite sensibly adopted it and made it respectable.

It may surprise many to learn that "weekend" was a slang word and is only about 100 years old. Presumably to say "Friday" to "Monday," which was a clumsy mouthful; and "weekend," at first, meant, by purists, is now a word not only of English, but of world-wide usage. Yet its origin was a disparaging English teacher of the mid-19th Century.

The chief offense of slang is its faddishness; more slang is not more accurate, more colorful or more freighted with connotations than standard English, but only more "current." And when it is used not for fashion, it obscures language more than augmenting it.

Jeanne Dixon's Horoscope

For Nov. 16th.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): Heavy movements and half-baked ideas bring trouble. Be willing to wait a while if you are vulnerable; tension and anxiety create the worst.

Leo (July 23 - Aug. 22): Socialization and planning activities outside your normal channels will cause much disappointment. Improvements later won't turn out to be very timely and profitable.

Virgo (Aug. 23 - Sept. 22): Your energy is so near the surface that you may find yourself laboring for more than you can carry. Avoid the risks of physical planning.

Taurus (Apr. 20-May 20): Your energy is so near the surface for consolation. Where you are in charge, be conservative in manner as well as in action.

GEMINI (May 21 - June 20): I wish entertainment never really pleased people. For more than a brief period, Channel your enthusiasm into less expensive outlets. Your smile is priceless, for example.

Capricorn (Dec. 22 - Jan. 19): Emotional stress can lead you into extravagant spending. Later you'll wonder what you got for your money. Consultations are worthwhile. Use the advice with complete confidence.

Aquarius (Jan. 20 - Feb. 18): Apply common sense to all areas of your life. Lay the story right on the line: let others take it or leave it. Follow your intuitive choices of investments.

PISCES (Feb. 19 - Mar. 20): Your recent best time for purchases. Put your main attention into doing a job, getting done with it promptly, and seeing to early rest this evening.

temptation to expand at the last minute takes undue expense. Put in a good part of the day finding out new information related to your particular field.

Sagittarius (Nov. 22 - Dec. 21): This is no day to cut corners in any way. It is better to miss out, than to aim too low. Moderate temper is the most useful.

Capricorn (Dec. 22 - Jan. 19): Emotional stress can lead you into extravagant spending. Later you'll wonder what you got for your money. Consultations are worthwhile. Use the advice with complete confidence.

Aquarius (Jan. 20 - Feb. 18): Apply common sense to all areas of your life. Lay the story right on the line: let others take it or leave it. Follow your intuitive choices of investments.

Hope for Rhodesian Accord Growing But Settlement May Split Labor Party

LONDON (AP) — Expectation of a settlement with breakaway Rhodesia has brightened among British politicians, despite the threat it brings of a split in Prime Minister Wilson's Labor party, Commons sources reported today.

This expectation persists despite the prime minister's report to the House of Commons Tuesday that deep differences remain on some fundamental issues and some pilots of detail.

The settlement, if it comes, will restore Rhodesia to constitutional rule for the first time since November 1965, when its white settler government declared independence rather than accept eventual rule by the Negro majority.

George Thompson, Wilson's special envoy in the Rhodesia bargaining, was reported due back in Salisbury today or Thursday to resume talks with Rhodesia's Prime Minister Ian Smith.

Political sources here said only one major point divides the two sides—safeguards to be built into a new Rhodesian constitution to prevent Smith or his successors receiving on promises of Negro advancement.

Belief that a settlement is coming brightens with reports at Westminster, so far unconfirmed, that African political leaders now in detention are ready to accept proposals brought to the verge of agreement by Smith and Wilson in their Gibraltar last month. Their accord would meet a major British condition for a settlement that it must be acceptable to all facets of Rhodesian opinion.

A main point of the British proposal intended to placate nationalist sentiment is that Britain will pump £100,000 a year into Rhodesian education to prepare for full franchise.

Monday's night—a night which, Gov. Gen. Michener said, was singularly appropriate for the occasion.

Seventy 401 Limit On Friday

TORONTO (CP) — First signs proclaiming Ontario's new freeway speed limits will be erected today—but they won't be legal until Friday.

A highways department spokesman said Tuesday installation of posts for the new signs has been completed. The work has involved the 442 signs on the 860 miles of Highway 401 and the Markham-Carleton Place road, would begin today.

The new signs will indicate a general speed limit of 70 miles per hour, except for trucks which will be held to 60.

Clarify, Hanoi Asks

PARIS (AP) — North Vietnam said today it would not negotiate with the United States unless the Viet Cong's National Liberation Front is present at the table.

It called on the United States to state clearly under what conditions it is prepared to resume the Paris peace talks.

A spokesman for Hanoi's delegation to the Paris conference said the position taken Tuesday by Defense Secretary Clark M. Clifford "was ambiguous and required urgent clarification."

Clifford said a news conference in Washington that the United States government continues to boycott the talks, the United States would go ahead without them.

President Nguyen Van Thieu yesterday said that his government is willing to accept the status of an independent delegation while the Viet Cong's National Liberation Front be made subordinate to North Vietnam's representatives.

Mr. Clifford has to explain what he means when he says the United States will not negotiate "with Hanoi," the North Vietnamese said. "If he means a two-sided conference with only the Democratic Republic of North Vietnam on one side, then that is absolutely unacceptable to us."

"We hope to have a clarification of this point soon," the spokesman said.

Saigon's Attitude Also Gives Concern

WASHINGTON (Reuters) — President Johnson today was reportedly gravely concerned over Communist shelling attacks in South Vietnam but was determined to continue soft-line diplomacy to get Saigon to the Paris peace talks.

He also was reported anxious to do nothing that could worsen strained relations with Saigon or give the impression the United States was exerting undue pressure.

More Americans Die

SAIGON (Reuters) — The U.S. military command said today more Americans were killed during the first week of the bombing halt ended Nov. 1, than in the previous seven days.

The figures were released amid reports of new fighting in the area of the demilitarized zone — included by President Johnson in his bombing halt announcement Oct. 31.

A bluntly worded state department statement Wednesday warned Hanoi that the United States would not negotiate with Hanoi unless the Viet Cong's National Liberation Front is present at the table.

It reminded Hanoi that "negotiations could not be conducted" if Communist guerrillas continued to fire across the demilitarized zone and hinted there might be a limit to Washington's patience unless the Communist side stops the shelling.

The United States said its understanding with Hanoi provided only for a two-sided conference — South Vietnamese and Americans on one side and the North Vietnamese and National Liberation Front on the other.

The state department said NLF inclusion on the Communist side "in any form" involves recognition of the front in any form.

Revolutionary Riff-raff Alarms Dief but Not PM

OTTAWA (CP) — A break Communist argument bubbled up Wednesday over claims by John Diefenbaker that "revolutionary riff-raff" from the United States are being given free entry into Canada to foment anarchy and revolution.

Prime Minister Trudeau said the government feels there is no danger in allowing freedom of speech.

British Columbia last month. Mr. Diefenbaker asked what steps the government is taking to prevent the entry into the country of "revolutionary riff-raff" of that kind.

Mr. Trudeau said Canada's immigration laws are designed to keep out persons with criminal intent. But there was no danger of strife from the "free discussion of ideas."

Mr. Diefenbaker said the two men said there should be "bloodshed in Canada" to overturn the government.

Walter Sobush (PC-Ontario) asked whether the Canadian government had taken steps to prevent a minister from Rhodesia which broke away from the Commonwealth, from entering Canada.

Speaker Lucien Lamoureux ruled the question not of order as argument.

George Hees (PC-Prince Edward Island) asked a "difficult question" from Mr. Trudeau. Did he feel persons advocating the violent overthrow of government should be welcomed to the country?

Mr. Trudeau turned that one over to Acting Immigration Minister Jean Marchand. Mr. Marchand said people seeking entry in Canada are allowed in when they showed no "indications" of organizing a revolution.

Dubcek Is Facing Crucial Gathering

PRAGUE (AP) — The central committee of Czechoslovakia will meet today for a crucial session and widespread fear that it would vote to end the final traces of the year's liberal reforms.

The committee session in Prague Castle posed another threat to party chief Alexander Dubcek, who has been fighting for political survival every day since the Soviet invasion Aug. 20.

There was speculation that old guard Communists, who want to discredit Dubcek's regime, might use the battle by challenging the right of new committee members to take their seats. The committee Aug. 21 increased its membership by 87 to give it a liberal majority, and some said it was a move to give it a liberal majority, and some said it was a move to give it a liberal majority.

Mr. Dubcek said the session was held by recent restrictions on the press and on travel abroad.

Following student meetings in Bratislava, Mr. Dubcek said he was further concessions to the Soviet occupiers. Deputy Premier Gustav Husak warned Wednesday night that "any demonstrations take place in our streets in the coming days, we shall regard them as a subversive against state and party and proceed accordingly."

Canada Balks At Proposed Rhodesian Pact

LONDON (CP) — The Guards has said Canada, Cyprus and Malta "have apparently shown in their belt" a willingness to join the Commonwealth to help to stabilize diplomatic relations with Rhodesia if its legal independence is based on a white paper resulting from last month's discussion in Gibraltar.

The newspaper says the apparent decision of the three governments to the African, Asian and Caribbean members of the Commonwealth already behind the unilateral plan "is a matter of some personal distress" to Prime Minister Wilson.

NATO Under Study Some Canadians To Stay in Europe

OTTAWA (CP) — A complete Canadian military withdrawal from Europe now or in the intermediate future will not be considered by the government, informants say.

But a reduction, perhaps a substantial one, is under consideration by the government.

One source puts it this way: The Soviet occupation of Czechoslovakia has been used as an argument by those who do not want to see any reduction in NATO.

Despite his impetuous, informal style, the review will not be completed until early next year.

It is generally believed here that Mr. Trudeau has said along with the review, Canadian forces in Europe, all of which are stationed in West Germany.

He changed his intention though it may have prompted a decision in light of advice from the external affairs department, say "any reduction in this would be impossible."

Both the United States and Britain have been putting pressure on Canada to maintain, and if possible, reinforce its military formations in Europe.

Four Distillery Employees Charged in Liquor Shipment Case

QUEBEC (CP) — Premier Jean-Jacques Bertrand Wednesday gave the Quebec legislature the names of five people to be charged with complicity in illicit transport of liquor.

Measures' liquor worth an estimated $200,000 was successfully worked to transport a consignment that was being held in the Quebec Liquor Board strike that began Dec. 26.

The Opposition Wednesday fired questions concerning the conduct of provincial police in the seizure. Members' alleged involvement, and the liquor's destination, said by the Opposition to be Edmonton, N.B.

Mr. Bertrand said the five persons to be charged were: 1. Eugene Martel, described as the manager at Quebec City.

2. Jean-Jacques Guay, identified as Meichen's sales manager at Montreal.

3. Neil Belcourt and Guy Gosselin, Quebec City representatives of the distillery.

Ontario Not Tuned In: Builder

By HARRY MULLALL

The Ontario government is one of the world's biggest landlords but is not keeping pace with housing problems says a leading home builder.

The government's Ontario Housing Corporation is better known by the demands of an expanding population, says William Small, Ontario division chairman of the National Home Builders Association.

Mr. Small was in Belleville last night to install the new executive for the Quinte Home Builders Association. "The QHC now produces 20 per cent of all housing starts in Ontario—becoming the largest landlord in the province," said Mr. Small.

"Just with the kind of people they are, and the kind of energy and certainly one of the strongest, cabinet ministers they have the ingredients necessary for developing an active program."

"However they do, we're confident it is something that will be helping to house the Canadian people."

Albert Horlock was returned as president of the local homebuilders group for another year.

Other officers are: Randy Lowens and Russ Dean, Vice-presidents; Joe Orr, secretary-treasurer.

Directors are Don Kaller, Maurice Bellin, Charles LaSalle, Glen Pascoe, Bill Downing, Ken Hamlin, Bob Ford, Bob Trean, Gerald Joyce.

"I think this is simply a burden."

However, he was hopeful of one government scheme not seeking housing solutions—the "Bedouin" law.

"They have a tremendous task before them to come up with something effective," said Mr. Small.

Kenoki Crew Picks Up Buoys In Early Start on Winter Job

Even the Ray of Quinte crews halcyoning when time comes down. Mother Winter starts in.

The department of transport boat Kenoki has been picking up the faster buoys near Trenton and this morning is laying them out on the government dock in Belleville for winter storage.

There will be no more commercial vessels in the Trenton area the buoys are not needed.

However, Belleville Harbor

the winter and replaced with marker buoys to aid in their relocation in the spring.

Commissioner Donald Barrett said that there are more boats expected here and buoys from the "Telegraph" Narrows on up the bay will remain in the water.

The department of transport usually waits until December before picking them up," he stated. "They are just getting a head start on the day right now."

At the boat picks up the faster buoys attached to the chain so that the relocation of the buoys in the spring will not pose any problems.

And the department always checks with the various ship-ping companies to see if any more commercial boats will be coming in before they pick up all the buoys.

Winter conditions and ice do not suit the floating buoys and they are replaced with standard metal ones and stores for the winter.

Both boats allow mariners to recognize their location and find the correct course.

Clergy 'Turned On' by Chief

The church should be the head behind the drug problem among teenagers on the Belleville Municipal Association earlier this week.

Chief Constable and Inspector Ralph Blackwell spoke to the Belleville Municipal Association earlier this week and answered questions from the members of the association.

George Wilson, who made a study of the drug problem in the city last summer and a junior and other drugs. According to Rev. R. Barclay Warren, many of the clergy had no idea drugs were indeed being used by some of the teenage populace in Belleville.

"They were really shocked to find out," he stated.

Chief Constable Wilson said the problem needs special attention and that a police officer trained in dealing with young people would be both an asset to the police force and the community.

"We only for the drug problem," he stated. "But a trained man would be a great help with all cases where teens and juveniles are concerned."

The chief indicated that he would also like to see some "bull sessions" begin between teens and police officers, clergy, teachers and others.

"We as a teaching session," he firmly pointed out, "and a lot of other things we can talk to the youths, hear their viewpoints and let them hear ours."

"It's no good telling them that we can't do something—they want to know why they should."

Northern Plans Night For Family

Family night at the factory, at least for employees of Northern Electric Co. Ltd. will be next Tuesday and Wednesday.

Over 3,000 people, consisting of employees and their immediate families are expected at the plant to take a tour and see ideas of what exactly goes on.

Each employee will be the tour guide for his family and plant officials have indicated that some portions of the plant will be in operation.

The two evenings will be strictly for employees and their families and besides getting an insight into the plant and its operations, visitors will also have the opportunity to enjoy a social hour.

Refreshments will be served both evenings after the tour.

Hunters' Lives Saved After Boat Sinks

Two Prince Edward county hunters, Roger Blakely of Wren Lake, and Joe Leavitt of Wren Lake, who have been hunting ducks since this season—even if they don't get them.

Shades Of A Republic

A Commons Justice Committee studying the RCMP spending budget for this year has been straying into the realm of the fantastic.
The committee has heard a suggestion from Conservative member Georges Valade, from the Montreal riding of the Mar, that the RCMP change its name to Canadian Mounted Police.
Previously more surprising than this — from an Opposition member — was the reply of RCMP Commissioner M. F. A. Lindsay that dropping the word "Canadian" would possibly give the force more prestige and authority, particularly in Quebec.

Such a prospect is incredible. Has this country not gone far enough in pandering to the aspirations of Quebec and French Canada at large? Drop the word Royal from the fountaineau designation, and next it will be the fate of the Royal Canadian Legion and even such as the Royal Agricultural Winter Fair now being held in Toronto.

Ultimately, what has come to be known as "creeping republicanism" would have its final triumph with the abolition of the office of Governor-General, the removal of the Queen's portrait from stamps and coinage and the declaration of a republic.

Is this what Canadians want? — In a world where republicanism is not synonymous with either political style or stability.

Latin American Ties

Canada continues to fight shy of the Organization of American States — and the reasons are not difficult to discern. The members comprising largely of the countries of Latin America, the OAS stands to gain more from Canadian membership than it has not already received from "Big Brother" member, the United States.

As Prime Minister Trudeau has put it, Canada, was not going to be "replica of Washington" in the OAS. Indeed if Washington's experience is any guide, Canada does well to steer clear of the organization, for on no more than the normal diplomatic and trading level. This way Canada can trade and interact with the usual number of nations with Latin America that it does with other nations, while still remaining independent of any political group affiliations.

And that appears to be the purpose of the Canadian mission now touring Latin America. External Affairs Minister Mitchell Sharp and his cabinet ministers, including Minister Jean Leppin (Trade and Commerce) and J. Greene (Energy, Mines and Resources) are among those conferring with their opposite numbers in the Latin American states and closer cultural ties result, well and good — but with regard to the OAS, Ottawa would well to keep its distance.

Focus On Hearts

Maybe it is because they are old soldiers who have seen the battle, that the veterans on Remembrance Day put many a younger man to shame.

They are, for example, J. S. Stewart, of Lethbridge, who is 90 and a first world war veteran, and Brig. Gen. A. J. Clark, of Vancouver, a hero of Mons (both men took part in the recent ceremonies in Belgium). The latter mentioned Brig War veterans Robert Forbes, 88, and John Keeble, 87, who were among 300 veterans of the Remembrance Day gathering in Belleville Army.

These are men literally of stout hearts. And more power to them. From the financial standpoint, thoughts turn inevitably to the alarming number of people of much younger years who suffer nowadays from heart disease.

Ottawa Offset

No Armistice In Sight In Canada's War of Wages

By RICHARD JACKSON

Belleville, Ontario, Canada.

Ottawa — It is going to be a long, long Christmas season for the 750 lithographers who work for the federal government.

Under collective bargaining for civil servants — you know, the kind of bargaining that is tied up the mail service for so long last summer — the lithographers have just won a new wage rate ranging from 15 to 20 per cent.

It is only a starting rate since they expect a period that expired this past September 30. Now that they have their 18 to 20 per cent increase, they are looking for a retroactive pay check of not less than $2,000 and as much as $2,125 for last summer.

The lithographers have announced that they now "time dislay will start preparations for a new campaign with new demands in pay and benefits."

But what demand and glorious results?

Such a prospect is incredible. Has this country not gone far enough in pandering to the aspirations of Quebec and French Canada at large? Drop the word Royal from the fountaineau designation, and next it will be the fate of the Royal Canadian Legion and even such as the Royal Agricultural Winter Fair now being held in Toronto.

Ultimately, what has come to be known as "creeping republicanism" would have its final triumph with the abolition of the office of Governor-General, the removal of the Queen's portrait from stamps and coinage and the declaration of a republic.

Is this what Canadians want? — In a world where republicanism is not synonymous with either political style or stability.

Latin American Ties

Canada continues to fight shy of the Organization of American States — and the reasons are not difficult to discern. The members comprising largely of the countries of Latin America, the OAS stands to gain more from Canadian membership than it has not already received from "Big Brother" member, the United States.

As Prime Minister Trudeau has put it, Canada, was not going to be "replica of Washington" in the OAS. Indeed if Washington's experience is any guide, Canada does well to steer clear of the organization, for on no more than the normal diplomatic and trading level. This way Canada can trade and interact with the usual number of nations with Latin America that it does with other nations, while still remaining independent of any political group affiliations.

And that appears to be the purpose of the Canadian mission now touring Latin America. External Affairs Minister Mitchell Sharp and his cabinet ministers, including Minister Jean Leppin (Trade and Commerce) and J. Greene (Energy, Mines and Resources) are among those conferring with their opposite numbers in the Latin American states and closer cultural ties result, well and good — but with regard to the OAS, Ottawa would well to keep its distance.

Maybe it is because they are old soldiers who have seen the battle, that the veterans on Remembrance Day put many a younger man to shame.

They are, for example, J. S. Stewart, of Lethbridge, who is 90 and a first world war veteran, and Brig. Gen. A. J. Clark, of Vancouver, a hero of Mons (both men took part in the recent ceremonies in Belgium). back-payed $448 to July 27, a not-knockout $810 to July 27, and a refund — for the Chamberlain — of a shopping time of their lives!

It is a long time of reaping for all federal civil servants, for what goes for the 1.8 thousand workers will have to go to nearly 400,000 — plus handouts for the growing Ottawa payroll.

The civil servants didn't give a damn about this kind of talk before the June election of everybody, especially the federal government, holding the wage-price-ice line.

Remember how they solemnly lectured business and industry that in the holy cause of fighting inflation they would accept any increases should be held to between six and seven per cent.

Ward 6

Gerald Irvine

Member of the Bay of Quinte High School Board for the past four years, and veteran of 35 years in public life, Gerald Irvine, R. 2 Highway, will run as a Sidney township candidate for Ward 6 for the Hastings county school board.

Mr. Irvine announced his candidacy yesterday, assuring those who seem to be at least a four-way fight for the two Ward 6 seats.

A native of the Oak Hills area, Mr. Irvine is a farmer all his life. Mr. Irvine is a member of the former "Turner Public School Board" for 15 years before township boards came into being and was a member of his township board for nearly 10 years, serving as both deputy reeve and reeve. He has been a member of the Maitre-Brosse Conservation Authority since 1956.

Mr. Irvine is married with a son, Douglas, a high school teacher.

Next Two Phases as One

Dundas Bridge Completion Possible in '69

Belleville city council got its first look yesterday at detailed plans for the new Dundas Street River bridge and construction, including the two phases of the Devil's Elbow Highway project.

Presentation of the plans was made at city hall by Dennis C. Slocum, representing Toronto consulting engineers Dumas and Smith, who are doing the engineering for the roadway project to bypass the city's downtown area.

Mayor J. Russell Scott was in attendance, along with city council members and city staff. Mr. Slocum recommended that both the bridge and roadway projects go ahead together next year.

He said that subject to approvals from the Ontario Municipal Board and provincial highway department, tenders could be called by April 1 with work getting underway by the first of May.

This being the case the two projects would be completed by the end of 1969. The cost of the Dundas Street bridge and roadway project, could be completed by December 1969.

The CPT-Bridge Roadway project and approaches now under construction are considered the first stage of the over all project.

The estimated overall cost for the bridge was given as $700,000. The cost of the bridge and roadway project, could be completed by December 1969.

As part of a connecting highway link both the bridge and roadway qualify for 75 per cent provincial government grant, but certain aspects of the roadway work, including $200,000 worth of sewer work and sidewalks are not eligible for provincial aid.

Mayor Scott raised the question of whether the bridge would not require the provincial authority program, the province may not approve of both projects going ahead at the same time.

If it was the case he wanted to know whether the bridge could not be constructed next year and the roadway completed in 1970.

Mr. Slocum said this was possible but as an engineer he would not recommend it. He said that without the connecting roadway the new river bridge would serve little purpose.

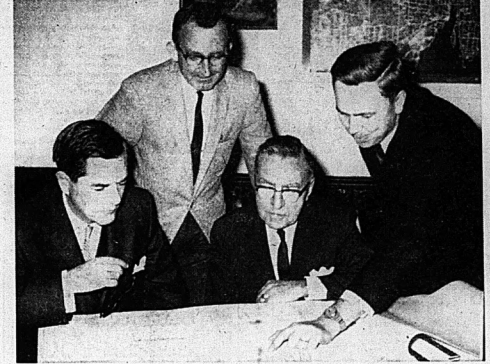

There would be no place for the traffic to go," he said. If work on the two projects does go ahead simultaneously, Mr. Slocum said the cut-off date for the new bridge would be about next August. Traffic on the section of Dundas Street to be reconstructed would be maintained at all times.

The new Dundas Street bridge and roadway project when completed will see three lanes of traffic lighted at the intersection of Dundas Street and the Devil's Elbow Highway where the new Bay Bridge Road artery will intersect with Dundas at Dundas and Coleman Street and at the east end of the new bridge.

The new bridge and roadway will have four traffic lanes throughout.

To minimize ice blockage during the spring break - no period permits for the new bridge will be in place with those on the CPT-Bridge Roadway project.

The bridge, to be built immediately north of the railway structure, will be slightly higher and longer than the railway bridge and will have concrete median strip to channel traffic.

Mayor J. Russell Scott and Alderman E. A. Orr (seated) check detailed plans for new Dundas Street bridge and roadway with city engineer

Wibur Purcell and Dennis C. Slocum of Dumas and Smith, consulting engineers

Forester Transferred To Toronto

TWEED — Norman Patrick, department of lands and forests district forester for the past three years here, has been posted to Toronto.

No successor has yet been named.

Mr. Patrick came from Toronto to administer the most versatile forestry areas in the province - a poplar region reaching from the Ottawa Valley.

In the absence of a new district forester appointee, the post is being administered by Bert Dunn, district forest protection supervisor.

More Rigid Standards Set as One Grows Older

By BOBIS CLARK
A belevered middle-aged spinster wants to know why somebody doesn't write on Copping With Seniors.

One sister lady gets 1 1/2 times degree from her aged father every time she is not sent his bedtime. Another can't keep her cat - even in the basement, although when it was a kitten they all loved it.

"The complaints mount up: 'Even when I go on an errand for her, I can't take a minute's extra time without having to explain.' 'Not a single friend of mine drops in without having to explain to a trade of criticism of her life.'"

It isn't easy, it does happen that the older a person gets, the more rigid he or she may get. Can't accept change. Can't accept new people.

Can't accept himself or herself. Thinks the rule is: Is losing his ego, or thinks he is. Anxious about his future, his health, his energy, limit his life - sometimes alone. The instinct is to throw out in any direction.

When a daffodil, unvarnished daughter is around to take it, expect it to do. If he is home-stayed in there, current rules to take the June, every line of it, at all.

Two solutions occur to me: A set to with the elders and a few new ground rules laid down; or an exit of daughter to a closely-dated, where the could still look in on them. Or perhaps simply limit the children's world time in the life.

Dear Doris: Recently my younger sister and her husband hand applied to emigrate from England to Canada. They were turned down, as apparently my brother-in-law in some trouble when he was younger. He was not in jail but was on a year's probation.

We are not wealthy but live comfortably and we feel we could help the young couple get established. My sister is a trained nurse. I have no family this side and was really looking forward to her coming. I was wondering: Did it it would do any good to write to the Immigration Department here stating our case? - British by Birth Dear British: Sure it would. If you are settled, of good repute and would sponsor these young people, it might well make a difference.

Without further details my advice would say no more: Just write to the Immigration office or write to the Immigration Appeal Board Chairman, Mr. J. C. Campbell, Department of Manpower and Immigration, Ottawa, Canada.

Confidential to Discreet: Send that the boy's in the fire, all you can do is stand by and help control the flame. Marriage is a poor solution to that premise. No financial help should go from you to the young man unless there is urgent need. And warn, better letters to the father; little else to your little granddaughter.

As for crying yourself to sleep, forget it. She needs your strength, not weakness.

Do you wonder why the people you care about act as they do? Let them. Let them fight on your particular human problem. And remember that it stagnated evolved. Quebec Women's Institutes were originally known as Quaker Women's Clubs.

Prune Cake Is A Favorite

By MARY MOORE

Anybody remember Schaf-It's New York famous Prune Cake? Today's little offering is reminiscent of that. The recipe is a favorite of a reader - B.E.B. - and I have tampered with it only slightly. It is a prune and bread blend, with fruit, is economical and easy to make. What more could you ask? Please? Wonderful!

PRUNE BREAD

(Courtney B.E.B., tampered with by Moore)
1 cup cooked, stoned, chopped prunes
2 cups sifted all-purpose flour

1 cup granulated sugar
2 1/2 tsp. baking powder
1/2 tsp. salt
1/2 cup milk
1/2 cup oil
1/2 cup cinnamon
1 egg
1 cup quick-cooking rolled oats
1/2 cup chopped walnuts

Dinner Menus

THURSDAY

Homemade - Bean Soup; Spinach; Baked Potatoes; Creamed Onions; Peas; Baked Apples; Coffee.

SUNDAY

Lobster Newburg (see Tuesday); Fluffy Boiled Rice (see Tuesday); Frenched Green Beans; Artichokes and Tomato Salad (see Tuesday); Lemon Meringue Pie; Tea.

1st cups butternut or 1 1/4 cups sweet milk, poured over top, lemon juice 1/2 cup, cooking oil 1 egg

1 cup prunes overnight in water to cover, and cook covered until tender. Drain and add enough to make a 1/2 cup and measure 1 cup. (Return remaining prunes to juice and serve as stewed prunes later, sweetened if desired.) Stir together 1 1/2 cups milk, baking powder, soda, salt and cinnamon. Add the milk and walnut.

Add the buttermilk (or sour milk), oil and egg and chopped prunes and stir just enough to moisten all dry ingredients. Do not overmix. Turn into hot pan lined with buttered paper. If used a glass loaf pan 8 1/2 x 4 1/2 x 3 1/2. Bake at centre of oven at 300 deg. F. for 20 to 25 min. until a few inches firm to touch. Let cool a few minutes in pan, then turn out on a side plate. Cook. Peel off with paper.

Freeze well. Slices perfect. By Thank You B.E.B.

Annual Scout Banquet Held in Nananee

NANANEE — More than 100 persons interested in the Boy Scout movement witnessed the presentation of gifts to Mrs. Bob Carey, in recognition for their long service to the town of the organization in this area.

The occasion was the annual banquet of the Boy Scouts of Canada, Nananee, held at the W. Council, held in St.

Mary Magdon's parish hall, with dinner being served by the Nananee Ladies Auxiliary.

Mr. Carey has been a leader for the past 15 years, and for four years was district commissioner, with Mrs. Carey acting as badge secretary.

The guests, were presented with gifts on behalf of the council and all commended in this district. He also received a long-service award, and Mrs. Carey was given a trophy.

Women's Institutes

CHARNON WTS

The November meeting of Nananee Women's Institute was held at the home of Mrs. M. J. O'Neill, president of the group.

Correspondence was read and requests noted for the coming year for the 4th girl in home making, also volunteers to assist at classes of home from one at Public School.

P. Gordon reported on relations, and Mrs. E. E. Neal reported on the English correspondence.

Mrs. F. Sweet, convener of Canadian Industry gave a paper which brought to the attention of the Institute that Canada is the main world supplier of nickel.

Another interesting fact is that Ontario's industries manufacture about half of Canada's goods.

Arrangements were made for the Annual Institute Bazaar to be held on November 14. The meeting closed after which a pleasant social time was spent. Mrs. Taylor gave a reading "Love awakening," after which the hostess and her assistants served lunch.

The Experts Say

Needlework Popular in West

By ELINOR READING
Canadian Press Staff Writer

Cake mixes and deep frozen pies have undermined the arts of home baking and canning, but fancy needlework remains popular in old strongholds at fairs in the Prairie provinces.

It's not just money that lures a housewife to offer quilts and crocheting, yarn balls and clothie cakes for judges. Prizes may be as little as 75 cents with an entry fee of 25 cents. First place in a category often brings only 10 to 15.

Mrs. M. V. Haig, supervisor of women's exhibits for the Edmonton Exhibition Association, says entries in the culinary department have decreased by about one-third during the last 12 years.

"I think it's partly money and partly laziness," she said.

But handicrafts such as embroidery, crocheting or pottery have held their own or increased, with about 500 items displayed.

"We're getting a better quality of handicraft, too," she said. "Each year, everything has to be a little better than the last. The judges turn everything over and look over the other side of it."

"In crocheting, they have everything. They do it all, and you do it all."

At Calgary, where cooking categories were discontinued nine years ago, needlework and hobbycraft entries have been going up from 550 in 1960 to 702 this year, with a high of 803 for Centennial Year in 1967.

Church Groups

CHRIST CHURCH BRANCH

The November 6th business meeting of Christ Church ACW Evening Branch was opened by the president, Mrs. J. K. Smith.

The "Lenten Service" was read respectively by the president and the members. Mrs. E. Smith read the prayer for prayer partner, Rev. Dick Breen, and Mrs. Kilburn read the prayer for the sick.

Servant, Mrs. E. M. Mousman read several letters of commendation including an invitation from the Trinity Anglican Church, to attend a tea and bazaar. Treasurer, Mrs. J. Burton read the financial report, and reports were given by the other departments.

Mrs. A. Bagnard read an interesting letter from the Leprosy Society thanking the group for used clothes for their stamp collection from which they have made a total of $1600. A donation of $10 each was sent from Mrs. N. Bagnard and Mrs. J. Hickey. Mrs. Burton read a thank-you letter from the secretary of the Ministry Detached Association thanking for a donation, last month.

A great deal of work has been accomplished for "the shopping plaza" which is to be held next week in the Parish Hall, and a large number of articles were brought in. A decision on the Christmas party could not be arrived at, and was laid over until our next meeting.

The ladies paid the evening was spent in a social hour with a number of tables of euchre played. The winners of the prizes were as follows: two firsts; Mrs. E. Smith and Mrs. J. Spencer, two seconds; Mrs. E. Mousman and Mrs. A. Bagnard, and Mrs. H. Bagnard, and Mrs. A. Smith.

The evening ended with a tasty snack served by Mrs. Mousman and Mrs. A. Smith.

Ann Landers

Approval of Marijuana Debated at Conference

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Our son attends an Eastern University. Recently he sent us a part of a clipping from a medical journal reporting on the Seventh International Conference on Mental Health in London. The clipping, he thought, might persuade us to give our approval to his smoking marijuana.

According to the report which appeared in the medical journal, Dr. Nicholas Malson, head of Canada's University of Student Health Services, stated that he would prefer that his teenage sons smoke marijuana rather than overindulge in alcohol or ride a motorcycle. "I think without a break, think," Dr. Malson added.

"In my view marijuana is a safe drug," he said. "We are shocked at this doctor's statement. Unfortunately we are not informed and are therefore unable to refute it. Will you please comment on this, Ann Landers — BETWIXT AND BETWEEN."

DEAR B. AND I: I am aware of the conference and I wish your son had sent you the full report of the proceedings. A hot debate followed Dr. Malson's statement.

His views were instantly challenged by Dr. Elizabeth Tylden, consultant psychiatrist at Bromley Hospital (England). Dr. Donald Louisa, associate professor medicine, Cornell University Medical College, and Commissioner Arthur J. Rogers, New York State Narcotics Board, also control marijuana. Dr. Tylden said young adults who suffer from psychosis behave like schoolchildren.

Dr. Louisa pointed out that studies showed up to five per cent of the persons who had used marijuana more than five times became psychotic with bouts of black depression and loss of goal. Arthur Rogers stated that 85 per cent of all known heroin users were started on marijuana.

The psychiatric authorities with whom I consult report that marijuana produces confusion, hallucinations, discrimination and impulsive behavior. They stated that continued use of this drug can cause acute psychotic disorganization and complete disruption of a life span. They say, too, a marijuana user, behind the wheel of a car is as dangerous as a drunken driver.

And I would like to remind all campus kids who are blowing grass for kicks that marijuana or marijuana is a felony. A felony is a crime and a youth convicted of a crime is being degraded to his grave by this black mark on his record.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I am becoming more and more interested in a girl who is 22 and claims she graduated from high school. She has a lively personality and knows how to cheer us up when I'm down in the dumps, but her grammar is not of night. Last night she said, "I have went all over town trying to buy a towel suit and couldn't find nothing."

Frankly, Ann, I'm ashamed to introduce her to my parents. Do you think a night school course would help? — CHARLIE.

DEAR CHARLIE: A 22-year-old girl "who went all over town" sounds hopeless. Suggest night school, but don't expect miracles.

It's Russian to Me...

Teacher Nick Mika appears perplexed about the whole problem as he discusses a possible grammatical dispute in Russian grammar with students Joan Crawford and Robert Lazanuk. The dispute probably occurred during the extracurricular classes held weekly at Moira Secondary School.

Centre Hastings Secondary School has many clubs and committees which organize all the activities of the school. One of these groups is the Newspaper Club. It is planning to sell a paper each month to keep students up-to-date on all school activities. The paper is called the Centre Hastings Herald and its motto reads: "If it isn't here, it didn't happen!"

Judging from the first issue, our paper is going to live up to its name and motto: This first edition came off the press last week. It sold over 300 copies, surpassing last year's total by a wide margin. If it maintains this standard, it will Greek, Russian, typing, and drafting. What do these subjects have in common? They are all part of the extracurricular classes in progress at Moira Secondary School.

A total of more than 20 students are now participating in the non-credit classes held once a week. There are two typing classes, history and mathematics. In addition, there are two introductory drafting classes specifically designed for grade 12 students going into engineering.

Surprisingly, though, there are more girls enrolled in this class than boys. Apparently the mechanics of drafting will help them in their pursuit of the essentials of interior decorating.

The whole thing was the brainchild of principal Lennox D. Read. He admitted, "It was my own idea to begin with."

He also maintains that "students like to pick up a knowledge of things that they would not otherwise."

Added to gauge the degree of interest in the classes so far, Mr. Read termed it "very good." He does feel, however, that traditionalism in classes such as these is bound to wear off, and the Moira idea is to adopt an attitude of wide and wide.

Enrollment in the classes far exceeded the expectations of Mr. Read, especially in the typing classes. He said of Greek, if interest in either Greek, Read spoke of the possible addition of Spanish to inject some new

Mr. Read again re-emphasized that the courses are non-credit and are intended that way. He also asserted that he has no intention of offering any course which there is a formidable amount of interest, and for which we have a teacher.

The present classes could be termed kind of "bait" for future courses that would be non-credit, and would only

Tech Club Tours Ottawa Museums

By FENNIE HANILL

Against Centennial on Friday, last Saturday the Tech Club went on its first trip of the year. Members visited the Northern Electric Inc., National Air Museum, the Science and Technology Museum, all in Ottawa. The boys left at 8:30 a.m. and kept busy all day until they returned at 10:30 a.m.

The Tech Club is also going to sponsor a dance with some of the members of the club. The cheerleaders went to Toronto on the same day the Tech Club went to Ottawa.

The girls attended the annual cheerleading clinic held under the direction of Dr. John L. Laker. He taught them and cheerleading techniques to 1,500 girls who attended.

The cheerleaders came in the top ten of the 100 schools in the competition held in the afternoon.

Quinte girls have been practicing for the last two weeks and will play their first game to the special interests of students. Courses such as these were carried on in Toronto high schools during the summer, allowing students to learn and discuss topics that were not on the curriculum.

This venture was highly successful, and Mr. Read voiced his interest in such a possible project for his own school's idea summer.

Except for the Russian teacher, Nick Mika, all the teachers of extra-curricular classes are Moira staff members.

Mr. Mika is a multi-lingual and multi-talented. Speaking Russian, Polish, little-known but highly necessary. "It's a type of universal printing," because you can print on anything by this method. He did everything from trade names on soft drink bottles to men's socks on clockfaces as an example.

When he last taught Russian at work, Mr. Mika wrote in his two books. One deals with the history of the Kingdom area, and the other on "how to do self screening."

He also debars in oil painting, and sometimes teaches and crafts classes in Belleville. He cites his continental projects as one of the most important of his life. Mr. Mika has the ceremonial edition of every newspaper across Canada; 185 to

The 75 cent admission price will go to the state c.r.w. Members of the crew are now installing new sound equipment in cabinets of their own design, and they hope the proceeds of the dances will enable them to finish the job.

Organizers hope the entire student body will support the state c.r.w. project — a perfect opportunity to benefit to the entire school.

Students Burn A Dog -- 'Hot' To Protest Dow Recruiting

WATERLOO, Ont. (CP) — A group of University of Waterloo students burned a hot dog Wednesday to protest jobs for crawling on their campus by Dow Chemical Ltd. of Sarina.

About 1,500 students gathered after posters advertised that a hot dog would be burned with mathematics students. The posters said the students for bookkeeper for Dow Chemical Ltd. of Sarina. The posters said the students for bookkeeper for Dow Chemical Ltd. of Sarina.

New Technique Utilized In Toronto Heart Case

TORONTO (CP) — Altered Gagner is an excellent condition today after receiving a new heart Wednesday in an operation that was used for the first time in Canada.

The 36-year-old father of nine from Belle River, Ont., now Windsor, received the heart of a 2-year-old boy from the St. Michael's Hospital, 42 miles north of here, in a five-hour operation at Toronto General Hospital.

The technique, known as xenotransplantation, was developed in heart transplant operations by Dr. Denton Cooley of Houston, Tex.

Dr. Wilfred G. Bigelow, chief of the cardiovascular section at the hospital, said the technique involved the "almost incredible" concept that the heart could live without oxygen and seemed able to exist on its own.

Dr. Bigelow said the dog's heart was not cooled and did not receive any artificial circulation while being stored in position. The heart began beating immediately after an electric shock.

The transplant, performed by a five-surgeon team headed by Dr. Bigelow, was the third in Toronto and Canada's 13th. There have been 79 transplant operations worldwide with 29 recipients still alive.

Mr. Shaashan, a carpenter's helper, died following a highway accident Tuesday night. He also donated his kidneys and pancreas for transplant operations.

Michael Peterson, 46, of Toronto and George Rade, 37, of the borough of Georgetown, received the kidneys. Both were reported "fine" in Toronto Western Hospital.

Two Toronto men, Gerald Sinclair and Ronald Answorth, received the corneas at Toronto General late Wednesday night.

Glenn Bernice, a third-year mathematics student, thanked the students for bookkeeper for Dow Chemical Ltd. of Sarina. The posters said the students for bookkeeper for Dow Chemical Ltd. of Sarina.

But he said no one seemed upset about human beings being burned alive with napalm in Vietnam. However, some students booed and others seemed disappointed that a dog was not going to be burned.

"What do you mean, we turned out to stop the burning? We came to see it," shouted one student. "Burn it. Burn it."

About 30 plainclothes police, including university security staff, Ontario Human Services officers, managed with ease.

Remedy of Housing Shortage Does Not Lie in Welfare Area

OTTAWA (CP) — The federal housing inquiry seems convinced that answers to the current scarcity of homes lie mainly in improving the present market system rather than promoting any radical new schemes in the welfare field.

With its two-day foray into New Brunswick completed Wednesday night, the team under Transport Minister Paul Marshall is beginning to single out key trouble spots in the Canadian housing problem as it seeks to find a solution to the problem.

The interministerial group of inquiry are scheduled to finish within three weeks and the team hopes to have recommendations ready by early January.

His proposals are unlikely to include suggestions for any additional straight subsidies to the private housing or purchase.

In the first place, the committee's findings are that the private market would tend to resist any added welfare commitments.

Further, inquiry members feel that providing subsidies for housing would amount to subsidizing Peter to pay Peter. The weight of additional taxation to meet such costs would hit the very people the policy would be designed to help—those in the annual pay range of $3,000 to $7,000.

Prime point of attack is expected to be interest rates and mortgages.

With interest on first mortgages ranging between 8 1/2 and 10 per cent, monthly payments are pushed beyond the capacity of most Canadians, trying to purchase homes.

Robert Campra is Ottawa house builder and a member of the Housing team, said in Saint John Wednesday that a three per cent drop in interest rates would lower the salary requirements of a potential home purchaser by $200 a year.

In other words, whereas most homes are open for purchase now only to those earning $8,000 or more a year, the three per cent decline in interest rates would widen the potential market to those earning $6,000 a year.

Runaways Disliked Residential School

TORONTO (CP) — An Indian mother told a coroner's jury Wednesday her two sons were unhappy at Brantford's Mohawk Institute, a residential school for boys, and had run away several times.

The jury was investigating the death of Joseph William Commanda, 15, killed by a passenger train in Toronto Sept. 3, the day after he and his brother Rocky, 14, ran away from the school.

Dorothy Commanda said the Indian affairs department arranged and sent the boys to the institute after she took them out of a separate school in Pembroke, Ont. because of alleged discrimination.

Rocky Commanda testified he and Joseph were stopped by provincial police near Chelville after leaving the institute. He said Joseph ran away from the police but he was returned to the school.

He had not seen his brother again.

Just how interest rates could be dropped without a major readjustment of the economy remains to be settled. But the government, Canadian Mortgage and Housing Corp. already would powerful influence on the money market by debasing about $200,000,000 a year in mortgage loans.

On land costs, the inquiry is intrigued by the idea of municipal governments accumulating land, a practice already in use in Saskatoon.

Development of publicly owned land banks pending a measure of control over prices. Land can be released for sale when prices are declining to help force them down.

Gambling being illegal, we wouldn't dream of selecting 10-point winners for hounding the Argonauts in a messy 10-point advantage. (We're listed in the yellow pages under "Easy Money").

Matter of fact, the best we can seem to do out of even the most confident Rough Rider supporters is a measly 10-point advantage.

These from backers of a team that has inflated its 10, 10, 10, and 10 advantage this season on the Scullery, who very vaguely remember what the Grey Cup looks like.

Then, we all want to know what Rough Riders supporters are vociferously anti, but automatically mislabeled the Rough Riders.

Our sense for Argonaut optimism, as Frank Cahill observed this week, is the fact that the law of averages favors the Scullers.

It's also favored the New York Jets for the past three or four years, and positively skyrocketed the Boston Bruins' Stanley Cup medal.

Unfortunately, the law of averages sometimes is a long time in overruling those who anticipate its benefits.

And Lou Cahill and Co. just don't have the time to wait. They might not get another chance for a decade or so.

So, in the meantime, just what kind of an arsenal can the Argos carry into their team game, 10-point victory with the team that outscored them 10-2 in three regular season meetings?

Catch Cahill may well rely on a mind-over-matter game plus against the powerful Roughies.

"We're just as good as Ottawa," Cahill maintained, "but we need the same positive attitude that enabled us to beat Hamilton last weekend."

"It seemed that everyone we played Ottawa this year, there was something at stake. We were trying to win first place, or win the conference championship and we were too cautious — we just wanted to win."

"This time it's different. The series is important, but it's a 10-point affair, and our players will be a lot busier out there."

The Argos' amateur psychiatrist must have observed he speaks: after taking over as head coach in July of last year, Cahill reminded the first Toronto CFL playoff combination since 1962, and now has the Argos in the Big Blue final for the first time in seven years.

His thoughts on the "monsters" of his league in a two-game playoff match, where the Argonauts could keep their cool last Saturday in the face of a 10-point CFL outburst right off the opening kickoff, being the short end of the score during a two-game series shouldn't be overly surprising.

But the Argos — particularly after their infamous 1960 "sleeper play" playoff loss to these same Rough Riders — have a reputation as a team that can carry any number of ways to lose a football game.

That reputation, incidentally, is shared by the Calgary Stampeders, who despite being the best team in Canadian football the past couple of years, have managed to avoid the Grey Cup.

So can the Argos get past within publishing range of the Grey Cup for the first time in 10 years? They may have to take a look at Washington, Scott and Jackson, and at the same time unleash Symons, Taylor, Profit, and Cahill?

Give me 10 points, and I'll tell you.

Roughies to Concentrate on Containing Symons

TORONTO (CP) — A strong ground attack and the ability to stop backfield Bill Symons were key factors in Ottawa Rough Riders' success against Toronto in the Eastern Football Conference this year.

The Rough Riders have literally run over the Argos while winning all three meetings and outscoring Toronto 10-2.

Statistically, Ottawa's ground attack and the Riders' ability to contain the Argos in three previous meetings this year is outstanding.

The Riders have outscored the Argos by 38 yards—49 to 11—but more important, is the fact that Ottawa's three top runners in the game with 1,197 yards this season, to a mere 137 yards, Ottawa has also outscored Toronto 14-0 along the ground.

Symons has the reason all— "Sometimes we always seem to get caught at their game," he says. "The last time they played us, we had decided to

Need Trio

Blues' Net Busy Place

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

St. Louis Blues must have set some of National Hockey League record Wednesday night when they used three different goalkeepers in the first five minutes of a game.

The Blues came up with a 3-1 victory against New York as Jacques Plante, the last of three net menders, held the Rangers scoreless for about 35 minutes.

The unusual chain of events began at 2:01 of the opening period when starting goaltender Glenn Hall had a sprained dislocation with referee Verne Bennett.

Buffy Handed Hall a mission and a game misconduct. So Hall, using a face mask for the first time in his 16 season career, had little chance to test the new equipment.

Rookie Bobrose Irua made his NHL debut as a replacement for Hall. But he was hit on the ankle with a shot during his warmup and before Plante had to be summoned from the stands.

In other NHL game Wednesday, Boston Bruins and Toronto Maple Leafs tied 1-1. Chicago

Black Hawks nipped Pittsburgh Penguins 4-3. Oakland Seals edged Detroit Red Wings 2-1 and Minnesota North Stars topped Philadelphia Flyers 4-3.

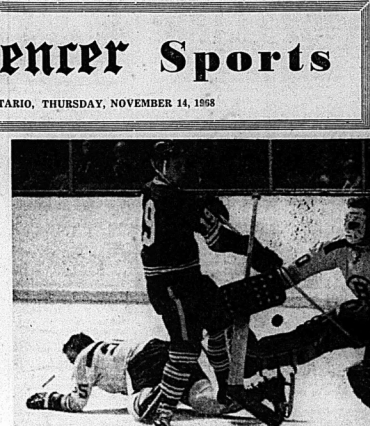

Wayne Gretzky scored the only New York goal at 1:16 of the first period. Ron Selow called in the second and Frank St. Marcille in the third.

Plante, 30, made 21 saves for the Blues who retained the Rangers scoreless.

The Black Hawks ended a four-game losing streak before 16,000 Chicago fans when Bobby Hull scored with 17 seconds left to break a 5-5 tie against Pittsburgh.

San Antonio scored two goals for Chicago and Ken Wrenn, Doug Minton and Bruce Hall added one each. Charlie Burges collected two goals for Pittsburgh while singles went to Duce McCalister, Keith McCreary and Val Fenech.

Hall also added an assist and now has 26 points, tops in the NHL. Mikita, who also was BOSTON GOALIE, GERRY CHEEVERS' Jockey during the two teams' 1-1 tie in Toronto last night.

Paul Henderson scored the only Toronto goal at 2:42 of the second period on a pass from Norm Ullman.

The tie gave the Bruins their first goal and first point on Toronto ice since Jan. 4 when they tied the Maple Leafs 3-3.

A fake goal by Boston center Derek Sanderson at 18:36 of the third period resulted in a perfect night for 16,000 Toronto fans and Leaf goaltender Gerry Cheever.

Sanderson's shot from behind the net hit the skate of Toronto winger Ron Ellis and bounced into the net. Game stopped 36 shots, 11 of them in the first period.

A crowd of only 1,204 at Oakland was Gary Jarrett with the game for the Seals by scoring with 48 seconds left.

Bill Hicke scored the other Oakland goal while Bruce MacGregor replied for Detroit.

Steve Kirby's hit trick passed the Smith Park Presses All Stars to a 5-2 exhibition victory over their Trenton counterparts last night.

Kirby opened the scoring and added his first two goals after Scott James and Tim Whelan gave the locals a 3-1 lead.

Joe Naranjo and Greg Biss accounted for the Trenton scoring.

LAMB'S NAVY RUM
...that's the spirit!
Dark, light or white rum, whichever your taste prefers, you'll appreciate the quality of Lamb's. Ontario's favourite is Lamb's Navy Rum with a rich tropical flavour. Lamb's Navy Rum is hearty in flavour, light in aroma. Lamb's Dry White Rum is fashionably new, land, with it introduces a new meaning to the rum drink. Remember the name, Lamb's ... that's the spirit!

Gordie Howe's HOCKEY

In the last column, we were talking about how Gordie prevented forwards from being injured by shooting their big big pads in front of goal posts.

Referees in the old days would do a lot of shouting to prevent injuries. Now, Red Storey, one of the few referees who made it to hockey's Hall of Fame, would do it. He got himself in trouble with managers a few times for doing it, too.

I remember a game one night in the Detroit Olympia when the Montreal Canadiens were playing the Red Wings. Someone on our team was about to slap Doug Harvey in the wall with a check from behind. Red Storey shouted "heads up Doug." Harvey managed to get out of the way, or at least avoided the brunt of the check.

This incident took place in one corner of the rink and a fan who had a season ticket realized it in Jack Adams. Now I think everybody realizes that Jack had an explosive temper. He was prepared to make a federal case out of the incident.

He questioned all the players on the Red Wings as to whether or not Storey had made a practice of shouting warnings. Forbes Kennedy was with our team then and he said "Sure, heck he does it all the time. . . he saved me from a check not long ago." This sort of took the starch out of Adams' complaint and the matter was dropped.

I think in the case of Storey, who was a tremendous skidder himself and a renowned football player, was a case of reflex. He shouted the warning without realizing what he was doing.

He was sometimes funny on the ice: He would tell the waterworks. I remember he could be trying to line us up for a faceoff and would shout, "Come on me, my train leaves at 11 o'clock."

On one occasion he was getting annoyed over a delay and came up with "hey, don't forget the bars here at midnight."

The late Leo Gravit was really funny on the ice. I had a heavy French accent, of course, and this added something to the humor. He was skating behind me in one game - it was a long time ago back in my rookie years - and he caught me giving a rival player a real good hook.

"Ho, ho, I caught you at time," he said. I almost went in the penalty box laughing.

He had a habit of skating behind you and saying "Hurry up, hurry up, you are out of play."

It was fun.

"Le Dribble" Gains Popularity On Continent

PARIS (CP) — French fans call it "le basket" and also talk expertly of star "basket-players" and such vital aspects of the game as "le dribble."

But whatever words the French have for it, basketball has won itself a definite place in this country's sports scene.

While some European hockey teams draw on Canadian talent, Americans—especially tall ones—welcome it in France for purposes of showing up basketball stars.

Antoine, on the Riviera, French of the "squads" currently playing in the top division—National 1—of organized basketball here.

The team calls itself Olympique and started this season with a much-loved standard in the person of Dan Rodriguez.

Puerto Rican by extraction, Rodriguez speaks English and Spanish, resting with the bilingual exclamation "Maravillosa, maravillosa," when asked how he liked life in his new Mediterranean residence.

The Bronx-born Rodriguez, 32, has brought new dash to the officially amateur French game with his flamboyance on and off the court.

Eccentric spectacles and a massive moustache make up vital parts of his playing attire. Opponents in National 1 call him "Dan le Dribbleur," or Devil Dan, while experts praise his foot and "remarquable passeur."

Together with Antoine, teams from Le Mans and Villeurbanne drew favorable notice from writers predicting how the league standings will look when the present season, which began in mid-fall, ends next spring.

Rodriguez himself speculated that Villeurbanne, a community in the Lyons area, has a possible winner.

But there is much interest too in the debut of north in Douai, where 25-year-old Jean Degres is rounding out his career with the local entry in National 1.

Degres has made a name as a "sharpest in international play for France."

He is believed to have lined up with more teams representing France against other countries than any French basketballer past or present.

Some fans think Degres will stick with Douai for another season after this one.

While they debated this point, they also discussed the prospects of a new arrival in Douai—a 22-year-old American named Ken Barnett.

His case is interesting primarily for the way it exemplifies how things are done in French basketball.

Once in Douai, Barnett told team officials that his conditions for signing included provision of a good job and comfortable lodging.

But he labored under one handicap—the language difficulty. "An interpreter is necessary," noted one sports writer.

Pair of Branch 99 Teams Seek Provincial Board Honors

Two Branch 99 Royal Canadian Legion branches will travel to Woodstock to compete in the Provincial Championship Saturday as a result of their Oct. 30 sweep of District "C" honours.

The provincial tournament is sponsored by Labatt's Breweries and will be on all day after starting at 9:00 a.m. It was the first time on record.

The schedule of Solunar periods, as printed below, has been taken from Mrs. Richard Allen Knap's Solunar Tables. Plan your days so that you will be fishing in good territory or hunting in good cover during these times, if you wish to find the best sport that each day has to offer.

The Major Periods are shown in boldface type. These begin at the times shown and last for an hour and a half or two hours thereafter. The Minor Periods, shown in regular type, are of somewhat shorter duration. Use Eastern Standard Time.

(For Nov. 14-24)

Day	Time	Period
Saturday	2:00 - 2:30	2.25
Sunday	2:00 - 2:30	2.25
Monday	4:30 - 5:00	2.25
Tuesday	5:30 - 6:00	2.25
Wednesday	6:30 - 7:00	2.25
Thursday	8:30 - 9:00	2.25
Friday	9:30 - 10:00	2.25
Saturday	10:30 - 11:00	2.25
Sunday	11:25 - 12:00	2.25

and that two teams from one Legion qualified for the Provincial championship in the same year.

The District "F" tournament included teams from: Oakville, Alton, Peterborough, Port Hope, Trenton and Cobourg.

The Legion 99 Teams consisted of: Team "A" — Jerry Downes, captain, Bob Forger, Jr. Switzerland, Dave Roberts, Al Adams, Neil Burton, Jim Woodcock and Don Carr. Team "B" — Jim Goudie, captain, Leo Goyer, Jack Scanlan, Jim Campbell, Jack Calnan, Lloyd Duran, Clinton Woodcock and Ray Marsh.

At Woodstock, the competition will be divided into two ten-team divisions, with Belleville having one team in each. Legion 99 Sports Officer and Team "A" captain Jerry Downes is optimistic: "He should get at least a first place. Last year we finished second, and we've knocked on the door for four years now. But this year we've got two teams and I think we'll kind of the Provincial title to Belleville for the first time."

NEW YORK (AP) — The Buster Mathis-Gordon Chuvalo 12-round heavyweight boxing match has been rescheduled to its original date, Friday, Dec. 4 by Madison Square Garden officials. The bout had been moved back a week to Dec. 12 but was rescheduled for its original date when another match was made for the Garden's smaller Pelt Forum on Dec. 10.

ROME (AP) — United States representatives were favored to capture two-man teams from 48 other nations and capture the 10th annual World Cup golf championship which opened today. They were U.S. Open champion Lee Trevino, 38, of Dallas, Tex., and Julius Burris, 40, Professional Golfers' Association champion of Port Lauderdale, Fla. In a practice round Wednesday Burns carded a 68, two off the record 82 for the 8,000-yard par-72 Open championship course. Trevino, U.S. Open champion and fresh from winning the Hawaii Open, finished in 72.

CHICAGO (AP) — An overflow crowd of 1,300, including several ring girls, attended a 121-a-plate benefit Wednesday night for ailing Ezzard Charles, former heavyweight champion. Charles, 46, is suffering from lateral sclerosis, a nerve condition in the spine. He said he first noticed it in 1965, a few years before he retired from the ring. It has worsened progressively. Charles attended in a wheelchair and, while making a short speech, was propped up by Rocky Marciano and Archie Moore, both of whom he fought. It was estimated that a minimum of $15,000 was realized. It will be deposited in a trust fund for Charles, who lost to Marciano in a title bout for the second time in 1954. It was downhill after that.

Seasonal Ertis Haines went on the biggest scoring binge in the National Basketball Association this season — 34 points — but he needed two little points by Art (Hammond) Williams to keep it from going to straight. Williams connected on a driving layup with 17 seconds left Wednesday night to give San Diego a 123-120 victory over Detroit after Haines ended a 3-point rally with 17 of his points in the final quarter. Running Baltimore trimmed Cincinnati's lead in the Eastern Division 141-113 in the night's other games. The 6-foot-8 Haines, a top candidate for Rookie-of-the-Year honors, broke the previous season high of 41 set by San Francisco's Nate Thurmond in a game with Seattle last month.

Gaels Away

Queen's Should Rely On a Passing Offence

KINGSTON (CP) — Queen's University Golden Gaels leave today for Winnipeg where the Ontario-Quebec Athletic Association football champions meet the University of Manitoba Bisons in the Western Bowl Sunday afternoon.

The winner earns a berth in the College Bowl in Toronto Nov. 28.

The Gaels will have to rely on a tough defence and a passing game if they hope to upset the Bisons.

The Bisons rely on a running game and that's where the Gaels will have to show the strength it has shown all year.

The Gaels' defensive line of Derek Orr, Jim Sherrett, Doug Walter and John Stirling will have their work cut out for them.

Queen's' defensive coordinator fairly strung led by Jim Turnbull and Rob Brooks.

Weather could be the difference between a win and a loss for Queen's. If the Gaels are fortunate to strike a warm and sunny day, their passing will be difficult to stop. But if the temperature dips to near the zero mark they may be in trouble.

Although the Gaels have been strong along the ground in the last two games, they are not club which plays with consistency. Ron Clark and Heino Liller will do most of the ball carrying.

rying Rourke Keith Eaman will share the load as will Al Strader.

The Queen's attack is centred on the pass and Don Bayne is the best quarterback in the O-QAA. Bayne completed 76 of 134 passes for 1,136 yards and 15 touchdowns.

And he has some excellent receivers. Richard Van Buren caught 25 passes for 348 yards. Don McIntyre caught 14 for 223 yards. Tom Chown six for 163, Eaman six for 79. Liller eight for 78 and Strader four for 66.

Clark was the third best runner in the O-QAA this season with 281 yards in 81 carries. Eaman had 361 yards in 67 carries and Liller gained 367 yards in 63 carries.

Bison Coaching Staff Gets Early Christmas Gift

WINNIPEG (CP) — University of Manitoba Bisons are getting a helping hand from a rival in preparing for Western Canada's college football classic Sunday.

The Bisons spent University of Alberta Golden Bears 107-7 last week to win the Western Intercollegiate Football League and advance to the Western Bowl against Queen's University Golden Gaels of Kingston, Ont.

But it was the Bears who had anticipated victory, and they were in the process of getting ready to host the final gathering of scouting reports and game films of the Gaels.

It was wasted effort on their part, except that the Bears turned over all that information to the Bisons who now can forego that phase of preparation. The Bisons are hoping for a crowd in excess of 20,000 for the game at Fort Gerry Campus, where the Manitoba squad appears healthy and ready.

"Most people expect our success in our defence which has only allowed an average of one touchdown a game all year," said coach Henry Jansen, "but they seem to overlook the fact that we have scored a lot of points in all but two games."

"That's a sign of good balance,"

Directing the Bisons' offensive unit will be quarterback Bob Krammer, a 160-pound speedster.

Krammer is just one of the 28 rookies on the Manitoba squad, halfback Danny Hryciak, a five-foot-six and 160 pounds, was the league's most valuable player and won the scoring championship with 50 points.

Hryciak, who led the league with 588 yards rushing on 35 carries, also runs back punts and had a 19.3 yard average on kickoff returns.

The halfbacks are Graham Kinley, while Randy Miller fills the fullback slot and Rich Howden occupies the flanker position. However, in the only Bisons who plays wide.

Canada's Unsettled Role in NATO Leaves Partners Disturbed

BRUSSELS (CP) — Some of Canada's North American "free" Organization allies were presented as disturbed over uncertainty about the future of Canada's armed strength in Europe as the alliance prepared to meet today the its semi-annual ministerial meeting.

The NATO was expected to tell NATO partners at the three-day session that she will maintain force in Europe for another year-end uncertainty at current levels—leaving her beyond that point in the air.

Generally, the NATO countries at the policy session will be making firm pledges for a year and "rolling" commitments for the next four. Most NATO members are reporting an enviable increase in their strength, leaving Canada as an oddman out while the post-revision review of NATO by the Trudeau administration remains incomplete.

Canadian parliamentarians attending meetings of the NATO assembly 14 to 16 week said Wednesday they found the Canadian position embarrassing in discussions with their opposite numbers from alliance countries. United States delegates were reported as particularly "disturbed" at the way Canada was holding off on shaping her hand.

Liberal Senator Daniel Lang, co-chairman for the Canadian parliamentarians' military committee, said in an interview that "the recognition of the Canadian government in connection with our position in Europe already has discredited us in the eyes of our allies."

Canada's position was the subject of several questions directed at NATO Secretary-General Melville Brundage at a press meeting following a conference Wednesday night, but Brundage stopped himself around suggestions that other alliance members might bring pressure to bear to have her at least in line by the present scale of forces.

Pentagon Clarifies Memo

WASHINGTON (AP) — A top Pentagon official says a report prepared by his office for the U.S. delegation to a NATO meeting was wrong in its assessment of the Soviet threat in Central Europe after the invasion of Czechoslovakia.

Ain C. Zehnborn apologized in a letter to Senator John S. Cooper (Rep. N.Y.) for what he said was the erroneous conclusion that the Soviets were weaker after the Czech invasion last August.

Zehnborn said he believed instead that the new Soviet threat to Central Europe "has significantly increased, not reduced."

Zehnborn is the defense department's assistant secretary for systems analysis.

He referred to an appraisal drawn up by his staff for top U.S. officials including Cooper as they prepared to attend the NATO meeting now under way in Brussels, Belgium.

In a Nov. 7 letter to the senator, a member of the foreign relations committee, Zehnborn said the wording of the memorandum created "an impression which is opposite to the views which I hold and which characterize government assessments of the Czech situation."

The thrust of Zehnborn's original memorandum remained unchanged: That NATO forces remain inadequate and should be upgraded.

European Countries To Step Up Effort

BRUSSELS (CP) — NATO defense ministers today opened a three-day conference convened a month earlier than scheduled because of the Warsaw pact invasion of Czechoslovakia.

Informed sources said the NATO meeting now under way in Brussels, Belgium.

In a Nov. 7 letter to the senator, a member of the foreign relations committee, Zehnborn said the wording of the memorandum created "an impression which is opposite to the views which I hold and which characterize government assessments of the Czech situation."

The thrust of Zehnborn's original memorandum remained unchanged: That NATO forces remain inadequate and should be upgraded.

any NATO decisions to step up the defensive effort.

The West Germans are acutely conscious of the strategic changes wrought by the Aug. 20 invasion of Czechoslovakia and look with concern at the presence of Russian army divisions close to the Czechoslovak West German frontier.

Other factors behind plans to improve NATO military capabilities are recent Soviet statements claiming a right to intervene in West Germany, harassment of West Berlin communities and the Russian naval buildup in the Mediterranean.

Informed sources said the meeting may decide to set up a NATO standing naval force in the Mediterranean.

Ambassador Denies Report Intends to Quit NATO Post

BRUSSELS (CP) — Ross Campbell, Canadian ambassador to NATO here, today denied saying he is considering quitting his post because of Canada's uncertain position on NATO armed forces.

"Of course I'm not considering resigning," he said in an interview after he had been quoted by a Toronto radio station as saying he had thought of doing this.

A clear opposition of Canada's commitments in Europe as armed forces is being held up pending a review of government policy, Allies at the NATO ministerial meeting here are reported concerned at the Canadian position.

Campbell had a cocktail party for a large number of diplomats and press people Wednesday night, but said today he had made no statements whatever to reporters.

THE PICK OF The Pouch

Lack of Money May Cripple Legislature's Work

TORONTO (CP) — Money or the lack of it may have made a lame duck out of the Ontario legislature's first fall session since 1961, and the session doesn't open until Tuesday, Nov. 19.

There will be a three-pronged debate on money legislation before a Christmas recess—a new Expropriation Act is certain and reform of liquor laws are probable.

The Progressive Conservative government to say where it is going to get the money it claims it needs to meet a "financial nightmare."

In the normal course of events there would be no indications before Treasurer Charles MacNaughton brought in a budget.

et, usually a February occasion. But speeches by government leaders have indicated this is no normal year.

Premier John Robarts has said that expenditures will have to be reduced for beyond revenues by 1975, and a crippling provincial debt will have to be offset by increased borrowing, higher income and sales taxes or a drastic reduction in government services.

A committee on tax reform has approved an increase in income tax to the point at which net capital debt equals nine per cent of the provincial domestic product, but Premier Robarts says this would be far from reality.

Mr. MacNaughton has said he is not afraid of the political consequences of raising taxes, but the increases in sales and income taxes necessary to limit the deficit would be an impossible burden.

The prospective deficit, he said, has to be covered by a massive cutback in expenditures, and these will have to be made in the areas of major spending: Education, health, welfare, highways and to municipal services.

Both the cuts are to be made and by how much are questions that excite the thinking of the 94 government members and the 28 Liberals and 10 Progressive Democrats who formed the opposition.

The liquor speech almost certainly will refer to a new Expropriation Act, provided for this session by Attorney-General Arthur Wishart. It is expected to tighten controls over agencies with powers of expropriation and to go some distance toward meeting a demand for compensation based on the principle of a bonus for a bonus.

Also expected is legislation that will set a provincial system of educational television into effect.

Provincial Secretary Welch said at St. Catharines recently that an examination of Ontario liquor laws is nearly complete, and he may be ready to ask the legislature before the law is to date. Most speculation centers upon possibility of lowering the legal drinking age from 21 to 18, and of fewer restrictions on the retail sale of liquor.

Premier Robarts has repeated in a series of speeches that urgent action is required on pollution control, urban transportation, housing, recreation facilities and urban renewal.

The government also may be ready to act on the recommendation of a select committee that establishment of regional governments in Ontario be speeded up.

Mr. MacNaughton has emphasized the urgency of regional planning to prepare high-priority objectives on which the government can spend the limited resources it has available for economic development.

If the federal government moves quickly on its promised reform of the Criminal Code, the legislature will be asked to approve a bill modernizing provincial laws and reform its own.

The legislature was returned to the legislature last summer, but it cannot be enacted until the Criminal Code is amended. Before it rises for the Christmas recess, the legislature also may be given a government white paper on taxation policy.

A select committee headed by John White, since named Ontario's minister of revenue, the Smith report through the summer and made its own recommendations.

Both reports have been analyzed by experts in every government department.

All three documents will form the substance of the white paper promised for some time in this session.

'Every Possible Form of Persuasion' Is Planned

OTTAWA (CP) — Ontario Treasurer Charles MacNaughton said Wednesday that he would use "every possible form of persuasion and reason" to pursue his "just and reasonable cause" of a more rational distribution of taxation revenues.

"We are not prepared . . . to remain in the position of a hand-to-hand or a merchant at the mercy of the federal government," he said in a speech to the Eastern Ontario Development Association.

Mr. MacNaughton said last week that provincial government interference was assured the federal government would reconsider the tax-sharing question.

Since then we have heard nothing but the federal government's refusal to budge on the provinces must levy their own taxes if they want more money.

"We cannot achieve a just federation if each level of government continues to tax its own needs without recognizing its responsibility and needs of other levels."

Mr. MacNaughton said the association that regional development plans will be guidelines for public administration in 1975 and 1976.

"We will not have enough funds to undertake all the programs that all of our people request. We will not be able to meet all of this increasing demand."

Banks Case Comes Up Again

WASHINGTON (CP) — The Robtson Senator Paul Robtson said Wednesday he feels confident the new Republican administration "will do everything it is possible to do" to see that the flat C. Banks case is "dear up satisfactorily."

He added a statement received by his office here, that he has "not yet made a study" of what further steps might be possible in Canada's effort to have the former labor leader extradited to face perjury charges in Ontario.

The senator, now visiting his home state of Arizona said he feels sure the administration under President elect Richard Nixon will pursue the matter "to a just conclusion."

Newfoundland MPs Block Bill in Protest on CN Plans

OTTAWA (CP) — Newfoundland Conservatives treated the Commons Wednesday to an odd display of the Mounties' Train Robbery, a government of cabinet, a protest of the CN's passenger service and the members of the Canadian transportation commission.

Unlike the old-time silent movie, this version has shots of sound effects and the railway suits off the boat. Newfoundland's residents provide the cast of thousands.

By staging their show through much of Wednesday's sitting, the Newfoundland MPs helped block final passage of a measure to finance activities of the CNR and Air Canada, the two government-owned transportation systems.

The Newfoundlanders strongly opposed CNR plans approved by the Canadian transportation commission, to abandon rail passenger service in Newfoundland and substitute a bus service.

Second reading approval in principle was given the measure earlier and third reading, the final Commons step, is usually a formality.

James A. McGrath (PC-St. John's East) said until he became national policy that the CNR be allowed to scrap passenger service in every other province, "we will oppose it."

J. W. Pickersill, former Newfoundland MP, former transport minister in the Liberal cabinet and now president of the transportation commission, was singled out for particular mention by John Ludgrove (PC-Charlottetown).

"I'm not against Jack Pickersill making $40,000 a year," Mr. Ludgrove said, adding sarcasm. He also was not against the "astute and businesslike" rounding out the commission membership including $14,000 each a year.

He did object to the transport commission approving the CNR passenger service abandonment when virtually every Newfoundland citizen was against it.

There had been dozens of petitions against the CNR move. He had just received one with more than 3,400 names.

Mr. McGrath and Mr. Ludgrove said the Conservatives in Newfoundland campaigned before the last election on a plan that CNR passenger service should be improved and upgraded instead of scrapped.

On June 25 the voters elected six Conservatives and only one Liberal. This amounted to a rebuke against scrapping the passenger service and the government should heed the people's wishes.

Mr. Ludgrove said when public hearings were held in St. John's, the CNR had said $1,000,000 in the next year on the rail abandonment proposal every brief except that presented by the CNR was against the move.

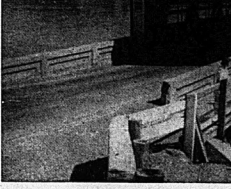

The CNR had argued that longer service would be a longer railway development. It was the terms of union that spark economic growth in Newfoundland instead of allowing it to go down the drain.

Frank Moore (PC-Bonaville) said that a CNR train "was lost" between Montreal and Ottawa in 1967, though faultily switching, the train got into a CNR track and was right along before the engineer discovered the mistake.

Air Canada also was the target for some snickers. Sieve Papayak (PC-Edmonton) scored Air Canada for reducing its winter service to Edmonton.

He said the number of seats a week on flights to Vancouver "young blood" into Air Canada's management.

David Orlitzky NRP — Winnipeg — urged the government to keep the airline's overhead base at Winnipeg to operate for short-term DCA aircraft, rather than move the terminal to Montreal, that city could handle the long-range DC-8s.

Hardtland's Pride

This 1,282-foot covered bridge at Hardtland, N.B., is not only the longest in the world, it is probably as well photographed as any other — with or without cover — in Canada. Built at the turn of the century, it was not covered until the late 1920s. Today the allowable speed is confusing. One sign sets the speed limit at 15 miles an hour while another warns of a 320 time for driving "faster than a walk."

Monarchists Sought

OTTAWA (CP) — Former prime minister John Diefenbaker said Wednesday he would like to hear prominently ad herents speak at the former Conservative head of the Ottawa branch of the English-Speaking Union there.

It has been a continuous campaign in the last few years to abolish the monarchy.

He would like to hear the opponents of this move speak out as Gen. Georges Vanier and Viscount Maccoby did in their days as Governor General.

Mr. Diefenbaker also told the dinner crowd of 200 that those who advocate a presidential system of government for Canada do not recognize the impossibility of their goal.

Worst Despotism--Tyranny of Ignorant

By SYDNEY J. HARRIS

In the four biggest U.S. wars (the Civil, the Spanish-American, and the two World Wars), the U.S. demanded and got "unconditional surrender" — with the eventual result that the South remained intractable, Cuba turned intractable, Cuba turned intractable, and there is now instability in Europe and Asia today that there was before the First World War. So much for military solutions to political problems.

It is now a dozen years since seat belts have been advised by auto manufacturers, and still only 25 per cent of motorists wear them regularly, most of these use them only for long trips on expressways (when they are least needed), and more than half of the common backhills there no bonnet that the slack would hurtle them through the windshield anyway.

Mr. Connolly's new book of memoirs, "Voices Offstage" contains a fascinating chapter on the difficulties and ultimate success of his Pulitzer prize-winning play "Green Pastures," which I have long felt could and should be turned into a first-rate musical play, with more performance to-day than it had 30 years ago.

Giving people the power to vote without at the same time providing the requisite background for making a civilized choice can lead to the greatest despotism of all—the tyranny of the uninstructed majority.

One of the best explanations of the recent rash of "demonstrations" is given by Anthony Benn, Britain's Minister of Technology: "A Prime Minister can address a whole nation, if necessary at an hour's notice. A press officer can print his own article on the front page and have it read by millions. But for ordinary people with minority views, the only way of answering back is to walk about with a placard and hope the press or television will take a picture. Compared with the publicity available to the mass media, the public is still stuck with a communication system that has hardly changed since the Stone Age."

The greatest threat to a decent way of life for all does not come from the extremists of left or right, but from the mass in the middle, who allow themselves to be moved by short-term benefits rather than basking their attitudes on long-term principles.

Much of the adult racism against the manners and dress of today's youth springs from an unexpressed resentment that they have a freedom we didn't have (or didn't take) when we were younger; and a great deal of it is, unconsciously, sexual envy.

Violence on the highway is 10 times greater than all other crimes of violence combined in the U.S., producing nearly 10,000 injuries a day and being the leading cause of death from ages 15 to 24—but it's getting excited about that!

Toronto Man at U. of T. by Day, But Is Locked Up Every Night

TORONTO (CP) — Ontario correctional services' 4 p.p.r. ment officials have expressed concern at publicity given a Toronto man who is spending his days at the University of Toronto and nights in jail.

A spokesman said the department would have preferred keeping quiet the story of 21-year-old Stanley Thomas Dobrowolski in order to give him time to adjust to his situation.

Dobrowolski, sentenced to a year definite and one year indeterminate for possession of marijuana, is one of five persons participating in an experiment in which prison inmates will be allowed to leave institutions for personal reasons, to work and to attend school.

The conviction and sentence to a high reformatory last July interrupted a second-year psychology course, and Dobrowolski determined not to lose a year of study.

"I'd heard of this being done in other places, so I just kept bothering the national people board and writing letters," he said in a recent interview. "But by September I had almost lost hope."

He was lucky. The board was impressed and wrote to the province at a time when the Ontario department of correctional services was already planning a move in this direction.

On Oct. 24, accompanied by a parole officer, Stanley registered once more in his second-year course. Now each day he leaves the Don Jail at 8 a.m. and is on his own until he returns to his cell at 6 p.m.

His day is spent in classes, studying, and perhaps at lunch with his pretty wife, Krystina, 21, now in her third year of a four-year English course.

Intelligence, drive and articulate about the changes in thinking that have convinced him he wants to train for a job helping young people in trouble with drugs, Stanley is a genuine pig in the province's shift to wards creative use of the parole.

Another program allows four prisoners at Brampton reformatory to attend public high school in the city by day.

Supply Of Doctors To Be Cut

OTTAWA (CP) — The latest 14,811 of 16 of federal programs will bring growth of research, training and supply of doctors to care for the public within a few years, say three researchers who took part in a mammoth survey of the status and outlook in medical research.

The survey report to the Medical Research Council, made public Wednesday, forecast a doubling by 1975 in the space for research and the number of investigators working at universities. Costs would more than double.

However, the forecasts were made before the federal government told the provinces that spending from the $200,000,000 health resources fund will be kept at about $37,000,000 a year. At a news conference Wednesday, Dr. Aurèle Beaudin of Montreal, Dr. D. P. Waugh of Halifax and Dr. E. D. Wolfe of Toronto said unexpected limits would be placed on the growth of research and training space.

For Nov. 14th.

Your birthday today: You will have to revise your plans many times before this year is finished. There is little change in your values or attitude to ward life, but many confusing details.

ARIES (Mar. 21 — Apr. 19): Your spirit is improved by special teachers suggested by your intuitive processes. If you're turned it, ask for whatever you want. There's a good chance of getting it today!

Taurus (Apr. 20 — May 20): Late in the year people have been shilly-shally tried to co-operate; now it's the other way around. Try to discourage the game. Do not be rude or grumpy.

GEMINI (May 21 — June 20): Do all that comes handy to do advance. Do not be determined about personal wishes in family affairs. Give your loved ones time to grow toward their ideals.

CANCER (June 21 — July 21): Travel is hindered or more tedious by circumstances. People in authority do not seem to care for your ideas, at moment.

Leo (July 22 — Aug. 22): The gentle approach pays off. You can talk yourself into a much more lucrative road. Speculation continues upward. Do a lot of (unseen) entertaining this evening.

VIRGO (Aug. 23 — Sept. 22): If you can moderate the demands you place on people I assure you, this can be a rather successful day. Your insight helps in keep you out of decision. Learn fine music tonight.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 — Oct. 22): If you can adapt the temperature to be orientations, you can improve the people-who really count. A sudden hunch tells you ways of improving your financial state.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 — Nov. 21): Your friends may be very helpful in setting up contacts. Now, follow your hunches rapidly, the high spots for later deeper coverage. A subsequent scribble will reveal much...

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 — Dec. 21): This is a great day for investigating the mysterious. Follow your hunches rapidly, the high spots for later deeper coverage. A subsequent scribble will reveal much...

Behind The Glass

The curling season at the Quins Curling Club is in full swing. It was a little late in starting due to the warm weather in late October and early November but the devotees got down to business last week when a mixed bout was held and concluded by a dance and dinner on Saturday night.

In the bonspiel the Lovett trophy was up for grabs and Ken and Joyce Woodley with Marlene and Bill Henderson on the head end stole the show with a three - high victory. Earl and Marlene Couture with Dorothy and Don McKinnon as skip won second place and Bert and Marion Salisbury with Doris and Al Benson took the show position.

There were three two-game high winners with Betty Sullivan and Jim Dallas combining with Marlene and Don Couture in top spot. Gloria and Vera Goodwin with Ann and Vase Stairs in second place and Joyce and Bill Johnson with Flo Reardon and Bill Riley in third position.

Vera and Everett Fairman combined with Joan and Charles Cox to win the one - game high score with Joan and Jim Slater with Lorna and Doug Bennett in the second spot. Vynore and Bill McPherson with Helen and Gil Wasmuth had third high. The no - game winner was Jeanne and Vic White with Miriam and Ralph Graham.

Canada Denies NATO Air Int Then Faces Larger Force Shakeup?

SAIGON (AP) — South Vietnam Premier Tran Van Huong has submitted his resignation to President Nguyen Van Thieu amid some indication of a possible shift in South Vietnam's supportive of the Paris peace talks, authoritative sources said today.

(Reuters news agency, however, said a spokesman for Huong "strongly denied" the premise had given his resignation to Thieu.)

Information Minister Thieu said the premier had been the recipient of a letter from the president. Thieu said the letter was "not accurate." However, Thieu would not elaborate and declined to comment further when asked if the report was true.

Other sources in the government said a cabinet reshuffle had been under consideration for several days and some kind of official action was imminent. The military front, the U.S. command received North Vietnam's demand to keep the demilitarized zone free of military activity and sent American bombers streaking over the zone to attack bombers and ammunition depots.

A spokesman said 31 North Vietnamese soldiers were killed and at least a dozen bombers were destroyed in the south.

Huong's resignation was submitted as a result of differences arising from the stalemate of peace talks, the sources said. It was part of an effort to calm the crisis which could result in Huong's return to office as head of a strong government or his departure from the South Vietnamese boycott of the Paris talks.

Thieu said his resignation was not a resignation, but a resignation of the government's position. He said the government would not make an official comment. But other sources close to the government said it is a resignation. Thieu said he is a strong cabinet member and the Thieu regime soon felt more secure. The premier might not feel it necessary to resign, but his resignation meant that of the Viet Cong's North Liberation Front at the Paris talks.

'Depraved Men' In High Places Blamed for Film

OTTAWA (CP) — Depraved CBC officials in high places were responsible for showing the film, Listen America on television just before the Nov. 1 U.S. election, broadcaster MP Robert McEwain charged Thursday.

The film, which was a piece of "cheap journalism" that appeared in part to perverts including the zone to attack bombers and ammunition depots.

The film was a journalistic essay on the Black Power movement in the U.S. It included scenes of rioting and police brutality and "talked hippies at a level."

Mr. McEwain said there was no direct link between upper management and management of lower levels that puts "this kind of trash" on television.

Robert Stastny, parliamentary secretary to the Minister of the Privy Council, who reports to Parliament for the CBC, offered no judgment on the program.

He noted that the program host, Patrick Watson, had clearly indicated the film in advance as a biased and one-sided presentation of issues facing America.

OTTAWA (CP) — Justice Minister John Stastny said Thursday he was not in support of the film, which was against left banks through U.S. courts.

BRUSSELS (CP) — Canada has not shut out the possibility of increasing her NATO forces in Europe if the Russian attitude gets tougher, External Affairs Minister Sharp indicated today.

Meanwhile, he said, reaction among allies has been favorable to Canada's decision to defer a planned reduction in the size of the Canadian air division in West Germany as the result of the Russian invasion of Czechoslovakia.

Defence Minister Cadogan announced the move to the NATO defence planning committee Thursday as the alliance's ministerial meeting got under way to assess the effect of the Czechoslovak situation.

Canada will continue with its move to close the Zweibrücken base next September but will drop indefinitely a proposed reduction in plane strength. It would come between $10,000 and $20,000 a year and delay the return home of about 800 men.

Talking to reporters today, Sharp was asked about the possibility of further strengthening of the Canadian forces in Europe and replied:

"If international conditions were to develop in such a way that there was a further threat to Europe, I am quite sure that Canada would respond just as the others do."

Canada has a land brigade group of 3,500 men and the air division of some 4,000 personnel. It has been planned to cut it down to 2,500 by 1971.

Before Canada announced its decision to maintain the European force at their present level for now, she had been under considerable pressure from allies to show her hand as Canadian decisions were held up by the government's still continuing defence review.

Following the defence minister's statement Thursday, Sharp said that other countries now appear to find a Canadian position "acceptable."

"I think the reaction to Mr. Cadogan's statement was quite good. It was a relief that we were playing our hand," Sharp said. "There was every sign that we were intended to take the kind of measures that were appropriate."

Reds Get Warning On Berlin

BOON (AP) — The United States has warned the Soviet Union that any new Communist move to take over Berlin would seriously upset Washington.

The warning came amid widespread speculation that East Germany is about to change new restrictions on Communist surveillance Berlin in response to the German activities there.

The source said Dornier was warning that the harassment of the Communists was so severe that Berlin would be forced to take action against recent federal German activities there.

The source said Dornier was warning that the harassment of the Communists was so severe that Berlin would be forced to take action against recent federal German activities there.

Communist threats of possible reprisals action reached a climax Nov. 13 as Chancellor Konrad Gieffert's Christian Democratic party staged its annual convention in West Berlin in defiance of East German demands that it be cancelled.

But the East German first did not let the party congress get under way, causing West Germany and allied officials to speculate that the Communists were about to make some move.

No Tax on Churches, Food Or Child's Clothes - Robarts

TORONTO (CP) — Premier John Robarts said today the Ontario government will not tax churches or extend the five-percent sales tax to food or children's clothing. He said it is a new confidence that the decision was made after close examination of the effects such taxes would have and public reaction to such taxes.

"I wouldn't like to be the head of a government that started the taxation of places of worship," he said.

Extended taxes had been proposed by the Smith commission which studied taxation in Ontario, and a legislative committee that studied the recommendations of the Smith group.

"We have looked this situation over pretty carefully," the premier said. "We have decided that we are not going to broaden the sales tax here to include tax on food and on children's clothing and we are not going to accept the recommendation that we tax places of worship."

Justice 'Incidental' To Hoover

NEW YORK (AP) — FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover said Thursday that "justice is merely incidental to law and order."

Hoover said, "In an interview, that 'vigorous law enforcement' is the only answer" to rising and lawlessness.

Asked about justice, Hoover said:

"Justice is merely incidental to law and order. Law and order is what covers the whole picture. Justice is the part of it that is incidental to law and order."

Dubcek Outlines New Policy
PRAGUE (CP) — The members of the Czechoslovak Communist party's central committee today debated party chief Alexander Dubcek's call for stronger Communist rule and a return to the Stalinism that prevailed before party liberals ousted Antonin Novotny.

Dubcek spelled out a three-point program for the Czechoslovakian in a major speech before the central committee Thursday night.

The new program, stripped of much of its former liberal character, calls for a realistic fight against socialism and foreign aid, and in serious injury to a security guard and a delinquent.

LBJ Speaks For Nixon

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson and Richard M. Nixon are breaking new ground with their joint statement on a major foreign policy move in favor of Nixon's Jan. 20 inauguration.

Nixon told a news conference Monday, after a meeting with President Johnson, that the present administration can speak for the two men on foreign affairs with the full authority of the incoming administration.

A news conference in New York Thursday said that Johnson had agreed to consult him before making any significant move.

Jacques Bertrand that the Quebec Police Commission is investigating the conduct of a Vanier commission. A provincial police inquiry had found that the constable was aware that a Vanier warehouse was used as a liquor courier company last July 28, but reported this only on Wednesday.

Mr. Wagner said that instead of directing a provincial inquiry against a Vanier policeman, the Vanier police should be using the Vanier police for showing "outrage and determination."

NAPANESE — An investigator from the Ontario Fire Marshal's office was called today to investigate the cause of a house fire that took the life of an 84-year-old man near here last night.

The blaze was the latest in a series of fires which have destroyed five barns in less than a month in this area.

Provincial police, while not looking last night's fire as one of the other fires said all the incidents will be discussed with the inspector.

An OPP spokesman said arson — "when you have a series of fires."

Firefighters worked for four hours to bring the fire under control. The blaze started in the living room of a house on Highway 10, about four miles east of Napane and was quickly extinguished.

Police feared Mr. Napane was trapped inside. Wednesday night he was found by a friend from a meeting of the Napane Lodge.

This body was found shortly after 2 a.m. nearly eight hours after the first alarm was turned in.

The incident came as a provincial police still pursued inquiries into a rash of barn fires within a seven-mile radius of Napane.

The first barn was destroyed.

Commissioner Elated

Industrial Year End Bright

By DONALD MACKENZIE
Staff Reporter

"Belleville is being brought" said a very elated industrial commissioner. City Mayor this morning.

"It's almost as if everybody in the city has taken a course on how to do it and they're doing a good job."

Compared to last year at this time, Commissioner Mr. Brown said that there has been an up-swing in industrial activity.

Two prospects complemented the city and the police force for its courage and efficiency, said Mr. Brown.

Adversity Doesn't Faze Minto's Veteran Rug Maker

By HARRY MURRAY

Staff Reporter

MINTO — In the school of life, Maxwell Anderson was A for effort, enthusiasm and activity.

He was B this week and will be working away in this battle as miles northeast of the fact he is a double amputee.

His handicap is not to alter his stamina or drive.

Now, Max works from his bed — and his workmanship is in wide demand among those who know him.

Ernest Maxwell Anderson's special days in his rag mats and carpets are he tackles each project with the same confidence and is not displaced in the outdoors.

That fact is his products are widely available.

friends, relatives and visitors — they even have been sent to South Africa — is a partly important element.

The true significance of his interest lies in the fact that, although crippled in life, he has found his own therapy.

"That interest, dates from a time when I was just his second leg to turn his circulation and came here to live with a niece by marriage — on the farm of Mr. and Mrs. Lindsay Taylor.

Max has always been his trademark.

"I was never one that wanted to be a life, I was always very busy," he declares.

Born of Scottish immigrant stock in nearby Seymour, he found his second leg to turn his labor to his own home — on Rowden Township's 12th concession.

Mostly a dairy farmer, he had a natural gift for handicraft and was a natural born mechanic and woodworker.

"If I would another building I just went at it and built it myself," he says. "I could do it in a week or a cement block wall."

His hands naturally stilled themselves.

My neighbors were always asking me to do things for them," says Anderson.

The first major blow to his life came in 1945 when doctors found it necessary to amputate his leg. Just two years later he was widowed and moved in with the Taylors.

Three years later he lost his second leg.

Nearly nine years and still clinging together through his double flagging legs.

"It wasn't long before I was able to do it better than my niece," claims Max.

Word spread rapidly of his adapted project and demand for his work grew from a pitiable to a common production line.

He has sent his rug across Ontario, to Quebec, the U.S. and the furthest point so far has been in South Africa.

But he also has other interests — hockey and football watched on a portable television set in his farmhouse workshop — bedroom.

And there is an added incentive to his work — his niece, Mackenzie King.

"I don't mind saying," he recalls, "I voted Liberal once — and I made the biggest mistake I ever made."

Home from hospital "I was just for something to do," he recalls.

Then, one day he observed a television program about a number of discarded child soldiers.

He decided to try it on a typical patient.

Quintre are to sound the depth of public interest in such a program.

Questionnaires are being mailed to industry, clubs and community organizations. Development of the course will follow.

However, one aspect of the course already has been decided.

It will mean steady work for its students.

Patterned on a University of Toronto adult — visual program, the course will develop in four stages. Each stage involves two semester or 120 hours instruction.

Each stage is progressively more advanced and qualification for advancement is strictly by merit.

There is no student failing the whole course then he'll be as fluent in French as the first two semesters at the University of extension H. J. 2nd.

During study sessions no English spoken.

However, the first phase of the program is designed for students who have had little, if any, previous contact with this language.

The course was first conceived at the University of extension H. J. 2nd.

There was no specific pattern in the queries, says Mr. Quintre, little or no French spoken.

There will be a general series of inquiries from all sorts of people. It was no general in fact, we thought it better to get out this survey."

It is designed for students who can be extended on a program of 120 hours.

There is a full suite of better than the results of the nomination meeting held on Monday night the election of the new members of the new Prince Edward School Board.

With three members elected to the school board the township will have the largest representation of any municipality in the county.

A breakdown of the voters' last shows are at eligible voters for a county board representative school candidate.

The Sun Gets Set for Winter

Winter 1968 officially doesn't arrive until Dec. 21, but the stage already is being set for its debut. The landscape already is taking on that clear, cold look associated with more frigid times — like this scene yesterday at Zwick's Island.

Integrated School System Logical Step Says Educator

TRENTON — A spokesman for the Ontario department of education last night indicated the new regional school boards as a "logical step which had to come" and said their greatest benefit will be "equal opportunity for everyone."

William Wood, assistant superintendent, department of education spoke to an interested group at Trenton High School as he explained and commented on the new regional boards.

"All schools will benefit from the programs under consideration by the board, providing smaller area opportunities that would have previously passed them by."

He told the audience they would be "more than satisfied with what will come" from the boards.

The new boards will also attempt an integrated type of system by which schools across the province would be operated on the same basis, making it easier for a student moving from school to school.

Education is evolving away from the small school for as Mr. Wood put it "the opportunities are better in a larger school."

And he believes that the new regional board is aiding the process of giving more opportunity because it is the next logical step in making our schools larger in scope.

On the price of the new board, Mr. Wood said he couldn't "even attempt a guess."

"But if your board doesn't do much," he stated, "I won't cost you much."

"Once the boards have been set up programs then costs can be estimated."

● He should have vision to see the broad picture of the future.

● He should have imagination to produce the highest quality education utilizing all resources, human and material.

● To approach the task with a balance of dedication and good humor, the ideal trustee has a sense of proportion.

● To formulate effective policies, the trustee should have flexibility.

Finally, he should have the ability to choose the best programs for children of the county.

● Previous school board members should be consulted, the committee decided, but an interest in children and education is essential.

Home And School Picks Ideal Trustee

A yardstick for assessing an "ideal trustee" was handed today to electors who will vote in the county school board election Dec. 15.

It came from the advisory committee of Belleville and District County of Home and School Associations.

"Trustees of the new county school board will formulate policies and see that they are carried out," the committee stated. "Who can measure up?"

"Someone who has the concern for the child first, who can give our children the education for living in a global world 20 years from now," the committee said in reply.

Six additional points were included in the committee's list of qualifications for the ideal trustee.

● He should have personal knowledge of the area.

● He should have vision to see the broad picture of the future.

● He should have imagination to produce the highest quality education utilizing all resources, human and material.

MR. AND MRS. DONALD DOUGLAS

Douglas - Pearson

Bel St. United Church, Ottawa, was the scene of a recent wedding when Joan Lydia Pearson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Pearson, became the bride of Donald Francis Douglas of Windsor, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Douglas, Belleville. The Rev. Morgan McFarlane officiated at the double-ring ceremony. Wedding music was rendered by the church organ.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a floor length Allene gown of crystal white satin with long lilipoll sleeves and high neckline with matching flowing train, caught at the shoulders. Her floor-length length illusion veil was held in place with a headpiece of tulle leaves. She carried a bouquet of baby white carnations and yellow sweetheart roses.

Mrs. Patricia Noon, Toronto, was maid of honor. She was attired in a floor length white gown of gold velvet with Empire waistline and three-quarter length sleeves. Her headpiece consisted of a matching velvet bow. Mrs. Joan Pearson, sister of the bride as junior bridesmaid, was also attired in gold, while bridesmaid Miss Margaret Emerson, Belleville, and Miss Ruth Pearson, sister of the bride, as flower girl wore a gown. Their gowns were styled identically to that of the maid of honor. All carried semi-casual bouquets and wore bouquets.

Charles Potts, Toronto, attended the bridegroom. The ushers were Murdoch McFarlane, Ottawa and Gay Coe, Toronto.

The reception was held at the Almon's Motel, Brockville where the bride's mother received the guests wearing a jade green imported sanger wool sheath with three-quarter sleeves. She chose a tulle draped hat of muted tones of green and matching accessories and wore a corsage of pink sweetheart roses. She was assisted by the bridegroom's mother who chose an imported ensemble of antique gold and blue re-embroidered metallic wool, gold fastenings, matching accessories and corsage of yellow sweetheart roses.

For the wedding trip the bride chose a tangerine wool knit dress with matching coat, brown accessories, and a corsage of yellow roses.

Mr. and Mrs. Douglas are residing at 222 University Ave., Windsor.

Baptist Church Will Mark Anniversary

The seventh anniversary of the Remondal Baptist Church will be observed on Sunday, Nov. 17 at a special service at 11 a.m. conducted by the minister Rev. Charles H. Savage.

Guest speaker for the occasion will be the Rev. Kenneth Gilpin, Mr. Gilpin has made wide contributions to the work of Christian Education in Ontario and Quebec. The choir will present special selections.

The Emmanuel Church had its beginning with a Sunday School established in 1940 on Fairview Ave. Worship services began in 1961 and the present building was dedicated in March, 1962, under the leadership of its first pastor, the late Rev. Eric Gair.

The church today carries on an extensive program with youth activities for boys and girls of all ages. An active Men's Fellowship was organized last year.

Crew Wears Skirts

VANCOUVER (CP) — Two 18-year-old girls from suburban Richmond, Cindy Watson and Shelley Thomas, are members of the crew of the 36-foot schooner Acta, which will sail from Vancouver in October for St. Thomas in the Virgin Islands. Captain of the schooner is Jack Wicks, a Vancouver carpenter who built the Acta himself.

Senior Citizens Hold Tea at Moose Hall

In contrast to the cold outside there was plenty of warmth in the hospitable atmosphere at the Senior Citizens Tea and Banquet held Thursday afternoon at the Maple Hall.

The initial welcoming committee started the whole thing with a pleasant greeting to guests — in the person of Mrs. M. Doyle, president and Mr. H. Taylor, past president. The converse of the event was Mrs. Eva Luffman, who presided over the tea.

The room which housed the dinner ladies was continuously full of milling and bournish happy shoppers. The many attractively displayed articles were undoubtedly the reason.

Mrs. Precett, Mrs. J. Doyle and Mrs. Gitt were joined the home baking table, which offered many varieties of delicious desserts. The ST. JOSEPH'S C.W.L.

The monthly meeting of St. Joseph's Parish Council of the Catholic Women's League was held recently in the Parish hall.

A brief business meeting was held at which time plans for the annual parish bazaar and tea were completed.

Mrs. M. Chavoy, Girl Guide and Brownie counselor, reported that two Brownie Packs and one Guide Pack had been formed, and that the exceptional number of children interested in Brownies might necessitate the formation of a third pack next year.

Mrs. J. Hasley, League Magazine counselor informed members that the magazine subscription could be included in the membership fee effective next May.

Mrs. H. Clarke, 1st vice-president gave a report on the regional meeting held in Kew on September 21.

The president, Mrs. C. Carr-Braist, reminded members that a collection of "old gold" would be made the first Monday in December to aid the poverty program.

The program co-ordinator, Mrs. M. Maria introduced Cpt. R. Manshore, who is a member of the 1st Canadian Paratrooper Regiment, to members since moving and to newcomers.

Mrs. H. Buckley thanked the speaker.

The program for the next meeting to be held on November 18 will be in the form of a talk and discussion on Vatican II led by Rev. Father C. Ganley.

ST. JAMES' C.W.L.

STERLING — The November meeting of St. James' C.W.L. was held in the rectory with nice numbers and two guests present.

Father McGarvey opened the meeting and the great-grand, Mrs. La Chappelle then pressed calls to those who had attended the Fellowship Tea. Final arrangements were made for the auction sale at the rectory. Father McGarvey voiced thanks to those who helped with sale preparations.

Religious Christmas cards will be on sale in the near future.

Mrs. John Ryan conducted a concert.

Father McGarvey invited all to attend the end-of-year ceremony in Frankford.

Lunch was served by Mrs. D. Robinson and Mrs. J. Ryan.

Wedding Watcher

LYNNE REGIS, England — Desires housewife Ruby Quik become her wedding at Archangel church here. Ruby, who used to skip school to watch weddings, says she loves them. "A wedding makes me feel happy or sometimes I have been in four or five in one day."

The newly table, with its attractive polka-dot and polka-dot tea caddy, delicate iron handles with colorful crocheted edgings was covered by Miss L. Field and Mrs. Cleopatra Thorne, immediate neighbor, the fancy work table, offered upon-embroidered pillowcases and lovely lily-of-the-valley, sold by Mrs. H. Taylor, Mrs. H. Brand, Mrs. Alice, Mrs. Pigeon and Mrs. W. Webb.

After all that exhaustive buying, the ladies could relax for a few minutes in the tea room.

The main tea table, covered by an embroidered white linen tablecloth, was enhanced by a lovely silver tea service and a beautiful floral centerpiece. The centerpiece was a cascade of colorful mums — yellow, white and pink, flanked on each side by red and green candelas. Large silver platters of dainty sandwiches added just the right finishing touch. Each lady's table was covered in white, and centered by bright sprig of holly.

Tea room converse was Mrs. Marjorie Clark, and "mumming" the kitchen were Mrs. Jean Hammett, Mrs. F. E. Cooke and Mrs. A. Scales and Mrs. E. Shortt. Selling tickets for the E. Cooke and Mrs. Frank Iodell and Mrs. K. Ferguson, Mrs. Eva Murphy and Mrs. E. Cooke sold tickets on the basket of groceries, and Mrs. E. Cooke sold tickets on the lovely quilt. "When we found the cannons," said Storm, "we had visions of treasure-laden galleons from the West Indies. We continued to swim along the boulder-strewn bottom and finally found several pieces of eight—the nicest I have ever seen or ever hope to see. They were in perfect condition."

"I knew we had discovered something important. We performed an underwater jig on top of a clump of iron work. I'm sure the fish thought we had gone mad."

The first bag brought to the surface contained Dutch coins from New England and from the colonies of South American countries.

Storm said he believed this find included the largest discovery of American colonial coins ever made. One was believed to be the first American coin ever minted with a present value of perhaps $5,000.

The dates on the coins ranged from 1616 to 1700 and no two coins were the same.

THE LITTLE WOMAN

"Come on out of there, dear, and tell me what kind of day you had at the office."

OTTAWA (CP)—An uneasy Commons Thursday night greeted with critical restraint measures to bring about a general reduction in Canadian import duties.

A number of other countries are taking similar steps as a result of four years of international regulations at G.O.E.A. Switzerland.

Some 1,000 changes are contained in the 100-page set of regulations introduced by Herb Gray (Minister of Finance, Minister of Customs and Excise).

Mr. Gray was chairman of the committee that scrutinized the tariff reduction last winter.

Some of the new tariff cuts are expected to have a profound impact on the provincial base in that they will save 1 and 1/2 per cent in the tariffs by Jan. 1, 1972. They generally reduce rates of duty by one-quarter to one-half. Similar and even greater cuts are being made by other countries.

A major Canadian trade mission, currently in South America, is developing a new tariff schedule.

Mr. Gray said it is "very important to have a tariff schedule that is in keeping with the latest U.S. tariff schedule."

Mr. Gray said the program appears to be operating smoothly but Jack McIntosh (P.C.) said the introduction made by federal officials frustrated efforts to import duty free farm machinery.

Strictly Personal

Some Needed Inventions

By Sydney J. Harris

An electronic company in California last month displayed a new "talking suitcase."

The major U.S. airlines, working on the price of their services, a system attaches a tag to each suitcase which "tells" its destination, and will leave the airport conveyor belt until it is picked down the correct ramp.

"Hey out of the bag butlers when touched." "I'm bound for Dallas, and you're trying to send me to Kansas City or Omaha to that effect. An echo from the suitcase hearing tag, the story says, "will keep repeating the destination of the attached luggage, and the bag won't move until it's shot down the proper chute.

O. happy day! No longer will passengers repeat: "our jackets about lost luggage, as in the familiar rhetoric about the speed of air travel." "Breakfast in London—lunch in New York—dinner in London—lunch in London."

ler gets back. "I'll scream the place down!"

Sending shirts to the laundry offers another vision of delight. My shirts would arrive there chanting: "No starch on starch." and "Third button from the top missing—no ill on, please."

"A shirt that would say: 'Please iron the collar ever again, it's a crowd.' would be a finer miracle than all the 'miraculous fabrics' so far invented."

Canadians Win Seven Championships at Fair

TORONTO (CP)—Canadian won seven of 10 world championship awards Wednesday and Thursday in field crops competition prior to today's opening of the 8th Royal Agricultural Winter Fair here.

The other titles went to the United States.

Of the titles won by Canadians, three went to Alberta, two to Ontario and one each to Nova Scotia and Quebec.

Harold E. Hanson of Valparaiso, Alta., was crowned world wheat champion, defeating Larry C. Birt of Defiance, Alta.

Harvey F. Koss of Glenora, Ont., won the world barley award with his entry of two-rowed malt.

A sample of Harmon oats exhibited by Denis A. Redoubt of Belleville, Alta., won the world oat championship, the 11th consecutive year the award went to a Prairie province.

The world flax title returned to Quebec for the second time in three years when a flaxseed variety entered by Teddy Mosley of St. Basile le Grand was judged best.

Other Ontario victors went to Donald Macdonald of Wolf Island when his birdseed towel crown won the 4th crop class title.

Russia Told by Thieu To Cease Interference

Thieu May Bend

SAIGON (AP) — Authoritative sources said today President Nguyen Van Thieu of South Vietnam may be bending his conditions for sending a delegation to the Paris peace talks, which he has boycotted for two weeks.

The sources said he is ready to send a negotiating team if the United States agrees it is having no role in the talks. They said he would still refuse to recognize the Viet Cong's National Liberation Front, but would allow his delegation to address its remarks broadly to the Communist side.

Officially Thieu is still on record as saying he will not send a delegation to the talks if the NLF sits as a separate negotiating entity.

Sources close to Vice-President Nguyen Cao Ky reported he had been approached by Thieu to head South Vietnam's delegation in Paris. They said Ky is considering the offer.

There was nothing to indicate that Thieu had changed his mind, however, in an official statement released by his press aide, Lt. Col. Tran Van Lam.

Meanwhile, other sources said negotiations within the Saigon government are speaking of Nov. 22 as the date for a cabinet reshuffle which would clear the way for the dispatch of a delegation to Paris the following week.

Having a rotten time. Wish you were here, Averell.

Pill-users Can Remain In Church

WASHINGTON (AP) — American Roman Catholic bishops have decided overwhelmingly Friday that married couples who practise contraception will not be turned away from the church.

The National Conference of Catholic Bishops, winding up its week-long debate, backed the validity of Pope Paul's ban on artificial birth control but let room for married couples to break the ban if their consciences require.

The national letter said married couples who practise contraception will not be excluded from communion and other church sacraments.

The shooting victim is not known to police.

News Briefs

TORONTO — Cella Fresca, artistic director of the National Ballet Guild of Canada, has resigned but will remain in her position for the remainder of the current season, which ends next fall.

DETROIT (AP) — An 85-year-old Detroit, Michigan, was arrested in federal court in Detroit Friday charged with threatening the life of President-elect Richard M. Nixon.

WINNIPEG (CP) — A 106,000-wheal salute to China comes during one of the most critical periods in many years. It relieves some of the aggravation created by reports of a large carry-over of last year's crop coupled with an updated prediction of a bumper crop this year.

TURVILLE HEATH, England (AP) — Burglars broke into a country house where Mrs. Arthur Onassis is staying and grabbed jewelry worth $2,000, police reported today.

TORONTO (CP) — Metropolitan Toronto council voted 12 to 3 Friday against asking the city and five boroughs to hold a plebiscite next year on amalgamation into a single unit.

Mediterranean Danger Is Seen

BRUSSELS (CP) — The North Atlantic Treaty Organization today urged Russia, in the interests of world peace, to refrain from using force and interfering in the affairs of other states, a communiqué announced.

The communiqué, issued after a two-day meeting of the NATO ministerial council, added: "The determined to safeguard the freedom and independence of other countries, they (the members of NATO) could not remain indifferent to any development which endangers their security."

"Clearly any Soviet intervention directly or indirectly affecting the situation in Europe or in the Mediterranean would create an international crisis with grave consequences."

The warning to Moscow was endorsed by all members of the alliance including France.

This was taken as an indication France had closed its door to a Communist country whenever they feel the interests of world peace are in danger, as they did last August in Czechoslovakia.

The communiqué said: "As long as the Soviet leaders are here to a policy of force, these new uncertainties will remain. The alliance will continue to take their political solidarity remains indispensable."

The communiqué also stated the alliance and other forms of aggression.

"About the day stand wholly determined to meet their common responsibilities and to place the alliance in the North Atlantic treaty, to defend the members of the alliance against any armed attack."

The communiqué said that the use of force and the stationing in Czechoslovakia of Soviet troops has been deployed there around great uncertainty about the independence and internal security of the Soviet Union and demanded great vigilance on the part of NATO allies.

It said that the new uncertainties resulting from recent Soviet actions also extended to the Mediterranean basin.

This situation requires that the alliance continue by every available means their efforts to promote stability and a just and equitable peace, as well as mutual, co-operation, and understandings, in the area.

"The expansion of Soviet activity in the Mediterranean, including the increased presence of Soviet naval units, requires vigilance to safeguard Allied security."

The statement apparently was aimed at discouraging the Soviet from pursuing their "aggression" and "communist" doctrine.

Under this concept the Soviets could intervene militarily in a Communist country whenever they feel the interests of world peace are in danger, as they did last August in Czechoslovakia.

Secretary Dean Rusk of the United States indicated the tone of the statement when he said Friday when he said safety of the alliance would be affected if the Soviets move into Yugoslavia or Austria.

Rusk also was reported to have said that a Soviet invasion of Romania would have grave consequences for the alliance.

Romania is a member of the Warsaw pact but has been taking an independent line recently.

Yugoslavia, though Communist for the last 20 years, has been independent of Moscow since the late 1940s. It is a member of the Warsaw pact but has been taking an independent line recently.

Informants said Friday there is evidence the Soviet invasion of Czechoslovakia caused widespread dismay among French officials.

Although de Gaulle withdrew French troops from Germany from Allied control in 1966, the troops have remained in Germany under a special agreement with the Bonn government.

Their leaders have kept up contact with their former NATO colleagues.

Under the special agreement, NATO officials said de Gaulle has abandoned the thought of walking out of the alliance pact.

Church Chiefs Voice Relief

TORONTO (CP) — Church leaders expressed relief Friday following Premier John Robarts' announcement he will not make churches and other places of worship any municipal property taxes or extend the five-per-cent retail sales tax to food and children's clothing.

Mr. Robarts told a news conference earlier in the day his government "does not agree these things should be taxed."

Most Rev. Philip Pocock, Roman Catholic Archbishop of Toronto, said following Mr. Robarts' announcement he believes "the vast majority of the Christian and Jewish people of the province will be pleased with the decision."

Mr. Robarts said public reaction to the proposals for extending taxes influenced the decision not to adopt them.

He refused to say if the five-per-cent sales tax will be increased soon, insisting that news will have to wait until February when the next majority of the Christian and Jewish people of the province will be pleased with the decision.

Bertrand Tries to Learn if Board Arranged Liquor Sales

QUEBEC (CP) — Premier Jean-Jacques Bertrand said Friday the finance department will determine whether the Quebec Liquor Board could have tolerated or organized "discretionary" sales in at-least one case.

Meanwhile, representatives of 3,000 striking liquor board workers in the QLB adjourned negotiations for the weekend with the major issue of wages still unclear as the workers will been on strike since June 26.

Premier Bertrand told the legislature action finance minister Armand Huard and the justice department are looking into allegations by the Liberal opposition that a clandestine committee was set up to 300,000. Five persons have been arraigned in court on charges of conspiracy in the liquor board strike.

The investigation follows the strike last weekend in suburban Vanier of more than 3,000 liquor board workers.

Anglican Student Minister Served Armed Robbery Term

TORONTO (CP) — What happens when a preacher tells his congregation he was served four years for armed robbery? They just about fell out of their seats. As Bruce Foster, 35, in his first year of study for the Anglican priesthood, told the Anglican press conference.

"But they accepted me," he said. "They just said that I was a bit of a trouble maker, but I was a good person."

Mr. Foster, a student at Wycliffe College, says he was serving a term in a reformatory for armed robbery when he was 21. He was sentenced to four years for armed robbery, but he was released after 18 months because of good behavior.

He told the story of a boy, a product of a broken violent home, who drifted from the age of 14, living by his wits, until he found himself holding on to a $250 motion back armed with a shot gun.

Police pulled over the stolen getaway car when his companion told him to speed away. "We didn't even get a chance to count the money," Mr. Foster says.

He told the congregation of his years in the Prince Albert, Sask., penitentiary, where he served 4½ years of a seven-year sentence.

While at first, considering himself an atheist, he abandoned church services and chaplains until he was 21, when he was in the paint shop he had himself into attending a Sunday service.

"I went just to shut him up, but while I was there a strange fellow came in and he said, 'I can tell you what the sermon was about, but I got the uncomfortable feeling that the chaplain was speaking directly to me.'"

"I just sat there and listened," he said.

It was Archdeacon W. F. Parton, who is still chaplain at Prince Albert, "changed my mind."

"It was going to sound funny, but it was just like meeting Christ in prison. I don't mean physically of course, but this man has such a spiritual aura about him that even hardened convicts who have never been in his hands had respect for him."

The archdeacon "was the first minister that I had ever met who talked to me in terms that I could understand," Mr. Foster says.

He says he began to see that he had been wrong in committing the robbery, when he learned he had only been in better than he had been caught.

"I discovered that I had a gift for helping others, maybe just by listening and letting them work out their own problems. I had a ministry right there."

After his release he resumed his education and applied for work with criminal records, ordained minister in 1962.

"But he may not get the chance. Prison chaplains are civil servants, and government jobs are hard to get for persons with criminal records, ordained ministers or not."

Prison Chaplains Not Tools of State

TORONTO (CP) — Prison chaplains can be a better job than they are often given credit for, according to a report by the Canadian Council of Social Development.

The report, "Prison Chaplains: A Study of Their Role and Function," says that prison chaplains are often seen as "tools of the state," but that they can be much more than that.

The report says that prison chaplains are often seen as "tools of the state," but that they can be much more than that.

The 37-year-old Roman Catholic priest, former chaplain of the St. Michael's Hospital in Toronto, considers that prison chaplains are regarded by many officials as "tools of the state."

He drew prolonged applause here recently when he told a meeting of Ontario clergymen working in prisons that chaplains should be given an equal place with psychiatrists and psychologists as part of correctional work.

In a later interview, he said that chaplains alone can make constructive suggestions to a man who is in the process of changing his way of life. Psychologists do not consider it so essential to make suggestions to prisoners but "chaplains can and should make them, through the medium of religion."

One member of the Order of the Holy Trinity, a Catholic order now in a 19th to ease for prisoners and slaves, Father Reginald is also a graduate criminologist. Born in North Bay, Ont., he was the then editor of the North Bay Nugget, he now works with disturbed boys in Montreal and directs a training session for the chaplains of Quebec.

Letters Tell of Miracles Performed by Pope John

VATICAN CITY (Reuters)—Hundreds of letters telling of miracles performed through the intervention of the late Pope John are pouring into the Vatican as the move to proclaim him a saint gathers steam.

The letters, which are being read by the Pope's personal secretary, said Rev. Antonio Carli, a 33-year-old Franciscan friar in charge of promoting the cause for the Pope's beatification and eventual canonization.

Pope John, a farmer's son, died in 1963 at the age of 33 after a five-year reign.

Beatification, which can take 10 to 50 years, is often the first step on the long ladder and involves a special examination of his life and his actions and his virtues.

Shortly after Pope John's death, people began signing petitions to have him made a saint by canonization. This would have eliminated the long canonization process.

In 1965, Pope Paul announced at the Vatican that the process of canonizing the late Pope John would begin.

The process of canonization involves a special examination of his life and his actions and his virtues.

miracles attributed to him. He has performed the requirement of two proven miracles necessary for beatification and two more for canonization.

In Naples, where he was working, a woman named Maria, who was suffering from a long cancer, another ill with tuberculosis and a woman paralyzed for 10 years, were cured by his intervention.

Other miracles attributed to Pope John include the curing of a man stricken by five heart attacks, another suffering from long cancer, another ill with tuberculosis and a woman paralyzed for 10 years, were cured by his intervention.

Government Extends Aid to Opposition Chiefs And Gets Its Knuckles Rapped as A Reward

OTTAWA (CP) — The government went to a helping hand to leaders of opposition parties Friday and promptly had its fingers chewed down to the knuckle-ends by backbench MPs.

The help came in the form of grants to provide staff and chaffs for the leaders of the opposition parties.

The granting was over the government's failure to provide all MPs with the same level of financial support.

Under debate were supplementary estimates of the most liberal. Under the leaders' research grants, the Conservatives received $150,000 a year and the NDP and Credit Union $200,000.

Prime Minister Trudeau, in providing the grants, said the money would be earmarked for parliamentary work and non-partisan purposes. The additional staff would be engaged by the House Speaker.

Opposition leader Robert Stanfield said the money would have to serve as a reward for the opposition's success in the last election.

Stanley Knowles (NDP) said the grants are a beginning.

The NDP's $200,000 would hardly be enough to pay the salaries and paid staff already working in the offices of the opposition parties.

Credit Union leader Jean Charest said the funds he would have to be in constant contact with the government.

work.

Debate then swung to broad items of Commons expense, covering the door for wide opposition.

Conservative House Leader Gerald W. Barlow said the government should stop stripping away Commons powers and allow Liberal backbenchers to work out where they disagree with government decisions.

On the other hand, the opposition on the strictly legal of ministerial attendance during the daily question period.

Barlow said the opposition calls for limited attendance by Commons members.

Mr. Barlow said the scheme was a "stalemate" when it comes to Commons.

He said the opposition seeks information. Only in the broadest of policy terms the process of democracy would be useful and effective.

Mr. Barlow introduced the issue of television coverage of Commons debates. He had opposition members to move in the House.

John Diefenbaker, former prime minister, once again asked Commons to give TV coverage of the Commons. If nothing but said oppositionists.

New MPs were discouraged to find their speeches often in the draw a line of print in the House.

J. A. Monaghan (L-Prots) said the House might want to find their speeches often in the draw a line of print in the House.

Mr. Monaghan pressed for more TV coverage of Commons debates.

He said the opposition would be in a position to handle their constituency business.

Liberal: Grant Deaneham (Van-couver) agreed. Research assistants would be particularly helpful on House committee work.

David O'Brien (NDP-Winnipeg) noted the "double" of the prime minister's staff. He did not criticize this staff. He did not criticize this staff.

Andre Ouellet (L-Montreal) said the opposition would be in a position to handle their constituency business.

PM Will Be as Glad as Any When Military Review Complete

OTTAWA (CP) — Prime Minister Mulroney will probably be as thankful as anyone when the government review of foreign and defence policy is completed, likely in January.

Through his domestic policies Mulroney has caused little stir, he has promised to increase contributions to collective defence.

"Not correct," when Trudeau said the review would be a "stalemate" when it comes to Commons.

Mr. Stanfield's assertion was apparently based on a NDP charge that social attitudes toward education and reform it needed for education, training and rehabilitation are to be substituted for the strap.

However, such charges are very difficult because the strap is used in a very different way from the cane and has existed in society itself which are so readily mobilized and expressed against any logical escape.

On top of this damage to the administrators of such institutions is often very real societal uneasiness.

Cold Weather, Hot Gabler Could Win Each Argo $700

TORONTO (CP) — Toronto Argonauts believe they can defeat Ottawa Rough Riders in the two-game, total-point Eastern Football championship final, especially with an assist from the weather.

The first game of the series is scheduled for 2 p.m. EST Sunday and the Argos, who haven't beaten Ottawa in two years, could have a weather advantage over the Riders in cold, snow or sleet.

about. "A cold day would hurt Ottawa more than it would us," says head coach Mike Blum, a former Rider. "It's not just the receivers and their cold hands. The ball freezes too. It's like trying to catch a cement ball."

"We're going to win either way. I don't mind saying so, because I think we're a better team."

The Argonauts have not proven they are a better team during their three regular-season meetings with Ottawa this year. The Riders have outscored them 100-31 while winning all three encounters.

But inside Bill Frank says that the Riders just aren't impressive physically.

"Put any Ottawa player in a room with a Toronto player and the Argos would be the ones to come out."

Some of the Argos, especially defensive end Ed Harrington, say they would play the game for nothing just to prove their superiority. Each member of the home team will receive $700 and the loser $500.

Although the issue is on the Toronto team to contain the Riders' vaunted offense, quarterback Wally Gabler realizes it will be up to him to win the defense moving.

"Sure, I've really been against Ottawa," Gabler says. "I would say that's pretty obvious. Maybe it's partly because they're a darned good team."

"They help you look bad. That's the main reason I don't want them. It just means it will be difficult. We'll have to go some."

"Our coaches have analysed Ottawa's defence and we'll be doing a few things differently on Sunday," Gabler said. "Basically, there is no reason we shouldn't be able to score."

He was referring to Toronto's lack of drive inside the Ottawa 23-yard line in previous meetings.

"Sometimes it's a dropped pass, or a missed block, or old Wally just misses a wide-open receiver," Gabler said.

Sunday's game will be televised nationally by the CTV, with the Toronto area blacked out. The second game is scheduled for Ottawa Saturday, Nov. 22.

The field at Canadian National Exhibition Stadium is expected to be in top shape for the first game. It has been covered with tarpaulin most of the week.

Hillman to Habs

MONTREAL (CP) — Montreal Canadiens of the National Hockey League Friday acquired veteran defenseman Larry Hillman from Minnesota North Stars in return for the 19-year-old winger Brian Smith. Hillman, 31, is expected to dress against Oakland Seals here tonight.

The Stars picked up Hillman from the Maple Leafs in last year's NHL draft. Smith was with Los Angeles Kings last season and was picked up by Montreal in the offseason.

Mo-Hawks Fall to Oaks

STAFF — Belleville Mo-Hawks accumulated last night's 1-0 defeat at the hands of the Oakville Oaks, the last of Bob Schiberg, and Obe O'Brien's breakaway goal at 11:08 of the final period.

The score was tied 2-2, and the play was going from end to end, when O'Brien skated in to assist David Molteni, and Obe O'Brien's breakaway goal at 11:08 of the final period.

"The heels fought back, outshooting Oakville 12-7 in the final period but Oak's goalie 'Bert' Hurley prevented the win with one sparkling save."

Schiberg, who took over the coaching duties Tuesday from Hurley, said: "It's wonderful to see we've won, especially on the road. We're now bettered by injuries, but I thought we played very well defensively tonight."

The Mo-Hawks started the game with only four defencemen, because Eddie Marneau had to work a night shift, and had to drop Wayne Brown back to defence when Jack Wilson put an urgent call from work and had to leave at the end of the first period.

The Oaks opened the scoring in the first period on a pretty breakaway play by O'Brien and Sherman, with O'Brien finishing in a low drive from the left side at 5:07.

At 13:22 O'Brien, who had a hand in all the Oakville scoring, set up their second goal by hitting the back of the net with a hard drive second period.

The Mo-Hawks rebounded in the second stanza, and Bob Taylor put them on the scoreboard when he took a pass from Greg Marchen, skated down the left margin, faked a pass and fired a low shot past a startled Hurley at 4:26.

Belleville prevented the visitors 11-7, but were unable to beat Hurley in the opening 20 minutes.

Shade Cobourg

Belleville's Pond City Novice team thought one at a time was good fishing, and used a cool period prior to shade their Cobourg counterparts 2-3 last night.

Andy Laurance opened the Pond City scoring from Pat McMillin, and assisted on Haystack's second period marker.

From Winifred scored the winner for the Belleville margin of victory.

At the final period, with assists going to Luperante and McMillin.

Norman and Gordon reigned for Cobourg.

Brian Hamilton's stand-out performance helped preserve the Belleville margin of victory.

Nicholson Girls Tops

Nicholson College's girls' basketball teams enjoyed a quick Friday, outskoring O.S.D. counterparts in Quinte District Class 'A' play to reclaim the lead in their respective division standings.

The Nicholson senior girls, led by J. Barrett and B. Hailon, trounced OSD 41-16.

CFR Commissioner In Review Of West's Monopoly of Steer Handouts

TORONTO (CP) — The Canadian Football League is looking into the reasons why trophies are awarded for outstanding performance.

Each year about this time, a long list of silverware—commemorative in all manner of sterling endeavor—is passed around mostly in the CFL. Players are lined up to donate further trophies to the deserving players and the league is moving cautiously.

The commissioner is reviewing the awards season," says Gary Gorman, CFL secretary-treasurer.

"Different people have offered new trophies but we thought we'd better review the present situation. Recommendations will be made at the next annual meeting in February."

One thing the commissioner will not right away is the disparity of awards in the two conferences.

The Eastern Conference has two main awards; one is the Most Valuable Player. Then there are four inter-conference awards and a number of individual honours are dispensed in the various cities—again mostly in the West.

There are some cities, a packing plant gives a live steer to the top player on the home-town club," Talbot says.

Then there are awards that are of strict commercialism.

And there are cases where people want to put up a cup in the name of a player nobody would ever have heard of, he said.

"You can't divorce these things from football awards."

For instance, the Grey Cup is still probably worth about $50 when it is donated. It is inscribed by the amateur champions of Canada. But we wouldn't give up that cup, or change or scratch out the inscription, for anything."

The two awards given in the CFL are the Green Award for the outstanding Canadian player in the division and the Jeff Russell Memorial Trophy to the best player on the home-town club.

Russell, with the old Montreal AAA team of the Big Four, was electrocuted while working on a power line in Montreal in 1926.

Nicklin was commanding officer of the 1st Canadian Cavalry Battalion and was killed in action in 1941. It played for Winnipeg in the late 1930s.

The Dave Dryburgh Memorial Trophy goes to the leading scorer in the WFL and commemorates a former sports editor of the Regina Leader-Post who was drowned in 1927.

The Becker-DeLoraine Memorial Trophy was donated by the widow of Mel Becker, Mario DeLoraine, killed in a 1956 plane crash with others of the Saskatchewan Roughriders, and goes to the outstanding lineman in the WFL.

Dr. Beattie Martin Trophy goes to the best player in the CFL.

play horses a former president of the Roughriders and goes to the top Canadian rookie in the West.

The Eddie James Memorial Trophy is awarded annually in the leading rubber. It commemorates Dr. James, leader of Winnipeg.

There is an N. (Pitts) Taylor trophy for the top player in the WFL named for one of the builders of football in the West.

The Annie Siskin trophy goes annually to the coach of the year as selected by the yellow coaches, the coaches active in coaching in Edmonton and Vancouver.

Guels Have Experience Edge

WINNIPEG (CP) — University of Manitoba Blues will lead 26 rookies when they meet the veteran packed Queen's University Golden Gaels today in the Western Football Bowl.

The commissioner is reviewing the awards season," says Gary Gorman, CFL secretary-treasurer.

"Different people have offered new trophies but we thought we'd better review the present situation. Recommendations will be made at the next annual meeting in February."

One thing the commissioner will not right away is the dis-

Golden Blues for the Western Canada intercollegiate football championship.

"What other answer is there for our success?" asked Jaques. The Gaels from Kingston, Ont., depended on no such inspiration in their domination of the five-team Atlantic Quebec Athletic Union.

"We have a lot of experience," he said as he prepared his team for the 16 noon kickoff at University Stadium.

Desire has been the stimulus for all seasons and is carried into a 167 upset over University of Alberta.

The other representative to the championship will come out of the Atlantic Bowl in Halifax under Waterloo Lacrosse and St. Mary's.

The final will be televised on the CBC network.

Jaques thinks his team "must stop their passing" and will rely heavily on defensive back Rich Howden, who averaged two interceptions a game last year.

Whether triumphs, desire or experience, will decide a rematch in the national final for the Vanier cup in Toronto Nov. 22.

Honne ice proved to be about the only difference in back-batch games between Niagara Falls and the rest of the Ontario Hockey Association Junior A series. Friday defeated Pelee 12 in Niagara Falls Friday. 24 hours after they had taken a 2-1 loss in Peterborough. The win moved Pelee within two points of the first place Pees.

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Al Kaline, veteran outfielder of the Detroit Tigers, was named Friday the 1958 winner of the Lou Gehrig Memorial Award. The award is presented to the major league baseball player who best exemplifies the performance and character of the New York Yankees' first baseman.

Only New York's magic number is now 1-1 clinching the title. A key combination of 1st, 2nd, 3rd, 4th and 5th in the Boston Red Sox and Houston Astros (two wins) gives the crown.

Sports On All Fronts

In spring Nelson flipped in 12 to 12 points in the final period to don the Ontario title in a 16-10 victory over Cincinnati Reds in the National Hockey Association play.

In other games, Baltimore Bullets won a 20-point scoring rampage in the third quarter en route to a 135-102 rout of Milwaukee Bucks. Bill Cousineau had two free throws with two seconds remaining gave Philadelphia 76ers a 115-111 victory over Los Angeles Lakers.

San Diego Rockets, San Francisco Warriors crushed Detroit Pistons 130-102 and Seattle Seahawks 123-124 after two overtime sessions.

COLUMBIUS, Ohio (CP) — The town's Greenwood racetrack Friday became the second Canadian harness track in modern times to be granted membership in the Grand Circuit of harness racing.

The Grand Circuit committee of the United States Trotting Association has granted membership to the town's Greenwood dates of June 16-20 for its Grand Circuit meeting next year. Greenwood dates were set for July 18-19.

Grand Circuit racing is a major tour by two-year-olds and three-year-olds of North American harness tracks.

Seven New Programs To Join TV Schedule

NEW YORK (AP)—By order of the Nielsen ratings, the television program will be set off the networks in midseason. During January and February, seven new candidates will be tested in the schedule of CBS' powerful movie feature—and the Bell-Whitcomb. That will come in the new movie hour, What's It All About, World? for an hour, after which ABC will turn the final hour of prime time back to the network stations to present, leaving NBC's Dean Martin and the movie to fight it out for audience share.

Nothing was said yet for the ABC on Friday nights, as the network decided to drop the first three shows of the evening.

It will replace Operation: Entertainment with a variety hour starring Welsh singer, Tim Jones and fill the holes left by departing Polony Squad and the Don Rickles Show with a couple of suspense game shows.

Perkins Place has been rapidly running out of steam this season, so it will be out to one episode, the week. The Wednesday night spot will be filled by a half-hour show, Section 8, which will hopefully be somewhere left of Lang and right of That Was The Week That.

The Beautiful Phyllis Diller Show of CBS, and The Gilda Campbell Show is taking over from Daktari on CBS.

Popular 'Irish Rovers' To Appear in Belleville

The Irish Rovers have a reputation for packing their own and they'll be bringing that reputation with them to the Central Secondary School auditorium Sunday, Nov. 24.

In Toronto they set an attendance record at a personal Room of the Royal York Hotel. In Chicago a sellout crowd of 10,000 greeted the Irish Rovers as the group that sold over a million copies of "The Unicorn" and this is what secured their popularity throughout North America and Europe.

Widely McDowell, 22, is an accomplished accordionist, fiddler, and an Irish traditional musician in Mullingar, Ireland.

The group has been organized in Calgary where first place was received.

The Irish Rovers will be in Belleville at Central for one performance at 8:30.

Services Honor War Dead

STIRLING — The 50th anniversary of the death of a Stirling man was commemorated on Monday, November 11, with a large turnout of citizens.

John Paulsen was at the altar and led the group of Legion and youth group members who gathered for the service. The service was held at the Stirling Community Center. Members of the I.O.O.F. stood in a group, and the Legion and youth group members were seated in the front of the church.

Rev. J. P. McGraw, Chaplain of Branch 28, Royal Canadian Legion, was in charge of the service. John Paulsen presented the Legion flag to the service. Rev. McGraw read the prayer. The service was held at the Stirling Community Center.

Many Diabetics Act Unwisely

By Dr. Joseph G. Wolter

A new approach to the treatment of diabetes is being developed by a group of doctors in the United States. The doctors are using a new method of treatment which is based on the use of insulin. The doctors are using a new method of treatment which is based on the use of insulin. The doctors are using a new method of treatment which is based on the use of insulin.

people with severe cases lived long enough to have children. Soon diabetes is strongly expected to control its own future.

Since the discovery of insulin and more recently the oral hypoglycemic drugs, more people with severe diabetes have been able to live longer and more active lives. The doctors are using a new method of treatment which is based on the use of insulin.

I've been mentioning this in my column for quite some time, but now I'm running out of space. I've been mentioning this in my column for quite some time, but now I'm running out of space. I've been mentioning this in my column for quite some time, but now I'm running out of space.

complications of a m.e.s. Does this apply to all persons or only young children? My mother-in-law has had three-day measles but never the long-term measles. I've been mentioning this in my column for quite some time, but now I'm running out of space.

Czech Military Police Patrol Prague as Power Battle Waged

PRAGUE (AP) — Czechoslovak military police, with sub-machine guns patrolled city streets today as the country's Communist leaders waged power struggle with pro-Soviet hardliners.

An anxious crowd awaited the results of the central committee meeting now in its second day, and wondered whether students and workers would defy a government ban on anti-Soviet demonstrations.

Prague was reported under surveillance by the Czechoslovak army, and sources said the 6,000-man Prague garrison was on alert with all leave cancelled.

Several personal carriers were noticed on the small Soviet military command posts in Prague, but there was no confirmation of any such move. Some Soviet units had returned to Prague from a recent camp in outlying areas.

Others said the reports of army and police alerts were false, and that the situation would be stabilized within a few days to prevent the central committee decisions from being reversed.

Numerous demonstrations of Charles University in Prague asked a resolution to join the anti-Soviet movement.

The workers decided to demonstrate for political reasons.

Statements of arguments in the 100-member central committee, released by radio and television, indicated Dubcek's supporters were fighting to defend the reform program.

Hardliners, some of them army officers, demanded to know what leaders had invited the Soviets to invade their country for the purpose of "counter-revolution."

Many Czechoslovak feared they were the dying gasp of a revolution.

Dubcek was reported to have announced new allegiance to "democratic centralism," the orthodox Communist principle that debate stops once the decision is made.

The decision in this case, the final resolution of the central committee, is due Sunday at the earliest.

More than 100 of the 140 members who had asked to speak remained to be heard from in the closed central committee meeting at Prague Castle.

Evans Erhan, head of the National Council, urged Friday "disciplined implementation" of the final central committee decisions.

Prof. Ivan Malik, director of the Prague Military Institute, said the continued distribution of Soviet propaganda material contained distorted information and "makes people's blood boil."

Frantisek Pavlicek, manager of the Vinohrady Theatre in Prague, demanded to know what members of the central committee or government had invited the Soviet Union and other Warsaw pact countries to invade Czechoslovakia in August.

The Soviets had said Czechoslovak Communists asked for outside help.

Jane J. Sorkovicky, National Assembly president, said Czechoslovak reformers had failed to "overturn the post-January developments in such a way as to permit the party to influence them more systematically."

The result, he said, was that from the outside Prague's reform appeared "more as a negation of mere liberalization than truly revolutionary reshaping and fulfillment of socialism."

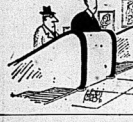

and this caused great anxiety in the Soviet Communist camp.

include Stanislaw Kosciuszko, 35-year-old party chief in the northern province of Gdansk and a former head of the Warsaw city organization.

Kosciuszko, regarded as a protégé of Gomulka, became the youngest member of the party leadership.

Others who lost their places were Edvardas Kary, responsible for development of science and technology, and Frantisek Vankula, who specialized in industrial and economic matters. Newcomers to the Politburo were

Montreal's Police Defuse New Bomb

MONTREAL (AP) — Members of the Montreal police tactical laboratory were called on to defuse a second world war era bomb in less than 24 hours in the city's east end Friday.

Police said a bomb, made with dynamite connected to a detonator and a timing device, was found in a late 1940s Land Co. a structural steel manufacturing plant in the city's northeast end, Friday morning.

A spokesman for a radio station which received an anonymous telephone call, said the caller had claimed to be a member of the Front de libération Québécois, a terrorist or separatist organization of independence of Quebec.

About 5 a.m. Thursday, Montreal bomb experts were called to a Doner Ltd. plant, a short distance from the Land and Co. plant, to remove a powerful explosive device found lying under a trailer truck.

Friday's discovery marked the fourth time this week that a bomb had been planted in the city's east end.

A bomb exploded Monday night in a 20-story pedestrian passageway linking CN's Central Station with the 150,000-sq-ft Place Bonaventure trade center building. No injuries were reported.

Tuesday morning, a home-made, time-bomb wrapped in newspaper was discovered at a downtown intersection, only a few blocks away from the site of the bomb explosion at Place Bonaventure.

UNITED NATIONS (CP) — The United Nations special political committee Friday condemned the policy of apartheid — separation of the races in South Africa and called for sanctions to combat it.

It is an instrument for stopping the South African policy in what was an apparent exercise in futility.

But Afro-African countries who bring the matter up after year seek to keep apartheid before the eyes of the world.

For 23 years the UN has been condemning the South African racial policy. One speaker in the current, detailed, outlined previous resolutions on apartheid.

The South African government has not radically changed its policies through those resolutions. It boycotted this year's debate.

Some observers, backers and opponents, considered Friday's resolution, a positive step at 47 countries, as an endorsement of the guerrilla warfare against South Africa.

Canada followed its usual course of abstaining from the vote while expressing its abhorrence of apartheid.

The United States failed again this year in a bid to delete from the resolution a section calling on the Security Council to take up the matter if it has not been met by 1969 and to impose mandatory sanctions.

Britain, one of the main trading partners of South Africa, abstained from the vote, as usual.

The Communist bloc and the Afro-African bloc mostly supported it. The vote was 81 for, one — Portugal — abstained and 13 abstentions. Besides Canada and Britain, the abstentions were the United States, France, Japan, Italy, Australia, New Zealand, Belgium, Colombia, Cuba, the Netherlands, Mexico, Luxembourg and Austria.

'Fight in Streets' Urged Against Rand's Report

KITCHENER (CP) — Threats of a general strike and a call to "fight in the streets" marked debate Friday on a resolution to the liberal opposition and the Ontario New Democratic Party opposing recommendations of the Rand Royal commission on labor strife.

The resolution was adopted unanimously. But only several speakers had critical of its language to be twice.

The resolution, a summary of the 11th floor with the convention by riding associations, condemned the report of Ivan C. Rand as a retrograde step in labor relations which among other things would place organized labor in "a legal straitjacket."

John Ferris, president of the South Sea. Marie Clark of the United Steelworkers of America, told the convention that the general strike action is needed to prevent implementation of the report "we should take it."

"Rand would give government to have the right to drive us back to work if we are on strike," he said. Mr. Ferris said, "It is prepared to drive us back to work when there is unemployment."

Mr. Ferris said the NDP position be prepared not just to oppose the Rand report in the legislature but "to fight in the streets."

"On the rising, organize public meetings and demonstrations and defeat this report," he told delegates to the three-day convention which will end with a leadership vote between members of Donald MacDonald and James Renwick, deputy leader in the provincial house.

The report proposed creation of a powerful labor tribunal, continued use of export picketing in certain circumstances, a ban against picketing and government authority to forbid union organization in fields held to be in the public interest.

The convention's opening day session also had national leader E. C. Douglas describe North American democracy as a "sham—a fear-ridden, hypocritical, manipulated society."

"Make no mistake about it," he said, "there is a ferment in this country and throughout the world that will not be denied."

"It is not enough to have the right vote every four or two years, to have the assurance of not starving during adversity. Social democracy means giving every individual the right to participate in the democratic process, in making the decisions that affect the national destiny in the decisions of management."

Freezing Rain Halts Many Quinte District School Buses

By HARRY MULLILL
Staff Reporter

The Quinte district stumbled over the miles of winter today.

Freezing rain teamed with tangled temperatures in partially immobilized the area early this morning.

Hundred hit by bleak driving conditions were the rural regions, where hundreds of school students holidayed as buses never arrived.

Country schoolhouses throughout the district were closed as the storm sealed highways to safe travel.

Further south schools in Prince Edward County apparently were not affected.

At Windsor, the high school servicing Centre Hastings township, was reported closed.

The railroads hit the Belleville-Trenton area during the night when temperatures had slipped below the freezing mark.

The snow came at one a.m. when the mercury registered 27 degrees.

Roads throughout the district were covered with a treacherous glare of ice after the sleet hit.

The situation eased in urban areas before the morning rush-hour when temperatures climbed back above freezing at 5 a.m.

Provincial and municipal police reported no serious accidents.

The storm hit north Quinte townships later in the morning.

At Bancroft, a high school spokesman said all school buses made it to town before freezing rains moved in between 7:30 and 8 a.m.

With the warming trend in the Belleville-Trenton zone, the day forecast at Canadian Forces Base Trenton however, warned of a cold front, bringing snowflakes to 15 a area tonight.

The mercury will dip below freezing again to -20 degrees.

High tomorrow will be 23.

Kierans Sees "Shock" If Foreign Aid Rises

Defence Cuts His Solution

MONTREAL (CP) — The Trudeau government's pledge to increase foreign aid "is going to send shock waves through our foreign and domestic policies."

Postmaster-General Eric Kierans said Sunday.

Mr. Kierans told an audience at Sir George Williams University that Ottawa will face the dilemma of deciding to cut other defence spending or "private and public consumption" should it make good its pledge.

"This is a grave political decision,"

Mr. Kierans pointed out that foreign aid constitutes less than one-half of one per cent of Canada's gross national product. The government had promised to boost this to one per cent by 1975.

"How would you give foreign aid if it meant increasing university fees or not providing free drugs for the poor?"

Mr. Kierans was taking part in a panel discussion on the Southern Asia economy.

Double-Take At Drama Festival

Awards ceremony at Saturday's close of Eastern Ontario one-act play festival in Belleville saw a double-take by actors. Peter Kitcher, of Belleville, (left) shared prize for top actor with David Guthrie, of Ottawa. The split decision made double congratulations for award-winning actress Robin Cameron, also in Ottawa production. (For details, see Page 8.)

MacDonald Eases Winner in NDP Leadership Vote

KITCHENER (CP) — The Ontario New Democratic Party Sunday gave provincial leader Donald MacDonald a strong vote of confidence and sent him back to the legislature to try to keep his promise of defeating the Conservative government by 1971.

Mr. MacDonald, 55, told 1,309 delegates in the party's provincial convention he would try to do it with what he called "the politics of involvement."

He said the party, by re-electing him against the challenge of deputy-leader, James Benwick, had given him "a personal mandate for action" in preparing a program acceptable to the voters as an alternative to the government.

The vote 829 to 378 in favour of Mr. MacDonald at the convention.

Partly as a result of resentment of the handling of 300 convention resolutions, the NDP has called for a complete review of its rules of procedure, and at its next convention may send resolutions to panels for discussion.

Under resolutions that were approved, the NDP will encourage party policies at the municipal level, seek abolition of the retail sales tax, and support efforts to establish retail review boards.

West Europe's Central Bankers Mum After Currency Parley

BASEL, Switzerland (CP) — Central bankers of Western Europe completed another meeting today on the currency crisis surrounding the French franc, but maintained silence on what steps were planned to ease the pressure on the faltering currency.

European money markets were quieter as speculators ap-

Sit-in Strikes Staged By Czech Students

PRAGUE (AP) — Thousands of Czechoslovak students continued sit-in strikes at their schools today as Communist leader Alexander Dubcek's leading role in the occupied country appeared to be nearing an end.

The students, barred by the government from demonstrating in the streets, sat themselves in their school buildings to demonstrate their dissatisfaction with the party central committee's retreat under Soviet pressure from the reform program Dubcek had headed.

16 Seats at Stake

It's Nomination Day for School Board Candidates

Nominations will be held across Ontario today for candidates for election to the newly-formed school boards.

In Hastings County nomination meetings will be held in eight centres for candidates running for the 16 seats on the Hastings County Board of Education.

Candidates for the combined Nipissing District, Hastings and Prince Edward Counties

Separate School Board will be nominated at six centres throughout the county. The board will have 16 members.

Ontario will have about 80 combined separate school boards.

In Belleville, nine candidates have already announced that they will seek nomination during the 10 days from 7:30 a.m. to 6 p.m. at the school board office.

Supporters are entitled to vote for five trustees.

Those who have announced their candidacy for the two trustees representing the city of Belleville will be nominated at Belleville and will be voted on by separate school supporters in this county at large.

Six men will contest the two seats in ward 6, northeast of Sidney township, Stirling and Frankford, on the county board.

A man and a woman have announced their candidacy for the two seats allocated in Trenton on the county board.

In each of ward 1 (Haarlist and district) and ward 5 (Thurlow township) only one candidate has announced and will be in the running. One will be elected from each ward.

Ward 1 (North Hastings), ward 2 (Haarlist township) and ward 4 (Hastings, Trent, Hungerford, Tyrindog, Rossmore) each will elect one trustee on Dec. 18.

No candidates have yet announced they are in the running.

Five members of the present Belleville separate school board will seek nomination tonight for the six seats. Believing they will elect five trustees on the combined counties separate school board.

Trenton separate school supporters will elect three trustees on the combined counties separate school board. The remaining five trustees will be voted upon in four wards of the combined counties separate school board and Hastings counties and Nipissing district.

School Board Candidates

A Thurlow township resident, Milford J. Waller, has announced he will vie for the seat allocated to Thurlow on the new Hastings County Board of Education.

Thurlow

Milford J. Waller

A Pashow resident for 20 years, Mr. Waller is now a trustee on the Thurlow Board of Education and a member of the Thurlow township committee organizing the change-over to county-wide boards.

He is a professional engineer, employed by Northern Electric Company for 27 years, and a senior member of the Institute of Electrical and Electronic Engineers.

"Because I was born and lived most of my life on a farm, I am aware of the plights and desires of the rural population," Mr. Waller said. "I have more than an average education and have also lived in metropolitan centers. I believe I can contribute greatly to the solution of problems facing the new boards."

"My experience on Thurlow School Board and the Interim committees should also be considerable value," he added.

Mr. Waller is a graduate of the faculty of agriculture at the University of Guelph and took post-graduate courses at McGill.

Trenton Airmen Back from Biafra

LI. James Craig of Trenton checks in at customs at CFB Trenton with a souvenir from Fernando Poo. He returned from Biafra yesterday afternoon.

But for those from the base eyes scanned the returning men for loved ones.

LI. James Craig said the men "found the hot weather unbearable even in the shade," he explained "and the insects" drove the men to the shade.

As a result the beer supply here was previously cut. Each man had a ration of one can of beer a day, and many of the crew members agreed this made quite a difference, said the officer.

LI. Craig added that there was no entertainment of any sort. So most of the men played cribbage when they were not in the shade.

The flight was made in 35 days on the second flight which had gone to Biafra, and his crew flew for one week, during which he said 11 flights to the air base were refuelled.

Major Paul Huse, commander of the flight, said his crew flew at high altitudes to avoid the threat of risk from the ground.

Unloading was complicated by Biafra ground crews who couldn't speak English and a difficulty understanding directions from the airmen.

School Board Candidates

Belleville

James Ritchie

A resident of Belleville for 19 years and a former chairman of the Belleville Public School Board, James Ritchie, announced his candidacy today for one of the five seats on the County of Hastings board of education.

Ritchie served from 1952 to 1965 on the Belleville Board, before business commitments took him temporarily to Montreal. He served as chairman of several district committees and was chairman of the board in 1960.

Mr. Ritchie is a long time employee of Northern Electric with engineering, sales and administrative experience across the country.

He feels his broad experience with one of the largest manufacturing companies in Canada will be of inestimable value to the Hastings board of education and training is imperative in this fast moving age, and his system can assist to stand still.

"This larger area concept for boards of education is a wonderful opportunity to bring together the best of the Hastings, the children of Hastings," he claims.

Ritchie has been overseas with the RCAF in World War II as a commissioned officer.

Ward Six

Donald R. Williams

Stirling businessman Donald R. Williams has declared himself a candidate for election to the county school board from ward 6.

Stirling, a past president of Stirling Chamber of Commerce, a past president of Stirling Rotary Club, past chairman of Belleville Presbytery of the United Church and is now a member of the executive of the General Council.

He is also past chairman of the board of stewards of St. Paul's United Church of Canada.

Mr. Williams was educated in Canadian Public Schools in R.R. 1 and V.S. in Belleville.

After a career in banking and the garage business he moved to Stirling in 1946 where he was and operates Stirling's Kwik.

Mr. Williams has been a trustee on Stirling School Board for seven years and chairman for two years.

"I believe the county board system will be a tremendous increase in the level of education which forces us, the county board will require people with business backgrounds. I feel I can offer this type of experience."

Mr. Williams added that as a board member should be concerned with the welfare of all children in the system, regardless of the municipality the trustees represent.

Mr. Williams has three children, three in elementary schools and one in secondary school in the county.

He is a past president of

G. Donoghue

Offers for Board

A member of the present Combined Roman Catholic and Protestant Board of Education, G. Donoghue has been a member of the Belleville separate school board for 10 years and this year was also a member of the finance committee.

He believes the school board election is of utmost importance to the community and the educational changes now under way are considered.

"I try all eligible voters to go to the Dec. 2," he added.

Police Check Accidents

City police were plagued with minor accidents and break-in over the weekend. These break-ins Saturday resulted in a total theft of $22.10.

A vacant home at 221 George St. was entered through an upstairs rear window but nothing was missing. However at the home of Mrs. L. Noyes at 152 Charles St. Saturday evening $10 in cash was stolen along with $2 worth of property.

The house was entered between seven and eight p.m. through a rear window.

Also on Saturday Fiddle Electric was entered through a broken second floor rear window. Again nothing was taken. Friday night police investigated a break at 189 Albert St., the home of A. B. Holloway, but nothing was stolen.

Police Chief Douglas Cruise said that the force investigated nine minor accidents over the weekend.

"None of them was serious though," he stated, "other in damages or injuries."

Labor Council Approves

Organized labor hopes council will implement recommendations of a special committee review of the Belleville Industrial Commission.

In a weekend announcement, Belleville and District Labor Council president Ray Bradshaw said the committee report was in the best interests of the city and should stimulate greater community spirit.

Particularly gratifying was a recommendation that say "residents or organization — including labor — will have a nominating right."

"We respect council in its decision, and if approval is granted to the recommendations, trust that our elected representatives will implement the recommendations on our behalf," said Mr. Bradshaw.

Napanee Fires Investigated

NAPANEE — Investigations will continue into a series of fires that have destroyed five barns in less than a month in this area.

An inspector from the Ontario Fire Marshal's office in Toronto arrived here yesterday to head inquiries, provincial police say.

Meantime, police said it was doubtful if arson was suspected in a fire Thursday night in which an elderly man lost his life.

The blaze, in a small house four miles east of here took the life of 84-year-old Chas. Howe.

There are no secret ingredients in Super Shell. Just know-how.

Making gasoline is a little like making a martini.

Most people use the same ingredients, but not everybody knows how to put them together for best results. There are no secrets among Super Shell's ingredients, and most are used in one competitive gasoline or another. But no two refineries use all of the same ingredients in the same proportions.

5 mileage ingredients

Super Shell has five ingredients for good mileage.

(1) Platformane contains petroleum molecules with extra energy built into them.

(2) If your spark plugs misfire, you waste gasoline. TCC helps to prevent this.

(3) Burner helps give fast starts. And the faster you start, the less gasoline you use before you get going.

(4) A detergent fights deposits that can build up inside the carburetor. These deposits hurt your mileage.

(5) Mixed Pentanes help your engine warm up quickly—whatever the weather. This prevents misfiring, bucking, coughing and wasted fuel.

These five ingredients make Super Shell a good mileage gasoline.

You'd expect it to come from Shell. After all, mileage is our business.

How to go farther

Everybody at Shell wants you to go farther. We think about all the things on your car that can hurt your mileage. Like soft tires. A dirty air filter. Worn spark plugs.

We look for new ways to help you get better mileage. In summer and winter. In city traffic and on the highway. Because mileage is our business.

Full in at the Shell sign—if you'd like to go farther.

Mileage is our business

He was the former Clerk of the Peace, died in 1962.

The funeral was held from the John B. Bush Funeral Home this afternoon.

Rev. William Lamb conducted the service in the chapel and also the committal service at Riverside cemetery at Ramonville.

The bearers were Milton Johnson, Cecil Leppa, James Wilson, James Burke and Elmer Urch.

R. RAY BAROE

Following an illness of two months, R. Ray Baroe, 14 Crisp Street, died in hospital on Sunday afternoon.

Mr. Baroe was in his 55th year and was born at Mount Vernon, a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Albert Baroe. He had resided in Belleville for over 40 years and was a member of the office staff at the Stephens-Adams Company.

Surviving are his wife, the former Ma McDonald and one son, James Baroe of St. James.

Also surviving is one sister, Mrs. Reginald (Emma) Armstrong, Belleville and two brothers, Gerald Donald of Ramonville and Donald of Belleville.

Mr. Baroe is resting at the Central Funeral Home, North Front Street. Service will be held in College Street United Church on Wednesday, Nov. 30 at two o'clock.

Interment will be in St. John cemetery with Rev. Roy Vessey officiating.

Albert College Convocation

Students Must Mingle More: Graduate

Albert College students must mingle more with their counterparts in the community.

The advice came from an Albert graduate, 18-year-old John Barritt, as he delivered the valedictory at a college convocation Saturday night.

"We must do away with socializing with students and the community in downtown Belleville," said Barritt, now a Trent University student.

Students of Albert must be placed alongside the community's students — if we are ever to prove and justify Albert's existence," he warned.

Different times produce different student types, said the valedictorian.

Albert is a private school with the possibility of becoming "one of the most dynamic private schools in Canada," he added.

Barritt, a native of Bermuda, was one of the college's two 1966 Ontario scholars. The other was Donald Spaulde, of Newburgh, New York.

Both youths also shared the March award for the "finest representative male student."

"They also brought vivid distinction to Albert during their last year," he said.

Barritt led the college delivering team into Ontario secondary school finals.

Spaulde was an award-winning mathematics student in Ontario competitions.

The convocation was a presentation of nearly 120 scholarships, awards and diplomas.

Guest speaker Dr. T. S. Webster, dean of Queen's University student affairs, defended education in the humanities from critics who claim it is irrelevant in the computer age.

The human problems of life are involved in the controversy, he said. And a humanist education provides awareness of the common problems of mankind.

Two of the greatest problems they will face will be the challenges of love and death, Dr. Webster told the students.

"And at the moment in your life when such matters are important to you, there will be no room in your mind, and certainly none in your heart, for the problems of the compounds of aluminum," he said.

"There will be of no use to you at all."

All men know times of happiness and grief, added Dr. Webster.

"But when you are moving in those zones where reason does not reach, your glances may be enlarged, your anguish tempered, by the awareness that your experiences are every man's experiences."

Exams Cancelled

Freezing Rain Stops Buses

Freezing rain that fell on the Quinte district early this morning brought welcome news to one segment of the population.

The 1,200 students at Centennial Secondary School were given a one-day respite from examinations scheduled to start this morning.

With 70 per cent of Centennial's students unable to get to school due to cancellation of bus service, principal J. W. Musgrave postponed the start of examinations until Tuesday.

Two of Centennial's teachers also were unable to make their way over icy roads to the school.

At BCT examinations went ahead as planned.

The school's rural students came from the Ameliasburg area, where buses run as usual.

At Mira Secondary School 221 students were absent this morning, but no examinations are scheduled at Mira until January. At Quinte Secondary School about 45 per cent of the students missed classes today because of road conditions in rural areas.

Decision on whether or not the buses will run is the responsibility of the bus driver, high school superintendent D. C. Stirling said this morning.

"Only he knows the situation, and he has shoulder rest the responsibility for the safety of the students in his care," Mr. Stirling said.

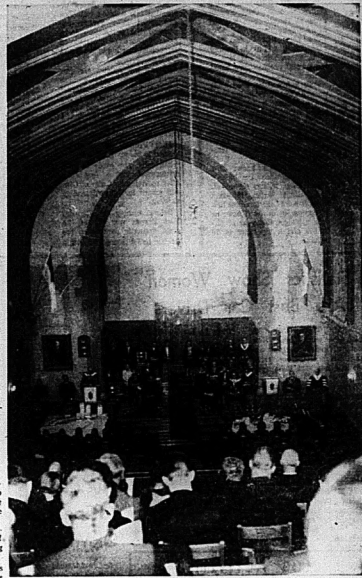

William Henshaw sr., Carrying Place, who operates a coach bus company, said the driver makes the decision on starting out in the morning. He consults his company manager if time permits.

"Do bad mornings we check with the CFB Trenton duty forecaster and with people along each bus route. If we have time," said Mr. Henshaw. "But time is the essence in this business and we have to get those buses rolling early. We don't have time to sit on the telephone for half an hour so we leave the decision in many cases, up to the driver who knows his route and the conditions likely to be found along the way."

Early morning weather conditions govern the number of rural students attending schools on any given day.

"The latest a county bus driver can start out on his route is 7:20 a.m.," said Mr. Henshaw. "So the decision to cancel or run the buses must be made between 7 and 7:20 a.m. although conditions may improve sufficiently to allow buses on the roads by 8:30 or 9 a.m. By then it's too late to get the students to school."

Traditional Setting

Albert College Memorial Chapel makes impressive traditional setting for Saturday night convocation ceremonies. Parents and public mingled with graduates and students for the annual event.

NDP Favors Product Boycott

KITCHENER (CP) — The Ontario New Democratic Party's Saturday voted in favor of a boycott of the products of Procter-Silex Co. Ltd. of Picton, Ont.

Members of the NDP will be asked to buy no products produced by the company until a strike at the company plant, which has lasted 16 weeks, is concluded.

An emergency resolution was presented to the N.D.P. provincial convention by Kinsmen delegate Lenore Brown. It said the company was trying to break the striking union "by any and all means."

Mr. Brown said thugs using guns and clubs had terrorized the striking workers.

The strike began July 17 when about 100 members of Local 583, International Union of Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers, demanded more money.

The strikers are seeking a basic hourly rate of $1.60 for women and $1.80 for men. Basic rate now is $1.00 for women, plus an incentive for men, and $1.27 for men.

Procter-Silex has offered an increase of six per cent in piece-work rates, with a minimum of $1.25 an hour for women and $1.52 for men. This rate is being paid to new employees hired after the strike began.

11 Groups Compete

Belleville Guild Wins Two Awards

Belleville Theatre Guild drew the curtain on the 1988 Eastern Ontario one-act drama festival, Saturday after taking a double bow for prize-winning production.

The Guild snatched up two of 10 awards up for competition, among 11 community theatre groups in the three-day award for best actor.

Pete Kitcher emerged sharing the award for best actor in the festival.

And the man who directed him, award-winning Guild director Peter Howard — won the award for the festival's runner-up play.

Prizes were drawn by Mr. Howard's production of Impromptu, the tragic one-act drama by Ted Mond. It had drawn acclaim from first night audiences.

The play's leading actress, Jo Vanover, also came close to winning the best actress award.

The presentation came close to midnight, as adjudicator Norma Springfield of Montreal announced her decision — a lasting lesson played over three nights and a matinee at Centennial Secondary School.

A second Quebec award also took home an award. The trophy for the best classical play went to Prince Edward College Players of Picton for its production of Oedipus Rex. The Greek classic was produced by Thomas Ouders, a member of the collegiate staff.

But the festival champion was the award-winning play from Lakeshore High School at Port Huron.

Lakeshore triumphantly swept up five trophies — half of prizes awarded for excellence in production. It was a presentation of a satirical farce on the death of Wesley by Life and Death of Society.

Director of the all-boy cast kept returning liability to the staff as the adjudicator pronounced Lakeshore's award list: Best visual presentation, winning play, best high school play, best director and best actor.

Robin Cameron, a 20-year-old drama student at Queen's University, was clashed best actress in the festival.

Saturday afternoon Miss Asen's award-winning performance from the adjudicator for her lead role in Christopher Fry's Phantom of the Opera, Lakeshore Theatre Production.

The decision, confirmed Miss Springfield was "a real toughie," recalling "the excellent work by Jo Vanover in the Belleville production."

A more complicated choice was the award for best actor, which she solved it by declaring two winners — Mr. Kitcher and David Gubins, leading man in a Phoenix Two Frequent.

The Ottawa production score-ed the second triumph of the festival.

The third member of its cast also won a trophy. The best supporting actress — award went to Fiona McWinn for Phantom being in "a most difficult, absorbing role."

Miss Springfield withdrew an award from the prize list — the trophy for the best Canadian play.

Saturday's mainline audience had seen the only play by a Canadian playwright in the festival — Mark, by Gordon Lewis of Kingston.

The play was presented by Belleville Players, directed and directed by the author.

However, Miss Springfield said she could not award any trophy there — or what the author was trying to say.

It was in the last moments of the situation as it developed," she confessed.

The comedy, set in the basement of a supermarket, concerned the network that a little episode, but Miss Springfield "didn't know what was intended."

Other plays presented on festival included The Lottery, by Cramwell.

High School Drama Club, featuring: The Lottery, by Cramwell.

High School Drama Club, and Bernard Shaw's The Shining Up of Blanton Point, by Buckington Theatre Workshop.

Stage Flooring Draws Comment

"Why is a floor so sacred?" The comment, from adjudicator Norma Springfield as she wrapped up the festival at Centennial Secondary School was more than bit-ling.

It also echoed a cry from the heart, current among community theatre folk from the facilities available to them.

Even the most elaborate auditorium too often may be lacking in basic stage floor.

A public auditorium seating theatre goes in plush comfort too often meets the barest, acting requirements.

It's not a case of too little money being spent, indicated Miss Springfield. Much money is being invested but none too wisely.

The plushness often carries over onto the stage providing grounds for the actors.

Unfortunately, the varied floors are so sophisticated that they may not even be paid in mind to hold down scenery.

What is needed is closer cooperation between school auditoria designers and theatre people.

Miss Springfield made a special plea to architects "from their heights to come down and talk with us who work in the theatre," she said.

"The money that is spent on plush and texture could easily go in equipment — or, perhaps we still will not have which-ed stage floors in various-kind help us — may never drive a nail. Why is a floor so sacred?"

Miss Springfield's remarks to an audience dominated by community theatre members of the Eastern Ontario Drama League, drew sympathetic laughter and applause.

Heidi Pre-empts Football -- Fans Mad

NEW YORK (AP) — It was one of their pleasant surprises last week on television, full of the regular programs and a couple of special plays the usual lavish serving of football.

Then, at precisely 7 p.m. EST, the NBC network preempted the NFL game between the New York Jets and Oakland Raiders and instead showed an American Football League game, drew sympathetic laughter and applause.

Since NBC had a fortune invested in the fully produced, widely-regarded children's classic, when the zero hour arrived, the network left the game and started broadcasting the NFL game.

And during that minute of broadcast time on TV set aside of Denver-Oakland second touchdowns to win the game 41-20. The NBC switchboard in New York was not in the least bit surprised.

It has long been established, on the basis of fan reaction in the past, that a sports event, no matter how big it runs, is not to be knocked off in favor of regular programming. However, some-ed in a two-hour production of the fully produced, widely-regarded children's classic, when the zero hour arrived, the network left the game and started broadcasting the NFL game.

Terriers Snap Closer to Barrie Hells

BY THE CANADIAN PRESS
Will some help from the Kingston Aces, Orillia Terriers, who won their first place Barrie Flyers Sunday by defeating Woodstock 4-1 in a game of four Ontario Hockey Association Senior series weekend games.

The Terriers moved to within one game of the Aces, who are 3-2 in the division, for their first game Saturday, for their first win in 12 starts.

In other weekend action, Oak Hornets smothered Colborne 3-0 Sunday and Oshawa Generals ousted Belleville 5-0 Sunday.

Hawks 7-2 Sunday.
George Westlake, a brother of Boston Bruins forward Ed Westlake, scored the winning goal for Orillia, spelling a strong game for the Hawks' beleaguered front. Penetration in front of 592 feet. John Hall scored twice and forward Al Bialik once for the Hawks. National Hockey League defenseman Al Bialik, twice, and Jerry Hartigan, Penetration stopped 20 shots, including breakaways by Westlake 3-3 Sunday and Oshawa Generals 5-0 Sunday.

Terriers, the Aces used a rash of penalties against the Flyers to hand the league leaders their first loss. Defenseman Paul Patricelli and Rod Graham scored for Kingston. For Barrie, Adams and Pete Pannas both scored for the Flyers.

Referee Bill Betsworth of Brampton called 10 minutes in penalties. He assessed four majors for Kingston and three for Barrie, and called three minors against each team. The Flyers played short-handed for 12 straight minutes, from 34:10 of the first period to 6:30 of the second period. Graham scored the winning goal for Kingston with one minute and 53 seconds left in the final period.

At Galt Stadium, the Hornets had an easy time defeating Colborne Kings before 1,000 fans. Vance Miller pulled the winners with three goals and one assist, as John Bentley scored twice. Frank Hickman, Dietrich, Pete Brown and defenseman Larry Zillotto all scored once.

Ken Robertson, Bill Abbott and Dave Alexander pulled for the Kings.

At Oakville, the Oaks opened their recovery from a two-game losing streak with their third straight win before 800 fans. Jim (Oble) O'Brien and Don Currie both collected two goals for the winners with Charles Cioppa, Terry Holmes and Carl Hestfield scoring once each. Andy Treple and playing coach Davey Jones pulled for Belleville.

James picked up a misconduct late in the game for throwing his gloves and stick at referee Blair Graham of Toronto.

Rangers Win Pair To Overtake Habs

By SCOTT BUTTON

Canadians Press Staff Writer
In this era of expansion and changed lines, New York Rangers are up to a remarkable feat in player personnel.

The Rangers used this asset successfully Sunday night, when they edged Montreal Canadiens 3-1 to move into first place in the Eastern Division of the National Hockey League.

A couple of well-travelled veterans—Dave Balon and Ron Stewart—helped the Rangers to the victory.

Stewart, scored two goals, with Balon setting both in a smooth, experienced fashion. As a result, the Rangers moved one point ahead of the second-place Canadiens.

In other games Sunday, Boston Bruins trounced Oakland 6-3, Philadelphia Flyers edged Los Angeles Kings 3-1, Chicago Black Hawks and Toronto Maple Leafs tied 1-1, and St. Louis Blues and Minnesota North Stars finished in a 3-3 stalemate.

Sunday, the Rangers slipped Pittsburgh Penguins 3-1. Toronto took Los Angeles 3-1, Minnesota topped Los Angeles 5-2. Detroit and Oakland played to a 3-3 deadlock.

Stewart, a 36-year-old right winger who has played with four NHL teams, scored his first goal in the opening period after goaltender Gump Worsley fluffed to the ice in anticipation of a shot from Balon.

Instead, Balon, a 30-year-old center, shovelled a goalmouth pass to Stewart who scored on a back-hander. Stewart's second goal, coming in the second period, also was on a back-hand shot from his close.

McHaffey scored the Rangers' goal, while Mickey Redmond and Claude Provencel connected for the Canadiens in front of the New York gathering of 12,200.

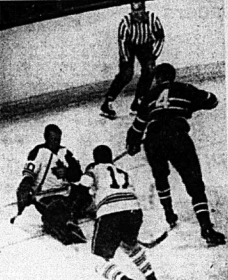

The Canadiens threatened to tie the game in the final period, but shots by Redmond and Provencel bounced off the goal post after eluding Ranger netminder Ed Giacomin.

The Bruins broke out of a scoring slump with their win against the Leafs.

The Maple Leafs gained their first win against Chicago when forward Marcel Pronovost scored on a 25-foot slapshot at 13:05 of the final period, his shot sailed past three players and bounced off defenseman Howe's stick into the Chicago net.

night, Canadiens' Gilles Tremblay (5) and Montreal center Jean Beliveau (4) picked up assists on this scoring play which Larry Mickey (17) of Toronto was unable to stop. Toronto won the game 3-1. (CP Wirephoto)

Price's Press Tops

TORONTO (CP) — Montreal weightlifters were the big winners in an open competition Saturday at the Toronto YNCA.

Pierre Charbonneau won the 120-pound class, Claude Hareau the 164, Marcel Hareau the 184 and Pierre St. Louis the 181 pound.

The monopoly was won from Ben Banks of Buffalo, N.Y., with a press of 127.5 kilograms. In the heavyweight Pierre St. Louis of Belleville won with a press of 142.5 kilos, about 315 pounds.

The best lifter award went to Pierre St. Louis of Montreal's Patrice National Club, which also picked up the team trophy.

Balding-Knudson Twosome Fashion World Cup Surprise

ROME, (CP-AP) — "Next year we're going to call it the Canadian Cup," said a smiling Al Balding speaking, and he had plenty to be pleased about.

The 41-year-old Toronto pro has been on the comeback trail since an operation in 1965, had just carried Canada to a double victory that broke the United States domination of the World Cup competition of the United States.

It was the third individual title for Canada in the international competition launched in Montreal in 1953 as the Canada Cup matches. Stan Leonard won in Melbourne in 1959 and Knudson in Tokyo two years ago.

But it was the first team victory for Canada, with Balding and Knudson shooting a combined total of 569, seven under par, in the four-day tournament of the 4,000-yard digest golf course.

The favored Americans, U.S. Open champion Lee Trevino and PGA champion Julius Berman, finished second with 571 after sharing the lead with the Nationalist Chinese team through the first and second rounds.

The U.S. had won the trophy 10 times.

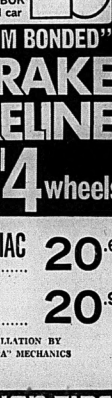

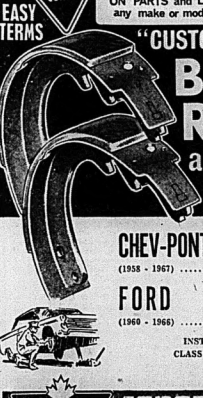

Italy's surprising duo of Alfonso Angelini and Roberto Benazzi finished third.

Knudson placed third in the team standing, finishing with 573.

The Nationalist Chinese, who had grabbed the lead at the first round, faded for a fourth-place finish at 576.

Balding, a regular on the U.S. pro tour, was easily the star of the match, the 21-year-old Italian pro had the consecutive rounds of 69-72-67 over a course derelict frequently by rain, and won the individual title by an easy five strokes over Benazzi, the 21-year-old Italian pro.

THE CAR BUYER'S PROBLEMS

THE MECHANIC AND THE COUNTRY DISTRICT
It wasn't as many years ago as it seems, but the country district was a place where a mechanic diagnosed car trouble like the country dentist worked stock reply for his victim whenever he believed that he had pulled the wrong tooth.

Charles is an branches of industry, in fact, are moving so fast that the mechanic is being replaced by the electrician. The mechanic has only half his normal working life ahead of him, and he is prepared to return to school for his new training on his specialty.

Automobile mechanics, for instance, must keep going back to factory schools, just to be sure how to use the fluorescent tools. That's a very real reason to offer you just when you have your car serviced at a franchise dealer's garage.

The best and most economical reason is usually that supplied by a conscientious dealer as the car has been sold to the customer and for obvious reasons knows best. Now that's a reason to be satisfied and content in your future service. In fact, you can get your car serviced for your next car.

Argos, Stampeders Play "Stump" the Odds-makers'

Roughies Lose First Toronto Game in 9 Encounters As Argo Defence Contains Jackson on Sloppy Field

ANDY CAPP

TORONTO (CP) — A mixture of psychology and weather Sunday afternoon Toronto Argonauts all the advantage they needed to take a 13-1 lead into the second quarter of the Eastern Football Conference final Saturday in the CFL game against the Rough Riders.

Coach Don Callie, using the psychology in convincing his Argos that they could control the game against Ottawa's three-time three-point team was — in no reason they couldn't handle the conference championship game in the two-game, two-point series. During the second quarter the Riders scored two points to 33 for the Argos and bookmakers gave Ottawa a 6½-point favorite.

for the game, played before 32,304 fans.

But a two-block overnight snowfall turned the CNE Stadium field into a slippery mess with limiting Ottawa's power while allowing the Riders to full running game. It also hampered the Riders' offensive.

Quarterback Rick Jackson, setting up his own first career run by Toronto defenders.

Callie said his team's strategy was that his team turned the heat on Jackson when they noticed he was having trouble rolling out to gain time when his primary receiver was covered — a favorite Ottawa tactic.

Even the play's two touch-downs came on defensive plays — a pass interception good for 18 yards.

Under pressure from Toronto Bombers' Mark Luster and Dave Knepper, after the game Jackson held conference statistics. Quarterback Rick Jackson had slipped out of his hands and that he had not tried a pass.

Bo Scott, Ottawa's leading fullback, was the only player in the game picking up 160 yards on 18 carries.

Conditions hampered Ottawa's ground game more than Toronto's. Two of Scott's runs were for 32 and 37 yards and the rest of the time he was either in the small yardage or thrown for losses.

The Ottawa ground attack depends largely on the quickness of the line.

of Scott and halfback Vic Washington and the slippery conditions weakened their attack while not affecting Toronto's top runners—Bill Symons and Jim Gault. Symons had 100 yards on 18 carries and Dilford only 20 yards on nine runs.

Some stats for 25 yards on 19 carries and Dilford 10 on 19 while Washington was held to 20 yards on nine runs.

Ottawa coach Frank Clark explained in the dressing room that Washington had taken a hard punt on the head early in the game that marred his effectiveness.

But, neither team was able to mount a particularly impressive offensive despite Toronto scoring out 19 first downs to eight by Ottawa.

Toronto runners moved the ball 27 yards compared with 190 yards by Ottawa's and the Argos gained 103 yards in the air compared with 85 by Ottawa.

The Argos completed eight of 19 passes attempted while Ottawa was good on four of 16. But two Toronto passes were attempted by Dilford and Mann.

Mann's pass was on a third-down quarter field goal attempt that barely when quarterback Walter Gahler was unable to handle the ball and fumbled it to the end zone.

But in the rougher match Oct. 14 in Regina 19 was the end zone.

Sports On All Fronts

Roston Colts showed their championship form Sunday night in a 130-96 victory over Phoenix Suns in National Basketball Association play. Bailey Davis led the Colts' scoring with 28 points, David Lattin and Galt Goertzel led the Suns with 13 points each. In the only other Sunday game, Los Angeles Lakers held Seattle SuperSonics 109-94 for their eighth consecutive victory. Elgin Baylor led the Lakers' scoring with 25 points in the game, but it was Mike Lett Hewitt and Will Chamberlain who scored key baskets in the final quarter to move the Lakers back into the lead. In Saturday games, the Lakers edged by San Francisco Warriors 113-112 while the Colts downed San Diego Rockets 105-102. Cincinnati Royals defeated Denver Hawks 120-102. New York Knicks whipped Chicago Bulls 119-97. Philadelphia "76ers downed Milwaukee Bucks 126-91 and Seattle SuperSonics beat Detroit Pistons 124-110.

SASKATON (CP) — Canada's National team scored two 6-1 victories against Saskatchewan junior teams in weekend hockey play. Doug Hargreaves and George Watson each scored two goals in the victory Sunday over Saskatoon Quakers. Morris Linn led Linn's team to score two goals in Saturday's win over Vernon Tigers.

TORONTO (CP) — University of Toronto Blue defeated Queens' University 1st Saturday to win the Ontario-Quebec Athletic Association intercollegiate rugby championship.

GENEVA (AP) — European Boxing Union leaders, reviewing the death of first German middleweight Jupp Elze after a European championship bout this year, have said they will investigate on delay for their international rules. Elze died several days after his June 12 title fight against undefeated German boxer Carlos Dura of Italy. Evidence indicated that the German had taken stimulants before the fight.

NEW YORK (AP) — The Daily News says Mickey Mantle, slugging star of New York Yankees for 18 seasons, is retiring from baseball. Mantle said this year, but he has been a vocal proponent of public relations, denied the story. "As far as we know," Fiaschi said, "Mickey is coming back."

"Mickey is at Fort Lauderdale in spring training and we firmly expect him to play," Fiaschi said and he had called Mantle after seeing the story and said Mickey told him he was looking forward to playing. "Who knows how I'm going to feel in 1985," Fiaschi continued. Mantle, saying, "I don't know yet what I'm going to do."

Heidi's Block Buffaloes Fans

NEW YORK (AP) — Try to understand today if he grows at the moment of Heidi, that lovable little girl who is a professional football fan.

Heidi said that she had a telephone call Sunday night that resulted in a deluge of telephone calls that reached such proportions the lines in the NBC broadcast booth blew out.

NBC received a flood of football fans when it held its preview special in New York, in much of the country to the delight of millions of fans.

Football fans have nothing against children — after all, many of them grew up to football players — but Heidi from the interest of the American Football League and when Heidi from New York and Oakland from Oakland ended to every action but the West Coast.

There was one minute left. And what a minute it was — Oakland scored two touchdowns for a 42-21 victory.

"It was a forgivable error committed by human beings who were concerned about the children's excitement to see Heidi at 7 p.m.," said Ted Goodman, NBC president. "I missed the end of the game as much as anyone else."

The final minute of the game was shown on late-night television at 11:30 p.m. in New York. The loss — but by telephone calls from arena fans had reached into the thousands.

"When people couldn't reach NBC because the lines were busy or because of the switchboard breakdown, we forced New York viewers to wait."

The calls finally will stop, but the night itself upstaged pro football will be remembered for a long time.

Raiders Stage Rally

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

In a game that squandered 24 points in the first half, the Oakland Raiders kept in the American Football League race Sunday with a 42-21 victory over New York Jets.

San Francisco 49ers threw 43 yards to Charley Smith for the winning touchdown.

The Raiders followed that by recovering the ensuing kickoff on the four-yard line with Preston Pittsburger taking it in for another intercepted pass.

Elsewhere in the Western Division of the NFL, victories came on schedule as Kansas City defeated Denver 31-17, San Diego blanked Buffalo 16-0, and the Oilers won a half game ahead of Oakland 20-10, game 7-2.

In other games Houston overcame Denver 30-17 and Cincinnati upset Miami 21-17. Lamonia fired three more scores Sunday, but he failed to beat Pittsburgh led by the Oilers 29-10 with 1-1/2 left.

San Francisco 49ers' Frank Pitts on a 59-yard scoring play, then Galt Goertzel on a 36-yard lead 17 yards and Dawson kicked a 36-yard field goal.

While the Bills were losing in the third quarter, the Oilers were losing in the fourth quarter went out in the third quarter.

Buffalo managed only two field goals by Bruce Allen.

Regina Has One Consolation: It Isn't a Total-points Series

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

After their 20-10 playoff elimination at the hands of Stampeders, the Regina Roughies were told that the CNE Stadium field was a slippery mess with limiting Ottawa's power while allowing the Riders to full running game.

Quarterback Rick Jackson, setting up his own first career run by Toronto defenders.

Callie said his team's strategy was that his team turned the heat on Jackson when they noticed he was having trouble rolling out to gain time when his primary receiver was covered — a favorite Ottawa tactic.

Even the play's two touch-downs came on defensive plays — a pass interception good for 18 yards.

Under pressure from Toronto Bombers' Mark Luster and Dave Knepper, after the game Jackson held conference statistics. Quarterback Rick Jackson had slipped out of his hands and that he had not tried a pass.

Bo Scott, Ottawa's leading fullback, was the only player in the game picking up 160 yards on 18 carries.

field goal try. "It was one of a runner."

Back in 1960, the WFC was the first to play the game in the open air, with temperatures in the mid-20s and a strong wind blowing at 10 m.p.h. conditions that generally were expected to hamper the effectiveness of quarterback play.

Blum's recovery of the game's first touchdown at the Ottawa three-point interception after Jackson appeared to push the ball forward.

But Laker, who was spotted off in the fourth quarter by Ron Vanderbeek, completed 12 of 27 pass attempts, including three touchdowns, as Calgary gained 193 yards through the air compared with Saskatchewan's 118.

Evansen was helped off the field with a sprained right ankle after his touchdown catch late in the third quarter. The team's doctor was to decide later whether the Stampeders' injury was able to play Sunday.

The Stampeders' 150 yards rushing was twice the ground gains of Saskatchewan. Calgary's 40 yards on 14 carries was the Riders' best individual performance in that department, followed by Al Ford with 43 yards on four runs.

It was the first time Saskatchewan had been shut out since 1961, when Winnipeg's B. J. Adams and F. J. Adams.

Ontario Man Gets New Heart In Operation in Houston, Texas

HOUSTON (CP)—An Allen Boyd, 30, of Chippawa, Ont., who received the heart of a 38-year-old Mexican woman in a transplant operation at St. Luke's Episcopal Hospital.

"He's alert, awake and progressing satisfactorily," a hospital spokesman said Sunday night.

Boyd arrived in Houston 11 weeks ago by air ambulance from London, Ont., and physicians there said he had six months to live.

Boyd had been suffering from a coronary arterial sclerosis with scar ring of the heart muscle.

His operation was performed in Toronto Sunday night. A heart transplant recipient died in the operating room after leaving 40 persons alive with transplants in a heart in the world.

Boyd had suffered five heart attacks, including one in 1960 which limited his activities.

Mr. Boyd, in a telephone interview with London radio station CPFL, said his husband "looked good" when she visited him in hospital.

She said her husband was able to recognize her and responded to questions by nodding his head.

The donor was Maria Acosta of San Luis, Soterra, Mexico, who was flown from Yuma, Ariz., Friday and suffered an intracranial hemorrhage before death occurred at 7:30 p.m. EST Saturday.

Dr. Harold Gordon of Yuma delivered Mr. Acosta's two-pump, two-ventricle heart to the heart of 38-year-old Ronald Mark, a student who died of heart failure at the same hospital.

Transplant surgery was performed by a team led by Dr. Denton A. Cooley, who has supervised 13 such operations at St. Luke's.

Nine persons have received transplants at the well-known Methodist Hospital. Of the 24 recipients, 13 survive.

Boyd was the world's 80th heart transplant recipient.

Dr. Boyd, in a telephone interview with London radio station CPFL, said his husband "looked good" when she visited him in hospital.

Your Car

Drive with Lights On When Visibility Poor

By RAY STAPLEY

Recently a friend told me of a bad accident he witnessed shortly after sunrise on a dimmy morning. Both drivers were seriously injured and their cars were demolished. Apparently a motorist pulled out from a service station and proceeded to make a left turn in order to get into the eastbound lane. A westbound vehicle struck the car head-on. My friend was following the westbound car and barely missed being involved himself. Visibility was quite limited, but neither of the drivers had their lights on and he was convinced that the accident could have been avoided had the lights been on.

While the cost of operating the headlights is practically nil, the fact is that many drivers will not turn their lights on when visibility is poor.

The Gray Coach Lines in its driver's manual states that the headlights should be used whenever the visibility is poor, regardless of whether it is day or night. An official of this company told me that, while he had no actual records, he is convinced that many accidents have been avoided had the lights been on.

He also said the very fact that this precaution is taken, before putting away the manual, even further of the necessity of extreme caution. It is also claimed that, even in broad daylight, if an oncoming motorist is affected by positions with unusual features, until expert evaluations.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 - May 20): Put your foot on the gas, but don't let it go. You'll be in for a rough ride, but you'll be in for a rough ride. 21. "Ullage" is the amount of liquid in a container. 22. Belleville Council Okays Change in Industrial Commission

By RAY PEACOCK
Staff Reporter

Belleville city council by a 7-4 vote yesterday adopted the report of the special committee appointed to consider the future policy of the Belleville Industrial Commission.

A minor amendment and following a debate lasting more than an hour.

The amendment proposed by Alderman Donald Williams after a previous motion from Alderman E. J. O'Flynn was ruled out of order, called for council to appoint the 15 members to the Industrial Commission, who in turn would name six directors from its membership. Also sitting at commission directors would be the mayor and two members of city council.

Voting for the amendment and also for the amended motion were Mayor J. H. Scott and Aldermen Euse David, Richard Klein, Arthur Kengan, Paul Russell, Kenneth Soles and Donald Williams.

Opposing were Aldermen Douglas Bayle, Mrs. Robin Jeffrey, Gerald Joyce and Arnold Orr.

The report of the special three-man committee made in council two weeks ago, called for increasing the number of commission directors from 11 but one of six to nine, to include the mayor and eight directors appointed by council. No more than two of the appointed directors would be from council members, but all council members would sit as commission members.

Recommendations of the special committee also called for the Industrial Commission to become a department of industry of the city administration and the commission's bills to be paid by the city treasurer and for the city assessment commission to negotiate all land purchases.

Also the report expressed confidence in the present Commission directors and requested them to offer their services for appointment in the 1969 board.

Ten Run In City

By LENNY WILLIAMSON
Staff Reporter

Belleville public school supporters will have a choice of ten candidates for the five seats open to the Belleville representatives on the Hastings County Board of Education.

All ten candidates, two women and eight men, nominated last night at city hall, have qualifications.

Chairmen of both the Belleville Public School Board and the Bay of Quintar District High School Board are in the running.

Chairman James Clarke of the Bay of Quintar District High School Board was nominated for the new board, as was Macdonald Smith, president of the Belleville Public School Board.

Six of the remaining eight people nominated are present or former school board members.

Newcomers to the election were Mrs. A. H. (Ellis) McFarlane, and Ronald Lee.

Mrs. Ralph (Helen E.) Graham, Everett Fairman and six new candidates will run for the Belleville Public School Board which holds its final meeting Monday.

James Ritchie is a former public school board member who held the post of chairman for two years.

Bob John O'Flynn and J. Nelson Macdonald are members of the Belleville District High School Board, whose final meeting is slated for Wednesday night.

He's What It's All About

Candidates for county school elections Dec. 2, were observed last night at city hall by one of the 22,700 students the victorious trustees will have in their care next year. Mark Everett, a grade 9 pupil, took notes during the nomination meeting, and exchanged opinions with high school board chairman James Clarke, Everett Fairman, Mark's former teacher at Sir Mackenzie Bowell School, and Kenneth Macdonald.

Canadians Aboard Hijacked Airliner

MEXICO CITY (CP) — A Mexican airliner, hijacked by a middle-aged Cuban holding a bomb in shaky hands, landed safely here Monday night after a forced diversion to Cuba. Three Canadians, all from Toronto, were among the 18 passengers aboard.

The hijacker, identified as Iluro Torres on the passenger list, pulled out a homemade dynamite bomb 10 minutes after the DC-8 took off from Heredia for Mexico City.

The Canadians were identified as Walter Olson and Robert and Yvon Mercer.

Biafran Desire for Arms Likely Cause of Relief Delay -- PM

OTTAWA (CP) — Possible Biafran interest in getting some daytime flights from the second-tier territory may be holding up approval for day food relief flights. Prime Minister Trudeau told the Commons today.

Andrew Brevin NDP-Toronto Greenwood asked whether a long-range Hercules cargo plane supplied by Canada to Biafra, just sitting on the island Fernando Po off the African Coast. Mr. Trudeau said the plane is still on the island.

Only One Seat Not Contested

By LENNY WILLIAMSON, Staff Reporter

Contests seem assured for all but one of the 16 seats on the Hastings County Board of Education.

Forty people were nominated last night at eight centres throughout the county for election Dec. 2.

The candidates have until tonight to qualify.

Only one trustee was elected by acclamation. He is Emerson Robinson, HRI, Maynooth, who will represent Hastings County's eight northern townships.

Ten candidates were nominated in Belleville to contest the five seats open to the city on the county board. Eight of the 10 are present or past high school teachers or public school board members. Two are women.

Five men were nominated to be voted upon by separate school supporters in the county at large for the two separate school seats on the county board.

Aid Is Promised Faltering Franc

PARIS (CP) — The faltering franc appeared to be getting vital breathing space today with the pledge of unrestricted international support and a promise of aid in government spending to ease inflationary pressures.

Premier Maurice Couveur de Murville said on television Monday night will tell the nation that international bankers in Basel had agreed to give "all the assistance which will be needed in the future... with no any reservation."

But despite his encouraging words, the franc was changing hands at its shoddiest dollar level.

Belleville Council Okays Change in Industrial Commission

Acting Industrial Commission Chairman Fred Deacon announced the council's decision at the meeting and at yesterday's meeting at the out-stand commission directors appreciated the expression of confidence given in the special committee report.

He said, however, that he was disappointed that the report could not be discussed at the meeting of the commission. He mentioned the legality of the move and said the commission would be changed only by the 25 commissioner by a vote of 15.

He doubted the wisdom of the industrial commission being a city department and said that city development in Twicken point would be the wisdom of such a move.

Alderman Enos David, moved adoption of the special committee report and referred to the measure to the press before it went to council was not a stroke of genius, he said.

Alderman David said he had been a member of council when the Industrial Commission was set up. He said the commission setup had developed weaknesses which, if not amended, could result in more serious difficulty.

He said the committee recommended for purchase of the building by the city treasurer was made on the advice of the city solicitor.

Ald. Ort felt that the special chairman, Al. Kenneth Soden and members David and Ellis had been sincere in their efforts but said the report had been hastily composed.

He said the report on one hand complimented the commission and on the other suggested a change in the commission make-up; also suggested the commission continue as a separate body and at the same time recommended its operation as a department of city administration.

City council, he said, was not enough to do look after its own business without taking on the duties of the industrial commission.

He said the white matter was deserving of more serious study.

special committee to make a further study and report, with a suggestion that the council be asked to consider the report and other people be consulted of the commission for a workable constitution for the commission.

But Alderman Soden said the special committee had already taken its stand. The amendment was a contrary move and should be ruled out of order.

Alderman Gerald Joyce said he could not approve of the move and said he questioned the legality of the commission and said he proposed a vote for the commission.

He said he had contacted the city solicitor and had been told there was no way the report could be enacted.

Alderman Soden, as chairman of the special committee, was not taken on the job as a city director.

The recommendations in the commission report were the result of consultation with commission directors working on the problem.

Alderman Douglas Boyle said that the difficulties existing between the city council and the industrial commission were the result of jurisdiction between the two bodies.

He was disappointed for all to work for the city's prosperity but he was not being made out of nothing.

Fairground Building Opens 'End of Week'

When is the new recreation building at the Belleville Fairgrounds going to be completed?

"That is the question which at the past several meetings has been asked at city council and which was again asked yesterday."

Alderman Richard Ellis posed the by now familiar question and was told by city manager J. H. Reynolds that he expected the safety certificate for the building by the end of the week.

"It's always the same answer," retorted Alderman Douglas Boyle. "We've been asking about the fairgrounds building for the past one and a half months."

Mayor J. Russell Scott admitted that the fairgrounds building had been a serious problem but with heavy winter storms and snow in the spring, and the building would be accepted by the city until the safety certificate was received.

Alderman Boyle suggested that the contractor, Maurice Rollins Construction, be penalized by seizure of the permit bond.

The fairgrounds building was put briefly into use for the Belleville Fair, August and then was turned back to the contractor for completion.

Alderman Boyle suggested that the builder be penalized so much per day for the period the city has been unable to use the building since the completion date called for in the contract.

With election day now less than two weeks away, Dec. 3 - Belleville voters are still not clear on the two referendums on which they will be asked to express an opinion.

This was the claim yesterday by Alderman Rollins, who as the suggested council member for the referendum in the newspaper to explain the question of holding a referendum at a cost to the city of $100,000.

He said that people wanted to know what city was proposed to do on or not.

But Mayor J. R. Scott said the location of the proposed arena had been intentionally left open for council to allow consideration by urban renewal planning now underway.

Alderman Gerald Joyce asked about the three year term, stating there was confusion among the voters about the three year term.

Mayor Scott, however, said the question was a straight forward one requiring only a yes or no vote.

If the majority approve the three year term for the construction of the arena, the council elections after 1972 would be held every two years.

And if the vote on municipal elections would be held one year and school board elections the next year.

Speaking at the Sales and Advertising meeting last evening Alderman Boyle said he was for the question.

For the past 10 years he has been in the advertising and a marketing field as eastern advertising manager with the Macfarlan Urban Publishing Company.

Leclerc to Speak At Sales Club

"What do English Canadians want?" asked Maurice Leclerc who has been selling the French Canadian market for the past 13 years.

Speaking at the Sales and Advertising meeting last evening Alderman Boyle said he was for the question.

For the past 10 years he has been in the advertising and a marketing field as eastern advertising manager with the Macfarlan Urban Publishing Company.

He has also been manager of the first division of the Paul L'Amour Inc., a French Canadian marketing firm.

Recently he joined the television division of All-Canada Radio and Television Ltd.

In the past three years Leclerc led over 200 French Canadians in western and eastern Canada. The latter on distant among Canadians has always been an adjunct close to him and he is doing all that is possible to further the program.

No specific request has been forwarded but the Belleville Agricultural Society has been asked to have municipal authority to reserve the Belleville Fair on Sunday if necessary.

Provincial legislation now authorizes the operation of fairs on Sunday with municipal approval. Last year the P.C.M. and Kingston took advantage when rules 20 and Royal Canadian Legion members attended in a body and formed a council of the fair.

Picton Mayoralty Contested

PICTON (Staff)—Nominations were held throughout Prince Edward county last night in all municipalities except Hamilton.

In addition to council members, representatives to the Prince Edward County Board of education, were nominated.

In some communities representatives to separate school boards, and to Public Utilities Commissions were elected as well.

The office of mayor will be contested in Picton, the only municipality in the county that boasts the office.

Reginald Moore of Picton has also allowed his name to stand for mayor.

He is the present mayor. H. J. McFarland was also nominated for the office.

Donald Thompson was nominated for deputy reeve, a position which he holds, as well as for mayor. He indicated that he will assume the deputy reeve post, while he wins by acclamation.

Bernard C. Hepburn, Picton's deputy reeve last night that should be not be re-elected to office, then he said plans for at least three new industries might have been struck.

Said Mr. McFarland, "I'm not here, if I'm not in the county, then I can't do all I might do (if I were)."

"I just haven't made up my mind what I'm going to do."

The office is being contested only by Reginald Moore of Picton.

Mayor McFarland's statement was in reply to a question from the floor by William March of Picton.

"I have a forward, and a few things, which they would go to Ottawa within the year."

"If this plan works out, we will have the best connections with the United States that anybody ever had."

"It has been the best thing that ever happened in this county."

He referred to a firm which has been started in the county, a European one, which possibly establish some form of food processing plant in the county and would employ 200 people.

Finally he said that a $75 million dollar expansion plan is being considered at the present time.

He pointed out that in the last 19 years during which he was mayor, $60 million worth of industry has been attracted to the Picton area.

In Hallowell, George V. Thomas May was also nominated for mayor.

Robert Fox, Douglas Clark, and William West were nominated to the County Board of Education.

Eight Nominated

Trenton Council Contest Keen

TRENTON: The race for the three open positions on Trenton council could become pretty crowded in the streets as last night eight men were nominated and five of these have said they will be running.

The incumbents, Councillors Edward Todd, Paul Tripp and Duncan McDonald have said previously that they will not for another two year term.

Charles Hixon, currently Commissioner of the Public Utilities Commission, said he will be seeking a council seat.

Frank Breen, the new PUC position by acclamation, said he will be seeking a council seat.

It seems quite likely that there will be a municipal election in the Township of Trenton on Dec. 2.

At the town meeting last night at the township hall in Canton, saw a large turnout of Thurlow electors.

Reeve Horace Casey and deputy reeve Gordon Frye were returned to their respective positions by acclamation.

Both men have served as reeve and deputy reeve respectively since April of the year when Thurlow's reeve at that time, Carl Thompson, stepped down.

Douglas Whitley, who was nominated for council, with draw as he was also nominated for one of the two seats at-large Trenton on the Hastings Road. He has not yet said if he will be running for the board seat.

If the two nominees qualify, there will be seven persons after the three available council seats. What was thought to be a routine election has surprised everyone and put more nominees into the picture than expected.

Also on the ballot going to the Trenton voters on Dec. 2 will be three questions which will decide the fate of the old post office.

Legislature Session, Opening Today, Is, Expected to Be Long

TORONTO (CP) — The second session of Ontario's 28th legislature was under way today with a speech from the throne expected to herald one of the longest and hottest debates in provincial history.

It was expected that Lt.-Gov. Roy MacLachlan will provide the first official reaction by the Ontario government to a firm bid by Ottawa two weeks ago to place for a greater provincial role in the federal tax dollar.

It will also make reference to government plans to reform Ontario's present tax system, possibly along lines recommended by the Ontario commission on taxation and a select legislative committee, headed by John Wiley, recently appointed provincial revenue minister.

Other legislative measures expected to be announced in the throne speech include a new corporations act, a new law on corporations, changes in Ontario's liquor laws and regulations and an act governing occupational intervention.

Most of the legislature's time should be spent on the traditional throne speech debate although the government may hold a separate debate on the new law on corporations, changes in Ontario's liquor laws and regulations and an act governing occupational intervention.

The 1984 session, which began on Nov. 14, ended on Dec. 10, but little enough with the presence in the chamber of the largest opposition contingent in 25 years. But most of the legislation was not controversial.

House standings will be unchanged with 59 Conservatives, 18 Liberals and 30 New Democrats for a total of 107 members.

Most newcomers elected in October 1983 will be in the opposition and probably more notorious for loquacity.

An indication was the release of statements Monday by two of the newcomers.

Morton Shulman (NDP—Toronto High Park) and Tim Reid (Liberal—Scarborough) announced he had introduced a bill to give 17 private members' bills the status of private members' bills.

The bill would require the House of the Highway Traffic Act to a code of ethics to be followed by MPPs.

Mr. Reid said he will propose a universities commission act which would remove abolition of the present university affairs department in favor of a commission to administer government for the province's universities.

Notice of intention to introduce bills has also been served by four veteran Liberals, Deputy Leader Vernon Singer, George Ben (Toronto-Humber), Bill Goss (Scarborough—Humber), and Bill Sargent (Gerrard-Steeles).

Subject matter ranges from expropriation procedures and consumer protection to dog books for car owners.

Money matters, however, are certain to dominate the session and possibly an increase in the provincial sales tax rate to bring it to the equivalent of 33 per cent of federal income taxes instead of the current 32 per cent.

Renwick Still Deputy Leader

TORONTO (CP) — James Renwick, who said during the weekend he would resign as deputy leader of the Ontario New Democratic Party after losing a bid for the leadership, was unanimously endorsed by his party caucus Monday to remain in office.

A party spokesman said the caucus, meeting on the eve of the full session of the legislature, "unanimously confirmed" Mr. Renwick's position as deputy leader in the party.

The spokesman said there was no change in the party's executive.

Election Law Changes Altered

TORONTO (CP) — Suggested changes for a new provincial election act were criticized Monday by Liberal Vernon Singer, member of the legislature for Toronto-Danforth.

Mr. Singer said if the commission for a proposed new act was submitted as a working paper for the legislature's select committee on election law, it was presented by committee committee D. D. Diglick and Rodrick Lewis, Ontario's chief election officer, who said it made only minor changes in existing laws and was intended as a stop-gap measure.

Mr. Singer said if the commission for a proposed new act, with only minor changes, it might be interpreted as indicating that the act did not wait further changes.

More Persons Now Seek Seats As Trustees on Larger Boards

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Nominations held Monday by 73 of Ontario's district school boards indicated that more persons than in previous years were competing for seats on both public and separate school boards.

In Chatham, returns showed that Lincoln County board of education fielded 10 candidates for 18 public school seats and 25 were nominated for 16 separate school seats.

A spokesman said this pattern differed from 1966, when members in five of six Chatham schools were in force of 30. Candidates for wards were expected by acclamation.

Under the previous system, board members were paid $50 a month, in Lincoln County, he said. "But since nomination results from across the province are incomplete, the Hastings County board of education in Belleville nominated 38 persons for 18 public school seats and five were nominated for 16 separate school seats.

In the Chatham area, 17 persons were nominated for six public school seats on the Hastings County board, with 11 nominees for five separate school seats.

The board expected to announce a broadening of the provincial sales tax base to include a wide range of services and possibly an increase in the provincial sales tax rate to bring it to the equivalent of 33 per cent of federal income taxes instead of the current 32 per cent.

New York Teachers Return To Jobs as Strike Is Ended

NEW YORK (AP) — The city's 110,000 public school children return to their classrooms today after a prolonged and bitter teachers' strike that cost some youngsters seven weeks of classes.

Members of the United Federation of Teachers agreed to return to work Monday after a three-month strike.

It was the third time since the strike began Sept. 9 that the predominantly white, 5,000 member teachers' union had returned to work.

Two earlier settlements broke down and the walkout was renewed.

Upward word of the union's ratification, state trustees officially took over the union's ratification.

Canada Leads Plea For Missile Talks

UNITED NATIONS (CP) — A "major number of countries" have called in the United Nations for early talks between the Soviet Union and the United States on limitation of strategic weapons—nuclear, intercontinental ballistic missiles, and anti-ballistic missiles.

The U.S. was to speak on the issue today in the General Assembly's monthly session.

Mr. Gen. E. L. M. Burns, Canada's disarmament expert, called on the assembly in the first day of the debate. Since then he has been speaking on the issue.

How come we "quiet Canadians" are the world's talking-est telephone users?

Could be that Canadians have an eye for a bargain.

For the 14th year in succession, Canadians have led the world in telephone calls per person. Why? One reason is that Canadians have company make conversation inexpensive... and easy. In Canada, a flat residential rate covers long distance calls in most other countries, and call over a monthly maximum is charged separately. And the number of "work hours" it takes to pay for a residence telephone for one month is lower in Canada than anywhere else in the world. In Bell Canada territory, a man employed in the manufacturing industry works an average of 2.1 "work hours" to pay for monthly telephone service as against 2.5 in the U.S., 4.5 in Japan, 15.8 in Italy.

On Monday last week I gave you the recipe for Angel Biscuits in my cooking column. It is a simple refrigerator pizza dough. I thought I'd like to let you know how to use it. Watch for Pizza recipe using this refrigerator dough for the future. If you missed the Angel Biscuits recipe send me a 6 cent stamped self-addressed envelope and ten cents and we will mail it to you. I deliberately waited five days after I made and refrigerated the dough to see how well it would hold to the occasion. It rose fine.

PIZZA—(from refrigerator dough)—one huge "12" or two "6" pizzas.
Half Angel Biscuit refrigerator dough (Monday November 14)
1 teaspoon onion
One-third cup canned tomato paste
1/4 cup water

Dinner Menu

Baked Shrimp Bait with Noodles; Onions with Grated Cheese; Spinach, Stuffed and Sautéed; Baked Potato; Salad with French Dressing; Orange Layer Cake; Coffee.

1 1/2 teaspoons oil or butter
2 oz. fresh mushrooms scrubbed and sliced thinly longwise
1/4 cup onion chopped finely
6 or 8 sliced stuffed olives
1 lb. Mozzarella cheese sliced
1/2 lb. sliced Polish sausage
(slices cut in half)
1 tablespoon oil
grated Parmesan cheese —about 3 tablespoons
In a small bowl mix together the onion, salt, tomato paste and water. Press Angel Biscuit dough thinly on oiled 12" or two 9" or 10" pizza pans. Press and pat until it covers pan or pans and is slightly thicker at outside edge. Arrange alternately, half-slices of Polish sausage and Mozzarella cheese, all around edge, leaving a 6" or "8" at edge bare. Bake about 20 minutes over low heat in oil or butter. Arrange sautéed mushrooms attractively over center of dough. Fill the bare spaces with chopped green pepper and sliced olives. Sprinkle the tomato mixture, spreading it over all with back of table-spoon. All sprinkle generously with grated Parmesan cheese. Let rise about an hour or so (if you are in a hurry bake at once). Bake on bottom shelf of oven at 400 deg. F. for 15 minutes (to make a bottom crust). Then raise pizza to top shelf and bake here for 30 deg. F. for another 20

by Anne Adams

30 minutes longer or until top bubbles and is pale gold. Serve in pie shaped wedges. This amount will serve ten people. NOTE: If any of the Pizzas is leftover it reheats perfectly at 300 deg. F. for a second meal.

Biafra Short of Everything Except Bananas, Oranges, Faith

CP reporter John Best, back in Ottawa after 13 days in Nigeria and six in Biafra, in the following story gives his impressions of conditions in Biafra.

By JOHN BEST

OTTAWA (CP) — In Biafra there are shortages of just about everything except oranges and bananas. Electricity and running water are luxuries that only few can enjoy. Prices are sky high.

Despite those and other problems, Biafra is still a functioning administrative unit. Of all the shortages except for that of electricity, the most troublesome is the shortage of gasoline. It leads to what ordinarily would be regarded as the most ridiculous situation, here and there you see roadside gas stations with no gas.

The government on overseas press service has a fleet of cars and trucks, but they are all around. But they never go anywhere without a time-consuming search for gas.

The chief of the service is not being fancy when he tells foreign correspondents that on future trips they should try to bring two jerry cans of gasoline with them.

It would help if they also arranged a fuel of gasoline. There seems hardly a car on the road that doesn't require a push to get started.

As in any hardship situation, there are those who can't manage to continue living in the area. You see them driving through the bush with a fleet of cars and trucks, all looking well nourished.

There aren't many of those fortunate ones in proportion to Biafra's population, which has doubled in the last year or so in perhaps 100,000 with the influx of refugees. But there are enough to show that the civil war has left little equivalent destitute.

The black market price of gasoline is $100 a gallon. American gasoline fetches $10 a gallon. The Biafrans can't get it. So they buy it on the black market. But the Biafrans are not the only ones to suffer. The Biafrans are not the only ones to suffer. The Biafrans are not the only ones to suffer.

Polar Bears Kill Youth at Churchill

CHURCHILL, MAN. (CP) — Polar bears killed one youth and terrorized an adult couple in separate incidents near this Arctic port on the weekend.

Pauline Meeks, 19, of Great White River, Que., after a bear slashed his neck in Fort Churchill. It miles east of Hudson Bay, local government district administrator, and he was trapped in their cabin 11 miles south of here by a bear that broke through a glass glass window.

S. H. Ulrich of the National Research Council at Fort Churchill says there are about two dozen bears, many females with cubs, in the area this fall. Late freeze-up has kept them from Hudson Bay and resulted in the unusually high concentration.

Meeks, a student in a vocational school, apparently was following the bear with his binoculars when it attacked him. He fired one shot for the bear. The bear sat up and the cub killed it.

Mr. Ritchie said he got up Saturday morning to see his car and saw a bear as he opened the door. The bear turned later and crashed through a window.

Mr. Ritchie fought the bear with bludge and bolts until police arrived, fighting off it with several shots.

Winnipeg (CP) — A telephone call by a car dealer in Texas led to a murder charge against an Ontario man in a Manitoba slaying, RCMP reported Monday.

Manitoba proceedings are under way against Gregory C. Wright, 26, of Point Edward, a Sarnia suburb. He was arrested Sunday in Houston.

Strictly Personal Teen-Ager Proves A Point

By SYDNEY J. HARRIS

By a happy coincidence — from a columnist's point of view — after finishing yesterday's piece on teenagers, I went home and found a reporting conference of what I had been writing about.

My middle daughter had been home from school for two days with a bad cold. Arriving home, I went into her room to see how she was feeling; she was lying in darkness, and the inevitable record — player was spinning around and this time, she was listening to a Mozart divertimento.

Now, 90 per cent of the time when I get home, she is in her room with her record player in blasting away with a Beethoven record or some such food and plaintive best. But this time, when ill and alone, she voluntarily and unexpectedly put on a Mozart record. Needless to say this pleased me immensely.

There are two opposite mistakes that parents can make (and usually do make) in such matters. One can either take a negative approach and condemn modern music as "artificial" or they can take an appreciative "positive" approach.

Now, to being "positive" or "classical" music on the children. In both cases, they are being the arbiters of what is good and what isn't — and while this may sometimes be necessary in music, it often fails to work in matters of taste. In fact, it works backward.

What works best — at least, it has in my family — is permitting the children to play any records, or listen to any music, they care to; and, further, admitting that as far as this music (like the Beatles' album) are quite superior compositions of their sort.

At the same time, the children are "exposed" to serious music but it is not forced upon them, nor are they asked to make value judgments comparing Mozart with the Beatles. They simply live in a natural atmosphere where their father can enjoy the "Mozart" and also listen to the "Beatles."

So, if they are neither repressed for their domestic taste nor urged to listen to the "classics" (that word!), they will slowly and easily learn to move from one musical world to the other and back again, without thinking in terms of hard categories, as most people do, but simply choosing what they feel most like hearing at the time.

Nobody told my daughter to put on a Mozart record, and I don't even know she had one in her room. She gravitated to it because all people will do is the music that gives them the pleasure and not the music that gives them the pain.

Drury Under Fire for Government's Handling of Employees

OTTAWA (CP)—The Commons took on the appearance of a labor hour Monday with three NDP members presiding and Treasury Board President C. M. D. Lewis presiding.

Before Mr. Drury's 1980-81 spending estimates were approved at the end of the day's sitting, the NDP "court" had roared roundly for government handling of its employees under collective bargaining legislation.

David Lewis, NDP parliamentary leader and a noted labor lawyer, led the attack.

He said the treasury board, central agency for government expenditures and the employee voice in collective bargaining, had handled recent negotiations in an "increasingly bad" way, with last summer's three postal strike the most striking example.

He knew of nothing "more reprehensible on the part of an employer than the refusal for a period of months to make any monetary offer to the employees' side."

He understood the board had adopted the same position on other negotiations and public employees who new estimates would cost $72,000 of the 200,000 covered under the legislation.

"We become terribly upset about the situation,"

Stanley Knowles (NDP—Winnipeg North Centre) rose to tell the 180 or so NDP MPs the "bitter story" of the government's refusal to increase pension benefits to retired federal employees.

A joint parliamentary committee had recommended such increases in 1966. Mr. Drury had said since then he had asked when the pension rates are coming and been told they are under study.

Mr. Drury interpreted that the committee's study with the cabinet but does not want to raise false hopes. Mr. Knowles said there is $100,000,000 in the pension fund and the interest alone exceeds the total now paid out annually.

Harold Winch (NDP—Vancouver East) said recent pay increases granted to some 50,000 federal public employees and to an additional 100,000 members of the armed forces apparently will not be paid until January.

His concern was that these employees would have to pay the new two-per-cent social development tax next year on money they earned this year.

He asked Mr. Drury not to be "vague" by allowing this to happen.

The minister said the inquiries would be paid as soon as possible.

Mr. Lewis accused Mr. Drury and Prime Minister Trudeau of making public statements "during" out of negotiations declaring that "in their view the six per cent which was recommended by one of the consultants... was a proper and fair settlement."

Such a statement substantiated the negotiation process and destroyed meaningful collective bargaining.

Mr. Drury denied making such a statement. However, he thought it proper for the employer to say publicly how far he is prepared to go in negotiations.

Mr. Lewis had another bone to pick. The job of thousands of federal employees had been re-classified and as a result many had found their pay rates frozen.

This was done unilaterally by the treasury board, he said, in violation of the Public Service Act. What really bothered him was that those in frozen pay categories have also not been granted pay increases they would have received had the reclassification not taken place.

He also felt employee unions should have been consulted and consultation did not mean being told what was about to be done unilaterally. Mr. Drury had promised that the unions were "consulted" about the changes.

Earlier he told them to come to a vote if necessary.

Recommendations were allowed to "other" in view.

If the auditor-general was to play a more meaningful role, the recommendations from his office should be debated in the House. The government need not agree with them, but it should allow them to come to a vote if necessary.

MONTREAL (CP)—Police Director Jean Paul Gilbert Monday refused published reports that he has asked the police of Montreal to prepare a list of persons who should be barred from entering Canada to attend the Hemisphere Conference in Montreal.

The Nov. 20-Dec. 1 conference is expected to attract about 2,000 delegates, including trade unionists from Latin America and the United States.

The director described as "without any foundation whatsoever" published and broadcast reports that he would appeal to keep at least three of the delegates out of the country.

In his statement, Mr. Gilbert said no list of persons regarded as undesirable had been prepared.

PM Would Give Opposition Seats at Constitution Talks

OTTAWA (CP)—If the provinces agree, the federal government will reserve places at the federal-provincial constitutional conference for representatives of the opposition parties in the Commons, Prime Minister Trudeau said Monday.

Respect to the Commons to George Hines (CP—Prince Edward Island), he said he could not say whether the provincial government delegations would open similar positions for members of opposition parties in the various provincial legislatures.

The federal government's plan is to have places open at the Dec. 16-18 conference here for Commons opposition party members as it is observers, Mr. Trudeau said. There would be no provincial agenda.

John M. Reid (L. Kootenai River) asked whether the possibility of Northern Ontario and northern Quebec handing Mr. Trudeau said the agenda has been set already. Such a point might be discussed "some other year."

Canada May Raise NORAD Aid

OTTAWA (CP) — The federal government's foreign policy review includes such questions as whether to keep defence forces in or out of Canada's two major security alliances. Prime Minister Trudeau disclosed Tuesday that he told the Commons the review, begun last May, involves "what kind of defence policy we need, whether in or out of NATO, in or out of NORAD and so on."

The important aspect of the NORAD review is what Canada wants to put into it in the way of arms, he said. If it was decided to contribute practically nothing, the agreement would become defunct. But Canada might decide to increase its arms commitment to NORAD, he said.

Canada renewed the NORAD pact with the U.S. last spring for a five-year term. The Canada commitment included three Voodoo interceptor squadrons and two Bomarc missile squadrons, both a defence against bombers. Either Canada or the U.S. has the right to withdraw from the defence pact on a year's notice. But Mr. Trudeau gave no indication of Canada's course. He told one questioner that Canada had not proposed a NORAD review to the U.S. government.

To a question about the prospect of stationing additional U.S. troops on Canadian soil if the U.S. arms commitment to NORAD is reduced, Mr. Trudeau replied: "Of course it is a possibility, but I would not suggest it is a likelihood."

Mr. Trudeau also said to the best of his recollection the American light and ballistic missile system would not come under NORAD, which Canada policy administrators with the U.S. for the defence of North America.

He also said there had been "no difficulties whatsoever" with the U.S. in interpreting the NORAD agreement to allow for anti-ballistic missile defence capability.

Months ago, Mr. Trudeau had indicated in public that he wished to emphasize North American defence. And there have been hints in Ottawa circles about a possible reduction in Canada's NATO commitment in Europe, comprising a 5,000-man land brigade and an air division.

From his Tuesday Commons comments, observers could not detect any real confirmation or change in this speech.

Hong Kong Flu Not Here—Yet

By RARLY GRILLS
Staff Reporter

Hong Kong influenza isn't here—yet.

At least, as far as doctors here are concerned. Dr. John Hartt says it takes six weeks for influenza micro-organisms to be tested and identified. So far these tests have not been completed on any of the many cases of influenza reported here. At present symptoms of these cases seem no different from the routine North American type of flu.

The type of influenza is a threat only to persons already chronically ill. An epidemic of Hong Kong influenza has been predicted by health officials on this continent. Dr. William H. Stewart, U.S. Surgeon-General, says Hong Kong flu cases to date have been mild, but a lot of people will still spend two or three days in bed with the disease this winter.

In an interview at Washington Dr. Stewart said the new flu appears free of complications or after-effects, even though it still doesn't feel up to par.

"It's no more serious than ordinary influenza," Stewart said persons in good health and under 60 years of age won't even need the vaccine developed to ward off the disease.

But the surgeon-general said he expects the disease to reach epidemic proportions. The Hong Kong strain is different than the 1957 epidemic that drove flu deaths 100,000 above normal for the year in the U.S.

Mecklenburg and Dohme employees use special hypodermic syringes to inoculate eggs with influenza virus. Millions of fertile eggs are required to make the chick embryos on which the deadly virus strain breeds. Tuesday the U.S. government approved the first batch of Hong Kong influenza vaccine relating it to hospitals, doctors and pharmacies. (AP Photo)

Bonn's Problem: Mark Too Strong

BULLETIN

OTTAWA (CP) — Finance Minister Edgar Benson flew to West Germany at short notice Tuesday night for an emergency meeting in Bonn connected with the European currency crisis.

The minister was accompanied by Louis Rasmussen, governor of the Bank of Canada.

BONN (Reuters) — Prosperous West Germany's wailing today to save itself after its government would do to take the steps out of its money economy by not accepting a pledge not to boost the value of the mark by upward revaluation.

The fact of the falling French franc, and possibly other European currencies, would have on West Germany's success in curbing its runaway prosperity.

The West German government announced Monday night that it would not revalue the mark, but would instead make immediate imports and export tax measures through parliament to reduce the country's massive export surplus and encourage imports.

Liquor Inquiry Ordered

QUEBEC (CP) — A three-man royal commission will inquire into allegations of illicit liquor sales during the current strike of Quebec Liquor Board employees and investigate the possibility of handing over liquor sales to private enterprise.

The double-barrelled inquiry was announced Tuesday by Premier Jean-Jacques Bertrand following charges by Opposition Leader Jean Lesage that the liquor board has co-operated in illegal sales of liquor since the strike began June 26.

The commission will investigate liquor contraband in Quebec province since Jan. 1, 1964, covering a five-month strike of liquor board employees in late 1964 and early 1965 when Mr. Lesage's Liberal party was in power.

"Named commission chairman is Judge Lucien Thériault of St. Jerome provincial court. The two commissioners are Marcel Beaudet, a prominent Quebec lawyer, and Claude Dubeau, City Clerk, economist at the University of Montreal."

The premier told the legislative assembly that the inquiry continues into the seizure of a suburban Van Nuys, Nov. 8 and 9 more than 1,500 bottles of liquor from Melchers Distilleries Ltd.

Centrifuge Drags Bullet From Vital Area of Brain

SUNNYVALE, Calif. (AP) — A centrifuge, normally used in space research was employed Tuesday to repulsion a bullet lodged in the brain of a soldier.

James Barrios, 61, was strapped into the machine at the University of California at Los Angeles and Space Administration laboratory here and subjected to 40 g's.

The bullet had moved into a critical area, the third ventricle, and it was hoped to move it by centrifugal force into a soft tissue area where it would either fly harmlessly or be removed by surgery with less risk. Although doctors were not able to move it in the soft tissue area, they did get it back into its original position in a milligram vein.

The patient showed no adverse effects from his 20-second spin.

The brain, which was last removed, was removed, but most of the 25-caliber bullet remained in an area where surgery was considered risky.

Really Optimistic—Potter

Spending Review Before Tax Hike, Throne Promise

TORONTO — Conservative Dr. R. T. Potter — often an outspoken critic of his own government party — is optimistic about yesterday's throne speech.

The Queen's MPP is planning hopes for action on Conservative initiatives to lighten the pendulous controls on all Ontario government departments.

Among the main themes of the speech, said Dr. Potter, were:

1) Tighter control of provincial power, profits, thus,

2) Binding government closer to the people by establishing more local representative institutions.

(3) Review of government activities before any tax increases are considered.

Parliamentary speech and I've been assured by Premier Robert Harris that they may say, said Dr. Potter.

"I've heard they are going to be so close in their statement."

Only by keeping tightness on spending can tax increases be kept to a minimum," warned Dr. Potter.

"I'm really optimistic in spending much you're not prepared to sit back and say everything's fine," said Dr. Potter. "But I don't think the throne speech is a good start."

Indications were the government meant to exert more control over its spending for years had been dominated by the private sector, said Dr. Potter.

Education was one department needing serious help, he said, by the fast expanding health services. It will be in five years.

"I think this one department where there can be much higher control than there is today," said Dr. Potter. "I think it does arise there is greater expenditure than is necessary."

While the prime minister prepares leading decisions on the budget, Queen's Park party "the big shot."

However, the government will have "a very dim view of unnecessary spending."

Prime Minister, Dr. Potter felt, the government intends to single out one department.

Substituted it of a concent sales tax increase were "just cosmetic," Dr. Potter said.

"There's no suggestion at all as to what's going to happen in the budget," he said.

"Before we consider any increase we'll complete our review of possible budgetary changes."

Dr. Potter said, was the one thing he saw the throne speech was vague on budgetary matters.

"I don't know but at this time there could be anything specific. There's so much that has to be reviewed."

Dr. Potter called this year's throne speech a "happy reaction from the MPP."

"Those days are all over," members of the Belleville French Club were told last night by Maurice Leclerc, who has been selling the French Canadian market for the past 12 years.

In discussing the French-English problem, Mr. Leclerc pointed out various inequities between Quebec and the rest of Canada.

However, at the same time he was stressing differences, he was also emphasizing the similarities between the two cultures and that all Canadians have to get along.

"Instead of 12 million people selling Canada, 20 million people selling America," he said.

With six million French Canadians and 70 per cent of them are still struggling to get to the top, he said, it is not fair to ask them to be like the rest of the country.

Free order will be $50,000. An increase of one per cent would yield something like an additional $100,000 in the 1969-70 fiscal year.

Province Minister Robert Harris said in a speech in London in September that any significant reductions in spending must affect education, health and welfare.

He said the speech indicated that any significant reductions in spending must affect education, health and welfare.

The key word as far as most government programs is a word concerned seemed to be "consolidation."

There was no indication of expanded spending.

The throne speech said the government would seek to limit taxation to a minimum by a reduction in rates and to reduce rates and increase efficiency.

The program would apply both to spending directly controlled by the province and to all programs financed in whole, or in part, by province taxpayers had administered by other public authorities.

Maximum efficiency would be required of municipalities, boards of education, universities, colleges, Crown corporations and other bodies under government.

However, "All current programs that contribute to the public good will be continued and not seriously affected by cuts."

Liberal Leader Robert Harris said in a statement that the province is "lacking in any sense of urgency" on taxation matters.

"If we face a tax emergency," he said, "we will be forced to raise taxes."

He said the province would not be forced to raise taxes.

The provincial budget normal is presented in February.

Donald MacDonald, leader of the Ontario Conservative Party, said the speech "has revealed no guidelines to policy."

He said it "impossible to make any meaningful comment" on the document because it "was even more vacuous than its predecessor."

The throne speech indicated a slap at the federal government for making "this constructive response" to Ontario's attempt to get a larger share of personal income taxes.

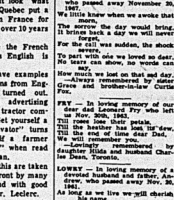

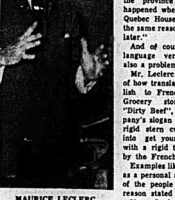

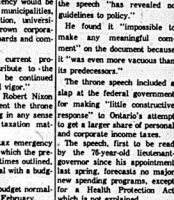

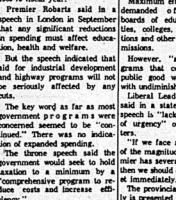

The speech, first to be read by the minister of finance, said the province has its responsibilities to fulfill, forecasts a major health program, except for a Health Protection Act which is not explained.

Mr. Leclerc told the 100 men present that they could not expect a "big budget" to solve the problem.

"It's all a misunderstanding," said Mr. Leclerc, "and that the province has its responsibilities to fulfill, forecasts a major health program, except for a Health Protection Act which is not explained."

Successful Living

A Teacher Is Courage, Sympathy and Patience.

By DORIS CLARK

With a teacher in American Park and Home Affairs, Mrs. Loderie Cherno.

To a child thrust into a strange world, a good teacher is the best thing that can possibly happen.

A teacher is Courage with plenty in his pocket. Sympathy struggling with a sword, and Patience with papers to grade.

Teachers are incorrigible, independent, loquacious, invincible, and nearly incurable.

A teacher really does not mind scolding, scolding, scolding. Neither does she distinguish before her pupils, excuses, parents who, little boys about little girls who, little girls who.

A teacher is somebody who likes somebody else's children — and still has enough strength left to go to the PTA meeting.

Thank Heaven for teachers. (Copyright by permission.)

Dear Doris: I am a widow of 46 and have a divorced man, 38. He has been to me three times from a city 30 miles away, from a city I have not seen since we have not been quite a year, as he treated me very roughly and I am not a very good mother.

He has suggested I take my remaining one week's holiday and make a trip to his city, but I don't feel it is the right thing to do and want your say on it. He has family there — a son and daughter, both married.

Should I feel shoulder all the expense for these people? Or what about meeting him at a halfway point?

Dear Doris: I wrote to you about three years ago concerning a grandchild and her mother. I want to say "Thank" with all my heart. I did keep on going to see her even though she didn't bring the little one to see me, and still hasn't. But the love she and her mother show for me takes care of the little hurt of not having her visit me. I can't see why you can't be like her.

The daughter-in-law remarried two years ago this month, and three weeks after she called and said I owed them a visit. I have been going ever since, the calls if it gives me long and says it is time to see my grandchild.

Credit Buying Can Be Expensive

DEAR ANN LANDERS: This is for Mrs. Merry-Go-Round, the woman who complained because her young husband were new in town and couldn't pay any credit. You should be complaining, girl, you should be thankful.

We married young, too, and our problem was too much credit. Every place we went we found people eager to sell us whatever we wanted — on time. The temptation to buy low and pay later was more than we could resist.

After two years of married life we were so hopelessly in debt that our paychecks were spent before we got them.

Now, every business nearly ruined our marriage. Every week we fought over who should get paid first. We always ended up blaming each other for the mess we were in.

In desperation we went to see a small, successful business. He showed us in black and white how expensive credit buying can be. In some cases the "carrying charges" added as much as an additional 50 per cent to the purchase price.

So please, Ann, when people write and ask how to get out of a mess, tell them to wait until they can pay cash. It's a lot easier on the nerves. — ELLA PAYTON

DEAR STILL: Some credit buying makes sense — such as the right kind of mortgage on a house — but your uncle's counsel contains much truth and is well worth listening to.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Last night my boyfriend and I had dinner at a small place which serves wonderful Italian food. He showed us in black and white how expensive credit buying can be. In some cases the "carrying charges" added as much as an additional 50 per cent to the purchase price.

Pork Now Down in Price

By MARY MOORE

"Thank goodness something came down in price!" I picked up my meat when I heard a wife say this to her husband, both huddled over the pork section of the meat counter. When they had made their selection of a pork loin I moved in and found it was 60 cents per pound. I promptly selected one, asking the butcher to be sure all of the spine bones had been separated with his cleaver, for easy carving.

So for Sunday dinner we had:

GLAZED PORK LOIN WITH GINGERED BANANAS

4 or 5 lb. joint of pork
1 to 1 1/2 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon ginger
1 tablespoon liquid honey

1 teaspoon any sauce
6 medium sliced bananas (preferably imported)

2 tablespoons lemon juice
1 cup corn syrup
2 tablespoons grated orange or lemon rind (for bottled)

1 teaspoon ginger (second amount)

With your finger tips rub the salt and ginger (first amount) on each surface of pork loin and place on rack in shallow pan. Roast uncovered at 325 deg. F. until well done — about 2 1/2 hours or, if using meat thermometer, until internal temperature, using 1 deg. F. Complete honey and any sauce, and during roasting.

Mother: "Jackie is such a happy child. We never punish him because we love him so much. I'll admit he's pretty frisky though."

Children need to be corrected and controlled if they are to learn appropriate behavior. Discipline does not always mean punishment.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Last night my boyfriend and I had dinner at a small place which serves wonderful Italian food. He showed us in black and white how expensive credit buying can be. In some cases the "carrying charges" added as much as an additional 50 per cent to the purchase price.

So please, Ann, when people write and ask how to get out of a mess, tell them to wait until they can pay cash. It's a lot easier on the nerves. — ELLA PAYTON

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Last night my boyfriend and I had dinner at a small place which serves wonderful Italian food. He showed us in black and white how expensive credit buying can be. In some cases the "carrying charges" added as much as an additional 50 per cent to the purchase price.

So please, Ann, when people write and ask how to get out of a mess, tell them to wait until they can pay cash. It's a lot easier on the nerves. — ELLA PAYTON

Questions and Answers On Highway Travel

Ontario Motor League
Eastern Ontario Club

QUESTION: What date is the speed limit on Highway 401 being revised to 70 mph?
ANSWER: The new 70 mile an hour speed limit will take effect on Highway 401 and 404 on Nov. 15. The new speed limit applies to passenger cars and motorcycles, replacing the present 60 mph limit. The speed limit for trucks and buses remains at 60 mph.
QUESTION: When are we allowed to get our student more time in Ontario, and when must we take them out?
ANSWER: They may be put on Oct. 1, but they must be removed before April 30.

New Plant To Locate In Nanapanee

NANAPANEE—Canon Limited, Electrical Division will construct a $2 million plant at Nanapanee for the manufacture of fractional horsepower motors.
Canon, through its Electrical Division, manufactures a full range of motor sizes from 1/16 to 1/2 horsepower up to 3,000 horsepower at Lacrosse, Quebec. The Nanapanee plant will provide additional production facilities for the fractional horsepower plant.
Construction of the 64,000 square foot plant on a twelve acre site is expected to commence in December. It is scheduled to be in operation during the third quarter of 1961, and will provide employment of between 100 to 120 persons.
Canon produces a diversified range of capital goods through eight divisions and also subsidiary companies. Establishment of the Nanapanee plant will bring the total number of Canon plants to 24, of which two are located in the United States.
Negotiations have been going on for several months, and the scheme was officially announced by the provincial development commission.
The Canon Company has granted an interest-free loan of $500,000 by the Ontario Development Corporation. This is to be used toward the development of the plant. The plant will be built on the east side of Highway 41 in the north-west section of land on land purchased from Clarence A. Milligan. The reaction to the scheme is one of enthusiasm in the words of one citizen, "It's the best news I've heard in years."

Bloomfield Man Buys Holsteins

A well known Prince Edward Islander, Mr. Frank Hild of Kilmorie Farm, has purchased three Holstein heifers from the Oak Ridge herd of R. R. Dennis, Toronto, at the Ontario Dairy Sale last week.
The sale took place at the Hays Sales Arena at Guelph, where the heifers were sold at $275 each. The high price for a female was $250. A record of 2,000 attended the sale.
The three heifers from the Oak Ridge herd will be added to the Hild herd at Kilmorie at Bloomfield.

House Approves Tariff-cutting Resolutions

OTTAWA (CP)—Parliament moved Canada closer Tuesday to implementation of the Kennedy Round agreements on international trade and tariffs, but a Saskatchewan MP said the agreements are of doubtful benefit to Prairie farmers.
"If there are benefits, they have yet to be shown," Al Glover (COP-Saskatoon-Biggar) said during Commons debate on tariff reductions arising from the Kennedy Round.
But the resolutions were passed without dissent and the government immediately introduced legislation to implement its new tariff schedule by Jan. 1.

New international agreements on trade and tariffs were concluded recently in Geneva after several years of haggling known as the Kennedy Round because of the initials imposed given by the late U.S. President.
Mr. Glover said Canada apparently moved into this haggling at the insistence of the United States.
"No one sooner was that agreement negotiated than the United States cut the tariff, price, and Canada encountered one of the toughest sales periods in a good many years.

Another drawback was that the Soviet Union, a participant in the old international wheat agreement, wasn't in the Kennedy Round and therefore isn't bound by the terms of the new grain arrangement.
Mr. Glover said Prairie farmers observe a statement from Trade Minister Jean-Luc Piquet "telling them where the agreement, reached as a result of the Kennedy Round negotiations, is taking us."
From tariffs, the Commons turned to the revised estimates of the public works department for the current fiscal year.

Two Prince Edward Island MPs, J. Angus MacLean (PC-PEI-Hillsborough) and Health Minister (PC-PEI-Hillsborough), urged the government to make up its mind to proceed with the program coming between New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island, promised by former prime minister Lester Pearson in 1960.
Mr. MacLean said Prime Minister Trudeau's deadline for a statement on the stalled project, early November, has come and gone.

He defended NDP (NDP-Vancouver East) said foreign would be a novelty in a Liberal administration. The government was cutting taxpayers millions of dollars through lack of planning.
Vancouver had a new international airport, for example, but its access roads were hopelessly inadequate. One of these roads included a lift bridge that sometimes jammed.
He also cited the dredging of an inner harbor at Vancouver, which he said was being done in three stages instead of all at once.
However, he knows the name of the riding member. He had, in fact, asked "where the hell the minister was" who might reply to the question.
The precise wording of Mr. Trudeau's original stage-wise "where the hell" comment is officially dead. It did not appear in Hansard, the official record of debate, although it was heard around the chamber.

The Senate, meanwhile, passed a bill that would permit the sale and advertising of contraceptive devices, forbidden now by the Criminal Code. The bill, which also contains amendments to the Food and Drugs Act and the Narcotics Control Act, now goes to the Commons.
Contraceptives would still be subject to federal regulations on advertising and sale, however.
Senator M. M. Hollett (PC-New Brunswick) had to have the contraceptive provisions removed from the bill, but his amendment was beaten 41 to 21.
Among those who supported him was Senator Edgar Fournier (PC-New Brunswick) who said: "I am sure that if this bill is passed in its present form, contraceptives will be in the pockets of our school children within a few months."
In the Commons debate on the International Resolutions, Thompson (PC-Saskatoon, Saskatchewan) and Edmund (Bourne) said Quebec's textile and shoe industries face serious difficulties from foreign competition unless protective measures are taken. Mr. Bourne described the textile industry's position as "alarming."

Not 'Who the Hell?' But Where?

OTTAWA (CP)—Prime Minister Trudeau says he knows the name of the Liberal MP for Burnaby-Seymour.
The British Columbia riding cropped up during the Commons agenda period Monday. Mr. Trudeau then quoted Mr. Trudeau as saying:
"Who the hell is the member for Burnaby-Seymour?"
The member is Ray Munn, the former B.C. Liberal leader, who defeated NDP Lester T. C. Douglas in the June 27, 1958 election.

Mr. Trudeau got an opportunity to clarify things Tuesday when George Hines (PC-Tyee Edward-Hastings) asked the prime minister if he had received a telegram from Mr. Trudeau's Liberal association protesting Mr. Trudeau's ignorance.
Mr. Trudeau said no such telegram was received and,

Three San Francisco Policemen Wounded in Battling Negroes

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Mayor Joseph L. Alioto called for an investigation of the Black Panthers organization following a gun battle in which three policemen were wounded, two critically. Three Negroes were arrested.

The shooting Tuesday erupted within 100 yards of a police station when two circulating patrolmen stopped a patrol truck minutes after a service station hold-up.

Police said Sgt. Robert Flynn, 31, was shot in the groin while questioning the driver of the van, which had "Black Panther" and "Black Community News Service" painted on the side.

"He had the driver with his hands on the side of the truck when someone inside the front seat shot him," said John Palen, a fireman at a station directly across the street.

Leon, Dermott Credon, 46, was shot in the chest as he stepped out of the patrol car, revolver in hand, police said.

Alioto called Tuesday night for a grand jury investigation "into any organization which advocates shooting of policemen and to which any of the defendants belong."

Credon and Flynn remained in critical condition today.

Three officers were in a car which answered an emergency call from Credon.

Leon, 36, O'Mahoney said: "I saw three men pour out of the van and I ordered them to halt, but they fired at me and ran into an alleyway next to a church."

O'Mahoney was wounded in the head, but said the three came out of the church with their hands up after he fired three warning shots.

"Five men in the back of the truck started to get out and I ordered them with my gun and ordered them back in and looked them in," said officer John Harbin.

Those arrested included Ray Lewis, 26, of San Francisco, editor of the Black Panther, the militant Negro group's publication.

Others were listed as Wilford Holley, 30, of Oakland, a frequent contributor to the paper; William Brown, 27, a Black Panther captain for Oakland; and Sam Nefzer, age unavailable; John Bowman, 31, Lamesa, Missouri; H. H. Hill, 37; and Richard Brown, 27, of San Francisco.

Samaritans Like Them Young

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP) — Standing fortisely beside an automobile stalled just off the Pacific Coast Highway on different days were a shapely lass of 16 in a mid-dress and a grandmotherly type of 75.

It was a last of who does best among ladies in distress.

Within three minutes after attractive Tempe Jean took her position beside the car, the first of a parade of males stopped to try to rescue her.

Each time the scene was replayed at a different location, she had an offer of assistance within three minutes.

But 17 minutes went by before the first good Samaritan stopped for the older birthdate, Ella B. Gooden.

U.S. Rejects Immediate Talks On Limiting Missiles

UNITED NATIONS (CP) — The United States Tuesday turned a cold shoulder on talks for immediate Moscow-Washington talks on limiting strategic missiles and a hot blast on the Soviet Union for the August invasion of Czechoslovakia.

It made it clear that the rejection was because of the invasion.

The Soviet Union and Czechoslovakia, in effect, told the U.S. to mind its own business.

Czechoslovakia came up in two speeches delivered by U.S. delegates to UN committees.

William C. Foster, U.S. disarmament negotiator, rejected the calls for negotiations on and ballistic missiles and intercontinental missiles in the political committee.

He said that the U.S. and the Soviets had agreed July 1 to talks limiting these weapons, then added "you are also aware that events intervened which forced a postponement of these talks."

A U.S. spokesman said later that the U.S. would like to hold such talks when the right time comes. But he left open when such a time would arrive.

Canada has been among several non-nuclear countries that have called for such negotiations.

Foster also praised the nuclear non-proliferation treaty that seeks to prevent the spread of nuclear weapons to countries that do not now possess them.

Eighty countries have signed the treaty but only three have ratified it. Foster restrictions are necessary before it becomes effective.

The U.S. Senate has held up ratification because of the Czechoslovak crisis. Canada has urged more countries to sign.

Senator John Sherman Cooper of the U.S. said in another debate that the invasion of Czechoslovakia violated international law. He was speaking before the legal committee which is discussing the definition of aggression.

The consideration is at the instigation of the Soviet Union. Cooper said there is no visible evidence that the planners of the invasion of Czechoslovakia would follow any new definition of aggression.

They had ignored the definitions clearly outlined in the UN charter.

Russia's Y. A. Ostrovsky accused the U.S. of attempting to "heat up the atmosphere" to "hasten the progress of the committee. He said that the U.S. had always objected to defining aggression and that the U.S. was guilty of aggression on several continents and of subversion against the Soviet Union and other Communist states.

He warned that "two men will ever be permitted to wrest one look from the socialist cannon wealth."

A Czechoslovak spokesman said that the U.S. should stick to the purpose of the committee meeting dealing in a "constructive manner" with the definition of aggression.

Meanwhile, Canada, Britain and eight other countries have joined in a resolution that would ask Secretary-General U. Thant to prepare a report on the dangers of chemical and bacteriological weapons.

In other business, Communist China once again was denied a seat in the UN.

By a vote of 38 against, 44 for and 23 abstentions, the General Assembly for the eighth straight time rejected an Albanian-led resolution that would have sent the Peking regime and unrepentant Nationalist China.

Canada abstained from that vote and, in a change of past policy, also abstained in an Italian resolution that would have sent the question of admission of the Communists to a committee.

The Italian resolution was defeated by a vote of 30 for, 67 against and 27 abstentions.

McFarland Challenged --18 Years in Office

PICTON (Globe) — A 45-year-old grandfather of five who is contesting the mayor's say is that "definitely doing a lot of support" since his declaration two days ago in the Picton, Nov. 18, municipal election.

But Reginald Moore is challenging a legend as much as he is upholding a mayor. Mayor Harvey McFarland has held his office for 18 years — possibly a record in recent Ontario municipal history.

It is the first time in seven years that Harvey McFarland's return to office has been contested. And, says Mr. Moore, seven re-elections is no good for business.

Mr. Moore said that he had yet to design a platform, but commented "we definitely need a change around here." Mr. Moore has never before run for public office for 18 years — possibly a record in Belleville in real estate in Picton.

Born in Nanawake, he moved to the Picton area when two years old.

Mr. Moore said the bulk of his support came from the working class. He referred to the Precious Life plant here, where of 1000 employees, for the last three months and commented the whole plant needs overhauling because they can't pay the minimum wage.

Randy Gray, part-time Plainfield area taxidermist, displays sample of his art. Phoenix is mounted in realistic action pose.

Hobby Has Big Payoff For Loyalist Student

It's always good to have a interesting hobby.

Especially if it is a hobby that can be developed into a full time occupation.

Such is the case with Randy Gray, a chemical technology student at Loyalist College, who for the past several years has been part-time taxidermist for his parents' "Plainfield Acres" farm north of Picton.

Always a lover of nature, Randy had actively interested in taxidermy as a result of a magazine advertisement offering a correspondence course.

And five examples of mounted fish, wild fowl, deer heads and bear rug skins to the proficiency which he has gained.

The youthful Plainfield taxidermist has recently completed mounting a 35-inch, 40-pound muskie caught at nearby O'Brien's Bay by Gordon Goudie of Belleville and also this year mounted a "tongue of almost equal proportions for a Pittsburgh, Penn. trophy."

The "Pliny Acres" farm along No. 35 highway is ideally located for the convenience of hunters and fishermen who want to have their prize catches mounted, according to Randy.

Although so far the taxidermy bit has been paid for a part-time effort for Randy he has had no trouble in making it work out well into a full-time occupation.

But he is not so sure that he wants to be a full-time professional taxidermist.

Prior to commencing classes at Loyalist, Randy worked for 18 months at the Research Laboratory in Belleville.

The three-year chemical technology course at Loyalist could lead eventually to a career in engineering or as a technologist in the mining industry, but Randy is still not sure.

In addition to his studies,

Randy is continuing with his taxidermy and also helps out with the farm work and even chores.

But it's not a case of all work with Randy — he still finds time for recreation.

"I even find time for the girls," he says.

Trees Source of Fires Chief Ted Poste Warns

With the coming of Christmas, hands in hand are fire safety warnings from fire departments throughout the country.

The Belleville Fire Department is no exception. According to fire chief Ted Poste, a happy Christmas can change in seconds to a family tragedy, unless sound precautions are taken against the threat of fire.

Mr. Poste has compiled a number of rules to follow during the Christmas season.

Christmas trees can be a source of fire if these rules are not obeyed.

Mr. Poste advises tree buyers if they buy a natural tree to be sure it is green and fresh.

"Keep the tree outdoors or in an unheated garage until you are ready to erect it in the house," he says.

Trenton Plant Expands

TRENTON — The S. H. Company of Trenton is the largest of 4,000 square feet, which will be a new medical engineering laboratory.

The firm has been located on Tavist Street for the past 12 years and has been manufacturing surgical orthopedic garments and appliances.

J. D. Coad Construction Company of Trenton is the contractor and the completion date has been set for Jan. 1.

The purpose of the laboratory is to attempt to solve some of the problems of the medical patients relating to patient convalescent aids, rehabilitation appliances and equipment.

Richard B. Finetree, president of S. H. Company and company, said "our company has been dedicated to assisting the medical profession in the field of convalescent aids for many years."

In fact this is our 40th anniversary in the medical support and appliance field."

Construction Under Way on Crane Plant New Approach Used in Crane Building

TRENTON — A concept of building design and construction that is gaining increasing acceptance by industry is being employed at a new plant site here for Crane Canada Ltd.

With the basic specifications of the plant decided, construction work is under way. Still to be completed, however, is much of the detailing, some dependent on final processing plans.

The total project is due to be completed in eight months. This accelerated programme is made both feasible and economical through the engagement of a single group in the design, fabrication and erection of the plant.

The Crane project is being handled by Dominion Bridge Company, which is currently involved in several other "package building" projects in Ontario. With its own in-house capacity for design, engineering, steel fabrication supply, fabrication and installation of plant equipment, and complete construction capability, the company is scheduled to finish the plant on a turn-key basis by March 1969.

"By overlapping design and detailing we are able to compress into an eight-month period work that would normally be expected to take 12 months," says Las Phillips, general manager of the division.

The client is in effect, dealing with a single source for design recommendations, detailing, supply of equipment, fabrication and construction of the plant.

"Considerable economies result from the reduction of construction time, and in being able to deal with such a diversified organization on one, the owner can be confident that he is employing proven capability."

The Crane plant will produce precast sanitary ware.

It will contain elaborate temperature and humidity control equipment for equipping product mixing and drying conditions.

The building, which will house both the plant and offices will cover 133,000 square feet. The lower portion of the outside walls will be of concrete blocks topped by metal cladding. Important features include large bays, with spans of up to 120 feet, extensive slip piling and special structural requirements to accommodate stress and storage, mixing and pressure loads.

Handling equipment includes light gauge monorail systems and trolleys. These will serve the casting shop, kiln and dryers.

In October, Dominion Bridge completed a 31,000 square foot plant for Allied Chemical Canada Ltd. in Belleville. As with the Crane plant, provision had to be made for stringent heating and air conditioning requirements at different stages of the manufacturing process.

The "package" construction system permitted production features to be detailed as fabrication and erection progressed.

have them restored," says Mr. Plumptre.

In particular, the Benjamin portraits — painted 13 years earlier than the others — was an impressive example of the artist in his youthful prime, said the expert.

The museum would have a little difficulty displaying the painting, even as an example of the artist's work, he added.

Restoration is expensive — estimated at $300 for the Benjamin portrait alone — and the museum is short on funds.

Four of the paintings have been directly spread up by museum workers, and three are on display in the museum. They are historical as well as artistic works, emphasizes Mrs. Plumptre.

Three early wardenes were major figures in the Hastings area, contributing much to the opening and growth of an important segment of Upper Canada.

The museum artistically retained the collection without ever knowing what it had.

When we realized what we had, we thought it better the paintings be kept together in a single collection."

Re-evaluation Carried Out

Paintings of Early Wardens Valuable

A series of paintings which for years hang unused in a Belleville public building has suddenly received a serious re-evaluation as valuable collection of "Canadians."

The paintings are portraits of early wardens of Hastings county, now in possession of the Hastings County Museum.

For years the six portraits hang side by side with photographs of their successors in Shire Hall. The hall was the county's only county building on Church Street, demolished when Hastings' municipal administration was moved to the new court house building in 1961.

The museum, obtained the paintings during disbursement of goods and chattels in the old building.

The portraits were the work of Kingston artist William Sawyer.

Sawyer, says Mary Plumptre, museum curator, now is coming into his own as a significant figure in Upper Canada and early Confederation art.

The first in the series is that of George Benjamin, painted in 1853 when Sawyer was visiting Belleville advertising for the county.

Benjamin, founder of the Intelligencer, was an influential figure of the time. The portrait was a family possession.

Then in 1854, county commission dismissed Sawyer to paint the wardens who succeeded Benjamin in office.

The Benjamin family donated their painting to the collection, unveiled at Shire Hall in 1971.

Among those participating in the ceremony was John A. Macdonald, then leading for a political comeback after his overthrow in the Pacific railroad scandal.

There the portraits remained for the next 10 years, a curiosity and the growing root of the importance of the collection was first emphasized recently when museum authorities called on experts to re-evaluate their entire art repository.

An official of the Royal Ontario Museum art gallery spotted the Sawyer works.

It was he who told that Sawyer was considered one of the best early portrait painters we had and that we should have them restored," says Mr. Plumptre.

In particular, the Benjamin portraits — painted 13 years earlier than the others — was an impressive example of the artist in his youthful prime, said the expert.

The museum would have a little difficulty displaying the painting, even as an example of the artist's work, he added.

Restoration is expensive — estimated at $300 for the Benjamin portrait alone — and the museum is short on funds.

Four of the paintings have been directly spread up by museum workers, and three are on display in the museum. They are historical as well

When we realized what we had, we thought it better the paintings be kept together in a single collection."

More Than Just Another Face

For years this portrait of prominent Upper Canadian politician George F. Johnson was just another face on a wall. Now the painting, along with others by a 19th-century artist has new significance for Hastings County Museum says curator Mary Plumptre.

Canada Will Know Purpose Before Any Sabres Are Sold

OTTAWA (CP) — The government will make a policy decision on whether surplus military planes will be sold to private individuals in Canada or abroad, Defence Production Minister Jim Jamieson said Tuesday in the Commons.

He added in reply to Alfred D. Hales (PC-Waterloo) and Edward Broadbent (NDP-ON-Quebec) that the government was not yet ready to make a decision on whether surplus military planes will be sold to private individuals in Canada or abroad.

have 1000) that if the government decides to permit such sales by Crown Assets Disposal Corp. it will be completely aware of the planes' ultimate destination and use.

Mr. Jamieson said 22 airframes of Sabre jet fighters and 25 OV-10A engines for the Sabres have been offered for sale.

Mr. Broadbent asked assurance that the purpose for which the private citizen and the principal for whom he is acting was to buy the Sabres will be made clear to the government before they are sold.

"I can give that assurance very categorically," Mr. Jamieson said.

Strictly Personal

People Act as Expected

By SYDNEY J. HARRIS

A day or so after his 13th birthday last week, one of my sons said, "You know, I don't feel any different now that I'm a teen-ager — and I really thought I'd change after my birthday."

In such ways does nature tend to imitate art. We have so dramatized the "teen-ager" in our culture that youngsters actually imagine they will turn from boys to 13-year-olds overnight. And, of course, if we expect them to, they will begin to act in accordance with our unexpressed expectations.

When I was a boy, there was no such thing as a "teen-ager" even the word — much less the concept — was hardly in existence. You stayed a boy until you became a man. If you ever did, now the youngsters have a foot in both worlds at the same time, which accounts for their preocious sense of balance. There is no doubt that, both biologically and psychologically, the teen years are difficult years, especially so in this era of blinding change. But city, young people have harder by adding to the normal difficulties of growing up their own apprehension about the children. And here the "theory of fulfilled expectations" is hard at work. In a mischievous way, this theory suggests that if you expect a person or group to behave in a certain way, that very expectation will push them further in the same direction. Treat a child as dumb, and he acts dumb; treat a minority group as contemptuous, and they act contemptuously; treat a husband with suspicion, and he begins to justify it. And so on.

Teen-agers in America are expected to adopt an internal pattern of behavior, and so many, if not most, figure that if they have the same they might as well have the same. They begin to act like what they read about, which is what is meant by the phrase "nature imitates art." All occupations, age-groups and sub-cultures adopt a "personality" that is more a matter of cultural role-playing than of personal self-expression.

The need for identity with a group is one of the most powerful and inalterable tendencies in the human organism; and as the sense of community and family solidarity has diminished in the industrial age, transferred this need for identity to their own peer group. Their nature has not changed, but their loyalties have. Adolescence is a time of added stress, but it need not be a time of estrangement or alienation from the family, and if the child's new needs are respected, and if the pre-adolescent relationship has been based on realistic affection, not sentimentality or on tyranny. The troubles too late to cure at 16 begin at 6, when parents fail to listen.

'Urban Renewal' Without Homes Is Hit

CALGARY (CP) — The federal housing task force Tuesday asked residents of urban renewal areas to be "relocated" by uncoordinated redevelopment of downtown areas "without any prior consultation with the community."

The brief asked who would take over the community's mutual aid to the elderly and immigrants if residents were dispersed.

Submissions by residents' committees from the Victoria Park and East Calgary neighborhoods said urban renewal had demolished low-rental housing without replacing it and had destroyed community ties.

Speculation Tax Urged

TORONTO (CP) — A Kitchener planning director Tuesday recommended that a federal capital gains tax on land speculation be used to assist lower and middle income families in obtaining housing.

In a brief to Transport Minister Paul Hellyer, William Thompson said said housing problems cannot be solved by creating new towns and urged that new ideas in construction be implemented regardless of lobbying by labor unions or manufacturers of materials.

Mr. Thompson said a recent housing conference in Toronto showed that one of Canada's greatest problems lies with municipal councils demanding constant federal and provincial aid instead of doing more on their own.

The Urban Renewal Act, presented by Calgary lawyer John M. Johnson, said urban renewal can acquire former residents into a high-rise "welcome ghetto."

A brief from the city of Calgary as a site for a centre to research housing and community planning and "carry out living experiments."

The proposed centre, to be controlled by a citizens board and largely supported by the federal government, would be free to experiment with building codes, construction standards, zoning and planning regulations. It would be independent of any federal, provincial or city department.

The city offered to provide "a substantial cash grant," make land available and relax rules on zoning or taxation rules as the program might need.

If you have a shopping problem, a suggestion or a complaint! Hilda wants to hear from you. Write to her at Loblaw Groceries Co., Limited, 645 Lake Shore Blvd. West, Toronto 26.

HILDA'S COLUMN

My mother says that Loblaw's isn't perfect yet. When she went shopping last week, the checkout counters were so crowded she waited ten minutes to pay for her groceries. I suggested that she should do her shopping earlier in the day when the store is less crowded. If she did her shopping before the "rush hour" starts, she would shop not only more pleasantly but more carefully.

On checking around, I found that Loblaw's staff of cashiers and parrelles have been carefully trained to do their jobs accurately and efficiently. We also have a number of new trainees on the job.

So, if you find yourself in a long line at the checkout counter, please do like my mother does:

- unload the basket with the prices facing you,
- put multiple purchases of the same product together, especially if there is a saving in the price,
- watch the cash register as a double check that your order is being rung up correctly, (cashiers are human, too, and sometimes forget that a particular item is on "special"),
- smile back when the cashier says, "thank you".

In this way, the line moves faster and everybody is happier—including my mother.

Thank you

Hilda Wilson

Dairy Farmers Seek Meeting To Draft National Milk Plan

OTTAWA (CP) — The Dairy Farmers of Canada have asked provincial agriculture ministers for a meeting to work out details of a new national milk re-ordering scheme.

The basis for the scheme is outlined in a report drafted by a special committee set up at a national milk re-ordering conference in Ottawa in October, 1981.

The Dairy Farmers want a regionally-administered milk re-ordering scheme, which would set milk prices and ensure that the scheme is self-financing, that is, the scheme would be financed by the milk re-ordering charges levied on the milk.

The Dairy Farmers also want a national milk re-ordering scheme, which would be financed by the milk re-ordering charges levied on the milk.

Boeing Prepares Superplane

Early next year the Boeing Company will recommend the U.S. build two prototypes of the 1,600 mile-per-hour, 280-passenger "superplane" transport shown above for the first time. The fixed wing craft will reduce travel times on key over-water air routes by more than one-half and no two major cities will be more than one-half day apart. Two prototypes now are being developed by Boeing in Seattle, Wash., under contracts administered by the Federal Aviation Administration.

Quebec Premier Will Attend Acadian Festival in Louisiana

QUEBEC (CP) — The Quebec government announced Tuesday that Premier Robert Bourassa will not attend the 1983 Acadian Festival in Louisiana.

Mr. Bourassa, who is scheduled to visit the United States in December, will be unable to attend the festival because of a scheduling conflict with the Quebec government's annual meeting of the Council of Ministers.

Mr. Bourassa's absence from the festival was announced by the Quebec government's press secretary, Marie-Claude Gauthier.

Earlier Tuesday, however, the Quebec government announced that the festival would be held in Louisiana, rather than in Quebec, as had been planned.

The festival, which is organized by the Acadian community in Louisiana, is one of the largest and most important of its kind in the world.

Only Luck Prevented Deaths In Recent Montreal Bombings

MONTREAL (CP) — Only "pure luck" prevented deaths or injuries in this city's "unprecedented" series of bombings in the last three months, the head of the police bomb squad says.

Sgt. Robert Cole warned in an interview Tuesday, however, that the explosive charges being used—generally dynamite attached to batteries and a clock—“are getting bigger all the time.”

He said the 24 bombs planted since mid-August in the Montreal area indicate “a new generation of bombers may be at work.”

“Those who act bomb on before

We arrests have been made. The most recent bombing, last Sunday, was “the most powerful explosion yet.”

Eight sticks of dynamite were used, he believed, to crack the concrete foundations of a structural steel manufacturing plant.

Child welfare in the neighborhood and street furniture in the building.

Union and manufacturing plants are affected by a jurisdictional dispute.

That blast was the first in a series of incidents in one week—three of the devices were found before they could explode. The first incident was the explosion in an underground passageway linking the CNR's downtown station with the $125,000 Place Bonaventure and Hotel Bonaventure.

Little damage was done and police say only one or two sticks of dynamite were used.

As in all 17 explosions this year in the city, no one was injured although three persons were in the 200-foot tunnel at the time.

Next day, a bomb wrapped in newspaper was discovered in the street two blocks from the tunnel blast.

Four bombs have been planted in a 400-foot strike-bombing Quebec Liquor Board stores in the city; stores which have been shut since June '68 when 3,000 workers struck for higher salaries.

A fifth bomb blew up a parked car in the town of Mount Royal outside the residence of a C.I.B. official who was engaged in negotiations.

The bomb exploded on the property of an official of the University of Canada Ltd., early this month. In August, three others were found near the Town of Mount Royal. In August, three others were found near the Town of Mount Royal.

The next night a bus parked on the property of a company which has an airplane maintenance franchise was burned in the explosion of a bomb.

Other targets have been included the armory of the governor of New Brunswick, the homes of Union Nationale and Liberal parties, and the home of the governor of New Brunswick.

Bombing has also exploded in the United States embassy in Quebec City and in Expo and Grand Merve.

A total of 11 bomb-plannings and explosions have occurred in the province this year.

Since the unparalleled violence of 1963, three persons have died as the result of bomb explosions. All were Montreal residents.

Jeane Dixon's Horoscope

For November 21

Your birthday today: The coming year is easier than now. The temptation is to merely drift without seeking enough change to improve conditions. Any powerful drives are aimed at trifling goals. Today's natives need adversity to bring forth their qualities.

ARIES (Mar. 21 - Apr. 19): This is a neutral day with no strong directives at work. Stay out of the middle; needless bickering is commonplace. Cooperation is not spontaneous, so use your own steam.

Taurus (Apr. 20 - May 20): Thrift is the most desirable quality now. Look after the affairs of those who depend on you. Joint investments prosper, but speculative moves are to be avoided.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): Until threats of everybody else fall in practice, your voice will not be heard. So go along with the grins the moment of other people. Retreat from argument.

CANCER (July 21 - July 21): Make an analysis of old problems. Matters you hold in trust for other people can be worked out. Allow the authorities to do others, and you'll survive the day.

LEO (July 22 - Aug. 21): New ventures are as just as put out over the horizon. Stay out of unprofitable activities. A covert touch.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 - Sept. 21): Experimentation is not favored in the small areas. There are almost impossible to sell. A very desirable act on them. Offer to the results.

LIBRA (Sept. 22 - Oct. 21): After the confounding day, the month opens up for easier living. Secrets are still not to be revealed. Don't say a word about these things!

SCORPIO (Oct. 22-Nov. 21):

A period of opportunity is open! Enjoy the moment of other people. Retreat from argument.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 - Dec. 21): You find yourself doing the big end of the job, virtually alone. Establish the record of how it was done and who did it.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 - Jan. 19): Keep your own counsel content or suggest. Others have any issue at last, seek redress.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20 - Feb. 18): Change circumspect the device. It will take several days.

PISCES (Feb. 19 - Mar. 20): Financing can make a big working conditions made a big difference. The first thing today, be moderate as well as candid.

Europe May Need Canadian Mobile Force In '70s: Buchan

OTTAWA (CP) — The European situation could become more dangerous in the 1970s if the Communist Warsaw Pact begins to break up, Alastair Buchan, director of the Institute for Strategic Studies in London, said Tuesday night.

In an interview on the CBC television show "Twenty Million Questions," he suggested there could be a role for Canada in mobile forces that would be needed to cope with localised outbreaks.

"The Czech situation isn't by any means over," Mr. Buchan said.

"You could easily get three or four occurrences of mass resistance in the Rumania and one of these would spill over.

"So that the business of keeping the peace in Europe, I think, is going to be more complex. We've had a rather easy time of this since the last Berlin crisis."

Mr. Buchan said a major Soviet aggression against Western Europe is implausible, but a local development might explore, demanding forces that could be moved rapidly and could concentrate in an area.

Canada's "small, but very efficient" forces in Europe would have to be replaced by some other Western country if they are withdrawn, he said.

On the same program, Opposition Leader Robert Stanfield said Canada should be prepared to remain in NATO until something approaching an East-West detente has been reached.

"I don't see how anybody can really believe that there isn't a threat in view of what's happened in Czechoslovakia," he said.

The ruthlessness of the Soviet intervention, he said, means that "we must recognise that they might be that ruthless towards us too if they get the opportunity."

Mr. Stanfield suggested that Prime Minister Trudeau had pre-judged the current review of foreign policy, including Canada's contribution to NATO, in a recent Kingston, Ont., speech during which he had "indicated he didn't really think there was very much of a threat from outside."

David Lewis, NDP parliamentary leader, said the Czech invasion "ought not to make us hysterical about the situation."

Although responsible, he said, the invasion had nothing to do with East-West confrontation. It was an internal matter within the Communist bloc.

Hope For 78 Miners Fades

MANNINGTON, W. Va. (AP) — Dense smoke and intense heat kept rescue teams away from entering a coal mine where 78 men were trapped by a series of explosions and a fire.

"Twenty-one men were rescued early Wednesday after the explosions thundered through the Mountaineer Coal Co. No. 9 mine."

"There's almost no hope of getting the trapped men out alive," said Harry Turner, safety director for Consolidation Coal Co. Mountaineer's parent firm.

Miners controlled the fire by plugging two air vents along the main tunnel apparently failed. A pocket of gas in one of the vents blew out the plug late Wednesday night and heavy smoke poured from it today.

John Roberts, a company public relations aide, said the appearance of smoke at the Mt.'s Run vent indicated the fire was spreading. It said this could mean the continuation of deadly carbon monoxide in the mine.

"If the initial explosion and fire didn't get to the men, Turner said, it's possible that collapses within the mine caused by the heat and concussion would do them in."

"Thirteen of the men in the mine when the first blast hit at 8:45 a.m. rushed to the surface. A giant crane pulled eight others from a ventilation shaft."

"We must wait until the miners die down," said William C. McManus, executive vice-president of Consolidation.

"But it seems almost impossible because of the density of the smoke."

Company officials indicated no more would rescue would be made before this afternoon, possibly later because of the intensity of the fire.

Four of the men who made it out were put under observation at nearby Fairmont General Hospital. Nine were hospitalized.

The first blast hurled the elevator of the Llewellyn shaft into the sky. Sections of concrete severed from the shaft entrance fell to the surface.

A parked car was set afire by flames from the shaft.

The initial explosion was followed by two more about an hour later. A third blast was heard in early evening in the mine which had been sealed to control the air flow and help subside the fire.

Gov. J. B. Smith and the director of the mines department, Elmer Workman, went to the mine soon after the explosions to help coordinate rescue efforts.

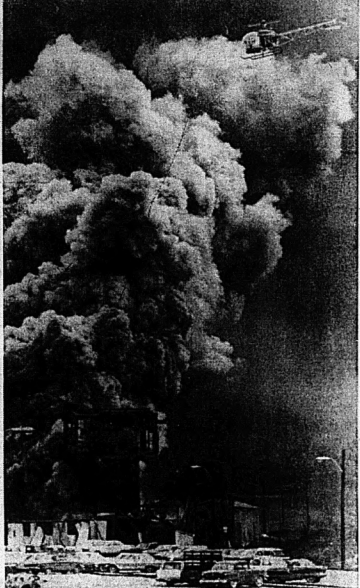

Smith said he had been promised federal help if needed.

The mine is less than 10 miles from the scene of the 1967 mining disaster in U.S. history.

In December 1967, an explosion at a Monaca, W.Va., mine claimed 31 lives.

New Heart Fails to Save Toronto Man

TORONTO (CP) — Alfred Gagnier, 44, who became Toronto's first heart-transplant recipient Nov. 13, died Wednesday of complications. Doctors at Toronto General Hospital said his death was the result of a stroke he suffered five hours after the operation which left him unconscious until his death. The new heart continued to beat well with normal blood pressure and no sign of rejection, the doctors said.

Train Hits School Bus, Two Killed, 28 Injured

PETERBOROUGH (CP) — Two high school students are dead, one in critical condition, and about 28 others in hospital with lesser injuries following a collision between a school bus and a train at an unprotected level crossing on Nether's Road about five miles west of here at 8:30 a.m. today.

Names of the dead were not disclosed.

Peter Cleary, a student passenger on the bus carrying 34 youngsters to suburban Crestwood Secondary School, said he saw the train rushing towards him as the bus started across a level crossing at 8:30 a.m.

He shouted warning, fell not the back emergency door and then returned walking off the damaged bus.

Police said the train, a CNR freight travelling between Peterborough and Lindsay, carried the bus about 1,000 feet west along the track.

Bus driver Glen Riley was shaken but uninjured. The train crew was also uninjured.

A police spokesman said the left side of the bus was crushed and six to eight youngsters had to be lifted from between badly bent seats.

The two youngsters who died in this portion of the bus were identified by St. Joseph's General Hospital in Peterborough, but died shortly after.

He picked up the young, slender from residential areas northwest of the Peterborough limits.

Hospital authorities said injuries to the youngsters ranged from glass cuts to broken arms and legs.

The blast dug a two-foot gash in the ground and scattered debris.

Inside the liquor store, however, only one bottle was broken.

Montreal Liquor Store Is Damaged by Bomb

MONTREAL (CP) — Home-made bombs exploded outside a strikebound Quebec Liquor Board outlet and the home of a liquor store manager during the night, sixth and seventh such bombings since the QLB's 3,000 employees walked out for higher pay last June 26.

Two were damaged by the bombs. Police said the liquor board outlet, on north-central St. Lawrence Boulevard, was damaged by a powerful time-bomb made up of eight sticks of dynamite wired to a clock.

"Windows were smashed in the store and in all nearby apartments," a police spokesman said.

Germans Reject Revalued Mark

BONN (AP) — Pressure on West Germany to revalue its mark ebbed today and there were signs of a breakthrough in talks by the Western world's top money managers to solve the latest international monetary crisis, German officials reported.

"The outlines for a solution are beginning to emerge," said West German Finance Minister Franz Josef Strauss.

He spoke to reporters during a lunch break in the meeting that began this morning after a nine-hour session that started Wednesday and broke up in a dead-end early today.

The economics and finance ministers and their national bank governors met again later in the morning and resumed their emergency discussion of how to bolster the franc and stabilize the crisis-racked international monetary system.

Conrad Adenauer, a West German government spokesman, said pressure for the Bonn government to revalue the Deutscher Mark had been pushed upward but ebbed. But he gave no details.

In the meeting were theoreticians and finance ministers and national bank governors from the West's 16 chief trading nations. Their aim was to help the French franc and stabilize the international monetary system.

In Paris, the Bank of France announced that the nation's official reserves had swollen to $18,000 under the pressure of heavy speculation last week. It was the highest level in 18 weeks.

The franc weakened further in West Germany's Deutsche Bank, it offered 73 marks for 100 francs in contrast to 77 marks Wednesday. The pound also was down in the bank's trading, from 8.00 marks to 8.00.

The U.S. dollar was unchanged at 3.37 marks.

Money markets were closed. West Germany was closed.

Markets in London also were shut and most dealers expressed a belief they would be kept closed until Monday.

There were some indications that the action had eased slightly. The French stock market had been building up in exchanges and gold and gold markets for French francs.

Gold at the markets, rising in London eased off 30 cents from Wednesday's level to $60.25 an ounce. Dealers said it was a mark of the easing of the market.

Gold Price Falls

LOYDON (Reuters) — The price of gold fell today to $62.50 U.S. near its level before the French government's move in their second day in Bonn.

A few hours before finance ministers from the world's 19 wealthiest non-Communist nations were called together for their emergency meeting, the London gold price was over $62.25 U.S. dollars an ounce.

Speculation set off by the tax sale and the price of gold fell today to $62.50 U.S. near its level before the French government's move in their second day in Bonn.

On Wednesday night, 30 cents "was knocked off" and this morning a 20-cent drop was recorded, bringing the London price down to $60.25. Dealers said there was little trading.

Doctors Reject Proposal to Discontinue PSI

TORONTO (CP) — Delegates at a meeting of the Ontario Medical Association, the province's main medical insurance plan, Wednesday rejected a resolution that PSI discontinue the plan.

Dr. Owen Muller of Toronto, PSI president, said opposition to discontinuing the plan was strongest among doctors from Ontario, Quebec, and Kingston, where large numbers of patients carry the service. More than 7,000 of Ontario's 10,000 doctors participated in PSI. But he said that if the service is to continue, rates will have to be increased.

Compared with the government-sponsored Ontario Medical Insurance Services Insurance Plan, PSI premiums are cheaper.

Present PSI monthly rates for comprehensive coverage are $3.00 for single persons; $4.00 for couples, and $13.25 for families.

Insurable OMSIP rates are $3.00, $10.00 and $14.25. But the possibility that the plan might be dropped was first raised last month when the Ontario Medical Association said there was no place for a non-profit private plan if Ontario mirrored the federal health insurance plan.

PSI's 125-member house of delegates met for the meeting. Delegates are chosen by branch and meet in 14 societies throughout Ontario.

OTTAWA—There is a new breed of politician cast in the East Block, the "Action Central," Parliament Hill of the federal government.

They are Prime Minister Trudeau's regional eyes and ears. Every prime minister has a team—the scouts and agents of the machine of government. For no prime minister, under any circumstances, has the time or personnel even the energy to concern himself with the fine details of what is going on across the land.

Indians' Hard Road

It is eloquently portrayed in an article in the current issue of Weekend Magazine.

"The Dream of Emily Yellowknife," concerns a 19-year-old Metis girl who, despite such prime obstacles as the prejudice of the white population with whom she mixes and the apathy and prejudice of her own race, is determined to obtain an education.

Education... the word is so much in the forefront of affairs today that it is almost trite to emphasize once again that outside such basics as food and shelter it is the single most important element in our lives. What makes Miss Yellowknife's story so interesting is that while opportunities for Indians to obtain an education are greater today than ever, comparatively few are taking advantage of them.

As writer Patricia Wellbourn puts it: "She wants to be a teacher and she wants to be part of modern Canada... She dreams of a Canada where to be Indian is to be proud of the past and a part of the future."

Complete integration with the dominant society is not the answer. If Indians inter-marry with whites — and of course some do — that is their affair, but for the majority they must be afforded the opportunity to learn alongside whites and work in the white industrialized society. If the Maoris of New Zealand can do it, so can the Indians of Canada. That is not what is at issue here, prejudice between the two races in New Zealand. There is — but it is of infinitely less consequence there than it is here. In New Zealand the two races are together in rare harmony.

Obviously a start must be made with the younger generation. Indians and whites should learn how to get along with each other — perhaps through student exchanges like those between Ontario and Quebec. It will be a slow business, but it should begin sometime and somewhere. As it is, the links between the two races are minimal. And it is not hard to understand why when most white people, as Emily Yellowknife's mother told the Weekend writer, "wouldn't accept a meal in an Indian home." Mrs. Yellowknife incidentally won a Canada Centennial Medal last year for services to the nation.

Prejudice could be the biggest obstacle that must be overcome. Ideally, the two races should be able to live in close working harmony at least, and this will demand a mutual liberal attitude on both parts. It will not be achieved so long as the attitude prevails among whites that the Indians are a "non-white" race (that matter) is an inferior being.

The Kingston Whig-Standard put it well, in a recent editorial: "Scratch the average Indian and you will find a courageous, dignified man. When it comes to racial matters — if you don't actually reveal an out-and-out bigot."

More and more, too, since the 1960s, Blacks have a chance to fall under the spell of their own counterparts of Black Power advocates like Brown and Stokely Carmichael — the latter people should run their affairs. Black leadership must be both disciplined and responsible. Moreover, it should have as its aim the ending of the "non-white" race. Certainly it will be a long, hard road, but it must be taken.

Throne Speech

The Speech from the Throne at the opening of the Ontario parliament was a departure from the usual pattern, perhaps for renewed references to the needs and problems of the provinces in relation to Ottawa.

Leutnant-Governor Ross Macdonald's address linked the need for greater co-operation in fiscal matters with national unity. When he expressed the hope that "a more reasonable, constructive and understanding attitude toward the fiscal needs and constitutional position of the provinces will be recognized."

Certainly the provinces and Ottawa are still far from unanimity of thought on taxation for example. The issue has been debated many times but will come up again at the next federal-provincial conference in Ottawa December 10-19.

In other Throne Speech developments, perhaps the most interesting feature was the speed construction of substantial numbers of occupied-owned apartments, the advance of research and maintenance programs for highways, and acquisition of more land for recreation areas, provincial parks and conservation authority facilities.

Agreement about power and a reference about tax money are the hallmarks of modern government.

The tax need needs no comment. It is too evident to be denied. It has reached the point where without special government action, the need for more money for the tax needs of the provinces is so great that the federal government is now being asked to provide more money for the tax needs of the provinces than it is able to do.

Coupled with this rubric is the need for more money for the tax needs of the provinces. It is a growing tendency of the provinces to demand more money for the tax needs of the provinces than it is able to do.

The Tremaine

Agreement about power and a reference about tax money are the hallmarks of modern government.

The tax need needs no comment. It is too evident to be denied. It has reached the point where without special government action, the need for more money for the tax needs of the provinces is so great that the federal government is now being asked to provide more money for the tax needs of the provinces than it is able to do.

Coupled with this rubric is the need for more money for the tax needs of the provinces. It is a growing tendency of the provinces to demand more money for the tax needs of the provinces than it is able to do.

Napanee Election Slated

NAPANEE—Napanee will have an election for its mayor, councilors on Dec. 2.

Nominated for mayor were the incumbent, Lerne Smith, Clayton Woodcock, At present deputy reeve, and Thomas McCrow who entered council two years ago.

Eight men have qualified for the position of councillor and six of them will make up the council.

Two men have qualified for reeve and two have qualified for deputy reeve.

All the Napanee nominations Monday night. Donald Walters and Harry Vine were returned to the Public Utilities Commission by acclamation.

Nominated to council were Grant Clark, Ernest Marshall, Clarence Milligan, Dr. R. W. Macpherson, Reginald Tyson, Fred Carter, Cecil Baker and John Sars.

New members of the quarter century club at Stewart-Warner Corp. were installed recently. Here the three newcomers are congratulated by company officials. They are: Charles West, new member, Victor White, president of the club, Malcolm White, new member, Bennett Archambault chairman of the board and president of Stewart-Warner and Charles Mayell, new member.

Quarter Century Men Honored

Three new members were added to the Stewart-Warner Corporation Quarter Century Club recently. This brings the active membership to 51, which totals 1,511 years service to the Company. This number represents 25 per cent of the total employees. There are also six retired members of the club. The new members were Malcolm Little, Charles West and Charles Mayell, who joined the Stewart-Warner Corporation in 1943.

Bennett Archambault, chairman of the board and president of Stewart-Warner was in attendance and presented the three new members with engraved wrist watches and certificates — indicative of 25 years service with the Corporation.

Before the presentation Mr. Archambault spoke to the members, outlining the various new products being manufactured by the Corporation's many plants. One particular product was "Electronic Facsimile" of which Stewart-Warner is now considered one of the leaders in the USA.

Sales have already been made in Canada and consideration is now being given to the manufacture of this product at Belleville, at some later date. He complimented the Canadian Division on their varied activities and singled out particularly the industrial display boards for Expo 1967, which were manufactured at Belleville.

Chairman of the meeting was Vic White, president of the Quarter Century Club for 1958. The club board remarks from the following: F. C. Kuller, general manager of Stewart-Warner in Belleville, S. D. Hagerman, immediate past manager, George Hammet on behalf of the active members and Jack Allin on behalf of the retired members.

At the beginning of the program one minute silence was observed in memory of Thomas Golden, a memory of the club, who joined the Corporation in August 1928 and passed away in March 1958 after 40 years service. The officers elected for 1959 were: president, Ray Perle, vice-president, Nina Evelyn Coulter and secretary Mrs. Mary Greig.

Following the dinner the Club was entertained by Harlan and Robert Reid, well known vocal artists, who were accompanied by Ronald Robertson.

Mr. Reid took the occasion to thank guests to Mr. Archambault and the members of Stewart-Warner Quarter Century Club from Stephens Adamson Mfg. Co. where he holds the position of sales manager. A very enjoyable musical program brought to a close another successful meeting and dinner.

Sabres May Be Sold To Foreign Country

TRENTON—The Sabre jet, once used by the Golden Hawks in air acrobatics which thrilled millions, will be leaving the Canadian Armed Forces — but their destiny could lie in active service for a foreign country.

Rather than ending up in a scrap heap, informed sources in Ottawa have said that American buyers want to purchase 25 of the old jets intact to sell to an unspecified foreign country.

The ruling that planes have to be sold for scrap, has been changed so that planes may now be sold intact and ready to fly — provided that the bid is accepted and passed by the cabinet.

The defence department recently announced that by next month the Canadian jets will be phased out of the Canadian Armed Forces. Currently, the planes are being used by the Chatham Sabre Transition Unit.

They are being used for training pilots, moving from the Thibide in CF-104 jets. Canadian Forces spokesman said today that the Sabre step will be eliminated as they are several bids have been put in for the 26 jets, one of $250,000 by an American airline pilot.

All Canadian bids so far have been for burning the planes into scrap, but it has not been revealed how much these bids are.

The Sabres are a familiar sight at CFB Trenton, where they often come in for repair and maintenance work.

The Golden Hawks used Sabres before their demise a few years ago. There are two of these in the Quinte area — one at Zwick's Island in Belleville, and the other at Centennial Park in Trenton.

Loyalist Students Present 'Fashion in the News'

"Fashion in the News" was the theme of a beautifully staged showing of the latest styles through the courtesy of Stanley's Ladies' Wear, Treason on Wednesday evening at Loyalist College. Twelve charming models were the ensemble and culled with grace and distinction. The fashion show, a production of the Communication Arts students, was commendable for its organization and professional touches.

In the Personal Section, sheer comfort and elegance were combined in the array of night and lounge wear, and there were some excellent ideas for husbands in the audience who had not yet decided what to leave under the tree for the little "lady" this Christmas.

The Sport Section displayed a wide variety of easy but glamorous wear for the girl who is an outdoor enthusiast, as well as just there to dress in a casual manner. The new part suits are the rage for the fashionable, in both sleeveless leg or elephant pant style.

The Business Section is always a focal point, and last night's showing was no exception. The many fur-trimmed and fur fabric coats were required to reveal chic, afternoon and street dresses. Kilt skirts and waistcoats with soft turtle-necked sweaters picked up the color from the plaid were the favorites of many. Pale grey in fashion these days, and was well shown in coats and business dresses.

To everyone's delight, was the Social Section and the many beautiful cocktail dresses, enhanced by the attractive models, reminded one that the holiday season is close at hand, and here were the suggestions for what mildy could be made a grand entrance at the festive Yuletide party.

The Entertainment Section gave a glimpse of the long evening formal in soft pinks and vibrant colors, truly given that could make any woman feel regal.

Front Page was a good finish which added a touch of Christmas in the red velvet gown and red head-dresses of the bridesmaids. They were followed by a demure, little flower girl in a hand-made replica of the bride's gown. And then, as a portrait of that great day in every girl's life came the lovely bride in many white bridal ensemble enhanced with sweeping chapel train.

The commentary was well done by Valerie O'Dell, fashion show coordinator. Kathy Slavin and committee were in charge of the production.

Designed by Kathy Derbyshire was well created in keeping with the show's theme. Newspapers and magazines were used to decorate the setting in an artistic manner. Tied sparkling from the end of the ramp and around the small raised platform where each model stood to show her ensemble to admiration.

Good music for the background was supplied by Jimmy Slavin and John Campbell, who also entertained the internationalists with Jimmy Slavin from his long repertoire of folk songs.

Set lighting was most effective owing to the efforts of John Francis, Radio Soave and Joy Leach. The sound system was kindly loaned by Circle TV Service of Belleville.

Beautiful coats and eye-catching millinery were also supplied by Stanley's Ladies' Wear of Treason. Mrs. Stanley who is a designer as well as a connoisseur of ladies' apparel, was presented with a bouquet of red roses by Kathy Slavin.

The many up-to-date styles in shoes and high leather boots were supplied by Ennis Shoes. Jewelry to accent the fashion was supplied by Galtie Buck Shop. Hair styling, falls and nail polish were done by the Jovell-Bernheim Beauty Salon. The falling drapes had high pilot cuts were reminiscent of another era, but were made more beautiful by modern methods of hair styling.

Carpeting in bright gold for the ramp and stairs was supplied by Robert McDonald and Cherney's Furniture World.

The graceful models were: Sharon Anderson, Veronica Greer, Judy Barnett, Donna Muncy, Linda Orr, Dianne Grimmer, Rosemary Smith, Elizabeth Savin, Gloria McNeil, Lois Brown, Pat Richardson, Beverly Ray, The Little Flower Girl was Kim Seaman.

Tim Goleen, John Nadeau, and Phil Devereux in well fitted evening suits from Stanley's, gave a hand to the models as they ascended and descended the stairs. Tim Goleen escorted the bride. Flowers for the show were supplied by Tremper Florist.

A candle-lit table of refreshments was appreciated by the guests during intermission. Coffee was served by Margaret Lutz, assisted by Kathy Derbyshire. Elaine Stickle adorned the door piece winners were: Mrs. W. Slavin and Bev Brooks.

Behind the scene work, essential to the show, was conducted by many students from the Communication Arts course and their teachers: Stewart Glickoff. It's hats off to "Fashion in the News," a Loyalist first!

Greeting Guests at U.C.W. Tea

Yule Decor Highlights Bridge Street's U.C.W. Tea

What a grand tea it was! Extraordinary decorations, underlined with a Christmas theme, and for sale, just about everything the heart could desire and more.

All the tradition was a part of the Fall Tea and Bazaar, under the auspices of the United Church Women, held at Bridge Street United Church Wednesday afternoon.

At the main entrance, curdles of spruce branches, poinsettias and bright Christmas trees headed by Mrs. E. Devereux. The decorating committee, headed by Mrs. D. W. Mayhew, undoubtedly worked more than overtime. The entrance and re-entrance of the bazaar, very Mrs. E. B. Berry and Mrs. George Granger.

There were many things to buy, so attractively displayed, that it was a difficult decision for shoppers. Each of the booths had an extra touch of the holiday season. Most had a touch of holly, a poinsettia and always a festive of brilliant red crepe paper, which gave the section a festive air.

Mrs. Eric Douglas and Mrs. J. N. Fortin were behind the candy table, which appeared extra-large, overflowing with lozenges, pastes, bowls and cups of delicious homemade candy. Mrs. M. Taggart supervised the agent table, for the housewife who enjoys a little color in the kitchen.

A picture of Whittier's mother, a coffee pot and straw hats. This was the common denominator of the variety table, conveyed by Miss Gertrude Laiter. In contrast, the wharfed, hunchback table offered that special something for the domestic-minded. Here, the conversers store Mrs. A. E. Miles and Mrs. Ralph Monro.

Talking, colors for sale, with a promise that it would be shipped fresh and delivered in time for Christmas were Mrs. H. W. Burns and Mrs. J. B. Laiter. To some, candles and Christmas are one and the same. And there was a special table, catering just to this kind of people, with every color, shape and size of candle. Conveying this booth was Mrs. Andrew Robb.

The country store, conveyed by Mrs. A. D. Reedy and Mrs. John Porritt, had a variety of vegetables, plants, homemade redishes and mince-meat. Mrs. Ralph Monro and Mrs. A. J. Clare helped the patients with their selections at the fancywork and craft table. Christmas trees were being sold by Mrs. Vaughan on behalf of the Epiphany group (right next 911), and Mrs. Cole sold candles for the C.G.I.T.

The Christmas Market of ferns unique Christmas decorations, under the auspices of Mrs. F. Burrows, head of the church sewing group, which meets twice weekly.

After an exhaustive shopping trip, many of the tired drooping supporters for a cup of tea. Greeting them at the door were Mrs. J. S. Loyes, Mrs. H. M. Davis, Mrs. R. S. Berry and Mrs. Alfred Fowler.

Words in themselves fall considerably in describing the beautiful decor of the tea room. "Breathtaking" will have to suffice.

Each wall was covered in sheets of silver circles of foil, which reflected the light in many, many colors. This was topped by spruce branches and centered by large poinsettias. At the far end of the room, large white candleholders stood on either side of the main decorations filled in by red candles, and interspersed with delicate ferns.

Houses in the tea room were Mrs. Stuart Elder, Miss Eileen Hunt, Mrs. E. S. Fairman, Mrs. Andrew Robb, Mrs. J. C. Anderson, Mrs. John M. Porritt, Miss Grace Kenney and Mrs. H. W. Karm. All over the room, various unique decorations hung suspended from the ceiling, adding to the festive atmosphere.

Each individual tea table was covered by a top of a budding paper flower. Layers of alternating red and white and green and white tissue paper decorated the red and white and green and white sprigs of holly.

The two tea tables, one at each end of the room, were covered by white linen tablecloths, and were centered by a contrasting centerpiece of red poinsettias. Silver tea service and matching silver candleholders, completed the setting. The lighted white candles were the right finishing touch.

Flowers at various intervals throughout the afternoon were: Mrs. G. S. Crook; Mrs. J. E. Demers; Mrs. J. E. Marsh; Miss Gertrude Laiter; Mrs. Loma Ripley; Mrs. Lee Grills; Mrs. E. B. Davis; Mrs. A. E. Miles; Mrs. W. Dallas; Mrs. C. B. Morgan; Miss Helen Salama and Mrs. Donald G. Williams.

Other members who contributed to a most successful tea, were: the ticket convener, Mrs. Bruce Reedy; the refreshments convener, Mrs. Ralph G. Clapp; publicity convener, Mrs. J. E. Nelly; treasurer, Mrs. Harold F. Treason; and the Confederal Group was in charge of the nursery.

Community Says Farewell to Couple

MOTTO — While Community Hall was temporarily closed last week when friends and neighbors of Mr. and Mrs. Orval Jackson gathered to bid them farewell, as they leave the community for their new home in Billings.

James Scholten, acting as chairman and in his remarks, expressed regrets on behalf of the friends and neighbors in losing the couple. However, he extended his behalf to the community, every wish for happiness and health in their new home.

Mrs. Harold Holten held in community singing, accompanied by Mrs. V. Hagerman. Readings were given by Mrs. Everett Sizer, Miss Edna Towner and Mrs. Murray Johnson. Mr. and Mrs. Tom Ladd shared with many musical selections, which everyone enjoyed.

Mr. and Mrs. Jackson were given seats on the platform. Mrs. Ladd-Towner read the address, and Mrs. Frank Mc-

Cor presented them with gifts for which they expressed thanks. The couple invited all to visit them in their new home. Refreshments were served, and a pleasant social time was enjoyed.

'It's Debatable'

Radio Program Taped at Moira

By BARRY BRISSET
Staff Reporter

Moira Secondary School was the scene of a taping of It's Debatable, a radio program, yesterday. The discussion was far from dull.

The taping consisted of a panel discussion followed by questions and more discussion from the students assembled in the school's gymnasium.

Sitting on the panel were moderators, Elroy Yust, director of the Metropolitan Educational Television Association (Toro), and Mrs. Marjorie Castellano, a Belleville social worker.

The panel was completed by two Moira grade 12 students, Peter Mills and David Thompson.

The topic of the It's Debatable was Human Rights for Indian People and the students witnessed and took part in a lively discussion concerning the subject.

A general question from Mr. Yust on Indian reserves in Canada started the discussion off.

David Thompson said that one problem with reserves was that Indians cannot do as they please and are not allowed to manage their own affairs.

Peter Mills said that the Indians were exploited by the white man.

Mr. Castellano, an Indian herself, suggested that the problem was that Indians are not recognized as human beings and their problems are considered.

She said that an example of this was the representation of Indians in the media.

She described her experience with prejudice as a child, though in retrospect she said that this country is not so anti-Indian as she once felt.

Indians are "front with a sense of separation, a sense of difference," she said.

Mr. Yust asked Peter Mills about the education of Indians, whether it was the same as the white man's.

Peter explained that until recently Indians did not receive the same education. He said that Indian people were kept on the reserve and educated by the Indian government.

Mrs. Castellano explained that one of the attitudes of Indians was a belief that land was a gift of God and that nobody owns it. She recalled the education and waste of land by the white man.

Peter Mills discussed the situation of the Indian in Canada, mentioning that there are only an estimated 165 Indians in university.

He described Indians who do not really belong in the wage earning process.

Mr. Yust asked if Indians could ever rebel.

David Thompson stated that they "most certainly have the right to rebel."

Soon after this point of the discussion had been reached, Mr. Yust asked if this was typical of the whole world.

Mrs. Castellano admitted that it was typical because of colonialism. As an example she mentioned Indians in India and British Imperialism.

When asked what Canada could do about the Indian situation, David Thompson replied that Canada could give Indians self-government.

David Thompson from the floor asked if a comparison could be made between Indians and the negroes in the United States.

Indians have never been brutalized like negroes," Mrs. Castellano said. "We haven't really learned how to use people."

One Moira student said that he had heard no solid suggestions to remedy the Indian problem. He asked what could be done.

"I don't think white people can sit down and think red," said Mrs. Castellano.

Peter Mills admitted to one known the student.

"We (white men) are the majority and must into society," Peter Mills said, "whereas we do this they lose their identity."

Mrs. Castellano added that this was all right over a period of time. "It takes care of itself."

Civics Is Taught By Survey In Centennial Classes

By JILL MILLER and ELIZABETH FOLWELL

Recently two grade 12 history classes at Centennial Secondary School have been studying their civics in a new and profitable way under the direction of teacher R. MacLean.

They have conducted surveys involving local politics on both the school and federal levels to see what characteristics in political leaders influence people as they vote.

The first survey was taken throughout the school directly after the Student Parliament elections. Classes of students representing each grade and program were asked to complete a form, consisting of questions pertaining to characteristics of their leaders.

A second survey was taken on the same basis, but it pertained to the recent federal election. Surveys from were distributed throughout Belleville, Stirling and Midland.

At Quinte Game Cancelled

By SUE BORDMAN

The weather man isn't very popular around Quinte this time of year. That rain we got on Friday caused the girl's football game to be cancelled.

It really is a big disappointment. The team have to wait until spring.

Housing Study Bid Rejected

TORONTO (CP) — Ontario's Progressive Conservative government Wednesday turned back opposition attempts in the legislature to have standing committees appointed to study government spending plans and problems in housing and urban affairs.

The proposal for a committee on housing and urban problems, advanced by Margaret Benwick, New Democratic member for Scarborough Centre, proposed an amendment to a motion by Liberal Leader Robert Nixon that a committee on estimated to be added to a committee proposed by government minister Leonard Reilly (Toronto-Eglinton).

She said the housing crisis has reached the point where a committee should be available to hear complaints of individuals and study the performance of government agencies involved in housing.

The idea was supported by both Liberal and NDP speakers and the vote that followed was along party lines, the 55 Conservatives overwhelming the 25 Liberals and 20 NDP members present. House standings are: Conservatives 60, Liberals 28, NDP 20.

The Nixon motion got even less support when NDP Leader Donald MacDonald said the advantages of an estimates committee would be outweighed by the disadvantages.

The Liberal motion went down 75 to 25, the NDP siding with the government.

No Answer on Farm Act

TORONTO (CP) — The Ontario Legislature will "have to wait and see" whether the Farm Products Marketing Act is to be amended this session, Agriculture Minister William Stewart said Wednesday.

That was his reply to Donald Paterson (St. Lawrence South) who asked if the act would be changed to provide permissive regulation of acreage control of other products similar to controls now in effect for tobacco.

University Students Challenge Davis At House Opening

TORONTO (CP) — About 1,000 university students Wednesday gave the second session of the Ontario legislature a confused, noisy opening as they demonstrated at Queen's Park for changes in the Ontario student awards program.

"They cried 'We want a miracle' as a young minister from the University of Toronto presented Education Minister William Davis with bags and hats because 'we couldn't afford to give you bread and fishes'."

"Since you came in the spirit of confrontation let's talk frankly. If you are prepared to listen," Mr. Davis told the students.

"The student awards program is not perfect but it nevertheless enables 8,000 to attend university where no aid was available three years ago."

The program has cost the government $25,000 each year and taxpayers subsidize each student to $3,000 beyond the program.

Mr. Davis appealed to student leaders to join his department's student awards committee in studying the reasons why so many high school students do not move on to university.

Steven Langdon, president of the student administrative council at University of Toronto, and other leaders are to meet Premier John Robarts to discuss a brief submitted to the department by the students.

Mr. Langdon told the demonstration: "We are not marching only for those not at university, but for those who cannot get there."

Tim Reid, education critic for the Liberal party in the legislature, and Donald MacDonald, leader of the New Democratic Party, told the students they would support their demands to the house.

Mr. Langdon said the students want the government to correct problems of housing, poverty, medical aid and secondary school bias that prevent young people getting to university.

The students want the awards program changed to ease requirements for parental contributions. After the definition of an independent student, speed up the processing of loan applications now delayed for up to four months, revise the requirements for parental contributions from summer wages and give more power to awards officers at the universities to act on individual cases.

Logging Duo Draw Jeers

TORONTO (CP) — Two panelists representing Ontario's logging industry Wednesday were cut down by Algonquin Wildlife League members who would like to see logging operations leave Algonquin Park—the sooner the better.

The panelists, K. A. Armon, president of the Ontario Forestry Association, and R. B. Loughlin, manager of the Ontario Forest Industries Association, had been invited to talk about the department of lands and forests master plan for the park.

But their views on logging drew little sympathy from an audience of 200.

The plan calls for extensive zoning of the park's 1,930 square miles, no logging in July or August and the establishment of primitive zones where no machines can be used.

The 500-member league, formed this year, wants more primitive land and gradual phasing out of all commercialism in the park.

Mr. Loughlin said logging, a form of forest management, was needed.

"Without it there will be chaos, a wilderness hell," he said as the audience booed loud.

C. Abbott, Conway, league president, said: "The government must respect the people of Ontario much more in Algonquin Park. It's too bad they're not here to discuss it."

The department will hold more public meetings next week to discuss the plan, which is provisional.

Dates are Nov. 26 in Pembroke, Nov. 27 in Muskoka and Nov. 28 in Toronto.

'Toots' Holway -- Man for All Sports

By GEORGE H. CARVER

The many identities of Belleville sports Valtella admitted another entry to his illustrious list on Wednesday.

Albeit "Toots" Holway, member of an growing athletic family heard the final whistle of the Great Belton and four decades of spectators bowed their heads in silent reverent respect to the memory of one of those who can truly be called great.

"Toots" passing is a personal loss to those of us who, real or participated in any form of athletics. Hockey was his first and lasting love. His name was synonymous with the sport since the day he wore his first hockey sweater.

He was the epitome of the true sportsman. He was intensely loyal to his teams, his players and his colleagues on and off the ice. His friends, both in and out of sport, loved the pleasing personality of the man, a personality that was sprinkled with a warm sense of humor.

During his countless days his criticism like his praise were given in the softest of tones. He was firm in his decisions but never the hounding judge type of coach or manager. He demanded the best and got it through the media of his personality and ability to handle players both on and off the ice.

He was one of the best hockey players ever to wear a Belleville uniform. He loved football, too. He was one of the first to join the National Hockey League status playing with the Toronto St. Pats and Montreal Canadiens.

"The Maroons were quite a club" he told me. "We didn't get the salaries around day players get," he said, eyes steely "sometimes we spent practice time in the Montreal Club Exchange."

Gratified with the loss will be members of the now famous Belleville club of the mid-fifties. Toots raised and with others sponsored the club but he was never a member.

always "Coach."

He established a record off the ice. Toots was perhaps the only junior hockey coach in Canada whose players have had consecutive seasons for the past two decades.

Annually, despite the aging years they held forth at Memorial Arena here to "change in an hour's" hockey here-play while their remembrance never grew old with the re-telling.

Associated with the team and still making their annual appearances are Fred Reid, Coach John Dorn, Don Lee, Dr. Bob Allard and this writer.

Toots looked forward to the yearly get-togethers and joined in the remembrance fun with former players as Doug Givens (trousers manager) brother Bobby, The Weathers, Al and Herbie, son Bill, Johnny Semark, Jim Markle, Maurice Rullman, Jack and Harry Wardlaw, Nether Day, Bruce Bishop, Tom Lally, Don Barrett, and others.

Of late years Toots was content to watch his "boys" from the sidelines. But there was no mistaking the pride in his eyes and voice as the years unfolded and the flashing figures of hockey youth in his backyard took the place of the slower moving ones on the ice.

Two years ago he told me as we watched the "boys" go through their paces. Looking back I now see where I used to be. It is very pleasing to me to see the type of men they have become; good sports, good friends and good citizens."

And so passes a true friend, a true sportsman and a distinct credit to himself, his community and the sports he loved so well.

Sportsmen of the city, district and wherever "Toots" was known join this writer in extended heartfelt sympathy to the bereaved family.

O'Quinn's Quandary

Still 3,000 Unsold Ottawa Tickets

OTTAWA (CP) — General manager Red O'Quinn said Wednesday that Ottawa Rough Riders have about 3,000 unsold supporters who go to home places since Grey Cup or last place.

"We also have an awful lot of marginal fans who lie back in the bushes and wait and see what kind of a team it's going to be you are playing," he said.

Associated with the team and still making their annual appearances are Fred Reid, Coach John Dorn, Don Lee, Dr. Bob Allard and this writer.

"Or if they can have the option of watching the game on cable television, they will take it. And if the weather is bad, they'll stay home."

O'Quinn is worried about more than 3,000 unsold tickets to Saturday's deciding game of the Eastern Football Conference finals between Riders and Toronto Argonauts.

Argon carry a two-point lead in the final game of the total-point series which will decide the Eastern representative in the Grey Cup.

Despite a first-place finish this season and what O'Quinn calls one of the highest-paid and most exciting teams in the Canadian Football League, Ottawa has yet to draw a capacity crowd of 75,000 to its home park.

A CBC announcement Wednesday that it will carry the last half of the game on its Ottawa television station won't help ticket sales, O'Quinn feels. The full game will be carried by CBC-TV outside Ottawa starting at 3 p.m. EST.

Riders say cable television, which brings the home games into the city from stations in Kingston, Ott., and Montreal, is the big reason Ottawa hasn't had a full house.

At Dancer's Hearing...

Derby Scandal Evidence Enmeshed in Chemistry

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — After three days of testimony at the hearing on Dancer's injury, evidence is enmeshed in chemistry and legal technicalities.

The format remained unchanged today as Kenneth W. Smith sought to defend his laboratory tests which indicated that the 1980 Kentucky Derby winner had traces of a forbidden medication in his urine when he raced.

Acting on this information, the stewards at Churchill Downs withheld the first prize of $125,000, a decision the colt's owner, Peter Diller, is trying to get reversed.

The appeal is being handled by the Kentucky Racing Commission, which heard Smith admit Wednesday that he could have made a procedural error in one of the five tests he ran on the urine the night of May 4, after the Derby.

Smith contended, however, there was enough evidence to prove conclusively that plicinol was present in the colt.

This is an analgesic drug which can be used in the treatment of sore shins, a condition that bothered Dancer's image who was a favorite of Lou Cavaliere of Toronto.

Smith stood by the conclusion he had reached despite intense cross-examination from Diller's lawyer.

Smith also disclosed that one day after the Derby he sent a small amount of the urine to a colleague "because I was curious about phenylbutazone on one of the tests. I saw what he would do with it, but the others were negative. He said he repeated the tests later in the week and got the same results."

This was contradictory to testimony given earlier in the day by the second chemist, L. E. Harris of Lincoln, Neb.

Harris told the commission that he got a faint positive reaction.

Madoc Will Give Fire Protection

THREE—The November 1968 meeting of the Board of Municipal Council (Toronto) was held in Toronto, with all members of the Board present. This was an evening meeting, and the minutes of the last meeting were read and adopted.

The Council this time agreed to sign an agreement with the Village of Madoc for fire protection to part of the Township. A grant was also given to the Madoc area, of an amount of $50.

The following question will be put on a ballot to be decided: "Are you in favour of extending the right to vote at Municipal Elections for members of council to all persons of the full age of 21 years, who are British subjects and who have resided in the municipality for at least one year in accordance with the Municipal Franchise Extension Act."

A vote for the Township of Haldimand was placed on the agenda by the Mayor (Russell Sims) on November 21 at Madoc, Armistice Day Service.

Council will meet again in the morning, at 11 a.m. on December 10th, for the last month meeting of the year.

Windfall Trading Profitable

TORONTO (CP)—A character accountant said Wednesday that George and Viola MacMillan and their associated companies made a trading profit of $14,000 in shares of Windfall Oil and Mines Ltd. during 1968.

Accountant Robert Ford, testifying at the trial of the MacMillans, agreed, however, with South Selkirk, counsel for Mrs. MacMillan, that all the companies would be classed as traders and subject to a tax of 10 per cent. He said taxes of $61,000 had been paid.

"The department of national revenue and the Province of Ontario were not among the principal beneficiaries of the operation," Mr. Ford testified.

The MacMillans are being tried on charges of defrauding the public over the promotion and sale of Windfall's capital stock and fraudulently affecting the market price of the shares between April and August, 1967. Both have pleaded not guilty.

Mr. Ford said that on July 12, 1968, the MacMillans were warned they might have sold effective control of Windfall, Inc.

served with Mr. Selkirk that after July 10, although Windfall had risen to $5.00 a share later, the MacMillans sold hardly any shares although they held more than 1,000,000.

Mr. R. Archibald, a lawyer whose firm acted for Windfall, testified that on July 20, directors assembled in his office to receive an assay report, correlated with drilling logs by MacMillan and J. W. Ambrose, a consulting geologist.

Mr. Archibald said the assays showed traces of copper but no commercial value.

Turner Assailed for Failure To Break up Code Amendments

OTTAWA (CP)—A former attorney-general for Prince Edward Island held the line to Justice Minister Turner Wednesday using the A-B-C's of Aberdeen, Banks and Criminal Code amendments.

Mein McQuaid (CP-Cardigan), levelled the criticisms during Commons consideration of Mr. Turner's $18,200,000 revised 1969-70 departmental spending estimates.

He was particularly incensed at the government's refusal to accept the Criminal Code amendments into different bills, rather than presenting them in omnibus form.

Mr. Turner at one point had agreed to dividing the issues in the omnibus bill, he said.

"But, apparently the great white father who sits in the seat of the prime minister deceived and deceived the poor minister of justice was faced with the choice of either falling into line or picking up his marbles and going home. I do not think that even Adolf Hitler ruled with a firmer hand."

Ministers were a "doctored group" and "if the medical profession ever gets around to doing spine transplants there will be an open field over there."

"There were MPs whose consciences would not allow them to approve those parts of the omnibus bill which were relating to homosexuality. They should be allowed to vote against these provisions while at the same time supporting those which they agreed with."

There are some—and he ex-cluded myself—in this classification which cannot believe that abortion, even in the early stages of pregnancy does not constitute the taking of life."

Mr. McQuaid said he had expected an explanation on this case of Hal C. Banks, former Canadian head of the Seafarers' International Union, who is a fugitive from justice.

Banks had been sentenced in 1964 to five years in prison for counselling the beating of another waterfront union member. He appealed the conviction and was released on $25,000 bail.

"He shipped his bail and went to New York. In 1967, however, the attorney-general sought his extradition from the U.S. to face a charge of perjury arising out of evidence he gave in inquiry into violence in Great Lakes shipping in 1963.

A U.S. commissioner heard and agreed with the extradition petition. Banks appealed this decision directly to Dean Rusk, U.S. secretary of state, and "Mr. Rusk saw fit to overrule the decision of the commissioner. Mr. Rusk's reasoning was 'it is just difficult to follow. Perjury is perjury, no matter in what circumstances it is committed.' U.S. similar now trying to have the Banks extradition case reopened and Mr. McQuaid hoped Mr. Turner would co-operate with him. There was a chance to see U.S. administration could override the Rusk decision.

Mr. Turner disagreed. The Canadian government and U.S. officials had pursued every avenue to get Banks back in Canada. Legal experts agreed the decision by the executive branch in the U.S. was final and not open to review.

The extradition proceedings are an end and the incoming U.S. administration "cannot reverse the decision taken by Mr. Rusk," he said.

Mr. McQuaid also proposed Code to give police authority to issue summonses rather than to arrest in certain cases, and to recognize the injustice to many people who are unable to raise bail.

Mr. Turner said his department plans to increase its staff and open regional offices across Canada. Another major project was a revision of all statutes, to be published by the fall of 1969.

Civil Servants Are Dissatisfied

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont.—Canadian and United States federal employees expressed dissatisfaction Wednesday with collective bargaining with their respective governments.

About 125 delegates from the two countries attending a joint conference on collective bargaining in the federal service. The three-day conference is sponsored by the Canadian Labor Congress and the AFL-CIO.

Some American delegates criticized what they called the lack of any final method of settling employee-government disputes. Collective bargaining in the U.S. federal service is governed by a presidential order and some union representatives said they would prefer the Canadian legislation which gives government workers the right to strike.

William Kidd of South St. Marie, Ont., representing the American Union of Postal Workers, criticized Canadian government policies in employee relations.

Mr. Kidd said that legislation on tax confining and said it exposed the employees to a number of legal entanglements. He said the Council of Postal Workers was convinced it must retain the right to strike to bargain effectively.

Zsa Zsa Gabor Says She Was Beaten by Five Spanish Policemen

LONDON (AP) — Actress Zsa Zsa Gabor checked into a London hospital Wednesday night with her wrists and ankles bandaged, claiming she had been beaten by five Spanish island policemen.

A spokesman for St. George's

Hospital said she was admitted for observation and no statement from her condition would be released before medical checks are completed today.

Miss Gabor, 41, arrived from Palma de Mallorca, where a heated dispute over bills she said she paid led into a court of law.

Airline officials said they had to delay the takeoff of the British European Airways jet for a half-hour at Palma before they were able to get Miss Gabor aboard. When she arrived here, she had a shouting match with police and customs men at London airport.

Customs men at London Airport searched Miss Gabor's luggage and found a puppy in a wicker basket.

The dog was taken to the airport animal house. Miss Gabor said she would collect it the next time she flies to the United States, but she didn't say when that would be. She said she found the dog in a garbage van in Palma.

Dogs entering Britain are subject to a six-month quarantine.

When she emerged from customs, Miss Gabor said:

"When we went to leave Palma the other day I was stopped on the plane and my dog was taken away. . . . Then the five policemen started beating me up. They broke my bones. They wouldn't tell me why they did it."

Miss Gabor, who had to remain in Palma because of a dispute over unpaid bills, said: "I have paid all the bills. It cost me $7,000 and another $2,000 to get my passport back. They kept me in an ice-cold room for seven hours."

Child Kept in Boiler Room

TORONTO (CP) — A waitress told a coroner's jury Wednesday that three-year-old Theresa McIntosh, who died of a brain hemorrhage Oct. 10, was kept in a dark, six-by-seven-foot boiler room in a restaurant 12 hours a day, seven days a week.

The waitress, Maria Aleman, told the jury the child was put in the room about 8:30 every morning by Michael McNeill, and left there until 6:30 p.m.

She said the child would scream when McNeill, a partner of the restaurant who was living with Theresa's mother, Elene McIntosh, took her out.

Theresa died of a brain hemorrhage four days after suffering a blow on the head. Her mother said the blow was caused by a fall down stairs.

The hearing continues.

Diplomatic Surprise

U.S. Comment Sparse on Canada's Defence Role

WASHINGTON (CP) — United States reaction seems nonexistent so far to the recent statements by Prime Minister Trudeau regarding possible shifts in Canadian spending priorities for defence.

News coverage has been sparse. Comment of any kind, private or otherwise, has not been forthcoming despite the usual warnings in some Canadian quarters of irritation in the Canada-U.S. relationship. This fact has been somewhat surprising to diplomatic and other observers here and ap-pplies to the latest prime ministerial statement Monday that is continuing on what role if any Canada will play in North American air defences.

The North American air defence agreement was extended for a further five years last May. Under current U.S. defence department planning, the system is to be given a $12-15 million, with a program of modified interceptors, aircraft and other needs, has a counterpart here.

What is evident here is that the Trudeau emphasis on possible alterations in federal spending patterns, reconciling conflicting demands among defence, foreign aid, domestic programs and other needs, has a counterpart here.

President-elect Richard Nixon is pursuing far-reaching studies in preparation for taking office Jan. 20.

Some realities parallel those in Canada.

For example, Canadians plan to balance the federal budget for the first time, it was stated, because costs of some programs with the province have been underestimated. Finance Minister Beeson settled for a deficit of $720,000,000 in his Oct. 2 budget.

Republican sources are saying now that the Johnson administration has underestimated some of its cost-shared programs with the states to the amount of more than $1,000,000,000. There is talk Nixon may have to abandon his election campaign pledge to end the Vietnam war, tax to expire June 30.

That tax of 10 cents on every income tax dollar would bring in about $12,000,000,000 over a full year.

Other Nixon pledges that may be hard to reconcile are those to curb federal spending and build up U.S. armaments so that, as Nixon put it, he could negotiate "from strength" with the Soviet Union.

One major Nixon handicap is that he is handed a ready-made budget by his predecessor that leaves minimal room for alteration.

The full budget this year will be in excess of $280,000,000,000 despite sharp pruning.

United Church Survey Shows Change Needed

TORONTO (CP) — A former moderator of the United Church of Canada said Wednesday a declining membership in United Church congregations in Toronto may reflect a trend across the country.

"I believe it's roughly the same pattern from Halifax to Vancouver," Very Rev. Ernest M. Howse, church moderator from 1964 to 1966, said in an interview.

He was commenting on a church-sponsored study prepared by Project Planning Associates Ltd. which shows that more than 3,500 members of 152 United Church congregations have left since 1961 while the city's population increased 8.7 per cent. It represents a drop of more than five per cent.

Changes in the ethnic composition of neighborhoods and increasing income—which means travel, cottages and vacations—are among contributing factors, the survey says.

In addition, low family incomes forcing mothers to work left parents no time for church programs and many professional people were moving farther away from established churches to new areas.

"It means that the church must adapt to the changing times," Dr. Robert McClure, present moderator, said in a telephone interview from Fort Frances, Ont.

Dr. McClure, the church's first lay moderator, said weekly services might be one immediate move.

The study is the first of a seven-part examination of the United Church's future role in the community, expected to cost about $110,000 over a two-year period.

Among its findings: —More than a third of United Church clergymen interviewed were dissatisfied with their jobs because the church has not kept pace with the times. Half the clergymen were generally satisfied.

—Many churches have two seats every churchgoer and two-thirds of the rooms in church buildings could be eliminated.

—Membership in men's and women's organizations dropped 50 per cent between 1961 and last year and only 42 per cent of church members regularly attend worship services. Sunday school membership has dropped to 42,043 from 66,585 in six years over 50 years old.

—More than a third of congregations studied have a membership in which more than half the regular churchgoers are attendants is small.

—Many of our church leaders are more interested in the United Church, says the study in church membership and attendance is small.

"Too many of our church leaders are more interested in surveys than in salvation."

Train Hits School Bus

Rescuers comfort students injured in a bus-train collision near Peterborough yesterday. Two

One Student Seriously Hurt In Crash Which Killed Two

PETERBOROUGH, Ont. (CP) — A seven-car freight train plowed into a school bus near Thursday, killing two and shattering up 36 others. The bus, skidding on ice, was dragged a half mile down the track. A girl student was in serious condition after an operation Thursday night with head and internal injuries. Three male students were in fair condition. Other students were treated for bruises and abrasions.

The train, travelling about 35 miles an hour, crashed into the bus at a level crossing five miles west of Peterborough. The students were on their way to morning classes at Crestwood secondary school. Bus driver Gene Ryle of Peterborough, not injured, said he didn't hear any whistles "if there was a whistle I didn't hear it because the kids were making too much noise... I didn't see the train until it was almost on top of me."

The train's engine pushed halfway through the bus, almost cutting it in two. Police used axes to free students trapped in twisted seats.

students died when the bus and freight train collided.

Killed were Shirley Cuningham, 13, and Shirley Ryle, 13, both of Ritz, Peterborough. In serious condition was Judy Middleton. Every available ambulance in the city was sent to transport the injured. Blood was shipped from Toronto, 80 miles south-west, to replenish local supplies. One student, Suzanne Jackson, 16, said she had no warning of the crash. She said the train's horn blasted continually as it dragged the wreckage along before stopping.

The crash is marked by a wooden crossroad and is part way up a steep hill. Mr. Ryle said "at this time of year you have to take a run at it because the road is so slippery."

Servicemen Will Get Pay Boost

OTTAWA (CP) — A pay increase of about 62 per cent for members of the regular and reserve armed forces, retroactive to Oct. 1, 1962, was announced today by Defence Minister Leo Cadogan.

Generals received the biggest increase: $140 a month for a lieutenant general to $2,274 a month. Privates got the smallest increase: $10 a month for a recruit undergoing basic training to $225 a month.

New pay scales for the reserves are to be announced later.

Three Survive Fire on Ship

FALMOUTH, England (CP) — A fire-crippled Norwegian ship with only three exhausted survivors, all of them officers, was towed into British waters today. Twenty-nine crew members are missing.

The bulk carrier crewmember caught fire after a reported explosion in the North Atlantic Nov. 2. She blazed for two days in heavy seas 400 miles south-east of Greenland.

A policeman said about 400 pounds of explosives were packed into the car.

Acting Mayor Monckhail, Ish Shalmon and top police and army commanders inspected the area.

Police crawled on their hands and knees, picking up every bit of blackened metal.

About 20 Jews were destroyed or damaged.

British Pound Escapes Change

BONN (CP) — West German Finance Minister Franz Josef Strauss said today the French franc will be devalued.

He told reporters outside a meeting of the West's 10 wealthiest countries that the French cabinet will decide the extent of devaluation. Informants said after Thursday's session that it appeared the franc would be reduced either by 10 per cent, from 20 U.S. cents to 18 cents, or by 15 per cent to 17 U.S. cents.

But in Paris, a well-informed source said earlier today the French government had accepted a proposal that the franc be devalued by less than 10 per cent.

A spokesman for the office of French Premier Maurice Couve de Murville said in Paris there would be no announcement until after the French cabinet meets on Saturday.

Strauss also announced that Britain would take measures to alleviate its own balance-of-payments deficit, but said he could give no details.

He said that Britain would not devalue the pound.

Britain will impose new taxes and tighten credit restrictions. To bolster the new value of the franc, the Group of 10, the leading non-Communist countries, was reported near agreement on conditions for standby credits totaling 6.5 million U.S. dollars.

Devaluation of the franc would be a severe blow to President Charles de Gaulle, celebrating his 70th birthday today. A week ago, he said devaluation would be "the worst possible abomination."

Premier Maurice Couve de Murville went to the Elysée Palace this morning to discuss the currency with de Gaulle.

West German sources said $1,000,000 of the credit line for France would come from Germany, the U.S., Italy and Britain. The U.S. Treasury would contribute $500,000, the United States $300,000, and Italy $200,000 and Britain $100,000.

He said another $500,000 would

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals upheld Thursday a Federal Communications Commission ruling that radio and television stations which carry disaster advertising must devote a significant amount of broadcast time in presenting the case against disaster funding.

WINDSOR, Que. (CP) — Striking employees of Ontario pulp and paper mills here and in nearby East Angus have rejected government conciliation proposals aimed at ending the walkout which began July 18.

ATHENS (AP) — The Greek military regime has decided to spare the life of Alexander Pavlou, accused chief in the government said Thursday night. He was wanted for trying to assassinate the premier of Greece.

Bomb Damages Montreal Store

MONTREAL (CP) — A small home-made bomb exploded early today in the basement of the downtown Eaton's department store. There were no injuries, but police estimated the damage at about $25,000.

The bomb, the third to go off in Montreal in less than 30 hours, had been placed in one of the lockers available to shoppers for temporary storage of their purchases.

About 20 employees on the night closing staff were in the store at the time of the blast — 3:40 a.m. — but none of them was anywhere near the vicinity of the locker.

A police spokesman said an elevator had been heavily damaged, but further details were not immediately available.

Alaska Officials Die in Accident

BARROW, Alaska (AP) — A two-engine plane carrying members of Alaska's employment advisory commission studying unemployment in Arctic villages crashed Thursday. Seven people were killed and an eighth was injured critically. The crash occurred 15 miles from the spot where hummer Will Rogers and sister Wilma Post were killed when their plane went down in a fog Aug. 3, 1935.

Kingston Candidate Says He Quits if Rival Barred

KINGSTON, Ont. (CP) — A.M. George Webb, a city mayor candidate, said Thursday night threatened to withdraw his name from the Dec. 2 ballot if A.M. Ernest Valerie Swain is ruled ineligible to contest the election.

"If my verdict adverse to my opponent comes out of this mess, I will summon Mayor Robert Gray and Mr. (cousin-cousin) T. J. McKinnon and tender my resignation from the majority council," Mr. Webb told a public meeting.

"I will then ask Mr. McKinnon to call new nominations for the office of mayor."

Mr. Swain refused to withdraw from the race Thursday despite a threatened court action by William T. Milne, a former Kingston mayor and alderman. He says Mr. Swain's role as a lawyer, elected city official and sitting acting Crown attorney for Frontenac County disqualifies him.

Mr. Webb and Mr. Swain are the only two candidates for the office.

New Blast Hits Mine Where 78 Men Trapped

MANNINGTON, W.Va. (AP) — A new explosion, sending flames shooting upward like a flash of lightning, hit a coal mine today where 78 men have been trapped in burning passageways for two days.

The blast at 2:30 a.m. EST shook the company store more than four miles away.

It was the latest in a chain of explosions that started Wednesday morning and trapped 78 of the 90 men working the vein-shaft in the Mountaineer Coal Co. No. 9 mine. The other 12 escaped.

Eleven Killed, 55 Hurt in Jerusalem

JERUSALEM (AP) — A man-made charge of explosives packed inside a parked car blasted a crowded market place in the Jewish sector of the Holy City today, killing 11 persons and wounding 55.

Witnesses, the market jammed with Jewish shoppers stocking up for the Sabbath weekend, was a scene of terror and chaos as hundreds fled in panic.

Police said 500 Arabs were injured.

Some Jews halted an Arab taxi, chased away the occupants and wrecked the car.

Others were heard shouting: "Kill the Arabs! kill the Arabs!"

The car was parked on Akko's Street, in the Marjeh Yehuda market area. It was blowing up when Jews were doing their Sabbath shopping.

A policeman said about 400 pounds of explosives were packed into the car.

Shalmon and top police and army commanders inspected the area.

Police crawled on their hands and knees, picking up every bit of blackened metal.

About 20 Jews were destroyed or damaged.

Striking A Note!

Quinte Secondary School students struck a new note in educational field trips yesterday. Some 40 classmates left for Quebec on excursion organized and financed by themselves.

Police Image

A United States observer has been taking a look at the police of his country and of Britain, and finds that "joshing humor" is one of the factors that set the British apart from the U.S. and other world forces.

Moreover, while violent crime is on the rise in Britain as elsewhere, the police are unarmored and prefer to remain that way. So long as the police are unarmed, the public and apparently the majority of underworld members know they are all on an equal footing.

In dealing with mass demonstrations the British exhibit of good humor and restraint has been paying dividends. Describing how 800 officers held back an attempt by 6,000 marchers to storm the U.S. Embassy in London last month, for the most part by simply linking arms, Robert Toth of the Los Angeles Times had this to say: "No one who was present can doubt the viciousness of the marchers. Provocations were sufficient to ramp up riots in Chicago. But at the end of the day, the last diehard marchers and the final group of defending police officers are said to have sung Auld Lang Syne together."

Police training encourages officers to take a humorous view in their dealings with the public and with demonstrators. And it seems to come natural to the British "Bobby." Toth relates that when a student burned a British flag in front of a police line, a constable observed: "Now it takes a university education to learn to do that."

United States police, meanwhile, are working to improve their image. One feature of a broad new program instituted by Los Angeles chief Thomas Reddin is waving young people. And it is to be noted at this point where one officer commented wryly: "I'm warning my arm out, waving at kids who want to be arrested."

This is the kind of spirit that needs to be restored in the United States. Public and law enforcement must establish more rapport. The police of the United States and the younger generation is a good place to start.

'No' Again To Peking

The annual international farce regarding the admission of Communist China to the United Nations is now in its ninth year.

The 38-member General Assembly has just rejected the 16-power resolution that Peking government and expel the Nationalist Chinese of Formosa by a vote of 58 against 44 for and 10 abstentions. This is the eighth year in succession that the Assembly has said no to Peking.

Canada, meanwhile, keeps talking about the possibility of establishing diplomatic relations with Red China. But that is all it is—talk. There is not even so much as a hint whether Peking desires recognition by Ottawa. China wants to manage very well without formal ties. Nor has this prevented us from selling large quantities of wheat in that area. If you want to come, well, come, but let us know Ottawa should quit speculating on the subject until it has something more concrete to offer.

Boone To Bardot

Remember Pat Boone? You know kids change. Well, Boone is now a daddy. After all he's 34 and that's old, man, and admittedly it's a fair while since we heard him doing his thing if you'll pardon the word.

Anyway, he was on television, the other night—as a guest, singing a piece during the Country Music Award night. Sure there were other big names around, but Boone and his wife Dina Evans, both 36, doing the introductions, but of course young woman Jean Seberg, 21, and Gene Campbell was one to be proud of. And several years ago Boone Riley, a wife of a girl with a strong voice who has ridden to fame on a lusty number called Honey Valley P.T.A.

And so it goes. The entertainment scene is as fascinating as it is agrestic. The faces may change, but the melody lingers on (and even some of the faces). Of the new ones, there is Jimmy Durante (now 75), and even the old growler himself, Crosby, and Frank Sinatra, whose younger brother, Bob, keeps going, there is hope for the rest of us.

And who was that sweet young thing with the smouldering eyes, pouring mouth and long blonde tresses in an hour or so? The other night? B.B. You know kids. ... Bardot. Or do you? She's 34 now, you know. And that's old, man.

French Extravagance Sparked European Monetary Crisis

By RANDOLPH MORRISON

Charles Pless Staff Writer
France's currency crisis is essentially a Germany-France problem. It also shows the effects of the monetary and the monetary system's monetary system.

The system was launched into that dream period of post-war idealism when the world's leaders figured they finally had found a way to manage the world's currencies and how to relate one national currency to another in a reasonable and orderly way.

By 1944, however, currencies were the aim of the International Monetary Fund and in most cases the fund sought its goals. But it broke down, especially when the world leaders refused to bow to the monetary or the monetary system.

West Germany built up its economic strength by living modestly at home while developing big export markets through products the world wants. The result is a huge surplus of exports over imports and an overvalued currency and foreign currencies and gold.

France, next door, also built up a big surplus of exports. But the French tried to use it as a currency reserve against the dollar.

At the same time this people tried against austerity and demanded a bigger share of the global cake. When de Gaulle finally agreed, the economic storm broke. Business leaders, economists, investors and the ordinary men of the street soon found their money was being weakened through uncontrolled inflation.

The West German mark took a little time to get back to its old French and trade them for marks, a ruling was issued by the International Monetary Fund.

West Germany is a free market. France is a free market. The French tried to use it as a currency reserve against the dollar.

West Germany built up its economic strength by living modestly at home while developing big export markets through products the world wants. The result is a huge surplus of exports over imports and an overvalued currency and foreign currencies and gold.

France, next door, also built up a big surplus of exports. But the French tried to use it as a currency reserve against the dollar.

At the same time this people tried against austerity and demanded a bigger share of the global cake. When de Gaulle finally agreed, the economic storm broke.

Business leaders, economists, investors and the ordinary men of the street soon found their money was being weakened through uncontrolled inflation.

The West German mark took a little time to get back to its old French and trade them for marks, a ruling was issued by the International Monetary Fund.

France's currency crisis is essentially a Germany-France problem. It also shows the effects of the monetary and the monetary system's monetary system.

The system was launched into that dream period of post-war idealism when the world's leaders figured they finally had found a way to manage the world's currencies and how to relate one national currency to another in a reasonable and orderly way.

By 1944, however, currencies were the aim of the International Monetary Fund and in most cases the fund sought its goals. But it broke down, especially when the world leaders refused to bow to the monetary or the monetary system.

Confiding in Someone Decreases Problems

By DORIS CLARK
We need a special Someone to talk to, to ease our most difficult of us. There are crisis times when sudden feelings and thoughts can make the difference between severity and going wacky. An understanding friend, whose only name is "Joan" was mentioned in a newsletter from the Scientific Astrology Centre:
"On the scientific, the inexpressible content of feeling will be person — having neither to weigh thoughts measure words, but pouring out the heart. Just as they are chief and grain together, (feelings) faithful friends are affluents, keeping what is within, and with the breath of comfort, the real rest."
Dear Doris: Our son is getting married and we have been informed by the bride's parents that this is a 50/50 affair. We pay half the cost and do half of the cooking. These people say it will cost less if we do all the cooking ourselves. I have to do a lot of cooking for ourselves, as all our relatives are out of town.

So I cannot see how I can cook four turkeys, four eggs and food cakes, nine jellied salads, bread, and other things that I want, along with all of my own and other preparations for the wedding and still stay sane. Every time I think about it I find me "crazy."
What I would like to know is, who puts up the wedding? The bride is a very nice girl and she has very much. I've seen before what disagreements between in-laws would do to a wedding. Someone is bound to get hurt. Who does who?
Dear Wives: I can't imagine where anyone would get such an idea. From time immemorial the family of the bride — in Canada — has put on the whole show. The groom is supposed to collect his beloved from her home, where a ceremony and celebration are held to the bride's home.

If others contribute to the feast, it is because they offer so. I have seen home weddings where a neighbor brings a dish, or a friend brings a decoration, and an aunt (of the bride) sends about a carton of fresh mushrooms for the party ball main course. It is not unusual for the groom's father to help out with beverages. Select what you want to prepare and contribute without obligation, and discuss it all personally with the bride's mother.

Dear Doris: I wrote to you recently and got a reply about taking a broadcasting course.

The problem now is that: I have had 16 education. My mother says a news reporter must have at least grade 12 or college. The man from the home study says I can take a home study course and they will accept a grade 10 applicant with my qualifications when I graduate. Mom says it's no good, and they're just after my money.
Can I get a job with having grade 10 education after I graduate? — Please Help.
Dear Phyllis: Couldn't say. There are good home study agencies, Canadian government approved, and there are no good ones which cost a lot.

Kitchen Tested Recipes Homemade Chicken Soup for 12

By MARY MOORE
QUESTION: I am interested in good homemade soup such as chicken. — Mrs. W. B.
ANSWER: An idea you asked, for a high school teacher requested the same thing two days ago. She likes to buy a package of chicken backs from the meat counter and soup because they are so economical.
I have mailed to you direct my recipe for homemade minestrone and potato soup because they have been requested time and again by our soup-making readers.

sal and simmer covered until meat easily separates from bones. Pour through colander or large strainer over large pot and chill strained broth. In a tray or platter carefully remove all little bones from pieces of skin from chicken meat and discard them. Reserve meat. I had 1 1/2 cups. Skin is fat from chilled broth. Return chicken meat to broth and add all remaining ingredients and simmer until the barley is tender. You must taste this soup to be sure it has enough salt to please your taste. Obviously you may add any salt amounts of leftover cooked vegetables from other meals.

This soup is thick and rich and adequate to serve as a main course with crusty French bread or rolls.

Ann Landers Mom Continuously Irritated Needs Help

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I've admitted to talking to my minister about my son's problem. When I tried to discuss it with him on two occasions he gave me some simple examples of tranquillizers and said, "Try these. All mothers who talk to him when their children are in trouble."
My children are 2 1/2 and 4 1/2 years old. They are driving me crazy. Every morning I awake to be pleased and grumpy with them. My son is shuffling my head off and pushing of my hair. By nightfall I'm crying again. "Dear God, please forgive me for being so impatient with my children."

Why must children test their mothers to the limit of their tolerance? Do they ever learn to do as they are told the first time? I've read that parents have to please their parents. I don't believe it. Mine have received a great deal more love and attention than most yet they seem determined to ignore me and all that.

Sometimes I don't think I'll make it through the next three months when they both will be in school. Can you say anything that will help me keep my sanity? Please try. — FALLING APART.

DEAR FALLING: Every mother has bad days and such days should be expected. But if you are having weeks and months of frustration, screaming and pushing forward by will, feelings and periods of depression, you need outside help. Tranquillizers are no answer.

Many cities have counselling programs offered through mental health clinics. Some are free, others charge a nominal fee. Write to the National Association for Mental Health, Inc., 3 Columbus Circle, New York, N.Y. 10019.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: My sister's son, Tim, is going into the service next month. He and his wife have been married less than six months. A family dispute has arisen over where Tex's wife should stay. She cannot afford to keep the apartment.
The girl is 17 and has less sense than my Annapolis cat. She was to move in with a girl friend whose husband left for Vietnam two months ago.

I say the child belongs with her parents. Alone, wouldn't it be a good idea if she went back to high school and got a little more education? Please don't tell me to M.O.B. The mother is a widow and has asked for my advice. I told her I was no Ann Landers but I offered to write for your opinion. Please help. — STUMPED.

DEAR STUMPED: Of course the girl would be better off with her parents and it would be a good idea if she returned to school. But she's a married woman now (from your cat has more sense) and nobody can tell her what to do. Suggest it (in a low key manner) and hope she listens.

Confidential to Will. HE OR WON'T HE? My guess is he won't. Why should he? The message was simple.

Police Seize Marijuana Worth $250,000 in Toronto Raid

TORONTO (CP) — Police raided a downtown bistro and seized 100 pounds of marijuana, valued at $250,000, in a raid on Thursday.

The Toronto men were charged with conspiracy to import narcotics. They were held in the city.

Richard Street just as three large green garbage bags of marijuana were being carried out. The raiding party also seized imported drums.

Minimum sentence on conviction of conspiracy to import narcotics is seven years. The police said details of the arrests and investigation have been called to Interpol for action in Kenya.

RCMP spokesman said there were definite indications of at least one earlier shipment which had disappeared apparently into the Toronto market.

When the drums had been cleared of the marijuana they were converted to lampshades in a Toronto shop and sold as curios in a number of stores. The drums were fashioned of cowhide stretched over a wooden frame and tied with gold lacing.

Wealthy Speculators Profit From Nations' Money Woes

By KEN SMITH

Canadian Press Business Editor

It's an ill-mannered world to someone.

Just who the profiteers are in the latest European money troubles, may never be known, since they hide behind tight-lipped agents and secret Swiss bank accounts.

But they are the same type of people—if not the same people—who were dubbed "the princes of Zurich" during the huge push against the United States dollar and the British pound last March, when they sought millions of dollars worth of gold in a bet that the yellow metal would be worth more than paper currency.

Their gamble was headed off then when the major currency countries of the world agreed to set up a twofold system for pricing gold.

One law remains the official level of $35 an ounce U.S. and covers transactions between central banks of participating countries.

ties such as the Bank of England or the U.S. Federal Reserve Bank.

The other covers the price on the private market and fluctuates, in response to ordinary supply and demand conditions.

Now, they are betting that the West German mark will soon be worth more than it now is and that the French franc will be worth less.

As a result, they are shifting their holdings into the mark in hopes of making it on the anticipated greater value, and out of the franc to try to make sure they don't lose anything.

By any standard, such speculators are cold-blooded and selfish to an almost incredible degree.

In order to increase the size of their bank books—which have to be huge, or they couldn't afford to play in the league—they deliberately add to the already staggering difficulties West Germany and France are facing in trying to maintain an orderly monetary situation, by keeping Franc Libre?

OTTAWA (CP) — The French monetary crisis is providing some delicious food for parliamentary comment here.

M.A.S. Gallman (NDP—Waterloo) suggested in the Commons on Thursday that Canada "take a charitable attitude" and offer France a loan.

"You mean something like the preexisting 'vive le franc libre' or something like that?" Prime Minister Trudeau replied to a roar of laughter.

MPs have had it in for France since 1967 when President de Gaulle issued "vive le Quebec libre" while in Montreal.

pressure on through their deal.

They have been ignoring official details from both governments that nothing will happen to the currencies—as they did last March.

While these speculators have never been identified, they were described last March as men with enough resources to be able to lever literally billions of dollars to put pressure in direction of their want—their wealth.

The deal through small and little-known European banking houses and, hidden behind agents, the open currency markets of the world. Their pressure against the mark and the franc has forced the closing of major European monetary markets this week.

Even countries can get into the position of speculating on the downfall of another.

During last March's crisis, France was bitterly condemned in the U.S. for its determined push to double the price of gold.

Such a step would have meant automatically the devaluing of the U.S. dollar—as well as every currency that measures itself against the dollar, including Canada's.

The infamous monetary system is breaking up before our eyes, said Jacques Rueff, described in March as France's top general in the war against U.S. dollars.

You have to work at being a good hockey fan.

Anyone can lay down their back and a quarter, but it takes something more to consider yourself a contributor to the moral support that is such a vital force behind any successful team.

A successful team doesn't necessarily have to blaze its way through an undefeated season, place five players on an all-star team, or even play in a palace of arenas.

What is required is a 100 per cent effort by each member of the team in every game they play.

Only 600 people turned up at the arena Tuesday night to see a 100 per cent performance by the Belleville Blackhawks.

Those 600 persons were, in the main, GOOD hockey fans—they knew full well there was a chance the Blackhawks could continue a five-game losing streak. But they were there.

We wonder how many of these that stick-and-choose the Blackhawks games will sit around realize how important crowd support is to the future of senior hockey in Belleville.

Not just from a financial viewpoint, but also considering the things that run through a player's mind when he steps onto the ice to find a harder working section behind the visiting team's bench than his own.

A group of GOOD hockey fans, trying to establish the back of a booster organization for the Blackhawks, have run smack into what I call Belleville's "stale" syndrome.

Here's what I mean: analyzing the pinnacle of world amateur hockey success in a 1953 appeared to mark the beginning of a decline in the spirit of the local sporting community.

Not because of the almost familiar financial ramifications, but because the Macs At All apparently branched as support for all time in this city senior hockey is particular, and most unfortunately in the past.

(Some would go so far as to include all public-related projects).

This is why the small group trying to form a booster club to support the Blackhawks as enjoyable as possible—win or lose—find themselves confronted with people who have yet to realize that the days of senior hockey as a money-maker for either players, or management, are over.

Club directors have told me that anyone who is not aware how easy it is to lose money invested in senior hockey is invited to examine the Blackhawks books. One was even saying with the idea of pointing the defuncted riders to a Belleville bank.

The situation of people not going to hockey games because they are apathetic as to the reasons the team is losing money is a common one indeed. If more of them were there more often, the team might not be losing money.

It's a vicious circle that leads to low crowds, lower team morale, and eventually, no more senior hockey.

And playing in the shadow of these world championship pursuits, any senior hockey club in this city will have to endure being considered to the team that took it all.

Then there are the rumormongers, the pessimists who have had the Blackhawks involved in everything from a mutiny to losing operations entirely.

They're the ones who have no trouble backing a winner, but no also-ran?—no thank you.

Idea are a much better investment in senior hockey's future than apathy, and some of the Mac's boosting projects being considered by the small circle of diehard supporters include a special children and students price list; calling the team the "Quiet Blackhawks"; and possibly playing exhibition games in other Ontario area centers; purchasing badly-needed new sweaters for the team; rental of a hall for post-game social hours with the players and, of course, seeing that everybody who is hockey-loving brother has a Mac-Hawk boosting badge in his lapel.

The people who are volunteering their time in any senior hockey team on an optimistic level are doing as entirely on their own.

Anyone wanting to make the job start and senior hockey more enjoyable could start by phoning 962-2500, or 962-2600.

Penny's Jockey Colleagues Fail to Show

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — A "disappointing and disgusted" Penny Ann Early, thwarted by her latest attempt to become America's first woman (jockey) track thoroughbred jockey, said she did not intend to give up.

Miss Early, 25, was scheduled to ride Wilkes in Thursday's ninth race at Churchill Downs, but the race was cancelled because riders could not be found for the other horses in the race.

At the time, Early said she would not give up. "I have no respect for them as riders or men," Miss Early said after the race had been called off. "None of them could look me in the eye."

Early said she intends to remain available to ride through Saturday, the last day of the fall meet at Churchill Downs. After Saturday, Miss Early said she would not give up for a short while, then go to California and apply for a jockey license there. "I hope it's different," she said about California. "I hope they've got a different class of people there."

Individual jockeys had threatened to boycott any race in which Miss Early was entered, but she was replaced another horse by the regular jockey.

Pass Rangers

Gump-work Boosts Habs

By SCOTT BUTTON

Canadian Press Staff Writer

Remember Gump Worley? That fat little guy who has made his living as a National Hockey League referee for so many years now?

Well despite his age and round physique, Worley still is efficient enough to play goal for the Eastern Division.

The 39-year-old netminder picked up his first shutout this season and the 36th of his NHL career Thursday night to help Montreal Canadiens defeat Philadelphia Flyers 2-0.

The victory, watched by 11,300 fans at the Spectrum in Philadelphia, moved the Canadiens one point ahead of the runner-up New York Rangers in the East.

The shutout was especially gratifying to Worley because Rogatien Vachon, younger and slimmer, has played more frequently than Worley the last couple of years.

Some fans had even criticised Worley as a second-stringer, designed to play only if Vachon was injured or tired.

In their NHL game Thursday, Boston Bruins moved back into third place in the Eastern Division with a 4-1 triumph against Los Angeles Kings and Pittsburgh Penguins downed Oakland Seals 3-1.

T.V. Canadians, defending Stanley Cup champions, retained goal by Bobby Rousseau in the first period, John Ferguson in the second and Gilles Tremblay in the third.

Worley kicked out 22 Philadelphia shots in recording his second victory in as many nights. He was in goal Wednesday when the Canadiens edged Detroit Red Wings 2-0.

The Canadiens held a definite advantage in play, firing 40 shots at Philadelphia goalie Bernie Parent.

Jean Beliveau picked up one assist for the Canadiens to move into a second-place tie with Red Berenson of St. Louis Blues in the scoring race. Bobi have 25 points, six each of Bobby Hull of Chicago Black Hawks.

The Bruins moved one point ahead of Toronto Maple Leafs with their victory against Los Angeles in front of 14,818 Boston fans.

Fred Stanfield scored two goals for Boston and Eddie Shack and Phil Esposito added one each. Bill Flett scored the Los Angeles goal.

The Bruins dominated play, outshooting the Kings 30-18. Los Angeles had only one shot on Boston goalkeeper Gerry Cheevers in the second period.

The Kings took a 1-0 lead in the first period on Phil's goal, then the Bruins took over.

The last goal, Los Angeles in fourth place in the Western Division. A crowd of only 2,556 at Pittsburgh witnessed an unusual sight—a Penguin victory.

Defenceman Lou Rivin scored on a 60-footer at 5:16 of the second period to break a 1-1 tie and give the Penguins their third win in 17 attempts this season.

Despite the victory, the last-place Penguins still fell place Oakland by three points in the Western Division.

Gene Urechio and Dunc McCallum scored the other Pittsburgh goals while Boston Ferguson tallied for the Seals.

There are no games scheduled tonight, but all 12 teams are action during the weekend.

LOOKS BUSY, BUT HE WASN'T — Bruce Gamble, Toronto Maple Leafs' goalie, was caught during one of his infrequent busy periods in the first stanza of a National Hockey League game in Toronto Wednesday night. Here he kicks aside a shot by Penguin winger Charlie Burns, the only shot that came close to the net in the first period. (CP Photo)

Imlach Ushers Out Longtime Leaf Trainer

TORONTO (CP) — Manager coach Punch Imlach of Toronto Maple Leafs has named Bob Haggert from the team's dressing room apparently because of the former trainer's connection with the National Hockey League Players' Association.

Imlach refused to allow Haggert into the Maple Leafs' dressing room Wednesday night.

dressing room Wednesday night when Haggert, 34, and his wife arrived for the NHL game into the Maple Leaf Gardens' press room.

"I kind of expected it," Haggert said Thursday in an interview. "I know how he operates."

Haggert was Imlach's trainer for eight years before quitting last July.

When Haggert, 34, and his wife arrived for the NHL game Wednesday night, he was in Toronto and Pittsburgh Penguins, an unofficially blocked his entrance to the press room and he was not allowed in the dressing room.

Haggert said he expected Imlach's action after it was announced Tuesday the NHL Players' Association had appointed the Licensing Corporation of America to represent it in the merchandising, licensing, and personal appearances field.

The Toronto office of Sports Representatives Ltd., headed by Haggert, represents the Licensing Corporation of America in Canada.

Belleville Grads Make Mark on Grids

By MALCOLM JOHNSTON
Staff Reporter

A trio of recent Belleville Secondary School graduates made their mark in the college football world this fall.

Harold Townsend of Quinte ran up an impressive record, scored a touchdown for Dalhousie Tigers of the Atlantic Conference; Terry Wellesley of Quinte performed as an offensive halfback on the Freeman squad at the University of Columbia at the same time, handled punt and kickoff return for Dalhousie Tigers.

At Colgate Secondary School, Harold earned points in class and on the playing field. In 1966 he was chosen Quinte's O.G. stand-out player.

Harold's list of athletic accomplishments is lengthy, there are a few All-Ontario wrestling champions last year in 1955, three All-Canadian basketballers on Quins' basketball team which won three Bay of Quinte Football titles and a C.O.S.A.A. championship in 1960; Ontario's water skiing champion on the 150 foot; and four years of Junior "B" hockey here in Belleville.

Terry Wellesley is attending the University of Colorado on a full football scholarship which covers tuition, books, room and board.

After attracting the attention of football scouts as an outstanding halfback with last year's Bay of Quinte champion Quins, he is attending the University of Colorado on a full football scholarship.

While attending both Quins and Colorado from about a does available to him.

In the event that he decides to play professional football in Canada, he will become the property of the Ottawa club, who feel that U.S. colleges are a better training and proving ground for professional football players than Canadian colleges.

Terry is first-string halfback on offense and has also played some defensive halfback for the Colorado freshmen.

While attending both Quins and BCU, Terry was also a sprint star in track and a basketball player.

Randy Bartley, who plays in the Eastern Division of the Central Canada Intercollegiate Football Conference, was a record with 18 pass interceptions in six games while holding the reputation to 40 points. Randy played defensive half on this squad and performed effectively, although overwhelmed by two backfield mates who were named to the Eastern Division all-star team.

Randy also returned kicks on a number of occasions who compiled a 42 season's record.

A Grade 13 graduate from Belleville Secondary School in 1966, Randy was offensive end and defensive halfback on the Trojans football squad. He also participated in basketball and track for the Trojans.

Stretch Lead

Petes Lose Captain in Win

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Peterborough Petes have built up a six-point, first-place lead over their opponents in the Ontario Hockey Association Junior A series and they may need it.

The Petes went six points in front Thursday night with an easy 6-3 victory over London Knights. But the win may prove too costly.

Trevor Conn, the Petes' high-scoring captain, left the game in the third period with a leg injury after scoring two goals.

The injury may put him out of action indefinitely.

In the other game Thursday, Montreal Junior Canadiens dumped Hamilton Red Wings 4-0 before 1,132 fans at Hamilton. The win moved the Petes to within a single point of the Red Wings and Toronto Marlboros, who share fourth place.

Rick MacEachie also scored two goals for the Petes, who posted their first game grip over Niagara Falls Flyers and St. Catharines Black Hawks, who were tied. Dale Power and Paul Peters also scored for Peterborough.

John Gould, Greg Bradbury and Neil Nicholson replied for the seventh place game.

The Petes had a 25-10 lead in shots, including a 22-shot salvo on the London net during the opening 20 minutes.

Guy Charron and Rejean Houde scored twice for the Junior A Canadiens, who opened up a 1-0 lead in the second period.

Single goals were added by Jean Pierre Berdeau, Elie Gervais and Raymond Renaud for the Red Wings.

Tom Williams and Gord Brooks replied for the Red Wings.

Hamilton's 11th in 12th place. Rutherford was forced to leave early in the third period when he was struck in the throat on a shot by Berdeau. His replacement, Rick Puhala, allowed three Montreal goals.

When safety is the game

Snow Cruiser is the name

It isn't difficult to build a fast snowmobile. The problem is to build a fast, snowmobile. Oxbow Marine has added more safety features to the Snow Cruiser. There's new wide rubber tracks that give you up to 1/4 inch of traction... safety traction... a control that puts you in neutral for safe, easy every time... a 100% safety check completely excludes the engine, no moving parts near the driver... a new reverse gear... a self-cleaning, let go and the machine stops by itself. And Snow Cruiser's 42 hooks stop you positively.

If you want high-speed, dependable performance, combined with family safety, try a wide-track Snow Cruiser. Set model for $9,900 including engine starting and reverse gear. Choose your new one at 1/4 inch or the machine stops by itself. And Snow Cruiser's 42 hooks stop you positively.

Flapjacks A Feature of 1948 Grey Cup Day in Toronto

TORONTO (CP) — There were square dances, gaudy cowboy shirts, Indian songs, and hot flapjacks being served from chuckwagons on Toronto streets 20 years ago.

On Nov. 25, 1948, 300 flapjacks arrived from Calgary to support the Stampede in the Grey Cup game the next day in a battle for the Canadian football championship.

The Alberta football confederation, boasting with pride on Calgary's first trip to the Grey Cup contest, made a special trip to 300 miles—three days and two nights—to do it.

The western blow-out, which reached a frenzy when the Calgary Stampeders' Alvin "Rough Riders" 127, changed the Grey Cup picture forever. A winning party had been added, as an accessory to a football meal.

The discreet confines of the Royal York Hotel, traditional headquarters for Grey Cup Week festivities, were reverberated to the sound of western music and the clang of cowbells while Toronto girls were lassoed by whooping cowboys.

was busy serving up the goal posts and selling souvenir shirts for $2 each. But when the singing started he gave up money for music.

Toronto residents obviously liked what they saw. When the Calgary band returned the following November to cheer the Stampede in the 1949 Grey Cup game—Montreal Alouettes won 29-18—they were greeted with cheers.

"We are glad to see you back," said Toronto Mayor Hiram (Rock) McCallum.

Now, after 20 years it is wilderness, the Stampede are back and Calgary's Grey Cup parade committee is planning a real bash. The chuckwagons and addressees are on their way.

The 51st Grey Cup will be Wednesday night with a 2:15 win over Saskatchewan Roughriders in overtime to capture the best-of-three Western Football Conference final in straight games.

The 1948 Stampede had a tougher time in the WFFC final, losing 17-16 to the Oilers with Saskatchewan. The first game was a 44-24 draw and Calgary took the second 17-6 on a couple of touchdowns by Keith Kusky.

The Grey Cup game itself was a hard-fought classic. Ottawa held a 14-10 lead into the final moments of the fourth quarter.

Then a lateral by Rider quarter-back Bobby Palfrey to Free Kerkow went astray on the 54-yard line. Woody Storde, who now owns his movie as a movie actor, picked up the ball for a few yards and then tossed a lateral to Chuck Kusky.

Storde's lateral was in the Ottawa backfield and on the next play Free Thode's story into the end zone for the clinching points.

Gaels Rated Goliaths

TORONTO (CP) — Football fans at myosotis in a n o s s i t a l e y usually assembly called the Grey Cup, has struck Ontario's capital one week early.

The occasion is the College Bowl which is expected to draw more than 20,000 fans into Varsity Stadium tonight to watch players from two Ontario universities battle for Canada's college championship.

The attraction, with the Varsity Cup going to the winner: Leathers Golden Hawks, Leathers Golden Hawks, Leathers Golden Hawks.

The game is a "David and Goliath" confrontation between the Golden Hawks, with a student body of only 2,400, are matched against a team regarded as number one in the country.

Backed by a huge alumni, the Golden Hawks meet their younger rivals from Waterloo with an impressive record, including a 36-0 win against the strong University of Toronto Blue.

The Gaels jumped University of Manitoba Blues 24-0 last Saturday in the Western Canada Bowl at Winnipeg.

Wheelchair Team Returns

MONTREAL (CP) — Canada's representatives to the recent wheelchair Olympics at Tel Aviv, Israel, arrived here Thursday "exhausted" by the Olympics.

The Stoke Mandeville Wheelchair Games—the premier name—are held each Olympic year and usually at the same site as the regular Olympics.

However, Mexican officials were unable to accommodate the 703 paraplegic participants from 29 countries and the site was shifted to Israel.

It was the first time the Canadian wheelchair team to the Games held Nov. 3-14, and the contingent of 25 men and women athletes returned home with a total of 19 medals—five gold, six silver and seven bronze.

Barber Trims 'Cajun' Course

LAFAYETTE, La. (AP) — Nipper Barber trimmed Oaklawn Country Club's 6,500 yards with a seven-under-par 65, Tuesday, good for the first round in the $35,000 Cajun Classic — final step for title in the PGA tour.

He had a one-stroke lead on Dan Sikes, Dave Stockton, Frank Byrnes and Sam Carmichael.

Much of the talk at the Cajun Classic centered around the feud in pro golf. The leading pros, shapshot with the PGA, planned to put on their own tour next year at the American Professional Golfers.

The APG posted a commitment: Let Thursday be their $100,000-plus Las Vegas Open, once a year event, and the first tourney of 1969.

At the end of the talk at the Cajun Classic, the list, including Barber, Stockton, Byrnes, Sikes, Frank Beard and Carder, Dickinson, Jr., president of the rebel group.

which he has been an active member since 1958.

One of his training chores with the Argos is to whip up a batch of home-made soup for the team after practice.

Prophet, commenting on his association with the players, showed an fatherly manner in kind, "a terrific bunch of kids."

He said head coach Len Cahill "is tremendous," and that is why we have a good team. The Argos are a very spirited club with "a lot of toughness instilled in them."

He added that Cahill's program of calisthenics makes the players do more stretching, thus building better muscles. The conditioning may have helped to hold together the number of major injuries

Pistons Not Pumping

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

LOU Hudson pumped in 30 points and led a balanced Alouettes attack to a 19-13 victory over Detroit Pistons in the National Basketball Association action at Detroit Thursday.

Dave Bing scored 24 for the Pistons.

In the only other game, Chicago Bulls held off a late Milwaukee lery rally and won 100-111.

Clem Haskins and Bob Borer scored 25 points each for the Milwaukee Bulls. Pop Rodgers paced the Hawks with 29.

Miles of Tape, Own Broth Are His Contributions to Argos

TORONTO (CP) — While rhapsody is compiled on the tape of a football game, the Argos are wrapped up in the dressing room.

While Toronto Argos half-back Bill Symons was busy running for more than 1,000 yards this season, head trainer Len Cahill's assistant, Prophet, applied some 40 miles of adhesive tape on players and uniforms.

Prophet, 41, who handles the training duties of the Argos, is also boss of equipment.

Prophet's training career started 18 years ago when playing hockey at Indianapolis in 1951. He then became head trainer of Indianapolis.

SOLANAR TABLETS WILL PUT YOU TO SLEEP

The schedule of Solunar periods, as printed below, has been taken from Mrs. Richard Alden's Solunar Tables, which show you that you will be fishing in good territory every time you fish. It is the best book that you can have to find the best spot that each day has to offer.

The Major Periods are shown in bold type. These begin at the times shown and last for an hour and a half or two hours thereafter. The Minor Periods, shown in regular type, are of somewhat shorter duration.

Use Eastern Standard Time.

Biafran Scores UN Team

TORONTO (CP) — A senior Biafran army officer said Thursday he has lost faith in the reports and objectives of the United Nations military observer team in Nigeria.

Lt-Col. Akpan Baisey said in an interview that Biafra repeatedly has asked the team which includes Canada's Lt. Col. E. B. Pennington to leave Nigerian-held territory and look at conditions from the Biafran side.

"We have said to them over and over again—if you want to come in, come . . . Their response has been that they can see no point to it."

Lt-Col. Baisey said the observers visited the village of Urua Iyanga where Nigerian troops allegedly mortared and machine-gunned the market place, killing 50 and injuring hundreds more, and found no evidence of the shooting.

"The people they questioned from Urua Iyanga were all on the federal side," he said. "They did not make any attempt to get information from the other side."

He is part of a three-man delegation from Biafra visiting North America to appeal for help for the breakaway country. Others are Chief Justice Gabriel Odiaka and novelist Chinua Achebe.

They arrived here Thursday from New York and hope to arrange a meeting with Prime Minister Trudeau.

France Denies Arms Sent

OTTAWA (CP) — The French Embassy repeated Thursday the French government's denial that it has been shipping arms to Biafra, the breakaway Nigerian province.

Prime Minister Trudeau, during an informal conversation with university students at the Ottawa Parliament Hill Oct. 28, said that France was not sending arms to Biafra.

Informed by a reporter Thursday of the revelation of the French denial, a spokesman for the prime minister's office said: "If the French Ministry says they are not supplying arms, we are prepared to accept this, of course."

He added that the prime minister "had been referring to press reports" in his Halifax remark.

MPs Urge Canada Mediate

OTTAWA (CP) — Two members of Parliament returned to Ottawa Friday night after two weeks in Nigeria determined to see Canada play the role of mediator between the federal government of Nigeria and the breakaway state of Biafra.

Robert Stewart, Liberal MP for Cochrane, Ont., and Lerne Mitchell, NDP member for Yorkton-Melville, Sask., said they believe Canada is the one country that both sides trust enough to serve as mediator.

Extension Of Un Relief To Arabs Urged

UNITED NATIONS (AP) — The United States called Thursday for an extension of three more years of the mandate of the United Nations Relief and Works Agency for Palestine refugees in the Middle East.

In a resolution submitted to the United Nations General Assembly's special political committee, the U.S. also asked "as a matter of urgency" that all governments consider increasing their contributions to the 20-year-old relief agency.

UNRWA has some 1,364,000 refugees registered with it.

The UNRWA mandate, which expires June 30, 1969, would be extended to June 30, 1972, under the proposed U.S. resolution.

The Franc: Not A Question of When But How Much

PARIS (AP)—President Charles de Gaulle remained mum today about devaluation of the franc. But much of the world considered it a foregone conclusion, and was only waiting for much the same French currency would drop.

West Germany's finance minister, Franz Josef Strauss, spoke Friday as if devaluation of the franc had already been decided.

But the word "devaluation" has not been pronounced in public by any French official. It will be a fact until de Gaulle says so.

Although devaluation would help the credit of the franc, de Gaulle might make a television announcement during the weekend. He scheduled a special cabinet meeting today.

Strauss made his statement at the end of a long meeting of the Group of 10, the central bankers of France, Germany, the United Kingdom, the Netherlands, Belgium, Luxembourg, Italy, and Sweden.

Strauss said the Group of 10 would meet again in Brussels at the end of the month to discuss the devaluation of the franc.

Western world's 10 richest non-Communist countries, together with Switzerland and the Bank of International Settlements on effects of a drop in the French franc.

For additional stories see page 8.

The meeting was called after speculators began a run on the franc. Agreement was reached at the session to extend France's $10,000,000 credit line to the United Kingdom.

French sources at the meeting in Bonn said the devaluation would be around 10 per cent.

from the present level of 10 U.S. cents to 10 cents. The franc is worth about 25 Canadian cents.

At the meeting, de Gaulle probably sees the German mark as the worst threat to international monetary stability. It has become so powerful in terms of the amount of goods it will buy in Germany, that it has crept ahead in purchasing power of the franc, the British pound and the American dollar.

For months, some countries have been urging West Germany to revalue the mark or in terms of foreign currency.

West Germany, selling its rich machinery, had small diplomatic, had decided to stay out.

There have been indications that West Germany views its strong mark as a lever with which to pry diplomatic concessions from its Western allies.

Racial Arrest Students B.C. College In-Strife

Racial Disorder Closes 3 Colleges

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Racial disorders have closed three U.S. colleges until at least after the Thanksgiving holidays. Security forces guarded all approaches to Blufford State College in West Virginia which was closed indefinitely after a bomb blast ripped out of the physical education building.

No one was allowed on campus without a police pass. Classes were cancelled and the school's 1,600 students sent home following the Thursday night explosion, the latest in a series of incidents including death threats and vandalism.

Strife Haunts School

BURNABY, B.C. (CP)—Unarmed police officers today gave about 150 militant students 30 minutes to get out of the Simon Fraser University administrative building and arrested about 90 who remained.

There were no reports of trouble on the night of the five-story building, riddled by about 100 policemen, and were herded into paddy wagons and buses and taken from the campus.

A police spokesman said that those arrested would be charged under Section 775 of the Criminal Code of Canada, which covers damage to property and obstruction of property.

Passengers Ferried to Safety From Ditched Jetliner Jet Crash One In Million

SAN FRANCISCO (CP)—Officials began an investigation today from Tokyo, belied into the foggy shadows of the bay, three hours after the runway at San Francisco International Airport.

The National Transportation Safety Board said in Washington, that it was the first successful ditching since jetliners began operations almost a decade ago.

A 10-man investigative team from the agency began today probing the reason for the crash.

At the point of impact, just off Alameda Point, 18 miles south of San Francisco, there was a rising seven-foot tide, the highest of the year, the coast guard said. Normally, water is no more than four feet deep at the spot.

The passengers and crew can thank the highest tide of the year and a cool pilot for the "one-in-a-million" survival of the crash-landing.

They didn't even get their feet to cushion the impact, but not deep enough for the plane to sink. He called the rescue "a one-in-a-million shot."

The plane's pilot, Robert Aosh, 47, of Vancouver, with the air 14 years, said his plane hit the runway from the fog at 11 feet and settled on its nose at 17 miles an hour.

"I don't know, I can't say what was wrong," Aosh told a news conference. He spoke in broken English, with the aid of an interpreter.

The plane was fully automatic.

A spokesman for the National Transportation Safety Board here said the plane was guided to the runway by an electronic beam and the pilot has to make the necessary corrections if the craft is making a faulty approach.

chemical system was functioning normally and there was "no indication anything was wrong" with the electronically-controlled landing system.

The captain, a veteran of many flights into San Francisco, looked grim and tight-lipped as he spoke to the press. He said he was finally settled and walked down the runway, gratified him on his expert water landing.

The passengers and crew members left through regular and emergency exits, boarded the plane's six lifeboats and were taken to shore by police and coast guard boats.

Aosh, after he was certain everyone reached safety, returned to the plane, gathered up papers, suitcases and other personal effects left behind by the crash and passengers and brought them with him to shore.

Italy Seeks Crisis End

ROME (AP)—Italy's leaders moved into a bleak new period of austerity today as the Labor government increased sales taxes and imposed new curbs on credit and imports to help stabilize its economy.

The move, announced by Chancellor of the Exchequer Roy Jenkins on his return from the Group of 10 meeting in Washington, was a sign of the government's determination to end the crisis.

Recent Role Develops

Manpower: Match People To Jobs

Not as long ago as accounts are kept on a job interview in Belleville.

His qualifications were taken to Halifax. That evening the accountant was heading out to take up his new position.

If needed, he might also have had a grant to cover his travel costs, the expense of moving his household and the costs of getting re-established.

The incident underscores the role of manpower in the corner one of the community's most crucial services — Canada.

Since a community is composed of human beings, it is only as people as it presents it to all.

It is a properly technological society's function to vital — matching people to jobs — opportunities.

Because of this it also is a showcase image of government administration in the new era.

Canada's manpower is a coast-to-coast federal service. But it is no operation of hand civil servants.

It is a service of education — through occupational training program for adults.

It is a service of matching jobs and applicants on a nationwide basis with its manpower mobility scheme.

It is a service of training for the use of the new Canadian settlement program.

There are among the tools which have been given to the service to increase its efficiency and broaden the scope of its operation — a contract program of manpower.

That tradition will be familiar to many in the Canadian — the days when officials sought jobs by breaking their way to the local Employment Service Commission of the day.

One there it often was a case of human beings in the corner one of the community's most crucial services — Canada.

Royal Conservatory of Music Principal Speaks at Meeting

Dr. David O'Connell spoke to a group of teachers, parents and students at Eastminster United Church last night.

Dr. O'Connell, the Acting Principal of the Royal Conservatory of Music, is currently on a speaking tour to meet as many teachers, parents and students as possible and to see what the Conservatory can do for them in the area.

In his lecture, Dr. O'Connell gave a brief history of the 85-year-old school of music and discussed its continuing efforts to achieve and maintain high standards in the face of various problems. He stated the Conservatory's aim is to provide intelligent, well-trained, musically-versed humans.

Discussing a program of the Conservatory, he said that the Conservatory is not out to monopolize the examinations of all Canada, but rather, to welcome the presence of other accredited schools and boards both to help carry the work and to make it more than an acceptable standard.

He noted of the complete review of all exams after the end of the year, that it is a work in progress. He said that the exams should be held at the home of the student, and that the presence in playing for a

Christianity Theme at Guild Meet

Everyday Christianity was the theme of the weekly service presented by the Albert College Women's Guild at the November meeting. Mrs. M. Davis read a story which pointed out that many people do not apply their Christianity to everyday living. They just follow the money and ignore the effects on their lives.

Mrs. Davis was introduced by Miss F. A. Fleming. Mrs. T. Townsend and W. F. Fink presided at the service, which closed with the singing of the hymns.

CHURCH GROUPS

CA. MEETING

President Paul Goppel of the Catholic Church in the Diocese of Regina spoke at a meeting of the group on Thursday night.

The group, which is made up of members of the various churches in the Diocese, met to discuss the activities of the group, and they said that the group is not out to monopolize the examinations of all Canada, but rather, to welcome the presence of other accredited schools and boards both to help carry the work and to make it more than an acceptable standard.

Many problems exist among the residents of Warden Woods, but the people have the support of charitable organizations and several Metropolitan Toronto social workers.

Warden Woods provides housing for families uprooted from their communities through eviction, expropriation and various other reasons, and the families are often on the welfare roll.

Christianity Theme at Guild Meet

Everyday Christianity was the theme of the weekly service presented by the Albert College Women's Guild at the November meeting. Mrs. M. Davis read a story which pointed out that many people do not apply their Christianity to everyday living. They just follow the money and ignore the effects on their lives.

Mrs. Davis was introduced by Miss F. A. Fleming. Mrs. T. Townsend and W. F. Fink presided at the service, which closed with the singing of the hymns.

Expenditures Climb

The city parks board and recreation... arena committees are getting caught in the middle of a cost escalation epidemic.

Members leapt this afternoon from three different districts.

First, it was learned that the city's minor sports program might cost the revenue

Use commission at least another $2,600 next year.

Then it was decided to increase the insurance coverage on the Lakeshore horse barn by the arena manager—stand—almost doubling the cost from $750 every three years.

And finally it was learned that Donald Heath, assistant to the manager at the Belleville Arena would be leaving to take a position as arena manager at Oakville at a salary $2,500 higher than is received by the arena manager here.

Insurance coverage on the fairground horse barn was increased from $25,000 to $35,000 and the graduated from $35,000 to $130,000.

Clifford Dick, treasurer of the Belleville Minor Sports Association told the meeting that costs of operation would be considerably higher—$1,000 due mainly to an increase in the number of activities.

He said there would be approximately 3,000 participants in the various program activity with more than 1,000 boys involved in minor hockey.

The overall cost of the program for next year was estimated at more than $70,000 with receipts (including a $4,800 grant from the recreation commission) amounting to about $55,000.

He asked that the estimated deficit of $15,000 be made up by the recreation commission.

The request will be considered by the board at its 1960 budget meeting.

The Parks Board wants to have another look at the request of the Ontario Riding and Driving Club's request for a five year lease at the fairgrounds.

Currently the club has an annual lease, but wants to make certain improvements to the racetrack and feels it should be protected by a long term lease.

The club's request for the five year lease was referred to the special advisory committee set up earlier this week to advise on management control of the fairgrounds.

Track Damaged At Event

Members of the city parks and recreation board met that a city supervisor should be on duty at all times when functions are being staged at the Belleville fairgrounds.

This was the feeling expressed yesterday at the regular meeting of the parks board after instances of damage to the grounds of race track were reported.

Members were told that during a school football game held following a relay protest, a heavy school bus had been driven around the track causing track damage.

Parks board member Robert Phillips emphasized that the board considers as extra work at Belleville fairgrounds facilities but at the same time felt a parks employee should be on duty during events with the cost of maintenance be charged against the user.

Tennis Club Not Yet City Owned

A delay in the completion of purchase arrangements for the Quebec Skating and Tennis Club in the city's East Hill district is holding up program plans by the city's recreation board.

The city has made an offer to purchase the club property but final details still have to be worked out, and in the meantime operating this winter by the recreation commission is realistic in doubt.

The intention of the recreation commission is to operate the club facilities as an outdoor skating rink.

Had it not still, undisturbed some sense level of professional assistance should be given, whether skating fees should be charged.

Subject to the property being acquired by the city, the club's executive, Mr. and Mrs. H. Crosby will be hired for the 1960-61 season.

White Acclaimed Reeve In Dungan Township

Hastings county resident, Cal White of Dungan Township has been returned as Reeve for a two year term as result of nomination held in that municipality on Wednesday.

Reeve White and his entire 1960 council were acclaimed for the two year term.

In another North Hastings district, the council, which included that the incumbent reeve and council will be returned to office without an election.

Highway Contract Awarded

Clearing for the reconstruction of another section of the Central Ontario section of the Trans-Canada Highway will get underway in Hastings county early in December.

Hastings riding member Charles T. Rollie reports that the clearing contract for 4.5 miles of 7 highway between Marmora and MacMillan has been awarded to Thompson Contracting and Gravel Ltd. of Bobington. The amount of the contract is for $95,000.

Chief Adds School Duties

DESERONTO — Reporting to the Deseronto School Board recently, Principal Borden Ross gave the enrollment as 300 on October 31. During the first two days of November, seven new pupils had been enrolled, and this stands at 373 at present, he said.

A new attendance officer was needed, due to the fact that Lynn Thompson is no longer a Deseronto resident. He stressed the need of counselling with both students and their parents. The board appointed David Saunders, the new Chief of Police, to fill the vacancy.

Mr. Ross is concerned about the selection of books for the new library where it opens sometime in the future. He had asked the board to consider that a librarian be hired to catalogue the books on hand and make a list of books which were needed to add to the list.

Since this was not done, he proposed having the teachers visit the Timmins Town School, where two publishing houses were displaying their books. Here each teacher would select the books which she thought were needed for her class.

Scheduled parent-teacher interviews had been arranged for the last two weeks of this month and the first two weeks of December, the principal said.

The inventory of equipment in the school has now been completed, Mr. Ross said, and he pointed out that there were serious gaps. He asked for the purchase of certain other equipment.

A request was referred to the property committee.

Mr. Ross also requested information on the cumulative sick leave for each teacher before the end of December, when the present board will be dissolved.

Two classes have been meeting in the Sunday School auditorium of the United Church since the opening of school. Arrangements were completed at the meeting for rental, and for responsibility.

BOX 103, THE INTELLIGENCER

Deseronto To Get Water

DESERONTO — Deseronto residents will eventually be able to drink the water which comes from their taps. At present, drinking water is obtained from wells.

The Ontario Water Resources commission has given its approval for the installation of the water system of the town in stages, as a project of the provincial government. The improvements will be made under the OWRC, to be paid back over the years. The sewer system is to be installed under the same terms.

The town has already taken the first step in this project with the forthcoming installation of a new water storage tower. At its meeting early this month, the council asked the approval of the Ontario Municipal Board to issue debentures for $20,000 for installation of the tower, but this approval has not yet been received. Monday night's council meeting was told.

The second step will probably be to change the intake pipe so that purer water can be pumped in. At present the intake is at the east end of the Bay front of the town, where the water is comparatively shallow. When the OWRC makes a survey of conditions here, the engineer advised that the intake be moved to the west end, where the water is deeper and purer.

In all probability a filtration plant will come next, and, lastly, extension of some water mains and the installation of larger cisterns in some areas.

It is a long range project, but an essential one, if only for reasons of health. At the town has no sewer system, there is constant danger of pollution from septic tanks. It is well over eight years since Deseronto installed a new step toward installing a sewer system. With a great deal has been accomplished, the town is still waiting for the city's treasury to arrive to start the first work.

Montreal Plans Mailed Fist For Terrorists

MONTREAL (CP)—The City of Montreal indicated Friday it will increase its police budget and a necessary to stem the recent wave of terrorism which has swept the city.

Lucien Saulnier, chairman of the city's executive committee, said he had a news conference after a bomb exploded in a downtown store and another was planned in a downtown department store, that terrorism could spread strong and rapid action.

"It is a mailed fist they want," it is a mailed fist they want, it is a mailed fist they want.

The downtown store of the T. Eaton Co. was evacuated Friday just before the apparent after a bomb was found in the store.

The device, made of four sticks of dynamite, was found in a store in an isolated part of a suburban park just before 4 p.m. Earlier Friday, a bomb hidden in public lockers in the basement of the store tore apart the lockers, part of the store and of an escalator, resulting in an estimated $100,000 damage.

The device exploded at 2:40 a.m. when only cleaners were in the store. Two cleaning workers were slightly injured and others in the area of the blast ran toward a rear exit.

The explosion was the third in Montreal in 30 hours, and the bomb found Friday afternoon was the 23th to be planted in the city in the last three months.

Handfuls of persons were telephoned from the store after the second bomb was found and a telephone caller told police a third bomb was found in the store.

No third bomb was found but the downtown store remained closed for the evening. It was to be open today. Two suburban Eaton stores and a warehouse store did not close.

At his news conference, Mr. Saulnier said "two effective pawns" in tracking down the terrorists.

"It is a mailed fist they want," it is a mailed fist they want, it is a mailed fist they want.

Ratification Vote Sunday

Liquor Strike Could End Monday

MONTREAL (CP)—Union negotiators representing 3,000 striking Quebec Liquor Board employees say they will accept their members' Sunday to rally for "one more day" of the strike. The union said it would increase in a three-year contract and return to work Monday.

Raymond St. Pierre, general secretary of the Confederation of Quebec Unions, said he would accept the offer for the workers, said Friday night, liquor outlets in the province could close Sunday morning.

Ex-Mayor Withdraws Wit Threat

KINGSTON (CP)—Former mayor William T. Mills has withdrawn his threat to seek a court writ declaring Al. Ernest Swain ineligible to run for mayor in the Kingston civic election.

Mr. Mills said Friday he had won the point he was trying to achieve by threatening Kingston Court action to have Mr. Swain ineligible.

He had claimed Al. Swain was ineligible to serve as an elected official because he was assisting against Queen's attorney for a neighboring town.

Mr. Mills said Friday he had found "no gross disrespect" of the complaint was withdrawn after two days of public accusation and innuendo by Mr. Mills.

The only other candidate for mayor in Kingston is William Thorsburn, who withdrew his name from the race after Mr. Swain was named ineligible.

Ma Murray's Comment Costs Station $100

VANCOUVER (CP)—Ma Murray, free publisher of the weekly, Lively River News in a little bar to interview her has something to get off her mind.

Failure to interview her last week when she delivered some crumbly comments on British Columbia's Social Credit government, cost radio station CKWJ $100 in magazine.

The New Westminster station declined Friday to broadcast material of a partisan political nature within 48 hours before an election is barred under the Broadcast Act.

The charge, first of its kind in Canada, carries a maximum fine of $500.

protest rally proposed was agreed Sunday night.

The agreement was reached Friday at 3:30 p.m. EST following 106 meetings between government and union negotiators in which the government had announced its refusal to negotiate on its offer of 10 per cent over 36 months. The union originally sought 12 per cent.

Parlied said union members would be asked Sunday to rally the agreement in general meetings to be held through the province.

The agreement—which would give store employees and warehouse workers average weekly income of $22 and $28 respectively—was a "definite success."

"Under this agreement, the original government offer of a 10 per cent increase would be come more like 25 or 27 per cent."

While the proposed agreement would significantly raise the government offer, it would require a certain concessions on the part of the workers.

Store employees, meanwhile, would be asked to cut their hours, to bring their work week to the strike June 1.

Warehouse employees would be asked to work longer than the 37½ hours of public accusation and innuendo by Mr. Mills.

The only other candidate for mayor in Kingston is William Thorsburn, who withdrew his name from the race after Mr. Swain was named ineligible.

Prosecutor Sam Toy said that on May 30, the day before a provincial by-election in Vancouver, South, Ma Murray was asked by commentator Dave Abbott:

"Tell me what's annoying you in Vancouver South?"

As she said, it was "damn annoying" that Premier W.A.C. Bennett got his jump, Bob Hunter, the water control franchising to the B.C. Hydro.

When he caught the signal, the station broadcast an unedited, commercial-free, minute, an insulting, repellent.

It was too late for about a minute.

Legal Age Won't Drop -Robarts

TORONTO (CP)—Premier Robarts has assured a member of a temperance group the government will not lower Ontario's legal drinking age.

He had received a letter from James O'Brien, a member of the West Toronto Inter-Church Temperance Federation, protesting suggestion that the age might be lowered.

"Although a complete review of the liquor laws and regulations is being undertaken, I can assure you it is not our intention to lower the legal drinking age in Ontario."

But other reforms are likely: "I am being demanded more by members of my own party."

Robarts' reply, dated Nov. 14, said: "Although a complete review of the liquor laws and regulations is being undertaken, I can assure you it is not our intention to lower the legal drinking age in Ontario."

Heart Recipient Dies After 2nd Transplant

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

The longer survivor of heart transplant surgery in the United States, Everett C. Thomas, 47, died in hospital today of problems which developed after he received a second donor heart.

"His condition deteriorated rapidly," said Dr. Philip Blalock, 52, of Cleveland, who performed the second transplant surgery in the United States, at the University of Michigan Medical Center in Ann Arbor, Mich.

Days of Decision in Hastings

By LENNY WILLIAMSON
Staff Reporter

Editor's note: Hastings elects its county school board Dec. 2. In a four-part series education reporter Lenny Williamson examines the perplexities of the move.

What do you have with a hot potato — one that must be served scalding at all costs? You shuffle it from hand to hand in the hope someone along the line will find a place to dump it.

And that, some critics contend, is what the Ontario government is doing with its educational system in setting up county-wide boards of education.

Education has become too big for a prudent government to handle, the critics claim. Provincial cabinet ministers have remarked that the cost of education could bankrupt the province in 10 years' time. That better way to rid oneself of the educational hot potato than by placing out its leaver, the department of education, and passing the responsibility along to 70 newly-created autonomous regional boards of education.

The critical view is wrong, say department of education officials. Many of whom will be out of jobs themselves as their department axes of its functions onto the shoulders of county boards.

They claim the impetus for larger, autonomous boards came from academic officials, isolated by reports of independent commissions. The critics counter this by replying that there is no way to pare the cost of education. Population growth alone and the accompanying need for new schools will cancel out any savings made by careful administration.

Besides, educators, parent, and pupils alike are clamoring for increased school services, and greater educational opportunities. In Hastings County, where a new county-wide board will take over education Jan. 1, the needs have already been defined.

Franc Gains Strength And Dollar Is Firmer

Experts Doubt Curbs to Work

By THE CANADIAN PRESS
Financial observers throughout the world Sunday expressed doubts on the ability of the French government to defend the parity of the franc with exchange controls and three internal devaluations.

French President de Gaulle announced the reimposition of exchange controls and said Premier Maurice Couve de Merville would disclose details of budget cuts, price and wage controls early this week.

The West German and U.S. governments both seemed to applaud the French decision to take the hard classical road of internal devaluation.

West German Finance Minister Franz Josef Strauss said Sunday night devaluation would have been the easiest way for France to get out of its difficulties.

"And since they have chosen the hard road, we wish them much luck and will give them all the help we can," he said. President Johnson called de Gaulle "congratulating him on his decision and offering to cooperate as fully as possible."

Teen-age Girls Fight Flames After Guiding Fire to Safety

By BARRY GRILLS

Two teenage girls have been commended by members of the Belleville Fire Department for their parts in saving the lives of five children in a fire here Saturday night.

Capt. Bruce Diamond, who was at the scene of the blaze, said this morning, "They certainly saved the house."

The two girls, Toni Maracle, 14, and her cousin Roxanne Maracle, 12, were baby-sitting Toni's two brothers and three sisters at the time of the blaze — 8 p.m. Their mother was visiting a friend.

"The children are all small, eight, eight, six, one, seven, Wanda, six, and a boy of five," he said.

"Toni explained this morning how they discovered the fire which started in a bed room of the two-story house at 40 Colbourne Street.

"My brother (Glen) went up stairs and came down to tell us about the fire," she said.

At first Toni and Roxanne did not believe him as "he's always feeling like that."

But, they were upstairs and found "it was just smoke." The two girls observed the small children of the house and then called the fire department and commenced to run and fight

The French franc strengthened today as Europe's major foreign exchange markets reopened, and in West Germany speculators rushed to exchange stocks of marks for U.S. dollars.

Government leaders and financial experts watched closely for indications whether President de Gaulle's new austerity program would save the French currency from devaluation.

West German Commercial banks maintained their restrictions on the franc, accepting only 200 marks worth at a rate of 16 marks for 100 francs. But within half an hour after trading opened, the central exchange rate had been raised.

For other stories on the currency crisis see Page 6.

Speculation was still in London as to de Gaulle's motives in refusing to devalue, a decision that caught the financial world by surprise.

Do格拉斯 Jay, former president of the British government's board of trade, said de Gaulle seems to believe he can stand on his own against all the economic forces in the West.

"It is completely unexpected in the past 30 years," Jay said in an interview. Anthony Bambridge, business editor of the Sunday Express, put it this way:

"The general sense determined to bring the whole monetary system crashing down. But that originally involved only the franc, the mark and the pound will now drag in the dollar, and most ominous of all, gold."

Northern Here Could Make Responder If Company Satellite Design Accepted

The Belleville plant of Northern Electric would be in a good position to supply at least one of the responders for a Canadian communications satellite if the design submitted by Northern is accepted by the Federal Department of Industry.

The Northern Electric design submission for the proposed satellite was made in Ottawa last week.

Norman Woolley, general manager for Northern at Belleville, said that the company spokesman said that if the Northern design was accepted there was a good possibility that the transponder unit would be manufactured in Belleville.

The transponder unit is the part of the satellite which receives the television signals from earth and relays it back to the television viewer.

The Northern design, aiming at a 1971 launching if it was approved by the government, would provide for a number of channels for television signals, and use voice circuits or six channels for television signals.

The program would be beamed back to the earth via a drum shaped "vibrator" in the sky in a "stationary" orbit 23,000 miles above the earth.

No cost estimate was given in the submission but the federal government is reported to be studying a figure of about $100,000,000.

Northern Electric is one of two companies commissioned by the federal government to produce a satellite design.

RCA Victor Ltd. is the other company.

Northern's design for the satellite is being submitted to a minimum of 64.3 per cent Canadian content under a program which all major spacecraft manufacturers must be designed, manufactured and tested at Northern.

Canadian and other Canadian suppliers.

The design of the communications satellite proposed by Northern is similar to that of Intelsat IV, the transponder satellite proposed by Hughes Aircraft.

Approximately 40 Northern workers at Belleville are expected to work on the Intelsat IV contract.

However, the Northern spokesman said it was still a bit early to say what involvement is the overall contract the Belleville plant might have if the Northern satellite design was accepted.

Today's submission by Northern is the second of two, worth $27,000 study contract awarded by the Northern Electric Company Ltd. with sub-contract assistance from Canadian Labour Union Montreal and Hughes Aircraft Company of California.

Santa Parade Has Rosy Hue

The biggest calling card in the Quebec area is now being readied to herald the year's most welcome visitor to Belleville.

This year's Santa Claus parade, which formally announces the jolly giant in the city for another season, now is stepping smoothly down the road to glittering realization for its Dec. 7 presentation.

Organization and accomplishment to date augur well for an event that last year seemed on its last marching legs.

Frank's positive the parade now will include 35 floats. It's possible it may present at least achievement. — In contrast to gloomy portents at this time last year — more significantly — indicated the public felt involvement with what has not occurred as a Belleville tradition.

The past week organization of the event has been a happy one.

To date, city firemen aided by a handful of local volunteers have completed about the scheduled floats. Others already are reported under construction by various participating groups.

Bands have been invited and signified their willingness to parade Santa from as far away as Montreal.

Many of the floats will have themes of contemporary appeal to youngsters. This year, the parade will be held on the scheduled floats. Others already are reported under construction by various participating groups.

Points for Parents

By MARY BRYSON

Father: "Here's the money for a haircut. You certainly can't go on the dance looking so shabby."

Two-agers should learn necessities. It will help them learn about budgeting if their allowances cover not only pleasure items, but some necessities as well.

Father: "Let's list the things your allowance is supposed to cover, so you'll know how much money you can spend on recreation items."

Ann Landers

Dad Keeps Close Tab On Teenage Daughters

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I have four children — two boys and two girls — but my problem is not with them. It's with their father.

He gets along fairly well with the boys — ages 8 and 11 — but his relationship with the two daughters borders me to death. They are 16 and 17 — dancing, girls, popular, and busy, involved in wholesome activities — music, tennis, swimming, and cheerleading. Their grades are excellent and the house is always filled with attractive teen-agers.

Their father sticks like a glue when the boys come over. He quizzes them and makes insulting remarks. He has made it clear to the boys that he doesn't trust them. When the girls go out (they often double date) he sometimes follows them in his car. (I've begged him not to be by anyone's car.)

I've heard him tell friends his daughters will probably never marry because they have their daddy so much in mind could ever measure up to him. The truth is the girls dislike him because he is so positive and suspicious. What can I do about this appalling situation? — ILLINOIS.

DEAR ILLINOIS: Probably nothing, but give it a try. Suggest that your husband talk to a doctor about his unhealthy attachment to his daughters. He'd get an earful. Perhaps someone can make him see that his attempt to hang on to "his girls" is driving them away. Unless he alters his thinking he will alienate his daughters completely and they will close him out of their lives.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: One year ago next month, my daughter took a downtown job and asked me to babysit with her three children. I asked no pay because she confided that her husband had her money down on a new house.

This past year they bought a color TV, a $400 stereo, and the family took a trip to California. (The live-in lady.) My daughter now has beautiful clothes and she goes to the beauty shop once a week.

Yesterday I asked for wages. I was given a flat turn-out. I explained that I live on my Social Security check which doesn't go very far. I am a widow. Then I pointed out that their son-in-law has plenty of money for luxuries. I was told, "Our luxuries are nobody's business. Enjoy your grandchildren while you can." — DOORMATE.

DEAR DOOR: Do as you're told. Enjoy your grandchildren while you can. But enjoy them as a grandpa, not as a turncoat. Tell your daughter she'll have to live like him because you must find a job that offers money, not as an employment. Look at the classified ads in this newspaper and get moving, Gram.

Confidential to SHOCKED AND HURT: So what's new? I believe it was Benjamin Franklin who said, "You never know a person's true character until you share an inheritance with him." I bet he was one of dad's relatives who told him to go for a hike.

Girls Resent Hints About Boyfriends

By DORIS CLARK

Dear Doris: My girl friend and I have been going out with these two guys from out of town. My mother and older sister don't like these guys. They don't come out and say they hate them but just give strong hints.

I am 14 and the guy I like is 17. My girl friend and the guy she likes are both 16 1/2. I don't like to bring them to my house any more and we have to sneak out to see them! — Two Bugged Girls.

Dear Two: Your guys sound like bad news. There must be some reason for the dislike and the hints from Mom and Sis. Rather than outright disliking, are in consideration of your feelings. Sneaking out is a b-o-m-b-e-n-g. When you are found out, you won't be trusted, and Dad and parents are right in need to know where their girls' where to give him what he's age of 14.

Not to mention that boy who has to be met on the sly can't add up to much.

Dear Doris: After reading an answer in Discontented in this can't help but write. Tell that woman that while she needs is far from a very man. She needs the help of a psychiatrist. I wonder if she stops to realize that a man works day after day for his wife and if he's not married to a nice warm and sexy wife at night, will he really as well buy a big car and also a dame elsewhere to give him what he's missing at home.

My husband said that if he had her for a wife he would give her money for a vacation all right: a vacation to the moon. And please don't discourage your young people about marriage, because if you get a reasonable man it's a wonderful life. — Not A Sex Maniac

Dear Not A: Bravo!

The correspondence was read and special attention was given to a letter from the Institute for the Blind. It was voted on and they decided to donate the sum of $2.00 to the Institute. The president asked all members to collect old gold to be left at the back of the church the first Sunday of December 1966. This is for the Canadian Catholic Organization for Development and Peace, Mrs. J. E. Walsh presented a gift in Mrs. Farrell on behalf of the C.W.L.

Sister Mary Flurette of Nicholas College in Belleville, gave a very informative talk on censorship of "TV" and "movies". She showed the film "Nobly Waved Good-bye" and members took part in a frank discussion immediately after the film was shown.

The meeting was drawn to a close by Mrs. William Buckley.

A lively lunch was served by the women of the club and 50th concession. The guest speakers at the next meeting are: Jean "A" and Peggy "C" of the Alamos.

Dear Doris: Am still with you, and very glad you are still with us in the column. Your letter "War On Don't Rust" interested me. I would like to have it. This is what my father, maintain, and he is heading for 90. (Ten cents and stamped envelope enclosed.)

My sister in a great admirer of Dr. W. P. Farrell. She worked with him at the Missouri Neurological Institute for years until his retirement. Am wondering if his book is available from the public library. — Bless You

Dear Bless You: If it isn't I thought to be Dr. Farrell is one of the greats of our times and your sister must have wonderful memories of those work years. My writings are many, but the book I refer to is "The Second Career". Has some fine guidelines for young-olds, middle-aged olds, and old-olds.

Let's hear more about your father. What is his second career? *

(Doris has studied human behavior and can shed light on your dilemma. Write to her, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope for private reply.)

HOLIDAY FASHIONS FOR MEN

Men haven't complained much about it, but for years they've been rather sombre background folks for the Sparkle, Glitter and Glamor of Women. That's Changed Men!

You Are Again Part Of The Picture, With The New Bold Look. The Wheel Has Turned — The Manufacturers of Men's Things Have Got 'round to Providing The Clothing and Accessories That Bespeak The Proper Role For Males.

Put a Man in one of our new suits — wrinkle resistant and tailoring is up to McIntosh Broe, high standard — look for these famous names (Rubin Broe, and S & G)

Winter's icy blast can get at Hands too — we suggest our warm luxuriously lined GLOVES by PERRIN.

Priced from $4.50 to $12.50

Men appreciate the thoughtfulness that goes into a gift of personal wear — warm luxurious Pyjama sets and Bathrobes by CURRIE. Pyjamas $15.00

Important to the finished look for every well turned out man are the latest in knit ties by KAREL Bulow, ready-made by Abbey and Currie. Priced from $1.50.

If you insist on the best in fine dress shirts and sport shirts insist on ARROW — Sport Shirts Turtlenecks — Non-iron, white, plain color — checks and stripes — blue and up. Varsity Shirts by DEACON. Plain, $15.00. Turtlenecks, $18.00.

Currie has sport shirts in cotton, fortrel and cotton, perma iron, also flannels in all the "in vogue" shades from $6.00.

Gift Certificate FOR A NEW HAT

Beavers — Plains and Patterson — pure wool from $3.00. Dress coats, white only — priced $4.00.

"Ask About Our Charge Plan"

Jackets and Topcoats $19.95 to $55.00
Some Zip-in Lining

Slacks — easy fit — easy care by LEE, LEVI, ROTHSTEIN PANT AND RUBIN BROE, for the man who likes to appear at his best even while relaxing. $7.95 to $16.95

To complete the outfit every wardrobe must contain soft and light sweaters by TERRY WILLIAMS, TONY DAY, and HIGHLAND KNITTING MILLS. Tree swinging styles, full in sleeve and body, snug at waist and cuff. Machine washable — many colors ($16.95 to $21.95) Heads up it's HAT TIME and people do notice when you wear the latest in fashion by BILTMORE. $9.95 to $13.95.

Don't forget socks to pamper his feet and carefully groom his hair to lure the Woods and blends by VAGDEN MILLS, HARVEY WOODS and PERMANE. Priced from $1.50 a pair.

Let him relax with a good book and comfortable little nippers. Machine washable in eucalyptus and Terry-cloth. Colors: red, gold, blue and green. (15-34-1) from $5.00.

Swing into action in comfort. SPORT CLOTHING that gives with every motion yet retains these always good looks ..

Come today and be assured of fine practical gifts for your man on Christmas Morning.

Riders Earn Crack at Calgary By Crushing Rare Argo Grey Cup Bid

OTTAWA (CP) — Ottawa Rough Riders, who proved Saturday that they are the best team in the Eastern Football Conference, went back to the practice field today to prepare for the Grey Cup game against the Calgary Stampeders.

Coach Frank Clark's Riders posted a 36-11 win over Toronto Argonauts in the EFC final. The win gave Ottawa a 47-27 margin in the two games, totaling 13 in the season, but Clark said he would be to be drawn out on Ottawa's chances against the Western champions in Toronto next Saturday.

"I only hoped they are as wrecked up as we are," he said in the Ottawa dressing room.

The Riders came out of the hard-hitting game without serious injuries, however, Fullback Scott was helped off the field in the second quarter, but his ankle injury isn't expected to keep him from dressing against Calgary.

Quarterback Russ Jackson was ordered out of the ball in the third quarter after he was injured at 25 yards. But Clark said he believed the leg injury he suffered on the play appeared to be lessening as the game went on.

Argo coach Leo Cahill conceded after the game that when both Toronto and Ottawa are having a good day "they can beat us."

Cahill also predicted that the Riders would beat the Stampeders in the Grey Cup game "by two or three touchdowns."

Saturday's game was played in overcast weather but with a firm, dry field. The crowd in Lamorne Park was listed at 25,000, more the 12,000 before capacity, and the Riders' general manager, Red O'Quinn, blamed cable television.

"We can't fill the park for a game like this, when can be fill it?" he asked.

The Argos got only one yard rushing all afternoon. Clark said Ottawa's defense stopped away the Toronto blockers' huddle on the halfback Bill Smyth and fullback Jim Dillman.

Dillman was zero for five carries and Symon missed four for four. Quarterback Wally Gahler gained five yards in two trips. Cahill had said that the Argos would have to contain Jackson to win. They didn't.

Ottawa's quarterback threw touchdowns passes to end Margrave, Alvin White, Scott and flanker Whit Tucker and ran seven yards himself for the fourth Rider touchdown.

Halfback Don Suberth converted all four touchdowns and added two field goals. The other Ottawa points came of a safety touch when Toronto punter Don Harris was forced to fall on the ball in the Argos end zone after a bad snap.

Only in the third quarter did the Argos threaten. By then they were down 39-0 on the game and 40-0 on the ground. Caliber threw 19 of 26 with nine interceptions and fumbled the last one.

Hi-Ho, Bo!

Ottawa Rough Riders' Bo Scott (16) picks up yardage as Toronto's Dave Knechtel (69) and Dick Thornton (25) move in to make tackle during Saturday's Eastern Football League final at Ottawa. The Roughriders won the game 36-14, and the final-point series 47-27 for the Eastern berth in next Saturday's Grey Cup game against Calgary.

TORONTO (CP)—Valer Doolie came to town and rode away with the most victories in 13 instructional jumping events, including the 40th Royal Agricultural Winter Fair's overall team championship.

A clinic-sung crowd Saturday of more than 7,500 in the Coliseum, site of the nine-day horse show, saw Frank Chapoy of the U.S. equestrian team beat Canada's Tim Goffroy by 2.3 seconds and win the John W. McEwen International Saddle Trophy. The victory was worth $600.

MONTREAL (CP)—Montreal Expos of baseball's National League said in a statement today they will share spring training camp facilities with Atlanta Braves at West Palm Beach, Fla.

The Expos' statement said coaches report for spring training Feb. 17. Pitchers and catchers report Feb. 18 and the rest of the team Feb. 21.

The Expos start their 32-game exhibition schedule March 3 against Kansas City Royals, one of two new American League teams.

They break camp March 31 and get their first taste of league action April 8 against the Mets in New York.

San Diego Rockets ran off six straight points in overtime Sunday night to beat Philadelphia 76-120 in National Basketball Association play.

In three other games, Seattle SuperSonics thumped Milwaukee Bucks 141-131, Baltimore Bullets downed Atlanta Hawks 118-111 and Elgin Baylor dropped 31 points, 37 in the third period, as Los Angeles Lakers edged Chicago Bulls 103-100.

Saturday, Baltimore posted Detroit Pistons 128-127, Philadelphia routed Cincinnati Royals 119-100, Milwaukee took Phoenix 112-111, New York Knicks upset Boston Celtics 111-103, Atlanta downed Chicago 119-96 and San Francisco defeated Seattle 120-117.

Leafs Lagging

A Stingy Dryden Helps Hawk Cause

By SCOTT BURTIN
Canadian Press Staff Writer

When Dave Dryden and his younger brother, Ken, were kids they used to huddle home from school to play hockey on a rink in the backyard of their suburban home Toronto home.

Because the rink was small, there was little room for skating. So both boys became goal-tenders and good ones too. Their friends spent hours poring them with sticks.

Ken has become a fine goaltender in U.S. college circles. Dave, meanwhile, has become one of the best goaltenders in the National Hockey League.

He was in St. Louis when Chicago Black Hawks transferred Minnesota Twins 6-0 to give him his second shutout in three games and the third of his NHL career, Saturday. He led 1-0 to St. Louis Blues.

In other action Sunday, Boston Bruins trounced Toronto Maple Leafs 7-4.

It was the first shutout and 1-0 goal against average. His first appearance in the NHL was in the 1962 season as an emergency replacement for New York goaltender Gump Worsley, injured during a game at Maple Leaf Gardens.

Phil Esposito scored three goals and assisted on two others to help the Bruins beat the Leafs.

The other Boston scorers were Ron Murphy, Johnny McGraw, Fred Sanford and Ken Hodge. Scoring for Toronto were Norm Ullman, Ken Ellis, Larry McKen and Murray Old.

Toronto Will Elect Most Powerful School Boards in History

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Ontario residents will elect the most powerful school boards in the province's history in voting next Monday.

The trustees will run 76 public school boards which assume the duties of 964 smaller boards, and 60 separate school boards, cut from 482.

The super boards will be elected for two-year terms. They will blot out a century of tradition—the days when a trustee could take the time to hear the problems of a neighbor two farms down the road, to make sure there was enough chalk and ink

When the amalgamations were announced last year there was a howl of protest. But with the formation of interim school organization committees, made up of one representative from each local board sentenced to extinction Jan. 1, 1909, trustees buried their differences and got down to work.

Del Bell, London Free Press reporter, surveyed the effects of change on school areas in western Ontario, which share common problems with boards elsewhere.

First they must hire administrators—a director of education, perhaps a business manager and academic superintendents. Some trustees fear a scramble among the new boards to pick up top administrative personnel.

Strike Right No Help to Teachers

TORONTO (CP) — Toronto high school teachers would gain no advantage from strike action, officials of the Ontario Secondary School Teachers' Federation said Sunday.

Robert Brooks, the federation's Toronto district president, said, the right to strike may be the answer towards improving conditions for teachers in large United States cities, but added that the same situation does not apply in Toronto.

He said working conditions for teachers in Canada are considerably better than in the U.S. because of greater harmony between teachers and school trustees.

The boards also will inherit a mixed bag of non-teaching staff, some non-union, others organized by the Canadian Union of Public Employees and the Service Workers International Union.

boards provide pick up at the gate, others have students walk to the nearest collection point. Then there's the problem of budgeting.

"We've got to submit a budget for 1969 but the department has not yet made public the grant structures," one business official said.

D. W. Scott, superintendent of education for the western Ontario region, said: "We want the people to get the message that this is big, big business. . . . In some counties, education will become their biggest single business operation.

Camp No Longer PC President

OTTAWA (CP) — Dalton Camp, president of the Conservative party who led the challenge to John Diefenbaker's leadership, resigned Saturday in what appeared to be a step to remove a cause of party friction.

The 48-year-old advertising man gave no reason for his departure except to say he believed it would be in the party's interest as well as his own.

Mr. Camp has been criticized by some party members for his campaign that led to the party's leadership convention in Sep-1967. That convention and Mr. Diefenbaker, and Robert Stanfield leader, submitting his resignation, a closed meeting of the executive here, Mr. Camp left the chair and returned to his Toronto home.

Mr. Camp's spokesman said the order of Mr. Camp's term completed by an associate-president, Roger Re-land of Lacrosse, Que.

Mr. Camp's term was to have run until the next annual meeting, held here in February or

Oil-burner May Not Be Worth Fixing

By RAY STAPLEY

A reader writes: "Regarding the 6-cylinder Ramblor 6 cylinder car, I have owned one for over 100,000 miles on the odometer; the engine uses about a quart of oil in a hundred miles of highway driving but there is no sign of external leakage such as oil on the road when it is parked. A recent compression test ranged between a low of 120 and a high of 160 pounds. Two months ago I saw a spark plug fouled up and had to be replaced. I have changed the oil a month later, all six spark plugs had carbon accumulation of soft quill both inside and outside the firing end. This has never been driven really hard and does mostly short (three to four mile runs to and from work). I would like two more years of service before buying a new one. Without seeing this car what would be your opinion?"

deciding on new pistons that, incidentally, are quite costly, it is well to remember that once the engine is dismantled on a six-cylinder crank showing 70,000 miles, it is quite likely that as much as 20% of the engine components will remain to the point where replacement is necessary.

Installing new rings may be the only burning hot item on the list. It is not as if just a few months after the other parts such as main and connecting rods, camshaft, crankshaft and the other points of friction start making expensive demands.

Valve guides or valve guides can also be responsible for excessive oil consumption, but this is doubtful at this mileage. Faulty valve mechanism could account for the oil consumption.

Finally at this point the permanent crank is an expensive item.

Since the vehicle has logged up to 70,000 miles and spent most of its life doing short city runs, it would appear that the piston rings are badly worn and can no longer control the flow of oil into the combustion chamber. Howevrebuild engine, but expensive, possibly $300. Have a complete check over of the whole and providing there are no serious problems and you would be happy to keep it for two years or so, a change engine could be a critical investment. While

Mixed Reception Given Ontario Housing Offer

GUELPH (CP) — Tentants of subsidized housing units Sunday reacted with mixed feelings to a proposal by the Ontario Housing Corp. which would permit them to buy their homes with as little as $475 for down payment.

Mrs. Douglas Fortune, chairman of the Green Meadows Tentants' Committee, said subsidized housing units Sunday proposal which was announced "there are some bugs" in the OHC to arrange a meeting to iron out these bugs.

She said although her committee accepted the proposal in principle, she felt the price of $4,000 for a house and the land was a touch much.

other options of purchase:

- Down payment of $700 with a 5-year mortgage at eight percent.
- Down payment of $475 with a 5-year agreement of sale at eight percent.
- Down payment of $475 on house and lease of the lot at $34 a month.

Mr. Anderson said most tenants would probably consider the last option of purchase at a monthly cost of $101.10 which includes cost of leasing the lot.

Under the straight mortgage loan, the monthly cost is $171 and under the agreement sale option cost is $122.30 a month.

The OHC took control of the houses in 1967 and established a rent schedule geared to income which ranged from $65 a month to $100. The rents were frozen for two years after several tenants led a march to the Ontario legislature.

Fortune said the OHC's plan killed initiative and motivated those persons who wanted to better the living standards of their families.

Fortune said the OHC and the Housing Authority have shown a hostile attitude towards the tenants and repairs to the houses were neglected.

During the height of a dispute with the authority last June, members of the tenants' committee were permitted to attend meetings and the commit-body washed ashore on a Lake Erie beach Thursday.

Skindivers joined provincial police and detectives on a combing the coastline between Amherstburg and Holiday Island, about 20 miles south of Windsor. The torso was discovered on Holiday Beach, a providential park, by a duck hunter.

Coroner Robert Shelley of Amherstburg, said a sharp instrument, probably a knife, was found to dismember the body.

Because of the death it not played the following note:

 "I am thy Shepherd, I shall not fail thee."
 "I make me lie down in the Meadows."
 "I lead me to the welfare."
 "I repair absolutely nothing."
 "I lead me up the garden for their budget's sake."
 "I, though I walk to the commission office, am only evil, for they are not me."
 "I present a brief before the presence of mine enemies."
 "I am patient runneth over."
 "I am mortgage payments."
 "I am the mortgage all the time."
 "I will not be able to dwell in my house forever."

Special Show Is Imaginative

NEW YORK (AP) — "There is something special about an ice show even though it has developed into a form as rigid as a steel beam.

There are the soloists, the boy-and-girl skating duos, the clowns and other acts that completely show up.

No one has objected to this, and the shows on television invariably pull big ratings. But NBC's Sunday night special, "Hockey Fever," featuring the star of the young Olympic gold medalist, re-embodied the mood.

It seemed, in fact, that the producers were determined to avoid all ice show clichés. The result was a most imaginative and stimulating hour of television.

There was an interesting version of How to Handle a Woman, sung by actor Richard Harris against the background of a set of the film "Camelot." Miss Fleming skated around with Arthur's Court. Another off-beat number had her moving around a rink while a wild hockey game was in progress around her.

One of the most effective numbers was an old fashioned dance with Robert Paul, another Olympic champion. And there was a cute and simple number with dancer Gene Kelly.

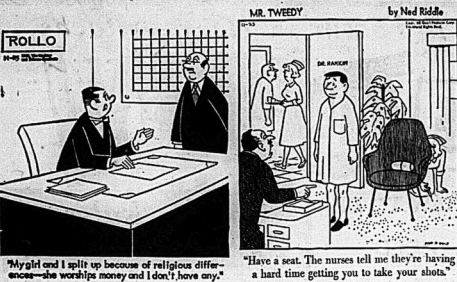

Senkay and O'Garra, an excellent young singing group, performed a song, with Richard Harris, with an interesting set of part-act-sung song. The producers were determined to avoid all ice show clichés. The result was a most imaginative and stimulating hour of television.

Days Join With Management In Exploiting Masses - Charge

TORONTO (CP) — A member of Prime Minister Trudeau's task force on labor relations says he is not anti-labor Sunday accused Canadian unions of selfishness and lack of social conscience.

The union movement represents one-third of Canadian workers and says they are doing it sharing with management the fruits of the exploitation of 80 to 90 per cent of those workers who remain unemployed—the disabled, those on pension — Douglas Smith told a meeting at the Lakeshore new Democratic Party.

"I fear stagnation and complacency of today's labor movement and hope for a transformation of this role before it becomes in general, assumes that unions have become irrelevant to the problems of the day."

Mr. Smith, special assistant to the director of the University of Toronto center for industrial relations and a member of the four-man task force, also criticized the wage parity agreement, giving Canadian workers the same wages as those in the United States.

He said wage parity is a benefit "to some Canadians, but at the expense of the unemployed poor who are least able to bear it."

Mr. Smith termed the Rand report on labor disputes, which called for creation of an industrial tribunal, "unrealistic," a triumph of hope over experience supported by no higher authority than his own rhetoric.

"It remedies consistent with collective bargaining are not forthcoming, the public will demand measures inconsistent with the hope very support."

with collective bargaining such as those of Mr. Justice Rand," he said.

"Labor leaders who are justifiably criticizing Mr. Rand should devote equal attention to devising methods to reduce the frequency of situations that lead to the public demand for the Rand report."

"The best possible remedy for some of the most intractable problems in the present system is to free-up collective bargaining and remove the specific kind of government intervention that has enabled parties to evade their responsibility by force."

The recommendations of Ivan C. Macdonald, former Justice of the Supreme Court of Canada, called for an overhaul of labor legislation to regulate strikes, control picketing and minimize conflict in industrial disputes.

They included a ban on picketing, prohibition of strikes by public employees and forcing private to designate essential services. These strikes would be outlawed.

Wage parity with the U.S. on a real basis was limited because of the different levels of productivity between the two countries, he said.

The UAW (United Auto Workers) said the recommendations of entrepreneurship, saw a market for the unemployed workers that it deserved a slice of the pie."

Mr. Smith said, "In addition, the UAW did not like to see Canada become a low wage area, the common auto market as that could have adverse effects on U.S. employment."

He said the three major car manufacturers should have expected a demand for wage parity from the unemployed workers who live under the auto pact had generated great support for the Big Three.

"These a thing is a very real thing," he said.

Canadian-built cars were more expensive in Canada than in the U.S. Three had a little while until they were to be sold.

Mr. Smith urged Canadian workers to strive for greater control of Canadian affairs, but added that he was not calling for the abolition of international unions.

Grape Pickers in California Backed by Toronto Marchers

TORONTO (CP) — About 700 people will be picketed during the next three days before Christmas.

The picketers would be the St. George's Day, which Saturday placed signs over grape containers in its Ontario and Quebec stores. The sign read: "Please don't buy grapes from California." support of the boycott, organizers said to support California grapes who have been on strike for the last year, trying to win a union contract.

St. Catharines, Hamilton and other cities also plan boycott resolutions at their city council meetings.

Mayor Demmon and three Toronto councillors said Supreme Court Justice for international workers for Toronto's support of the boycott. Friday, three fruit importers failed to get a court order to stop Toronto authorities from giving official city backing to the boycott.

Demonstrations are also to be held in London, Ont., Brampton, Oshawa and Windsor, Ont.

William Arner, a former controller also facing a demand suit, travelled to Delano, Calif., to see how the situation was. He said the boycott is "a very real thing," he said.

Miss Govea said the boycott has reduced sales of California grapes by about 30 per cent across America.

She said grape pickers at Delano, most of whom are Mexican, have been on strike for about 18,000 a year are American. They are trying to win a union contract.

They are tired of working from 6 a.m. to 10 p.m. in 113-degree weather in unheated facilities, no rest periods, no drinking water," she said.

Arner said he had been through city streets for the last 10 years. He said the boycott is "a very real thing," he said.

Being on Top Makes Devils

By SYDNEY J. BARBIS

Suppose that the dominant group in the U.S. had been black for the last 300 years and the minority had been Imperial white slaves. There wouldn't the U.S. be facing much the same situation it is today, only reversed?

When the black militants rant against "white devils" they are only half right. We are devils because we are white, but because we are on top. There is no reason to believe blacks on top would be any more humane or compassionate.

I think this is important to keep in mind, before the nation is made prettier by the black-and-white confrontation. The black Niggers are going to die in death thousands of black children, and the fact that they are the same color exercises no restraining effect upon them.

In the two great wars of our century for fat which have exterminated whites by the millions; and not only they follow whites, they were so-called fellow Christians, who believed toward each other with such ferocity that all should have been communicated from both sides. Instead, the white Christians bled on both sides, blessed them and urged them onward toward further bestiality.

The blacks today are on the side of justice and decency because they are on top. They are made to and made to support because of any inherent moral superiority.

Suffering makes us better men, it does not make us worse. It also makes us worse. It makes us determine to treat by the oppressor as he has treated us. And if we get the upper hand, this is how easily he can be crushed. Black militancy today is merely the mirror image of white callousness over centuries.

It would be a tragic mistake for the blacks to imagine that the whites are more devil than anyone else; we are all pathetic slaves when we get the upper hand, which is what both Jews mean when they condemn the reigning establishment of this day and

Minimum Is $15 for Women At Loblaws Store at Sudbury

SUDBURY (CP) — Under a new contract, employees of the three Loblaws Groceries Ltd. stores here maintain their position as Ontario's highest-paid retail food workers, a union said last Monday.

R. A. LaCher, international

Jeanne Dixon's Horoscope

For Nov. 25th:
Your Monday today. The coming year provides you with challenges in human relationships. Learn to make time and space for yourself; not alone in meditation, to find your own way. The probabilities indicate this year's trend to pay off heavily next year. Today's news usually keep themselves busy.

ARIES (Mar. 21 — Apr. 19):
You further your cause best by simply standing pat. Do your work, conscientiousness, praise (or even reprimand). Take care, Mar. 21 — May 20. Anything you have said lately, that will be misinterpreted, will come back to you now. Listen, and patiently endure.

GEMINI (May 21 — June 21):
It has finally come time to do some chores, particularly things you do not like. Quitting will do no good. Rushing is poor or resolve. Insistence on your own narrow goals still hinders resistance.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 — Oct. 23):
All your relatives come charging in, since you expect, in a meditation, to find your own way. The probabilities indicate this year's trend to pay off heavily next year. Today's news usually keep themselves busy.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 — Nov. 21):
Stick to the routines that have worked in the past. Experience goes away. Keep your money close, as it is your only defense.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 — Dec. 21):
You are usually a person of a minimum; go along with the majority, for the time being.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 — Jan. 19):
Focus on home base. The going will be slow until something is done with intention. Be flexible enough to go along with a decision without losing sight of your goal.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20 — Feb. 18):
Your patience under pressure is going to be something to be proud of later on. Shun controversy, listen. Get some much needed rest.

PISCES (Feb. 19 — Mar. 20):
Annoyance and irritation demands expression from fatigue. The time is vital, less than 90 cents an hour for men and 80 cents for women.

Editor's note: Hastings elects its county school board Dec. 2. In a four-part series education reporter Lenny Williamson examines the move.

By LENNY WILLIAMSON
STAFF REPORTER

Sixteen elected representatives on the new Hastings County Board of Education will sit down after Jan. 1 to make crucial decisions about the careers of 2,700 students entrusted to their care.

The administrators they hire, the curriculum they approve, the educational standards they set, the schools they build and the teachers they certify will directly affect the children who are their first responsibility.

That, in essence, is the implication of Bill 41, the legislation creating autonomous county-wide boards of education.

After more than 100 years of department of education has opted out, and turned most of its functions at the elementary and secondary school levels over to autonomous local boards.

In stressing Education Minister William Davis's avowed reason for the change—equality of educational opportunity—most commentators have overlooked the principle behind Bill 41—decentralization of educational authority and the autonomy of the new boards.

The great, paternalistic department in Toronto, which has planned and supervised all education in Ontario for over 100 years, has been legaled out of its job.

Educational policy, planning and supervision in Hastings

County after Jan. 1 will be the responsibility of 16 men and women directly responsible to the people who elected them.

Starting as the change may seem, it has worthy sponsors.

About 1970, the father of Ontario education, Evarist Brown, submitted a brief advocating that responsibility for education be vested in the people who paid for it—the local ratepayers. His recommendations for large, regional and autonomous school boards were ignored by his government.

The cause was taken up again in recent times by trustees' associations, educators' associations, educators' associations.

Dockrill for McFarland In Mayoralty Contest

By DONALD MacKENZIE
Staff Reporter

PICTON (Staff) — Mayor Harvey J. McFarland received some unexpected support today in his race for the mayoralty.

ally from Picton councillor Dr. Lionel Dockrill.

The mayor's spot is being contested by Reginald Moore. But Mr. Dockrill's pledge of support to the Mayor was not unexpected or unexpected for as far as the former Picton "man of the year" was concerned.

"I have always tried to vote for what is best for the community," said Dr. Dockrill in explaining his decision.

"I'm very very disturbed by the fact emotions are running high in Picton — it is especially unfortunate during election time."

The well known Picton physician said the main weapon being used against Mayor McFarland is the Proctor-Silex article. "He's being blamed for not setting the strike then not setting it."

"Why? There are nine people on council and it is he blamed for not setting the strike then not setting it."

Mr. Moore, the mayor's second opponent in 1968, when

Hercules Watched For Cracks in Wings

OTTAWA (CP) — The defence department is "keeping a close eye" on the 23 Hercules aircraft operated by the air force since disclosure in Washington that serious wing cracks have developed in similar transport aircraft flown by the U.S. forces, a spokesman for the department said today.

That no such problems have shown up in the Canadian planes, the spokesman said. A Washington report Monday said the Hercules—or C-130—was showing serious wing cracks during "workhorse" service in the Vietnam war. The problem had turned up in hundreds of C-130s and was likely to cost the U.S. more than $11,000,000 to repair.

An armed forces spokesman here said the trouble probably was traceable to the use being put to the U.S. planes in Vietnam where the aircraft make many landings and takeoffs, usually of short, rough strips.

Dollar and Franc Steady at Zurich

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

The pound sterling bounced back to its pre-crisis level when deals opened on the London foreign exchange market today.

As sterling recovered, gold prices fell in the bullion markets of the world.

PARIS (CP) — Premier Maurice Couve de Murville announced today the cancellation of French nuclear weapons tests for 1969 as part of more than $1,200,000,000 in cuts in government spending to save the franc from devaluation.

The premier announced that funds for another prestige program—the Indo-French super-sea jetliner Concorde—will be reduced by about $100,000,000 in the government austerity program aimed at stopping an international run on the franc.

Cancellation of the Pacific nuclear tests was the first severe blow France has accepted in the development of its previously announced nuclear deterrent.

Announcing measures to cut the 1969 budget deficit by $1,000,000,000 francs, said $1,200,000,000, the premier said the value-added tax would be increased, making imports dearer.

Biafra Relief Situation Is as Confused as Ever

OTTAWA (CP) — The complicated situation surrounding Canadian efforts to provide relief supplies to Biafra remained just as confused after a Toronto exchange Monday.

Andrew Stevens (NDP—Tomson Greenwood), one of four MPs who visited the bushy-rimmed region of Nigeria, asked whether the Canadian government is prepared to start dispatching relief flights to Biafra.

He said the Canadian government had no use for the Caribou but the Nigerien government asked for them.

The Canadian government replied that it is only prepared to operate through the Red Cross.

It is not an "exclusive party" as stated by Nigeria that there be a guarantee against dispatching arms shipments.

Lorne Nelson (NDP—Yorkton-Bellefleur), who also visited Biafra, asked whether Canadian aircraft have arrived in the Nigerian capital of Lagos.

Mr. Nelson said the Nigerian Red Cross said the Canadian government they had no use for the Caribou but the Nigerien government asked for them.

The Canadian government replied that it is only prepared to operate through the Red Cross.

Hong Kong Flu Kills Five

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — An outbreak of a new viral disease known as the Hong Kong flu has hit 262 of the 830 residents of the city's home for the aged, claiming the lives of five of them, Philadelphia's health commissioner reported Monday.

Dr. Lewis D. Pulk confirmed the outbreak of the disease at the Riverchase Home. He said a laboratory analysis showed the outbreak during the winter season from the new type virus which is less serious than the Hong Kong flu. The flu also has struck patients in a children's hospital and two local doctors.

Quebec's 220 Liquor Stores Re-open Today After Long Strike

MONTREAL (CP) — Quebec's 220 liquor stores scheduled to open for business at 10 a.m. today after striking employees put an end to a five-month walkout by voting overtures in favour of a new three-year contract.

Re-opening of the liquor stores was announced by the liquor board minutes after 1,000 Montreal-area workers voted Monday night to accept proposals hammered out in 106 meetings in favour of union negotiators.

Union officials with the Confederation of National Trade Unions which bargained for the employees said liquor board workers had voted 83.7 per cent in favour of a return to work. The strike led to 12 deaths, the strike led to 12 deaths.

Wildlands League Is Greedy Say Algonquin Park Loggers

TORONTO (CP) — The controversy over Algonquin Park continued Monday as loggers charged the Algonquin Wildlands League with being "completely greedy" and hypocritical.

De Gaulle's Vanity and Sensitivity Distorts French Interest in Quebec

EDITOR'S NOTE: Norman Smith, Editor of the Ottawa Journal, has just returned from France. In the second of a two-part series he gives his impressions of the French.

By NORMAN SMITH

OTTAWA — The ill feeling between Ottawa and Paris looks worse from Paris than from Ottawa. It is bitter, spiteful and personal.

The vanity and power of General de Gaulle, and his extreme sensitivity, have distorted what would otherwise be an acceptable and useful French interest in the French people of Canada and the President of Quebec.

The Canadian Embassy in Paris keeps usefully busy with particular relations with France concerning science, medicine, trade, telecommunications, oceanography, and so on.

But as to the sensitive and all-important task of restoring France's Canadian relations, the Canadian Embassy has for some time been and remains beyond de Gaulle's recognition.

He reserves his interest for Quebec House, in Paris, termed officially the "Embassy of Quebec."

The Quai d'Orsay, which is the old wharf on the Seine on which sits the French Foreign Office, retains a "proper" relationship with the Canadian Embassy. It is informed on its views and information on Vietnam, Biafra, Red China, and NATO, and so on.

But as to "Quebec Libre" and all that, the Quai d'Orsay is not interested. It is de Gaulle's policy and only de Gaulle will distort it or change it, and in the foreseeable future it seems unlikely he will die either, though he may do little about it.

There is a third force in Paris. Prime Minister de Gaulle's office is some of the courtiers and sycophants around de Gaulle who play up to the "grandeur" of de Gaulle.

much as he would have cried "Vive la Patrie" or "Vive les Français."

When he went home in a half because Mr. Pearson told him his action was unwelcome to a gentleman abroad, de Gaulle vainly look on.

At a huge press conference in the Palais Royal Nov. 27, 1967, de Gaulle said "If Quebec is to free, there must be two conditions: A complete change in the structure of the French Republic and the organization of Quebec to the rank of a sovereign state."

That was not ambiguous, and though de Gaulle seems not again to have said much about Canada since Sept. 9, 1969, we saw in those 10 months the French government's various manoeuvres "towards" Quebec and cold distillations of Ottawa.

Had de Gaulle softened his suit? Seemingly not. At another massive press conference in the Elysee Palace he was asked whether the election in Canada of a French-speaking prime minister might be a sign of a future to change French policy towards Quebec.

He replied in two words, ending the question and ending the entire press conference. The two words: "Certainly not."

By now Prime Minister Trudeau is well known to French eyes, as well as many English Canadian eyes, he used a sledhammer on the unsavory Philippe Bouchard instead of a friend. He was on former ground Sept. 17, 1968, when he declared de Gaulle was "trying to diminish the unity of Canada."

Ten days later, Premier Johnson's death brought Prime Minister de Gaulle to Quebec and the following day of a return to family seemed to appear in his meeting with Mr. Trudeau. Mr. de Gaulle said afterwards that they had had a good talk, that Trudeau had not mentioned Bouchard, and he repeated his charge that de Gaulle sought to destroy Canadian unity.

The French prime minister said there were of course problems but that France was not in the least in opposition to the basic interests of Canada.

Can we build on that? I think so, but only patience will get around de Gaulle. It may be true, as former French Prime Minister Georges Bidault says, that de Gaulle has an "idee fixe" against the integrity of Canada. It may be true, as de Gaulle said, that de Gaulle's "Quebec Libre" was "a success if it is not a scandal" and that the General was motivated more and more by a sickly pride and an exaggerated sense of his own powers and those of France.

But it will not help Canada. If Quebec is not a success, it is not a success. If Quebec is not a success, it is not a success. If Quebec is not a success, it is not a success.

about alleged plots and, finally, the English Canadians would do better to ask themselves the reason why (Quebec might break away) rather than worry about the trivia of diplomatic etiquette."

There has of course been provocation from de Gaulle, Mr. Trudeau, Mr. de Gaulle and Hervé Abbadie, the head of the Quai d'Orsay, who talked with him in his historic office, that thought of course he is too professional a diplomat to have said so in so many words: "Michael Doherty the foreign minister knows that, though the de Gaulle side of his mouth talks differently."

If Canadians are smart they will leave de Gaulle to his advisers. It is a time to build quietly, but energetically, at home. Above all we should not impatiently seek a confrontation between de Gaulle and Trudeau. For now at any rate that would be a kind of nuclear madness.

Canada need not bow down to significant French intrusion into its Confederation, but we should be receptive to France's sentimental and cultural interest in French-speaking Canada. To be touchy and unresponsive would benefit the very extremism of separatism we most despise.

In recent years English Canada has moved notably towards a mutually understanding with French Canada. If at this critical time we allow the theoretical dominions of a 75-year-old foreigner and expatriate to distort us from below, value and essentially that understanding we could miss our destiny.

Farmers Told to Tell Others About Treatment by Industry

KINGSTON (CP) — Farmers should tell consumers and other organizations about their problems and unfair treatment they receive from industry instead of complaining among themselves, a former official of the Ontario Association of Canada said Monday night.

Key Armstrong told 300 delegates to the 17th annual Farmers Union of the Ontario Farmers Union that it was high time they improved their communications channels with other segments of society, particularly the end users.

"No other Canadian organization can expect the practice of a class has made such advances as has farming, but in the field of communications no other Canadian occupation has suffered as much," the former CMC president said.

Cecil Richards Qualified Instructor Teaches Advanced Course in Sculpturing

This past weekend, sculptors enthusiasts received a more advanced course than given earlier in the year with Cecil Richards as instructor.

It is felt that Mr. Richards is well qualified having studied at the Cranbrook Academy of Art in Michigan, under Carl Milles of Sweden as well as at the Vandyover-Novary is Oslo, in Greece, and at the British School of Art in Rome. In 1950 he was the recipient of an award by the Canadian Council while studying in Greece. He has taught four years at the University of Texas and was a full Professor of Sculpture at the University of Manitoba for 15 years. Recently the National Museum in Ottawa purchased one of his works.

Rev. B. Small officiated at the November 11 wedding ceremony at St. Paul's United Church, Stirling, when he united in marriage, Mabel Elaine Vandervoort, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Vandervoort, of R. R. No. 3 Stirling, to Robert Edgar Morrow, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Morrow, of R. R. No. 4 Stirling. Rendering appropriate nuptial services was organist, Mrs. Andrew Paulson and soloist was William Reynolds.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of imported tulle with satin with princess styling, featuring the Elizabethan look of a high standing collar with pearls and tiny crystals. The leg of mutton sleeves completed the gown with matching beading. A wetsuit cathedral train fell from the neckline, and a matching four-tier veil adorned with seed pearls and tiny crystals added a finishing touch. The bride carried a bouquet of yellow roses and gladioli. Maid of honor, Miss Valerie Stewart, wore a gown of moss green satin, the back of which was lined green velvet. The bridesmaids featured a ruffled front, with the long sleeves of the gown ending in matching ruffles at the wrist. She carried a bouquet of bronze and yellow mums with a tall, narrow, white, ribbed, and a matching veil. Mrs. Barbara Noble, Mrs. Joyce Reid and Miss Carol Vandervoort were groomed identically to the maid of honor.

Attending the bridegroom was Joe Whitehead and the bridesmaids were Robert Vandervoort, Andrew Paulson and Robert Leary.

For the wedding reception, held at the Church hall, the mother of the bride received the guests in a dress of orange ice satin beaded, with touches of gold. A stand-up collar beaded with matching crystals and pearls, and a bodice with the same crystals was completed by elbow length sleeves. A matching turban hat, brown accessories and a green crystal brooch completed her ensemble. The mother of the bridegroom wore a jumper green knit dress, featuring a mandarin collar, three quarter length sleeves and a double row of self-covered buttons. Brown accessories and a corsage of roses completed her attire.

For the wedding trip to Pennsylvania, the bride chose an ensemble in the new cape styling. The neckline featured the mandarin look, with small chiffon ascot. The cape, in block check of black, gray and white, was complemented by a semi-fitted short dress with long sleeves, in identical material as the cape.

Upon their return, the couple will reside in Belleville.

the University of Manitoba for 15 years. Recently the National Museum in Ottawa purchased one of his works. The student enrolled in the course enjoyed an illustrated talk on 20th Century sculpture. Jan Metwally, also, two sessions on making a life sized head in clay and at other sessions smaller figures were completed. The model was Terry Summers.

Sponsors for this event were Youth and Recreation Dept. of Belleville; Belleville Recreation Commission and Belleville Art Association.

Kiwanis Ladies' Night Held at Hotel Quinte

Approximately 90 persons enjoyed the annual president's dinner and Ladies' Night, held by the Kiwanis Club of Belleville on Saturday evening, at the Hotel Quinte.

The invocation was given by Father A. S. McConegan. Following the dinner, held table guests and representatives were introduced by president-elect H. T. "Doc" Turley. The following clubs were represented: Quinte Kiwanis Club - Mr. and Mrs. Doug Reid, Kiwanian Club - Mr. and Mrs. Jack Canning, Lions Club - Mr. and Mrs. Bill Cook, Rotary Club - Mr. and Mrs. Ken Wormald, Y. Men - Mr. and Mrs. Don Lockyer. Attending from Toronto were Rayna Preston, past president of the Kiwanis Club and Mrs. Preston.

A toast to the ladies was proposed by past president P. A. F. F. and the response was given by Mrs. Will Mills.

A gift was presented to Mrs. Grant Harrison, wife of the president, by immediate past president John Trafford. A gift was also presented by secretary Max Moffatt to his beautiful wife, the president of the Ladies' Auxiliary. Following presentation of gifts by the club directors, past Lt. Governor, A. Kells and Don Vandervoort, pianist, led a spirited sing-along. In his first break remarks, president Harrison referred his audience to the program for an outline of the club's activities in 1960. He thanked the Kiwanians for their support during the year, particularly the directors and committee members. He urged all for praise secretary Max Moffatt, treasurer Ray Palmer and president-elect H. T. "Doc" Turley.

It was a note of that eight members had joined this far in 1960. New Kiwanians who joined the club this year and their wives were introduced by president Harrison who welcomed them to their first Kiwanis Ladies' Night.

One of the president's goals had been a new service to the community and a new fund raising scheme. The "Walk-to-win-a-life" project had satisfied both goals admirably - a worthy cause and a means of securing it. Kiwanian Ken Carter was presented with a plaque in recognition of his outstanding leadership as chairman of the Walk-to-win-a-life project.

This year's president's dinner and Ladies' Night was organized by president-elect Will Mills who was highly praised by president Harrison for the enjoyable evening.

Derby Scandal

Hearing Witness Challenges Chemist

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — The Kentucky Racing Commission, which suspended no expense in preparing for the hearing on Dr. Charles Darrow's role in the horse's death, still got caught short.

It had to borrow a magnifying glass from a spectator Monday in order to examine a piece of evidence being challenged by a professor of pharmacology at the University of Louisville.

On the witness stand was Dr. Charles Darrow who, during five hours of highly technical testimony, reached these conclusions:

—State chemist Kenneth W. Smith was in error when he reported phenylbutazone in the urine of Darrow's filly after the colt captured the 1980 Kentucky Derby for Peter Miller.

—Smith's fire tests to detect the drug were carried out improperly.

—The chemist did not keep adequate records while conducting his examination.

Smith's findings are the main issue in the hearing, called after Father expelled a decision by Churchill Downs stewards to deny him the winner's purse of $125,000.

Phenylbutazone, an anti-inflammatory agent, is permitted at Kentucky's tracks for treatment, as long as its use is discontinued in time to prevent its detection in a horse at race time.

Darrow was particularly critical of a series of microscopic tests made by Smith from one sample of the urine.

While the commission examined a series of photographs which Smith presented to show crystals, Darrow argued that the photographs were not consistent with those shown in standard textbooks on this subject.

Darrow also attempted to discredit Smith's interpretation of the readings he obtained on a spectrophotometer. This machine produces a curve which has a high and a low point, but in Smith's tests the low point or minimum curve did not register.

Darrow told the commission that this could have been caused by two things—either the machine was malfunctioning or there was an error on the part of the operator in preparing the urine sample.

But, he admitted he could have made a mistake, possibly while picking up a wrong bottle of chemical used in doing the urine.

Pronovost Latest Addition To Leaf's Lame Rearguard List

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

It's just possible that Toronto Maple Leafs may run out of defencemen before the National Hockey League season is finished.

Four are injured now, and the team has played only 18 games of a rugged 76-game schedule. The latest casualty is veteran Marcel Pronovost, hurt during Toronto's 7-0 loss to Boston Bruins Sunday.

Others incapacitated by injury are Pierre Plante and rookie Rickie Ley and Brian Gormie. To replace Pronovost, the Maple Leafs Monday recalled aggressive 241 Quinn from Tulsa of the Central Hockey League.

When Toronto takes the ice against the Penguins at Pittsburgh Wednesday, Tim Horton will be the only experienced Maple Leaf rearguard. He will be joined by four youngsters—Quinn, Jim Fox, Mike Polak and Jim Dorsey.

MARCEL PRONOVOST

In other activity Wednesday, Montreal Canadiens visit Los Angeles Kings, Chicago Black Hawks are at New York Rangers, Boston Bruins journey to St. Louis to play the Blues, Philadelphia Flyers welcome Detroit Red Wings and Oakland Seals meet Minnesota North Stars at Minneapolis. There are no games scheduled tonight.

Pronovost strained ligaments in his left knee during the second period of Sunday's game when Brian's Johnny McKenzie crashed into him. There was no immediate announcement about the length of his convalescence.

Plante has missed six games because of a knee injury suffered Nov. 12 against Boston. It is hoped he will be ready for weekend games.

Ley, out with a severe cherry horse since Nov. 10, is expected to resume skating next week. Gormie suffered a separated shoulder on the second day of training camp at Peterborough Ont. last September and has been inactive ever since.

The latest replacement, Quinn, is six-foot-three and weighs 200 lbs. He is regarded as a poor skater.

The Maple Leafs' list, announced Monday that rookie goaltender Al Smith has been sent to Tulsa of the CHL, leaving the remaining defence to Bruce Gamble and Johnny Howe.

It was Monday that the Maple Leafs, Brown and Philadelphians trying to arrange a three-way trade. The Leafs would obtain a goaltender—either Bernie Parent or Doug Favell—and defenceman Jari Valtonen from Philadelphia for a pair of Mike Walton and Wayne Carleton.

Then the Maple Leafs would send the goaltender and a forward to Boston for defenceman Ted Green and a forward, possibly mutual coach Punch Imlach released coach Monday on the trade rumors.

Nats' Roster Picked For December Moscow Tour

WINNEPEG (CP) — Coach Jackie McLeod will take 20 players, 19 from Winnipeg and seven from Ottawa, to Moscow where Canada's national hockey team will play in an international tournament Dec. 17.

The selection was made Monday night after the Eastern and Western National clubs had played in a 2-2 tie.

Those chosen from the Winnipeg-based club are goaltenders Wayne Stephenson and Dave Gifford; defencemen Terry O'Malley, Gary Begg, Doug Smith and Steve Chrtek; forwards Frank Bluck, Jim Irving, George Watson, Ted MacIntyre, Gerry Foster, Bob Brindley and Bill Munde.

From the Ottawa team are defencemen Al Barmore and playing-coach Jack Barmore and forwards Terry Clancy, Rickie Beyer, Rod Zaine, Derek Blomley and Jean Charest.

The team leaves Thursday.

If you're not a very good cook, we doubt if we can improve the meals you service. However, we sure can improve the surroundings in which you serve the meals. Come to think of it — maybe we can improve your cooking. We'll bet a lot of ladies could be superb cooks if they delighted thinking in a kitchen that was bright, cheerful and convenient. A kitchen that has plenty of cupboards, seats of counter space and appliances set in out of the way. We think successful cooking, in many endeavors, is partially contingent on a good frame of mind. Yes, that's what we wanted to say: For surprisingly little money we can give you a good frame of mind!

Before you cook another thing, call Mr. Mel Abel at 962-9184. Mel will be happy to visit you at your convenience to give you an estimate on your particular requirements with no obligation whatsoever.

Seriously, if your cooking didn't improve, your family would certainly enjoy it more in a cheerful new kitchen!

Rider Roster Has 15 With Grey Cup Experience

Liske Anticipating Variety In Rough Rider Defensive Plan

CALGARY (CP) — Peter Liske expects Ottawa Rough Riders to come at Calgary Stampede with different, defensive combinations in Saturday's Grey Cup game.

"They won't just try to go with one thing," said Liske, one of the best passers ever to hit the Western Football Conference.

"They're a good team to play. They'll be in a nose defence and they'll be blitzing."

"It won't be a simple matter of dropping back and passing."

"We have to come off with other things ... a run, screen, drive ... it's just variety."

PETER LISKE

Liske is confident the Stampede can adjust to what ever Ottawa comes up with.

Other clubs tried the blitz against Calgary in late 1977, he said, "but it didn't work and there wasn't as much blitzing this year as last. But they've tried other things."

Liske feels the big pressure is over with the defeat of Saskatchewan Roughriders in the best-of-three WFC final. "They won't keep the blitz this year as much as last year."

"It's a different block ... we played them 13 times in two years, so they know us."

Liske wasn't surprised in the 23-9 score, fattered on a tough fully, "looking for an opportunity to play." He termed itself a report that he's going to hit the Cowboys because the Cowboys already have three good quarterbacks.

For the batch of passing records he was collected by the credit to his Calgary teammates, particularly receivers Herb Marshall, Terry Evansen, Bob McCarthy, Gerry Shaw and Dave Cranmer.

The 27-year-old flogger from Penn State joined Toronto Argonauts of the Eastern Conference in 1980 after one season with New York Jets of the American Football League. Calgary picked him up in a 1980 trade which sent Bobby Taylor and Pete Manning to the Argos.

In four Canadian seasons he has thrown 1,480 passes and completed for 12,026 yards and 86 touchdowns. His record collection includes most yards gained passing in a single WFC season, 4,479; most yards gained passing in a single WFC game, 531; most passes thrown in a single Canadian Football League season, 390; most passes completed in a single CFL season, 47; most touchdowns in a single CFL season, 46. All but the single-game yards were established in 1980 when Liske was voted Canada's outstanding player.

Sports On All Fronts

MONTREAL (CP) — Clarence Campbell, National League president, says he plans to write Health Minister Munro to give him the "true facts" about professional hockey organizations signing amateur players.

Campbell was commenting on a speech by the federal minister Saturday to the Atlantic Association of Professional Players and Recreational, Montreal, N.B.

"In 10, Munro called for the creation of pre-mature signing of amateur players, whether open or secret, by professional organizations."

"We cannot allow businessmen to buy and sell young athletes as if they were pieces of property," he said. "Hockey players are not children."

TORONTO (CP) — Al Baldree of Toronto, receiver winner of the World Cup and championed in Rome, has suffered a back injury and will be out of action for about six weeks.

The 44-year-old golfer likes a small hole but between his shoulders while hitting weights Sunday at Lloyd Perre's fitness hall.

Baldree said a bad sprain of the shoulder of a spur on the side between his shoulder.

TORONTO (CP) — Queen's Golden Gaels, who won the Canadian college football championship Friday, today placed eight players on the Ontario Quarter Athletic Association football conference all-star team.

Coleman Could Be Big Factor Against One-Time Calgary Mates

OTTAWA (CP) — It's only two years since Ottawa Rough Riders made their last appearance in a Grey Cup game but the Eastern Football Conference champions have made a lot of changes in that time.

Of the 20 Ottawa players who were treated out on the Vancouver field in 1980 to lose to Saskatchewan Roughriders, only 15 are still in the lineup that Frank Clair will send out Saturday against Calgary Stampede in the 1981 national final.

Six of the holdovers go back to the Ottawa club which won the Grey Cup in 1960 by beating Edmonton Eskimos. They are tackle Jim Cain, 29, and Mike Racine; 31; centre Jerry Selinger, the oldest player at 34, defensive halfback Joe Parlier, 27, offensive halfback Ron Stewart, 33, and quarterback Ron Jackson, 30.

FRANK CLAIR

Others from the 1980 Riders club are defensive end Billy Joe Booth, 25, defensive halfback Gene Gaines, 28, middle line, backer Ken Lohman, 34, offensive guard Roger Pridgen, 32, defensive tackle Marshall Smith, 25, centre Doug Spock, 21, flanker Will Stewart, 21, fullback Scott Smith, 23, and offensive end Jay Roberts, 22.

Coach Frank Clair, who has managed to survive 13 years as head man at Ottawa, says a big factor in his decisions on who stays and who goes is how much the players "want to play."

"That's the way it was this year; that's the way it will be next year."

After Saturday's win over To-

There are no serious injuries in the Ottawa camp. Sen's head injury won't prevent him from dressing although Wayne Gaudin showed Saturday he's an adequate replacement.

The city has planned a big send-off rally for the club Wednesday and there'll be a civic dinner for the Riders Monday, Jan. 5-6 or 10.

Eliminated Regina Crew Dominating All-Star Roster

TORONTO (CP) — The defeated Saskatchewan Roughriders, not the champion Calgary Stampede, dominated the Western Football Conference all-star team.

Tim Reynolds of Vancouver, president of the Football players of Canada, today announced all-stars to represent the WFC in an annual play.

Included from Calgary are Saturday's Ottawa Rough Riders here in the Grey Cup, Terry Evansen, Herb Marshall, and Terry Evansen.

Herb Marshall on the offensive, Frank Andrusik and Jerry Keating on the defensive.

Saskatchewan Roughriders, who won the conference title but lost the playoff final to Calgary, placed five players on offense—including quarterback Ron Lancaster—and four on defense.

The team:

Third Sortie Hockey in Holland Again Lures Bob Boyle

Belleville's Bobby Boyle has again succumbed to the lure of Europe.

Earlier this month he returned to Stirling House in Holland as a player-coach of the South, Hertenbach club in the six Dutch National Hockey League.

Tina Boyle's third year as club coach and second year as player-coach. "It was a great experience," said Boyle, who has known two years with the league, "but that's not my first more ways than one. We not only gained experience hockey-wise but we learned how to live off the other half of the world."

BOBBY BOYLE

While playing for South Hertenbach, Bob has travelled throughout Europe and played hockey in France, Belgium, Austria, Switzerland, Germany, Yugoslavia, England and Ireland as well as in Holland.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Kris Boyle of John Street, Bob played his minor league in Belleville and later started for three years with the Junior "B" club.

Boyle was speaking for himself and Great Hertenbach of Belgium, who was a teammate of Bob's the past two years.

A defensive and left-wing, Bob was one of the team's leading scorers the past two years and helped the team win the league title both years.

"The league is on a par with Intermediate 'A' or Senior 'B' in Canada, but the coaching is very poor," said Boyle.

It is interesting to note that there are no commercial sponsors ... the commercial sponsors are their own clubs. Each club's uniforms match the color of the town's flag and colors.

When not playing with the team, Bob coaches minor hockey teams in the community.

Public Opinion Lacking

Labor Demands Irresponsible: Kellow

Labor demands for abolition of court martial on strikers last night were branded irresponsible and unimpressive.

Union leaders and politicians disputing the Justice of the Peace court have been the public support they imagine, Mark Kellow, second vice-president, Ontario Chamber of Commerce, told a general meeting of Belleville Chamber of Commerce at the Shrine Club.

Experts' allegations may be groundless, Kellow said, but strikers without the courts' harassment representations from labor. Such a restraining order is in his force against labor at the Province-Edwards plant in Picton.

Curved moves for the abolition of the injunction were "impossible, unimpressive and unjustified extortion... by some labor leaders and some members of the provincial legislature," said Mr. Kellow, personnel manager for Quaker Oats.

"These people falsely believed they had public support in this issue. They were wrong," he claimed, "what they failed to realize is that the public is well aware that labor unions are no longer the poor exploited underdogs of an industrial society."

"Labor's role has changed with the great affluence of society," said Mr. Kellow.

In the past, a strike's main weapon was his next meal.

"Today, his main problem is there is he going to picket day," he said.

Mr. Kellow saw the disappearance of organized labor as it now is as living patterns are drastically transformed by the end of the century.

"I see some surviving long after the year 2000 as they presently exist," he said.

He said Mr. Kellow: "Labor unions either will be abolished by people 'wary of their excesses' or will cease to have meaning in a society where work is not a principal imperative."

But the unions call for a change for business organizations — like the Chamber of Commerce, he warned.

The Chamber now exists on the periphery of society. It must move to the "very core of Canadian life."

A crisis of "conscience and belief" now threatens society. "We're now aware that technically and scientifically the end of material scarcity and equality is attainable. But we're unable to produce a viable social and political philosophy let alone a math of coping with the situation this creates."

The challenge is how to distribute the benefits of the new society.

Individuals and communities must adapt to rapid and accelerating technical and social change. Technology must not serve itself, but contribute to raising world living standards, he said.

Experience will make the difference

Firemen' Raise $728.17

TRENTON — The members of the Trenton Fire Department today released the amount raised in their recent fund raising campaign to fight muscular dystrophy and results show they almost doubled last year's total.

Dennis Smith, chairman of the campaign said a total of $728.17 had been raised this year as opposed to last year's figure of $427.

The reason for the success, said the firemen, is the "involvement of the people of Trenton."

"They really backed the campaign," said Mr. Smith.

The campaign consisted chiefly of a tea day which netted $428.54 and five canisters which accounted for another $110.33.

There was also a store for personal donation and Erie Technological Products of Canada gave a $100 cheque towards the cause, the first donation of its kind in the history of the campaign.

All money will be going to the Muscular Dystrophy Association of Canada and some will be furnished back to Trenton according to the town's needs. All 23 of Trenton's firefighters were involved in the campaign.

Ontario Dairy Princess Visits City

Ontario's 1968 Dairy Princess, 21-year-old Beth Stansell of Aylmer is a Guelph University sociology student who is looking forward to a future as an elementary school teacher.

Guelph and following her year's stint at Ontario Dairy Princess will attend Teachers' College with the view of becoming an elementary school teacher.

This afternoon she will speak at the cheestesters convention, then go on to Ottawa and back to Peterborough for a re-visit against next tomorrow night.

statements attributed to them. However, others on the board of directors stated that they were not misquoted.

"Why should the doors ever be closed," asked Lloyd Dockrill, "unless there is something to hide."

Another motion was made to define the position of the Province Edward Chamber of Commerce in relation to the labor-management dispute by the Province Sales plan.

Dockrill Speaks on Decision

PICTON (Staff) — The press has been barred from directors' meetings of the Province Edward Chamber of Commerce.

However, at least one Picton councillor has spoken out against a decision of directors of the chamber to deny the press attendance.

Dr. Lloyd Dockrill pointed out that the Chamber of Commerce is a voluntary body interested in all of the community and in promoting all of its aims.

"Why shouldn't the people know everything that goes on?" he questioned, "they are paying for some of it."

Instead of on the spot reporting, the directors decided that the secretary-treasurer should make all press releases related to official minutes of directors' meetings, or other specified meetings and that no other person shall do so unless authorized by the board.

Lindsay B. Cahan, publisher of the Picton Gazette, is the secretary-treasurer.

According to a story carried in the Gazette the reason for the "war the press" decision was that news articles having appeared in two neighboring newspapers allegedly compromised the positions and statements of certain directors concerning the current Province-Sales strike.

Some of the directors said they were misquoted and disclaimed responsibility for Douglas Rowe of Warkworth, champion cheesemaker at this week's British Empire Dairy Show at the Belleville Plaza, is congratulated by Ontario Dairy Princess, Miss Beth Stansell of Aylmer.

Rowe Wins Competition

Douglas Rowe of Warkworth has won the grand championship of the British Empire Dairy Show being held at the Belleville Plaza this week.

Mr. Rowe won top marks for his open class Sept. cheese which scored a total of 98.5 points.

William Gibson of Chateaufort was the runner-up in the open class with his August and Sept. entries scoring 95.20 points.

This year is the second year in a new twist the championship of the British Empire Dairy Show has been won by a Central Ontario cheesemaker. Last year the champion was Glen Anderson of Campbellville.

The factory cheese display was won by Ted Foley from class winners were Donald Delius of Ivanhoe, Donald Paul lock of Campbellville, Ivan Sine of Eldorado and Lewis Kellar of Milford.

Terry Baxter of Lunenburg won the block class with a cheese scoring 98.20 points.

This year's cheese show saw a total of 181 cheeses on display — slightly more than those exhibited in the regular classes last year.

David Dean of Forfar won the Siltion class with a cheese scoring 96.10 points while Douglas Rowe addition his championship laurels by his win in the manufacturers class.

The mature cheese class was won by William Gibson of Chateaufort, runner up in the over-all open classes.

Ted Foley of Fontho won the Fabron factory. Other the Hastings county special for the top county cheese maker.

An overall winner Mr. Rowe, of Campbellville, won the T. Eaton Company special, the silver challenge trophy for Sept. cheese and the John H. Echlin Memorial Cup.

The Clarke T. Bellis special award went to Dan Delius of Ivanhoe and the Lee Grills special to Doug Rowe.

The week's cheese show is being held in conjunction with the 41st annual convention of the Central Ontario Cheese Makers Association being held today and Thursday at the Sun Valley Motor Inn.

Domestic sales of exhibition cheese in any quantity are a feature of the cheese show.

You can eat this football and, surprisingly, it is easy to make. Every Grey Cup Day party in Canada should have one as a centerpiece to celebrate this exciting Canadian football day. If your team wins it will taste all the better. If your team loses it will ease the pain. Mary Moore gives you the "know-how."

Food Columnist Meets Her Football Hero

By MARY MOORE

Why does a food editor receive an invitation to a sports writer's party to meet the B.C. Lions? Because she is a football enthusiast!

The beautiful seafood buffet was worth the trip alone but to be introduced to and shake hands with and talk to Jackie Parker was an ingredient that will never be forgotten.

Out of football uniform and in a suit he does not look like a football player at all. He is not outsize — simply a gently smiling character with a school teacher's appearance.

But not on the football field. There he is all business and in the East the B.C. Lions overcome the opposition.

Grey Cup fever temperatures are rising and parties are being planned by football hostesses.

Whether your team wins or not the spectators have to be fed. We have a 'football' for you — no pikin' but eminently suitable as a centerpiece for your buffet spread, table and deliciously edible.

EAT THE FOOTBALL.

Football:

6 cups puffed rice

20 carrots
1 1/2 cups miniature (or large) marshmallows (sliced)

2 tablespoons butter (or margarine)

2 tablespoons water

2 tablespoons butter (or margarine)

2 cups icing sugar

1 teaspoon salt

2 tablespoons milk

1 teaspoon vanilla

2 squares (2 oz.) unsweetened chocolate, melted and soured

To make Football heat the puffed rice on large shallow pan in oven at 350 deg. Fahr.

about 10 minutes. Turn into large mixing bowl. Meanwhile in top of double boiler over boiling water melt and combine stirring the carrots, marshmallows, butter and water until blended and smooth.

(This takes about 20 minutes but at first you do not have to stir constantly.) Pour overlaid in bowl slowly, stirring until evenly coated. With ballooned palms pick up the whole mixture and press firmly into football a h a p e. Keep permitting and forcing grains to adhere. (NOTE: If your hands are small you may have to make two smaller footballs.)

Cool on wax paper until set.

If bottom footballs do not set,

try to make Frosting ball batter, icing sugar, salt, milk, and vanilla until smooth. Remove 1/2 of it to a small bowl.

Add melted chocolate to remaining. Pipe chocolate frosting to form seams on football.

Pipe meringue white frosting to form facing and end bands.

(You will have leftover frosting but need this amount to operate decorating table.) Use as a centerpiece for Grey Cup buffet. Party and cheer and serve with coffee for dessert.

It is crunchily delicious.

R. Jeffrey Speaks At Liberal Meet

The Belleville Women's Liberal Association held their monthly meeting at the Evans Centre in Monday, November 27.

After a short business meeting a discussion was held on a forthcoming project.

The speaker for the evening was Mrs. Robin Jeffrey who answered questions on the civic election and arena issues and also gave an impressive talk on the role of women in today's society. The meeting closed with coffee and informal discussion.

Points for Parents

By MARY BEYSON

Subject: "I'm an adolescent, by the rules, most intelligent girl. I know, I really don't want to be like that again."

Subject: "I know you're upset, but I'm sorry about your disappointment — but I can't stand to take out your anger on someone else."

The above material equips parents, not at the same time shows an understanding of the teenager's unhappy conduct.

PCs Win Two Seats In Nova Scotia Voting

HALIFAX (CP) — The Progressive Conservatives scored victories in two Nova Scotia by-elections Tuesday, retaining two seats and picking up another from the Liberals.

The by-elections were held less than two weeks after Liberal Opposition Leader Gerald Regan charged that irregularities were involved in land transactions in a government-backed housing project near here.

The Progressive Conservative government held on in Cumberland County in one of Tuesday's by-elections and took Dartmouth North from the Liberals in the other.

The by-elections left the party standing in the 46-seat Nova Scotia legislature as follows: Conservatives 40, Liberals five, vacant one.

Hydro Commission Honors Employee

MARMORA — Miss Miriam Savage retiring after 37 years' service with the Marmora Hydro Commission was honored Thursday evening at a banquet at Royal Hotel Marmora. The party given by Marmora Hydro was attended by members of the local branch, the Ontario Hydro Com. Marmora Village and their wives.

Expressing appreciation and thanks for assistance given and regret over her resignation were Bob Maynes Chairman of Hydro Commission, Reeve Bill Shannon who expressed sincere thanks on behalf of the community, Hydro Commissioner and former Reeve of the Village Ralph Neal spoke of her guidance to members on behalf of the Ontario Hydro staff. Hugh Booth and Alex Liberman, auditor both of Belleville extended their thanks for her devoted service. Howard Bricker spoke of her early employment in Marmora.

A presentation of an inscribed silver tray was made by Reeve Shannon and ex-Reeve Ralph Neal.

Miss Savage expressed her thanks and a special note of thanks to Roger Sneider local superintendent.

Miss Savage will continue as clerk of the Village.

Ontario Farmers Union Rejects Compromise

KINGSTON (CP) — The course of farm unity, or disunity, was set Tuesday night at the 17th annual convention of the Ontario Farmers' Union when incumbent President Walter T. Miller, 62, of Tara, was elected for a second one-year term.

More than 500 delegates voted by secret ballot. The final tally was not released by union officials, but when the announcement was made that Mr. Miller had won, the majority of the delegates stood up and applauded, signifying more than a sweep by Mr. Miller.

Prior to the election, a majority of the delegates accepted a farm unity plan endorsed by Mr. Miller to unify all existing farmer-oriented organizations in the province into a single, multi-purpose union.

Disseminating delegates considered the vote results a rejection of the Ontario Federation of Agriculture, which also prepared a report on farm unity.

The two reports, prepared at a joint OPU-OFA six-man committee, were presented three weeks ago at the OFA's annual convention in Toronto.

Both plans were rejected by the delegates and a compromise plan was formulated from the two.

It was tentatively accepted by the convention on the understanding that it would be presented to the OPU membership three weeks later and some action taken.

However, Monday, when the three plans were presented to the delegates, the compromise plan was read but otherwise ignored during more than three hours of debate on the other two plans.

Chief differences were the inclusion of an exclusion of a new-sponsored farm union, or marketing boards, which now regulates minimum prices with buyers, or actually sell farmers' products.

The OPU plan would transfer the role of marketing boards to a nine-man committee of farmers. The OFA report indicated that marketing boards would continue to function outside the new union if they so wished.

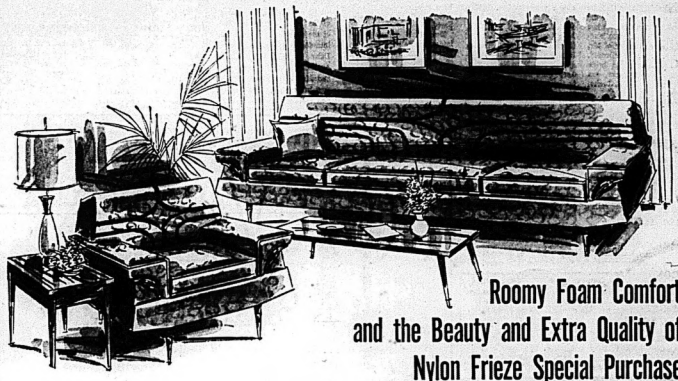

Instead of considering the third plan, which was designed as a compromise to suit delegates at both conventions, OPU delegates, spearheaded by a motion from John Moring of Carleton Place, near Hanover, decided to plot their own course, and the OPU would go ahead with the national plan without them.

Other unions and farm organizations were given only 30 days to either join in the program or the OPU would go ahead with the national plan without them.

Mr. Miller, a militant and outspoken leader, defeated former first vice-president Elmer Powers of Beesburg, considered by some delegates as a moderate who favored discussions and further negotiations with the OPU.

Germans Say Wilson Attempted Blackmail in Monetary Crisis

LONDON (CP) — British-German relations have taken on a sudden chill as the result of a diplomatic foul-up at the height of last week's international monetary crisis.

Just who tripped is not clear, but a clash has developed over German-issued reports that Prime Minister Wilson tried to blackmail West Germany into revaluing the mark.

Wilson is denying it in diplomatic language.

The row developed when Germany was under pressure to revalue the mark upwards, supposedly to save French and British currencies. An official German spokesman said in Bonn that Wilson called in the German ambassador here and threatened to withdraw some of Britain's NATO forces from Germany if it was not done.

In the Commons Tuesday night, Wilson called the allegation "quite false."

"I very much deplore the lack-lustre 1945-1946-Born about what took place," he said. "I have never known such a thing in four years of communication with over 100 heads of government."

While Wilson did not say what happened, it develops that he did call in the ambassador and put up a strong argument for German co-operation in maintaining monetary equilibrium by revaluing.

He is reported to have pointed to a recent NATO communique stressing need for sharing the financial burdens of the alliance, which seems to have been carried a step further in the German "lexa."

The ambassador, Dr. Herbert Blankenhorn, confirmed Tuesday that he had not been bullied.

However, a certain amount of Roy Jenkins, chancellor of the Exchequer, at last week's Anglo-French sessions of Western European finance ministers. The German look the view that the strong mark was being called on unjustifiably, to lead out independent neighbors.

It probably will take a round of something diplomatic notes to get the ruffled national feathers into place.

Unions Join Timber Companies In Protesting Algonquin Plan

FEMBRIDGE (CP) — More than 35 timber firms, union groups and other bodies from the Fembroke district backing

Algonquin Park almost unanimously rapped a government plan for development of the Park at a department of lands and forests hearing Tuesday.

The organizations and a few individuals presented a brief, which will be submitted to Forestry Minister Rene Brunelle on aspects of the provisional master plan for the park released earlier this month.

Orderly protest marches about 250 strong filed into the Legion Hall here shortly before the meeting. All were employed by the Canada Veneers plant, which owners say would be forced to close if the government for the park is implemented.

The mill is one of 10 in the area which derive raw material from timber limits in Algonquin Park.

Briefs against the government plan were submitted by Consolidated Balmora, Canadian Spirit and Lumber Co., Hogan Lake Timber Co., Widdowson of Canada and several smaller timber cutters.

The only group to support the department's plan, with some reservations, was the newly-formed Council of Pembroke District Fish and Game Clubs with about 800 members.

TORONTO (CP)—Submissions on a master plan for the development of Algonquin Park will be received until Dec. 31. Lands and Forests Minister Rene Brunelle told the Ontario legislature Tuesday.

He told Pat Reid (L.-Rainy River) that an extension to the time for submissions had been granted because the department had been slow in making copies of the master plan available.

MONTREAL (CP) — Air Canada, anticipating a threefold expansion by 1978, has placed $4 billion in the hands of a 10-man senior management team — Quebec lawyer Yves Pratte and J. R. Baldwin, longtime deputy minister of transport.

In a statement Tuesday, which announced the appointment of Mr. Pratte as chairman and Mr. Baldwin as president, the Air Canada board of directors also hinted that the publicly-owned air line may have to "go public" for expansion funds.

The statement forecast a "doubling and tripling" in the size of operations over the next five to 10 years and resulting "heavy new capital requirements."

It would be necessary "to reconsider a number of basic matters affecting Air Canada's re-organization and future, ranging from ownership to methods of financing."

Now wholly owned by the CNE, a sister Crown corporation which holds all Air Canada shares on behalf of the federal government, the air line had operating profits the last 14 years.

However, in an effort to remain competitive, Air Canada has placed orders for new aircraft, the cost of which would strain the public purse.

One-time Rival Now Is Employed By Lord Thomson

LONDON (CP) — Fallen publisher Cecil King, who shocked Lord Thomson's ambition to become the biggest publisher in the world, is going on Thomson payroll as a consultant to The Times Newspapers.

The 57-year-old King, who has in the past had harsh words about his Canadian-born rival, last May was squeezed out of his $71,000-a-year job as chairman of the giant International Publishing Corp.

The coup that made IPC the world's biggest publishing concern was engineered by King in 1931 when he trumped over the bid of the present Lord Thomson to effect a merger with Old Hans Press, which would have added 120 publications to the Thomson string.

Instead, King took them over after a gigantic financial battle. During the course of it, he said that if Thomson managed to buy Old Hans, his IPC would buy out the combined firm and throw Thomson out.

King was riding high as the apparently all-powerful chief of IPC when a boardroom revolt put him out overnight. It came just after he had lashed Prime Minister Wilson in an editorial that took up most of page one in his Daily Mirror, but the underlying reason was unsatisfactory financial returns of the publishing group.

Before his downfall, King once described Thomson as a reluctant, commoner who went begging for a British title. And a few days before he lost his job he said he regarded Thomson's "interest in stuffing his pockets with yet more money as unworthy, sometimes amusing, sometimes rather contemptible."

This was on a television program with Thomson and King interviewed separately. Thomson's rejoinder was: "I like Mr. King. . . I think basically he likes me though some of the things he says wouldn't indicate that."

DON'T LIKE GLASS

CHICAGO (AP) — Vandals broke 36,000 windows in Chicago public schools during the first six months of this year—a 25-per cent increase over last year—the director of plant maintenance reported. The cost of school vandalism last year was $1,200,000 and $800,000 of that was to replace school windows.

Sealab Soon to Become Hotel on Ocean Floor

LONG BEACH, Calif. (CP AP)—Sealab 3 has been moved to the spot where it will make its voyage to the bottom of the sea.

The 13-foot sea-floor habitat, which is shaped like a tank and will be lowered 100 feet by crane to the Pacific Ocean bottom, is being moved to a spot near San Clemente Island.

Someday in the next few days it will be lowered 100 feet by crane to the Pacific Ocean bottom. It will be used as a working and living quarters for two months for five teams of eight to nine men.

The habitat will spend 13 days each at each varied tasks as setting up an underwater trawling line, building a day and night hut on the sea floor, starting a lobster farm, with succulent transplants from Maine, and trawling pelagic and sea lions to fish and carry.

Dr. Joseph MacInnes of Port Credit, Ont., is one of the members of the Sealab team studying ocean depths as an environment for man.

A day or two after Sealab 3 reaches bottom, the first team will start descending in diving bells, paired personnel transfer capsules, capable of carrying three to four men at a time.

Sealab 3 is a $10,000,000 project. In the U.S. Navy's most ambitious attempt yet to add the world's submerged continental shelves—which range from a few miles to hundreds of miles in breadth—to its theatre of operations.

Such depths are ideal hiding places for submarine launching stations, missile launching sites and anti-submarine warfare scientific lore, exploitable when great. They also hold untold wealth in oil, minerals and long periods at great depths.

Possible Premier

Stanley Randall, Ontario minister of trade and development sits at his desk in his office at the Ontario legislature in Toronto. Randall, a former drugstore messenger boy who became a millionaire washing-machine salesman, has become a major success in the Ontario Progressive Conservative government, and has been mentioned as a possible successor to Premier John Roberts. (CP Photo)

Scouting activities

Belleville district council has announced the names of the assistant district commissioners for the coming year. They are George Fisher for cubbing, John Dodge for scouting, "Bud" Jones for venturing and Ted Yeager for rover activities.

On his retirement as scoutmaster of second Belleville troop Edward Ingraham was honored at a get-together last Saturday evening in Christ Church hall. On behalf of the group, committee.

Tris Palmer presented scoutmaster with a pair of binoculars.

Scout Reginald Gilbert offered his retired skipper as inscribed plaque and the Ladies' Auxiliary gave Mrs. Ingraham a cup and saucer.

The cub and scout swimming program will begin this Saturday, Nov. 30 at the YVCA pool. The time is 8:45 to 9:45 a.m. and Lewis Andrews, in charge of the program, is asking for adult help.

The annual scoutmaster get-together is scheduled for Feb. 11 in the Masonic Hall. The Therocon 6A pack accompanied by cubmaster Mrs. K. Hines and assistant A. Savary recently visited the Human Society shelter. The cubs were shown around and instructed how animals should be cared for by society president Mr. H. Whalen and Inspector Mer-gins. The boys saw a horse being shot and were especially interested in the kittens and puppies.

Any venturers or rovers interested in instruction in 16 mm film projectors are asked to get in touch with L. E. Truitt. Mike Dowdyhuz would like some invitations extended in the first hand-capped group.

Any scouts would like to visit some other local troop. Local apple dry receipts amounted to $1,275. These funds go largely to support camp Saginaw.

A number of district troops were in the camping grounds last Saturday to clean up the site in preparation for winter camping. All groups are asked to send in their news to Ken Bartlett, phone 961-1280.

OTTAWA (CP) — The Russians now are shadowing Canadian naval exercises involving only two or three warships, and exercise department spokesmen said.

Previously, Soviet warships and oceanographic ships trailing with electronic equipment did not bother to keep an eye on Canadian naval operations until an exercise comprised about 12 ships.

Now, the spokesman said, the Russians are watching the smallest manoeuvres, and only a couple of hundred miles off Canada's eastern seaboard.

The spokesman said that 120 ships and submarines in NATO surveillance ships have been gathered for the recent NATO exercise Silver Tower in the Eastern Atlantic even before it was publicly announced.

To shadow this big exercise, the spokesman said, the Russians also used planes and tankers to replenish the observations ships.

Informants said the Russians seem to know about even small Canadian naval exercises in advance of public announcements.

They dismissed the possibility of Soviet jets spying ship movements in Halifax Harbor and indicated that Russian intelligence ships can simply tune in on Canadian radio traffic.

Officials said NATO is becoming more and more concerned at the development of Soviet naval strength.

Canada's defence research board estimates it will cost $1.5 billion to develop a $150-million budget to assist submarine warfare research.

ing more and more concerned at the development of Soviet naval strength.

Canada's defence research board now devotes 21 per cent of its $31,000,000 budget to anti-submarine warfare research.

By D. D.

The Garden of Neesham, by Richard Neesham.

This is a second collection of Richard Neesham's columns from the Globe and Mail written in his usual witty and satirical style.

Where Dead Men Lie, by Mike and Mal Leyland.

An account of a trip across Australia, 6000 miles across the untracked wilderness of the Outback, a feat never before attempted. It was accomplished in 311 days by five people driving motor vehicles through tremendous heat, cold, and rain. Never before had motor vehicles made the treacherous journey across the arid Simpson desert, but the trip was completed in spite of five broken differentials and all the other difficulties.

Pland Dreaming Deep, by May Sarton.

May Sarton, novelist and poet, bought an old house in rural New Hampshire. Here she tells the story of what compelled her to seek roots in the country, of finding her house and what it has meant to her in ten years. Written in poetic style, this is a charming book with deep feeling.

What Manner Of Man, by Leone Bonetti, Jr.

This biography of Martin Luther King, originally published in 1966, covers the story of his development as a public figure and as a man, up to the time of his acceptance of the Nobel Peace Prize, with an added chapter recording the events of the last few fateful weeks.

On Both And Fireflies, by Ernest Backler.

The author brings back the texture of a life on a Nova Scotia farm which now exists only in memory. Rivers Of Blood, Years Of Duels, by Robert Coote.

In August, 1965 the battle in the Los Angeles riots raged on for 34 days, 6000 arrests and property damage totaling $25 million. Robert Coote, in reconstructing the confounding chaos that was a significant turning point in American history, bringing the end of the doctrine of non-violence.

Triumph And Turmoil: A Personal History Of Our Times by Edgar Allan Weaver.

Edgar Weaver is a distinguished journalist who gives us in his biography dramatic incidents and vivid personalities of twentieth century history.

The Distemper Of Our Times by Peter C. Newman.

A frank recreation of the march of events and personalities which crossed the Canadian political scene between 1952 and 1958. By the author of The Diehards: Years whose talent in reconstructing the inside story of Canadian politics is unique.

Thunderbirds by Martin Caidin.

This is the story of the U.S. Air Force jet precision aerobatic team. Martin Caidin lived and flew with the Thunderbirds to create a first-hand account of the plane and the men who maneuver these supersonic fighters, often with only a few feet between them.

A.N.A.F. Weekly News

Dominion president J. C. Langford was invited to meet the Minister of Veterans Affairs E. Dube in Toronto on Saturday. The meeting was for the purpose of discussing the problems of the veterans as it will affect him in the future.

Although Minister Dube has only recently assumed his position, Mr. Langford was favorably impressed and quite well pleased with the efforts of the Minister to acquaint himself with all aspects pertaining to the welfare of the veterans.

Are you one of the 750,000 residents who crossed the Atlantic on the liner Queen Mary during WW II? If so, E. Ocean Blvd., Long Beach, Calif. your name, rank and unit and approximate date of sailing.

The Queen Mary is permanently docked at Long Beach where she will become a hotel, convention site and museum. But the records of the 750,000 troops she carried have been lost and destroyed.

Maroon officials are compiling names for a memorial to these gallant passengers.

The Ladies' Auxiliary had a very pleasant evening on Monday, Nov. 18 when they had their annual Christmas dinner and exchange.

The next Mr. and Mrs. Darr Tournament will be Saturday, Nov. 30. The sports chairman says there is room for a few more couples.

Parish Centre of Tyendinaga Mohawks Endowed with Historical Significance

By HARRY MULLALL
Staff Reporter

DESERONTO — It's not the most certain of times for church traditions. But tradition is one of the certainties for the congregation of Christ Church — and for good reason.

As parish centre for the Mohawks of Tyendinaga, few churches have as much historical significance for its community.

Certainly, no other structure in the Quinte district is so richly endowed by its past. For both the Mohawks and their neighbours its continuing vitality provides living continuity with the Quinte pioneer legend.

And at the core of that saga is the fact that Christianity in the community sense, was a brought to the Bay of Quinte not by the white man but the Indian.

There is also the ancient tradition of loyalty. In an area which will proudly boast loyalty to the crown, the Mohawks are the proud of loyalties. Christ Church is a repository of memorial far older than British Canada. Christ Church is a sustaining the emblems of modern Mohawk culture.

"There are an intensely proud people," says Rev. Dowling, P. B. B. "Tyendinaga chaplain. They are proud of being Mohawks, proud of being Indians and loyalists."

Rev. Dowling, although appointed to his new pastorate little more than a year ago, has an enthusiastic awareness of his parishioners' traditions and is steeped in the community's history.

Christ Church has its beginnings in a dramatic incident in Canadian history — the colonial revolution after the American revolution.

Among the displaced loyalties were the Mohawks, granted a measure of land along the Bay of Quinte at Tyendinaga. The small band of refugees arrived in 1784, coming ashore at a site near the present church.

Their first act was to hold a thanksgiving ceremony on the shoreline — the first Christian community service ever held on the Bay of Quinte.

The service had its own individual Mohawk touch.

In the absence of a minister it was conducted by one of the band — John Obechuckoh, believed to be the first Anglican minister in all North America.

Nearly, the Mohawks chose the site of their first church, a log structure.

With addition, it served the reserve for years and Obechuckoh ministered most of the services here up to his death in 1810.

Even in those early days the church had its regal embellishments.

The communion service used was now prepared by the Mohawks in 1711 by Queen Anne in grateful acceptance of their loyalty.

The church bell is believed a gift of George III and was carried north with the communion service by the refugees.

It was the first church bell.

used in the new British settlements, says Rev. Dowling. Later came the gift of a bell from the ruler overseas. In the early 18th century, William IV sent a royal coat-of-arms and a triquet, with the Lord's Prayer, the mottoes, the mottoes and the Apostle's Creed painted in gold leaf.

The wood structure served as a parish focus for nearly 80 years. Then it burned down.

Undertaken, the Mohawks set about a rebuilding project, with imposing results. The present Christ Church was erected by Queen Elizabeth.

Other royal gifts came with the years. Queen Victoria sent her Mohawk subjects a massive Bible, now also containing a signed acknowledgment by Queen Elizabeth.

From George VI came part of a decorative acceptance during his coronation. It was placed under the triquet.

The churchyard also is a reminder of the Indian struggle. In the early 18th century, the Mohawks of Oronokwalia, who were driven from their place of origin, were placed under the triquet.

Things Going Smoothly Exchange Co-ordinates Efforts

"Things are going smoothly," says Mrs. Seymour Bochnak, coordinator of the Belleville Christmas Exchange.

"We're a little more experienced than last year," she says. "The exchange, now in its second year, is a service of the United Community Services and co-ordinates the Christmas spirit of giving between donors and donor groups and families in need of a boost during the Yuletide."

Families who found themselves lacking at this time of year are referred to the exchange by referral agencies after the family or individual has agreed to accept a donation. Mrs. Bochnak says donor inquiries are coming in well which means there are quite a number of area citizens expressing a desire to give a donation.

However, there is more donor inquiries than registration during its regular hours. "I wish they'd come in a little later," says Mrs. Bochnak.

So far there have been a number of cash contributions which are always good. Mrs. Bochnak expects that Telephone Answering Service will be commissioned to take messages for those who cannot get in touch with the exchange during its regular hours.

Mrs. Bochnak expressed concern with the infant group and the teen-age group — two age groups generally left out. An example of this is the firemen's toy project and food hampers and vouchers for families.

Mrs. Bochnak visited with expected infants or very young babies — diapers and other infant needs.

There have been a number of donations of clothing, shoes, coats, etc., — and baby and general interest items are required.

In the teen-age line items of clothing, shoes, coats, etc., — and baby and general interest items are required.

As far as the strike is concerned, Mrs. Bochnak says that with 90 per cent of the plant's employee potential on the job and glad to be working there should be no problem. According to the mayor's opponent, Reginald Moore, the major issue in the election is the Protest-Isle strike and the major standard of wages being paid in the Picton area.

Voting Eligibility and Procedures Same as Municipal Elections

There is no election for city council in Belleville this year either as voting eligibility and procedures remain the same as if there were a full slate of candidates for all municipal offices.

In other words tenants have the same voting rights as do property owners — except for the use money question in reference to the construction of an area.

However, there seems to be a bit of confusion as to who are entitled to vote just the new county school board members.

One school board candidate told the intelligence that a number of apartment tenants were under the impression they would be ineligible to vote for school board. "It's not so," says city clerk Adam Stalker. "Tenants are entitled to vote just the same as owners — except on the money question."

Mr. Stalker says there should be no confusion as to who is eligible to vote.

city centre copies of assessment notices which list them either as public or separate school supporters.

The same notices indicate public school supporters where tenants — or owners — are entitled to vote.

At the polling booths on Monday tenants who are public school supporters will receive two ballots — pink for city council and white for the three year council term. Tenants who are separate school supporters will receive three ballots — blue for school trustee; green for separate school membership on the public school board; and white for the three year council term.

Property owners will also receive three ballots for the area question. The city clerk says his office staff will be on duty from nine a.m. to six p.m. on Saturday to answer questions regarding voting eligibility.

There will be a meeting for Mayor's staff board election will be the same as last year's. The last municipal election was held in 1964.

Dr. Dockrill Might Run For Mayor in the Future

Within a 24 hour span in which Dr. David Dockrill, retiring Picton councillor, pledged his support and vote to Mayor H. J. McFarland he also said that he might run for mayor himself in the future.

However, there is no doubt that the outgoing Picton councillor will be out of politics for at least two years.

Dr. Dockrill said he was leaving municipal affairs for the time because he had established a list of priorities: "In my family, my health and my profession."

"In a matter of years, I would like to see my health and my profession."

"I'm appealing to the voting class, those people who have to work for a living," he finished.

McFarland Replies to Comments

PICTON (Staff) — The 18-year mayor of Picton, H. J. McFarland, yesterday said he does not think the Protest-Isle strike or NDP leader Donald Macdonald's comments will hurt his chances in the municipal election next May.

In reply to Mr. Macdonald's charges that Mayor McFarland is a contractor millionaire made rich by public funds, Mr. McFarland said "all contractors are in the same boat."

"I'm not a contractor," he stated. "The only thing I'm doing is everything in order," he stated. "The only thing I'm doing is everything in order."

ORILLIA (CP)—Manager Bill McGill of Orillia Terriers announced Tuesday that every player on his Ontario Hockey Association Senior series club has been fined $10 for inept and lackadaisical play in Sunday's 6-2 loss to Oakville Oaks.

Coach Jack Dyle, a former National Hockey League defenceman, volunteered to pay his $10, saying he was partly responsible for the Terriers' three game losing streak.

The loss dropped the Terriers, who have 10 players from last season's defending champion but defunct Toronto Marlboros, from second place to fourth in the nine-team group.

OTTAWA (CP) — All 4,000 Grey Cup tickets allotted to Ottawa have been snapped up, assuring the Rough Riders of a solid cheering section for Saturday's Grey Cup game against Calgary Stampeders.

The Riders, Eastern Football Conference champions, will be celebrating their first win in a city-organized event recently today, two hours before their game is to start.

They will play to Toronto, where they will play their last game.

The city council has approved a city game day. They'll work out at Elzohibek Thursday and Friday.

Air Canada has scheduled four additional flights from here to Toronto Friday to accommodate Toronto-bound fans and bus companies is adding 50 vehicles to clear the demand.

In addition, the CN/PRO reports heavy bookings for its Friday trains going to Toronto.

On Saturday halfback Dave Cranmer not expected to play.

"Mac" Smith's work with Education at the provincial level includes being a Director of the Ontario Public School Trustees Association; and a Director of the Ontario School Trustees and Municipal Councillors; and a member of the Salary Committee of the Ontario School Trustees Council. "Mac" was also Chairman of the Liaison Committee which deals with the Department of Education, the Ontario Teachers Federation and all other educational associations to co-ordinate the various activities of the trustees and other educational bodies in the province. As a member of the Board, "Mac" would ensure that the new Hastings County Board of Education would have a direct voice and influence in the policies laid down at top level.

IN THE HOME STRETCH—Every inch counts in basketball, as Moira Secondary School junior team members Al Bradley (with ball) and Paul Hayes demonstrate. The pair of centres with Moira's junior Trojans were practising their rebound technique in preparation for the upcoming Quinte Class "AA" high school hoop season.

Riders look for quietbacking. Don Sutherland says the team's ability to throw even more than he has during the regular season.

Liste, playing his last Canadiens game before taking a whack at U.S. ball, completed 271 of 438 passes during the season. It is 17 more for quarterbacks than for linebackers.

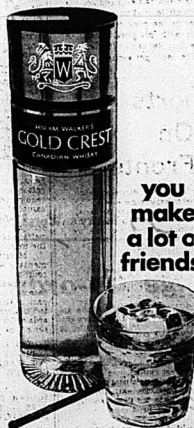

Don Sutherland, who led EPO's offense, also thinks Ottawa quarterbacks will be a big plus for the Riders.

Sutherland, 31, expects a high-scoring game if the weather is good. Calgary was the highest scoring CFL club this season with 412 points in 16 games; the Riders got 416 points in 14 games.

Heck off man and field goal specialist, Sutherland was good on 17 of 37 field goal tries this season. The longest was a 46-yarder.

The Riders go into the game with no serious injuries.

Detroit Defence Takes Blame; Pilferers Take Ullman's Best Blades

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Gary Bergman must be getting tired of listening to people blame Detroit Red Wings for taking this season on a weak defence. The Red Wings are last in the National Hockey League's Eastern Division, four points back of the New York Rangers and Chicago Black Hawks. And the Red Wings defence, which has lost 13 goals in 17 games, gets most of the criticism.

But NHL statistics, with the season about one-quarter over, show that Bergman and team-mate Ken Douglas are the highest-scoring defencemen in the league. Bergman scored 106 points, an average of more than 10 points a game. Douglas has 81 points while Douglas has 50 goals and 14 assists. Orr has five goals and 11 assists. In his first three seasons with Detroit, Bergman scored 106 points, an average of more than 3 a season. Elsewhere, drivers broke into the Maple Leafs' dressing room at Civic Arena in Pittsburgh and stole a variety of equipment.

Motra Minus Experience

By MALCOLM JOHNSON

Staff Sportsman
(First in a Series)

Interpreted is the best word to describe Coach Dan Latta's 1968 Motra Trojans senior basketball squad.

With less than two weeks left for experimentation before the opening of the Quince's "A" A" hoop schedule, Coach Latta is on call on only one hold-over, forward Cliff Hume, from last year's squad which won 8 games and lost 4.

Junior graduates Dave Grant, a guard, and Jim Runkle, a rebounding, but we've got to improve our outside shooting," said Latta in summing up his 1968 senior squad's chances in the seven-game season.

Quince class "A" Junior coach Gord Smith is in the enviable position of having six or seven holdovers. Including first starters, back from last year's squad which won 6 and lost 6. In addition, Coach Smith has seven Bantam graduates and a notable transfer in 6 foot 3 inch center Al Bender.

Paul Hayes will be the other center and the forwards will be chosen from Martin Weigand, Paul Nabilie, Dave Thompson and Jim Wiggins.

Peter Mills and Dave Niles are all experienced guards and Gerry Hyde, Paul Kirby, Tombert Gave and Bob Thompson are all up from the Bantam squad.

"I'm optimistic," Smith said. "I think the Junior League will be better balanced than it has been for four or five years."

"B.C.I. is always tough, and Quince and Centennial look to be strong sides," he added.

Suave LeBaron, the bantam coach, says "I've only got one holdover, but we've had a good turn-out and there is a lot of enthusiasm — we'll give them a good run."

Bowerman Ignores Par In Florida

While the Bay of Quinte Golf and Country Club has been the site of anything except a snowmobile course, one of Quinte's more talented resorts is doing some plate and fancy dining in more hospitable climates.

Native Bellevillians Gary Bowerman — a winter tourist in the Sarasota, Florida area during the off-season at his home Maple Woods Toronto club — spent up the Longboat Key Club layout last week with course record 67 from the "blue" tee.

Gary began his assault on the 4,800-yard water-surrounded course by hitting, out a nine-hole from 118 yards out for an eagle on the 460-yard second hole.

His record included four birdies and a lone bogey — that coming on the 120-yard par-three 17th where Gary missed his putt after blasting from a greenside bunker to within five feet of the cup.

The 47 teemed by a stroke the old course record established by a golf amateur in 1961, and gave Bowerman a blushing set — he also holds Longboat's "white" tee record of 64, shot during his Florida sojourn last winter.

Heath Swaps Sulky for Swivel

By GEORGE H. CARVER

One of Belleville's well-known harness racing drivers will swap his sulky for a swivel seat and move to the managerial chair of a community centre.

Don Heath, 29, has been appointed manager of the Oakville, one of Oakville's "applied studies" centres for the hockey arena. He has been a member of Belleville's Men-orial Arena staff for several years. Son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Heath, Campbellville, Ont. Heath is a farmer by birth and a horseman by nature. He has been around horses all his life and at the age of 13 he rode the horse bred as well as strong he pursued his first passion.

He raced "Happy Queens" for four years last acquiring Atomic Salts and Chubb's Delivery. Recently he obtained of Miss and Mrs. Ralph Heath.

Don entered the breeding business and at present owns a horse and a horse named Donald Dale Alex — both of which are winners.

But he has not forsaken his beloved horses and driving activities entirely.

"I'm taking the colts with me" Don said. "I'll be close to Greenwood and Mohawk tracks and will be a 'sideline' driver at these places."

Heath has retired among the top harness drivers of the Belleville meets for a number of years.

Don will become the second city employee to find his niche in Oakville's recreation program. Norm Carter, former mayor, moved to Burlington in 1956, owner and operator of Stirling Motors Ltd.

A trustee on Stirling Motors Ltd. for seven years and chairman for years.

I believe the county board system will promote better education for all children regardless of where they live.

I believe that with a multi-million dollar budget and the tremendous increase in the cost of education which now faces us, the county board will require people with business background. I feel I can offer this kind of experience.

I believe that a board member should represent the municipality and the welfare of all children in the system, regardless of the municipality the trustee represents.

Married and has four children, three in elementary school and one in secondary school in the county.

A past president of Stirling Chamber of Commerce, a past president of Stirling Rotary Club, past chairman of Belleville Presbytery of the United Church, a past chairman of the board of stewards of St. Paul's United Church, and is now a member of the executive of the General Council.

CHICAGO (AP)—Outfielder Willie Horton of the Detroit Tigers has joined another league baseball star, pitcher Ferguson Jenkins of Chicago Cubs, on the list of players who will play in the 1969 season.

TORONTO (CP)—Green paint will not be used to stimulate grass on the playing field of Canadian National Exhibition Stadium for Grey Cup here Saturday because the bare spots that will probably be visible.

The decision comes from police department Don McIntyre, who tried for at least a few years ago. "I looked good at first, but I came off all over the Hamilton Tiger-Cats," McIntyre said. "Angelo Meza would look like the July Green Giant."

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—A St. Louis virus spread through the Minnesota Vikings' football team Tuesday, with at least 15 players reported ill. Eleven players missed practice, Coach Bud Grant said but he did not know what effect the illness will have for next Sunday's National Football League game against Los Angeles Rams.

MONTREAL (CP)—Montreal's Comp Wrestling of Montreal Canadiens left the team in Chicago Tuesday and was to return to Montreal by train after a rough airplane flight to Chicago earlier in the day, a Canadiens spokesman said Tuesday night.

"When the team landed in Chicago, he used the coach (Claude Ruel) that has served him for the best of him," said Pauloff.

Tony Esposito was called up from Montreal of the Central Hockey League as Montreal's backup goaltender to Roganien Trehan.

Student Power Militants Stage Sit-ins At McGill, Ottawa

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Occupations continued today at two Canadian universities while students at a third were to vote on a proposal to call a general strike of students.

At McGill, the diagenes-foveolus political science students who are seeking one-third representation on committees in the political science department, Prof. J.R. McElroy, chairman of McGill's department of economic and political science, said the department's position is that "students... can and should participate in the making of decisions about programs and courses of study."

At the University of Ottawa, social science students are seeking equal representation on departmental boards.

The faculty council has offered the students one-third representation on faculty and departmental councils.

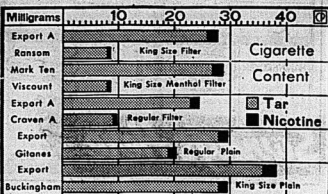

At Simon Fraser University, a majority of about 2,000 students at a general meeting Monday approved a four-point ultimatum calling for:

—A special senate meeting to reconsider the university's admission and course accreditation policies.

—Formation of a student faculty committee to investigate the university's administration procedures.

—Dismissal of charges against the 114 students arrested Saturday.

Health Minister John Munro made public last week a table of tar and nicotine levels in all brands of cigarettes sold in Canada. Graph shows lowest and greatest amounts of tar and nicotine in the five main types of cigarettes on press in sale. The Buckingham king size has the lowest tar content with Export king size plain containing the highest tar and nicotine content. Munro said in a statement the table would enable health-conscious smokers to select their brands knowingly. (CP Newswatch)

Quebec Caucus To Review School Rights Legislation

QUEBEC (CP) — Premier Jacques Bertrand was to meet his party caucus today and one major topic expected was provincial legislation to protect school rights of Quebec's English-speaking minority.

Mr. Bertrand, apparently under caucus pressure, did not broadcast the legislation Tuesday after promising in Montreal Monday that he would. A caucus source explained that Mr. Bertrand had broken with the tradition of the late premier Daniel Johnson by not bringing the caucus informed of legislation.

In Tuesday's session, the source said, Mr. Bertrand had not called the caucus about the language bill, which would ensure parents the right to educate children in the language of their choice.

During Tuesday's session, separatist leader Jean-Jacques Bertrand was ejected from the house's public gallery.

Subsequently, a news conference was held by Mr. Bertrand and Raymond Lévesque, president of the Mouvement pour l'Éducation scolaire which opposed French-only teaching in primary grades of schools in Montreal's suburban St. Lawrence.

Mr. Bertrand, head of the Charivari de l'Indépendance (Outlets of Independence), was ejected after shouting during Mr. Bertrand's speech that he had rejected quiet—said he could not "be quiet."

Mr. Bertrand's promised legislation would "lead to the death of the French language in Quebec in the long run."

Rational Debate Said Only Answer

TORONTO (CP) — York University President Murray Ross warned Tuesday the dangers of allowing student unrest to replace "rational discussions of campus issues."

In his annual report, Dr. Ross said:

"The strategy of the most radical students has changed from one of peaceful protest directed towards the end of full participation in university, to one of 'confrontation' aimed at using the university to teach a lesson to the society that they regard as hopelessly technocratic, bureaucratic and unsocially corrupt."

The philosophical position of these students shades off into that of the student revolution and subverts for their own sakes."

If the university "is to survive in an effective and viable form," all within it—faculty, board, students—must develop the kind of responsible attitude that will support and facilitate the lengthy discussion that must precede fundamental change."

Trudeau Rejects Involvement

Canada's Efforts in Nigeria Only Token Sop: Stanfield

OTTAWA (CP) — Opposition Leader Stanfield says the government's attitude toward the Nigerian civil war seems to be motivated by a desire to "keep out of this thing" and its policy simply a small bow to public feeling.

Mr. Stanfield said Tuesday during a one-day Commons debate on the Nigerian situation that the government's attitude is "taken so far have been ineffective in relieving suffering or putting an end to hostilities."

"It would seem to me that the attitude of the government has been one of a desire to keep out of this thing," said the Conservative leader. A stream of criticism in the same vein came from other opposition members.

External Affairs Minister Mitchell Sharp, winding up the special debate, announced an additional 15,000 in food aid for Nigeria, and announced Biafra's this brings to $2,650,000 the total amount of aid provided by the Canadian government for victims of the civil war.

Mr. Sharp also said that any proposal for Canadian participation in an international peace-keeping force in Nigeria would receive prompt and careful consideration from the government.

Prime Minister Trudeau, rejected opposition demands that Canada involve itself more deeply in efforts to resolve the Nigerian conflict as well as to relieve starvation.

"The principle of non-intervention is a dominant consideration of countries that have recently gained independence," said Mr. Trudeau.

Any attempt to put the Nigerian conflict on the UN General Assembly agenda "would not only be bitterly resisted by the Nigerian government and the member states of the Organization of African Unity, but would also be totally unsuccessful."

Mr. Trudeau said he had assured M. I. G. Y. Yakubu Gowon, the Nigerian head of state, of Canada's continuing support of his government as that of all Nigeria. At the same time, Canada wished to see an early conclusion of hostilities on terms permitting Nigerians to live within a federal structure which guarantees the personal and economic security of all persons.

A direct challenge to the government's Nigerian policy was easily defeated late Tuesday night. The vote was 120 to 77 against an amendment to a motion calling on the House to concur in the report of its standing committee on external affairs, which has been studying the Nigerian question.

Eight Creditables and 21 New

Democrats voted with 49 Conservatives against the government. Under the amendment, proposed by R. G. L. Fairweather (PC—Punch-Royal), Conservative external affairs spokesman, Canada would take the initiative in trying to persuade countries selling arms to either Nigeria or Biafra to cease doing so. It would also try to live up to support at the United Nations for a ceasefire resolution.

Standing in the 38-seat House: Liberal 150, Conservative 72, NDP 21, Creditable 14, Independent 1, vacant 1.

Mr. Stanfield agreed that Canada should not interfere by shipping in arms. "... but would we be endangering the whole structure of international order by taking an initiative in co-operation with other countries to bring about a cessation of the shipment of arms, or by taking some initiative in the United Nations to stop the fighting and effect an ultimate peaceful settlement?"

Aid Countries May Be Next Trade Competitors

OTTAWA (CP) — The Canadian agricultural industry may soon day be faced with competition in world markets from countries now receiving Canadian food aid.

This was one of the implications of Canadian aid programs for agriculture outlined Tuesday by Dr. Roland Poitree, assistant deputy minister of agriculture.

Dr. Poitree told the annual federal-parliamentary agricultural outlook conference that aid programs aimed at building efficient farm operations aimed "to be as successful as to place the developing countries on a really competitive footing in respect to some of our products."

But he added: "The true professional should not be afraid to invite competition."

Other costly effects of aid programs cited by Dr. Poitree were the cost to the taxpayers, the need to draw experts from the Canadian agriculture industry to work overseas and the danger of neglecting priority problems at home by trying "to do too much in too short a time in the agricultural field for development countries."

However, aid programs have beneficial results for the Canadian agriculture industry.

As long as some countries could not produce enough to feed themselves, surplus Canadian production could be used to advantage.

"I am under the impression that a good plan of action in this field would contribute materially to the solution of some of our present marketing problems."

Young people trained to help solve the problems of agriculture in less-developed countries eventually returned to use their talents in promoting Canadian agriculture.

Technical assistance to developing countries would stand Canada in good stead when those countries reached the stage of trading in world markets.

Discussion of agriculture in bilateral and multilateral aid programs concluded the two-day outlook conference attended by about 200 federal and provincial agriculture department, university, farm organization and diplomatic representatives.

Damp Grain Said at Critical Level on Prairies

WINNIPEG (CP) — Canadian farmers have harvested the toughest wheat crop in history this fall and now face a distinct possibility of losing part of it through moldings.

W.C. McLennan, Canadian Wheat Board chief commissioner, told a news conference Tuesday the situation is critical.

"It is very much afraid that regardless of the efforts to salvage the grain, some serious losses will result next spring when the weather gets warmer."

He said an October survey indicated about 200,000 bushels — about 50 per cent of the total wheat stored on the Prairies — are out of condition. This estimate likely will be revised upward when a survey now under way is completed.

It represents almost twice as much damp grain as the industry was faced with in 1931 when a record 200,000 bushels were harvested.

This year, for the first time, the volume is far beyond the capacity of commercial drying facilities.

The latest report issued by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics forecast that farmers will harvest a wheat crop of 54 million bushels.

Seattle, Wash. (AP) — An executive of Boeing Co. says he thinks the company's 747 jet airliner, which will carry 360 passengers, is too small, Jack Steinger, vice-president for sales and engineering, says he foresees planes with multiple decks and accommodations which resemble cruises.

744,000 bushels.

Terribles have a maximum drying capacity of 100,000,000 to 150,000,000 bushels over the next eight months.

Wheat has a moisture content of 14.5 to 17 per cent while damp grain, the most vulnerable to moldings, has a moisture content of more than 17 per cent.

Out-of-condition grain heats and spoils, except during cold weather. That means farmers have the best chance of saving their damp grain by drying it before spring.

Dr. McLennan said, however, that "current reports from provincial departments of agriculture indicate that it is possible under optimum conditions" to dry 50,000,000 bushels of wheat a month on farms. On that basis, it is unlikely that all the grain could be handled even if the farm-dwelling drivers worked at capacity.

Astrological Forecasts

Per Nov. 28th.

YOUR BIRTHDAY TODAY: The coming year will bring you the opportunity for spiritual development. Material burdens may be lifted. Expect to seek new relationships, as you outgrow some you now have. Today's natives tend to be very persuasive once they are sure of what they want.

ARIES (Mar. 21 — Apr. 19): Decisions made now are beneficial for long term rather than immediate ventures. Nearly everyone is caught between money running at cross directions. Meditation is evening brings surprising rewards.

Taurus (Apr. 20 — May 21): Your life has come to a subtle, many leveled crossroads. What you do now tends to crystallize later. Think big; such choices as these may be our real fine will.

GEMINI (May 22 — June 21): Your intuition speaks abruptly and you find that you have unexpected powers. A lot of trouble for yourself and for others. Deal in part of this constellation.

CANCER (June 22 — July 21): Put yourself in the mood to feel warmly. You'll be in good shape by the day's end while most other people are fatigued.

LEO (July 22 — Aug. 23): Creative ventures that are not working else stays on the creative. So make allowance for variations in others. Drive with care.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 — Sept. 23): An advantage seems to exist, but reaching for it you'll find that it really isn't so good. The significant news is somewhere here.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 — Oct. 23): Circumstances drift up and down. An advantage seems to exist, but reaching for it you'll find that it really isn't so good. The significant news is somewhere here.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 — Nov. 21): Vision and dreams turn out well. Even though everyone is most noticeable your mind continues to deny your material affairs. Keep your eye on the ball.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 — Dec. 21): Expect conditions to try before you need to search (and back). Try to relax, but don't let your mind drift.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 — Jan. 19): Your values may be your best course in family arrangements. In turn, family may interfere with your plans. Break the circuit by simply leaving with the family.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20 — Feb. 18): The day starts with curiosity about what you are up to next. The afternoon is apt to be basic. This evening you'll have plenty to think about.

PISCES (Feb. 19 — Mar. 20): Nobody seems to know exactly where anything is supposed to be. Perhaps this situation may give you an unexpected chance to reveal your latent ability or the opportunity.

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — Eight men identified by the FBI as members of the Mafia were arrested here Tuesday night on charges of interstate racketeering. The FBI also said it had ordered a man it described as "the overlord of crime" in western New York state and southern Ontario to report for arraignment today.

Stefano Magaddino, 77, denounced by the FBI as the head of the Cosa Nostra in the area, was notified in Lewiston, a Niagara Falls suburb where he lives, that he must surrender to the FBI today, agents said.

He and the other eight arrested are charged specifically with violations of federal laws on interstate travel or transportation in aid of racketeering and conspiracy, the FBI said. Joel J. Welch, special agent in charge of the Buffalo FBI office, said the eight arrested Tuesday included Magaddino's son Peter, 51, and Benjamin Nicolotti, 50, 36, both described by the FBI as part of the "Magaddino empire of organized crime."

Purely Speculative - - Wishart

TORONTO (CP) — The Ontario Police Commission believes newspaper references to Mafia factions in Eastern Canada concerned the Montreal area and not Ontario, Attorney General

Arthur Wishart told the legislature Tuesday. He dismissed the newspaper stories as "purely speculative articles out of New York."

A report in a Toronto newspaper quoted police in New York as saying an internal war among Mafia factions had been resolved and that the settlement could affect Mafia control in Eastern Canada.

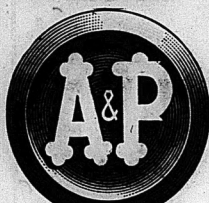

Mafia Active in Britain

LONDON (AP) — The Evening News said British authorities are investigating reports that large amounts of money have moved illegally out of Britain and into the Mafia crime network in the United States. "There is evidence profits from Mafia investments here have left the country in the guise of gambling 'winnings,'" the newspaper says. "Recently American gamblers have had several big wig wins."

Canada's Treatment of Indians Will Lead to Violence -- NDP

TORONTO (CP) — Canada's treatment of her Indian population is a "national disgrace" and will lead to racial violence, the Ontario legislature was told Tuesday.

Donald MacDonald, leader of the Ontario New Democratic Party, said in the past Indians have been denied, but that time was rapidly coming to an end unless the federal and provincial governments deal more effectively with Indian problems.

Mr. MacDonald also accused the Ontario government of "shameful prevarication" in "perpetuating the myth that Indian problems are basically a federal responsibility."

He said the federal government is only responsible for Indian lands and treaties, but that economic, development, education and welfare of Indians is a provincial responsibility.

Mr. MacDonald said Indians must be granted greater opportunities to shape their own destiny or Canada would experience violent protests which have taken place in other countries with minority groups.

In other legislation brought Liberal Leader Robert Nixon concluded his reply to the speech from the throne with a motion of lack of confidence in the Conservative government.

The motion will not be voted on until later in the session.

Approval was given to a government bill setting uniform polling hours in municipalities which hold civic elections Dec. 2.

Under the bill, polls will be open from 10 a.m. to 8 p.m.

—Labor Minister Dalton Bailey said a review of medical requirements for most working under air pressure in tunnelling projects is under way. He said the law now requires that a physician be appointed to carry out "all necessary medical functions" on every compressed-air project.

—Premier Robert Harris promised to investigate an opposition member's allegation that some 70,000 booklets on last year's Confederation of Tomorrow conference are sitting in a fourth-floor storeroom in the legislature building.

—Alan Rodger, 34-year-old Conservative member of the Ontario legislature for Waterloo South, was reappointed chairman of the house, probably the longest assignment in the legislature.

Trial Held by Installments

TORONTO (CP) — There were more of "chance" in the Ontario legislature Tuesday when Attorney-General Arthur Wishart replied to questions on a court ruling to hear a case in sittings of 30 minutes a week.

Magistrate Tupper Eggleston made the ruling in the case of Gerry H. Feely because the hearing was taking too long.

Feely was charged with obstructing police April 27 during an anti-war demonstration.

Mr. Wishart told Yernon Singer (C-Toronto Dominion) he could not discuss the case fully while it is before the courts.

However, when the trial is concluded it will be reviewed.

Puppies Treated Better Than Babies

By SYDNEY J. HARRIS

Numerous readers have asked of what happened to the nine new-born puppies we brought back from the country, and the first answer is that we gave seven of them away and kept two at home to stay with the mother.

But the informal shaver's much more interesting. We took care of the litter in our basement laundry room for eight weeks and I use the editorial "we," for the women-folk and children did the caring for, and I did the administering, and sometimes the cursing. At any rate, when the time came for dispersing the litter, we could hardly bring ourselves to part with them, even though it was impossible to keep nine fast-growing dogs in the house. So my sibling of the mother, Ann, and I were running out of milk, omega-3 fatty acids, vitamins, calcium supplement and worming medicines. As we gave each away, we subjected the prospective owner to an interrogation that would have shamed the FBI and the CIA put together. Trying to make triple sure that each puppy would have a really good home, not merely in the gross physical sense, but in the emotional atmosphere as well, which is perhaps even more important. Even then, it was devilishly hard to give them away, mostly to strangers.

grow up to adore and obey you, while people grow up to compete with you and follow their own bent. And perhaps the ultimate test, of our human maturity is our willingness to give away from the equal truth a chance we give (out) puppies.

We accept the fact that a dog must be given a fair start in life, in order to reach his full potential and to respond lovingly and productively to his environment. Yet we turn away from the equal truth that human babies suffering severe handicaps from the birth-environment can, bygones be expected to make responses or accept responsibility. There are people who, with a little sentimental about dogs, but it shouldn't obscure our sense of realism about the perils of people.

Teachers: Who Takes Over The Quality Training?

By Lenny Williamson

STAFF REPORTER

"Society has caused me to be the teacher the most profound responsibility it has ever placed on anyone. No one else has this power to take a class and do with it what he will."

With those words, Lloyd Dennis, co-author of the Hall-Dennis report on Ontario education, put the teacher's role on the line.

Following his speech at an area trustees conference in Belleville, he defined what he regards as the biggest problem in present education — teacher training.

Mr. Dennis was specific about the product he wants to see the new county boards of education turn out — young adults with critical minds and understanding hearts.

"You can't do that with 30 years of teachers with no weeks of training," he said.

For this reason, some educationists contend school boards will, sooner or later, be forced into providing formal teacher training.

"The department of education has attempted to transfer teacher training to the universities," an official said. "So far the universities have resisted fairly successfully. In part, perhaps, because they regard as trades training in their institutions."

The solution may be in-service teacher training provided by school boards.

"The days of the population explosion and the resulting need for talented teachers are still in over," said Lloyd Dennis. "Now, we must retreat and attend to quality."

premier department of education standards.

The Bay of Quinte District High School Board, for instance, in return for spending 64 per cent of its 1968 budget on salaries, has reduced its staff of 239 teachers.

Paris Peace Talks May Start

Shape of Table Point at Issue

PARIS (CP) — Four-party Vietnam peace talks with a Saigon delegation participating are expected to begin the week of Dec. 8, but U.S. diplomats said today the opening sessions probably will be bogged down by arguments about who will speak for whom.

It was this same discrimination to recognize the NLF that caused Saigon to refuse to attend the talks for three weeks. It was announced Tuesday it would agree to attend a two-sided conference, with supporters of South Vietnam on one side and supporters of North Vietnam, including the NLF, on the other.

It was believed that Saigon may insist on a rectangular table, with the NLF occupying one of the short ends.

Officials said there were signs that Saigon might object to a square table, which would give the NLF precisely the same amount of space and appear to be on an equal status with the North Vietnamese.

U.S. officials said the United States and the South Vietnamese themselves.

PARIS (CP) — A North Vietnamese delegation to the Hanoi conference to end the Vietnam War was not confirmed Wednesday on the subject of Richard Nixon's election to the presidency of the United States.

Hong Minh Giam, North Vietnamese minister of culture, was asked at a news conference what effect he thought Nixon's election might have on the termination of the war.

He replied that the U.S. president has not yet decided his position on the war.

Mr. Giam heads the four-man North Vietnamese delegation to the conference whose organizers expect about 2,000 delegates.

Meanwhile, U.S. Roman Catholic priest said the United States is creating several potential jungle wars by its exploitation of Latin American countries.

Rev. Blaise Broun, expelled from Guatemala last year for organizing the peasant people's union, told a group of McGill Uni-

Home and School Council Disclaims Tie With Election Letter

A letter written by the administrator of the Belleville public school board, dated December 2, 1968, disclaims any involvement in the matter.

The letter was sent to five schools in the city for distribution. Only the pupils at Queen Victoria school were given the letter to take home.

Home and School Associations had those in attendance the school association disclaimed any involvement in the matter.

Checking The Vote

City clerk's assistants Elva Reynolds and Ann Kennedy check Belleville voters' lists to make sure all was in order before distribution to poll officers last night. Voting regulations in Dec. 2 plebiscite and school elections were explained to returning officers at city hall seminar. For story see page 2.

Businessmen Challenged To Seek Social Change

MONTREAL (CP) — Canadian business must be willing to accept, and sometimes initiate, social change if it is to survive, John R. O'Dea, president of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association, said today.

"Change is always inevitable and invariably demanding," he told a luncheon of the CMA's Quebec division.

"But he expects and accept it at the business level, knowing very well that we not only must be responsive to change but must on occasion initiate it as a matter of corporate survival."

OTTAWA (CP) — Canadians may see their Arctic lands taken over by the Russians or Americans if they are not prepared to pay higher taxes, says R. A. J. Phillips, former northern affairs official.

The Russians already know more about the Canadian side of the Arctic than Canadians do, he said in a public lecture at Carleton University, And Canada is generations behind the Russians in work on Arctic sea lanes.

Mr. Phillips, now director of the federal and poverty program, formerly was director of northern administration in the old northern affairs department. He said there will have to be a "national investment" — meaning higher taxes — if northern resources are to be exploited.

Fit for An Ace

MISSISSAUGA, Ont. (CP) — The federal government has all but abandoned plans for long-term expansion of nearby Toronto International Airport but it still wants to expand facilities to handle air traffic in the 1970s, town council was told Wednesday.

MANNINGTON, W. Va. (AP) — Another explosion threatened through the deep coal mine today where 78 men have been trapped for more than a week. Flames and smoke spread from one of the big mine's entrances. Company engineers turned the blast a "major explosion."

Bush Fires Rage
SYDNEY, Australia (AP) — With temperatures hovering around the 100-degree mark, bush fires blazed out of control on a 30-mile front today in the Blue Mountains 90 miles west of Sydney.

At least 100 homes were destroyed as blustery winds fed the fires from the west, north and south of Sydney and in the suburbs of the city itself.

Printing Error Creates Problem

One thing about labor-saving devices. They make more work.

Like in Belleville's upcoming local elections.

Last night returning officers supervising the city's 10 polls received their instructions, ballot books and lists of voters.

It took more than an hour for city clerk Adam Skarke, chief local returning officer, to clarify who may vote for what on Dec. 2.

It took even longer to adjust the voters' lists — after discovery of a printing error which added several extra names to the franchise.

The mistake compounded an already complicated election procedure.

Despite the absence of municipal and council elections this year, the situation is a variety of ballots. Besides the various school trustees introduced a new election system, there are plebiscites on a new arena and on toll roads.

There are, white, pink, blue, green and buff voting lists — with almost as many variations rights attach thereto.

Privileges run all the way from property owners who have four listed in unaltered voters over 21 who have only one listed.

These last voters under extended franchise — and, in the main, include mothers and young people boarding with their parents.

A code letter after each name on the voting list has to be returned by the voter to show he has voted.

To save time and labor an Ottawa processing service was used to draw a specimen voter list from municipal assessment rolls.

Indiscreetly extra code letters were printed after the names of those on the extended franchise — designating them for more ballots than the law allows.

Once discovered by Mr. Skarke the mistake called for a painstaking correction before the copies of the lists were served on returning officers and clerks staffing the polls.

Army Regiment Travels To Petawawa for Training

The Hastings and Prince Edward Regiment continued its second year of integrated training along with other militia units last weekend.

The military units, including the Heavy Pecs, are part of the third Infantry Training Institute of the Mobile Command reserve force.

Last weekend, 50 members of the regiment's mobile command rifle company went to CPT. Petawawa.

Members of No. 2 platoon were participating in the mobile command type of training for the first time.

Units were also completing recruit training on the summer course, this past autumn.

The remainder were members of the company left over from last year.

Saturday morning was spent in rifle training and the afternoon in evening target and ballistics.

The rifleman shot at ball targets by the lights of parachute flares.

This type of target shooting was interrupted during the afternoon by review of fire and movement tactics.

The second year of integrated training will be completed by the end of the year.

ISOC Report Not Finalized

The Interim School Organization Committee for Prince Edward County will meet this Thursday night to finalize local reports and recommendations to the new county school board.

Chairman of the committee Malcolm Dalmage said he would prefer to wait until that time before releasing any of the recommendations.

Although most of the ISOC committees across the province have their reports finalized and submitted at this time Prince Edward's will be held at the Hallowell school on Monday.

"We're just asking for applicants, how one and then you will be able to be in business on time."

In Belleville the chairman of the ISOC committee for Hastings James Clarke brought the matter to public attention on Monday.

Mr. Clarke said he felt advertising for a director was beyond the committee's term of reference.

"It's Christmas time and a lot of you are going to get into the office if you begin then," he stated.

"The other hand if you already have a list of candidates it will perhaps be possible to hire them."

School in Bloomfield and Mr. Dalmage said that the entire report will be available Thursday night.

Mr. Dalmage is a member of the Afton Township School Board and is running in the upcoming election himself.

He said that the Prince Edward board will be unique in that every municipality will have at least one representative.

Only Picton and Ameliasburg will elect three each; Bloomfield — Hallowell will elect two and remaining six seats come in singles from each of the municipalities in the county.

Mr. Dalmage agreed with Mr. Clarke's statement that hiring fell to the county board and not to the interim committee.

"But whoever said anybody was hiring an administrator," he finished.

Competition is expected to be high among the 78 boards in the province to secure the new school trustees.

Bob Clark, a member of the Hastings and Prince Edward board, is running for a seat on the board.

E. ROBERT (BOB) KITCHEN

Stricken with a heart attack at the age of E. Robert "Bob" Kitchen, 50 years old, died in hospital early this Thursday morning.

Mr. Kitchen was born in Pelee, 46 years ago to the late Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Kitchen and had resided in Belleville for 26 years.

He was a salesman for the M. J. Schneider's Meat Packing Company for 32 years and retired from his position three years ago. He travelled through Eastern Ontario and was well known and highly respected.

Mr. Kitchen was a member of St. Michael's church, a hot country No. 1008 and was a Past Grand Knight. He was also a member of the Pelee Deerce Knights and was a Past Parish Navigator.

Surviving are his wife, the former Anne Kathleen Kitchen, two sons, John Robert Kitchen of Belleville and three grandchildren, Robert, Katherine and Karen Kitchen.

Also surviving is one brother, James Kitchen also of Belleville.

Mr. Kitchen is resting at the O'Brien Funeral Home. The funeral will be held on Saturday, Nov. 29, at St. Michael's Church for 10 o'clock. Burial will be in St. Vincent de Paul cemetery, Pelee.

John Earl Whitehead (Copper)

Following a lengthy illness, John Earl Whitehead, Cooper, died at the York Central Hospital at Richmond Hill on Wednesday morning.

Mr. Whitehead was born in Hungerford township, 66 years ago to the late Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Whitehead and had been a resident of the Cooper district all his life.

He farmed in Hungerford township for many years and had been retired about two years.

Surviving are two sons, Bruce Whitehead of Oshawa, Cliff of Markham and two daughters, Mrs. P. (Helen) J. Allen and Mrs. (Gwendolyn) Argue, both of Richmond Hill and Mrs. L. (Wanda) Reed of Markham.

Also surviving are two brothers, Harry and William, both of Markham, and a sister, Madge, of Thunder Bay 11 grandchildren. His wife, the former Margaret Whitehead, died some years ago. Two sons, John and one sister predeceased.

Mr. Whitehead was a member of the United Church.

Mr. Whitehead is resting at the MacKinnon Funeral Home, Markham. Service will be held in St. Andrew's United Church, Queen's, on Saturday, Nov. 30 at one o'clock.

Interment will be in Cooper Cemetery with Rev. W. M. Sedgewick officiating.

Community Spirit

Belleville's lone woman member of council, Mrs. Robin Jeffrey practices what she preaches about the need for women to become involved in the decision level in municipal affairs.

"Women must take more active and important roles in their community and on the scene where women are made," Mrs. Jeffrey told the Liberal Women's Association the other day. "The women's community must no longer mean her church, or club, but also her village, her province and her country."

Not every woman is fitted for the kind of role Mrs. Jeffrey envisages. Nor can the housewife neglect her home and her family of wife and mother. But for those who don't enter politics, an active interest in daily affairs is desirable.

Specifically, Mrs. Jeffrey has as her major contemporary concern the two questions on the ballot paper for the December 2 vote. These have to do with whether electors favour construction of a million dollar arena and if they are in favour of electing the mayor and aldermen for a three-year term in 1989 and to have municipal elections coincide with those for county board.

Taking the latter question first, this newspaper has already expressed the belief that a three-year term is too long. That position remains unchanged. At the same time we are in favour of council sitting for a period of one year, which while it may err to the other extreme, being on the short side, will still have the ultimate desired effect of having municipal elections coincide with those for county board. Subsequently the vote would revert to the normal four-year period.

Mrs. Jeffrey makes the point also, and we agree, that by sanctioning a three-year term the democratic right to vote would in effect be lost into limbo—either a hiatus with the public held to ransom.

The other matter is the arena and here again, after listening to Mrs. Jeffrey, we agree she suggests that with urban renewal studies under way there are "too many development possibilities." Among them, of course is the site of such a building, not to mention the very considerable sum of around one million dollars that is involved. Where the arena is concerned, Mrs. Jeffrey is of the opinion that an arena would be best situated in, as Mrs. Jeffrey suggests, some "blighted" area, either downtown or in Foster Ward, which as earlier visualized, besides the new recreational building at the fairgrounds.

As to the cost, Mrs. Jeffrey, while agreeing that a progressive city needs an arena, said she did not understand "the insistence of the city that the funds come from the taxpayer." She pointed to the many arena projects in Canada built largely by public subscription and suggested a similar campaign could be initiated here.

An earlier offer to spearhead such a campaign—by Belleville "Jaycees"—was apparently not little more than a ploy to only themselves to blame for such an attitude, but then with downtown renewal in the offing it is just as well.

Clearly, Belleville must await the renewal plan before the arena can be considered once again. For this reason the question of whether to proceed in favour of a three-year term is "less" than the other major vote is "few," then these other considerations must also be borne in mind.

French Austerity

President de Gaulle, rather than take the factoring part of devastating the franc, is travelling the hard road of austerity.

His government's measures include a 10 per cent reduction in the wage scale for 1980 and a cut some $13,000,000 in the allocation of funds for the Anglo-French supersonic jetliner Concorde.

In one of the nuclear tests, as pointed out in another feature on this page today, will be witnessed by the test beds, treaty powers and not least by the island territories of the South Pacific, as well as New Zealand which are seriously concerned by the threat of radiation.

The fabled Island of Tahiti, headquarters of the French nuclear program, may suffer some serious consequences from the withdrawal of personnel, but then that may help restore some of its lousy tranquility, today mostly consisting in its coral reef jet age.

A Frenchman of the nuclear task force with whom we spoke on a visit there some years ago showed us pictures of his family and expressed a longing for his home in Dijon. If he is still in Tahiti that wish likely is now about to be fulfilled.

Welshing on NATO Pledges Turns Many Faces Red

By RICHARD JACKSON

Belleville, Ontario, Canada.

OTTAWA — So Prime Minister Trudeau says Canada doesn't get out of NATO next year "if we feel like it."

And at a meeting devoid of his cabinet, Postmaster General Eric Kierans, that remarkable man with the haunting look, says, says he looks forward to the Canadian performance at the Brussels conference was a thing known more for helping others than for helping itself.

Those who were there made no secret of it that Ambassador Canada's NATO Ambassador Ross Campbell had said much further than that — far enough that he told them that "I am not a member of being a Canadian."

The MP named the Canadian delegation — including some of the Liberal name back home "kick at heart," as the one of them put it, over the threatened sacrifice of defence for foreign aid.

While External Affairs Minister Mitchell Sharp was making his way to NATO next year, he was distributing very carefully worded letters that Ambassador Campbell had never made such a "press statement," other prominent members of the parliamentary delegation were just as carefully maneuvering to keep George Meir from speaking his piece.

But he got to the NATO podium just before the conference closed and let it be known that he was "madmen," he cried, for any country to even consider giving its life to NATO commitment, "let alone withdrawing it altogether."

"No one member of the Alliance," he said, "is in a position to weaken it without opening the door to the danger of rapid collapse of the whole structure."

If we all were to gradually reduce the strength of NATO by draining off military, naval and air forces in dribs and drabs," as the government minister, Pierre Trudeau, said, "it would be a disaster."

And he was not alone. Eric Kierans, has more than hinted but he is in the planning works — "the Alliance would soon be left with nothing but a token force that could be as contemptuously brushed aside by the Soviets as were the elements of Czech resistance."

Then George Meir, speaking, he emphasized, not for the Canadian government, but as an opposition MP. He said his prime constituents, not the finger squarely on Trudeau's administration.

"There is a school of thought in Canada that includes members of the government that we should cut back on the NATO Alliance," with the consequent saving of money and compensation.

"In this, he said, he told the NATO parliamentarians, would be to hug out of Canada's tradition of playing a full and honorable part as a free and civilized state in the defence of liberty and freedom of western society."

The government's NATO delegation apparently was listening and very aware that Canada's allies are based on the NATO Alliance, with the consequent saving of money and compensation.

Meir's warning too, but for the last minute the relevant decision was made to not making back — but still not very, anyway.

But at that, it has turned out to be a very dry decision that Prime Minister Trudeau has cautioned publicly, not as a government spokesman, but as a private citizen, to strip away the elements of the Alliance, and for what?

To be left with millions of retired civil servants some of them living on as little as $20 monthly? To pump funds into housing, airport expansion, hospital improvements, and other good works for the people who have been promised but not given?

For better those prices for Indians and Eskimos? For anything for Canadians whose taxes pay for it?

For none of those things.

For more foreign aid, as y Trudeau and Kierans. For big and better housing to such people, perhaps, as the president of the United Nations, Mr. U Thant, said, "the world is a better place than it was."

TODAY IN HISTORY

More than 400 persons died in a fire at Boston's Crown Street apartment house in 1942. Dozens of persons were killed and many others were injured. The fire was caused by a gas leak in a kitchen. The fire spread rapidly and was not extinguished until it was too late. The fire was one of the worst in the history of Boston.

1943-Churchill, Roosevelt and Stalin met at Tehran. The three leaders discussed the war effort and the future of the world. The meeting was a success and the three leaders agreed to work together to win the war.

1944-Eisenhower was elected as the 34th President of the United States. He was elected over Thomas E. Dewey. Eisenhower was a military leader and was known for his leadership during World War II.

1945-The United Nations was founded. The organization was created to maintain international peace and security. It has since become one of the most important organizations in the world.

1946-The Cold War began. The United States and the Soviet Union became rivals. The war was fought over the control of the world and the future of the world.

1947-The Marshall Plan was announced. The United States offered to provide financial aid to European countries to help them rebuild after World War II. The plan was a success and helped to rebuild Europe.

1948-The Korean War began. The United States and the Soviet Union fought a war over the control of Korea. The war was a failure for both sides and resulted in the division of Korea.

1949-The People's Republic of China was founded. The Chinese Communist Party took power in China and established a new government. The new government was a success and helped to rebuild China.

1950-The Korean War ended. The United States and the Soviet Union agreed to a truce. The war was a failure for both sides and resulted in the division of Korea.

Potter Clarifies Trenton Issue

Trenton's designation under the Ontario government's equalization of industrial opportunity program is to be reviewed but the review has nothing to do with the town's former policy of giving assistance advantages to attract industry.

This was stated yesterday by Quinte riding representative Dr. Richard Potter who had talked with Koppelman and the Ontario Minister Lester H. Handall about the matter.

The question of whether the review had been ordered as a result of statements by Eric Hardy, Consulting Engineer, that Trenton had given assistance advantages to attract industry was clarified by Potter.

At that time Mr. Randall had told his audience that it was policy to keep all municipal policies under review. If it is thought that Trenton has been secure to provide employment for the available work force or if the municipality's capability for expansion of utility services has been extended, assistance is cut off temporarily.

Mr. Potter quoted Mr. Randall as saying Trenton was a new closely approaching the cut-off stage. However, this did not mean that it would be eligible for later assistance if it was deemed necessary.

The provincial program to assist underdeveloped municipalities attract industry will run until June 30, 1969.

Mr. Potter said this meant that Belleville is still eligible under the plan.

Trenton Candidates Look For Increase in Vote

TRENTON — Just as there have been differences among the various candidates for council, there is also disagreement on just how many voters will turn out to cast their ballots.

Incumbent Paul Tripp believes there will be a slight increase in the number of voters but does not look for a heavy turnout.

Although he can see no "great emotional issues," Tripp believes that the post office plebiscite and the county school board elections will bring out a few more ballots.

There was no majority race this time in Trenton, and councilor Tripp believes that even with the issues he has mentioned, the number of voters this time will not approach the amount that would turn out if there was a struggle for the mayor's post.

There have been so many elections in the past few years, explained councilor Tripp that the people are losing their enthusiasm to exercise their franchise.

Gerrit Brunk, making his first bid at an elected office, believes the turnout will not be very high.

"I will be satisfied with a regular turnout," he said. "Although I do believe this is good enough."

He too does not see the people getting excited over any issues, and labels this an unfortunate and even an "apathetic attitude" in Trenton.

Councilor Duncan McDermid said a heavy vote turnout due to the post office and the regional separate school board.

"I am only guessing," said the incumbent, "but I believe that with the issues facing them, Trentonians will come out in large numbers."

And Charles Hilson, chairman of the PUC, who will be trying for one of the three vacant council seats, sees a possible 20 per cent jump in the vote turnout.

For Mr. Hilson, the school board vote will be the prime factor in boosting the turnout, by a possible 20 per cent, over what it has been in the past years, where there has been a majority race.

According to the PUC chairman, the issues of the upcoming election is a further man's unending search for progress.

"Once he possesses the means to live, all else is in his grasp. Wisdom and compassion and responsibility, as well as intellectual freedom, and personal integrity will be his guides in addition to his and his companions in maturity."

"This above all is our task: to seek and to find structure, the organization, the curriculum, and the teachers to make this aim a reality in our schools and in our time."

Airmen Rebuild Vintage Planes

Division to Be Disbanded Jan. 1

TRENTON — There are four men at CFB Trenton who bring the reconstruction of the past into today's rush and machine like pace.

The romance lies in the "magnificent flying machines" that these craftsmen rebuild to their original eye-catching condition.

Warrant Officer Harry Tate and Corporal Dan Jones, Paul Saunders and Fred Whitely are attached to the Air Maintenance and Development unit here at the base, but are known as the "museum division."

The group have rebuilt, some from scratch, five vintage airplanes which have found a home in Ottawa's Air Force Museum.

But the reconstruction will end on Jan. 1 of the new year and the division will be disbanded and the men will take positions in other areas of maintenance.

Warrant Officer Tate said the men had "been restoring planes since May of 1966."

"I guess now there is no place in the modern air force for our type of work," he said as he explained the reason for the break-up.

But one thing is for sure — three four men could be the most knowledgeable in the country when it comes to the restoration of the old flyers.

"As far as I know," said WO Tate, "we are the only ones carefully engaged in this type of restoration."

The unit works from old plans of models and will either begin from scratch or a partial wreck will be procured for the rebuilding process.

Any parts that are needed are made by the men in their own workshop. The shop itself resembles another world with parts of old planes lying about, reminding us memories for any flyer who drops into the build-up.

Currently work is being done on an AEG Mk Four World War II German bomber. WO Tate is hoping for a two-month extension on the disbanding date to allow him to finish the rebuilding of the engine.

So the rugged pace of the modern world has claimed another victim and in this instance a slice of the past is leaving Trenton. Visiting the shop at RFB is like stepping back into the world of dog-fights and wild air adventures.

You can see yourself with a white scarf around your neck as you out fly the enemy.

Many of the courses designed to update teaching standards are not credited towards a degree. The teacher faces a dilemma in deciding whether to take a degree credit course to increase his salary, or a professional course to increase his teaching competence.

A local teacher must spend the summer away from home, at considerable personal expense, to take either professional development or degree credit courses.

Usually needed are winter-time night school courses at the local level. They are available now only in metropolitan centres.

If it takes a serious interest in improving the standards of teaching, the new county board may find itself with a financial crisis in teacher training, by financing teachers taking degree work and by providing professional development courses in the schools.

The issue at stake is stated by Mr. Justice Emmett Hall in the introduction he wrote for the Hall Dennis report: "The underlying aim of education is to further man's unending search for progress."

Once he possesses the means to live, all else is in his grasp. Wisdom and compassion and responsibility, as well as intellectual freedom, and personal integrity will be his guides in addition to his and his companions in maturity.

"This above all is our task: to seek and to find structure, the organization, the curriculum, and the teachers to make this aim a reality in our schools and in our time."

Quality Is Essential

Who Takes Over Teacher Training?

of whom 81 per cent are fully qualified with an average of eight years teaching experience.

Three of Belleville's 189 elementary school teachers lack Ontario qualifications. Eighteen hold university degrees. But of the total, only 54 per cent hold only the minimum required by the colleges of education.

This puts the elementary teacher at a disadvantage in the integration of all grades from kindergarten to Grade 12, and is the main reason the divergent teachers' federations refuse to unite.

The Hall Dennis report recommends that training for teachers working with all age levels from nursery school to Grade 12, be given at the same university faculty of education, in a four-year course leading to both a degree and diploma.

Chief Warns Shoppers To Lock Cars

A recent number of thefts have prompted the annual statement from the Belleville police department that shoppers take care to prevent their shopping items from being stolen.

Chief of police Douglas Crossby, said that morning there have been two recent thefts from both vehicles.

The coin box at the car wash on the street was smashed open and an unattended amount of cash was removed. Police got the call this morning at 3:57.

A similar theft was reported last night from the Westgate Plaza car wash coin box.

Still, what prompted a press statement from Mr. Crossby, was a report of a theft from a car.

He suggested that cars be locked and that parcels be locked in the trunk when people are Christmas shopping.

Former Teacher Acquitted

Christopher Gerald Williams, 26, of Toronto was charged yesterday of attempted possession of marijuana on a trial before Judge J. C. Anderson.

Mr. Williams was charged as a result of an investigation April 15. At that time he was teaching in the secondary school system in Belleville.

St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church Holds Annual Tea and Bazaar

Attending the St. Andrew's Church Tea and Bazaar which was held Wednesday from 1 to 5 p.m. was an afternoon extremely well-attended. The bazaar, co-conveners of the coffee event were Mrs. J. S. Sims and Mrs. P. Remond.

The many tables, ranging from home-making to children's wear were filled with things practical, frivolous and good to eat.

Mrs. K. Davidson covered the children's wear booth. Pyjamas, baby sets, warm lounges and a smattering of doll clothes were for sale. In contrast, the cotton and craft table, as convened by Mrs. H. W. Yonka offered anything from practical shawls to Christmas wreaths. A large table of doll clothes and doll ornaments. Shoppers had difficulty in choosing what to buy here.

Amongst of silver, shoes and colors were sold by Mrs. J. Robertson. This same group also had an attractive display of gold-colored sets, tea towels and few towels. Mrs. H. Froehner covered the White Elephant Table, which offered puzzles, books, records and jewellery. Proceeds from this table went toward the Mission Church in MacKenzie Park, outside of Toronto.

At the home-making table, Mrs. N. Williamson helped shoppers make their selection from a vast array of delicious cakes, tarts, and cookies. Nearby, the delicious table sold homemade breads, pickles, relishes, in mention only a few of many good things here. Mrs. R. Jones and Mrs. T. Hitt were in charge.

Mrs. W. Martin supervised at the candy booth. Bags and boxes of homemade fudge were sold, disappearing almost as soon as they were placed on the table. Then, onto the tea room, to be welcomed by Mrs. L. Sutherland, Mrs. V. Weir, Mrs. H. Elvige and Mrs. J. Craig. The beautiful decorations were a fine tribute to the decorating committee (also tea room hostesses): Mrs. W. Cline, Mrs. R. Vanderhorst, Mrs. M. Barlow and Miss Frida Matthews.

The white picket fence, interspersed with gay bits of bolly and ending in a lovely arch greeted the visitors. This was surrounded by four large pots containing order, roses, a touch of tinsel and the occasional bright red holly and bows. The arbor itself, which formed the entrance to the bazaar tea room was covered with branches of spruce, covered with poinsettias.

All around the room, at intervals, silver colored containers overflowed with cedar and spruce branches, pine cones and poinsettias. This decor was carried over to the individual tea tables, where a small, pointed plant, cushioned into a round shape, with tiny pine cones, bulbs and spruce branches, tied with a sprightly red bow added to the scene.

The overall "look" of the room was one of bright colors and gleaming silver. The tablecloths, alternated in color from gold to red to green.

A white tablecloth and red underlay covered the main tea table. The centerpiece consisted of three miniature Christmas trees similar to those on the smaller tables, but larger and brighter and surrounded by an array of silver pine cones. Silver tea service and silver candlesticks with white lighted candles added the finishing touch.

Kitchen convener for the event was Mrs. D. Kane, and ticket convener was Mrs. E. Jones. Puring, tea through the thermos were Mrs. R. Gault, Mrs. G. Dunn, Mrs. C. Hader, Mrs. K. Hall, Mrs. W. H. Walker and Mrs. R. Vanderhorst.

Greeting guests at the door during the afternoon were the treasurers, Mrs. G. Baunett, Mrs. E. Shair, Mrs. G. O'Neil, Mrs. J. Niblock, Mrs. McCone, Miss L. Burnside, Mrs. H. Gooding. The money received for the bazaar was Mrs. H. Holt.

Belleville Teenagers Do Get Involved--More Are Needed for Volunteer Work

By LINDA GELBART

Teenagers do get involved. Most people believe they only get involved in all the wrong things—riffs, the drug scene, and a constantly militant fight against the establishment. That belief is wrong.

Mrs. Ruth M. Burrows, director of the volunteer bureau at Belleville, will tell you it is wrong. She can tell you that the many little teenagers do help members of their community. About how they forget themselves, and for others.

The Bureau, which was three years old this fall, has approximately 300 volunteers registered. These volunteers' services are available to all non-profit groups, welfare and cultural agencies on request. Volunteers supplement agency programs and can relieve staff work loads.

Mrs. Burrows admitted that the majority of her registered volunteers are housewives and only a small percentage were teenagers. She stressed the need for more volunteers, especially young volunteers.

"It is unfortunate that of the local young people do not realize this need exist in their community."

The Bureau's methods of making this need known are mainly through word of mouth or small advertisements in the paper every now and then, or talks given to interested groups.

Mrs. Burrows contends that "a satisfied volunteer is the best advertisement method yet realized."

She also said that "social change will be motivated by people such as these, and it's a good thing."

If any young person of high school age is interested in doing any type of volunteer work, the best way to get started, is to get in contact with Mrs. Burrows personally.

The Bureau has more than 20 organizations which use the available "volunteer" services. A close investigation of three or four of these revealed a very enthusiastic group of young people who care.

At the YMCA, for example, many of the young members become group leaders for the activities, such as teen girls and teen boys. Clubs in the summer, the Y teens offer a job service, to help teenagers find employment. Older volunteers work with retarded children in the Hand Women's and men's fitness class.

Group leadership helped by teens permits more and more programs to be initiated. Each of the volunteer leaders is aided in his or her work by various meetings with Y program directors. This method enables them to learn the standards involved, and how to cope with problems that come up.

Bert Morrison, program director at the Y, maintains that "giving leadership is a result of our program."

Mr. Morrison spoke warmly of the volunteers involved in leading the various groups. He said, "They are very important to our program, and we could operate without them."

Some of their projects in which volunteers play a key role is the project of "friendly visitors." This consists of visiting families, especially the children, assigned to each volunteer by agencies such as the Children's Aid Society.

One such friendly visitor is high school student Miss Carol Goodfriend who has been working with the same family for several years. She visits the children at their home, and sometimes takes them for outings.

How did she get involved with friendly visiting? "Miss Goodfriend admitted, 'I wanted to do something for the summer.' And," she added, "I'm really enjoying it. I've learned a lot from these children. I've learned how to be a good listener, and how to be a good friend."

Miss Goodfriend also said that social work is the thing she wants to make of her work. "I never thought of social work before, but now I'm really into it as much as possible."

Volunteer not only helps others, but the benefits to the individual directly doing the work are many. "I've learned a lot from these children. I've learned how to be a good listener, and how to be a good friend."

Witness the junior volunteers at the hospital. Here it a group of a dozen girls sent-out to do whatever they can for the hospital. In charge of them are the older girls who also have the opportunity to be involved in the hospital in a really life.

All of these girls are interested in the hospital. In charge of them are the older girls who also have the opportunity to be involved in the hospital in a really life. They are very important to our program, and we could operate without them.

Mark junior volunteers are shrouded from the local high schools. However, Mrs. Burrows revealed that present need for hospital volunteers is very serious. "Because our program this year has been quite limited."

Her technique assessed the value of the junior volunteers. "I've learned a lot from these children. I've learned how to be a good listener, and how to be a good friend."

There are three of the volunteer project groups active in the city. There are several groups not directly associated with the Volunteer Bureau, but do a great deal of work as well.

One good example is a local group of Barnes under the supervision of Mrs. Robert Roberts. The girls in the group are ages 14 to 17.

They have decided on a community basting project for the first three Saturdays in December. The charge will be minimal, and the care excellent. The location of the project will be close to the downtown area, for added convenience.

Mrs. Roberts described the attitude of the girls involved as enthusiastic. She said that they are "very keen on working with children, and want to give as much help as much as possible."

The conclusion one could draw from all this volunteer activity is simply this: young people today care, and are willing to do something constructive about it.

Just A Little Support

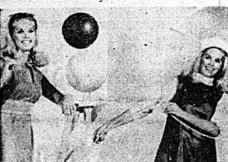

Two group leaders, Kathryn Watson (right) and Janet Ward give some obvious support to Valerie Green's backband. The girls are working out in the gym at the YMCA, as part of regular Saturday program of activities.

Faculty Defeats Students

'Sedimentary Rock' at Nicholson

NICHOLSON CATHOLIC COLLEGE
By JUDY SCHRIEDER

If a geography student was asked to define sedimentary rock, his reply might be, "Rock formed of mechanical, chemical or organic sediment. The Sedimentary Rock play at Nicholson on Saturday night! They will probably tell you that the group was one of the greatest. It is a play about the geological process of sedimentary rock formation, which is a process that takes place over millions of years.

Of course, the teachers who were present at the time would agree with the opinion that the group played a little too loudly. But the faculty should have enjoyed them. Since they had defeated the senior girls at a game of basketball on Friday afternoon, the dance was a kind of victory celebration.

The following statements are comments from students who viewed that student-faculty dance.

Father Gately is "older and wiser" than the other teachers. Mr. Macdonald should invest in a basketball rule book.

Mr. Buckley is to be expected for appearing disinterested on the court—he is going marauding on Saturday.

O'Donnell and Mr. Fagan and Mr. Magan played with the skill of pros.

The boys' basketball team is a disgrace. The girls' basketball team is a disgrace.

The grand finale came at the end of the game. The boys' basketball team is a disgrace. The girls' basketball team is a disgrace.

To Quebec and Back

CSS Students Enjoy Trip

By PENNIE HAMILL

This has been an active year for the students of the CSS. But, even so, not much is happening in the school.

I imagine everyone read about the grade 11 students who went to Quebec. The students reported back that it was all beneficial by the trip and I hope it is not the last time because they did great practical experience for students.

The students who were present at the time would agree with the opinion that the group played a little too loudly. But the faculty should have enjoyed them. Since they had defeated the senior girls at a game of basketball on Friday hospital Friday to visit the Hospital for Sick Children, Crippled Children's Hospital, Toronto city hall and the Royal Alexandra for the play "Sunshine Town."

The third trip last weekend was the football trip to Ottawa to watch the Red Sox. The football teams went with the two coaches of the senior team.

Some students have started to prepare for Christmas by making the Christmas cards. The school staff to be entered in the Christmas card contest.

Last year's final sport event was the basketball game. The basketball game was held in the gymnasium. The basketball game was held in the gymnasium.

The students who were present at the time would agree with the opinion that the group played a little too loudly. But the faculty should have enjoyed them. Since they had defeated the senior girls at a game of basketball on Friday afternoon, the dance was a kind of victory celebration. The following statements are comments from students who viewed that student-faculty dance.

Father Gately is "older and wiser" than the other teachers. Mr. Macdonald should invest in a basketball rule book.

Mr. Buckley is to be expected for appearing disinterested on the court—he is going marauding on Saturday.

O'Donnell and Mr. Fagan and Mr. Magan played with the skill of pros. The boys' basketball team is a disgrace. The girls' basketball team is a disgrace.

The grand finale came at the end of the game. The boys' basketball team is a disgrace. The girls' basketball team is a disgrace.

Dance at Loyalist College Successful

By ROSS WATTS

This is just to let you know that Loyalist exists!

You never heard nine miles east of Toronto and make a left hand turn up the east. Please be careful when you are taking a truck. A little further ahead, just across a narrow bridge, is a clearing in the woods on the right hand side of the road. This prebald building is on the site of the soon-to-be built Loyalist College.

slit Campoli. Prior knowledge of the site is required or the St. Bernards will have to be in the area and make a left hand turn up the east. Please be careful when you are taking a truck. A little further ahead, just across a narrow bridge, is a clearing in the woods on the right hand side of the road. This prebald building is on the site of the soon-to-be built Loyalist College.

We should like to thank the Belleville student nurses for the get-together they had at Education Hall. The student body at Loyalist (consisting primarily of males) enjoyed participating in activities with the student nurses (composed mainly of females) to the fullest extent. The previous dance held at Loyalist College was just as great a success and you should by all means come to the next dance. We would please return the rest of our money.

Connecticut One is the Loyalist money make this year (commonly called a year book). Buy one and make your money. Remember that blackmail is against the law and Connecticut One will self-destruct on sight of a uniform.

All kidding aside, I should like to ask support of the student body in regard to finding out who we are. Participation is lacking in the field but with your help we should be able to make the yearbook a success, and all future dances succeed. Don't let a few people who are doing all the work down. Please support

Jeffrey - Webster

Rev. Robert Crooks officiated at the November wedding in Tabernacle United Church, Belleville, when he united in marriage Wendy Jean Webster, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Webster, of Belleville, to Russ Alan Jeffrey, son of Mrs. Clarence Jeffrey, of Napanee, and the late Clarence Jeffrey. Rendering the wedding music was organist C. E. Tempier, and the soloist for the ceremony was Mrs. Doug Shaw. The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a full-length gown of satin, styled with a wedding ring collar and featuring three-quarter length bell shaped sleeves. The princess-style, A-line gown was sprinkled with aluminum lace appliques. Her matching wedding ring head-dress held a tiered veil in place. She carried a cascade of white orchids. Matron of honor, Mrs. Sue Turner, sister of the bride, of Belleville, wore a full-length sleeveless gown of moss green velvet. Shocking pink tinted button "moss" adorned her hair. Bridesmaid, the Misses Penny Webster, sister of the bride, and Mary Jeffrey, of Belleville, wore Sharon Kimmell of Belleville and The Shoppers of Oakshaws were attired identically to the matron of honor. They wore pale pink tinted "moss" in their hair, and each carried a bouquet of white "moss". Flower girl, Miss Karen Dodson of Belleville, wore a full-length gown of shocking pink velvet with short sleeves and a round neckline. She carried a small bouquet of white sweetheart roses. For the wedding reception was Miss Allan Jeffrey, The Shoppers were T. Pyffe of Toronto, K. H. I. Anderson of Rosemarie, Jeff Mockett of Toronto and James Anderson of Kingston. The Master of Ceremonies was Master Roddy Johnson of Ottawa.

held at the Shrine Club, the priest and short-sleeved jacket button "moss" adorned the guests wearing a two-piece matching ensemble styled dress with an inverted front pleat. The short-sleeved jacket dress was in colors of beige and eggshell pink velvet design. Brides accessories completed her ensemble. She wore a wristlet corsage of orange delphinium. Assisting her, the mother of the bridegroom, chose a two-piece matching turquoise brocade dress and jacket, and winter white accessories. A corsage of pink sweetheart roses completed her ensemble. For the wedding trip to the Bahamas, the bride chose a matching Kelly green tailored coat and sleeveless princess-line dress with a self-belt. To complete her ensemble, she chose chocolate brown accessories and a white orchid corsage. Upon their return, the couple will reside in Kingston.

Children Read Commercials

EDMONTON (CP) — If the radio announcer sounds youthful, maybe he's in Grade 3. If the voice is a girl's, she's in kindergarten.

Roger Charest, Jr., almost 7, and his sister Collette, 5, read commercials on the air with all the aplomb of professionals.

"The children are completely at ease in front of a microphone," said their father, production manager of radio station CHQT. "My wife and I have been recording them at regular intervals since they were babies."

They won't be Edmonton's youngest announcers for long. Michelle, 2, is to be introduced to radio audiences next year.

CLUB ACTIVITIES

XI BETA CHAPTER

The first November meeting of XI Beta Zeta Chapter was held at the home of Mrs. Tim Bald.

President, Elizabeth Black welcomed several new members. During the business meeting, plans were discussed for a Christmas party. Ways and means committee Barbara Pringle distributed Christmas cards for sale and reported that sales are already going well.

The speaker, Mrs. Douglas Bateman introduced by Mrs. Bald gave an interesting and informative talk on education. Concentrating on the "slow learner" level and the difficulties in establishing an adequate program for Belleville children, her talk was followed by a lively discussion period. She was thanked by Elizabeth Black.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Bald and Miss Black. The second meeting was held at the home of Mrs. John Devon.

An exemplary ritual was given for Mrs. Roger Bodley and a transfer ritual for Mrs. Frank Harvey.

"During the business meeting it was decided to again give a turkey to the Artistic Society and gifts to the Children's Aid Receiving Home."

Mrs. John Pringle introduced Mrs. John O'Flynn and Mrs. Douglas who presented a program on the history of Canadian art. Colored pictures and descriptions were given from the late 1700s to the present day. They were thanked by Mrs. Donald Boyce.

Headnote for the evening were Mrs. Pringle and Mrs. Boyce.

Howe's Pair Freeze Flyers

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Nobody really pays much attention when Gordie Howe discusses his retirement plans. And who can blame them?

Howe, who shows no signs of slowing up, scored two goals and assisted on another Wednesday night to help Detroit Red Wings to a 3-2 victory against Philadelphia Flyers. The 40-year-old right winger now has 188 goals during regular-season National Hockey League competition and will be shooting for the 300-goal plateau tonight when the Red Wings are at home in St. Louis.

In other games Wednesday, Montreal Canadiens downed Los Angeles Kings 4-2, Chicago Black Hawks topped New York Rangers 4-2, Oakland Seals tied Minnesota North Stars 2-2, 76. Louis held Boston Bruins to a 4-4 stalemate and Toronto Maple Leafs dominated the Pittsburgh Penguins 3-1.

Trails by Seven

The three points by Howe gave him 29 for the season and put him in second place in the NHL scoring race seven back of Bobby Hull of Chicago who added a goal and two assists Wednesday.

Playing in his 1,040 NHL game, Howe scored both his goal within a span of two minutes and 17 seconds in the second period. His first goal at 3:21 tied the game at 1-1 and his second, at 4:06, gave the Red Wings a lead they never relinquished.

Other Detroit marks were by Alex Delvecchio, Bob Ryan and Ron Harris. Don Blackburn and Dick Saravalle, both recalled earlier this week from Quebec of the American Hockey League, scored for the Flyers.

Hull Sets Pace

The Black Hawks, paced by Hull, moved one point ahead of Toronto and into fourth place in the Eastern Division with their victory here Wednesday night. The 27-year-old forward scored twice in the first half of the game. In New York, Jim Pappio, Gilles Marsteau and Stan Mikita scored the other Chicago goals. Reg Fleming and Jim Lonnie retired for the Rangers who dropped into third place in the Eastern Division, one point back of Boston.

Warpath Out West

CALGARY (CP) — Directors of the Calgary Indian Friendship center, angry because they weren't invited to the Grey Cup festivities, are mounting up a bad-luck dance for the Calgary Stampeders.

Andrew Bear Robe, executive director of the center, said: "We Indians are pretty upset that Calgary is not sending one Indian to the game."

"We're going to organize a bad-luck dance to wish evil spirits on the team."

The Stampeder committee, which is organizing Calgary representation in the parade and other festivities, decided against inviting any Indians because of financial reasons.

Howe assisted on goals by Mikita and Marsteau and scored his 150th of the season late in the second period.

Jim Robertson scored two third-period goals, only his second and third of the season, to give St. Louis its tie against Boston before 1:37 at St. Louis.

Gary Sawchuk and Camille Henry picked up the other St. Louis goals. Scoring for Boston were Derry, Sanderson, Phil Esposito, Fred Stanfield and Ed Westlund. The tie left the Red Wings with seven consecutive games and the Bruins, in five.

Habs Pad Lead

The Canadiens moved two points on top in the Division Division with their victory before a crowd of 12,379 at Los Angeles — the biggest crowd there all season.

Third-period goals by John Ferguson, Gilles Tremblay and Bobby Rousseau gave Montreal the victory. Jean Beliveau scored the other Montreal marker while Los Angeles goals came from Bobby Wall and Real Lemieux.

The Maple Leafs gained a tie in Pittsburgh when the independently-owned Mike Walcott scored on a power play at 18:01 of the final period.

Tim Horton and Paul Henderson scored the other Toronto goals. Commenting for Pittsburgh were Charlie Burns, Ken Schinkel and Gene Thibault.

Bowser to Rescue

Pittsburgh jumped into a 2-0 first-period lead before Johnny Bowser replaced Bruce Gamble in the Toronto goal. Toronto snatched the Penguins 4-2 but Les Binkley in the Pittsburgh goal dominated LHM home fans with his great play.

Walcott's goal, on a 25-foot shot, came with Pittsburgh's first goal in the season.

Doug Robertson's first goal in the season — a deft from 25 feet out with 3:10 gone in the first period gave Oakland its tie in front of 12,636 Minnesota fans.

The Seals announced after the game that they had completed a trade with Pittsburgh. Oakland sent centre Billy Harris, 31, to the Penguins for left winger Bob Dillabough, 27.

Cranmer Stand-in?

TORONTO (CP) — Rudy Lin-

terman, who was playing high school football two years ago, will be trying to grasp the fact that he is going to play in Saturday's Grey Cup game.

"I still don't believe it," the rookie said Wednesday.

Linterman, developed into a pass return specialist, with Calgary Stampeders, but his major choice against Ottawa Rough Riders will be as a halfback.

He will be filling in for Dave Cranmer, the Stampeder's top runner in 1968, who suffered a cracked bone in his right leg in the Western Football Conference final series.

"At the beginning of the year I was losing somebody would get hurt, so I feel bad. Dave has earned it."

Linterman, home in Holland 20 years ago, was a whiz at track, basketball and football at Western Canada high school in Calgary.

Earl Lunsford, Calgary's former great fullback who then was serving as the club's coordinator of minor football, got him a football scholarship at the University of Idaho. Lunsford now is general manager for Winnipeg Blue Bombers.

Linterman, running back in the middle of a four-year run, heading north to continue studies in dentistry at the University of Calgary and take a crack at the Stampeder's.

His first WFC game was a disaster.

Stamps Say Cranmer Start 'a Miracle'

TORONTO (CP) — Calgary Stampeders say it will take a miracle for Linterman to start Saturday's Grey Cup game.

Even if Cranmer doesn't start, Gots said that in his playing days in Saskatchewan as an end and he performed with a hairline fracture much like the one played," assistant coach Jack Gots of the Eastern Conference champions said Wednesday night.

The 1-p.m. ESPN game is to be televised nationally by both CBC and the CBC.

Gots said that in his playing days in Saskatchewan as an end and he performed with a hairline fracture much like the one Cranmer suffered in the final game of the WFC last night at Saskatchewan Roughriders.

Even if Cranmer doesn't start, Gots said that in his playing days in Saskatchewan as an end and he performed with a hairline fracture much like the one Linterman's plenty fast," said Gots who was an assistant coach to coach Eagle Keyes of Saskatchewan before moving over to Ottawa this season.

The Riders arrived here early Wednesday evening and will work out at Centennial Park in nearby Etobicoke today and Friday.

Coach Frank Clark said his game plan now is to set and the Riders "will be bringing up the game from here in.

He had great respect for Calgary's ability in block punts and said the Riders "will do some work on their post formation."

Clark, who won two Grey Cups coaching Toronto Argonauts and one with the Riders in 1960, also said he has the greatest respect for Calgary's defence.

The Riders get a mounting send-off from about 600 Ottawa fans an hour before they leave.

Clark assured the fans that the Riders "are not just going to Toronto to play a game; we are going to win the Grey Cup."

Win or lose, Ottawa plans a city dinner for the team Monday evening.

Some Problem!

Belleville's Carol Armstrong, current holder of the Canadian women's archery championship, has an envious problem. She recently received the national title trophy but there doesn't seem to be much room for the three-foot-tall prize in the display shelves laden with Carol's other bow-prowess silverware in her East Moulton St. home.

Austerity Will Raise French Living Costs Three Per Cent

PARIS (CP) — French government leaders believe the new austerity measures to be imposed in France from devolution will raise the cost of living 1.5 to two per cent, but some businessmen and union leaders say it might go as high as three per cent.

The Gaullist-controlled Chamber of Deputies today approved

President Charles de Gaulle's austerity program by a vote of 381 to 31.

The bill adjusts taxes and charges to leave exports and the strict domestic buying so that France can pay its way in international trade and not be forced into devaluation.

The lower house, the Senate, also will vote on the measure.

What effect the measures would have on the general public was not clear. Nor was it clear whether the currency restrictions would force millions of Frenchmen to give up vacations in Spain and Italy.

French residents are permitted to take 700 francs—$140—worth of foreign currency set aside for tourists.

Questions and Answers On Highway Travel

Ontario Motor League Eastern Ontario Club

QUESTION: We are spending the Christmas holidays in Miami, Florida. How much further is it to drive to Key West and would it be worth the trip?

ANSWER: Key West is 159 miles from Miami — about a four-hour drive by the Overseas Highway. This is a unique drive through marshlands and islands over water. It is one of the longest over-water drives in the world, consisting of the chain of keys connected by concrete bridges, one over seven miles long, another 75 feet above the Atlantic.

In appearance, Key West is not unlike a New England seacoast town. The rocky coasts and weathered houses present a sharp contrast to other parts of Florida. Many of the older houses were built of cedar, cypress or mahogany by ship carpenters, using wooden pegs instead of nails. Cornmeal and date palms flourish, as well as many colorful tropical plants and fruits.

Fishing speclers should try some of the unusual food available in local restaurants, such as turtle steaks, conch chowder, but velvet and hot pepper pie.

Points of interest include—Audubon House and Gardens where John James Audubon painted his life-size life of the Florida Keys in 1826. The house has been restored and refurbished with pieces from the 18th and early 19th centuries. On display is a complete original set of Audubon's diary 8 to noon and 1 to 5; admission $1, children 50 cents.

Ernest Hemingway House and Museum, a Spanish colonial-style mansion owned by the author from 1921 until his death in 1961. It was here that he wrote "For Whom the Bell Tolls" "A Farewell to Arms" and other works. Built in 1851, the mansion contains memorabilia collected by the author from various parts of the world, particularly Spain. Open daily 9 to 5; admission $1, children 50 cents.

A 14-mile sightseeing tour of the island and the naval base is provided by the Conch Tour Train. The fare for this 1½ hour tour is $1, children under 12, 50 cents.

Key West is a delightful winter resort. There is year-round swimming and golf. For the fishermen, boats and guides are available.

Some of the recent amendments to the Ontario Highway Traffic Act as provided by Bill 129 which are now in effect are:—

1. When buying a used car privately, the new owner must produce a certificate of mechanical fitness to the Ontario Department of Transport or else he must surrender the plates. The vehicle cannot be licensed again until a certificate is presented.
2. Notice of a sale or transfer must be given to the Department of Transport within six days.
3. It is now at the discretion of the convicting magistrate to suspend a driver's license for up to 30 days for speeding 30 mph or more over the speed limit.
4. Four-way flashers may be used only to indicate a disabled vehicle or emergency situation. Turn signals must not be so used. Their purpose is only to show a turn, lane change or moving from a parked position.
5. A flashing green signal light means not only an exclusive left turn, but also right turns and continuing across the intersection.
6. Pedestrians must not cross the street on a flashing green traffic light except where pedestrian "walk" signals are shown.
7. Riding in house or boat trailers is prohibited.
8. Alarms issued to a moving vehicle is prohibited.
9. All farm tractors, self-propelled farm implements

Mexican Students Battle

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Shooting broke out and one student died in a battle between Mexican students and police.

Police said about 30 other students were injured in the shooting. The students were returning to preparatory and school classes, police said.

Two Ships Collide

HELSINKI (AP) — Two Finnish ferries collided in heavy fog today off the Isle of Åland, killing two passengers and a stewardess and injuring seven passengers, the chief guard said. Another person is missing.

A spokesman said the 5,100-ton Linamar, carrying 120 passengers to the Port of Turku, collided with the 2,800-ton Bania, carrying 117 passengers to Stockholm. He said the Linamar suffered minor damage and continued on its original destination, but a 40-foot hole was ripped in the starboard side of the Bania above the water line.

Your Dollar Savings Plan Vital

By Ken Weckes

The amount a family saves is determined not only by the size of their income but mainly by their attitude, habits and objectives toward savings. Many families with an income of $5000 per year are able to save more than families earning $12,000 annually.

Some savings in the bank or elsewhere is one of the most satisfying achievements a family can have. Not only does it give peace of mind and a feeling of security, but also a sense of accomplishment and of getting ahead. A steadily growing savings account leads to less financial worry and more financial success.

There are two forms of savings: long range savings and short range savings. Long range savings are for over one year and may be for as long as thirty or forty years. Examples of long range savings are saving for education, a house, or retirement. Short range savings are for less than one year and including saving for vacations, Christmas, appliances and so on.

How much should you save? This will be determined by your objectives, income and other circumstances. A general rule of thumb states that five to seven percent of your

Kinnettes Entertain Residents

THURSDAY — The Tweed Kinnettes Club has been up to the highest bracket when it comes to doing good and helpfulness to the community, and they tried a new venture this past week by entertaining the residents of an old-fashioned stew supper, which was held in St. John's United Church hall, beginning at 6:30 p.m. A large number of invitations were mailed out by the committee. Forty but, anyone was welcome at the supper.

The entertainment was a success, with all the vegetables, home-made bread, pumpkin and apple pie, fancy cookies, Kaffee and beverage.

The ladies had anticipated having 65 to 80 but with the inclement weather, it was a happy and thankful crowd. Mr. and Mrs. Ed Way were one and with interesting slides of the Tweed Motra River, land marks almost forgotten but soon revived in the minds and hearts of the guests they had spent together, here-dere-and-everywhere.

The meeting was a joint affair, and most of the Kinnettes members had a hand in the preparations, with Mrs. Ellen Doughan and Mrs. Margaret Martin, taking the telephone calls. Mrs. Marion Ope, a Kinnettes was also on the committee at large. The supper was sponsored and financed by the Tweed Kinnettes Club. Members of the Club were on hand to do their bit.

The Junior choir of St. John's United Church sang a few numbers.

Desperado of Thirties Fleeed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Montreal-born Alvin Karpis, a notorious desperado of the early 1930s, is being paroled after 21 years imprisonment and will be deported to Canada in January. The U.S. parole board, announced this Wednesday, said the aging and ailing Karpis, now 60, is no longer "a threat to public safety."

Karpis met his downfall when FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover captured him on a New Orleans street in 1935, where he had been sought for the $200,000 kidnapping of a wealthy St. Paul businessman, William Hamm Jr.

Karpis was a member of the notorious Barker-Karpis gang of the early 1930s. The gang, consisting mainly of paroled convicts, was linked with the slaying of 19 persons between 1931 and 1935.

Woman Tosses Plastic Buddha At 'Stupid Innocent' Trudeau

The woman who threw a Buddha-shaped bottle in which after-shave lotion is sold, wrapped in a note, onto the floor of the House of Commons Wednesday at Ottawa tells reporters she is "the daughter of Israel". The container with the label: Jade East After Shave, is shown at right. (CP Photo)

OTTAWA (CP) — Thighs of Commons security measures in the wake of a Parliament Building bomb incident 24 years ago didn't deter a woman from flinging an object on to the Commons floor Wednesday.

The missile turned out to be an empty plastic man's lotion container with a cryptic message to Prime Minister Trudeau. The Commons was midway through debate on a motion for an emergency debate on war when the woman, who was wearing a dark coat and a hat, threw the bottle which was not identified by Commons guards, who had the bottle not the incident and the debate never halted. Former prime minister John Diefenbaker, on his feet at the time, apparently didn't notice the interruption. Prime Minister Trudeau left the chamber seconds later, then returned within minutes. It is not known whether he left because of the incident or because of the Commons was midway through debate on a motion for an emergency debate on war when the woman, who was wearing a dark coat and a hat, threw the bottle which was not identified by Commons guards, who had the bottle not the incident and the debate never halted.

hauled her from the public gallery. She was released after a brief interrogation.

Attached to the bottle by a string was this message: "Because of you, Mr. prime minister, the philosophy of the gods is filling the land. You stupid innocent: you know not what it is that you do. You will strangle the gods who put the way of death before my people. I will help Israel for in his mouth is to be found the plan of the gods for my life."

The woman later told reporters she is not a Jew but a "Christian, in a sense." Her action was motivated by the "growing threat of popular revolt from the heathen against those who destroy life vigorously and who drive out his chosen ones." Her purpose was to "help read as a note of war."

Arms Dealers Seek Sabres

OTTAWA (CP) — Arms merchants, mainly Americans, have been trying for years to get their hands on surplus Canadian sabre jet fighter planes, in fact, some dealers said Wednesday.

The informants added that Canadian exporters have been frequently approached by the arms dealers to try to make arrangements for Sabre sales in them. None of the approaches worked.

Sources said that in the next month or so 50 Sabres in flyable condition will be turned over to the defence department by the Crown Assets Disposal Corp.

They said the exhibit is likely to be a firm and final decision that such surplus military aircraft can be disposed of not as scrap but as potential weapons.

The government will permit disposal of any Sabres in flyable condition, "a source close to the cabinet said."

Policeman Found Child In Cellar Well, Happy

TORONTO (CP) — A policeman told coroner's jury Wednesday that three-year-old

Theresa McIntosh was suffering no distress when found in the basement boiler room of a restaurant about three weeks before she died of a brain hemorrhage.

The inquest into the girl's death, which opened Nov. 22, resumed Wednesday by the coroner's jury.

Theresa's mother, Diane McIntosh, who left Toronto for her parents' home in Glasgow, Scotland, after her daughter's death, returned Tuesday to testify but was not called during Wednesday's testimony.

Patrol Sergeant John Armstrong told the inquest he went to the restaurant Sept. 21 to inspect a complaint that the restaurant staff was being ill-treated.

Sgt. Armstrong testified: "I found her asleep (in the boiler room) on a blanket. Another blanket was covering her. I woke her, picked her up and carried her out and set her on a table in the main area of the restaurant. She was very friendly and did not seem to upset at all."

He said he examined the girl under a strong light and found no bruises on her face, arms or legs.

Algonquin Park Plan Assailed

HUNTSVILLE, Ont. (CP) — A new development plan for Algonquin Park came under heavy criticism Wednesday and one southern Ontario company charged implementation of the plan would cost the province at least $2,000,000.

W.R. McFarlane, woods manager for Woodward of Canada Ltd., told a department of lands and forests hearing that Algonquin Park timber makes up 60 per cent of the hardwood used for veneer and furniture in Ontario.

If the government plan which calls for the prohibition of all logging during two summer months is approved, a $2,000,000 export business to the United States could be lost and his company would be forced to lay off workers, he said.

Crippled Boy Offers Poodle to Diefenbaker

OTTAWA (CP) — A crippled boy in Saskatoon has offered John Diefenbaker a poodle poodle to take the place of the former prime minister's dog Happy, killed last week by a car.

Mr. Diefenbaker got the offer in a letter from the boy, Randy Klecker, 14. He called the minister's mother, Mrs. Edward Klecker, Wednesday in talk about it, and plans to call her back today when he makes up his mind whether to accept the dog.

Mrs. Klecker told reporters in Saskatoon that Mr. Diefenbaker said to her, "would like to accept the dog, but he would not let the boy 'be out of pocket'."

The dog, a miniature white French poodle, seven weeks old, is valued at $250. Randy said in his letter to Mr. Diefenbaker that he raises poodle pups and usually sells them for "pin money."

Randy has cerebral palsy and is unable to speak. He moves about in a wheelchair, and communicates by means of an electric typewriter and an electronic word board designed at the University of Saskatchewan.

The dog he has offered to Mr. Diefenbaker is named Cheeks II. Another pup in the same litter is called Tracker.

Mr. Diefenbaker's dog Happy was a golden retriever. "I thought I'd better check with you first, and see if you wanted French poodles or not," Randy told the former prime minister.

NDP Leader Urges Ottawa To Stay in Welfare Field

TORONTO (CP) — The legislative work set Wednesday a proposed federal government withdrawal from education, health and welfare programs would produce a "jangle of regressive taxes" to finance these services.

Donald MacDonald, Ontario New Democratic Party leader, said if the federal government goes ahead with this proposal, Canadians will not be able to move from province to province without greatly disturbing their lives.

Mr. MacDonald said this would affect "the most crucial areas of our national well-being" and if the federal government transfers education, health and welfare responsibilities to the provinces with a transfer of taxes, Ottawa will not be left with sufficient control of fiscal levers to stabilize the economy.

The NDP leader praised Premier Roberts for having seen the danger to national unity arising from the federal government's stance, but accused the provincial government of having shown an unwillingness to face reality when it asked Ottawa for more tax room within an unreformed tax structure.

"We must go beyond this and ask for fundamental tax reform and a radical change in the federal-provincial sharing of fiscal decisions."

The indications are that next Monday's vote will be light. Some will use this to substantiate the claim that people are not interested in their schools. We cannot afford this indifference. Therefore I urge all of you to accept the inconvenience of going to the polls on December 2nd.

County School Boards will be composed of people with sectional interests. This is the basis on which they will be elected. It is difficult however that the interests of all local schools will be best served by a subjective functioning larger unit of administration. This is my objective and I seek your approval.

Mafia Activity Charged

FBI Stands on Guard Outside Suspect's Home

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — U.S. marshals and FBI agents stood guard Wednesday outside the home of the ailing, reputed capo of the Cosa Nostra crime syndicate in the Buffalo area, prepared to arrest him on racketeering charges.

The object of their vigil, Stefano Magaddino, 77, was reported whiling away the day watching television soap operas at his residence in nearby Lewiston.

Magaddino, who suffers from chronic heart trouble, was one of 10 men named in an arrest warrant obtained Tuesday by the FBI, which accused them of running a vast gambling operation in Western New York and several of southern Ontario.

The FBI did not specify which areas of southern Ontario were involved.

Ontario 'Aware' Of Activity

TORONTO (CP) — Attorney General Arthur Wishart told the legislature Wednesday that Ontario's police agencies "are aware and have been aware" of the activities of the "Magaddino people" in the province.

"There have been convictions and prosecutions of these people," Mr. Wishart said, "and we are kept fully aware."

The attorney general said he was not taking any further steps to investigate the matter "because we have a very capable and very efficient intelligence agency and there is a complete exchange of information with the FBI."

James Mackay, police chief of Metropolitan Toronto, said Wednesday police had knowledge of the betting operations of Stefano Magaddino in connection with Toronto.

Bertrand Postpones Tabling Bill on Choice of Languages

QUEBEC (CP) — Premier Jean Jacques Bertrand, bowing to nationalist pressure within his party's caucus, Wednesday announced that a government bill on controversial linguistic rights would not be tabled in the legislative assembly this week.

The premier, who had promised that the bill would be introduced Tuesday, told the house that the government will "eventually bring in" the bill before the end of the present session.

His change of plans, announced after a three-hour caucus of Union Nationale MLAs, was greeted by enthusiastic desk-dumping applause in the government benches and laughter on the opposition side.

The promised bill to guarantee parents' right to educate their children in the official language of their choice has encountered ferocious opposition of several nationalist and separatist groups, including the St. Jean Baptiste society of Montreal.

The ICBM and the nuclear variant and the "discrimination system" are not only meaningless but probably fatal, for they are merely negative aspects of national rivalry, and must be accompanied (or preceded) by positive steps; otherwise, as even an anti-technologist as Herman Kahn has observed, "All we are doing is buying time, and we are not buying time."

Since shops which accept credit cards have to pay from three to five per cent to the agency issuing the card, and thus presumably add this charge to the price of merchandise, why shouldn't customers who pay cash in these shops receive a commensurate rebate for purchases?

Those who enjoyed Nancy Mitford's splendid biography, "The Sun King," a year or so ago will receive equal pleasure from the new revision of her older book, "Madame de Pompadour," which I am currently engrossed in reading. (It is hard to believe that so consequential a figure died at the age of 60.)

What is most important to know is that the mind is the cause of most of our troubles, not the world; the mind's reluctance to change, the mind's unwillingness to release its own potentialities; and that, in the line of William Carlos Williams, "A new world is only a new mind."

To most people, "power" means the ability to get one's way, which is an effective act of the will; but suppose the will were not to learn anything new, and gets its way—by this very act of power loses its power to understand or control the future: is it not the way in which most people dispose of their power? (As, by the way, Miss Mitford's books so elegantly demonstrate.)

It's hard to believe that the words "candid" and "candidate" come from the same Latin root.

The whole idea of a three-month school vacation in the should be replaced by two vacations of one month each, one in the summer and one in the winter, which would add a month of needed school work and yet break up the academic year more sensibly than the present long hiatus.

I don't consider anyone a really prolific spender unless he can spend "diapers" without looking it up. (I looked it up.)

Possibility of Expansion Outlined by Speaker

The possibility of expansion with "additional building," at the Stewart Warner plant in Belleville within the next few years was predicted by plant manager Fred Ehler in an address to the Rotary Club yesterday. Speaking on the role played by the firm in the supply of auto parts for both Canada and the United States, Mr. Ehler said the removal of protective tariffs by the auto pact of early 1965 had been "touch," but it had been a spur to greater output and efficiency. Mr. Ehler said Stewart-Warner, which has manufactured everything from lubrication guns for washing tanks to brake components, has doubled its sales of parts for the coming year. "It said that although Stewart-Warner relied strongly on auto parts manufacture, the firm was diversified both here and in its plants overseas. Electronics is another aspect of the firm's operation here. Without the auto industry however, the firm would not exist," Mr. Ehler said. The Belleville plant employs more than 200 persons and prides itself on fast delivery of products.

South Vietnam to Seek Early End to Fighting

Quick Ceasefire Object at Talks

PARIS (CP) — A top South Vietnamese spokesman said today an early ceasefire is a major priority in his government's peace plan, being prepared for presentation at the expanded talks here.

Nguyen Van An, the deputy chief of Saigon's observer mission in Paris, said South Vietnam also will demand "strong and effective international guarantees" in any final settlement.

The North Vietnamese and the Viet Cong's National Liberation Front have said a ceasefire is unlikely to be discussed until later in the negotiating process. They have said such discussion must be preceded by the withdrawal of American and other foreign troops from South Vietnam.

Van An spoke in an interview as Ambassador W. Averell Harriman, chief of the U.S. delegation, prepared to head home Sunday for a brief Washington visit.

Van An indicated the Saigon delegation will present its peace plan to the conference after the party gets past initial procedural debate and concentrates on issues of substance.

U.S. diplomats have tended to doubt the feasibility of pressing for a ceasefire as the first negotiating item to end the guerrilla type war.

Instead, they have been considering ways to bargain for deescalation as a first step toward eventually ending all hostilities.

On post-war peace parameters, the United States has favored a system going further than that provided by the 1954 Geneva agreements. These created a three-nation International Control Commission to supervise the Indochina agreements, but the Southern allies contend it has been largely ineffective. Canada, Poland and India are the ICC members.

Trudeau Eager to Know What Makes Nixon Tick

NEW YORK (CP) — The New York Times quotes Prime Minister Trudeau as saying he would like to meet with President-elect Richard Nixon to discuss the problems facing Canada and the United States at home and throughout the world.

"I would like to try and understand what the major premises of Mr. Nixon's think-

No formal plans for such a meeting have been made yet.

In an interview with the paper preceding over a wide spectrum of domestic and foreign subjects, Trudeau also is quoted as saying:

"Although the huge U.S. investment in Canadian business could lead to economic domination of Canada, he would prefer Canadians to invest in future Canadian development than trying to buy present U.S. holdings."

"Unless a government establishes a society which its people regard as just, 'then you have all the dropouts, the anarchists, the riots and so on.'"

"What he especially wanted people to understand was that there is no great authority called the Prime Minister who gets messages from God."

"Nor do I go around my office with a listening device trying to take orders from Washington or Moscow or anywhere else."

He feels differently since taking over the government, Trudeau replied.

"I feel it takes a hell of a lot of time to be a prime minister, but it is such a lot of fun."

Transplants May Yield Key to Cancer's Cause

KINGSTON (CP) — The reason a body rejects a transplanted heart might be linked with the cause of cancer, Montreal heart surgeon Pierre Grondin said Thursday.

Dr. Grondin, chief of the department of surgery at the Institute of Cardiology in Montreal, said more money should be spent investigating rejection phenomena "and the answer to cancer may lie in the answer to cancer."

He explained that the rejection of organs and cancer are "interrelated phenomena" and one of the drugs used in combating one is used against the other.

Speaking at a lecture sponsored by Queen's University, he said one of the problems in heart transplant operations is the growing scarcity of donors.

Strict Guides To Death Set

TORONTO (CP) — Strict guidelines which doctors should follow in determining when a patient is dead were announced Thursday by the Canadian Medical Association.

The guidelines are for a minimum of 30 minutes, not 10 minutes as suggested by the other studies.

The studies were prompted by recent breakthroughs in the transplant of human organs, particularly heart transplants.

The CMA decision was made public at a news conference, the result of a five-month study by an association committee. One of the Canadian study will be sent to federal Justice Minister John Turner for possible inclusion in the Criminal Code.

Roberts Issues Warning

Ottawa Ought to Treat Provinces as Equals

TORONTO (CP) — Ottawa could dangerously change the shape of Confederation if it fails to treat the provinces as equals at the federal provincial tax-sharing conference next month, Premier John Roberts told the Ontario Legislature Thursday.

He said the talks, to be held immediately after the constitutional conference starting Dec. 18, are directly related to the maintenance of Canada as a unified federal state.

If it is true the federal government is superior than the provinces' federal system would become "a centralist one and this is what we want to avoid."

Mr. Roberts said the federal government's national medical care plan is a good example of the inherent danger Ontario need in giving any level of government unlimited spending and taxing powers.

By taxing Ontario residents to pay for the plan which does not cover them, Ottawa is pushing the province into a scheme to which it does not give a high priority, he said.

"There is a direct relationship between financial and constitutional problems," he said.

"There is not much point discussing a distribution of powers between governments if we are not going to discuss the distribution of taxation powers."

He said the provincial government was responsible to the people of Ontario and could not sit on "unilateral" tax system if necessary.

He warned that it was possible that such a system in the hands of a future government could "black out" social policy the federal government announced.

"I don't want to be put in this position. The secret is co-operation — not unilateral action."

New Pattern of Day Education Introduced at School for Deaf

By HARRY MURRAH
Staff Reporter

There's a new arrival at the Ontario School for the Deaf — and it's come by bus. A new pattern of day-student education has been introduced for the first time and is now satisfactory in full swing.

The program releases slightly more than 40 students from the traditional OSD boarding system and returns them daily to their families.

More than a score of the pupils involved are Bellevilleans. The others come from Picton, Trenton and Deseronto areas.

The new approach mobilizes a system of public, charter, and existing school bus services.

For city students, transportation is leased from the Belleville Transit Commission. A charter bus brings pupils from Picton, from Trenton they arrive by regular public service. A school bus servicing General Secondary School brings students from the Marysville-Deseronto vicinity. Day-student education is common to most schools for the deaf, as OSD spokesman says. Earlier attempts to organize it in the Belleville area were made impossible by the scarcity of students in the locality.

OSD officials felt more pertinent with deaf children, with the school's area if sufficient jobs were available.

"If there was more industry we'd probably get more — resident students," said a spokesman.

However, for some reason, the number of families with deaf offspring has been on the increase in the area in recent years.

The increase encouraged OSD authorities to renew the day-school program.

The school has adapted its routines to facilitate the new plan.

Classes now start 15 minutes later — at 8.45 a.m. Physical education is now an afternoon instead of an evening session.

The students themselves have taken easily to the change, although it presents initial personal problems to older pupils.

Grade 12 students, for instance, have spent most of their years in the OSD living environment and their friendships have been made and nurtured at the school.

But for the families involved in the program, enhanced family unity while keeping the students near in touch with their own communities.

The obvious advantages about the change of scene, with the students more readily at the school, says the spokesman.

"It's very much easier to get people to send their children to day schools," he points out.

Pedals 20 Miles to Work

This Grave Digger Is A Busy Woman

By DONALD MACKENZIE
Staff Reporter

You wouldn't expect a person once "harried of cemeteries" to end up digging graves as an occupation.

But 54-year-old Mrs. Evelyn Smith who lives 20 miles outside of Wellington on the old Trent road is full of surprise.

And this June she will have been burying people for 21 years.

Digging graves doesn't keep Mrs. Smith quite busy enough as she has numerous other occupations — all of which she would literally break the back of many a strong man.

During the summer months tourists visiting Prince Edward County and county residents can see her pass by on her daily trip to Bloomfield from her home, a distance of almost 10 miles.

So what, you ask? Well, how many 54-year-old women pedal 20 miles a day, every day, on a bicycle. One that's loaded down with cleaning equipment and other paraphernalia.

In Bloomfield Mrs. Smith takes care of several homes and of course digs graves, maintains both of that community's graveyards.

She also digs graves in Wellington Cemetery as well as two others.

In addition the astounded lady takes care of homes in Wellington, does odd jobs around some of the stores and takes care of the Wellington Motel.

"I'm on call at the motel seven days a week," she stated.

Then there's digging ditches, painting and wall papering and working in farms. It is sufficient at all these tasks.

Describing herself Mrs. Smith said "I'm a jack of all trades and master of none."

But that isn't quite true. At one time Mrs. Smith was a nurse and worked at nursing homes and doctors' offices in Toronto.

How did she get into grave digging?

"Well," said Mrs. Smith, "after the war was over and I got out I thought I'd go back to the city. Since people wanted me to stay around here I decided to and I just had to take whatever jobs were available.

"If when they can't get any body else they call me," she said. Since her statement was obvious on Tuesday.

When she was being interviewed by the Intelligence, Mrs. Smith was digging ditches and painting lines.

It was four p.m., the temperature 32 degrees and the ground was hard and heavy.

Leaving up against a tree with the bicycle with a coat draped over it ready for the three-mile trip home at dusk.

Jack of All Trades

Two Wheel Transportation

"I had to take the coat off once I started working," she said.

Even if Mrs. Smith likes to call herself a sort of a last resort, she is certainly doing a flourishing business.

"There's a couple of people down in Bloomfield who want some rooms re-carpeted. I'm not sure if I'll be able to get around to it just yet. Things are really busy."

Mrs. Smith was given a year to live when she was 15 years old and she said she didn't know a healthy day in it started digging graves."

The jack of all trades and master of hard work and health never proved somebody wrong.

Twenty-nine Models

By LENNY WILLIAMSON
Staff Reporter

Just in time for Christmas comes the chance to pick up a recreational piece for the Canadian collector on your list.

Would you believe — an authentic old, one or two room school house, in stone or red brick, perhaps complete with a bell in the belfry?

Twenty-nine models are on the market for sale by auction Dec. 2. Barton Higgins will preside in Blooring Intermediate School at 1 p.m. for the district's most unusual country auction in many years.

The schools now belong in the public school board of Hastings County School No. 2, formed last January with the merger of several small schools as Ingersoll, Huntingdon, Rawdon, and Macle townships and the village of Delton.

All schools will be open for inspection Dec. 6 from 1 to 4 p.m. and Dec. 7 from 9 to 11 a.m. Maps showing the location of the 29 schools are available from C. R. Cotton, business administrator of the board in Thornd.

Contents of the buildings have been sold or moved to the new consolidated schools or accommodated the pupils, Mr. Cotton said. But some of the schools still have their bells, which will be sold with the buildings.

Mr. Cotton expects competition to be keen among bidders at the auction.

"Before noon of the day the auction sale advertisement appeared in a Toronto morning paper, I had three long-distance telephone inquiries from Toronto and one from Peterborough," he said.

Most prospective purchasers are on the lookout for school house residences, either for summer or year-round use, Mr. Cotton reports.

Oldest school in Area No. 2 is located on the site of a 2 of Rawdon. Land for the school was donated in 1822, but Mr. Cotton thinks the brick building now on the site is of later construction.

Verlina's Corners school was built in 1825, he found while searching deeds in the registry office. However it is probably the second oldest school in Area No. 2, for the school land was originally donated in 1825.

Building, a has already acquired considerable importance as a metropolitan area and Mr. Cotton thinks the bid will be high on this property.

Newest buildings are located in the northern section of the school area. The most modern is about 15 years old, Mr. Cotton estimates.

Almost as interesting as the school's themselves are the old 19th-century deeds for detailing the sales of land for the establishment of early schools.

However, deeds don't go to the buildings. Purchasers will have to be content with photographs, with the originals remain filed at the county registry office.

Identity of Picketers Is Not Known

PICTON (Staff) Who were the mystery law breaking picketers?

Both union officials and members in Picton are in the dark as much as Toronto police as to the identity of 14 mystery picketers who appeared in Toronto yesterday.

The 14 people picketed at the Independent Electric Company in Toronto which supplies the Picton Pictor Electric plant with electrical components necessary to make transformers, blenders and coffee pots.

If caught they could have received stiff fines or jail.

Since the company has no affiliation, whatever, with the Pictor-Sicton Electric Co. or the United States the picketers were breaking the law.

Ontario law prohibits picketters at the scene. Found the picketers had dispersed and vanished only minutes before.

Back in Picton local International Union of Electrical Workers president George Leban said he had no idea who the picketers were.

"They're not any of our members here," he said. "If they were I would have had to go to Toronto to stop them. They were breaking the law."

Backing up Leblanc's statement was strike Rose Brown who said that nobody in the union had any of the Toronto picketers.

The last meeting held between union and company in reting a company merely because it supplies, sells to or buys from another company. Get it on strike.

Toronto police, when they October appealed after three hours of picketing.

"Ontario department of labour conciliator William Dickie, in charge of setting up conciliation talks, had contacted both sides of the strike this week in an effort to bring about a settlement."

No definite plans for reopening the picketing have yet been made. It is also possible that some of the union and plant officials have discussed the possibility with Mr. Dickie.

Art Group Has Busy Year

The Belleville Art Association annual meeting was held Tuesday in the Belleville Library Gallery, with president Mrs. Bea Williamson, presiding.

Committee reports revealed that members had a busy year. Some of the outstanding events that involved members were: picnic held at the shore; annual dinner service; art appreciation; seminars; visual art display; reliefing Quince Arts Festival; two sculpture workshops; trip to Toronto Galleries; and the annual annual juried show. Members also co-operated with other groups, providing paintings for shops at Cafe Mura, Wharves, Pictor, Amelburg, and the Belleville Plaza.

Future plans include similar activities as last year, with the workshop sponsored by Youth and Recreation Branch, Belleville Recreation Committee and Belleville Art Association.

New business, included the acceptance of the new proposed constitution. Officers of 1959 are: president, Mrs. Bea Williamson; vice-president, Mrs. Dorothy Brown; treasurer, Mrs. Grace McArthur.

The Belleville Art Association is a member of the Quince Arts Council, and its group representative Mrs. Althea Murray gave a report on latest developments in the Arts Council.

There's only one practical way of predicting, and that's to take a guess. The more educated the guess, the better, however, and what could be more educational than mathematics.

For the first time anywhere, we apply the Switzer Theory of Numeromathematical Digitals to sort out a probable winner for tomorrow's Ottawa Stampeder Grey Cup game.

The theory is not nearly as sleepier in logic as the wacky equation might lead you to believe.

Basically, it operates on the principle that, all things being equal, the Calgary Stampeder are the greatest football team in Canada. Aside from that premise, the system is completely impartial in its unclassified selection of the team most likely to sport a collective champagne headache Sunday morning.

Here are the permutations and combinations that will decide the outcome of tomorrow's installment of what columnist Dick Bodde refers to as "The Great National Drunk."

1. Calgary has not been closer to the Grey Cup than a Scheerfly film since 1964 — give the Stampers a collective inchworm for extra motivation.

2. Peter Lada's nimble nuckles and the sticky fist of Terry Evanshen, Herm Harrison, and Gerry Sherr — chalk up three majors for the Stampers via air.

3. Bruce Jackson is about a pair of touchdowns in any Ottawa game.

4. Calgary has allowed an average of between a game fewer yards than the Riders — give them a field goal.

5. The Riders' Vic Washington, Phil Tucker, or De Soest are each capable of instantaneous inchworms — and the occasion will present itself at least one of them — chalk up three Ottawa points.

6. I've got money on Calgary — a sure pair of Ottawa field goals.

7. Someone will be the inevitable Grey Cup goat, and we pick as Ottawa player, since Calgary will be the sentimental favorite of most of the 30,000-plus fans at the C.N.E. stadium — always good for a converted TD.

8. That makes 18 yards for the riders-stalers, a good place as any for the Stampede to stop.

A couple of riders — The game's most valuable player will NOT be either quarterback, and a successful comeback by Ladd Coleman would give his former Calgary locker-mates.

Also, the anticipated mud-bowl could pull the rug out from under Lada and Jackson's clutch act at centre field by "Nerby's" foot, or, increased efforts of the fly epidemic, tomorrow will be a great day for anyone wearing a white, if fuzzy, t-shirt.

Barring a peo-sser from Toronto harbor, a cat at centre field by "Nerby's" foot, or, increased efforts of the fly epidemic, tomorrow will be a great day for anyone wearing a white, if fuzzy, t-shirt.

Stadium Turf Like 'Grease Pot'

THIS COULD BE GREY CUP DAY—Playing conditions were far from ideal in the Thanksgiving Day contest between the Philadelphia Eagles and the Detroit Lions. There was no distinguishing the muddy players as the game progressed on the rain-soaked field. Managing to keep fairly clean, he was rarely spilled, was Eagles quarterback Norm Stedard (16), preparing to hand off the ball in the fourth quarter. Philadelphia won the game 12-0. (AP Wirephoto)

TORONTO (CP) — The probability of another Mud Bowl loomed today as Saturday's Stampeder and Ottawa Rough Riders prepared for Saturday's Grey Cup confrontation.

The infamous Mud Bowl was played in Varsity Stadium in 1960 when Toronto Argonauts shutout Winnipeg Blue Bombers 12-0. And there is little hope that the field at Canadian National Exhibition Stadium will be anything but a quagmire by 1 p.m. EST game time Saturday.

The field was a grease pot during the first game of the two-game total-point Eastern Football Conference final here Nov. 17 and has not been improved because of subsequent rains.

Stadium manager Ken Twigg said Thursday as rain poured over the field:

"If we're really, really lucky, we can expect the field to be almost as good as it was at the end of the '60s. Here, here."

The field is covered by tar-

Stamp Strategy Stalled - Virus Attacks Defensive Unit

TORONTO (CP) — Grassy

Team doctors Gert Walsh and over most of the field at Canada have been working on a play to contain Ottawa Rough Riders' backfield, but they may not be in shape to make full use of it in Saturday's Grey Cup.

It's not Liggins' banged-up knees that are the problem, but an influenza virus that struck at least 10 members of the club Wednesday and Thursday.

With Joe Fournell, Jim Furberg, Billy Roy, Larry Ishak, Herman Kramer, Jerry Keeling, Herman Kramer, Norm Payne, Terry Evanshen and Herb Schumacher confined to their rooms with nausea and diarrhea, the Stampeder had to practice a section Thursday.

Forrest, Fordy, Keeling and Payne are, like Liggins, members of the Calgary defensive squad.

ing antibiotics, but trainer Larry Chase said it usually takes two to three days off the virus to wear off.

With some of his defense mates in weakened condition, Liggins will have to carry a heavier load from his defensive tackle spot.

One of the lightest tackles in the Canadian Football League at 215 pounds, Liggins says he can't go over his 240 to 260-pound opponents. "I have to go around them."

Liggins' knees were in poor condition for an interlocking ing into the Eastern Conference and he didn't play well in Calgary's 27-24 regular-season triumph over the Rough Riders in Ottawa's Lansdowne Park.

He is expected to leave mud should help the Stampeder by slowing down the Ottawa backs.

As for the Calgary offence, quarterback Peter Liska just worried about rain or mud "as long as it's not windy." Ottawa is a six-point favorite in the game to start at 1 p.m. EST.

Authority Weakened Drew Labels Protest Hooliganism

TORONTO (CP) — George Drew, former Ontario premier, Thursday described the wave of student protests as "hooliganism" and said he was threatening to break down the educational system.

Mr. Drew told an applauding audience of more than 500 at the Empire Club: "I do believe that Canadians should no longer ignore the organization and system to destroy our educational system, upon which the structure of our country so largely depends."

The 74-year-old former Progressive Conservative premier said that attempts such as these "within the authority of the state and the unity of the people."

He said he believes Communists are involved in the protests, but would not claim they were a Communist conspiracy.

The strength of his feelings repeatedly carried him away from his 14-page text.

He said after his speech he heard phrases like "destroy the capitalist" and "weaken the power of the establishment" in Berlin and Tokyo when student protests developed there. And he said he heard the same phrases here in Toronto.

He said the argument that Canada makes only a minor contribution to NATO is not untrue but is an insult to the power of Canada's armed forces.

Sunday School Lesson Invisible in Living Color

By CLARENCE W. GRANFORD

"Life makes the world go 'round." Most people would agree with this statement. Poets have extolled love. Psychologists have analyzed it. Lovers have felt it. But no one has ever seen it. They have only seen acts of love. They have seen persons whose gestures and acts of love reveal them to be loving persons.

A child learns about love, not by reading about it, but through the tender care of a loving mother and the watchful care of a loving father. A clergyman spoke to some young men in a correctional institution about God as a loving Father. Most of them didn't know what he was talking about. They got into trouble because they had never known what it is to have the guidance of a loving Father.

The Uniform Sunday School lesson for December 1: "Truly, God, Truly Man." 1 John 1: 14; 4: 11

Just as no one has ever seen love, so no one has ever seen God. The Bible reveals this plain. (John 1: 18) He has only only been evidenced by God's handiwork. After all, God is Spirit! (John 4: 24) If He is to be seen, it must be through acts that reveal His nature.

While no one has seen God, most people believe they have seen His footprints. They have seen His footprints in the minds of great thinkers and in the lives of saints. How intelligent thoughts unless an Intelligence exists to give them that power? How can a finite mind conceive of an infinite Being using such a technique to inspire the life?

Most people believe they are God's footprints in the precision they see in nature. In the heavens where precision is so exact, astronomers can predict an eclipse years in advance. Surely such precision must just happen. It must have been made to happen. The precision in the orbits of the stars, the blueprint in the heart of every seed, it is a give evidence of a Great Planner.

Most people believe they are God's footprints in history. They see people and nations being lifted to a new moral height through faith in a righteous God. They see, what happen in the lives of individuals and as nations when people say as if there were no God. But does it stop there? Is God a super man, then the best way for Him to reveal Himself to man is through a person who is completely open to His guidance and obedient to His will. If His nature is Love, then the best way to reveal His love is through acts of love.

Has there ever been such a person? Have there ever been such acts of love? Christian faith answers, "Yes." His name was Jesus, and His supreme act of love was to give His life on a cross for the sake of all.

The Gospel and the letters of John express this faith in no uncertain terms. No one has ever seen God, but the Son, meaning Jesus, "has made Him known." (John 1: 18) As a little boy said, "The Son was the best picture of God THAT EVER WAS TOOK."

Through centuries, men have tried to show what this means. Did Jesus through perfect communion, reveal God more fully than other men, or did He have a unique relationship to God? From Peter's confession on (Matthew 16: 16) most Christians have believed that Jesus' relationship to God was truly unique. Certainly the New Testament writers present this faith. When they added up what they knew about Jesus, including His resurrection, they came to the conclusion that while Jesus was truly a man, and suffered as a man, He was also the perfect revelation in the flesh of the nature of God.

Today, there are many who admire, and even revere Jesus, who tend to play down thoughts of His divinity. They speak of Him as a "good person." That is, He was a person who lived completely in love. Christians say this is true. But they go on to say that He lived that way because God is like that, and God was speaking through Him.

This cannot be proved. It can only be accepted by faith. But however they interpret Him, millions are convinced that if the world ever gets out of the mess it is in, it will be because more men come to know Jesus.

David Says Goal for Next Year University for All Who Apply

TORONTO (CP) — Education Minister William Davis expressed hope Thursday that Ontario's universities will find room next year for all qualified students who apply for admission.

"The student won't always be able to get into the university of his choice," however, he told the legislature.

He was replying to a question from Tim Rodd, (L.-Scarborough East) who asked why Toronto's University had to turn away 700 academically qualified students, as reported by York President Dr. Murray Ross.

He said Ontario's universities this year enrolled of 35,000 compared with about 22,000 last year. Despite more applications, no qualified student had failed to gain entry at some university.

Mr. Davis was asked by Mr. Rodd and NDP Leader Donald Macdonald about reports the university affairs department is putting pressure on Boardman University in St. Catharines to switch from seminars to lectures in the interests of economy.

The minister replied that the department has no intention of interfering with the administration of universities.

However, Board and two other universities, Lakehead and Trent, had been experiencing serious financial problems and a study of the problems had been made by a sub-committee of the committee on university affairs.

He said the matter is under consideration.

During the legislature's question period, Walter Pitman (NDP—Peterborough) asked whether an investigation is being carried out of teacher-pupil ratios in the schools.

Mr. Davis replied that there is no provincewide study but he is under consideration.

Nixon Sends William Scranton On Fact-finding Mideast Tour

NEW YORK (AP) — President-elect Richard Nixon said today that he would send former Gov. William Scranton of Pennsylvania to Israel and neighboring Arab nations next week to bring himself up to the minute on the potentially explosive Middle East situation.

It was learned late Thursday that Nixon will send Scranton on the trip to gather information. Nixon will need as president.

Among the Arab countries that are expected to be on the itinerary are the United Arab Emirates, Jordan, Lebanon, Saudi Arabia and Iran.

The fact that this was Nixon's second overseas assignment for Scranton since the beginning of the presidential campaign added new impetus to speculation that Scranton might be tapped for either secretary of state or U.S. ambassador to the United Nations in the new administration.

Scranton, after returning from a European fact-finding mission, Nixon said he had no further aspirations for official positions. But he stressed that Scranton would not accept a high post were not offered.

In 1964, Scranton made an unsuccessful effort to win the Republican presidential nomination from Senator Barry Goldwater of Arizona.

The Nixon family made a flying visit from New York to Washington Thursday to share Thanksgiving with former president Eisenhower and his family.

Nixon later reported he spent about 45 minutes with Eisenhower, recovering from a series of heart attacks at Walter Reed Army Medical Center. He said they discussed "a half-dozen of the new administration" and that Eisenhower gave him "some good advice and counsel."

As for Eisenhower's condition, Nixon said: "I thought that he looked at least 50 per cent better today than he did the time I saw him three weeks ago." He

To Be Quiet

TACOMA, Wash. (AP) — Alvin Karpis, one-time elusive leader of the notorious Karpis-Barker gang who ranked as Public Enemy No. 1 in the United States in the 1930s, is spending his final days in prison planning a future as a clerk typist.

Karpis—whose gang was linked by the FBI with the slaying of 10 persons and kidnapping of 18 persons between 1931 and 1936—says all he wants now is to live quietly and away from the limelight.

"I know I'll make good," he said Wednesday. He has been assured a job by a private social welfare agency in Montreal, where he was born Alvin Karpavicz.

Jeanne Dixon's Horoscope

For November 30

Your birthday today, Margaret, is among the years you'll triumphantly confront your limitations and start breaking away from old habits. According to your ability to meet them halfway, people of all sorts turn out to be ready and willing. Today's naivety tends to have several odd and scatter energy indicators.

ARIES (Mar. 21 — Apr. 19): You run into restrictions and the phenomenon of diminishing returns for effort and time invested. Sentimental projects will only affect you negatively.

TALUS (Apr. 20 — May 20): Petty wrangles now can turn into breakers. Slightly 18 m where you can. Take care of your responsibilities (without complaints); things will go better.

GEMINI (May 21 — June 20): Incidents suddenly alter the environment. Co-operation is hard to find due to lack of understanding of the changing circumstances.

CANCER (June 21 — July 21): Just stay busy and try holding your own. Fresh fancies commence working and, as yet, you have no sure guide as to what will delay.

LEO (July 22 — Aug. 21): Palace with delays and short-comings is wise today. Many things simply cannot be brought instantly into reality.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 — Sept. 21): Some recurrent chronic problem or the needs of older people cause higher outlays of money than planned. Pay no attention to empty or competitive remarks.

LIBRA (Sept. 22 — Oct. 21): Personal disappointments in love are inevitable. In romance be circled with the certainty of a later date, soon. Use the time for study rather than picking quarrels.

SCORPIO (Oct. 22 — Nov. 21): Property and real estate deals are definitely not favored! Your health requires more care; no heavy physical exertion! Older people bring stable inconvenience.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 — Dec. 21): Romantic ventures and emotion cause distress. The best remedy: stay very busy.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 — Jan. 19): Amid the search for mutual understanding is found in life into your own nature! World down, rare and hard come.

Decentralization Said Key to Viet Survival

MONTREAL (CP) — Decentralization of government and industry is the technique which has enabled North Vietnam to withstand three years of bombing by the United States, the North Vietnamese minister of culture said Thursday.

Hong Minh Giam, who heads the North Vietnamese delegation to the Hanoi-Vietnam Conference to End the Vietnam War,

Russians Refused Visas

OTTAWA (CP) — Canada has refused to grant visas to a five-member Russian delegation that wanted to attend the privately-organized Montreal conference on Vietnam, an external affairs department spokesman said Thursday.

He said the government would have had no objection to private Soviet citizens attending the conference but that the Russians had proposed an official delegation which would have promoted the official policy of the Soviet Union.

The Ottawa correspondent for Pravda was also refused permission to attend the conference. This is in retaliation for Russia's refusal to allow Aaron Einfrank, Moscow correspondent for the Toronto Telegram, to visit some Soviet cities.

Grey Cup Parade Glitters

TORONTO (CP) — Grey Cup festivities got off to an impressive start today with a glittering parade through the city before the big football game between Calgary Stampede and Ottawa Rough Riders.

Overcast skies and nipper weather greeted the 15-hour presentation.

The highlight of the parade was the appearance of Calgary Mayor Jack Leslie and his wife, flanked by four outsiders on horseback to introduce the mounted complement of Calgary Stampede supporters.

The features of the Calgary presentation was four canvas-covered stagecoaches with 40 outsiders, three pony chuckwheels and six old-fashioned stagecoaches.

In all, parade marshals Glen Way said there were 120 horses entered in the parade.

Jungle Battle Fought

SAIGON (AP) — United States troops mangled a North Vietnamese battalion of about 400 men in a jungle battle near the Cambodian border, the U.S. command said today.

Elsewhere 140 captured Viet Cong were turned loose on the streets of three South Vietnamese cities—Saigon, Pleiku and Da Nang—in a government effort to win over guerrilla troops and strengthen Saigon's position at the Paris peace talks.

Sixty Vietnamese officials say 246 Viet Cong have been released since early 1966, but they say more than 20,000 Communist troops, including 6,000 North Vietnamese soldiers, are being held in prison camps in South Vietnam.

Military spokesmen said 78 North Vietnamese regulars were killed in the fighting near the frontier outpost of Lee Ninh, three miles from Cambodia, northwest of Saigon.

Breakwaters said seven Americans were killed and five wounded in the latest series of border battles in which the "air" operations were they killed 125 North Vietnamese this week.

A handful of rocket and mortar attacks were reported today outside the border area.

Spokesmen said Tay Ninh was lightly mortared Friday night, and a big mortar supply base just north of Dien Bien received rocket fire early today. Light casualties and damage were reported.

Bissell Supports Students

TORONTO (CP) — Claude Bissell, president of the University of Toronto, Friday announced his support of students who have been demanding a special discussion on a controversial brief on the university's future.

Dr. Bissell appeared before an emergency meeting of the Students' Administrative Council, outlining his support and saying he was in favor of an open discussion of the brief.

The meeting, attended by 200 of the 24,000 full-time students on campus, voted to temporarily delay a vote scheduled for Monday to support their demands.

The students want an open discussion before the brief goes to the Committee on University Affairs, a 10-man body which advises the provincial government on university financing and development. The committee has since sitting Dec. 10 on the brief.

The brief, which outlines the university's development to 1975, will be discussed at a meeting Monday night at the university board executive and the president's council, as well as every body of academics, administrators and board of governor representatives.

Both Aspects Trace Broken

PARIS (AP) — North Vietnam and the United States each have a long list of accusations alleging violations of the bombing halt agreement, but there was no sign today they will try to collapse the expanded Vietnam peace talks.

Observers say the charges and counter-charges are just another way of keeping the other side's feet in the dirt.

As it is, the parity expected to start in two weeks will be difficult enough. Hanoi and the Viet Cong's National Liberation Front are refusing to recognize the Saigon delegation, and South Vietnam says it will talk only to Hanoi.

A Hanoi spokesman Friday made the most serious bombing accusation yet by the North Vietnamese.

He said U.S. planes hit North Vietnamese territory three straight days, the latest attack coming Nov. 27.

There U.S. jets bombed five villages in the 40 miles north of the 17th parallel dividing the two Vietnams, he said, adding that they were not involved in any pilot rescue or defense.

Previously the North Vietnamese name had protested to the U.S. delegation about what they said were U.S. bombing raids over their territory Nov. 23 and 26.

A Washington spokesman said he did not know of any such attacks. The United States has explained the earlier incidents as "suppressive fire" to protect pilots of reconnaissance planes. The United States claims President Johnson's Oct. 31 directive to stop the "bombardment and all other acts involving the use of force" on North Vietnamese territory did not rule out continuing reconnaissance flights.

Washington said continuing U.S. surveillance of North Vietnamese territory is necessary and defense of the reconnaissance craft is justified, including bombing if necessary to help a helicopter rescue a downed pilot.

North Vietnam says its gunners have shot down at least eight U.S. planes since Nov. 1. Johnson's bomb halt pledge, which paved the way for the peace talks, also listed protection for the demilitarized zone and a hold-down on shooting of South Vietnamese cities as requirements for progress in the talks.

The U.S. command in Saigon says more than 200 North Vietnamese actions have been found in the DMZ since Nov. 1, including more than two dozen termed "significant."

Shoplifting Takes On Fad Proportions As Businessmen Worry

By HARRY MULLHALP
Bell Reporter

Some nimble teenage finger-men are making a fortune out of their loot as Christmas nears. Shoplifting is one of the oldest professions, but the rifling problem in Belleville is complicated by what merchants name as the newest teenage game: daylight boondozing.

"Thousands of dollars are being written off annually by Belleville businessmen on stolen stock. A portion of it, it is believed, is taken by a small number of high school students seeking to prove their personal daring."

No one is blaming teenage people for the total problem. The majority of shoplifters—suspected, charged or just ordered to return what they've stolen—are adults. And many a merchant is surprised at the type of adults caught in the act.

What seems to be stinging local businessmen is that the younger looters are practicing as a fad.

With 39 years behind him in the tobacco business and all of those years in the same place, Vernon McKnight, 24 Alfred Drive, a native of Belleville, has purchased the tobacco business on Front Street and will take possession on Monday.

Vern went to work for the late Bill Cook, when he opened a retail store near the bank of Montreal, 20 years ago and served for 32 years. Mr. McKnight then worked for Tom Lewis for four years. Carl Thompson for three years and for 16 years for the past six months.

Mr. McKnight is married to the former Betty Horne who is a housewife girl, and has two daughters, married in Toronto and Dorcas at home.

Grado is student at Notre Secondary School.

D. Scott, who has operated the store since stood at the door for a number of years will continue with Mr. McKnight.

Mrs. McKnight, Mrs. Bernice Lewis and Mrs. Olive Thompson will assist in the store at various intervals. Mr. McKnight is a member of St. Thomas' Anglican church.

The recent eulogie, sponsored by the Ladies Auxiliary, recently gave the following prize list: ladies' high, Mrs. Fred Lee; men's high, Mrs. Fred Lee; (playing as a man), door prize, Jean-Paul Bergeron; on high prize for total of four games, Mrs. Loretta Lollar.

Rollin A.C.W. Card Party winners were ladies' high, Mrs. W. Prevost; ladies' low, Mrs. Ray Parks; men's high, Everett Green; men's low, Conneli LeBlanc; lucky prize, Laurin Gaudin.

Thomashurg IOOF Card Party winners were: door prize, Irene Coulter; men's high, Ralph Mumby; men's low, Glen Morton; ladies' high, Ralph Casabe; ladies' low, Florence Mumby.

Madeo is holding a Santa Claus Party bigger and better than ever, November 30, at 130 p.m. with clowns, bands, floats and treats.

One victimized shopkeeper put it in a succinct lament: "In 'th' morn' I don't think they feel there's a theft involved. They think it's just a game."

The game isn't new. But recently it's being played on a sounding scale. And the important Christmas season that fills stores with goods and shoppers may signal a season of further folly.

"With Christmas coming my heart's almost in my mouth," confessed one Front Street businessman.

The perception from only a minuscule segment of the high school population, the merchants feel, and the fad doesn't have the properties of all-out conspiracy.

But many of these fellow students know what is afoot, one source indicates.

"It's well known on the street group level in the schools who will go out and steal," says a provincial police officer.

The knowledge is not imparted to parents, it is alleged. The goods are not obviously displayed around the home, the merchants claim.

Some businessmen said that school looters were the first hiding place for items lifted from their stores. A portion of the merchandise is said to other students.

"Most of it, believes a veteran provincial police officer, may be just discarded by light-fingered youths.

Lunch recess is a predictable time for the looters to launch their illegal intentions, say some downtown merchants.

A familiar method of operation is for the youths to work in groups. A trio may enter a store — to distract the attention of staffers, one to purloin property.

The pilfering isn't limited to the downtown commercial area.

"One suburban druggist said he'd had a problem 'all along'."

"But especially from now until Christmas it may get worse."

He had a familiar explanation: "I think it is some sort of daring game. I think they have a contest to see who gets the most."

At Towers, the big shopping complex in the western outskirts of Belleville, store officials said security personnel had been instructed to keep an eye on teenagers.

The fad complicates a shoplifting problem of averaging proportions.

Professional thieves, kleptomaniacs and just plain people tempted into temporary flashes of dishonesty took up to $25,000 annually from Towers' huge merchandising store.

Recently, provincial police went into one high school to lecture on the seriousness of shoplifting. The theme emphasized that pilfering should be done, "If anything should be done, You is going to do it, or how, I just don't know."

"I don't like to pinpoint teenagers because too many adults are doing this as well," concluded one downtown merchant. "But something should be done. You is going to do it, or how, I just don't know."

Seven Candidates Vie for Six Picton Council Seats

PICTON (Staff) — Many a Pictoner have been critical of the fact that they have only seven candidates out of whom they must elect six councillors.

Even with seven it promises to be a close race in the municipal elections in Picton.

And of the seven people running for a seat on the town council four of them have never sat on council before so they must elect six councillors.

Of course there is also the mayor race between Mayor H. J. McFarland and a Reginald Moore.

Other public officers up for election in the Public Utilities Commission where two commissioners will be elected.

Re-elected are Gordon Nourse, Vernon Pieter and Jack H. Ward, who were elected in 1965, are being challenged by Mr. Porter.

Two public school trustees will also be elected. The candidates are Mrs. Ruth Hart, Dr. George Powers and Lloyd Sealey. All have served several years on school boards.

Elected by acclamation were Reeve Bernard C. Thompson and Deputy Reeve Donald Thompson and Lloyd Sealey.

All of the choices offered the voters are either new faces on the local municipal scene or experienced politicians.

It promises to be a close and exciting election.

HARRY ABRAHAM

"It'll be a watching for the newcomers," promised first time Picton council candidate Harry Abraham.

Mr. Abraham, who works at Grindrod Motors, admits he has had no municipal experience. However, he states, given a chance and the experience he would be able to serve the interests of the town and prove a valuable asset to council.

Although not a native of Picton Mr. Abraham says he knows the country well, having been posted here while in the army.

"They'll sure know I'm here if elected," he said.

MRS. CYNTHIA ARNAUD

"I've got to start early time," said Cynthia Arnaud.

one of the three female candidates running for a place on the Picton council.

And that's just what she's trying to do.

Mrs. Arnaud has been on the Hospital board for the past three years and is president of the Women's Hospital Auxiliary.

According to the new candidate, industry is the big problem in the area.

"We have to do them out of the industry," she stated, "instead of having it to just one man."

Mrs. Arnaud was also critical of the "horrible" way Mayor McFarland has been treated by certain people and even the press.

"After all," she finished, "he's been getting the industry which we need. Why criticize him for it."

Mrs. Arnaud said she also felt that more money should be involved as municipal candidates.

He has been on council a total of 10 years during the past 12 years. He was compelled to retire from politics for one, two year terms because of health.

"Mr. Bird is 'particularly interested in youth and senior citizens as well as the budget."

"We have to use money to the best advantage for the most people," he stated.

He has served on all committees of council at one time or another and was chairman of eight years.

He has been for the past two years the chairman of the five committees, the EMO committee and served on the recreation committee.

"It doesn't matter to me, though, where I serve," he said, "I'll go where they need me and be pleased to serve the town on any committee and to the best of my ability."

Mr. Bird has also indicated he would like to see a new fire engine for the town and promote the town and trust in "continuing to be a thorn in the flesh of the finance committee."

HAROLD McLOUGHLIN

Another council member seeking re-election is Picton lawyer Harold McLaughlin. He has been a councillor for the past two years and was formerly deputy clerk of the town for 15 years.

"The municipal effort across the province is very apathetic. Many more people should get involved."

According to the lawyer, Mr. McLaughlin says he is very interested in youth problems and recreation for both young and old.

"It would be 12 months of the year."

"The brain drain on Picton is also a matter of concern," he said.

"We have to get more industry in here to retain our youth — they're our strength," he concluded.

Mr. McLaughlin, who has been in Picton 18 years, originally came from Vancouver

Mrs. MARGARET ACKERMAN

Mrs. Margaret Ackerman, another first time council candidate, has attended all of the council meetings during the past two years to gain an insight into municipal affairs.

She is presently on the library board and is head nurse on the surgical floor of the Memorial Hospital.

"If I am elected I shall certainly study the issues and do my best," she said.

She has shown a keen interest in public affairs and promised, if elected, to work hard and attend meetings of committees to which she might be named.

WILLIAM B. LANE

Another native of Picton, lawyer William B. Lane is seeking a place on Picton council.

He has been on the Prince Edward Collegiate Institute Board for three years and has an extensive interest in municipal affairs.

On numerous occasions he has written letters criticizing council and said "If I'm going to criticize, I feel I should try and put myself in a position where I can be criticized."

According to Mr. Lane the Picton parking situation on Main St., "which is a pretty grim situation" must be corrected.

He also feels that more industry should be brought in and the municipal taxes in Picton are high compared to the rest of the province.

"Much of this should be handled on a co-operative county basis," he finished.

ISSUED BY THE DEPARTMENT OF NATIONAL HEALTH AND WELFARE, THE HONOURABLE JOHN MUNRO, MINISTER

Indian Needs Listed

OTTAWA (CP) — Most people would say discrimination against Indians is wrong. But what about discrimination on behalf of Indians?

Do Indians moving off their reserves into the cities need something more than a guarantee of normal human rights and privileges to get safely out of the backwaters into the mainstream of Canadian society?

This is one of the most difficult questions that is expected to come up at the first national conference on human rights, which takes place here next week with private sponsorship and government encouragement.

State Secretary Gerard Pelletier speaks at the opening session Sunday night. The Prime Minister Trudeau will attend the conference dinner Monday.

Some Indians have switched careers and are now leading a life in the urban style of work and study. But others have not been able to adapt themselves to it, and many Canadians have expressed concern about their problems.

An argument for preferential treatment is contained in a paper circulated among members of the Indian Affairs Committee of the House of Commons Friday by the Organization for Indian Opportunities, a Vancouver volunteer group whose purpose is to draw attention to the aspirations and problems of the Indian population.

The organization's members include Paul St. Pierre (L), Coast Chief (C.O.I.N.), himself a member of the Commons Indian Affairs committee.

"It is not enough for us to suggest that employers and Indians should refrain from discrimination against Indians," the organization says in its paper, signed by secretary Kay Orlin.

"In this age, discrimination against people because of skin color becomes increasingly rare. The fact is, many Indians need discrimination in their favor. They need a helping hand, an understanding spirit, during the first couple of years of their adjustment to urban living."

The same point is made brief in a background paper prepared for the human rights conference by Prof. K. Lysak of the University of British Columbia law faculty.

Seven Are Sentenced For Ukraine Murders

DARMSTADT (Reuters)

Seven former Nazis were sentenced Friday by a West German court to hard labor for their role in the murder of thousands of Russians and Jews in the Ukraine during the Second World War.

A man in the public gallery shouted "this verdict is shameful" after the judge read out the sentences. He was ordered out of court.

The trial was the biggest of its kind in West Germany since a marathon Auschwitz trial ended in Frankfurt three years ago.

Principal accused in the trial here was Klaus Barbie, 51, a former Nazi SS (elite guard) captain.

He was sentenced to 15 years at hard labor on charges of shooting in the mass murder of Russians and Jews.

Six other former members of the Special SS Command also were jailed. Kurt Hans, 56, a banker, until his arrest, and Adolf Janssen, 52, received 11 year terms.

Benson Serves Notice Of Plan for Borrowing

OTTAWA (CP) — Finance Minister Benson gave advance word Friday on government borrowing plans including a $100,000,000 bond issue to help planning on the bond market and by corporations contemplating winter issues.

He told the Commons the two short-term issues will refinance $100,000,000 worth of bonds coming due Dec. 15 and increase Canada's foreign exchange reserves. He hopes to avoid further borrowing until the end of March.

Offering price and interest rates on the new government issue will be made public Monday. The Bank of Canada will take $50,000,000 worth leaving $100,000,000 for public purchase.

Conservative Leader Blais, meanwhile, accused Mr. Benson of irreconcilable uncertainty and unbelievable arrogance in failing to bring in a new budget and a gift tax bill promptly.

The Opposition leader's charge came during the parliamentary session of the $2,530,951,520 spending estimate of the finance department for the current fiscal year. It ends March 31.

Mr. Stansfield said the long delay between the government's announcement and parliamentary action on this bill, the caused confusion for people who want to reveal their wills and for estate managers.

The bill to lift death duties on estates passing from a man to his widow was presented in Mr. Benson's Oct. 22 budget speech. It also forecast a compensating increase in taxes on other inheritances.

Mr. Stansfield further suggested Mr. Benson was complacent about recent international exchange difficulties in Europe resulting from trade restrictions imposed by Britain, France and West Germany are bound to have an immediate effect on Canadian trade.

Leitch Claim to Texas Gulf's Kidd Creek Mine Is Dismissed

TORONTO (CP) — Leitch Gold Mines Ltd., a Toronto-based gold mining company which Friday lost a bid for one of the world's richest ore-bodies, today is pondering whether to appeal.

In a 410-word, 367-page decision on the 16-day trial-longest in Canadian civil law history — Chief Justice G.A. Gale of Ontario dismissed Leitch's claim to the Kidd Creek mine developed by Texas Gulf Sulphur Co. of New York. The ore body is estimated unofficially to be worth about $2,000,000,000. But Chief Justice

Gale said it did not lie in an area in which Leitch had rights under an agreement signed with Texas Gulf in 1962, 11 months before the American company announced its find.

He also dismissed Leitch's claim for $450,000 damages for breach of contract by Texas Gulf and awarded costs of the action, estimated at about $50,000 to date, to Texas Gulf. Leitch received nominal damages of $1 for other contracts breached by Texas Gulf not related to the mine.

Karl Springer, chairman of Leitch, said from his home in Vancouver that he could not comment until the decision has been studied. So did J. J. Robette, Toronto lawyer who has defended Leitch's action from the time it started more than four years ago.

D. Armus aged for Texas Gulf. Discovery of the Kidd Creek ore body—a $5,000,000 per ounce-per-ounce deposit 15 miles north of Timmins, Ont.—sparked a wild staking rush in 1962.

Speculation in penny mining stocks was rampant and in one of them, Windfall Ore and Mines Ltd., led to a royal commission.

Two months after Texas Gulf announced its discovery in April, 1964, Leitch filed its suit. Texas Gulf went ahead and developed the ore body at a cost of more than $70,000,000.

The mine went into production last year, and yielded an estimated $20,000,000 to Texas Gulf last year, and a projected $24,000,000 in 1968.

Based on legal action taken by a company which has not produced gold since 1963 and has assets of about $2,000,000 against a firm 200 times its size—was an agreement signed between Leitch and Texas Gulf in May, 1963.

The agreement gave Leitch geographical material and exploration rights in a number of Northern Ontario and Quebec regions surveyed aerially by Texas Gulf from 1964-5.

In return, Texas Gulf was to have a 50-per-cent interest in any mine Leitch brought into production in those areas.

Leitch, which brought the action jointly with its exploration partner, Mastodon-Highland Bell Mines Ltd. of Toronto, based its case on interpretation of the 1963 agreement.

It claimed that the agreement gave it exploration rights in the area of the ore body, and that Texas Gulf had breached the agreement by exploring the region and not giving Leitch all data pertaining to it.

Neither side disputed the geographic location of the ore body. According to a map attached to the agreement, it lay in an area to which Leitch had no rights.

But Leitch's counsel argued that the rights were reserved by the boundaries of the aerial surveys flown, rather than by the geographical boundaries shown, and these did not always coincide.

According to this theory, Leitch argued, it was entitled to the ore body.

The language of the agreement is perfectly clear," he wrote. "The plaintiff was to receive only data produced by geographical aerial surveys of those portions of the province shown outlined on the map."

He added, however, that the "most convincing evidence" up-setting Leitch's theory was that its exploration chief, Charles Pegz, knew that the map was to define the areas of his company's rights when he first discussed the agreement with Texas Gulf.

"That knowledge is, in my view, conclusive of the matter," the Chief Justice wrote.

Arrival of Viet Cong Delegates Ends Squabble at Montreal

MONTREAL (CP) — The belated arrival of the National Front delegation Friday ended the Hemisphere Conference at the War in Vietnam following an afternoon of disturbances over conference structure and aims.

The conference—divided, during its opening session by disturbances between white radicals, Black Panthers and more moderate leftists—had been standing around to Hong Kong and Nguyen Van Thieu as they mounted the platform.

The NLF delegation, scheduled to address more than 1,000 delegates from around the Western Hemisphere during the morning session, had "transferred" in Mexico, a conference spokesman said, and were forced to come via Paris. He did not elaborate.

Immediately after the NLF delegates greeted the conference's organizers, announced there would be a meeting of the organizing committee and representatives of dissenting caucuses to try and resolve differences before today's session of workshops began.

Earlier, a Vietnamese news flash at the University of Montreal said the conference was turning into anarchy and pleaded for peace.

"How can the Vietnamese distinguish friends from enemies in this crowd," asked Tran Qui Phung. "What has happened here this afternoon is so insane, especially since the delegates from the National Liberation Front are just arriving."

Plans for unity already had been heard with the arrival of two of the former drafted U.S.

soldiers who have recently been released after serving 20 years in jail for refusing to go to Vietnam.

After a back-slapping welcome by the North Vietnamese, former P.C. James Johnson and former P.C. Dennis Mora both called for unity at the conference.

A group of more than 200 persons who called themselves "white radicals" had interrupted the afternoon session of scheduled speakers to call for a change in the name of the conference to the Hemisphere Conference to Defeat American Imperialism.

Madrid School Burned

MADRID (Reuters) — Part of Madrid University was badly damaged by fire early today following a fire of rising in which 30 students were arrested and three university schools closed.

A fire destroyed a lecture hall and most of the roof of Madrid's Old University building in the city centre.

The building is about two miles from the modern campus where students Friday night were held there by riot police and petrol bombs with stones and to make the worst rioting since the university re-opened last month.

The cause of the fire was not immediately known but witnesses said police arrested three students at the Old University shortly after it broke out. About 200 students inside the building were evacuated.

Many of the students arrested Friday were reported released after questioning.

The students were protesting the occupation of the university for the last few weeks by police and tough government action against rebel student leaders.

Hospitals' Expansion Blocked

TORONTO (CP) — Federal government fund rationing has forced three Toronto hospitals to cancel expansion plans and a fourth to cut back more than two-thirds.

The additional beds had been planned as part of the University of Toronto's scheme to expand its hospital services to meet the needs of the city's growing population.

Miss Cassault, who tonight 120 pounds, was a 1960 convertible, a trip to Mexico, a diamond watch and a mink stole, among other prizes.

Elect Smith For Efficient Educational Administration

Important decisions must be made in the next few years that will call for the best expert that we can get.

As a family man with four children, I am fully aware of the importance of education to our children. It is my personal desire to participate in the education of our children. I have been a member of the Hastings County Board of Education for 16 years. I have seen the progress of our children and I am confident that they will be well prepared for the future. To this end I ask your support at the polls on Monday.

Sincerely,

Macdonald Smith
